Its preference for the neighbourhood of human habitations, and, up to a certain point, its fearlessness of mankind render it an easy matter for the bird lover to study its wild habits, while its glossy iridescent plumage well described as "a mantle of shot-silk garnished with pearls," and the quaint, strenuous display of its vocal powers at almost all times of the year, together with its remarkable aerial evolutions in autumn, and its general sprightliness and business-like appearance when working lawn or meadow in search of food, seldom fail to make it an object of interest to even the most casual observer.

He Loves Me; He Loves Me Not.

To the farmer and grazier its insecticidal powers are of the utmost value, destroying as it does, in all three stages of their existence, countless insects which are detrimental to field crops of all kinds.

The Starling, of course, has its detractors, like most good people and bad. In those districts where reeds form a valuable harvest in autumn, it has been accused of ruining the reed-beds by roosting in them at night and breaking them down with the weight of great numbers.

We also hear at times, complaints of the insupportable nuisance caused by thousands of Starlings roosting in shrubberies adjacent to dwelling-houses, and of their driving away the other small birds from the vicinity. A remedy for such evils as these, however, would seem to be not very far away.

A more serious charge, perhaps (if it be altogether true) is the one brought against the Starling in common with many other birds, of pilfering from cherry orchards and fruit-gardens in summer and autumn. But from my own observation, as well as from the testimony of other observers, I am inclined to think that there is a good deal of exaggeration in some of the reports current regarding the Starling's misdeeds in this respect, and that its share of "stolen fruit" is really a much smaller one than is often suspected. The belief held in some quarters that the Starling destroys the eggs and young of the Skylark is unworthy of acceptance.

In Australia, where our Starling seems to thrive well—doubtless to the detriment of the native Avifauna—complaints have been made against the bird on the score of its plucking the wool from the backs of sheep known to be free from ticks, and thereby wantonly spoiling the fleece.

Good on the Whole.

I, for one, however, am inclined to demur to this statement, at least, until more convincing evidence is forthcoming. We may say, then, that the merits (from a purely utilitarian point of view) of the Starling as a feathered denizen of the Empire immensely outweigh the damage it does of whatever kind.

As early as the beginning of January, if there be an absence of frost, the Starlings are seen to visit their last year's breeding places for a little time every morning. Great numbers which have spent the winter with us, headed by the older individuals, pass across to the Continent in an easterly or north-easterly direction early in February, and continue to do so until the end of March.

The Starling is the earliest of our spring migrants. In February pairing commences, but a considerable time has still usually to elapse before any progress can be detected at the nesting sites, much depending on the weather. In April, however, breeding operations are in full swing, and towards the end of that month or the beginning of May the work of feeding the young commences. This is a noisy operation, during which the parents and nestlings seem to vie with each other in disturbing the quiet of the neighbourhood.

As the month of May advances young Starlings of the year begin to make their appearance in the meadows, and in June they become numerous, especially during the latter half of the month, when they are joined by flocks of young birds which have been reared on the Continent, and which still appear in ever-increasing numbers until the end of July.

Prior to the moulting season, the plumage of these birds has nothing of the lustrous bronze, purple, and violet that distinguish their parents at this time of the year; instead, the upper parts are of a uniform pale brown and the breast and abdomen greyish white streaked with dusky.

As the summer wears on, the Starlings continue to occupy themselves at the nesting places. Second broods are hatched and reared, and it is no uncommon thing to discover preparations for a third. I myself have handled the fresh eggs in August.

During September the flocks of Starlings become perceptibly larger, and towards the end of the month they are greatly increased by adult birds in spangled winter plumage from countries further north and east, the autumn migration of which begins about this time.

The Flocking of the Starlings.

The wonderful autumn flights of the Starlings now begin to be seen to perfection; when they are not industriously searching for worms and grubs in the stubble fields along with Rooks, Plovers, Gulls, and other birds, the flocks exercise themselves in a sort of aerial drill.

Like a living cloud they wheel through the air, rising and falling with the utmost regularity and as if moved by a single impulse. While thus engaged in the evening, before going to roost, they sometimes present a most impressive appearance, their glossy plumage and swiftly moving wings gleaming resplendent in the rays of the setting sun.

The Starling makes one of the most engaging of pets. If judiciously fed, it soon accustoms itself to cage life, and is quite easily preserved in full health and spirits. Its power of learning to articulate words and sentences is notorious. I know a Starling which carries on an intermittent conversation from daybreak to dusk with a Green Parrot which lives in the same room.

Its Keeping in Captivity.

A newly-caught Starling usually thrives well on a daily allowance of about one piled-up teaspoonful of hard-boiled yolk of egg and crushed biscuit in equal parts, one teaspoonful of ants' eggs, and one teaspoonful of peameal, the whole being made crumbly with grated raw carrot, apple, or water.

Half a dozen mealworms or other live insect food should be given every day or two at first, say, two or three at a time, and chopped greenfood should be added two or three times a week to the soft mixture.

Later on, the egg may be omitted, and crushed biscuit and boiled potato may be used along with the ants' eggs and peameal to form a staple food.

A cage about the size of an ordinary Canary breeding cage, but with the front only wired and fitted with a sliding zinc tray is quite suitable, especially if the bird is allowed his liberty occasionally, as he should be. The tray is a great advantage and not at all expensive; it should be thickly strewn with pine sawdust.

A supply of grit is insisted on by some birdkeepers as necessary to keep a Starling, Thrush, or Blackbird in health, but the notion seems to be a mistaken one, for in my own experience these birds live long and keep in excellent plumage without having access to sand of any kind.

THE MISSEL THRUSH.

(Turdus Viscivorous).

THE Missel Thrush, or, as it is sometimes called, Mistletoe Thrush, is the largest of British songsters. In length it is eleven inches, fully two inches more than the Song Thrush. A good specimen should be as follows:—

Beak brown, one inch long, lower mandible pale yellow at base. Top of head, neck, and the whole of back nearly uniform greyish brown, with a faint tinge of red towards the tail. Wings and tail brown, the latter three and a half inches in length. Under parts white, tinged with yellow, and covered with black spots; these are triangular in shape on the neck, and rounder on the breast and belly. The legs are pale brownish yellow. The sexes are alike in size and plumage.

The young, just before leaving the nest, have each feather of the upper part of the head, neck, and back marked with a buff stripe down the centre and a black spot at the tip. Very pale or white specimens of the Missel Thrush are sometimes met with.

In its wild state the Missel Thrush is rather a shy bird; it inhabits small woods and tall hedge-row elms, and other large trees in a similar position. The cock bird begins to sing very early in the year, often in January, and occasionally, if the weather is fine and open, it may even be heard in December.

The song is something like that of the Blackbird, but the tone is not so good in quality. I have often listened to this bird singing on one of the topmost branches of a tall tree, in the midst of rain and wind; and from this habit of singing boldly in all sorts of bad weather it derives another of its common names, viz., Stormcock.

From what has been said regarding its song, it will be readily surmised that the Missel Thrush is an early breeder. It begins to build in March, and usually fixes its nest on the forked branch of an oak, beech, or elm, where it is overgrown with grey lichen.

The nest is composed of moss and coarse dry grass, covered on the outside with grey lichen from the branches of the trees, and strengthened inside with a layer of mud like that of the Song Thrush. But whereas latter bird lays her eggs on the hard bed of mud, the Missel Thrush places over this a lining of fine grasses, or even bits of paper, rag, or shavings, carefully fixed and woven together.

The eggs are four in number, of a greenish white tint, blotched and spotted with red-brown and lilac. There are ordinarily two broods in the year.

A Protector of the Weak.

Both the male and female Missel Thrush are extremely bold and fierce when defending their nest, and even the marauding Magpie or Crow has to beat a hasty retreat before their furious attacks. Smaller birds are said to take advantage of this boldness on the part of the Missel Thrush, and to occasionally build their nests in the same tree for the sake of the protection thus afforded.

The natural food of this species consists of worms, slugs, and snails; the shells of the latter it breaks by beating them against a stone, after the fashion of the Song Thrush. It also eats fruit, and is fond of berries of all kinds, including those of the Mistletoe, from which its name is derived, and those of the Hawthorn, Ivy, and Juniper; but before all these it prefers the berries of the Mountain Ash and the Yew. Of these various kinds of food, without doubt, worms and slugs predominate in the diet of the Missel Thrush in its wild state.

When feeding a bird in captivity, and especially a soft-billed species, it is necessary to pay some attention to its natural food, if you wish your specimen to remain long in health. This is particularly the case if you intend your bird to do well on the show-bench; and in the case of a newly-caught adult bird, this is the only reliable way to reconcile the captive quickly to its altered condition.

Rearing young birds from the nest is, at best, a tedious process to anyone who has any other business in life, and unless he cares to give a big figure for a steady, caged specimen, I would recommend the novice to go about the procuring and maintenance of a cock Missel Thrush, in the following manner:

Get your new-caught bird about the end of summer or in autumn, the season when almost all birds take most kindly to confinement; three or four shillings should purchase a good specimen. As I have already said, the sexes are alike; but when choosing out of two or three, select the most darkly marked bird, and you will probably (but not certainly) hit on a cock.

How to keep a Missel Thrush.

Offer your new bird as much of the natural food above mentioned as it will eat, or you can get (but not too many worms), and half a dozen mealworms now and then, which will be the first change of diet you give.

Next, make up a good soft food, such as described below, but do not force the bird to eat this by depriving it of the other food altogether, but after a week or so gradually decrease the quantity of the natural diet, until you are only giving, say, a few mealworms and berries. When the bird is taking the soft food well, give a little more of the natural diet, and if possible continue this treatment permanently.

Of course, if you live in a City, without opportunity or leisure to procure the natural food that a Missel Thrush likes, the soft food alone must suffice from the start as a staple diet, and should be supplemented by a few mealworms daily, and fruit—banana, ripe pear, etc.—occasionally.

Meat may be given in small quantities, raw and well shredded, if the bird appears to be costive. At other times the Missel Thrush is best without it, as it is apt to scour the bird. The mealworms, however, will usually keep the bird in order that way, and meat will be seldom required, or medicine either.

The cage for this species should not be less than 18 inches in length, 15 inches in height, and 12 inches in depth, or it will be sure to damage its plumage.

The following is a suitable soft food:—½ lb. pea flour, ¾ lb. crushed small water biscuits, ¼ lb. ants' eggs, 1 tablespoonful fine sugar. Mix together, and keep dry in a tin canister or biscuit box. Damp slightly when used, so as to make crumbly rather than pasty, and give in a deep (1½ inches) glazed earthenware dish. Give the green-food chopped fine with this.

Of the natural food above mentioned, those who live in or near the country can easily obtain ivy berries in winter and spring, mountain ash or rowan berries in late summer, and hawthorn and yew berries in autumn.

The Young Bird Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

BOWBURN.

The Crowtrees W.M.C. Young Bird Show was held in the Bowburn Institute, Aug. 12, with a moderate entry owing to members having such a poor breeding season, but though the entries were not numerous there were some very nice exhibits amongst them. Mr. Jas. Miller had the secretarial duties well in hand and was well supported by a hard working committee who did everything they could for the benefit of exhibits and exhibitors. Mr. A. J. Notley, Hetton-le-Hole, judged, and everyone seemed satisfied. Canary F.F.: 1, Freeman; 2, Lister; 3, Wilkinson; 4, Longstaff; 5, Halliday; 6, Ramshaw; 7, Roddam; 8, Miller. Nor., 1916, Yell.: 1, 3, Roddam; 2, Lister. Buff: 1, Longstaff; 2, 3, Freeman. A.O.V. Can., 1916: 1, Lister; 2, Longstaff. Mule or Hyb., 1916: 1, 2, Roddam; 3, Longstaff. Nor.: 1, Miller. Yorks.: 1, Miller; 2, Halliday; 3, Freeman. A.O.V.: 1, Miller. Linnet: 1, Freeman; 2, Halliday; 3, Roddam. A.O. Brit. Hardbill: 1, 2, Halliday, Bullf. and Goldf.; 3, Lister. Bramble finch; 4, Miller; 5, Freeman; 6, Longstaff.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Open contest for Linnet singing, Clarence Hotel, Skinner Lane, Aug. 27; 20 birds sang and some good singing was heard: 1, 2, shared, Wigfield and Binns; 3, Binns. Judges: S. Butterfield and J. Hutchinson.—J. L. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road. Open contest for quality Linnet singing, Aug. 27; 15 birds sang: 1, T. Ward; 2, T. Dobson; 3, Tape; 4, Chippindale. Judges, Hardcastle, Naylor, Sissons.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green, grand Linnet contest, Aug. 27; 11 birds sang. 1, Marshall; 2, Butler; 3, Moss. Judges, C. Biss, W. Lacy.—W. Lacy, sec.

BARNSLEY.

Aug. 27, Linnet contest club sing, very poor entry, Waireing timer, Dooley chalker, for 4 min. time sing. 1, Fishwick, 2 min. 13 sec.; 2, Jones, 1.52; 3, F. Norman, 1.38. Second sing straight on nail again. F. Norman, 43 sec., wins special, same time and same chalker and timer.—J. Hardman, sec.

Queries Answered

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

PERSISTENT DIARRHŒA (J. W. H.).—Keep the cage floor and perches as clean as possible, and it will assist towards this end if you keep the floor well strewn with clean, dry sawdust for the time being. Give a staple diet of plain canary seed only, and in addition give separately every second day a piece of bread and milk the size of a large hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, and sprinkled with maw seed. On the alternate days give half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion mixed in it, and a similar quantity of well boiled summer rape. A half ripe plantain stalk may be given daily, but do not give any succulent greenstuff until the looseness is stopped. In the water add six drops of syrup or rhubarb and a crystal of sulphate of soda the size of a small pea for one day only, and after this give instead four drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of opium and dilute sulphuric acid two days in every three until the droppings become of a normal consistency, and every second day for another week afterwards. If the looseness is not stopped in a week or so, instead of sprinkling the bread and milk with maw seed dust it well each time with carbonate of bismuth.

EXCESSIVE LOOSENESS (Manchester Novice).—You must first of all see that your foods and vessels are kept scrupulously clean, and that the water especially is always pure and fresh and the drinker thoroughly cleaned regularly. Also take particular care to see that the hemp is sound and sweet in the kernel. Give a staple diet of good sound canary seed only, and in addition give separately every second day a small tea spoonful of well boiled summer rape, and on the alternate days a similar quantity of mixture of equal parts hemp, teazle, maw and crushed arrowroot biscuit. For the present give only water that has been well boiled and allowed to stand until cold, and add to it every second day a small teaspoonful of lime water, and on the alternate days give instead a crystal of sulphate of iron the size of a split pea dissolved in the drinker and then add six drops of dilute sulphuric acid. Continue this for two or three weeks if necessary. Do not give any succulent green food at present, but a plantain stalk or a morsel of banana will do no harm. You may also slightly anoint the vent with one drop of lukewarm castor oil twice in a week.

ABNORMAL EGGS (Reader).—Such eggs as you describe may generally be taken to indicate that the ovaries are either in an exhausted or diseased condition. In the case of exhaustion the eggs are usually produced at the end of the season, and may merely indicate that the bird is played out for that season, but, on the other hand, they may show, especially in the case of a bird that is not quite young, that its period of productive usefulness is at an end. The blue colour is very uncommon, but certainly not unknown, as I have had similar coloured eggs from Canaries myself. If the legs and feet have coarse large scales, indicative of age, you would be well advised not to attempt breeding with the bird any more, either in the present or any future season.

AILING NORWICH COCK (M.A.).—Judging from the coarse scaly legs and feet and the wheeziness and susceptibility to changes of weather I should say that the bird is well beyond its youth, and not likely to be of any further use at all as a stock bird. Therefore, I should advise you to replace it for next season's breeding. The following treatment may pull it round and enable it to be of some service as a songster, but it is doubtful if anything will really make it sound and fit again. Keep it in a fairly warm and equable place, and quite free from cold direct draughts or damp. Keep a light cover over the cage until the bird has quite ceased dropping feathers at the end of a complete moult, which the treatment should help to bring about. As staple diet give a mixture of three parts good sound canary seed to one part summer rape. In addition to this give a small teaspoonful of the seed mixture you are using twice a week, and on three other days for a month give a piece of bread and milk the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, dusted with flour of sulphur, and then sprinkled with soft sugar, and the next day after giving this add to the drinking water 20 drops of whisky, five of syrup of saffron and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence. A small spray of seedy green food, half ripe plantain stalks, heads of shepherd's purse, or blooms of nasturtiums or marigolds, may be given every day or two. If an active moult sets in and the majority of the plumage seems to have been shed at the end of three or four weeks stop all drugs and allow the moult to go on naturally, and when you see new feathers coming through on the head and neck begin to give 20 drops of chemical food in the water two days in every three for a month to help it over the effects of the moult. Bathe the feet in a warm solution of boracic acid—a small teaspoonful of the acid in a saucerful of warm water—for a few minutes daily for a week or so, then dry, and gently anoint with a little zinc ointment. If the wheeziness continues after the moult is finished, write again, repeating full particulars, and I will advise you for it.

DISAPPOINTING HENS (Smethwick).—You ought to have said how you feed and treat the birds generally, then I might have discovered some tangible cause for your disappointment with these hens, which doubtless lies in their treatment. Upon the whole, if this is the second season of breeding with all the hens mentioned, or of course any number above two, the best advice I can give you is to clear them out and start with a fresh lot next year, and see that you get strong, lusty, young hens. Do not put too many in a cage, and do not interfere with them after they are put together for breeding more than is absolutely unavoidable. One cock and two hens is quite the limit to stock the cage you name for breeding, and even this you cannot quite rely upon succeeding without there being a partition in the middle to keep the hens separate and prevent them interfering with each other's arrangements, and in this case, of course, the cock would have to be run alternately with the hens. It is quite too late to do anything further in the breeding line now, so you had better remove the cock, leaving the hens in the large cage for the extra exercise. Take away all the nesting material and accommodation, and direct your attention to getting the birds through a complete moult, by treating them the same as advised to "M.A." in this issue. This, of course, you may do in order to get them into the best possible condition whether you intend to act on the advice to clear them out or not, though if you are wise you will certainly adopt this course. Meantime, get our Manager to send you a copy of "Canary Breeding for Beginners," 7d., post free, and master its contents between now and next spring, and you should be able to steer clear of thee disappointments.

HAS SNEEZING BOUTS (J. W. H.).—In all probability the cause of the treatment being ineffectual lies in the fact that you have not taken the first essential step in all treatment—that of removing the exciting cause of the unhealthy condition. See to this, and do not allow the bird to hang in or very near a window or burning light in the evenings, high up near the ceiling, nor where it is exposed to rapid or extreme fluctuations of temperature, or a dusty atmosphere. Then give in addition to the usual seed diet a morsel of bread the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it and sprinkled with soft sugar every third day for two or three weeks, and add to the water five drops each of oxymel of squills, tincture of lobelia, ipecacuanha wine, and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight. At this season the bird may not regain full song until it has been through the moult.

CANARY QUERISTS

should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

PERSISTENT RED MITES (C. L. W.).—Your constant efforts should certainly have made the pest very scarce, and the fact that it is so persistent points to the fact that they have a harbour close at hand, but not in the cage itself. This is probably around the nail on which the cage hangs, under the edge of some torn scrap of paper on the wall, any faulty bit of the wall plaster, or even the moulding of the window frame. Look well into these points and treat thoroughly every likely spot each time you treat the cage itself. The nail on which it hangs should never in any case be overlooked. Get an ounce of camphor and dissolve it in half a pint of methylated spirit, change the cage once a week as now, at the same time treating the wall, etc., as suggested, and whilst the cage is vacant paint it all over, inside and out, with the camphor solution, using a small paint brush to work it well into all the joints and corners. Repeat this treatment every second day. Do this with each cage as it is vacated, treating the position where it hangs once a week, and all the appurtenances belonging to each cage as often as the cage itself, and in a few weeks' time you should be entirely rid of the pest. When this happens the cages may be re-stained and varnished, as the solution will doubtless have spoilt the polish, if any, that was on. Allowing the bird to bathe freely in plain water will be far preferable to spraying it. By the way, the position of the bird—hanging in a window facing south—is a most risky one for its continued good health.

ROLLERS MOULTING (P. Carter).—(1) It depends upon the time when this bird cast the bulk of its plumage whether it will moult again this year. If it shed them mostly when it began in April it is quite likely to drop them again about October. Treat as follows for a time, which may bring on a normal moult and set matters right for the future. In addition to the staple diet give a small teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake dusted with flour of sulphur and then sprinkled with maw seed every third day, on the following day add to the water 20 drops of whisky, five of syrup of saffron, and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence, and on the remaining day give a small teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, linseed, teazle and broken groats. Continue this treatment for a month, then stop all drugs until you see new plumage coming through on the head and neck, when you may begin to add a small crystal of sulphate of iron to the water three times a week until the plumage is quite fine again. Keep it in a fairly warm and equable place, with a light cover thrown over the cage, until it has quite ceased dropping feathers. (2) Treat this bird the same as above, but give the saffron mixture for a fortnight only, and give it every second day, and give the seed mixture on the same day. It cannot be expected to sing much now until the moult is finished, but it will probably open out soon afterwards.

WOULD NOT SIT (N. C. M.).—Sorry, but there is nothing you could do to encourage a hen not naturally broody to incubate a clutch of eggs. The only possible way out of these difficulties is to transfer the eggs to one or more hens who are about to sit, or have eggs in about the same stage of incubation as those you wish to transfer, and as this was out of the question in your case there was nothing else to be done but lose the chance of a brood of young. You do not say anything about the management of the cock, and it is just possible if you took the cock away from the hen when she was commencing to sit she objected to this course. Some hens will show their disapproval by refusing to sit on the eggs when the cock is taken away, and in nearly all such cases if the cock is returned at once when it becomes evident that the hen has left the nest and does not intend to return to it she will resume her duties immediately, and all will go well. With such hens it is absolutely essential to allow the cock to remain with the hen all through the season as the only means of inducing her to hatch out her eggs.

MOULTING AND MOPISH (F. W. W.).—It is not unusual for some birds to appear more or less mopy whilst they are moulting. The process affects some birds much more than others, but, given ordinary care, this mopiness is not serious. See that they are kept in a fairly warm and equable place, quite free from cold direct draughts or rapid extremes of heat and cold, and do not allow them to hang near or over burning lights in the evenings nor in or near a window. In addition to the staple seed diet, give about every third day a small teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake per bird, or a similar quantity of egg food, in either case well sprinkled with maw seed, and on the intervening days give one day a pinch of mixed seed and the next a little sweet fruit or wild half ripe seed, such as plantain stalks, etc. If there is any difficulty in shedding the plumage, add to the drinking water five drops each of sweet spirit of nitre and syrup of saffron every second day for a week or so. For the bird that shows signs of bronchial trouble, in addition to the above add two drops of cod liver oil emulsion each time to the soft food, and in the water instead of the above give five drops each of oxymel of squills, ipecacuanha wine, and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight. It will probably come all right after the moult is finished.

AVIARY MATTERS (W. Wooldridge).—(1) I'm afraid your desires to see the shrubs always fresh and green will need to be somewhat modified. The chances are that the birds will be a great bar to these artistic designs by nibbling off the greenery and leaf buds almost or quite as fast as they are formed. It is the exception rather than the rule for Canaries and foliage to flourish together in confined quarters. If you could wash the shrubs with a hose now and again this would have much the same effect in keeping them fresh, as far as could be in the circumstances, and enable them to flourish under a covered roof, which would certainly be far preferable to an open wire roof from many points of view. But as you are desirous to have an open roof so that the shrubs can flourish under natural conditions I would suggest as the best way out of the difficulty that you make a span-framed roof over the flight, and fix a roller along the ridge to carry a tarpaulin or oil-cloth sheet down each side of the roof, so that you can convert the flight into either an open or covered one at will in a few minutes, and thereby make a compromise and compass in a way all your desires in this respect. (2) As regards the site for the aviary, only a personal inspection would enable one to say whether the shady part of the garden would be subject to damp or extreme cold during the winter and early spring. The general contour of the position and the nature of the soil would naturally play an important part in this matter. Your own experience should tell you which is best all the year round. If built beneath the trees you would certainly get shade, but it must be at the expense of much sunlight, and the drippings from the trees would then make a covered roof more than ever necessary. The most I can venture to say in the absence of knowledge of the district is that the best position would probably be found on the outskirts of the fruit trees, a little to the north, so that the trees would shade the aviary during the middle of the day in the summer, which is all that need be desired. If the birds have free access to the open flight you need not fear that they will suffer anything from too much heat; the covered aviary and the bushes will be a sufficient protection against that.

A CHRONIC COLD (Novice, Wigan).—You must first of all see that the bird is protected from the exciting causes of bronchial trouble, which is doubtless what affects him. Do not allow him to hang in or near a window, near or over burning lights in the evenings, nor high up near the ceiling, where the air is always more or less vitiated. Keep it in a fairly equable place, and do not expose it to direct cold draughts. As staple diet give a mixture of three parts canary to one part summer rape seed, and in addition give a pinch of mixed seeds twice a week, a little egg food, or bread and milk as a substitute, sprinkled with maw seed once a week, and a little green food of some kind daily. In the water add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much Epsom salts as will cover a sixpence every second day for a week, and after this give instead five drops each of oxymel of squills, ipecacuanha wine, tincture of lobelia, and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight. This should set matters quite right, but you must not expect much song from the bird now until it has moulted.

MARKED FEATHERS (E. W. H.).—The feathers with dark streaks across them are defective ones, the cause of which is not quite clear, but I believe they are to some extent due to the ravages of red mites, as you will usually find that a close search will reveal some exceptionally fine specimens of this parasite in the cages of birds which have come through the moult with a number of these feathers. Weakness, and a check in growth owing to a chill, are also probably contributing factors. After a time the marks will disappear, and if the bird were required for show purposes the washing it would undergo would obliterate them at once, but, nevertheless, the feathers are certainly deficient in structure, as will be seen by holding one up to the light, even after the mark has disappeared. The best way to combat them is to keep the bird fairly warm during the moult, give it a nourishing diet, keep the moult going freely, avoid sudden chills, and keep down the red mites as much as possible. 20 drop doses of chemical food three times a week during the latter half of the moult is also very useful.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

MULE BREEDING IN FLIGHT (Anxious).—You could breed mules in your flight, but the number of hens you suggest turning in would be too many to hope for much success. When an aviary is overcrowded the birds interfere with each other; fight over nesting sites, and feed the wrong young ones. You should limit the number to two hens, or at most 3; with a limited number like this you would do better, and most probably finish the season with more young ones than with the half dozen hens. If you decide to use two hens only, you will find one cock bird sufficient.

THRUSH WITH FITS (D. W. S.).—Your Thrush was either frightened by something, possibly a stray cat, or you are feeding it on unsuitable food. Unfortunately you say nothing about the food you are using, and this prevents me pointing out your error. If you value the bird you should procure a pound of good insectile food, as used for some of the more delicate birds, and give him this, mixing with it a portion of scraped raw carrot or boiled potato. After a time you can, if you like, change his food to a less expensive one, and I would suggest that you make up some as advised in our little booklet on the Thrush, but I would point out that the better the feeding, the better health and the more song you will get out of him, so it is wise to treat him well. You can continue to give him his bath, this had nothing to do with his illness. For one day give him an aperient of salts in his drinking water.

GREENFINCH BALD (J. Laurie).—I presume you have some reason for thinking your cage is infested with red mite, beside the fact of your Greenfinch becoming bald, because the insects may have nothing to do with it. The pests that cause baldness, (particularly round the neck) are grey lice, which live entirely on the bird. Anyway I would advse you to thoroughly scrub the cage with soap and water, adding a dash of Jeyes' disinfectant to it. If you do this properly, it will kill all the mites, and a brush dipped in "turps" will make a good finish to it. Then examine the bird carefully and see if he has any lice, if so thoroughly dust him with insect powder or hand wash him with soap and water. You do not say how you are feeding him, but just now he should have a liberal supply of greenfood and wild seeds, which are easily collected on any waste ground, or along country lanes. The bare places will be re-covered when the bird moults.

GIVING A ROBIN ITS LIBERTY ("Alpha").—The best way to give a Robin its liberty at this time of the year, is to hang the cage for a few days on a sheltered wall of the house out of the reach of cats. Then one fine morning leave the cage door open, but do not drive the bird out, let him please himself what he does. He may refuse to come out for a day or two, and if so, shut the door at night and feed him as usual. When he does come out, leave the cage with the door open, and food inside, he will probably return to it to roost, and may continue to do so for a long time. I once had one that roosted in his cage all through the winter and would sometimes return during the day time for a feed and a quiet rest.

HENS FOR MULE BREEDING (H. W. Brown).—The choicest hens for mule breeding are undoubtedly Norwich, but if you only require Mules for singing purposes, then Rollers or Borders would do nicely, but choose should consult Houlton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manuel" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

the largest birds you have, as any surplus stock of good size is generally easy to dispose of. (2) You could add Glauber salts and syrup of buckthorn to your medicine chest, they are both very useful.

FEEDING A HAWFINCH (Ilex).—I do not consider the Hawfinch a difficult bird to manage, because there are so many seeds and wild foods that he will partake of. His principal food should be sound, plump sunflower seed or mixed sunflower and safflower. Give this and a mealworm or two, and he will do very well. The mealworms should be given direct from the fingers, as this helps to keep him steady. He will also eat hemp, linseed, canary, oats, rape, and sometimes a little buckwheat, corn, and small maize. You can collect and supply him with beechmasts, walnuts, plum and cherry stones, hawthorn, privet, and other berries. They are not particularly fond of greenfood; but will sometimes take a little after they have been caged for some time. They are particularly fond of garden peas. The bath should be given frequently. The seeds sent for identification are the winged seed of the sycamore.

LEARNING TO SING (S. W. B.).—You need not cage your birds off separately; if they are left in with the others, they will commence to sing when they are in condition. They will sing their own song, and scraps of others that they get from their companions, for most birds are great mimics. As a rule birds sing rather more freely, when caged off separately.

BREEDING GOLDFINCH MULES (F. E. M.).—I am glad you were successful with your Linnet and Canary; possibly your hens were not in proper condition to breed with the cock Goldfinches. As a rule you will find first-year hens do best with Finches, so if you are anxious to breed another year, you had better secure two or three as soon as the moult is over. (2) Greypates are certainly useful, but not absolutely necessary for mule breeding, in fact many fanciers prefer a steady adult bird. Unfortunately you send me no particulars of your attempts at breeding, so I am unable to say if the failure was due to the hens or to the Finches; anyway you cannot do wrong in securing two or three Greypates, for it is always as well to have an extra Finch or so, when one contemplates breeding operations. (3) Hen Canaries generally last three or four years for breeding.

FEEDING A GOLDFINCH MULE (F. W. Ware).—The following is a very good seed diet for a Goldfinch mule:—Canary 3 parts, teazle 2 parts, rape and linseed ½ part each. During the summer months the hemp must be reduced, or omitted altogether. Twice a week give a little sunflower seed and various green foods, and wild seeds, as they come into season. At present you can gather seeding grass heads, shepherd's purse, chickweed, sowthistle, thistle and others. All of these should be given liberally, especially during the moult. Keep in a good, roomy cage, away from draughts, and let him bathe on fine days. (2) The term "rank" is used to denote that a bird is in high condition.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

BIRDS IN OUTDOOR AVIARY (Enquirer).—There is no need to drive your birds in at night between June 1 and October 31, but if you are in the North, and your shelter shed is well lighted and roomy, they should be driven in at dusk daily for the other part of the year, and also kept there in the daytime as well during very inclement periods. You must ventilate the shelter without causing a draught, sufficiently to eliminate damp. If you are in the South the above precautions are not necessary except during very exceptional periods, but it is wise to feed only in the shelter during the winter, then the birds are more likely to spend a lot of time therein. A good plan to induce them to roost therein is to fix pea sticks round the walls, as thick as a hedge, then very many of your birds will roost in the shelter, without being driven in. In most aviaries the birds kept are very mixed series, and even when of about equal size they vary considerably in demeanour; some are amiable, others very much the reverse, and what you have to provide is not merely perching accommodation, but to have your twiggy branches, "as thick as a hedge," then the birds will have roosting accommodation, shelter, and a sense of security from quarrelsome neighbours; if you do not supply this the birds will seek it in the open flight, however cold the night may be.

LONG-TAIL GRASSFINCHES (Admirer).—These are very beautiful Australian finches, and though new arrivals need careful nursing for a time, once they are acclimatised they are not difficult to keep fit. They can hardly be called free breeders, being very erratic in this respect; in some aviaries and some seasons they are almost prolific, and in others, where the general conditions are equal or even better, they are a failure in this respect, so you have to chance your luck as to securing a breeding pair. Young have been reared in a cage. Still, with all their faults, these lovely birds should have a place in every collection. Their chaste, yet contrasty, plumage, their vivacity, and many quaint and interesting mannerisms compel us to class them among the most charming of aviary birds. The nest is rather loosely woven together of hay and grass, lined with fine grass, and sometimes feathers; it is of a spherical shape, with a hole at the front. The young are mostly fed on seed and greenfood, though in a large garden aviary many succulent insects are captured and taken to the young. I class these birds, speaking of acclimatised specimens, among our hardy aviary birds, but they cannot endure long-continued excessive damp, and you must see that the quarters you provide them are weather proof, and if the ground is of a wet, retentive nature, it should be drained so as to do away with all avoidable dampness.

MANAGEMENT OF BUDGERIGARS (Esperance).—It is not a question of Yellows and Greens, but merely a matter as to whether your pair of Yellows are a disagreeable and quarrelsome pair; if so, then they are best removed from a small aviary. Of course, in larger quarters there would probably be no trouble, but I think you might perhaps surmount the trouble by having, say, three food vessels, each one as distant from the other as size of aviary permits, for even a quarrelsome pair of birds cannot be at all three food hoppers at once. There is no reason why you should not exhibit your birds, but in case you do, the birds should be left in the aviary, as they would soon get frayed tails and flights living in a smallish cage. When speaking of a butterfly net for catching, one implies the use of a net not less than 12 ins. diameter, and in a small place the wooden handle is not required, simply hold the net in the hand by the portion which is attached to the stick. Do not attempt to catch them from the top of husks, but compel them to leave the husks; they are sure to fly against the front netting sooner or later, and then it is easy to place the net quickly over them. There is hardly room in your small aviary for food traps, but you could fix an ordinary box against the back; a box 9 ins. square by 6 ins. deep would be sufficient, and a drop door must be fixed to cover the front. Of course, the door must not always be set, but when you want to catch a bird you would take out the other food vessels, leaving only those in the box. Prop up the drop door with a piece of stick, to which a string is attached, which passes through netting of aviary front, then all you have to do is to wait till the birds you want to catch are in the box, when you simply pull the string, releasing the drop door, and they are trapped.

GROWTH UNDER EYE (A. F.).—Better than subjecting the bird to a rail journey will be to take it to your nearest vet., who should be able to operate and remove the growth, the exact character of which can only be ascertained by examination. Such growths rather point to some disorder in the bird's system, though they often arise from an injury. Put one teaspoonful of Dinneford's magnesia in the drinking water for two days running. If you will send me full details of how the bird has been kept, fed, and generally treated I will try and give you a more comprehensive reply.

FINCHES FOR OUTDOOR AVIARY (D. H. B.).—One of the best finches for a novice is the Zebra Finch (15s.), then there are Silverbills, African (10s. 6d.), Indian (15s. to 20s.), Bengalese (10s. 6d. to 15s.), Grey Singing Finches (15s.), Green Singing Finches (15s.), Bib Finches (25s.) You could put in

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Care Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

a few Weavers, such as the Red-billed, Taha, and Napoleon, all 10s. 6d. to 15s. pair; Avadavats (15s.), Orange-cheeked (12s. 6d.), and Gold-breasted (25s. to 30s.), Waxbills. All the above should do well with you, as also should Spice Finches and Bronze-winged Mannikins, and there are many others you could add, later, after you have gained a little experience. During the winter months they should be driven into the covered part and shut in daily at about 4 p.m., or a little earlier on dark days. You must give some protection against sun, or you will have losses from heat apoplexy during summer's hot days; preferably the greater part of the glass roof should be covered with roofing felt on the outside. In these times you will have to acquire the birds as opportunity offers; watch our advert. columns and seize your chance.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

ACCOMMODATION (Amateur, Bow).—Your "aviary" is really only a large cage, for the floor space is only seven square feet. The number of birds it would accommodate depends of course on the kinds you purpose keeping. It would house nicely any number up to a dozen foreign birds, such as Avadavats, Golden-breasted Waxbills, etc., but it would not be large enough for more than half-a-dozen Canaries or British Finches. The "necessary articles for furnishing" vary for the same reason, but in any case, you will require to fit up several perches of varying thickness, and these must be so arranged that birds on one perch cannot foul a lower one. If you wish to keep small foreign birds, then a few rush nests should be provided as sleeping places. Seed and water vessels of course, and with small foreigners these are better inside the cage, for these tiny birds have a knack of getting through the feeding and drinking holes when the hoppers are hung on the outside. Either ordinary paint or enamel may be used, according to the kind of surface you prefer, matt or polished. Enamel, carefully put on, has the advantage of standing the necessary cleaning better than paint. The first two coats may be ordinary paint, and only the finishing one of enamel. When you have decided upon the kind of birds you purpose keeping our experts will be pleased to advise you further.

DEAD SKYLARK (Regular Reader).—Every week, under the heading "Post Mortems," we publish a paragraph to the effect that dead birds must not be sent to this office. The cause of death is only to be discovered by post-mortem examination, for which we have no convenience at our offices. An outward examination can only lead to a guess, and if we may hazard a guess in your case we would say that the very poor condition of the bird would seem to indicate some error in feeding. If you will send particulars as to how you are keeping your birds our British bird expert will be glad to advise you whether any alteration is necessary. The bird was a cock.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the

"CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free. Gilt Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens.
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE.

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE, SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety. Get a copy now; it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

"BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS." By C. P. ARTHUR. 6d. post free.

Is a splendid guide-book to perhaps the most interesting and profitable side of foreign bird-keeping. It tells you all you need know.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed for the Proprietor Mr. F. CARL, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. HAMMOND AND CO., LTD., Fleet Lane, London E.C.

SCIENTIFIC CANARY-BREEDING.

SEE THIS ISSUE.

16 PAGES. 2D

CAGE BIRDS and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL
Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 720 For week ending September 9th, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free. Foreign— 13/- per annum.

SOUTH-COUNTRY WINNING CANARIES.

Four-pointed Unflighted Yorkshire, 1st prize at Bournemouth Show for Mr. F. Fulford, Christchurch.

Variegated Unflighted Norwich, winner of 1st prize at Bournemouth Show for Mrs. Downing-Farrer.

The Variegated Yorkshire in our picture has only been four times out, and, besides the 1st prize at Bournemouth, it has won firsts at Plymouth, Oxford, and Reading. A big price has been offered and refused for this fine specimen.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS" DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

6.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

W. A. RUDD & Co.'s
Best Quality BIRD SEEDS

Samples and Price List off all Seeds, post free.

EXTRA GIANT SPANISH CANARY.
5/- Peck, 19/6 Bushel.
GIANT SPANISH CANARY.
4/6 Peck, 17/6 Bushel.
No. 2 SPANISH CANARY.
4/- Peck, 15/6 Bushel.
MAZAGAN CANARY SEED.
3/6 Peck, 12/6 Bushel.
GENUINE SUMMER RAPE.
5/- Peck, 19/6 Bushel.
LARGE SWEET SOUND HEMP.
5/- Peck, 19/6 Bushel.
RUDD'S SPECIAL GOLDFINCH MIXTURE.
7lbs. 2/6, Post Paid 3/3.
RUDD'S SPECIAL LINNET MIXTURE,
7lbs. 2/6, Post Paid 3/3.
RUDD'S SPECIAL WILD SEEDS.
Finest Tit-bit for Britishers.
7lbs. 3/-, Post Paid 3/9.
RUDD'S CELEBRATED LARK FOOD.
For all Soft Bills.
7lbs. 2/6, Post Paid 3/3.

Giant Linseed, 4/6 Peck; Special Parrot Mixture, 4/6 Peck; Teazle, Niger, Maw Seed, Thistle, Dandelion, etc., etc., of all the very Best Quality and Double Screened by machinery. Pitch Pine Sawdust, 2/6 4-bushel sacks.

All orders 10/- and over delivered free in London and Suburbs.
Country Orders £1 and over sent carriage paid for 1/- extra, any station England and Wales; well packed; all bags, sacks and packing free.
Note our only and full address

180, Bishopsgate, London, E.C.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks, dust, from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold. (511)

RACK containing twelve stock cages, 15 x 13, bargain £1; particulars: Beaumont, Netheroyde, Ripponden. (572)

TWELVE single breeders, 20 x 10 x 10, enamelled inside and outside, 3/3 each, 18/- six: J. C. Hawkes, 32, Beresford-st., Camberwell. (569)

PAIR clap nets, 10 yards long, new, owner called up; only 10/-; worth double: Turner, 74, Tiverton-rd., Selly Oak, Worcestershire. (571)

FOR cage fronts, show cages, carrying cages, bird baths, all cage fittings, see my catalogue; 100 illustrations; post free: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

CLEARING; pair clap nets, complete outfit, fine thread, 21ft. x 5½it., 10/-; string thread Lark net, fully lined, 25yd. x 13ft., 12/6; new Plover net, undyed, 22yd. x 7yd., 12/6; two good spring net traps, 2/6; take 36/- lot, bargain; suit beginner: J. Whiteley, Boston-rd., Holbeach. (572)

BEST Japanese birdlime, hold any bird, even Crows, also rats, in any weather, 1lb. tin 2/-, ½ 1/2, ¼ 8d., large sample box 4d.; large self-acting bird traps, 1/4, two 2/4; all carriage paid; catalogue stamp; clap nets, 5/4 pair: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (565)

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6 yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/- per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and fly 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, ¾in. mesh, 7ft. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard; all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins. wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanese birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

BIRD HOUSES, CARRIAGE PAID

6ft. x 4ft. x 6ft. 6in., £3 10s. 6d.; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP.

Any size with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogue of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

BIRD LIME, NETS, TRAPS

New price list now ready. Bird lime, ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, post paid; trap cages, single 1/-; double, 1/6; invisible self-acting net traps, 1/6 each, two 2/6; for clap nets see price list: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN,

16 by 12, 5/3 dozen, 18 by 12, 6/- dozen, 24 by 12 7/9 dozen; Norwich, Yorkshire, and British show cages, 24/- dozen; baths, non-splash, and frames, 7/-, 8/-, 10/- dozen; tin, 4in., 4/6 dozen; Linnet cages, 10/6, 14/-, 18/- dozen, call cages, 7/- doz.; box cages, 18/-, 22/-, 24/- dozen; dealers send for price list: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (551)

CREOSOTE OIL

8d. per gallon, any quantity; casks charged 3/6, 4/6, 5/6, 6/6 each (returnable). Prepared tar for woodwork, 8d. gallon; casks charged for and returnable: Kershaw, Ltd., Tar Works, Keighley.

THIS YOU HAVE NOT SEEN

Before.—"Wellington, Salop, September 4th, 1916.—Send me another tin of birdlime. I cannot get any like it elsewhere, and I have tried lots of other kinds.—J. Williams to W. Rudd."

Remember, the Best is always the Cheapest of anything and everything.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedcaters, ready baited, 2/1 and 2/8; for Softbills, 2/-; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/8; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, and Linnet Singing Cages, see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Fill-up Feeders, 1/3. CALLS for Linnets, Goldfinches, etc., list free.—RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

FOODS.

WASP cake, 1/- and 2/- packets free; the old firm: Torpy, Naturalist, Bradford.

HALF-CWT. mixed seed, clean, 10/-, cost £1, bargain: Beaumont, Netheroyde, Ripponden. (572)

THISTLE seed, freshly gathered, 3d. oz., 4/- per lb.: Pazak, 99, Gray's Inn-rd., London, W.C. (570)

LIVE wasp grub, grand quality, 2/- a lb., post paid: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

FOR large parcel mixed freshly gathered wild seed, send 1/3: H. Lawrence, Beards-terrace, Coggeshall, Essex. (570)

WASP cake, 2/6 lb.; gentles, 2/6 quart; aviary requirements; see price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (564)

SELL Tams' packet bird seeds for Canaries, Linnets, Larks, Parrots. Special price list to the trade of cage fronts, baths, seed boxes, pottery, etc.: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

DRIED flies 2/- lb.; ants' eggs 3/6 lb.; cuttlefish 10d. lb.; Tams' tit-bit for British birds during moult, 1/- lb. See monthly list for cheapest bird seeds; secretaries and dealers note prices: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

RAMSDEN'S
PURE TASTELESS PEPPER

For colour feeding Cage Birds; super quality only; ½-lb. 1/6, 1lb. 2/6, 3lb. 6/6, 5lb. 10/-; original tins, 22lb., 37/6. Hot pepper same price. All post free or carriage paid.

J. W. RAMSDEN,
11, Josephine Avenue, Brixton, London.

ERRINGTON'S

XL RED FEED

is guaranteed to be of the finest quality tasteless pepper, and free from any added oil or sugar; 1lb. 1/11, 2lb. 3/6, or 4lb. for 6/3; all post free; send stamp for sample to: W. Errington, Reliable Seedsman, Bradford. (566)

"Eggertine" and "Excelsior"

RED AND YELLOW COLOUR FOODS.

best and purest Egg Food ever known. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3. COLOUR FOODS—Tasteless Red, 1/6 and 2/5 tin. "Norwich Blend," this contains the right quantity of hot and tasteless for producing deepest exhibition colour, 1/9 and 3/- tin. Red Feed and Eggertine, mixed, requires no preparation, 1/9, 3/- tin. Yellow, for producing a rich Orange Colour, 1/6 and 2/9. Sample boxes any above 4d.—RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

Use Our Notepaper.

NEW CROP

RAPE AND CANARY SEED

Sun Dried and Machine Cleaned.

Fanciers please note we are Direct Importers, and can offer the best value obtainable at the most reasonable prices.

	14 lbs.	56 lbs.	112 lbs.	232 lbs.
No. 1 Giant Spanish Canary Seed	4/6	16/-	31/-	56/-
No. 2 Bold Spanish Canary Seed	4/-	15/-	28/-	51/-
Red Summer Rape Seed	4/6	16/-	30/-	56/-
Perfection Flint and Shell Grit	1/-	3/-	5/6	—
Special Sweet Roller Rape	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
English Rape or Cole Seed	4½d. lb. 7lbs. 2/3
Inga or Niger Seed	4½d. lb. 7lbs. 2/-
White, Red, or Indian Millet	4d. lb. 7lbs. 2/-
Hemp Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/3
White, Black, or Striped Sunflower	8d. lb. 7lbs. 4/6
Linseed	4d. lb. 7lbs. 2/-
Maw Seed	1/- lb. 7lbs. 6/-
Condition Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Mixed Canary Seed, Mixed Linnet Seed, Mixed Finch Seed, Mixed Foreign Bird Seed,	All 4d. lb., 7lbs. 2/-.
Mixed Parrot Food	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Mixed Bone Food	3d. lb. 7lbs. 1/6
Cuttlefish Bone	10d. lb. 7lbs. 5/3
Lark Food	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Thrush Food	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Insectivorous Food	1/6 lb. 7lbs. 8/6
Biscuit Meal, Pea Meal, and Bean Meal, all	3½d. lb. 7lbs. 1/9

FRESHLY GATHERED MIXED WILD SEED.

Mustard Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Turnip Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Clover Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Cress Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Plantain Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Trefoil Seed	6d. lb. 7lbs. 3/-
Lettuce Seed	2/- lb. 7lbs. 10/6
Dandelion Seed	4/- lb. 7lbs. 22/-
Mixed Wild Seed	6d. quart 1/9 gall.
Maple Seed	6d. quart 1/9 gall.
Teazle Seed	8d. quart 2/6 gall.
Pecko, finest Tit-bit known for all British Seedeaters	2/- lb.
Ants' Eggs	4/- lb. 3lbs. 11/-
Dried Flies	2/6 lb. 3lbs. 7/-
Yolk of Egg	3/- lb. 3lbs. 8/-

WALSH'S PURE TASTELESS PEPPER.

Specially Imported for Colour-feeding Cage Birds. The best and richest Colour Pepper obtainable. 1lb. 1/9, 3lbs. 5/-, 7lbs. 10/6. Original Sealed Tins, containing 22lbs., 27/6.

Walsh's Celebrated Egg Bread, with or without colour.

Walsh's Insectivorous Food.
Both one price, 1/6 lb., 3lbs. 4/-, 7lbs. 8/6.
Hot Natal Pepper, 2/6 lb., 3lbs. 7/-.
Pure Sulphate of Iron, 1/- lb.

THE MAGNET CAGE BIRD MEDICINES

are carefully prepared by a Practical Expert with life experience and can be confidentially recommended to cure the different diseases.

The Magnet Asthma Cure,
The Magnet Inflammation Cure,
The Magnet Diarrhœa Cure,
The Magnet Moulting Mixture,
The Magnet Tonic Drops,
All 6d. per bottle, By post 8d.
The Magnet Feather Gloss, 1/-, by post 1/4.
The Magnet Red Mite Killer, 6d., by post 10d.
The Magnet Germ Cure, 6d., by post 10d.
The Bird Soap, 6d., by post 9d.

WALSHS' ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

is always alike, good and reliable; used by all the principal bird catchers. Packed in lever-lid tins, ½lb. 10d., ¼lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-; sample tins, 3d., post free.

Special Quotations to dealers for quantities.

WALSH, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn
Tel. 947. (572)

BOOKS.

BUTLER'S "Foreign Finches for Aviaries," 60 life size coloured plates, published £1 15/-, now 7/6; "Bird Life of London," 24 plates, illustrating 120 birds, 3/6; "Bird, Useful and Harmful," 85 plates, 3/6, new; postage extra: Ford, Naturalist, Bournemouth. (563)

BACK volumes of "Bird Notes," bound and unbound; good condition; offers: Cartwright, Bretton West, Wakefield. (516)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased; W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6." an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

"AVEAU"

This preparation of Krekodyne added to drinking water cures affections of the breathing and digestive organs, and is an excellent tonic, 1/-. Address:—W. Vale, F.Z.S., Q.M.C. Dispensary Bird Hospital, South Norwood, London.

Post-mortem examination and advice, by return post, 1/1. 50 years' experience.

NOT SINGING.
SOFT MOULT.

DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather-plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The ideal Tonic for birds during the Moulting Season. DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC for Bronchitis, Wheezing, and Hoarseness. Absolutely unequalled for all chest and lung affections. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for Weak and Delicate Birds.

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM. (556)

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

TWO Canary-reared warranted cock Linnets, 2/-: Swaine, 6, Wenlock-st., Luton. (570)

SELECTED cock Goldfinches, well on hard seeds, 2/-, three 5/-: P. Graham, Patrick's-terr., Ballina, Mayo.

GOLDFINCHES, selected cocks, every bird warranted, 3/6 each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (571)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Bullfinch, 5/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (550)

EXHIBITION white-legged cock Goldfinch, one of the best, 25/-: B. W. James, 7, Redcliffe-rd., Nottingham. (571)

LINNET, house moulted, suit catcher or singer, 3/6; full week's approval: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

MOOR cock Brown Linnets, selected gems, 3 for 1/9, dealers supplied, 4/- dozen: P. Cawood, 25, Britannia-st., Scarborough. (571)

GOLDFINCHES, Hampshire Down caught Greypates; well on seed; cocks 2/-, 2/6, hens 1/-: H. Munt, 19, Sussex-st., Winchester. (571)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit; Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

How 1/- To-day Will Make £'s for You.

DON'T keep Canaries; make them keep YOU —and pay you WELL. Canary breeding can be made very profitable. It can be made to bring you in large sums year after year. It is only a question of knowing HOW, and this book TELLS you how—tells you in a simple, clear and practical manner. There is no theory about it, its 380 pages are simply packed full of money-making facts—the practical experience and valuable breeding secrets of famous Fanciers. It is written by Experts—well-known Breeders who have won prizes throughout the entire Kingdom—men who have made big money from their birds. They tell you how they did it, what they did, and why they did it. It is a veritable encyclopædia of Canary Breeding, giving full information on every point, telling you what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Here are a few examples :—

How to Test if Eggs are Fertile.
How to Relieve Egg-Binding.
How to Wean the Young.
How to Destroy Parasites.
How to Breed for Exhibitions.
How to Feed for Exhibitions.
How to Exhibit to Win.
How to Judge Birds.
How to Breed for Markings and Colour.
How to Cure Diseases.
How to Give Medicines.
How to Cure Deformed Toes.
How to Defeat Egg-Eating.
How to Train Birds to Sing.
How to Treat Birds that Fail to Breed.

32 Coloured Plates
133 Illustrations
380 Pages

The book is so well divided into chapters, headings, and sub-headings that any subject can be referred to with ease. There are three indexes—one for illustrations, one for chapters, and one arranged alphabetically.

A Free Illustrated Booklet

giving further information about "Our Canaries" will be sent you on request. Better still, use this Coupon and send with a P.O. for 1/-, when "Our Canaries" itself will be sent.

If, after examination, you return the book, your 1/- will at once be refunded. If, however, you decide to keep it—and you will—you can pay the balance by easy monthly instalments. What offer could be fairer?

Send for this Book TO-DAY.

Use This Coupon

To the Publishers,
"OUR CANARIES,"
154, Fleet Street,
London, E.C.

Sirs,—I *(enclose herewith P.O. for One Shilling) shall be glad to receive full particulars of your Illustrated Volume entitled "Our Canaries." If I decide to become a Subscriber I will remit balance in small monthly instalments as desired.

Name.....

Address.....

.....

Occupation.....

* If you like you can send for Illustrated Booklet before sending 1/- deposit, but the sending of deposit reserves the Volume in your name.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION.
Gentlemen, I give you all a hearty welcome to bear and see my stock of birds. I have the finest stock of quality singing Linnets in England. I have a grand lot of Linnets singing day and gas light, and all taught under my undefeated champion of England; they are running and turning their notes beautifully; only 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each, and a few extra free birds, 2/6, 3/- each. I have a few good call-birds for disposal, with Linnet call-cage, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- lot. House-moulted Linnets, birds that have won all before them, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/- each. Cock Larks, finger-tame, and on nice soft mellow song, 1/6, 2/6, also one, a gem, with bow-fronted cage, 5/6 lot; cock Canaries, good free songsters 5/6, 7/6, 10/6 each. Yorkshire cocks, long, slim, typical birds, can win anywhere, 10/6, 15/6, 20/- each; make your birds sing anywhere by using a bag of my secret mixture, 1/3, post free. Linnet and Roller Whistles, 6d. All birds on approval; cash or deposit; travelling boxes, 2d. each. Thousands of testimonials; write at once to:
FRED ALLEN, Linnet Expert,
158, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

SELECTED giant cock Brown Linnets, for show or contest, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Goldfinches 2/6 each; sent any distance: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (570)
COCK Linnets and Larks, singing, 1/-, 1/6 each; Goldfinches, cocks 2/-, 2/6 each; Redpolls 8d.; cages 6d., 1/- each; trap cages 1/-, 1/9 each: Brain, Poultry Farm, Aston, Birmingham. (570)
TEN real big Welsh cock Linnets, 1/6 each; 17 cocks, on song, 1/- each; guaranteed cocks, 4/6 dozen; band-reared cock Bullfinches, 2/6 each; hens, 1/6: W. Brown, Ightfield, Whitchurch, Salop. (422)
LINNETS, Linnets, Southdown cocks, well on seed, selected birds, six for 3/-, or 5/- dozen, sex and satisfaction guaranteed, or money returned: G. Smith, Central Bird Stores, Charlotte-st., Portsmouth. (565)
LINNETS, Linnets, Linnets.—Warranted cock Lincolnshire Linnets, well on seed, best in England, 4/6 dozen, six 2/6, three 1/6; hen Linnets, 1/3 dozen, six 9d.; cock Greenfinches 1/9 dozen, six 1/-: thousands testimonials: Charlie Cubley, Gedney, Holbeach, Lincolnshire (573)
LANCASHIRE cock Brown Linnets, 5/- dozen, six 3/-; extra selected, for show or song, three 2/6; Redpolls, three 1/-; pure fawn hen Linnet, best offer; satisfaction guaranteed: Gardner, Garstang-rd. N., Wisham, Lancashire. (565.
COCKS: Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6; H.M. Siskins, 5/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d., 1/-; Canaries, 7/6, 10/-; hens, 3/6; Siskins, 2/6; chickens, 2/-; pullets, laying, 3/6; six, and cock, 22/6; boxes, 3d., 6d.; bird lime, 9d., 1/4: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan.
NORTH Country Linnets, special picked cocks, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; trap cages, all wire, and punch bar tops, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6. I have a grand Linnet, champion call bird, 2/6; Indian grass lime twigs, ready to set, 2/- box: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (569)
GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Write Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.
LINNETS! Linnets!! Linnets!!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.
LINNETS. Linnets, the finest ever caught, all on hard seed and song, cocks 1/- each, three for 2/-; few specially picked, 1/6 and 2/- each; none better; monster Greenfinches, Redpolls, Chaffinches, 9d. each; Larks, 1/- and 1/6 each; 2-compartment trap cage and call-bird, 1/6; 3-compartment, 2/-; invisible spring net traps, 1/6 each, post free; sample bird lime, 4d.; call cages, 6d. and 8d. each; call cage and bird 1/3; all birds in good health and sex guaranteed: Bedford (late Gore's), 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (565)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert
Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

GOLDFINCHES LINNETS REDPOLLS etc.; 1916 English cock Goldfinch, 1/6, three 4/-, large special selected, 2/-, 2/6, three 5/-, six 9/-, hens 9d., 5/- doz.; real Lancashire cock Linnets 8d., three 1/6, six 2/6, 4/6 doz.; Redpolls 6d., three 1/-, 2/6 doz.; birdlime, ¼lb. 9d., ½lb. 1/2, 1lb. 2/-; postage free: Matt Hopkins, Bird Specialist, 38, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire; est. 1895. (470)

Softbills.

THRUSH or Blackbird, hand-reared cocks, 2/6; tame, singing: Prior, Parkside Cottage, Thorley, Bishops Stortford. (551)
I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)
SKYLARKS, warranted tame, hand-reared singing cock birds, perfect health, plumage, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Chrisp, Southmill, Bishops-Stortford. (573)
TO exhibitors, cock Wheatear, one of the best ever exhibited, 12/6; wasp grub, 1/-; large packets, 2/-: Stanley Roper, Prospect-place, Keighley. (571)
TWO fine tame Jackdaws, beginning to talk, 3/6 each; fine specimen large Owl, 4/-; Magpie, 3/6: Mills, London-rd., Downham Market, Norfolk. (571)
THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.
DOVES, 3/- pair; cocks: Thrush 2/-, Blackbird 1/6, Hawfinch 5/6, Whitethroat 3/6, Tit 1/6, Redstart 5/6; price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (570)
COCK Skylarks, 3s. 6d. per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 5s. per dozen; same address 30 years.—Woods, 117, West Street, Dunstable.
LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)
ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.
Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).
PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—
*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKiernan, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Glumman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Raymer, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Rochl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green: J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Sulfield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield,—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Magge Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.
Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

Miscellaneous.

THOSE requiring a first-class singing cock Skylark or Linnet for contest singing or shop front attractions, at 1/6 each, on approval; secret of feeding free: Apply, George Holt, Dunstable. (572)
BLACKBIRDS, Song Thrushes, selected songsters, 1/6 each; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, Larks, 1/- pair; Blue-tits, 1/6 pair; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; selected, 3/- each; 12 mixed aviary seed birds, 1/6; exchange: George Fenn, East End, Isleham, Cambs. (570)

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

NOTICE, grand lot Border Fancies, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; state wants; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

Crests and Crestbreds.

CHAMPION Crests, some of the best in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.
NOTICE, grand lot Crests and Crest-breds, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

NORWICH cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (552)
FIFTY Norwich, must clear within 28 days: For particulars, H. Spann, Stivichale. (572)
TWO splendid hen Canaries, good type and quality, buff and yellow, 5/- each: Isherwood, Bromfield, Mold. (571)
1915 and 1916, both sexes, must clear; offers wanted (Tucker's direct), also double breeders: Damerell, Springhaven, Torquay. (569)
HIGH-CLASS Norwich; few early hatched, through moult, no better strain; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham. (550)
NOTICE, grand lot Norwich, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)
LARGE, handsome, rich, yellow and variegated young Norwich cocks, in perfect health and song, 4/- each, two for 7/-: Clarke, Bitton, Yiewsley. (572)
FOR sale, several good Norwich cocks, from 10/- each; also hens from 5/-; 1915 and 1916 bred; large birds, good heads: A. Bridgwater, Corn Merchant, Warwick. (571)

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)
HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

GRAND singing Roller cock and hung-up cage, 12/-: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (572)
FEW British Rollers (Randall's), details, stamp reply: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (572)
ROLLER cock (pure Randall's), splendid singer, 20/-; bargain: J. Hill, 58, Joshua-rd., Nether Edge, Sheffield. (570)
ROLLERS, 1916, two pairs, 15/-; ¾lb. maw, 1lb. dandelion, 2/-; approval: G. Stride; 44, Oswald-rd., St. Albans. (571)
ROLLER cocks, singing, 3/-, 4/-; Seifert strain, 7/6; 1916 young as bred, 18/- dozen: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorscinon, Glam. (552)

A BLUNT FACT

Is far preferable to "Cant" and ignorant assertions—hence I tell you plainly at the present time I cannot send out in quantities Birds on full song, neither can anyone else. You can take that from me. So don't be laughed at by "Land Sharks" selling Hens for singing Cocks. But if you must be tempted to try these so-called "bargains," deposit the amount with Editor, in spite of all the fairy tales you may be told.
If you so desire, I can send my list of Canaries, Parrots, Budgerigars, etc., Post Free. I send all on approval.—RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

FOUR 1915 pure Water Glucke hens, all reared young this season, 12/- the lot: Beedleston, Primrose-terr., Shrewsbury. (570)
BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)
YOUNG Roller cock, just clear moulted, in full song, bargain, 10/6; full approval: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)
SEVERAL 1916 Roller cocks, singing lovely, 7/6, 8/6; also 2 1915 hens, 3/- each, two 5/9, cash or deposit: Corbett, Hill-rd., Dursley, Glos. (569)
PAIR pure Seifert Rollers, value 15/6 (1915), exchange lond singing Linnet Mule, pure notes; yours first; approval: W. Clarke, 74, High-st., Sydenham.
NOTICE, grand lot Rollers, day and gaslight songsters, prices reasonable; easy payment arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas (562)
FOR sale, 12 1916 Roller cocks and a few hens; cocks 10/-, hens 3/6; all pure Randle's and all carefully trained under good schoolmaster: F. Bostock, No. 6, Ruckley-ave., Sydenham-rd., Spark Brook, Birmingham. (571)
A. HARPER, winner of young bird champion competition, M.R.C.C. cup, 20 other good cups and medals, has 8 1916 hens for disposal, two off cup winners, two 1st Bacup, two 2nd Wigan, two 2nd Wakefield, 10/- each; several others all related to above, 7 6: 2, Cooper-st., Bilston, Staffs. (570)

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!

Grand singing Roller cocks, pure notes, no faults, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, 5/-; all birds safely packed for any distance; hundreds of testimonials: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (572)

COOPER'S JOHN BULL STRAIN
of celebrated British Roller Canaries have stood the test for upwards of fifty years; none better obtainable; cocks, in full rolling song, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, and 10/6 each; genuine Schoolmasters, 15/- and 21/- each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, and 5/- each; birds safely packed, sent any distance; cash with order: Cooper, Roller Canary King, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (570)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

YORKSHIRE cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam (552)
GRAND Yorkshire cock Canaries, 7/6 each: Sam Hughes, 71, Grosvenor-rd., Pimlico, London. (571)
GRAND singing Yorkshire cocks, long slim birds, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6 each: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (572)
SELL pair Yorkshires, 1915 birds, cock and hen, 9/6, or exchange, offer: H. Lock, Rayne Lodge, Braintree, Essex. (563)
TYPICAL pair Yorkshires, cock and hen, 1915, healthy, particulars, price 10/- pair: Beaumont, Netheroyde, Ripponden, Halifax. (572)
NOTICE, grand lot Yorkshires, many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval.—McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)
CHAMPION Yorkshire or Norwich cocks, in full song, 10/-, 15/-, each; hens, 3/-; 6 young ones, price reasonable; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (541)
CHARMING clear yell. Yorks., extra quality, sire of 1916 Yorks. (Llanrwst winner), breeds show birds every nest, 25/-; show and stock birds: Kershaw, Surveyor, nr. Menai Bridge. (572)
MUST sell, 5 good, long, slim York cocks, full song, 1916-1915, 5/- each, 23/- the lot, good joiner-made cages, 1/6 each; first cash offer secures: England, 7, Halletts Gardens, Huish, Yeovil. (570)

EXHIBITORS

Being compelled to part with some of my best Yorkshires, I can offer exhibitors exceptional birds and exceptional bargains if they buy now, otherwise I shall show them myself. A bird in the money is always easy to sell, and my birds won over 40 prizes last year; only once were they out of the money. I am only describing four of my birds. I have plenty more just as good; send stamp for particulars. A lot of my old birds are finishing moulting; also this year's birds bred from these winners:—(1) Clear yellow cock, winner of silver medal at L.P.O.S., also winner at Wimbledon, only twice shown. This bird is over seven inches, and is grand stock bird besides show bird. (2) Clear yellow hen, unflighted last year. 1st, spl., every time out. Front page "Cage Birds," March 18th, 1916, a real gem. One of our best judges told me last month this bird would win anywhere. Splendid mother, eight youngsters this season from her, three out of the eight have already won for me, including first and spl. at Richmond. (3) Variegated buff cock. "Cage Birds" report says (Clapham Show): "First, Brown, capital variegated, good size, beautifully drawn and cut away, neat head and wings, A1 quality." This description needs no comment, except it's a bargain at £5. (4) Clear yellow hen, 1st at Birmingham, Wimbledon, Holborn Hall, Sheffield, Richmond, etc. "Cage Birds" report Birmingham says the hen shown by Colin Brown was a treat, and describing the birds says: "1, Brown, real beauty, wonderful length, straight as a rush, A1 position, fine silky feather, rich colour, wins easily." And so I could go on. Write now for full particulars, and I will offer these and some more of my winners at prices 50 per cent. lower than you will be able to buy as soon as the shows start: Colin Brown, Inglenook, Kings-rd., Richmond, Surrey.

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.
Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

Various Canaries.

BARGAIN, warranted cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle-Douglas.
CANARIES, guaranteed cocks, 5/- each; hens, 3/-, 2/6 each; Greenfinches, 8d. the pair, or 2/9 the doz.: H. Cunningham, High-st., Inverkeithing. (568)

MULES—HYBRIDS.

SEVEN cock Goldie Mules, 7/6 each: Vaughan, 31, Moor Lane, Lancaster. (563)
1916 cock Goldfinch Hybrid, good bars, 20/-: F. Mascall, Stansted, Essex. (570)
COCK Linnet Mule, and hen Linnet, which bred with cock Canary this season, 7/6 the two: Beedleston, Primrose-terr., Shrewsbury. (570)
HYBRIDS, 6 Siskin Greenfinches, 1 Canary Greenfinch, £3 the lot, as bred: Starr, Harbermere, Crutchfield Avenue, Walton-on-Thames. (570)
WANTED, 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)
HANDSOME light Goldfinch-Canary Mule, warranted cock, eyes, wings, tail marked, 25/-; dark cocks, warranted, 5/-, 6/- each; Sib. cocks, 10/- each; hens, 10/- 15/-, 20/-: Rowley, Elston, Crediton.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

PAIR Cutthroats, 5/6; one odd cock, 3/-: S. Bousfield, Saddler, Briggate, Knaresborough. (570)
PEACH-faced Lovebirds, true pair, acclimatised, show condition, 70/-: Macready, Jeweller, Stranraer.
BUDGERIGARS, open-air aviary bred, 8/- pair; hens, 5/- each: Jay, "Lancaster," Croft-rd., Sutton, Surrey. (558)
TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)
BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 7/- pair; yellows, 8/-; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)
BREEDING pairs, Rosellas, 65/-; Cockatiels, 22/-; cock Cockatiel, 10/-; outdoors; perfect: Steed, Tobacconist, Sudbury, Suffolk. (571)
PARROT, acclimatised, officer's pet (deceased), good talker, tame; good home only; heard talking: Barnes, 34, Euston-rd., Euston, London. (574)
PEKIN Robin, 5/-; Cordon Bleu, 5/-; Zebra Finch, 5/-; Bengalese, 3/-; Browne's Mannikin, 3/-; all hens: John Audney, Woodbridge. (573)
LORY, Ceram-Swainson Hybrid, perfect plumage, tame, outdoor aviary bred, 30/-: Mrs. Hartley, Lynchfield, Bishop's Lydeard, Somerset. (570)
FOR sale, Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, excellent talker and mimic, perfectly tame; price £5, with cage: Mason, Fullbrook Tavern, Walsall. (573)
NOTICE, grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger, price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)
NOTICE, grand lot green and yellow Budgerigars, sure winners; price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)
A VERY fine pair Red-collared Lorikeets, in full plumage and perfect health, on Canary seed, £3 10s.: Miss Peddie Waddell, Balquhalstone, Slamannan, Stirlingshire.
CRIMSON white Cockatoo, talks, whistles dog, £3; Blue-fronted Amazon, begin talk, whistles, £2 10/-, cash, deposit: Miss Davies, Hagley Villa, Lugwardine, Hereford. (569)
PIEBALD Java Sparrows, pairs 14/6, or exchange other foreigners; wanted, Nonpareil Bunting cock, Zebra Finch hen; Cutthroat hen: 16, Lockerbie-rd., Dumfries, N.B. (572)
GOULDIAN Finches, pair, from garden aviary, cock exhibition form, hen quite healthy, but lost power wings, 45/-, or near offer; must clear: Miller, Greenoakhill, Broomhouse, Glasgow. (569)
HEN Hooded Siskin, 30/-; Diamond Dove cock, 12/6; Olive Finch hen, 10/-; Cape Canary cock, 6/6; Grey Singing Finch cock, 5/-; common Waxbill, 3/6; hen Zebra Finch, 7/-; all outdoor: G. Low, 14, Royal-terrace East, Kingstown. (572)
BROWN'S Parrakeet, 85/-; hen Red-rump ready to nest, 42/-; Zebra Doves, 20/- pair; magnificent adult Californian Quails, reared young, 30/- pair; cock Silver Pheasant, 7/6; Weavers in colour, 83/- pair; tame talking Bare-eyed Cockatoos, 30/-; lovely Silver Crests, 30/-: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.
THE following foreign birds for sale: Virginal Cardinal, 28/-; Pope Cardinal, 2/6; also the following Weavers in full colour: Orange Bishop, 12/-; two Masked, 10/- each; Red-headed Finch, paired with White Java hen, £1 the pair, been in outdoor aviary all last winter: Bowerman, 12, Wellington-st., Swindon, Wilts. (571)
FROM outdoor aviaries, grand hen Cockatiel, 12/6; Green Budgerigars, 6/6 pair; grand cock Redstart, 6/6; hen Redstart, 2/-; cock Whitethroat, 3/-; Willow Warbler, 3/-; Spotted Flycatcher, 3/-; Robin, 2/6; pair Blackbirds, 2/6; pair Thrushes, 2/6; cock Canaries, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6 each; hens, 2/-, 3/-, 4/- each: A. J. Underwood, Bird Specialist, Wellington-st., Kettering. (511) full wings and tail, in magnificent show plumage, 25/- pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

BLUE-WINGED LOVEBIRDS

WEAVERS

300 pairs Weavers, magnificent birds, cocks talk in colour, 8/6 pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

INDIAN STOCK

Just arrived, magnificent stock of Indian Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, and Parrakeets: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

BUDGERIGARS

Gold medal strain, Green Budgerigars, 7/6 pair; hens 3/9; Yellows 9/- pair, hens 4/-; these birds are in magnificent plumage, very deep markings; safe arrival guaranteed: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DEALERS

requiring Parrots should send for our wholesale prices, over 700 genuine Amazons in stock, also 950 Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, etc.: G. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham. Telegrams: Parrakeet. 'Phone: Central 689.

BUDGERIGARS, FINEST STRAIN

Green and yellow Budgerigars, adult pairs, breeding condition, greens 7/6 pair, yellows 9/6; green hens 4/6, yellow hens 5/-; these are bred from largest outdoor aviary in county; own risk anywhere; fortnightly instalments: Hopes, Great Bridge-st., West Bromwich. (539)

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"

FOR 1916.

The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers

NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL, PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

TALKING PARROTS OF ALL KINDS

On our 4 months' trial system. Our risk. Talking warranty; for cash or easy payments; holder thousand testimonials, bear

NAMES AND ADDRESSES

Hopes, Gt. Bridge-st., West Bromwich. (285)

DE VON & CO.

Indian birds arriving shortly: Scarlet Tigerfinches, full song, 8/-; Nuns, 8/- pair; Avadavats, in colour, 10/- pair; Indian Silverbills, 10/-; Spice birds, 9/-; Californian Quail, 20/- pair; cock Saffron Finch, 5/6; Quail Finches, 25/- pair; price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (564)

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries, Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)

Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

VARIOUS BIRDS.

CANARIES (5), Goldfinch (1), in Crystal Palace cage, for immediate sale; no reasonable offer refused; owner serving: Apply, 7, Marlborough-rd., Lee, S.E. (573)
GOLDFINCH MULES, 3 cocks, 1 hen, 5 months; yellow Norwich hen, good stock bird; Norwich Border hen, almost even marked, 27/-, or offers: Easson, St. James's-rd., Forfar. (570)

WANTED.

WANTED, Canaries, all kinds: Dawson, Dennistown Bird Mart, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (564)
WANTED any quantity of young Canaries: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (500)
WANTED, every variety live stock, purchase or exchange: Barlow's Aviaries, Greenwich. (572)
WANTED, Canaries, all kinds British birds; state price: Brain, Poultry Farm, Aston, Birmingham.
WANTED, Linnets, from catchers, good price given: Aviaries, 12, Garfield-st., Workington. (570)
CANARIES wanted, any quantity, best price paid: Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (570)
WANTED, Cockatoos, Parrots, Budgerigars, Cockatiels, pullets, toy dogs: 17, Pembroke-rd., Walthamstow. (563)
A FEW winners, also good large youngsters; state price; no dealers: Barnett, 17, Spencer-st., Clerkenwell.
WANTED, big healthy Norwich; will give 8/- pair upwards for good birds: Scott, 110, Roebank-st., Glasgow. (572)
WILL buy for cash, any quantity hen Canaries, 1/- each; Linnet or Goldfinch Mules, either six; write, stating prices: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (572)
WANTED, class songster, British Roller Canary, pure Randell: McEwan, Maryland Drive, Cardonald, Glasgow. (569)
CATCHERS wanted to supply Linnets, Larks, Goldfinches; best price: E. Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)
WANTED, all kinds of Canaries, also British, small or large quantities, for cash: Barnes and Sons, Aviaries, Merthyr. (572)
CANARIES, all varieties, British birds and cages, wanted for cash; any quantity bought: Broadbent, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. (550)
WANTED, on approval, two very large yellow green hen Canaries: Edward Le Heup Cocksedge, Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk. (571)
WANTED, Norwich and Yorkshire Canaries, large birds, also Parrots and foreign birds: Mrs. Martin, 9½, Cowcaddens-st., Glasgow. (197)
WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)
WANTED, all kind of birds, state price and particulars, will deposit cash: E. Jones, The Aviaries, 21, Caerleon-rd., Newport, Mon. (573)
WANTED, all breeds of Canaries and mules for cash; send lowest prices to A. Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (546)
WANTED, any quantity Canaries, Mules, Goldfinches, both sexes, for spot cash; state price: Bedford, Avairies, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (565)
WANTED, all varieties Canaries, Mules, and Foreign birds, large or small lots bought, will send cash first: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.
WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, hen Canaries and Mules, etc.; state price: Thomas Hughes, Bird Merchant, 63, Saltley-rd., Birmingham.
WANTED weekly supply of Chaffinches, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets from catchers; good prices given for good birds: Gracie, Bird Dealer, Wishaw, Scotland. (572)
WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinches and Bullfinches, for cash, weekly supply and best prices paid for good birds: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)
WANTED 50 Goldfinches, 50 Bullfinches, 50 Linnets, 50 Larks, 50 Redpolls, 50 Budgerigars, 50 Canaries; established 20 years: Green, 22, St. Michael-st., W. Bromwich. (571)
WANTED, hen Ribbon Finch and hen Gouldian Finch (black-headed variety, mauve breast and yellow underneath: Mrs. Burgess, Belsize House, West Worthing. (569)
WANTED, 2 or 3 1916 yellow Norwich hens, cheap, also 2 or 3 buff or yellow Crestbred Norwich hens, large birds, with good heads: Clark, 64, Queen Mary's-rd., Coventry. (571)
NOTICE; we want Canaries, Parrots, British birds, poultry, rabbits, anything for cash, or exchange cutlery, plate, jewellery, boots, tools, etc.: Write, Smith Bros., 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (572)

WANTED, ANYTHING ALIVE,

Birds, Animals, Beasts, and Reptiles, wild or tame large or small lots; prompt cash settlement: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (570)

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.
JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

CANARIES WANTED

Colour-fed, Norwich or Yorkshires, 7/- to 12/- pair; old or young hens, 24/- dozen; cock Goldfinch Mules, 5/- to 7/- each; hen Goldfinch Mules, 15/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Bullfinches, 3/-; hens, 1/6: W. Rutherford, Largest Retailer United Kingdom, Leytonstone, London, E. Cash or deposit with Editor.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.
'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly British.

£4 10/- pair Crests, watch, phonograph, 100 records; exchange British: Williams, Mount Vernon-rd., Liverpool. (571)
GRAND Roller cock, 2 hens, rung, 1915 bred, Randall's strain, cock clean moulted, full song, good one, sell £1, or exchange: Keightley, 61, North, Norman-st., Ilkeston. (570)

Mainly Canaries.

1915 ROLLER cock, with show cage, must sell, or exchange anything: Hurst, 20, Montreal-buildings, Poplar. (570)
GOOD young Border Canaries, will exchange for anything useful: John Elliot, The Dean, Paxton, Berwick-on-Tweed. (566)
CHAMPION Crests, £2 to £10 pairs, approval; exchange Norwich, Yorkshires, or Mules: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham. (564)
WHAT offers in Canaries for suit length, good tweed, any colour sent, or sell 25s.; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle-Douglas. (562)
WILL exchange lady's or gent's silver hall-marked keyless wrist watch, new, with luminous hands and dial, value 35/-, for colour-fed Canaries: Jewellers, 26, Pretoria-rd., Leytonstone. (572)

Mainly Foreign.

EXCHANGE 14 double-sided records, nearly new, for Budgerigars, or offers: Hy. Watters, 1, Churchlane, Hensingham, Whitehaven. (572)
EDISON phonograph, 120 records, cabinet, cost £13 10/-, sell £7; Golden Pheasant cock, full colour, 30/-; Carriers, £3 pair; trio Speckled Sussex, 35/-; exchange birds, Parrakeets, Parrots, Cockatoos, preferred; cash, deposit, yours first: Miss Davies, Hagley Villa, Lugwardine, Hereford. (569)

Miscellaneous.

12 Ring Doves, 6/-, or exchange fishing rods, tackle, Guillaume, Litchdon-st., Barnstaple. (571)
WHAT offers for 18ct. gold African bangle: Mrs. Passingham, Colemore, Alton, Hants. (571)
SALE, or exchange, Whippet Collie dog, 3 months, 15/-, or exchange good rifle: Cowie, Bervie. (572)
EXCHANGE pair cycle wheels, 1 tube, lot bolts, nuts, for cock Canary; offers: Malone, 113, High-st., Jarrow. (569)
HANDSOME Italian mandoline, pair new razors and imitation marble clock, exchange birds, or offers: Higgins, 11, Bentwick-st., Hulme, Manchester. (572)
EXCHANGE a brown whippet dog, 10 months old, for Yorkshire cock, 1915 bred, and a little cash; or sale: J. Gallier, 19, Hockley, Broseley. (569)
SLIGHTLY crossed Fox Terrier bitch puppy, three months, make champion, 4/6; or exchange: Williamson, Mount Pleasant, Riddings, Alfreton. (572)
EXCHANGE pedigree Airedale Terrier bitch, two years, for two cock Goldfinches or good Yorkshire cock, or sell 10/-: Burt, 18, Milton-st., East Kirkby, Notts. (571)
EIGHT-compartment breeding cage, as new, suitable for Rollers, sell or exchange for yellow Norwich cock: Drake, 2, Belle Vue Parade, Scarboro'.
POWERFUL Bull-Airedale puppies, 9 weeks, parents tackle anything, exchange Canaries, or sell dogs 8/6, bitches 6/-: Hill, 37, Carter-lane, South Normanton. (523)
NORWICH and Yorkshire Canaries and breeding cages for sale, exchange gent.'s mackintosh coat, 44in. chest, or useful exchange: Brooks, 157, Devonshire-rd., London. (571)
NEW Harmsworth Self-Educator complete, unbound; Hobbies' fret machine, 200 Hobbies and designs; violin and case; offers, Canaries, cages: Clark, 12, Pennington-lane, Stretford, Manchester. (572)
WE give good value in boots, clothing, bedding, draperies, cutlery, etc., and household goods of every description required, in exchange for birds, Parrots, monkeys, puppies, etc., or every variety of livestock; stamp reply: Manager, Livestock Exchange Co., 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (570)
CLEARING out, others advertised sold; 1916 hand-reared cock Thrush and cage, 5/-; two 1916 Norwich cocks, 6/6 each; 1914 yellow Roller and Mule hens, 3/ two; 1916 Yorkshire hen, 2/6, Fillup Feeder and egg bread mill, 3/- lot; offers exchange, no birds: Holdstock, "Ivydene," Ivy-rd., Luton, Beds. (571)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Aquarium.

PRICE lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (564)

Garden.

£ S. D. saved by purchasing Baker's reliable fruit trees, roses, hedge-forming, fancy, and flowering shrubs; carriage paid conditionally; list free; satisfaction guaranteed: Baker, Westend Nurseries, Southampton.
FRESH cut roses, 25 1/6, 50 2/6; post free: Felix Spooner, Woking. (571)

Ferrets.

WORKING ferrets, 4/6; young, 3/6: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (570)
FERRETS, good workers, clean, quiet, 4/- and 5/- each: Young, Misterton, Somerset. (571)
SPLENDID ferrets, good workers guaranteed, 4/6; full-grown, 4/-; younger, 3/6, 3/-; last year's, excellent workers, 6/-; fourteen days' approval; cash with order or deposit: Thos. Wannop, Short-st., Carlisle. (572)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES
BLANCHARD'S PILLS
Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Fil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from
LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON
Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free 1d. Stamp

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

TWO powerful Bull-Airedale dogs, 7 weeks, 7/6 each, bitch 6/-; make demon guards: Barlow, Tobacconist, Greenwich. (572)
NOTICE; first cross Bull-Airedale pups, immense bone, big heads, 10/- each; exchange: W. Vardy, South Normanton, Derbyshire. (570)
WANTED, all kinds of dogs and puppies; no fancy prices; dogs and pups of all kinds for sale: Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (572)

Mice.

PAIR tame Japanese mice and cage 1/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (512)

Pigeons.

PIGEONS, HOMING & FANCY

Pigeon-keepers will find much helpful information in two of our "Nutshell" Booklets, Nos. 7 and 8, which deal with these birds in a manner which will set the fancier on the high road to success. No. 7, "The Homing Pigeon"; No. 8, "The Fancy Pigeon," post free 2½d. each from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London E.C.

Rabbits.

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE

By George Gardner. A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Sport.

NOW READY. Nutshell No. 31, "Fishing in River, Lake and Pond." All who take an interest in fishing should not miss this highly-instructive brochure. It treats fully on the various kinds of coarse fish, their habits and haunts, and how to catch them; the angler's outfit, ground baits, hook baits, sizes of fish, specimen fish, etc, etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

TRAPPING set, 8/-; used once; 18ft. x 3½: Brewer, 34, Exmouth-st., Swindon, Wilts. (569)
TAME pet monkey, on chain, a little beauty, 25/-; what offers?: F. Chadwick, Tool Dealer, Wrexham.
NEW single-barrel breech-loader gun, .12 bore, top lever, sacrifice 22/6; approval, deposit: Young, Nct. maker, Misterton, Somerset. (551)
SPLENDID Cockatoo and cage, very interesting, 17/6; black male and female healthy Pekingese, nine weeks, £1 each: 5, Winifred-st., Swindon. (570)
GENT.'S cycle, in good running order, new tyres, free-wheel, back-pedal brake, sell for 50/-; or exchange Yorkshires and Roller Canaries, or accept part cash: H. Allen, 3, Lightfoot-avenue, Glass Houghton, Castleford, Yorks. (571)

A Real Lever Simulation GOLD WATCH FREE

NA—L
BO—B—Y
L—N—ON SY—E—Y

In this puzzle you see four lines of letters. Fill in the missing letters so that each line spells a well-known town in the world. A Magnificent Watch, Lady's or Gent's (guaranteed five years), will be sent free of charge to readers of this paper who solve this puzzle and conform to our one condition. It costs you nothing to try. Send your answer together with stamp, that we may send you result. All failing to do this will be disqualified. SEND NOW!
"BARGAIN" WATCH CO. (250 Dept.), 89, Cornwallis Rd., London, N.

The Chaffinch and How to Keep It.

By W. WHITE.

HAVING kept the Chaffinch, brought it up from the nest, and caught many of them, as well as exhibited the same, I thought perhaps a few words on the management, food, etc., might be of some use to those into whose hands the Chaffinch might come.

Most of us know the Chaffinch, and are also able to tell the cock from the hen, so a description of the bird is not necessary.

All nests are wonderfully made, but I think the Chaffinch's nest excels them all for neatness, being beautifully lined inside, and concealed from view on the outside by the lichen which the builder has covered it with. The bird is very fond of building in the fork of a tree or hedge. I have also found the nest in small apple trees and numerous other places.

Most of us have noticed when out on our bicycles for a ride how the Chaffinch will fly along the hedge in front of you, enjoying your presence, as it were, and appearing quite tame, but of all the birds that I have kept I think the Chaffineh in captivity is, not to say the wildest—although it appears to be—but the most nervous.

Nor does it make much difference if you catch it wild or bring it up from the nest, the result is the same. I suppose it is its nature. Still, let no one be discouraged in keeping it. I wish there were more classes provided for it at shows. It is a fine bird, of grand plumage, and if inclined that way, as very many are, becomes exceedingly tame. My own Chaffinch is one of the birds I have just spoken of, very nervous, and yet so tame. He will take flies out between my fingers as fast as I can catch them for him.

Other birds are nervous as well as the Chaffinch. I once kept a hand-reared Song Thrush, very tame, but whenever he caught sight of a cat he would bang himself about all over the cage. We should be able to distinguish the difference between a nervous bird and a bird that is naturally wild.

Patience overcomes all these difficulties. Whistling to them near the cage helps a lot to steady them. Do not get cross if they are nervous and bang about, but use them quietly and carefully, and they will repay you. I have seen some men take the cage down and shake it too and fro, shout at the bird, and do other things which never yet made a bird tame, and never will.

The song of the Chaffinch is not at all a bad one; far from it. It is something more than "Chink, chink." I could whistle its note, but I cannot write it.

A young Chaffinch that is caught before it has moulted is just as good, and, in my opinion, better than a hand-reared one, and very often the tamer of the two. A lot of hand-reared and Canary-reared birds can never be tamed. Nor can some of them caught outdoors.

When such is the case, after a reasonable time, the best and most humane plan is to let them have their freedom. Nothing worries me more than to see a bird banging about week after week, month after month, and then no tamer. I kept one hand-reared Linnet two months, and I gave it its freedom. It was the wildest bird I have had for a long time. The other two out of the same nest were quite tame.

The Chaffineh is very fond of the bath, when I hang one on my cage my bird bangs about all over the cage, so I have to syringe him, and he does so enjoy it. It is one of the finest things out for tightening up the plumage. It is best to use lukewarm water for the purpose. Even if the water becomes cold before the birds enter it, it is softer than if drawn straight from the tap.

We now come to its diet, a most important item. Many birds die annually because of improper feeding. The birds are paid every attention, and yet pine and die. And so they will if not fed correctly.

In this enlightened period, with so many books to instruct, and so cheap, this should not be. All lovers of cage birds, even if they only keep a pet Canary (hung in the window to the detriment of the bird), should take CAGE BIRDS every week, for there is always something to learn from it; we all profit by other people's mistakes. Read the answers to the different querists every week, and profit by the mistakes others have made.

The best mixture of seed for a Chaffinch (and which suits a large number of our British seed-eating birds) is one quart of Spanish canary and a pennyworth of German rape seed, well mixing the two together. This should be their staple food. I prefer bottles on the outside for this seed.

I also use linseed, soaked rape, hemp, crushed oats, and sunflower seeds. I give them these every other day in little glass pots, such as nightlights are in. They are very handy, easy to wash and keep clean, and the birds cannot stand inside to foul the seed. These pots I stand inside.

The soaked rape the birds like best of all. This is how I prepare it. I get a gally-pot and half fill it with German rape seed, and put enough cold water just to cover it; then let it stop for a week in a warm place, and every day stir it all together, and by the end of the week it will all be sprouted and ready to give to the birds.

If you have any fresh caught ones this is the seed to give them to tide them over their worst time. I have used it myself for a long time with great success, and I recommend it to all those who are lovers of British birds.

As to green food, chickweed, grass seed, dandelion leaves, as well as the heads, are my favourites. I have never used watercress, although I should think it was very good if grown in water not polluted with sewage.

The chickweed is best when seedy. The birds eat the seed pods before the leaves. In addition to above I use, when in season (in fact I grow a lot for this purpose), lettuce leaves. The birds enjoy them when young. Plantain and shepherd's purse when the seed pods are a reddish-brown, sow-thistles, the more blight on the better, and, last but not least, a sprig of ripe blackberries. Greenfinches also love blackberries.

As to insect food, my Chaffinch likes the large blue-bottle flies the best. Now and then I give him a mealworm, also a cockchafer when I get one. Small green caterpillars and earwigs he is very fond of.

More might be said of this fine plumaged bird, the Chaffinch, but in conclusion let me say to those who contemplate keeping one to feed as I have directed, to put the bird (I presuming it is fresh caught) in a cage with another bird that has been caged some time, and put the cage and birds in a quiet room with plenty of light.

Put seed and water inside as well as bottles and drinkers outside, and sprinkle a little seed on the bottom for a week, then discontinue, and in about a month (perhaps a little longer, you must watch and see if the bird eats and drinks from the bottles, which by this time it generally does, the other bird having shown it), you can do without putting the seed and water inside.

This is not theory on my part, but actual practice, which has always been successful, and if these few hints will help to lengthen the life or lives of our British birds (several hints being applicable to several other British birds besides the Chaffinch) this article will have fulfilled its purpose.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ALFRETON C.B.S.—Sept. 9, Red Lion Hotel, 6.30. Business in connection with open show, fixing of specials, etc.—G. Sawer.

ASHINGTON AND HIRST C.B.S.—Sept 7, Miners' Hall, Ashington, 7. Special business.—C. F. Tapson.

BOLTON ROLLER C.C.—Sept. 12, Joiners' Arms, 7.30.—T. Ormston.

BRIGHTON AND HOVE C.B.A.—Sept. 13, Headquarters, Cheapside, 8. Club Whist Drive open to members only, who may introduce three friends. Prizes by Mr. A. Fellows (Ladies), and Mr. G. B. Absolom (Gents).—W. H. Gibb.

BRADFORD WEST C.B.A.—Sept. 9, Shoulder of Mutton, 7.30. Arranging for Open Show; new Rose Bowl on view.—Sept. 16, at Four Lane Ends Tram, 2.30. Mr. Butterfield's Ramble.—F. P. Terry.

BRITISH ROLLER C.C.—Sept. 12, Cock and Lion, Wigmore Street, W., 7.30. The tours of the Roller. Birds will be present and the tours explained.—J. W. Norris.

BURNLEY C.B.S.—Sept. 11, 75, Lindsay Street, 8. Committee meeting; business important.—W. Broxup.

CHOPWELL C.B.S.—Sept. 9, Workmen's Club Hall, 6.30. To decide on show, etc.—W. H. Christer

CRYSTAL PALACE AND PENGE C.B.S.—Sept. 13, Alexandra Hotel, Penge, 7.30. Question night, 3 questions on paper. Show business election of under Sec. Nomination of new members.—W. D. Fryett.

CITY OF BRADFORD O.S.—Sept. 9, Flying Dutchman, 7. Open show business; electing stewards, etc.—W. Helliwell.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.—Sept. 11, Church Institute, 60, Paddington Street, W., 8 Colour Feeding, by Mr. A. Howard. Fanciers invited.—F. J. Martin.

DULWICH AND PECKHAM C.B.S.—Sept. 12, at Reindeer Hotel, Rye Lane, Peckham, 8. Lecture on the "Production of Colour," by Mr. Frank Cole. Fanciers specially invited.—W. Hodson.

FALKIRK, GRANGEMOUTH AND BANNOCKBURN.—Sept. 16, Oddfellows, 7.30. Important.—D. Aitken.

FALKIRK GOOD INTENT C.B.A.—Sept. 9, Graham's Road, 7.30. Settling rules and other important business. At a meeting Aug. 26, it was settled to go on with the show as formerly, classification was also revised.—W. Clarkson.

FARNWORTH C.B.S.—Sept. 13, Church House, Church Road, 8. Fixing date for members' old bird show, etc.—W. Dawson.

GT. HORTON O.S.—Sept. 9, Station Hotel, 7.30.—B. Hainsworth.

GT. HORTON GOOD INTENT O.S.—Sept. 9, The Grange, Congregational School, All Saints Road, 7.30. Business important.—A. Firth.

HOUGHTON-LE-SPRING C.B.S.—Sept. 9, Queen's Head Inn, 7.30. Annual show business.—R. H. Dixon.

HIGHGATE AND HAMPSTEAD C.B.S.—Sept. 18, Spencer Hall, Dartmouth Park Hill, 8. Bird-washing competition. Judged by Mr. W. Shakespeare, London's veteran expert, who will show how it should be done.—F. C. Knight.

HUDDERSFIELD O.S.—Sept. 11, White Hart Hotel, 7.30. Question night.—A. Lawford.

LOANHEAD C.B.S.—Sept. 9, Mason's Arms, 7. Arrangements for show.—W. B. Smart.

LIVERPOOL B.B.A.—Sept. 14, Oldham Hall, 8. Schedule for old show.—T. R. Jones.

LANCHESTER F. AND F.S.—Sept. 9, Queen Head, Lanchester, 6.30. Business important.—J. H. McKeag.

LONDON C.B.A.—Sept. 14, Red Lion Hotel 2, York Street, St. James, 8. "Preparing Birds for exhibition.—A. Wallington.

LARKHALL C.B.A.—Sept. 16, Y.M.C.A. Halls, 7. Reports from judges, fixing up annual show business. Last meeting for members wishing to compete for young bird cup; new members invited; subs. due.—T. J. McGregor.

LOCHGELLY C.B.S.—Sept. 16, Burgh Arms, (Hugh's), 6. General business.—W. Grewar.

NORTHERN YORKSHIRE C.C.—Sept. 13, Shield's Cafe, Bigg Market, 7.30. Schedule for annual show; also discussion re staging birds for show.—R. Havis.

OLD SHILDON WORKMEN'S CLUB C.B.C.—We have decided to hold our open show Nov. 10 and 11, members of the South Durham and North Yorkshire Federation. Next meeting Sept. 16, to choose judges and make out the classes. Secretaries note the date of show.—J. Ainsworth.

SWANSEA C.B.A.—July 9, Elysium. Allocation of charity.—J. H. Ford.

SACRISTON P.P.R. AND C.B.S.—Sept. 9, Mrs. H. Abbot's Tea Rooms, Front Street, 7. Taking subs. and electing stewards, etc., for the show Oct. 7.—W. Dodd.

TONG C.B.S.—Sept. 12, Hand and Shuttle Inn, 7.30. Open show business.—W. Walker.

WALLSEND MID TYNE ASSOCIATION.—Sept. 13, Station Hotel. Important show business; new members invited; subs. due.—G. Greenwell.

WIGAN ROLLER CLUB,—Sept. 9, Legs of Man Hotel, 7. Business important.—P. Greenall.

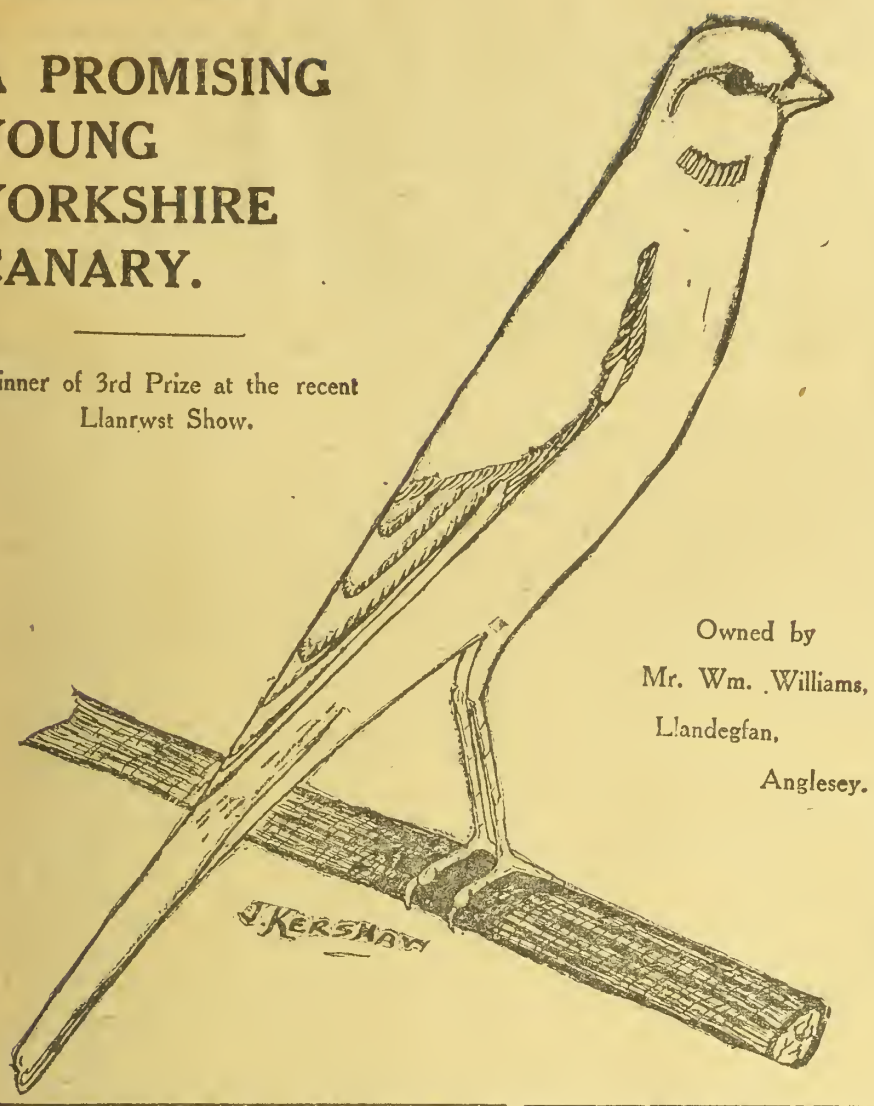
Birds in the Firing Line.

Some one has said that the German shelling has driven off the birds, writes Mr. H. Thorburn-Clarke, in the "Daily Express." As a matter of fact, there are far more birds here than there ever were in pre-war days. You can hear them singing between the firing of the guns, and one of our men told me that during the fiercest conflict he had ever been in he heard a Lark singing overhead and a Quail calling! I have seen birds rise in a cloud from a shelled house, only to settle back again in a few minutes. Of course, both birds and animals get wounded by shell fire very often, though you come across the traces of this but rarely.

ALL JUDGES AND SHOWS SHOULD USE OUR

specially prepared and up-to-date

JUDGING BOOK.



The advantage this book has over others is that it has 3 columns for awards, and is therefore a great help to, and a double check for judges, while there is always a slip free to be sent to the printers of the catalogue.

Prices:—1 Copy, 6d. post free.
6 Copies 2/6 post free.
12 Copies 4/6 post free.

A sample page on application to "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

A PROMISING YOUNG YORKSHIRE CANARY.

Winner of 3rd Prize at the recent Llanrwst Show.

Owned by Mr. Wm. Williams, Llandegfan, Anglesey.

THE GREAT TIT
AND HOW TO KEEP IT IN CAPTIVITY.

By PHILORNIS.

THIS species is the largest of the British Tits. A good specimen of the adult cock bird may be described as follows :—Total length, 6 in.; beak, black; top of head and sides of neck, black; nape of neck, yellow, with a patch of dull white; cheeks, white; chin and throat, black; an irregular black band extends down the centre of the breast and belly to the vent; the back is olive-green; the rump and upper tail coverts, grey; lesser wing coverts, steel-grey; greater wing coverts, black, edged with grey and tipped with white; wing and tail quills, black, the former edged with light blue; sides of breast, pale yellow; legs, bluish-grey.

The female resembles the male in colour and markings, but is somewhat duller and dingier in general appearance, and the black stripe down the breast is much less conspicuous. In young birds the white parts are all dull, and more or less stained with yellow.

The Great Tit is fairly abundant in most parts of Great Britain and Ireland, except in the extreme North of Scotland, where it is much less numerous, and does not seem to breed at all to the north of Sutherlandshire. It, however, occurs in Shetland occasionally, but has not been reported from the Outer Hebrides.

This distribution certainly points to some degree of partial migration in this species, but in most districts in this country where the Great Tit is found, it, like the other Tits, frequents the same localities all the year round, and wanders about the country far less than other small birds.

An Extensive Range.

Beyond the shores of our country, the Great Tit is found in most parts of Europe, in Siberia, and other Asiatic regions, in Asia Minor, Palestine, and Northern Africa.

This bird is bold, active, and strong of flight, and also extremely pugnacious. It is said that, when driven by hunger in hard winter weather, it will attack and kill other small birds, splitting their skulls with its sharp and powerful beak, and picking out the brains.

In early spring it has a loud, harsh, double note, which is frequently repeated, and has been compared to the sound made by the sharpening of a saw. From this circumstance it has received in some parts of the country the name of "saw-sharper." At this season the Great Tit has also another note, an attempt at a song, which, so far as it goes, is cheerful, and not unpleasant.

The Great Tit is seldom found in bare, open country. It prefers well-wooded and sheltered districts, and obtains most of the insects, which form a large proportion of its food, among the leaves and twigs of trees. During autumn and winter its diet includes seeds of various kinds, the harder ones it is said to crack in the same way as the Nuthatch, by hammering at the shell with the point of its beak.

It has been asserted that it can even open hazel-nuts in this way, a task which would seem to be beyond the power of any Tit. A well-known observer says that this is done in the early spring, and that the nuts are opened just as the germinating kernel would split them a few weeks later.

Friendly when Winter Presses.

Like most of its congeners, the Great Tit approaches the vicinity of houses and farmyards during the winter, and in frosty weather may be seen working about among the thatch of old buildings, in search of the various insects which harbour there.

The present species is an early breeder; its nest is usually placed in a hole in a tree or wall, but various other positions are also chosen, and it is said sometimes to use the deserted nest of some other bird. The foundation of the nest consists of soft moss, on which is placed a thick layer of short hairs, along with a few feathers.

Sometimes the Great Tit has been seen to excavate for itself a hole in some decayed stump or dead tree for the reception of its nest, and the eggs are occasionally laid on the bare wood, but this is exceptional.

The number of the eggs varies from six to nine; they are white or sometimes white tinged with yellow, and are blotched and speckled with light red, the marks being pretty evenly, but not very thickly distributed over the whole surface.

During the remainder of the summer, after the close of the breeding season, Great Tits wander about the woods and copses in small family parties, and when they happen to fall in with other species of Tits, or Nuthatches, or even Goldcrests and Redpolls, they usually join company, and proceed for long distances together.

A close student of bird life draws particular attention to the excellent climbing powers of this species. Its strong and much-curved hind claw, he says, gives it great facility in clinging to the twigs and branches of trees, sides of ricks, and even walls of houses. Attitude seems to be a matter of no consequence; it can cling with perfect security to anything but a smooth surface. On trees it hangs from the branches, with its back either downwards, or turned sideways, and explores crevices in walls with as little regard to the vertical position of the surface to which it clings, as if it were examining a hole in the level ground.

With regard to the treatment of the Great Tit in confinement, it will be seen from what has already been said of the pugnacious and murderous disposition of this little bird that it is not to be trusted in an aviary or cage in company with any other bird smaller or weaker than itself.

An instance is recorded of the behaviour of this bird in an aviary along with many other birds less powerful or less courageous. It is said that in the course of a single night he had killed every one of his companions, with the exception of a Quail, and when he was discovered he was in the act of dealing to this the coup de grace.

It will, therefore, be found that the most satisfactory way to keep this species is to have a single individual in a fairly roomy box cage; it will then be seen that the Great Tit makes an extremely interesting and diverting pet, as well as, from the beauty of its plumage, an exceedingly handsome cage-bird.

Being a mixed feeder, this species should, in confinement, be supplied with a good soft food as a staple, together with a variety of seeds. In the first place, to make a suitable soft food, mix together in equal quantities by bulk, pea-flour, crushed water-biscuits (the small kind), and ants' eggs. To each 1 lb. of the mixture add a tablespoonful of fine sugar.

When this is given to the bird, make it crumbly with a little water. The addition of a small proportion of grated raw carrot makes a nice change, and then less water will be required in mixing. Boiled potato is also a useful addition. Other ingredients which from time to time should supplement the soft food are hard-boiled yolk of eggs and dried flies. A mealworm or two may be given daily, and any other larvæ or insects will be acceptable.

As to seeds, a small teaspoonful of maw-seed may be given occasionally; hempseed is much enjoyed, given either whole or crushed; sunflower is also greatly liked. The Great Tit is very fond of the kernels of all sorts of nuts, Barcelona, hazel, filberts, and especially walnuts. A small piece of suet or other hard fat is also useful.

Two Small South Africans.

By MISS DYDDGU HAMILTON.

WHEN, after several years of deprivation I started keeping foreign birds again, I was doubtful whether to begin with species that I had already kept and liked, or to make a new venture with hitherto unknown feathered pets. Finally, I decided on the latter course, and fortunate it was for me that I did so, since all my former favourites were either unobtainable or else cost about ten times their old price.

The smaller foreign Finches have always been my speciality; they are the best kind of bird to keep in cages in living rooms, and it is quite possible to take such tiny creatures with me when I travel, which I am frequently compelled to do. Accordingly I visited all my old haunts, both in the East and West of London, but for many weeks my wanderings were without result; there seemed to be nothing smaller than Parrakeets on sale.

Birds, and Other Things.

At last, however, I happened upon three very small birds in a very large cage, and exposed for sale in the midst of baboons, ferrets, kittens, and snakes. Eagerly I peeped through the window at the birds, and observed (speaking to myself, since no one else was by), "Indigo Bunting, out of colour and moulting; Grey Singing Finch, very bare about the head and neck; the third I don't know—he's the bird for me."

This little gem was in perfect feather, and seemed very gay and alert, as he hopped from perch to perch, every now and again pausing to pull a grain from the millet-spray, or to preen his already faultlessly-arranged plumage. His general body-colour was of a soft dove-grey, but the feathers on his forehead and wings had a much paler edging to them, giving the appearance of scales. Like the Bearded Reedling, he had "a pointed drooping moustache" of jet-black feathers, very conspicuous against his light grey breast. His beak and legs were pinkish-grey and his eyes black. His size about that of a Golden-crested Wren.

In a rapture of enthusiasm I entered the shop and asked the name and the price of this pretty, lively, tiny bird. "Its name? The Scaly-fronted Finch, from South Africa. Its price?" Well, its price was not exorbitant, and I said I would take it home with me.

As the dealer put his hand into the cage to catch the Scaly-front, the Indigo bird and the Grey Singing Finch began fluttering about, and as soon as the latter opened his wings he disclosed a brilliant back of yellow, soft and bright as a Brimstone buttorfly.

"What is that lovely little fellow? I mistook him for a Grey Singing Finch," I ejaculated. "It is a Yellow-rumped Seed-eater, a very sweet singer, and never a common bird in the best of times," was the reply. Of course, I fell before the combination of beauty, rarity, and moderate price, and quickly I became the proud possessor of both Scaly-front and Yellow-rump.

The latter bird, but for his amber-coloured back and black throat, so exactly resembles the Grey Singing Finch that no further description of him is needed. His proper name is Yellow-rumped Serin (Serinus Angolensis). He must not be confused either with the Yellow-rumped Finch (Munia flaviprymna), nor with the Yellow-rumped Seed-eater (Crithagra chrysopyga), although this last belongs, I believe, to the same genus, and is not altogether unlike my bird, except that its breast is almost orange, and altogether it has far more colour about it.

It was very hot weather, in the early days of August, when I took my little birds home. On being unpacked and loosed into roomier cages the two tiny creatures behaved very differently one from the other. The Scaly Finch began immediately to pick up and swallow rapidly piece after piece of shell from the clean gravel on his tray, singing softly to himself all the time. I had never before seen a bird eat and sing simultaneously.

The Serin, on the other hand, flew speedily to the water-pan. First he perched on its brim, and drank and drank again, raising his beak heavenward as if in thanksgiving after each sip. Then he plunged boldly into the depths, and bathed until he seemed to have no feathers at all, so closely did they cling to his drenched and half-denuded little person.

Scaly-front and Yellow-rump are very good friends. Both come frim South Africa, and both are reputed songsters. My Scaly-front certainly keeps up a very delightful little twittering as he flits busily about. My Yellow-rump has not as yet sung at all, and I am strongly tempted to think it is a hen. Very soon after I had it I allowed it to fly about my sitting-room, and thus flying it is seen at its best, showing off the full beauty of its amber back. A flock of these little Serins in flight would indeed be a lovely vision.

Of all the seeds to which my small Africans have access they greatly prefer spray millet. The Serin also shows a great partiality for aphides. Every day I offer her a sprig of my sweet peas, which are smothered with the little green pest, and instantly she flies on to my writing-table where I place the spray, and does not leave it until every "fly" is cleared off. If I forget her treat she keeps flying on to my table until I remember what she is asking for.

Ten years ago Mr. Teschemaker succeeded in breeding these pretty Serins in an outdoor aviary in the month of February! Next spring, if only I can obtain a mate for mine. I hope to be equally successful.

An American Reader Dislikes the Colony System.

I see by CAGE BIRDS, writes a correspondent from California in a letter kindly forwarded to us by Mr. J.W. Ramsden, that you in England are trying to capture the Canary trade from the Germans. I hope you will succeed in doing this, but as to the two ways proposed to breed Canaries, my own experience is that cages are the best. The colony system I have tried and found it no good; some of the birds live on nothing else but the egg-food, and then get sick and out of condition. Then two or three hens will insist on sitting on 12 or 14 eggs in one nest, with the result that no young are forthcoming. Others that sit and hatch all right seem afraid to leave their young, and so they starve to death, or perhaps it is that the egg-food is gobbled up by the non-breeders so there is none left for the babies. Lots of other things can be said against the colony system; one of the chief faults is the red-mite, these can be kept within bounds in cages, but in a room where 20 or 30 birds are breeding they are everywhere. So no more colonies for me, and I intend next year to breed all in cages.

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.) J.R., J.F.
Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.
Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.
Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.)
Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.)
Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.
Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.
Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.).
Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.
Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)
Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)
Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.
Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)
Nov. 29-30—Southampton C.B.S.—(W. L. Page, 30, Bedford Place.) J.R.
Dec. 6-7—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.
Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Scotland.

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)
Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

Wales.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.
Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.)
Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Ireland.

Dec. 1-2.—Newtownards C.B.S.—(Wm. Montgomery, 62, Church St.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 50,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.
Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 5229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided on addressed envelope, sufficiently stomped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 4s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

Twitterings.

The annual show of the Newark and Dist. C.B.S. is fixed for Nov. 25, writes the hon. sec., Mr. W. Lidgett. Mr. W Vardy will judge.

Roller societies desiring the patronage of the British Roller C.C., should write me at once, writes Mr. J. W. Morris, hon. sec., 31, Scylla Road, Peckham Rye, S.E.

The committee of Cockermouth F.S. writes Mr. John Jackson, Hon. Sec., have decided to abandon the show for this year, one third of our committee being on service, including the chairman.

London fanciers should not miss the lecture on colour feeding by Mr. A. Howard, at the meeting of the City and Suburban A.C.B. at the Church Institute, Paddington, on Sept. 11, at 8 o'clock.

Owing to our late secretary (Mr. H. Eastwood) being called to the Colours, writes Mr. James Rushton, 204, Howard Street, Burnley, any communications respecting the Burnley O.S. should be addressed to me.

Members of the Burnley O.S. will take a country ramble to study wild seeds for birds, on September 10, conducted by Mr. J. Holden. Meet at Briefield Centre at 8 a.m. (weather permitting); friends welcome.

The Secretary of the Wigan Roller Club, Mr. P. Greenall, wishes us to inform Roller fanciers that his address is changed from Short-st., to 581, Ormskirk-rd., Pemberton, nr. Wigan.

Owing to unavoidable difficulties having arisen in respect of the young stock show of the G.E. Railway F.A., which had been arranged for Sept. 15, writes Mr. E. W. Dawson, hon. sec., a special meeting was held on Sept. 1, and it was decided not to continue with the arrangements, and the show will therefore not be held.

The Patronage of the Crested Canary Club.

At present I have only received two applications for patronage, and the dates of these clash with one another. Will show secretaries that are prepared to give full classification and club judge, kindly communicate with me at once writes Mr. T. Heath, Hon. Sec., 28, Kenilworth Court, Putney, S.W.

OUR WEEKLY PRIZE FOR A LETTER.

WE have again to report with great satisfaction that readers have supported with enthusiasm our endeavour to make the correspondence pages one of the most interesting features of our paper, CAGE BIRDS, and although we have, as last week, given two pages for the publication of the letters, yet many very interesting communications have had to be held over.

In selecting the prize winning letter it was not our intention to give over-much consideration to the various arguments for and against in-breeding, as this matter is in the nature of a contest between those who believe in the practice and those who deprecate it, but this week we have been unable to get away from the letter of Mr. T. C. Crawhall, published on page 527, and the prize of ten shillings has therefore been awarded to him for his very instructive contribution to the discussion.

At the Reindeer Hotel, Rye Lane, Peckham, on Sept. 12, at 8, Mr. Frank Cole will lecture to the members of the Dulwich and Peckham C.B.C. on the production of colour in Canaries. Mr. W. Hodson, hon. sec., writes that fanciers are specially invited, and those interested in this important subject should make a point of attending the lecture.

There was a fair turn out of members at the meeting of the Blaydon-on-Tyne C.B.S. on Sept. 2, when it was decided to have four judges for our annual show, writes Mr. Geo. Havver, Hon. Sec. Judges appointed: T. Dixon, Bedlington, R. Tindale and T. Robson, Newcastle, the fourth judge being left over. A paper by Mr. J. Patterson on the Border Fancy was read and created a good discussion. (The paper will be published in an early issue.—Editor.)

Carrying On.

We are holding our Annual Open Show as usual on Nov. 25, write Messrs. Smith and Lees, hon. secs., Codnor Park and Eastwood C.B.S. Will other societies please avoid clashing.

A Joint Show of Midland Societies

In writing to alter from Nov. 24-25 to Nov. 18, the date in the Show Dates Fixed column of the show of the West Bromwich C.B.S. Mr. P. T. Cowley says:—"We have found it impossible to get a room on the old date, and owing to the war we are altering our open show to a inter-club show between City of Birmingham, Wolverhampton, South Birmingham and ourselves, when we hope for their support."

Dulwich and Peckham Going Strong.

I am pleased to tell you, writes Mr. W. Hodson, that the Dulwich and Peckham C.B.S. is going strong. A good number of new members are coming in, and we are electing three at our next meeting. Our meetings, considering the times, are well attended, and a lively interest is taken in the lectures, etc. We are looking forward to a good autumn show.

Dumfries Show for War Charity.

At the August meeting of the South of Scotland C.B.A., held in The Fountain Cafe Hotel, the President (Mr. W. Crosbie) presiding, it was, writes Mr. W. Erskine, hon. sec., unanimously agreed to carry on the annual show of Nov. 25 on the same lines as last year, handing the surplus balance to the war funds. From the two previous shows the society was enabled to hand over the handsome sum of £17 10s. to the war funds.

Our Front Page Drawings.

The original drawings of our front page illustrations, and of most other pictures appearing on our pages, may be purchased by readers for framing. Terms for any picture will be sent on application.

We have received from Mr. J. Walsh, Blackburn, samples of his new crop canary seed. "No. 1 Giant Spanish" and "No. 2 Bold Spanish." Both samples are beautifully clean, well ripened, and full. They are pleasant to the taste, and in every way of the highest quality, and the only difference we can detect is in the size of the grains as indicated in the titles. Either kind is full value at the prices advertised, and Mr. Walsh will send post free samples on application.

How to Advertise.

By W. LEIGHTON.

THE man of limited capital who wishes to advertise successfully should bear in mind that the medium in which to advertise should be very carefully chosen. In the first place it should not be a daily or a general journal, but one which caters for the special field in which the advertiser specialises; that is to say, if you are advertising birds, their cages, and appliances, or anything which appeals to bird-keepers, your advertisement, if placed in an ordinary paper, would very probably produce little or no business, but if placed in a paper specialising in cage bird subjects, the announcement would come under the direct notice of the very people you wish to interest, and business would result.

The "Small Display" and the "Pre-paid."

Having chosen your paper, the next thing to do is to write the advertisement, and this must be carefully written with a view to taking hold of the reader and summoning up his courage to send you the order. The best kind of "AD" is a small display, but if you cannot afford to spend much money in advertising, for a start, a small pre-paid "AD" will, if carefully written, bring you in plenty of orders—but if you have a continuous business in selling birds, foods, or appliances, in no case can you look for big results from an "AD" which appears once—the great secret of success in advertising is to keep your name always before the public, so that it is better to place an order for a short series, as it will be found that after the "AD" has appeared twice it begins to interest the readers, and the pulling power increases, whereas the "AD" which appears only once is very apt to be overlooked.

The Most Profitable Medium.

In order to find out which paper is the most profitable medium, i.e., if you advertise in more than one, it is advisable to key your "AD," by which is meant giving your "AD" a distinctive address, so that all orders resulting from that particular "AD" can be traced to the paper which has produced the business. In this way you get to know whether a paper is paying you, or whether it is costing you too much, so that you can follow the lead of all the successful advertisers and increase your expenditure in the paper which is producing paying results, and reduce in those papers which do not show profitable returns.

WHAT AN ADVERTISER SAYS.

"I feel that it is my duty that I should let you know that the replies to my advertisement in the last issue of your valuable paper CAGE BIRDS have been quite numerous, which proves the value of your paper to fanciers who wish to dispose of their surplus stock. I am sure it is the best two-pennyworth that it is possible to buy, and every bird fancier ought to be thankful to be able to get such a valuable journal. I am sorry to say that there were a few to whom I could not reply, being so very busy, and there were some to whom I should have wrtiten if I had known their addresses, which they omitted to put in their replies. One is Mr. T. Partridge (postmark Brierley Hill), and if he will forward me his address I shall be pleased to answer his letter.—E. MEESON (CANNOCK)."

The Value of a Contest Linnet.

At a Leeds Linnet singing contest of a few days since the price of £8 was offered in vain for the winning bird, the property of Private R. Smith.

To Inbreed or Not to Inbreed?

A writer in "The Pigeon News" says, after relating his experience: "It only goes to show that you can never tell by the appearance of the birds what they are going to breed. It is the breeding behind them which counts."

Noted Redpoll Dead.

Many of my friends will regret to hear that my well-known winning Lesser Redpoll is dead, writes Mr. P. Clare, Warrington. He was in his tenth year of cage life, and had moulted out with a red head and chest. His last wins were 1st Warrington 1915, 1st Sheffield 1915, 1st Chester 1915, 2nd Sale 1915; not bad for an old one.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.
J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.
THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate: 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.
J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.
W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.
GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.
G. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.
J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.
J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich; terms moderate.
C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.
J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.
W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.
H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.
J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.
J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.
C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.
JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.
HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.
S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich, Cinn. and Liz. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.
W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Hucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.
J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties
J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.
G. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.
W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

"Bird Notes" for August, the journal of the Foreign Bird Club, opens with an article by Miss Peddie Waddell on the breeding of the Red-collared Lorikeet. Mr. E. Hopkinson concludes his very interesting articles on the history of the Budgerigar, and among the other articles are "Pheasant-Rearing under Broodies," by G. E. Rattigan, "Dawn Among the Birds in an Egyptian Garden," by M.P., etc.

OBITUARY.

Mr. D. KINLAYSIDE (Edinburgh).

It is with deep regret that I have to inform you of the death of Mr. D. Kinlayside, who passed away at his home, 37, Montague St., Edinburgh, Sept. 1, writes Mr. S. Buglass, Vice-President Scottish National C.B.S. Being a member of the Scottish National he took a keen interest in the welfare of the society, and was well known by a large circle of friends who visited the show, both from his side and over the borders. He also took a great interest in the staging question and many will remember the collapsible model he had on view at different shows. Being of a jovial nature, he made many friends, who will join me in extending their deepest sympathy to his relatives who are left to mourn their loss.

Mr. Jas. Winter, President of the Scottish National C.B.S., in a letter conveying the news of Mr. Kinlayside's death, writes: "Davie, as he was familiarly called, although not a breeder on an extensive scale, had always the interests of the cage bird fancy very closely at heart, and during his long connection with it had formed many close attachments with fanciers in all parts of the United Kingdom.

"The Scottish National Society was his special favourite, and no show was complete without his genial presence. Being the Society's joiner, there was always plenty of work for Davie to do, and when the staging began to fill up he was always asking with an expansive smile if we would require more staging.

"His was a very kindly disposition, and during the show time he was always looking after the comforts of some of the many visitors from a distance, and I am certain there are many who will recall happy meetings with Davie at the Corn Exchange, Edinburgh. He was laid to rest within Newington Cemetery on Sept. 4, with many expressions of regret from fanciers and friends who were present to pay their last respects to one of the best and truest friends the cage bird fancy ever had."

The Scientific Breeding of Canaries.

By R. L. WALLACE.

At the desire of many old readers who are interested in the discussion, "The Pros and Cons of Inbreeding," which has been proceeding for some weeks in our columns, and in consideration of the fact that many present readers of CAGE BIRDS were not subscribers to our paper when the article was published in 1904, we have had pleasure in reprinting the ideas of a celebrated exhibitor who attributed his success entirely to the practice of inbreeding, coupled of course with the exercise of his own intelligence as to the proper birds to pair together.

THE in-breeding of Canaries is a subject of the highest importance to those fanciers who desire to meet with success on the show bench, and a thorough knowledge of how and when to resort to this method of breeding marks the difference between a successful and non-successful breeder and exhibitor.

Many years ago, when I entered the Fancy, it was generally considered an unwise and objectionable practice to breed from birds that were in any way related, and buyers of birds almost invariably before purchasing asked the question: "Are the birds you offer for sale related to each other?" and if your answer were in the affirmative, the intending buyer would write again to ask if you could supply him with a pair which were in no way related to each other.

An Exploded Idea.

In most cases, if you were unable to comply with the request, your offer would be declined, but in later years, experienced breeders have become much more enlightened by reading books written on the subject of Canary breeding, in the first instance, and by practical experience, afterwards. I purpose treating on this subject exhaustively, before it is concluded; so that amateurs as well as experienced breeders may become fully alive to the advantages to be derived from a judicious and careful use of in-breeding.

I purpose, as briefly as possible, to enumerate a few facts in proof of the advantages to be derived by the adoption of this system. My late father was a most intimate friend of the late John Emmerson, the noted and skillful breeder of Shornhorns (cattle), some 50 or 60 years ago, and in his day, probably, the most successful breeder living. I remember, when quite a small boy, hearing him tell my father that he attributed his great success to two things, i.e., careful and judicious selection, and in-breeding, which he had practised for a number of years.

Again, any person that is interested in "blood stock," and horse-racing, who will take the trouble to look up a number of racing calendars and an authorised stud book, will find that all our most celebrated winners (with rare exceptions), emanate from a particular strain of blood, and that they are in most cases in-bred.

The same remarks are in every way applicable to our noted greyhounds, and to-day, you can scarcely find half-a-dozen of these dogs, of national repute, that do not contain a strain of contango blood in their composition, and that have not, in some form or other, been in-bred.

Many of our most successful breeders of show dogs, show poultry, and Pigeons, have recourse to this method of breeding, and in most cases, with marked success. The late Captain Laird, of Pilmour Hall, near Croft, in the County of Durham, was, in his day, a most successful breeder and exhibitor of Pigeons, particularly of the varieties known as Carriers and Pouters, in which classes he was, invariably, at the top of the ladder, and he attributed his success to close in-breeding.

Good; but of Plebeian Blood.

Whenever he thought it necessary to introduce new blood, he invariably claimed a successful prize winner, bred by the man who ran him the tightest race for honours, and this was, almost invariably, the late Mr. George Dewar, of Dundee. On no account would the Captain introduce a bird bred from a strain with which he was not fully cognizant, however good the bird might be from a show point of view.

I remember, on one occasion, he claimed a most magnificent male bird, which took first prize at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and this bird was considered by the best judges of the day to be the most perfect Pouter known. He paid a very stiff price for this bird, and on inquiry, found the man that bred it. He was only a working-man, and on being interrogated, was unable to state how or by whom the parents were bred, as he had purchased them from an ordinary dealer, and they were in appearance a rather commonplace pair, so far as looks went.

Captain Laird at once decided to keep the bird merely as a show specimen, but on no account would he permit his man, "Andrew," to use him for stud purposes, as he contended (and rightly so), that to introduce the blood of an inferior strain to his own was to deteriorate and not improve it, and that it took several years of careful breeding to eradicate bad blood that had once been introduced into a particular breed.

In this view, I entirely agree with him; hence it behoves all breeders of "live stock" to be careful in introducing an admixture of new blood into a noted strain. No one can be too particular in this respect, and amateurs should make a special note of the facts.

Not a New Fad.

My experience in in-breeding Canaries commenced about 1870. At that time I resided at Berwick-on-Tweed, and I went in principally for Cinnamons, Crested Norwich and evenly-marked Norwich and Scotch Fancies, with all of which breeds I was remarkably successful.

When living in Sunderland, some years prior to my going to reside at Berwick, I bought some Cinnamon Canaries. At that time they were not considered of much account, and were named "Duns." At the first open show held in Sunderland, and at which I acted as Secretary, in preparing the show schedule, I took the liberty of designating these birds Cinnamons; as at the time the colour of them greatly resembled the article known by that name in commerce.

Well, before I left Sunderland, I succeeded in breeding some excellent specimens of this variety; but at our show I was beaten for first honours by a very nice bird, exhibited by Messrs. Moore and Wynne, of Northampton; the award going almost exclusively for colour on that occasion.

I had, up to that time, been a great stickler for breeding for purity of strain, and I had a great horror of intermixing different varieties, hence I bred entirely from pure Cinnamons. A bird produced by crossing a Cinnamon with a Norwich Plainhead or Lancashire Coppy, I should have deemed a mongrel.

Back to the Old Love.

When I left Sunderland to take up my appointment at Berwick, I was very reluctantly compelled to sell my birds, which I did, to "Jack" Wilkinson, and among them were some really grand birds of different varieties—about 60 in all, or probably a few more—I write from memory. As soon as I settled down in Berwick, I reverted to my hobby, and went into it keener than before, as I lived in a large house, and appropriated two rooms especially for my birds.

I bought back some of my old strain of Cinnamons, and bred some good stock from them, two of which I exhibited at Belford in Northumberland, and was again beaten for first honours by a rich-coloured bird, shown by Sam Tomes, of Northampton.

I attended that show, and took particular notice of the first prize winner, and it dawned upon me that the Northampton breeders had introduced a cross of Norwich Plainhead blood into their strains, as colour again was predominant, so I wrote to Mr. Tomes, and bought a nice young cock from him, and, on comparing it with my own birds, I became convinced that this was the secret of success to obtain rich colour.

The Norwich as a Colour Factor.

Acting on this idea, I bought the best and richest-coloured Yellow Plainhead Norwich obtainable, and put him up to breed with one of my best Buff Cinnamon hens, and succeeded in getting two nests of young ones from them. Several of the progeny were Variegated Cinnamons; but, amongst the youngsters were two pure-coloured Cinnamon hens and a Green cock, a lovely-coloured bird; these three I kept for further experiments.

When these birds moulted I knew I had not made a mistake in regard to the method of obtaining rich colour in this breed. This was before the method of cayenne feeding to obtain colour was discovered; but all of us in the "know" used marigold flowers for that purpose.

The two young Cinnamon hens, the result of the Norwich cross, I paired to two of my best young cocks—bred from my own pure strain—and their produce was a very marked improvement in the breed. The Green cock I ran with a pure Norwich hen of high quality, and from this cross I obtained some Green Variegated and Cinnamon marked birds; two hens were rather heavily variegated.

With these hens I paired two pure-coloured Cinnamon cocks, bred from the cross previously mentioned (they being full cousins to the hens, as the father of the latter and the mother of the cocks were brother and sister).

How Cinnamon Crests were Produced.

The improvement effected in size, type and colour was really marvellous, but some of the best birds had a few white feathers in wings or tail. The best of these I ran with Crested Norwich birds, and bred my noted Cinnamon Crests; the others I discarded, only selecting birds to breed from those that were true to colour throughout.

I now began to breed them akin, brother and sister together the first year, and first cousins the following year. The third year I introduced fresh blood, unrelated, and the next year reverted to the same method of breeding "in and in," the result being that I established a breed of Cinnamons that defied competition.

After I had attained my wish in bringing the breed of Cinnamon Canaries to the greatest perfection, I unfortunately had a severe attack of sciatica, which lasted over six months, and confined me to bed for a long period, and not being able to attend to my birds personally, I was induced to part with a great number of them, and among them the best I had produced. These were purchased by Messrs. Adams and Athersuch, of Coventry, and for many years after they beat all comers in this variety.

Others of my best birds I sold to a gentleman in Leicester, and he too was successful with their produce. I may observe that I consider depth, purity and brilliancy of colour, together with correct type and fineness of feather, the chief features of a Cinnamon, providing the colour is evenly distributed in tone throughout the entire plumage.

I remember being tempted one year to try the effect of a cross with the Lancashire Coppy to obtain size. The best bird from this cross I again crossed with a pure Cinnaman, and from this second cross I bred a very massive youngster, all Cinnamon in colour, and a good shaped bird, with a full deep chest and lots of substance.

A Difference of Opinion.

I entered him at a show held at Darlington, along with my two best Cinnamons and got 1, 2, 3, but the judge—the late Mr. Barnesby—placed the cross-bred first, very much to my surprise and disappointment, as one of the others I considered was the grandest and most perfect bird of this variety I had ever seen, and he was never placed second either before or afterwards to any bird.

The bird placed first was claimed by a Darlington fancier, who telegraphed to me to know if I could accept a less sum than the catalogue price, and the bird was afterwards known in Darlington by the name of "Telegram," but I always regarded it as a great error of judgment on the part of the judge to place it first, as it was infinitely inferior in every point, excepting size, to the birds placed 2nd and 3rd. This is what first led to the craze for "big" Cinnamons, to the great detriment of the breed for several years, as to gain size both colour and quality had to be sacrificed to obtain it.

When I first went to reside at Sunderland, which is a good many years ago, as at that time I was only in my teens, I saw for the first time, at a dealer in Canaries, a Crested bird, and my curiosity became aroused. I questioned the dealer and he informed me that it was a "Toppined Canary," and that few people cared for them.

It was a small bird of the common, or German variety, with a crest not larger than a sixpence, but being something which I considered out of the common run, I purchased it, and naturally did my best to obtain a Crested mate for it, but this was not so easy.

I came to the conclusion that it was necessary, in order to breed this variety, that both parents should be possessed of this appendage. After many inquiries and much research I was informed that a fancier living in South Shields possessed some "Toppined" birds. I procured his address and went to see him and bought a pair, cock and hen; all he had for sale, and I bred from them.

(To be continued.)

A LONDONER'S WINNING NORWICH.

Winner of 1st Prize in the Novice Section at the Show of the London and Provincial Ornithological Society for Mr. G. A. Harris, Palmer's Green, London.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. T. C. Crawhall, 121, St. George's Terrace, Newcastle.

Society Wanted for Durham City.

SIR,—Kindly permit me, through the medium of your valuable paper CAGE BIRDS to suggest that the fanciers of Durham City and district are sufficiently strong in numbers to form a society. I think one could be established with very little effort, and I would like to see anyone holding similar views to write to your paper with a view of forming such a society.

A. ROBSON.

Brandon Colliery.

An Accomplished Linnet.

SIR,—I am highly delighted to see the drawing of my favourite Linnet "Jim" depicted in CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 2. Even Jim himself seems a trifle swollen-headed since he has seen it. As I write these lines he is preening his feathers and throwing out his chest as much as to ask: "How do I look now, old sport?" He is sure to catch the judge's eye if, before sending him to the next show, I remind him of the place of honour he has achieved. He has four times appeared before a judge and jury, and on each occasion he has been complimented by the "bench" and left the "box" without a stain on his character. Not only are the contour of his form and his immediate appearance admired by all his beholders, but he is also a versatile vocalist. Many a tempting offer I have had to refuse for him. His rendering of the Goldfinch's "Sir Whittie" is divine, and his piping of the Bullfinch's melody is sweet and low. He is now studying under the Canary, and is acquiring fresh rolls, gluckes, and tours each day.

W. LARKING.

The Patronage of the Southern Norwich P.C.

SIR,—The officers of the Southern Norwich Plainhead Club met Aug. 30, to consider the question of their patronage during the forthcoming show season. Applications were received from Clapham, Cheltenham, and Swansea. Considerable discussion arose as to the likelihood of there being any proper open shows, and it was considered that owing to difficulties of transit in consequence of the war many of the shows must be more or less local.

It was, therefore, decided to offer to applicants, the following specials:—Diploma for best Norwich Plainhead in show, and 5s. for most points in Norwich section. The 5s. special to be confined to members of the Southern Norwich Plainhead Club, and there must not be less than three members competing. It was also decided that similar specials be allotted to six other societies holding open or local shows. Societies desiring such specials should apply at once to me at 51, Melbourne Grove, East Dulwich, S.E.

FRANK COLE, Hon. Sec.

A Gentle Hint.

SIR,—I notice in the issue of CAGE BIRDS for Sept 2, "A gentle hint," given to successful Hybrid breeders, by Mr. F. Litchfield. I myself have noticed repeatedly that some experts when writing their experiences leave out exactly what we want to know, and leave us entirely in the dark. It is useless telling us the old tale to buy the birds and put them together, and so and so will result; that is just what causes the young fancier to chuck it for ever.

Mr. Vernon Hodgetts gave us a clinking article on preparing hens for muling back along in the summer, and it is more of those articles that we should like to have, viz.: How to prepare a Goldfinch for muling, the same with a Linnet, and so on. In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I hope you won't find room in your paper for those fairy tales that neither contain hints nor methods for those who are for ever tryers.

WM. TUCKER.

[We are inserting this letter as received, but do not in any way identify ourselves with the sentiments expressed. We are quite used to receiving expressions of thanks for the many helpful hints so kindly given by experienced readers in their desire to assist the novice, and it is new to us to learn that some of these hints are "fairy tales that neither contain hints nor methods." All the same, perhaps someone will oblige our correspondent with some solid chunks of information such as he desires.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

City of Birmingham Secretary Called Up.

SIR,—I am going to take on the secretarial duties for our society, the City of Birmingham C.B.S., while our sec. goes to put the finish on this war. May he be back soon. I do not know if we shall be able to hold an open show this year, and should like to hear from anyone who will support us if we do, as we shall be calling a committee meeting shortly to decide, so if fanciers who will support an open show will drop me a postcard it will help us a lot. You will be pleased to hear I have a grand lot of birds. Among them is a grand Mule and two fine Linnet-Bullfinches, also a few fine Britishers.

J. BASTOCK.

75, Springfield Road, Mossley, Birmingham.

The Other End of the String

SIR,—Many of your readers must be very grateful to Mr. Williams for the tip he gave as regards sexing birds. I have tried it, and I believe it a complete success. I experimented first on my old Roller cocks and hens, and found in all cases that the needle swung right across the 2s. piece for hens, whilst for cocks it swung completely round the coin. I am adopting the test with the young birds that I have any doubts about.

"H. W." asks in your last issue as to method of working. After threading needle with single silk I simply tied a knot on one end to prevent it slipping through the eye, holding the other end in hand, and proceeded as instructed by Mr. Williams in your issue of Aug. 26.

G. S. PACKER.

Wake Up, Show Committees.

Some Trenchant Remarks from an Old Fancier,

SIR,—At the committee meeting of the Border Fancy C.C., where the application of show committees for the patronage was before us, we decided, as stated by our worthy secretary, Mr. Smart, to leave the closing date open for some time seeing there were so few shows asking for patronage this season. As the mover of the resolution I would with your permission ask all show committees who have not already decided to hold their annual show, and where a suitable hall may be available, to decide as quickly as possible, and send in their application to Mr. Smart, 13, High Street, Loanhead, who will be delighted to grant our patronage where the required classes are scheduled. To my mind it is a serious matter to see so few shows held, and it does not argue well for the Fancy in general. Neither is it by way of adding new members or instructing others who have just lately been added to our numbers, as to the true standard and type of bird required. And, worst of all, if there are not more shows the type of the birds and the careful selection of breeding stock will have a backward tendency. Such a prospect is naturally viewed with concern by us old fanciers who have striven through more seasons than we wish to remember, and who have shared in the ups and downs against the type that some fanciers would fain have placed before the true type, as so plainly brought out in the front of our rules. As you know, sir, it has not always been pleasant sailing for some of us during the years in which your paper, CAGE BIRDS, has given us such valuable help, and I have little hesitation in saying that without "C.B." the Border Fancy would not have become known so widely down south as it is to-day. I know you will share with me the same concern to see so many well known shows close down. That for some committees there is some cause no one will deny; with others there is none. Fanciers are anxious to have shows, there are plenty of birds bred this season in this district and others which I have visited, and from letters which I have received the season has been all that could be desired. Furthermore, I am sure all true fanciers will do their best to carry the management of shows through without a grumble for the good of the fancy, and the love of our younger brother fanciers who have left their homes to fight our battles on land and sea. They, even in the midst of shot and shell, have their times of relaxation by way of games, etc., and what must they think when they return home, as I sincerely trust they will, to their hobby, to find that those left at home have let the fancy drift backwards? Some do so from reading the wanderings of those so-called divine parsons who say that hobbies, games, and sports of any kind should not be held while our country is at war. How in the name of all that is wonderful we are to carry on all our daily duties with their cares and burdens, perplexities, and disappointments without a little relaxation, beats my comprehension. What good will it do if we follow their advice? It will not take one day from the duration of the war, nor yet will it help our brave lads at the point of danger. We have our battles to fight at home, and to my mind a brave spirit is required just as much at home as at the front to bring this cursed war to a successful conclusion. Such a spirit will do far more good than all the sentimental twaddle of those busy-bodies whose lives and actions make such a poor show against the advice thrown out by them for others to follow. No, brother fanciers, stick in and keep our shows together as far as possible, until such time as we will meet under happier circumstances.

J. PATTERSON.

A Parrot Story.

SIR,—Regularly as Friday comes round I look for my CAGE BIRDS and enjoy every page. I fully endorse the sentiment expressed by the Rev. Jolliffe that we birdy people could not exist without it. In any case the writer could not; like the boy in the well-known soap advertisement—"He is not happy till he gets it."

I am sending you the story of a Grey Parrot as told to me by its owner. He keeps a shop in this city, Dublin. The Parrot has been in his possession for 14 years, and some time after the trouble here was over four soldiers were posted about the shop which was near one of the rebel strongholds. The soldiers soon spotted the Parrot on the counter, and started joking with it through the glass door, but they had no knowledge of its talking ability. The owner of the shop got into conversation with the soldiers, and supplied them with cigarettes, and in a while a detachment came along under the charge of the commanding officer, ordered the four men to fall in, and they marched off. As if in parting farewell the Parrot started singing "God Save Ireland."

Another little story of this bird is that when its owner, who is a watchmaker, was disposing of a cheap watch at about 10s. 6d. the Parrot chimed in and said it was being sold with a ten years' guarantee, and I need scarcely say the purchaser was very much surprised at the value he was getting.

R. RENNIE.

A Few Useful Hints from a Welsh Reader.

SIR,—While looking through one of my old copies of CAGE BIRDS I noticed that a correspondent had experienced trouble in that his Hawfinch had a discharge from the eyes which sooner or later caused blindness. I have found Greenfinches to be troubled with the same complaint if kept in a damp room, and I have cured many of my birds which were so affected simply by moving them from their damp quarters into a dry room with an even temperature. Why the above two species should be so subject to this complaint I am unable to say, but the cause is probably through the dampness of their surroundings, and if this could be obviated the cure is easy.

I have often been asked how I managed to get my birds to take their bath so freely and so soon after being caught. I have never found the following method to fail: The bath I use is rather a large one; in fact, big enough for a Thrush. I put in this say about a handful of ordinary grit to afford the birds a secure footing, and hang the bath on the cage. The grit in the water makes it look more natural and the bird's confidence is gained. I have had even Yellow Buntings bathe freely in a bath of this nature after the first few days of caging.

I have always found the Yellow Bunting rather difficult to reconcile to cage life unless the cage was a completely suitable one, and I have found nothing to equal a cage 24in. long, 12in. deep, and 8in. high, with a removable front and a bottom rail 2in. deep, so that the wire front itself is only 6in. wide.

Until quite recently I was at a loss to explain why very few Bullfinches seemed to be about in August and September, although they were plentiful in October and November. One day I had occasion to be in a small plantation where the Woodbine grew in abundance, and I was surprised to find so many Bullfinches feeding on the little red berries which grow on this plant. The profusion in which the Woodbine grows offers a very secluded hiding place, and this would probably account for my not seeing Bullfinches in the early months of the autumn. When one realises the colouring matter that the berry of the Woodbine contains, one is not surprised to note the beautiful breast colour of the wild Bullfinch. To my mind the Woodbine berry is the very foundation of the richness of this colour. This berry is ripe some weeks before the blackberry, and the latter berry undoubtedly plays an important part in the finishing of the head, wings and tail, which parts are the last to moult. I have moulted Bullfinches entirely on these berries and plain canary seed, and have found them equal in colour to field moulted birds.

W. J. THOMAS.

Wake Up, Newcastle C.B.S.

SIR,—Your correspondent "Anxious" says I am fishing. There is no need to fish; I have got the information I required, for "Anxious" gives himself away in certain portions of his letter. However, we will not labour the point any further. "Anxious" will be pleased to know I have sent my resignation to the Chairman of the Society, and now is the chance for "Anxious" and his friends to make Newcastle C.B.S. a model society, without any squabbling or stabbing in the back under noms de plume. With all the experience "Anxious" has had he will be able to do the work of secretary, easy work, and better than using a hammer. I have not resigned because the "dictator" has been on the job; if my business would have permitted at the present time I would have stuck to the secretaryship this year, no matter what "Anxious and Co." could have done. "Anxious" has had a climb down. He said in one of his letters that I let someone take the position for the two days' show, and now he says I "wanted" someone to take the duties of the show whilst I retained the position as secretary. Nothing of the kind. However, things will go swimmingly now, seeing I am taking no further part in the society. I have just held the secretaryship five years, a longer period than any other secretary.

J. W. REED.

[In sending the above letter Mr. Reed says: "I see your footnote this week. I think I am entitled to reply." Without acknowledging that Mr. Reed is "entitled" to the insertion of his letter, we are letting him have the last word in a discussion which is, after all, only a personal quarrel, and is of no general interest. The matter is now finally closed.—EDITOR.]

The Treatment of British Birds During the Moult.

SIR,—The moult is undoubtedly the severest strain to which a bird is subjected annually, and is the cause of many deaths, whether they are at liberty in the fields or woods, or in captivity. At the first autumn moult the wing and tail feathers of a bird do not moult, it being only the small body feathers which are cast.

The moulting of birds usually takes place about August or September, and this is undoubtedly the time when the greatest care and attention must be bestowed on captive birds. A little extra nourishment is all that is needed to moult any bird successfully. Birds may perhaps be successfully moulted even though fed on the same food as usual, that is to say, as far as a new suit of feathers is concerned, but they do not acquire that high finish, gloss and colouring so necessary to a show bird whose owner is ambitious of winuing prizes. Finches may have been living chiefly on hard dry seeds for the other part of the year, but during moulting time a more generous diet must be given, and one never need be afraid of overdoing it.

The Goldfinch should have an additional allowance of maw, hemp, and sunflower seeds. Plantain, hard heads, and thistle should be given, as much of the thistle seeds as possible, especially the large Scotch kind. Bullfinches and Linnets should be treated similarly, and the Bullfinch especially should have shepherd's purse and linseed, besides the plantain and sunflower mentioned for the Goldfinch. The Greenfinch also could be treated in a like manner, with plenty of sunflower seeds, and a good supply of privet berries of which it is very fond. The Chaffinch is very difficult to moult properly in captivity, and needs, besides the wild seeds, a free supply of mealworms, flies, spiders, and earwigs. The Hawfinch also requires plenty of berries and fruit.

During the moulting time all birds are best kept in an aviary, as that is as near to nature as we can get them. If the aviary is a large one, all kinds of Finches may be safely turned in together with good results, and birds so treated will give their owners great pleasure all the year round. I had almost forgotten to mention the bath which is a very essential aid to success and should never be omitted on suitable days.

D. W. STOTHART.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 526)

The Luck of a Novice.

Sir,—Being quite a novice in the management of Canaries, I am just stating an experience that I recently have had. I have a prize-bred Roller Canary, a water warbler, he is now about five years old; a brilliant singer. Four months ago a friend gave me a Norwich "cock" as she thought about six months' old, and I put them together in a large cage. The latter proved a hen, and she laid ten eggs upon which she did not sit. I then put a felt lining in a coconut shell and she laid four eggs in it two months ago and hatched them all. Whilst on the nest she was placed on the table at breakfast and tea. I gave her the usual food; mixed seed, lettuce leaves, groundsel, cress, nasturtiums, etc. and put the cage out of doors on fine days. She fed her young ones on chopped egg, and on alternate days, biscuits soaked in milk and a teaspoonful of desiccated yolk of egg mixed with it. They are now nearly six weeks old and very strong and healthy, and three are beginning to sing. A month ago she laid six more eggs, and has hatched them all, and the young birds appear very strong for their age (a week old), so I am feeding them as I did the previous lot.

Kate Govey.

How to Catch Linnets.

Sir,—Since my brother and I enlisted, I have received every week my regular copy of Cage Birds, and seeing that a reader desires some notes on how to catch Linnets, I am doing my best to explain the methods which were adopted by my brother and myself before the war. We used to gather a quantity of esparto grass, and let it dry slowly for a day or so; then we would wait for a good morning with no sun shining and off we would go with our dried grass, some bird lime, and two call birds. Having limed the grasses, all except a portion at one end, we would stick these round the chickweed and other wild seeds on which we knew the Linnets were feeding, plant our call birds, and wait events. Soon after everything was ready our call birds would be singing for all they were worth, and we could soon get as many Linnets as we cared to take. After packing up, we would, on our way home, gather all kinds of wild seeds to help our freshly caught birds on their way for the first few days. Afterwards, we mixed among the wild seeds some ordinary hard seed, and soon we found the birds ate freely of this and got on well.

Many a time in the trenches we have watched Linnets and other birds sitting on the barbed wire and often wished we could have one or two of them at home. My brother and I both got wounded in the "Big Push," and now, in hospital at Glasgow, I can read my Cage Birds in content, but I am sorry to say that my brother is very badly wounded and has had to lose one of his legs.

Lce-Cpl. Lloyd.

Can Shows be Made More Successful?

Sir,—I have been asked to give my opinions as to how our cage bird shows can be made more attractive and pay better. In the first place the committee must issue a good classification of the variety of Canary most favoured within a radius of 50 miles. One of the best schedules sent out last year was Burton-on-Trent, I believe they had 18 classes for Norwich, and I was surprised that fanciers did not support them better. The only reason I could see was that there are one or two good breeders this way, and others did not care to tackle them on their own step. There must be no cancelling of classes or amalgamation. A clause could be put in the schedule that a certain number must be made to carry full prize money, and that in classes where the entry does not exceed five the prizes may be on the sliding scale, with, say sixpence added to each entry by the society. A clause should be put in, and enforced, that all specimens must be priced, or prohibitive prices, or what appear to be so, can be named. No catalogue is complete without a price to each bird. It is vital to the life of a society that its annual show should be made to pay its way. If there is no price on the birds would-be purchasers cannot buy. Take as an illustration Cheltenham last year. Two birds were claimed for £50, and no doubt the commission upon sales reached £10, a nice little item towards putting the balance on the right side. At a Scotch show one of our plucky buyers spent nearly £60 on a few birds, and would have purchased more had they been priced. In five places out of six the public do not support shows, and then it is a waste of money to cater for them, and for every 20s. you spend in advertising your show you lose 15s. Then cater for the fancy by giving good classification, especially for British, with fair prize money, and you will be successful.

J. Bastock.

The Pros and Cons of In-breeding.

Sir,—The whole idea of "Sub Rosa's" letters and articles has been against the principles of in-breeding. The letter he quoted stated that the writer had done it freely in the past, but now only does it with show birds. Surely that is the best argument anyone wants; no one should dream of in-breeding with indifferent stock. What is known as the stock bird in the fancy is usually a large bird which is deficient in some point or points which are essential in the exhibition specimen. In other words, it has a fault or faults, and cannot be regarded as a specimen of its variety fit to bench, yet it may have the power within it of producing exhibition specimens. Such a bird would not be suitable to pair its progeny back to; if you did you would be fixing the faults it possesses, but the show specimens it produces would be suitable, provided the utmost care was exercised in the selection of the progeny.

So far as I can see the opponents of the system are afraid that they will deteriorate the stamina and health of their studs if they in-bred. Such will not be the case if they will use every care to see that only healthy specimens are used in the breeding room. I cannot agree with the correspondents who state that the Canary is not a healthy or robust animal for its size. I often think that it is we breeders who pamper them and feed them up to too high a pitch and cause many of the troubles to which our birds fall victims. Since my first year I have generally averaged about six young per pair, and I could not do that unless the birds were strong and prolific, for I seldom take more than two nests per season from each hen. Mr. Robinson writes of the larger breeds of dogs and cattle being more virile and hardy than other animals. Yet these are animals which are in-bred, as Dr. Stewart pointed out, much more than Canaries. May I ask did the in-breeding increase their strength, hardiness, and virility, or are they strong, hardy, and virile in spite of it? No my friends, you will not find in-breeding decrease the strength and stamina of your birds if you use strong and healthy birds with which to in-breed. Would Nature allow it if it would decrease the strength? I think not.

Our friend, "Live and Learn," will find that if he starts with stock containing plenty of colour and breeds only with the produce which show colour, he will find that in a few years' time he will have fixed colour into his strain. I have never been able to see eye to eye with those who advocate green blood, as the fount of colour; I have seen many specimens of variegated birds which showed very little colour in the lighter feathers, whilst I have seen clear birds teeming with colour. If that is the point he wishes to fix, let me advise him to buy two of the highest coloured birds he can get hold of and pair them next season, keeping for the following season the hottest coloured young and pair these back to the parents. If there are brothers and sisters, pair them together, even if they have not so much colour; he will find that these will have the power to transmit the original parents' colour to some of their young. These can again be selected and crossed together if necessary, and the produce of father and daughter, and mother and son should again be paired to their father and mother. No harm will come for at least three matings, but after that it is advisable to be wary in case of any hidden trouble asserting itself. If "Live and Learn" will write me personally, I will try to explain more fully than I can do in your columns; I feel I have already trespassed too much upon your indulgence in the past.

Mr. Gutierrez's letter deserves very careful perusal. His observations regarding the in-breeding of the Roller to fix the song, and the methods of the old masters who were so careful not to outcross, are an example to all in other varieties. Referring back to Sub Rosa's letter, his example of isolated instances of great winners having been bred from outcrosses does not prove its value except that we all acknowledge that such have occured and will occur again. Mr. Cook's breeding of Norwich I know nothing of, but I understand that gentleman has some of the best in England; being an old breeder and a consistent winner proves the value of his strain, but whether they are in-bred or bred on selection I know not. Mr. Crisp was, and I think is, a great believer in face value selection, and undoubtedly his success in breeding "Dreadnought" was one worthy of the man and his methods. So far as I know I have only seen one of Dreadnought's progeny, the marked buff, which is a good bird, but far short of his father. Dreadnought is possibly the best Yorkshire at the present, and he will have had three or four breeding seasons, but up to the present I have not heard of him siring anything at all approaching his own standard of merit.

I sincerely hope no novice has read into my letters that all he has to do is to in-breed and he will have winners galore, but if he does breed a winner he should keep that winner's blood in the family and not run all over the place to get a mate for it. He should look through his own stock and see how the winner came and what other of the same family approaches it in properties; mate them together, and if healthy he need have no fear of unhealthy young. His birds will more likely to be good than if he outcrosses, however good the outcross may be.

This season I have bred from a pair of birds which I sold last year to a gentleman for 30s., not a big price, and one of the four youngsters which I have reared for him promises to make into a really nice bird, though not a Dreadnought by any means. When I sold him the birds I did not know that they were related, but upon going into the pedigree I found a common ancestor about three generations back on each side. I could go on for quite a long time, but I am sure of this; that I shall not convert "Sub Rosa" to my theories nor, till, I have had more practical experience shall I give in to his. After another season I shall be pleased to give your readers the benefit of my experience, for I know that I have my birds to that state now that it will be almost impossible to pair unrelated pairs even if I wished it. I shall be quite willing to admit defeat if it comes, but I trust that may not be.

T. C. Crawhall.

Sir.—Whilst not wishing to fill the role of Job's comforter to those who may crave for a conclusive lead in this interesting correspondence, I find in perusing the chapter devoted to the inbreeding of horses in an old work called "Rural Sports," published some seventy years ago, the able writer, who favours inbreeding generally, concludes by observing that able authorities existed who were opposed to such a method of breeding, and whose reasons were entitled to as much respect as his own or other advocates of inbreeding.

As nothing since in either school of thought and action has happened to forbid all controversy, we at this moment should not expect too much, but, nevertheless, diligently scratch for any crumbs that may fall from the table of "Sub Rosa," Messrs. T. C. Crawhall, Gordon Stewart, "Wait and See," "Live and Learn," and, I sincerely hope, many others.

Often it is said that if one is not for, one is against, but I hope I am an exception that proves the rule, for in this matter of inbreeding, whilst I may enjoy an opinion, I nevertheless preserve an open mind, being prepared by sheer weight of evidence to be converted to, or against it.

It may sound a bit queer to say that sometimes when contemplating the building up, or opening, of a project, the safest course is first of all to pull it down, or rend it in pieces, and because of this I feel sorry "Sub Rosa," who has tasted and repented, has not gone the whole hog and given more fully his views against inbreeding, as I feel very sure he easily could do if he wished.

In all probability we should find his trend of thought and experience ran parallel to my own, and perhaps to that of many others. Ample evidence is in existence that certain noted animals as horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, dogs, cats, rabbits, pigeons, poultry., were inbred; but such a circumstance I suggest is not conclusive proof their excellence was due to inbreeding, for you may easily range against these subjects of inbreeding others of no less brilliant character, who were not inbred. Also it is not proven that a system of inbreeding ensures even as large or larger a percentage of successes as other methods of breeding, for be it remembered if we turn to the history of the Turf—perhaps the most accessible and reliable we have—we may find the brilliant failures in many instances were not only supported by the cream of breeding brains, but were also inbred. Unfortunately, the failures in almost everything sink quickly into oblivion, whilst the successes are trumpeted to posterity, rendering accurate data or statistics impossible.

Naturally, where a breeder is in possession of an outstanding specimen he is anxious that his future stock shall be stamped with the same excellence, and it is reasonable to suppose that if this noted sire or dam be introduced into more or less related relations, the desired end should be secured. Therefore, we find the operations of breeders usually centred in one noted animal, which is mated or utilised in the sixth, seventh, or later years, and not till then in some instances has success been attained.

With horses, cattle, etc., this period of time in no way handicaps matters, but in the case of a breeder wishing to establish a strain upon a noted Canary hen, his chances of success are materially affected for the very good reason that the breeding activities of any Canary hen could not be relied upon after a period of some three or four years, and even in the case of a cock being the central subject, his stamina and virility would in all probability be waning, thus rendering him undesirable for inbreeding.

In all the animals I have mentioned colour plays an inconsequential part, but in a limited stud of Canaries it may well be the noted cock or hen is a heavily variegated subject, and to introduce this bird into related blood is ultimately to finish with a room of self and foul greens. On the other hand, if the central figure happens to be a clear and related to other clears, or of a family deficient in colour blood, an outcross becomes imperative, and perhaps at a time which may break down all progress.

Again, with horses, cattle, etc., there is no question of yellow or buff plumage or character to contend with.

Of course, all may go well with the Canary breeder to the stage of imminent success, when he finds to utilise the very, and perhaps the only, subject available, means double buffing or yellowing, and both subjects highly undesirable for such a mating. To choose another mate has not given inbreeding the full play you wished; in fact, at this stage may well prove the undoing of previous good work.

With Crest and Roller varieties, where yellow and buff has not been of the same moment as other varieties, inbreeding could enjoy fuller play, and I suggest has done so, and the sorry position of both has been attributed by some authorities to promiscuous inbreeding.

But when is inbreeding promiscuous? Apparently only when failure has come about, and all this is not encouraging. I am not concerned with the moral or spiritual aspect of inbreeding. Dame Nature may inbreed, in some instances, to a shocking degree, but even in the case of a rookery I contend it is not proven; and, even though inbreeding may happen, the size of the rookery, or, rather, the number of its tenants, would preclude the close relationship that is quickly secured in the birdroom, and I suggest if our attention is confined to inbreeding at the hands of the genus homo, we shall have sufficient to handle without talking about what Nature does or does not do.

Of course, it may well be that in reviewing these several possible obstacles to success that I have struggled up "folly hill to meet trouble," but, nevertheless, all are likely contingencies, and I confess have obstructed my view into the Arcadian world of successfully inbreeding Canaries, and I want "Wait and See," or someone else to properly adjust the focus for us, including Simple Simon.

Sir,—How nice it is if you can praise the writings of another on any subject connected with the cage bird hobby, but if you go into opposition then you are everything that is bad and spiteful. I have read the letters appearing upon the above question and have come to the conclusion that those writers who advocate in-breeding to a large extent know very little of the subject. In most of their letters they refer you to some book. Now my opinion is that most of these books are written upon the theory of the matter, and I do not think you can name a writer of a book who ever bred or moulted a winner in his life.

I can quite understand fanciers doing a little in-breeding with Yorkshires, for they are a bird made up of a lot of mixtures, and when you get two nearly perfect birds it is advisable to in-breed occasionally. I believe in pedigree breeding, and breeding from winners, but not in in-breeding too often.

One of your correspondents this week asks if it is necessary to breed with green or variegated birds to obtain colour, and considers it a mistake to do so. The writer can rest assured that it is the only way, but you must have the proper green, not the green he admits he has in his birds, the Cinnamon green; this takes a lot of breeding out, and does not produce colour. That you can produce a large percentage of yellows by double yellowing occasionally is certain, and only common sense; what have your readers to say to the following? I saw a hen green buff at a show last back-end, and as it took my fancy, as one likely to hit with a young cock I had I saw the owner of it and purchased it. The cock is slightly ticked yellow of medium size. She has reared eleven young, all variegated yellows, and I am vain enough to think several of them will hold their own with the best in the country. Is this result a mere coincidence? I can tell your readers I have bred more winners by purchasing birds which have the principal points required than by in-breeding, although I come very near it sometimes in pedigree breeding, forcing the points obtained into your pedigree stock.

J. Bastock.

(Many interesting letters held over.)

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all Insects. Harmless to everything else.

THE BLACK REDSTART AND ITS BREEDING HAUNTS.

Phœnicurus titys.

By HUBERT D. ASTLEY, M.A., F.Z.S., &c.

By the courtesy of the author, who has kindly sent us an advance proof, we are enabled to publish the following interesting article which has been written for the "Avicultural Magazine."

IT is a good many years since I found a nest of the Black Redstart, but I remember the details of the event as if it were yesterday.

This charming little bird, which is an autumnal and winter visitor to England, is easily distinguished from the better known Redstart, which arrives for the summer in April, by having the crown and rump dark bluish slate-grey, the rest of the upper parts, and the sides of the head and under parts, deep velvet black, the abdomen and hinder flanks however are slate-grey, and the under tail coverts pale rust-red.

The tail and upper tail-coverts are a rich chestnut-red, except for the two middle feathers which are black, but when flying the chestnut-red colour of the tail is very conspicuous. Hence its name, the Black Redstart, to distinguish it from the other one.

"Start" Means Tail.

If we consult The Century Dictionary and look up the word "start," we find amongst other meanings the following:—"Old English: start, stirt, stert, steort = a tail. Some derive it from the root 'start' in the sense 'project.' A tail; the tail of an animal; thus 'Red*start*' is literally 'Red*tail*.'"

Consequently readers will at once understand that one cannot speak of or write about a "Blackstart," since that would mean a "blacktail," which is just exactly what this bird does not go in for. If we talk of having in our possession some Redstarts and some Blackstarts, we are merely saying that we have "redtails" and "blacktails." When it is quite as easy to be correct as the contrary, we will choose the former.

If we are anxious to win prizes at a bird show, we quite realise that we must be correct in all our dealings, and we strive to send our birds in such a condition as will we hope catch the eye of the judge, and, as a sequence, a card into the bargain. Therefore we are very particular as to details—the cage, the food, the beauty of the bird to be exhibited, and so on; conforming strictly to certain rules and customs, without which carefulness we foresee disappointment and invite a failure.

So too with birds' names. Let us be correct over them, or we shall find ourselves in danger of appearing not to know their meanings. And so in all books upon birds, which are called standard books, books, that is to say, which are written by those who know what they are writing about, one finds, to take this instance of the Black Redstart, that it is always so called: not, mind you, only in the English language, but, in others.

In French it is "rouge-queue noir," that is, black red-tail; in Italian, "codirosso spazzacamino," which is, being interpreted, "the red-tail that roams along the way," meaning, I suppose, that it flits about the paths and hill roads, as one travels along them. The Italians call the Rock Thrush "codirossone," which means the "big red-tail," and this bird not only has the same chestnut-red but moves the tail in the same way. In German, the Black Redstart is Haus-Rotschwanz, which means the House red-tail, and if you had ever spoken to a German [no one wants to now!] of a haus-schwarzschwanz, which would mean a house black-tail (or blackstart) he would not know what bird you referred to. It is called the House Red-tail (or Redstart) because in mountainous and hilly districts, this bird often perches on the roof tops.

The Beginning of the Story.

So now, being quite clear as to the meaning of the word "start," as used in connection with Redstarts, let me try to describe how I found a nest of young Black Redstarts.

I was at Brieg, one of the most picturesque towns in Switzerland, in the Valais Canton, my principal object being to visit the great and famous Aletsch glacier in the mountains above. I started on a glorious day in mid-June, rejoicing as, on reaching higher altitudes, the air became more and more exhilarating, with that sparkle in it which one only experiences in the mountains.

It was a long mule ride to the hotel situated close to the glacier, a hotel which in those days was a very simple affair, clean but sparsely furnished, and very different to the palatial edifices to be found in Switzerland nowadays, with French cooks, string bands, etc., and to my mind decidedly preferable.

The day after my arrival, and the day after that, it simply poured unceasingly, whilst the mist was up to the windows, but on the third day I awoke to find everything sparkling in brilliant sunshine, and out I rushed! The glacier excited and thrilled me, looking like a big frozen river, the ice massed in huge boulders with crevices showing colours of delicate blues and gorgeous greens, into which if you slipped you would probably say good-bye and proceed to admire the beauties of another plane in another life!

It was all very wonderful, but looking back, I know that as I walked in the afternoon up a mountain path strewn with great boulders, one of which, hurtling down from above, all but sent me into the next life, I was still more thrilled at seeing some small dark-coloured birds with chestnut-red tails flitting in front of me.

Black Redstarts! I had never up till then seen one alive, but there was no mistaking the species. These birds that inhabit spots at high altitudes have a great charm about them. The solitude, the beauty of the surroundings, their voices tinkling in the stillness of the crystal air, all go towards impressing on one their fascination.

There was more than one pair, I certainly saw three, and I sat down to watch them. One pair was especially restless, flitting from boulder to boulder and calling ceaselessly, so, concealing myself amongst the rocks, I proceeded to watch. Once the male flew on a stone close to me, flickering his chestnut-red tail, and in his bill were insects. He sat for a few minutes and I lay hardly breathing, and then he disappeared. At once, drawing myself up, I looked over the edge of the rock, my field-glasses ready should I make out his whereabouts.

There he was not very far off, becoming visible as he moved from boulder to boulder. Then I fixed him with the glasses, so that I could see every feather. Up the slope of the mountain he went, cautiously yet surely, and then suddenly after sitting upon a stone for a minute or two, he popped down behind it and disappeared! Ah! but there he was again, and off.

An Unconscious Betrayal.

What excited me was that whereas he had gone from sight with his beak full of insects, he reappeared without them. So then I knew that if only I could keep my eye upon that stone, I should find the nest, but the stone in question was some way off and I felt that if I ceased to look through the glasses it would be lost to sight amongst all the mass of other stones and boulders.

Studying carefully the shapes of certain large rocks close to where I saw the bird disappear, I ascended the slope, and as I drew near my goal I saw the female bird, who flitted about anxiously. It took a very short time to find the nest, which was in a hollow on the ground under a smaller stone close to the larger one where I had previously expected to find it, and in it were five young ones.

I was young in those days, and being very anxious to rear them, took them with me in spite of their being only in the quilled stage. But I had not brought out from England any insectivorous mixture as I always did on subsequent occasions. At the hotel I obtained some finely chopped raw-meat, hoping to be able to find something more varied and more digestible on my return to Brieg on the following day, but alas! that day was very hot, and I only had a small box in which to carry the young Black Redstarts, and all succumbed during the long ride down the rough mountain path.

How I did wish I had left them to their parents and to liberty. I felt a brute. Had they lived, they might have become as tame as a brood of Wheatears I once reared by hand, one of which I kept, a most charming pet which would play hide and seek with me round chairs and sofas, and which met a tragic death by being trodden on.

These birds of moor and fen, of crag and torrent and woodland are delightful, and although aviculturists who have the opportunity and the means naturally like to acquire rare foreigners, to my ears the most beautiful bird voices are still those such as the joyous piping of our Song Thrush, the fluting of the Blackbird, the merry twitter of the Linnet, or the "little-bit-of-bread-and-no-cheese" of the Yellowhammer, in their own haunts.

The Birds in an Old Garden

The following delightful article appeared in the "Greenock Telegraph," of August 26, and is reproduced by kind permission of the Editor of that paper.

THE village could boast of many fine old-fashioned gardens, for memory takes me back to a time when the tastes of its inhabitants were simple in the choice of the flowers necessary for the pleasure of the senses devoted to these trifles. And a few of the plots could also show draw-wells from which cold, clear water was brought to the surface in the hottest months of the year. But the tiniest cottage in the straggled line of dwellings without doubt could lay claim to the possession of the prettiest garden and the most picturesque well. A close-set privet hedge that burst into white, sickly-smelling blossom at the end of summer was all that stood between the garden and the whin-covered common utilised for the grazing of some cows. The whins were the nesting-place of ever so many pairs of birds, so that the berry bushes in many of the plots had to be well looked after with netting, or precious few of their fruits would ever have got the length of the housewives' attention on jam-making days. The owner of the tiny cottage had named his domicile "Clarinda," out of regard, possibly, for the lady who served as the inspiration of so many of the Ayrshire bard's lines. Be that as it may, his garden was always a sight to see, with its flowers, red and white daisies, gay-coloured nasturtiums, sweet-smelling wallflowers and roses, with many others that were tied up into bunches to be set all round the little room facing the street. Even the draw-well was made beautiful, for in the space between the stones carrying the creaking beam from which the bucket was suspended grew clumps of none-so-pretty and ferns. A gallant-looking bush of broom also added its touch of brightness at the well-side in its time of flowering. In one of the rooms of the cottage, and in a place of honour, could be seen a very clever picture of the well and its environs executed by an artist-fellow one summer as a gift for the privilege of finishing his sketches in the quietness of the garden. And the fact that the artist in later years achieved much fame in his profession was always mentioned by the owner of Clarinda Cottage as reflecting somewhat on the taste and skill expended upon the draw-well and its surroundings.

The Nest Near the Draw Well.

The draw-well came into use only a few times during the day, and this fact seems to have been understood by a pair of Linnets, for they very quietly took possession of the adjacent broom bush one May morning, making a start therein with their nest as though they had nothing in the world to be afraid of. Certainly there was a whirr and clatter each time the bucket was sent on its journey to bring up water from the cool depths, but the birds seemed to take this as a matter of course, preferring the safety of the garden to the risks of a home on the common or higher up on the braes that fairly blazed with whin flowers in early summer. As it happened, their confidence was not misplaced, and when the nest was discovered the well was used as seldom as possible. There were a good few nests in this particular garden every year, but such lively little birds as Linnets had never before chosen any of the bushes or ivy-covered outhouses for building purposes. A deal of fashioning their nest took, loosely and roughly contrived though it was; that is, if you would compare it with the neat bowl put up by the pair of Shilfas in the apple tree of a neighbour's garden, or with the perfect mud-houses of the Martins under the caves at Sunny Cottage. All their material was carried from the fields and common behind, and the Linnets chattered away at their work, till there was hardly a boy worth his salt at nest-finding but who guessed at the secret held by the yellow broom bush flaunting on the well-head. The main part of the nest was composed of stems of once green herbs, eked out with dried grasses, minute twigs, and rootlets, all woven together. More than three days were taken in the construction of this feature of their home, and for the remainder of the week the birds busied themselves bringing the down of various plants and tiny feathers to make the lining upon which the eggs and later on the helpless chicks would lie. The Sparrows toiled only half the time taken by the Linnets when engaged upon their nest under a rhone, but then they gathered their material from the gardens, making little or no selection. And they worked from morning till evening, whereas the Linnets seldom carried a particle after the middle of the day.

The cock Linnet seemed the most faithful bird in the world to his mate, and while she busied about the nest, smoothing out a hard bit of grass here or tucking in a rootlet there, that would persist in getting loose, he would sit on a branch of the apple tree and twitter any amount of small talk. Each Leghorn hen cavied in the corner of a neighbouring garden never omitted to let all and sundry in the vicinity know when an egg had been laid in the cheese-box placed there for that purpose; but the morning that saw the first egg, a pale blue red-speckled shell, in the Linnet's nest, was as quiet, as far as the song-birds were concerned, as any of its predecessors. So the old well also kept the secret. And on the four succeeding mornings, before ever the bucket rattled on its first journey to fetch up the cool water, an egg was deposited among the down, making a total of five. Up to this point both birds had paid repeated visits to their treasures during the day, possibly to see that nothing had happened to them; but after the fifth egg was laid the hen Linnet disappeared entirely from view, although if you could have peeped into the heart of the broom bush you would have found her sitting cosily on the speckled eggs, busily warming them, and thus bringing to pass that mystery which, so far as a bird is concerned, means birth. This was in the start of June, when all around was bright with colour and birds were singing on almost every tree in the long line of sweet gardens. Butterflies frolicked over the flowers favoured by them, and bees, wild and hive, paid their visits to the snapdragons and other blooms containing the nectar or pollen suited to their tastes. The apple trees covered themselves with a splendour that had not been equalled for years, and by the time their pink petals had strewn the ground there were five blind and naked young Linnets in the nest that had been so well and jealously guarded from ill. What a proud chap the cock Linnet seemed as he hurried from a near tree to the abode where his hopefuls lay, and how fussy he looked when he began to make journeys to the common for small caterpillars and insects to stay their hunger! For they never gave the two parent birds a minute's rest when once they began to thrive and prosper.

The Flight of the Young Birds.

A nestful of mavises had fallen victims to some prowling cat or other, even although the site looked secure enough from the human point of view; but it is difficult to gauge the climbing abilities of a hungry tabby with such a rich prize as young birds at the journey's end. And it seemed quite possible that the Linnets in the broom bush would be the next sacrifice. Luck favoured them, however. On the fifth day after the eggs had changed into the helpless mites, so queer-looking as they sprawled together, they seemed to be trying to open their eyes. On the eighth day, if you had parted the vivid green twigs and peeped into the nest you would have found them squatted there with a very wise look about them, and no longer opening foolish beaks at the rustle over their heads, as though they expected your finger would be a good thing to swallow. It would be about six days after this, on almost an ideal summer morning, that the five Linnets took heart of grace and fluttered on to the protected well-head. As a bucketful of water could not be done without at the time, the beam went whirling round, and as a consequence the fledglings adventured successfully to the boughs of an apple tree. Here they remained till near sunset, and the last glimpse the owner of the cottage had of them was in flight towards the sun-drenched common. You may see the old-fashioned flowers in this garden still, though the well is gone, but I cannot learn that Linnets ever made their homes there again.

Live Bird Labels

invaluable for the safe despatch of live birds by rail, etc. They are printed in red on paper gummed at back, and of most convenient size, 5½ins. by 4ins.

LIVE BIRDS

THIS SIDE UP.

WITH GREAT CARE.

If delays occur will die

Printed & sold by "CAGE BIRDS"

.....

.....

.....

Date..... Per .....

Rates, 24, 3d.; 50, 6d.; 100 for 10d.; or printed up with fancier's name and address at foot, 100, 2/-; 250, 2/6; 500, 3/6, carriage free on all above prices. Address, The Manager, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London.

Budgerigars: Their Management and Breeding.

By T. A, BOWES.

The management and breeding of Budgerigars can be taken up as a hobby which offers even less difficulties than the breeding of Canaries. Besides being pleasurable, the hobby is a profitable one, and the breeder of Budgerigars has always the possibility of producing the exquisitely beautiful Blue Budgerigar, a pair of which would command a price of ten pounds or more.

THE Budgerigar, on account of its beauty, convenient size, hardiness and prolificacy, cannot fail to commend itself to the lover of foreign birds. In suitable surroundings great pleasure can be obtained from the study of its habits, health, and ailments.

Having bred them for some years, and met with nearly every disease they are subject to, I shall endeavour to give the result of my experience in this paper. The subject falls into three main divisions:—(1) General management, (2) breeding; (3) diseases.

Cage breeding is not advisable, as there is insufficient room for exercise, and it is therefore unlikely to be successful. The best arrangement is an inner shut-in enclosure, say six feet square, communicating with an outer wire netting one (of same size or larger) by means of a pigeon hole, fitted with a slide.

The Outdoor Aviary Described.

The inner enclosure should have single walls (double ones harbour mice) and a cemented floor. It should be 7 ft. high, with plentiful access of light.

Artificial heat is not required, as the birds stand the cold very well. I have had naked young in the nest when there has been frozen water in the inner inclosure; and young the first night out of the nest will roost in the open with ten degrees of frost on the ground.

The outer flight need only be of wire netting, ½in. mesh, with a sanded floor. The inner enclosure should be fitted with perches, branches, and the nesting arrangements.

Both should be easy of access, and have double doors, as the birds are very quick to escape over your head on entry through a single door. With the aid of a net, the slide and hole can be used for catching purposes. All gaps must be carefully blocked, as an adult hen can escape through a hole three-quarters by one-and-a-half inches.

Keep the birds for a week or two at first shut inside, to teach them where to roost, as in severe weather they may be frozen to death if they roost, as is not uncommon, hanging on to the outside wires.

If this outer and inner arrangement cannot be managed, an ordinary shed with wire front will serve for all practical purposes. The size I have mentioned is amply sufficient for six pairs.

There is a choice between aviary-bred specimens and imported Australian birds. The former are more ready to start nesting operations than the latter.

The birds should be young adults, that is, at least twelve months old. If you obtain them in their nest feather, and keep them till fit to breed, you are certain of their age. With Australian stock there is less likelihood of acquiring constitutional disease.

As a general rule, Australians nest from about August to January, and aviary-bred birds from April to July, when moulting supervenes. It is best to start with two or three pairs, as they stimulate each other to breed.

They are not greedy birds: two meals a days, when not breeding, early morning and late afternoon, answer well. You will notice that young birds just off the nest fill their crops very full at the latter meal.

The Budgerigars' Simple Menu.

The chief item is canary seed, with a small proportion of white millet. Spray millet is readily taken, but red more often refused. Oats are useful when there are young to feed, but not otherwise, as they are fattening.

They drink sparingly, except when feeding young. I know of aviary birds being deprived of it for a week without hurt, and to be kept in a cage for two months without it, the owner thinking it the right and proper treatment.

As green-food mine prefer groundsel, chickweed, grass, and sprouting canary seed, in the order written. Green-food is harmless enough, but may cause diarrhœa if given in large quantities after long abstention from it. It is beneficial during the breeding season.

Grit should take the form of sea sand, and, for assistance in egg shell production, old mortar, cuttlefish bone, and ground-up egg shells may be added. I have not found that the latter induces egg eating.

Soft-food, if given at all, should be sopped bread squeezed dry, when young are in nest. It is not necessary, and if dropped while feeding the young, dirties the nest. It is stated to save labour, but a Budgerigar shells seed very easily and rapidly, and the young do well without it.

Pair up the birds by a few days' confinement, in pairs, in separate cages. This is quite sufficient if the hen shows she is ready for nesting by the change in the colour of the cere from bluish white to brown. This will save much fighting, as if all are turned down together two cocks often show a partiality for one hen, and waste a deal of time in constant quarrels for possession.

It is advisable to have a spare bird of either sex, more especially a hen, in the event of loss. Should a bird die, at once remove the one left, for if a hen she will often try to turn out other hens from their nests, or entice away their partners and cause the hens to leave their nests, and if a cock he will evince an undesirable propensity to enquire into the welfare of his neighbours' young.

Usually, however, the bereft cock bird is content to spend his energy on feeding an upright branch, and appears very happy that his "love's labour's lost." More hens than cocks are lost during breeding, and chiefly from egg-binding.

Two Nesting Arrangements.

For nesting purposes, two methods are probably the most employed, namely, coco-nut husks or upright logs with several holes bored into them at intervals, at the ends of which the birds scoop out a nesting place.

Unless the logs be of just the right consistency the birds find it difficult to excavate. My attention has been drawn to a good method of obviating this difficulty by splitting out large pieces of the log with saw and chisel, gouging out the nest place, replacing the bark exterior in position by wire, and boring a hole to reach the hollowed out nesting place. This allows of the young being inspected, but it requires time and a good deal of carpentry.

With the husks (on the market ready prepared) they simply have to hang up facing the light, and not too near each other, and the birds soon clear out the fibrous interior to their liking. If husks are used, two for each pair should be allowed, and they should be so hung as to easily take down for examination.

Two kinds of husks may be had, one with entrance hole at the end (old style) and the other with entrance hole on the upper surface (new style). Much discussion has taken place as to which is the better of the two.

I have tried both, and putting aside the fact that they are the more expensive, for they do not last so long as the new because of certain technical considerations, my reasons for preferring the old style are: there is more room for the young birds, and they have never fallen out; the plumage of the hen is not disarranged or destroyed; the birds prefer them to the new style: an important consideration.

On the whole the husk is at present the most satisfactory nesting appliance to use. One disadvantage is the wiring is so stiff that it cannot be opened to allow one to get at the young birds to ring them.

To Identify the Young.

I am in favour of ringing the young with aluminium numbered Canary rings, which pinch on. By this method identification is easy, and there is no fear of in-breeding.

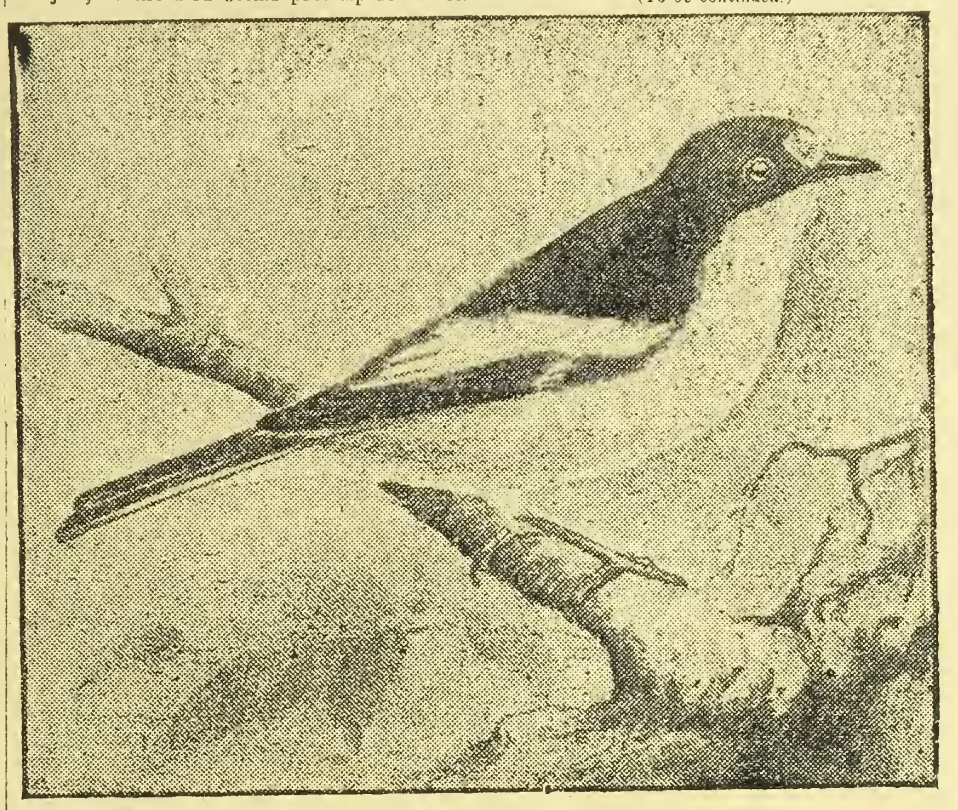
To obviate the difficulty of opening the husk I use a pair of padded forceps to draw out the young, when half fledged, to apply the rings. Lay hold of a leg and gently withdraw each bird; apply the rings and put them back again. Eggs can be removed, if necessary, by means of a teaspoon on a handle.

Do not attempt more than three nests in the season. Eggs are laid on successive or alternate days, incubation begins with the second egg, and the young hatch in sixteen or seventeen days, flying from the nest in four to six weeks later. They show a tendency to want to nest when even three months old, but should on no account be allowed to breed for from nine to twelve months.

As a rule, the Budgerigar is a long-lived, healthy bird. Its more serious ailments are met with during reproduction and the rearing of the young.

Frights may be produced by a sudden light or noise at night, which starts the bird flying about and dashing its head against any obstacle. Concussion of the brain and death ensue.

Fits arise from rupture of a blood vessel in the brain, fright, excitement, and exhaustion in fat birds. From fright I have seen a young bird have an immediately fatal fit. If the first is not too severe it may recover, though perhaps with permanent paralysis of a limb.



Diarrhœa is rare, and is cured by withholding green food. Constipation is not common, but I have met with one severe case. Castor oil by mouth from a quill relieved it in a few hours. A bird with laboured breathing is probably old and worthless, and not likely to improve.

The diseases in connection with reproduction are those affecting the hen: egg-binding, or prolapsed oviduct; those affecting the young: congenital deformities, French moult, or acquired paralysis.

Egg-binding forms an important part of our subject, as the bird seems pre-disposed to it. The causes of it are: a weak or immature bird not having sufficient strength to expel the egg; accumulation of fat forming an obstruction; or a shell-less egg giving less purchase for forces of expulsion. Additional factors which count are laying out of season and excessive laying.

When a hen is about to lay she may be puffed up, sleepy, and slow in movement. She flies heavily, and there is a prominence of the vent and surrounding parts. Watch her carefully, as she may become egg-bound, and then only by timely interference can she be saved. In a severe case the hen falls to the floor, or remains in the husk with half-closed eyes, breathing hard, and with puffed up plumage.

(To be continued.)

THE PIED FLYCATCHER.

This beautiful bird of black and white plumage is a regular spring visitor to our country, but, owing to its less familiar habits, is not nearly so well known as its relative, the Spotted Flycatcher. It is strictly an insectivorous bird, and is somewhat difficult to keep in captivity, and in its infrequent appearances on our show benches it takes a high place in the mixed class in which it has to be shown.

Hints for the Moulting Season.

By MISS M. A. SIKES
(Melton Mowbray).

AS the moulting season, for free and captive birds alike, is now in full swing, a few words under this heading may not be out of place. I do not presume to address my remarks to the experts, but the novices in bird-keeping, to whom I hope they may be of service

I have been interested in birds and their habits all my life, and at present possess seven, viz.: three Bullfinches, three Canaries and a beautiful Goldfinch-Linnet Hybrid, therefore may claim to know a little about my subject.

The casting of old feathers and the acquiring of new ones is a natural annual event in a bird's life, and therefore need not be viewed with anxiety by the fancier for his captive pets, provided he does not overlook the three points most essential to their well-being, viz., keeping, feeding and cleanliness.

The Importance of Fresh Air.

With regard to keeping. It is advisable that the birds be kept in the fresh air as much as possible, taking the precaution on cold and gusty days to hang them in a cage or cages in a sheltered nook; never hang them in a draught. At night keep them in a cold room and cover up the cages with a white cloth, which, besides keeping off draught, will afford the inmate the necessary warmth which is needed in its partially denuded condition.

It might be said here, that in all cases where a bird is kept in an open wire cage a covering during the night is a necessity, and does much to keep him in health and song. Also, never hang a cage above the gas or put it in a window, unless it is on a table below the draught emanating from the division in the upper and lower sash.

Now as to feeding. In the case of the Britishers, in addition to their staple diet, give them as far as possible their natural food. This is perhaps not always easy to town dwellers, but nearly everyone has a strip of garden in which such flowers as sunflowers and candytuft are grown; these both bear seeds which finches are particularly partial to, and weeds, like the poor, are always with us.

The best known of these perhaps are groundsel and dandelion, and both Finches and Canaries will eagerly devour not only the flowers but the leaves. A little chopped egg or prepared egg food, supplied by all grain dealers, sprinkled with maw seed and given fresh every day, will greatly stimulate the birds and help them to throw off their old feathers. Also at this period a piece of cuttle-fish bone should be kept between the wires, and a supply of gritty sand on the bottom of the cage. Both are excellent digestives.

A Finishing Touch.

When the bulk of the feathers have dropped, and new feathers are appearing on the head, give a little piece of sulphate of iron (about the size of a hemp seed) in the drinking water twice a week for a week or two; this helps to brace up the bird and tightens the new plumage.

The bath should be offered every day, though Canaries are not so fond of bathing as Bullfinches. Cleanliness is always a most important point in the keeping of a captive bird in health and song, and it is more than ever so in the moulting season for the following reason: each new feather is enclosed in a tiny sheath or covering, and as the feather grows this covering is cast. The accumulation of these innumerable little pieces of silvery matter affords a harbour for red mite.

Although I have lost birds from diseases, I have never lost one from moulting sickness, and have had one of my Bullfinches 5½ years, and he was not a young bird then. He still sings, and when not moulting his plumage, like that of the others, is, to use a dealer's expression, like paint.

I would recommend all intending bird-keepers to make a special study of the habits and food of the bird they desire to keep; it is not enough to just buy a bird, put it in a cage, and feed it regularly and expect it to sing, as many people do, for they are sure to be disappointed. An understanding mind on the part of the owner will do much to ensure the happiness of his pet, and it will repay him by its beautiful appearance and song.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road, Open Contest for quality Linnet singing, Sept 3. 18 birds sang: 1, T. Ward; 2, J. Chadwick; 3, Chippindale; 4, Condliffe; judges, Hardcastle, Ineson, Grant.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Linnet Singing contest, Clarence Hotel, Skinner Lane, for quality, Sept. 3. 19 good birds sang for three prizes, given by the landlord, Mr. W. Crowther, who is home on furlough. Some very good singing was heard to the enjoyment of a crowded house from far and near, a big price of £8 was bid for the winner, but it could not be bought. The birds were judged admirably: 1, 2, Pte. R. Smith; 3, Pte. W. Crowther. Judges, T. C. Summers and S. Butterfield. —T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

BARNSLEY.

Linnet Contest, Sept 3, very poor entry and poor singing; J. Norburn timer; W. Dooley, chalker: 1, Fishwick, 2min. 47sec; 2, Wright, 57sec.; 3, Norman, 38sec. In 4 min. time sing. Members please note last sing until further notice owing to moulting season.—J. Hardman, Sec.

The Young Bird Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

BURNLEY O.S.

Anual F.F. show July 8, Star Inn; 34 entries. Mr. R. Braybrook (Briefield) judged, and seemed to give satisfaction. T. Lingard won cup with a splendid team of yellows; runner-up, Rushton. Nor. Yell.: 1, 3, vhc, c, T. Lingard; 2, Eastwood. Buff: 1, Haigh; 2, 3, Rushton; vhc, J. Lingard; c, T. Lingard. Tkd. Yell.: 1, vhc, T. Lingard; 2, Eastwood; 3, Rushton. Buff: 1, Rushton; 2, 3, J. Lingard; vhc, c, Eastwood; hc, T. Lingard. Yell. Yorks.: 1, Conroy. Buff: 1, 2, Southworth. Brit.: 1, 3, vhc, c, Holden; 2, hc, Conroy.—J. Rushton, Sec.

CANARY SHOW IN TORONTO.

The National Canary Society of Toronto held their summer young bird show in Occident Hall, on Aug. 12, and the event was well patronised. Frank Beers had a great day out, winning no fewer than three firsts with his splendid Yorkshires. Other exhibitors staged grand teams. John W. Hinde placed the awards, which seemed to be well received, but some of the birds were not "fined down," and will probably be higher up later on. The officials all worked hard to make the show a success. Victor Barber, secretary, who was at the head of affairs, showed splendid results. The entry was the largest by far on record, and the quality very fine throughout. As usual, a good display of specials were offered, and exceptional quality was required to win, so keen was the competition.

Yorks., Cl. Buff: 1, Beers; 2, Seon; 3, Smillie. Yell.: 1, sp, 2, Beers; 3, Smillie. Cinnamon, Buff mkd.: 1, Beers; 2, Smillie; 3, Ritter. Yell.: 1, sp, Craigie; 2, Smillie; 3, Given. Green, Buff mkd.: 1, Smillie; 2, Craigie; 3, Mountford. Yell.: 1, Mountford; 2, Seon; 3, Steele. Self: 1, sp, Given; 2, Cottrell; 3, Beers. Nor., Cl. Buff: 1, Mountford. Yell.: 1, sp, 2, Ward; 3, Mountford. Buff mkd.: 1, sp, 3, Mountford; 2, Ward. Yell.: 1, sp, Ward. Self: 1, Ward. Rollers: All to Barber. Best Yorks.: A. Craigie. Best Nor.: A. V. Mountford. Best Roller: V. Barber.

Club Reports.

CODNOR PARK & EASTWOOD.

Meeting, Aug. 26, Three Tuns, Eastwood, with a good attendance. Decided to hold our Annual Open Show as usual on Nov. 25. Sec. was instructed to write to Mr. Roe with regard to judging and report at next meeting. Classification and all arrangements will be made at the next meeting, Sept. 23, at Three Tuns, Eastwood, and all members are asked to attend.—Smith and Lees, Secs.

QUEEN'S PARK (Glasgow).

Meeting in Y.M.C.A. Rooms, Aug. 30, Mr. R. B. Cairns, chair, and a good turnout of members. Twenty specials won by members at First Feather Show were handed out, and the Sec. stated that the entry of 78 exhibits was a record for the club. Decided that admission tickets for Annual Show be 4d., including entertainment tax, and that prize cards as last year be used. Mr. Andrew Forman kiudly consented to see staging erected and taken down free of charge. Mr. Walter Connelly was elected show manager. Decided that no person be allowed inside barrier in hall during judging at Annual Show. A vote of appreciatiou was accorded to Mr. Walter Connelly for having taken 2nd prize in the Canary section with his paper on colour feeding Canaries in CAGE BIRDS' competition. A vote of thanks was also accorded Mr. Wm. McClymont for services rendered to the club, Mr. McClymont having left Glasgow to take up employment with the Duke of Portland at Wellbeck Abbey. The club's best wishes go with him.—A. K. Hunter, Sec.

LEEDS C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 2, Mr. H. J. Mennard chair. Owing to the unavoidable absence of the advertised lecturer, Mr. E. Clegg, of Dewsbury, the hon. sec. was called upon by the chairman to open a discussion on "Preparing for Exhibition" which was joined in by several members present, and no doubt caused plenty of interest and passed on a pleasant evening.—J. Chambers, Hon. Sec.

LEEDS ROLLER C.C.

Meeting, Sept 2, Griffin Hotel, Mr. F. Heaton, chair, and a good attendance. Arrangements for the Annual Show, Nov. 3, and 4 were completed, and the followiug have kindly consented to act as judges:—Mr. Tomlinson, Newcastle-under-Tyne; Mr. Roebuck, Wakefield; and Mr. Wareing, Tottington. There will be five classes: Champion young birds, novice young birds, champion any age, novice any age, and amateur. The large stock room of the Griffin Hotel has been secured and as the Control Board's meeting is to be held on the Saturday, it only remains for fanciers to give us a good entry to have a most successful show, and thereby give the association a good send off.—H. Best, Sec.

Queries Answered

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

TROUBLE WITH YOUNG (F. K.).—The rape seed of which you sent sample is undoubtedly the cause of the bowel trouble in your young Canaries It is not summer rape at all, but the hot, mustardy winter rape, and is totally unsuitable to form any part of the staple diet of young Canaries The hemp also is stale, but not so bad as to be really dangerous, though it is certainly risky. You should try to get a better sample of hemp, or it would be as well to use none at all, and discard this rape altogether, and get a sample of the small reddish-brown summer rape, which has a mild, nutty flavour when a little is chewed in the mouth. All the other seeds are of good quality. Having attended to these points, feed as follows, and the trouble should soon cease. Give plain canary seed only in the hopper as staple, and in addition to this give separately every second day a small teaspoonful of summer rape per bird, and on the alternate days give twice a week half a teaspoonful of the seed mixture, and on two other days give a small teaspoonful of egg food, or a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar. Give a few plantain stalks or the blooms of marigolds or nasturtiums daily for them to pick over instead of more succulent greenfood. In the water give six drops of syrup of rhubarb and a crystal of sulphate of soda the size of a small pea for three consecutive days, and after this give five drops each of tincture of gentian and dilute sulphuric acid every second day for a week.

TO BRING ON SONG (Sam).—Strong, healthy young cocks of a singing breed, or strain, if they are ever going to be "worth salt" as singers do not need any special feeding to induce them to commence singing. If caged up separately as soon as the moult is finished that will do much more to bring them into song than any amount of extra feeding. If left together in groups, in flights, or aviaries, they have more to distract their attention, and will naturally be later coming into song, and some of them will not begin in real earnest before January or beginning of February. The following dietary is all that is really necessary. As staple give plain canary only, and give separately every second day about half a teaspoonful of summer rape per bird, or if you fiud this too much trouble you may give a staple mixture of three parts, by measure, of canary to one part summer rape. Then make a mixture of two parts each of hemp and niger; one part each white millet and black rape; a half part each teazle and broken groats; a quarter part each of maw and gold of pleasure; and just a sprinkling of linseed and mustard. Give a small teaspoonful of this mixture to each bird twice a week, and on one or two other days, according to the condition of the birds, a similar quantity of egg food, or the equivalent in bread and milk. If the summer rape is given separately give the last named items on the alternate days, so that one or other of these extras will be going each day through the week. Give a little green salad, or sweet fruit when greenstuff is out of season, three times a week.

CANARY QUERISTS

should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

LIGHT THROATED GREEN (W.H.H.).—You would probably gain nothing at all by colour feeding the bird you describe, and might lose much. It depends much upon the shade or tone of green, but in the great majority of cases greens are not improved by colour feeding in the ordinary sense, and it is not usual to so feed them. The best way of moulting the bird is to give it a variety of mixed seeds, and wild seeds, fruits and green food, and, if you can get them, a liberal supply of blooms of marigolds and nasturtiums, for it to nibble at whilst moulting will also be very beneficial. The seed mixture advised to "Sam" in this issue with the proportion of linseed increased to equal that of teazle will make a suitable moulting mixture for the purpose, to which you would add the items named above as opportunity occurred. As regards the class in which it would have to be shown, from your description it seems to be only eligible for a class for "greens," or one for "Self or Broken Greens," and in either case the light shading on the throat would tell against it more or less, according to the keenness of the competition.

A TRIO (T. Rogers).—(1) If you have the greenhouse you can provide ample shade from the sun when necessary, so that you can largely control the fluctuations of temperature which are apt to occur in these structures. I see no reason at all why it should not succeed as a bird house iu the way you have arranged it, and the fact that the birds did well in it through last winter and up till now supports this view. I do not think you need have any fear about the matter. (2) Yes, the young Yorkshire cocks bred this season will be quite all right for breeding with next season, and should be ready for mating in the ordinary course about the end of March or beginning of April: The same remark also applies to the hens. You should not, however, keep the cocks and hens together in the same cage through the winter. Each sex should be separate, but several birds of the same sex may be kept together in a large cage or aviary for the sake of the extra space for exercise. They should be kept separate now until ready for matiug next spring. Sorry I cannot mention any particular breeder to purchase from. You would find a list of the most prominent in CAGE BIRDS' ANNUAL for 1916, and from these you would be able to make a choice. (3) If you wish to get an improved type of song I should certainly advise you to try the Roller-Yorks. cross, or vice versa, but if the style and type of bird is the thing you aim at, then the pure Yorkshire will be the correct thing for you.

BREEDING NEAR RAILWAY (D. R.).—There is no reason whatever why you should not breed Canaries because you live near a railway. The vibrations caused by passing trains would not be in the least degree harmful to the birds, nor to the young. The idea that the vibration is fatal to the young is mere moonshine. Lots of Canaries are bred actually within a few yards of the metals, and in situations where the vibrations are of a far worse character. Therefore, do not let that consideration deter you making the attempt.

THE ODD UNMATED BIRD (F. E. H.).—It is, of course, too late now to worry about an unmated bird upsetting the pairs that are mated. But to provide for another season I see no reason why your suggestion of mating the odd cock with hen mule should not succeed as far as it is possible to do so in preventing him disturbing the breeding hens by his frequent calling, as you must not lose sight of the fact that in certain cases a cock that is properly mated with a Canary hen will prove just as much of a disturbing element by calling to another hen of his own choice as a cock that is not mated at all. There is no harm in trying your suggestion, and I should be more surprised if it did not succeed than otherwise, and you could also, in all probability, utilise the hen mule so mated as a foster mother for any forsaken chicks. Under such conditions she would be most likely to adopt and rear them in fine style. If you did not mate the odd cock at all, and could arrange to keep him out of sight of the breeding pairs, it would be only in quite exceptional cases that his calling would be any disturbance to the other hens.

SUDDEN DEATHS (G. Hatton).—It is rather difficult to believe that young birds in perfect health would simply drop off the perch and die instantly. In such cases there is usually some insidious cause, not visible externally, at work before the climax comes about in this abrupt manner, and this is why it is rarely of any use to hazard a guess as to the cause of such deaths. It is quite possible for it to be due to an apoplectic seizure, to which birds are certainly liable, but nothing short of a proper post-mortem examination is of any real use in defining the actual cause of death. The canary seed of which you sent a sample is quite sweet and good, and of very good quality all round. If you lose another bird in this way, you should send the body at once to our post-mortem expert, Mr. Yates, with the proper fee as stated weekly in these columns.—(Editor.)

YOUNG BIRD PANTING (Want to Know).—I should imagine that a young bird hatched only in April last that is already in a bronchial condition, as yours seems to be, was either kept under very unsatisfactory conditions, or had inherited the tendency in a high degree from affected parents. In the latter case nothing is likely to be of much benefit to it, and it would be exceedingly unwise to allow it to perpetuate its kind any further. See that it is kept under bright and healthful conditions, free from cold direct draughts, an impure or dusty atmosphere, and do not allow it to hang in or very near a window, over burning lights in the evening, nor high up near the ceiling. In addition to the usual seed diet give a piece of bread and milk the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it and then sprinkled with maw seed every second day for two or three weeks, and on the alternate days give a morsel of greenfood or banana. In the drinking water every second day for a week, add six drops of syrup of rhubarb and a crystal of sulphate of soda the size of a small pea, and after this give instead five drops each of oxymel of squills, ipecacuanha wine and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight. Only offer the bath twice a week, and on mild days.

BREEDING CROSSED SONGSTERS (Ditton).—(1) Yes, you can certainly build up a strain of good songsters by crossing Rollers and Norwich, and at the same time get a much better-looking bird than the pure Roller, but in the first few seasons you must be prepared for some deterioration of song, as in the crossbreds in the first two seasons at least the song will be of decidedly lower quality than the song of the pure Norwich. As the seasons pass there should be a regular and systematic improvement in the quality of song. If you get the 1916 issue of CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL you will find this subject treated fully therein. and a method of procedure given which would be too lengthy to repeat here, but which you will find exactly applicable to your needs. One point that you must not overlook is that you should endeavour to use for stock birds both cocks and hens that come of the best singing strains of Norwich you can command, and always train the young exclusively each season under pure Roller cocks, until your stock has attained such perfection of song as you deem satisfactory. The building you purpose using should be quite satisfactory for the purpose, and if you take care to stock it with only birds that have been bred and reared under normal conditions of temperature, both Norwich and Rollers will thrive in it all the year round. (2) To make up three groups for breeding, including the birds you have available, I would recommend you to mate the 1915 cock with two of the 1916 crossed hens and two buff Roller hens, 1916 bred; then get a 1916 yellow Roller cock and mate with the two 1915 hens, and two of the 1916 crossed hens; and a buff Roller cock to mate with the remaining 1916 crossed hen and three 1916 yellow Roller hens. This will mean introducing two Roller cocks and five Roller hens to make up the three groups you wish to start with. (3) Yes, subject to conditions named in No. 1.

HEALTH & STRENGTH

Deals with all kinds of athletics, including Football Wrestling, Boxing, Weight-Lifting, Fencing Running, Ju-Jitsu, Gymnastics of all kinds, Swimming, &c., &c. Gives free advice on all questions of Health. Diet, &c., to all readers. EVERY THURSDAY, 1d. Sold Everywhere. Get a copy to-day, or send for Free Specimen to "Health and Strength," Windsor House, Kingsway, London.

COLOUR FEEDING AND BREEDING (Forest Gate).—No, certainly not. Colour feeding the birds will not affect their breeding capabilities in the slightest degree, much less render them unfit for breeding. I suppose you are able to tell whether the birds you say are very pale are yellows or buffs. Buffs are always much paler-looking than yellows, and you cannot expect to change a buff into a yellow, but either type is materially improved by skilful colour feeding. You should get the brochure on "Colour Feeding," which our manager would send you for 2½d. post free.

FOOT TROUBLE (A. C.).—The chances are that callosities will eventually form under the feet and permanently weaken the grip of the toes more or less, in which case I know of no certain cure for the trouble, but I know a considerable improvement may be made even after the callosities are well developed by careful excision. But this is a case for a qualified veterinary, and should only be attempted by such a person, and it becomes a case of deciding whether the bird is worth placing in such hands for proper treatment. If the bird stands fairly well on the perch and the lack of grip is not very great it would probably only tell against him in strong competition, and the extent to which he would be penalised by it would, of course, depend very much upon the individual judge. To try to prevent the trouble going any further soak the feet well for a few minutes daily in warm water, in a saucerful, of which you have dissolved a small teaspoonful of boracic acid, then dry carefully, and anoint sparingly with Jeyes' veterinary ointment. See that the perches are made of quite soft white pine wood, nearly round in shape, and of such a thickness that the bird's toes would quite encircle them if gripped closely. Continue the bathing for a month if necessary, keep in the small perches for about three months, and then gradually revert to the ordinary sized perches.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

BREEDING WITH BRITISH BIRDS (T. Rogers).—It would be waste of time to attempt breeding in your small aviary with more than one pair of birds, although it is large enough to keep half-a-dozen of one sex, just for pleasure and song. If you decide to attempt breeding, then you will find a pair of Greenfinches the most reliable. Procure young birds if you can, and keep them as tame and familiar as possible. If you do not care for the Greenbirds, try either Linnets or Goldfinches, but the latter are less likely to reward you for your trouble, although they have occasionally reared young in captivity. (2) In the spring fasten a good big bunch of twigs up in one corner of the cage (heather or gorse answers the purpose admirably, and keeps its foliage). In among the twigs place an old nest, if a Finch's so much the better, but failing that a Blackbird's or Thrush's. Supply plenty of moss and cowhair, and short lengths of grass stalks. After they have pulled the old nest nearly to pieces they generally start re-lining it, so be liberal with building materials.

VARIOUS QUESTIONS (Bird Lover).—All crosses between different species are really Hybrids, although in the birdy world crosses between British birds and Canaries are usually called Mules, and crosses between two British birds are termed Hybrids. (2) It is impossible to say within a week or two how long Canaries will take to moult, so much depends upon the health of the birds and the climatic conditions, but giving a rough guess yours should be through about the middle of this month. (3) The colour in the droppings is caused by the colour food; perhaps you are giving it a shade too strong. No use overdoing it. (4) You will find one hen Greenfinch will be sufficient with other birds for your aviary. Keep the Goldfinch and Greenfinch together for a time before turning them in with the others. Greenfinch hens are pretty reliable. (5) If the birds take to each other, the Goldfinch should pair with her, but sometimes in an aviary when a hen calls, the nearest male bird answers the call, although she may not be his proper mate. It is one of those little matters over which you have no control. All you can do is to try to mate them as you wish by keeping them together for a time, and repeating it in the early spring. (6) Mules have been known to act as fostermothers, but they are not certain breeders. (7) I have never heard that colour feeding makes any difference to the fertility of birds, and I cannot see any reason why it should do so. (8) A brancher is a young bird that has left the nest, is feeding himself, but has not moulted.

SEEDS FOR GOLDFINCHES (British).—At this time of the year you should undoubtedly make good use of the number of wild seeds that can be collected in the open. All these should be given liberally to moulting Finches, and many can be collected for future use. The chief of these is the thistle. There are several kinds, but all are good, although the large heads naturally contain the most seeds, and these are large and plump. They should be gathered just as they are about to burst. After collecting, the secret is to see that they are properly dried and ripened. Lay them out thinly in a spare room or shed, and when dry put them back in a bag and shake well from end to end. The seed, being heavy, will naturally fall to the bottom. The refuse should be burnt. The supply of ordinary seed should be continued as usual and, if anything, should be rather richer during the moult. I was told the other day that wild seed was bad for Finches, but my informant was unable to give me any proof that it was so. I fear that if we listened to all these faddy ideas we should have no seeds left to feed our birds with. Maw seed I use, combined with niger; one part of the former to two parts of the latter. If put in with a variety of seeds it sinks to the bottom and gets lost. Our little Nutshell on the Goldfinch is certainly one of the best on the subject, and no Finch lover should be without it.

TO ASSIST THE MOULT (Anxious Boy).—There are many recipes for mixtures to assist birds through the moult, and the majority of them contain saffron. A very good one is the following: Sixpennyworth of saffron, one pint of best rum, 1 oz. of tincture of gentian. Put about 20 drops in the drinking water every other day, or mix a teaspoonful to ten spoonsful of egg food. If your birds are having soft food this is the better way to give it.

BLACKBIRD DOING BADLY (Jessie).—In the first place I would advise you to put your bird in a clean cage by himself, as you can attend to him so much better and keep his cage cleaner than when with another. It appears to me that there is something in the food you are giving him that does not quite suit him, although his partner may be apparently in good health, therefore I would advise you to make a complete change. Give him every morning a cube of stale bread soaked in hot milk, and after he has eaten that he can have his regular food which should be a portion of high grade insectile food (as used for Nightingales and Warblers). This should be made slightly moist with warm new milk. Later on when his motions are normal, you can mix scraped raw carrot or boiled potato with it. Dissolve as much Glauber salts as will cover a threepenny piece in two tablespoonsful of water and add to it three drops of syrup of rhubarb and give him this to drink for one day only, then repeat two days later, and follow this up with a small teaspoonful of chemical food in an oz. of boiled water for a week; then rest a few days and repeat. He should have a portion of ripe fruit occasionally and, of course, insects. Let him bathe on nice warm days, early in the morning, so that his cage is thoroughly dry before night. Keep his cage and perches thoroughly clean. He should now be going into the moult, so be careful to keep him out of any cold currents of air. Have you our little booklet on this bird? If not I would advise you to get a copy.

FINCHES WITH CANARIES (A.B.C.).—Almost any of the Finches or Buntings would live amicably with your Canaries, but as regards tameness Redpolls, Siskins, and Bullfinches would perhaps suit you best. Siskins become particularly familiar in quite a short time, but unfortunately you could scarcely trust them with your Canaries; if the latter went to nest, they would probably destroy the eggs. Redpolls are easily procured and quite easy to tame, and I should think would answer your purpose admirably, the same food that you give your Canaries would keep them in health. The Nutshell on the Canary is being reprinted.

KEEPING GREYPATES (Embryo).—If you are unable to get good sound hemp seed you had better not use hemp at all. Good hemp should be even in colour with the kernel quite full, plump, and white, and sweet to the taste. There is no doubt a great difficulty just now in procuring sound hemp, and even the new crop may be "mixed." If as you say you have plenty of sunflowers in your garden you should certainly make use of the seed. If you shell it a bit at first the birds quickly get the taste, and then if lightly cracked they can manage it themselves. (2) The thistle seed should be useful if it has been properly stored, although you had better feed the Greypates on this season's crop, while you are able to get it; it would be much more digestible than dried seeds, and therefore better for young birds. Feed on these natural wild seeds as much as possible, while you are able to get them, there is no better food. (3) Finches will occasionally eat mealworms, maggots, and small caterpillars, and they are certainly good for them. Mealworms should be squeezed so that the bird can get at the interior without taking the hard skin. (5) As a rule Goldfinch cocks live amicably together. Of course they have their little differences, but nothing to hurt. You must give them grit of some kind. The reason why Siberians must be given it with caution is because they have been kept without it so long, that they take too much if it is freely offered. I fancy the want of grit on the journey has something to do with the great mortality among them when they arrive here.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

SAFFRON FINCH STUCK IN THE MOULT (S. W. B.).—(1) There is not a great deal to do in such case, and except as a last resort I am not a great believer in catching up Finch-like birds and forcibly administering drugs; it causes so much terror and palpitation, except in very tame birds that it almost does more harm than good. Moreover, I think your bird will come quite right by the use of quite ordinary means. Bring its cage into the warmest room you have, put a cover over it at night, and keep it there till it is in condition again. Once a week put one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia into the drinking water, and twice or thrice weekly lightly colour the drinking water with chemical food. In addition to seed give greenfood twice daily, and also several insects (mealworms, spiders, beetles, etc.); also give a small piece of sponge cake daily, soaked with hot milk and dusted with flour of sulphur. As soon as it is in condition again it must gradually be accustomed to a lower temperature, and finally returned to its usual quarters. (2) There is not much to be done in the case of the Bishop with a stiff toe; left to itself I expect the toe will ulimately drop off. If this is a tame bird, and does not greatly resent catching, then twice a week soak this toe in hot water and after wiping off surplus water paint it with whisky. Do not allow the claw of the stiff toe to become overgrown.

TAMING LOVEBIRDS (E. L. S.).—I am rather at a disadvantage in seeking to give you an answer, as you do not state what kind of Lovebirds they are. I strongly suspect you have a pair of Budgerigars, and I am answering your query on this assumption; if they are not Budgies, you must repeat your query stating what kind they are. In addition to canary and millet, give a millet spray, renewing it whenever it is picked clean; also the flowering and seeding heads of grass, and a tender leaf of lettuce, one of the inner bleached leaves for preference. Grit, water, and cuttlebone must be continuously in the cage. As a change a tablespoonful of kibbled oats or groats may be given them once or twice a week. They would do in a box breeding cage, but one more roomy would be better. They require no nesting material, but will fashion out the interior of the coco-nut husk to their own liking and deposit their eggs therein. As regards taming, this does not come about so easily as with other birds, but gentleness and kindness whenever near them will win their confidence ultimately. Tastes of individual birds vary, but I think you will find the things they will be most eager for, out of their simple menu, will be flowering and seeding heads of grass, and a bit of millet spray, and you must use these as tit-bits. They are not either great bathers or drinkers, but water must always be there—they prefer to take their bath by rolling on a sod of wet grass.

A FEATHER PULLER (Novice).—When a bird becomes confirmed in this habit or vice, too often there is no cure, and as yours is a case of some standing you will need to persevere with palliatives in the hope of ultimate success. Too often a bird takes to feather pulling from sheer ennui and a Parrot, once it is fairly tame, should be kept where it can share in the daily life of the family, and usually there is then little inclination to feather pulling. Again a disordered system, too frequently caused by improper treatment, sets up skin irritation and consequent feather pulling. The normal dietary of a Grey Parrot should consist of seed mixture, ripe fruit, a little greenfood, and such extras as various shelled nuts, dry biscuit, plain cake, crusts of bread, piece of raw carrot. Grit, cuttlebone, and water must be continually in the cage. Aim at keeping a bird employed, a chunk of wood on cage bottom, and another piece dangling from the end of a chain from the cage top will supply a Parrot with occupation and healthy exercise. Put the bird on a course of magnesia and chemical food for a couple of months, and there should be some improvement if a cure is probable. Give the bird every fourth day one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia in the drinking water, and on the intermediate days lightly colour the water with chemical food. Spray it once a week with a tepid solution of quassia. You can procure the latter in essence form.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

VENTILATION OF OUT-DOOR BIRD ROOM (G. H.).—In your sketch you do not show where you purpose placing the window, but it is to be presumed that this will be in the front of the room, facing east. If it is placed high up on this front, and is pretty close to the south end, then a ventilator could be placed at the upper angle of the south end, and the window could be opened more or less, according to the weather. The ventilation would thus be under complete control, and there would be no direct draught at any time to injure the birds. A second ventilator, which could be closed at will, might be put in the north end, but this would have to be used with caution, because of its aspect. It would be more often kept closed than open, for in bad weather its opening would create a cold current right across to the door in the other end.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

should consult Houlton's great work, "Cage Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Normon's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

"PIGEONS"

The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.

Coloured Plates a Special Feature.
The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,

"FUR & FEATHER"

The only Paper devoted to these subjects.
Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.

Offices: Idle, Bradford, Yorks

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the

"CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free. Stiff Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens.
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial, are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE.

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

"BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS." By C. P. ARTHUR. 6d. post free.

Is a splendid guide-book to perhaps the most interesting and profitable side of foreign bird-keeping. It tells you all you need know.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE.
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE.
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

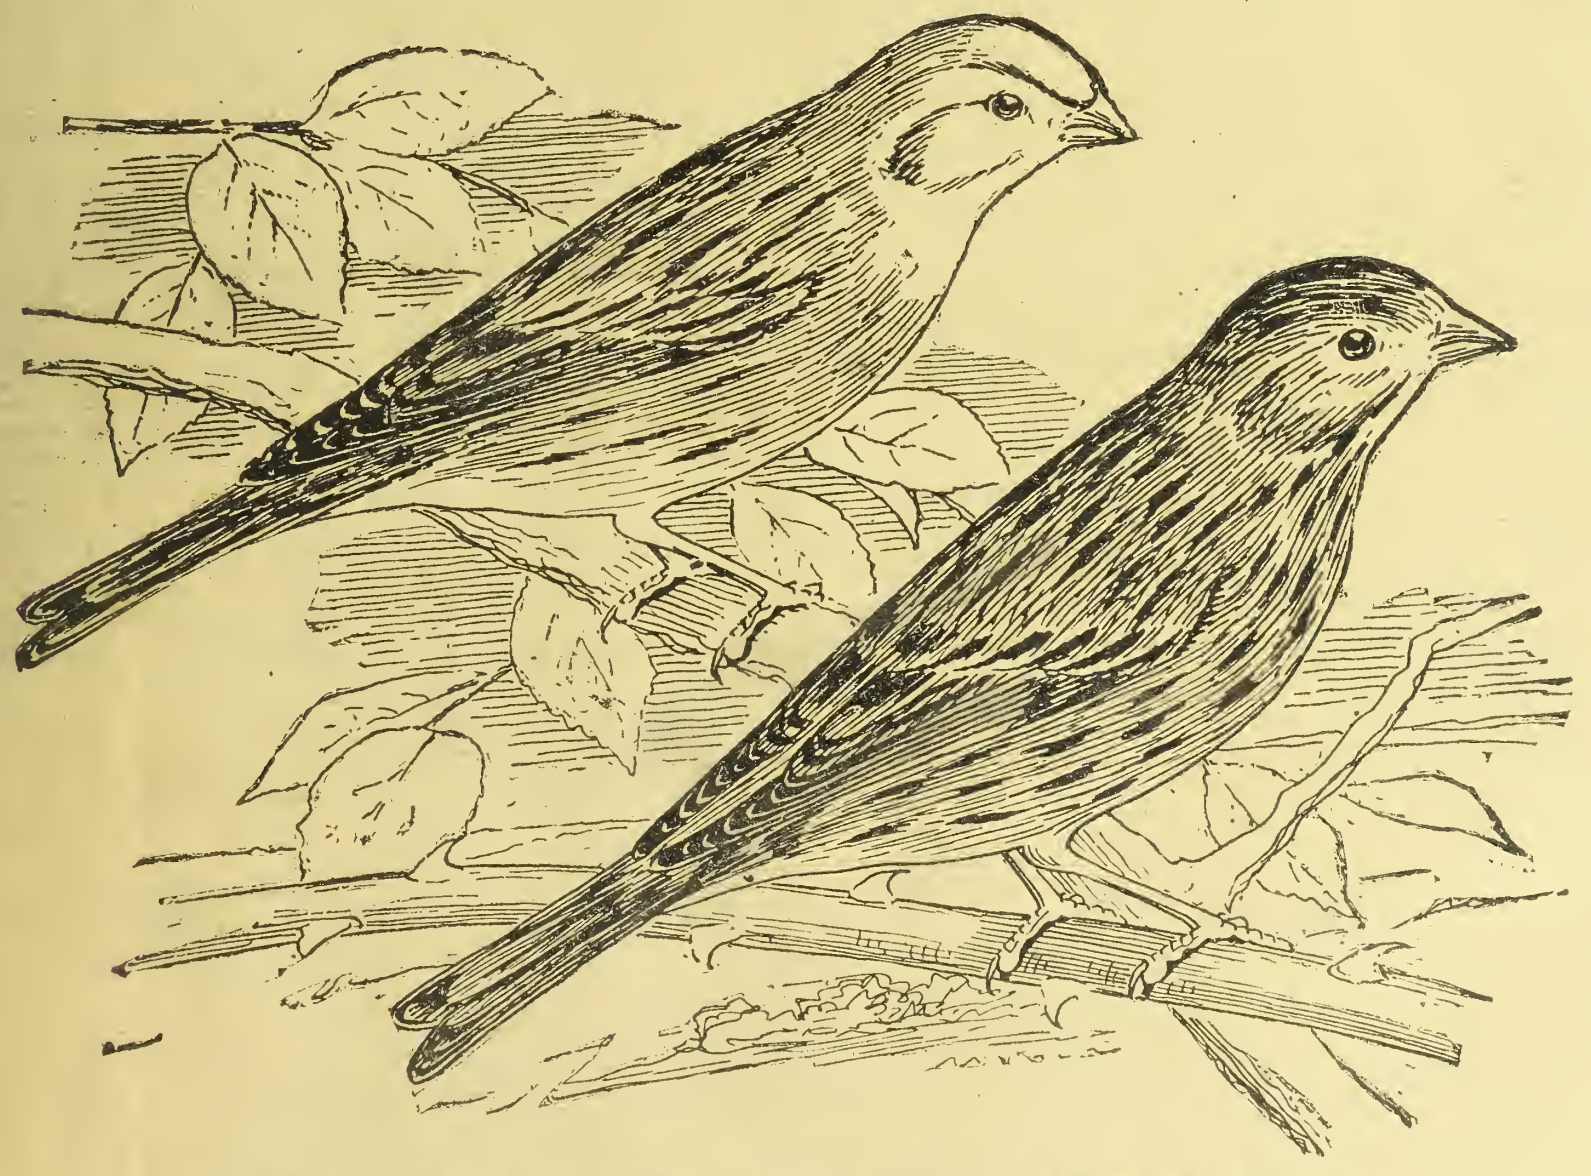
Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. Carl, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G Hammond and Co., Ltd., Fleet Lane, London, E.C.

636.605
CAG

THE FEEDING AND THE TRAINING OF EXHIBITION BIRDS.

SEE THIS ISSUE.

16 PAGES. 2D



CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL
Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 721 For week ending September 16th, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free.
Foreign— 13/- per annum.

TWO BEAUTIFUL BRITISH BUNTINGS.

At the top of the picture is the Yellow Bunting, whose long drawn-out song "A little bit of bread and no che-e-ese," greets us from the hedgerow long after other birds have ceased singing for the year. The other is the Corn Bunting, the largest of the family. Though beautiful in its markings, it lacks the brightness of colour which gives the name to its relative the Yellow Bunting. The two birds pictured both won prizes at the City and Suburban A.C.B. Show; the Corn Bunting 1st for Mr. W. Francis, Tooting, and the Yellowhammer 2nd for Mr. W. Shepherd, Piccadilly, London.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS"

DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

Canary Seed Cheaper DURING THE WAR

our customers may rely on our continuing to supply them at LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. Free delivery by own van London district. Carriage paid to any country station in England and Wales 1/- cwt. extra.

TROWER'S WONDERFUL SOFTBILO.

The wonder of the age for Larks, Blackbirds, Thrushes, Jays, Magpies, Starlings, etc. Sold by 4,000 Corn and Bird Dealers, 7lbs. 2/3, post free.

TROWER'S IMPROVED CECTO

stands unbeaten in price and quality; with or without egg flake. An eye-opener for those who have never used a good food. Unequalled for Nightingales, Blackbirds, Robins, Wagtails, Waxbills, and all small insectivorous birds. British and Foreign, 1/6 lb., post paid 1/10 lb.; 7lbs. 11/-, post paid.

TRY THESE AND COMPARE WITH OTHER FOODS.

A REVOLUTION IN FEEDING.

TROWER'S EGGISCO.

ACKNOWLEDGED THE CHAMPION EGG AND BISCUIT FOOD

for rearing and maturing Canaries, Hybrids, and all birds that partake of egg and biscuit in any form. Contains 50 per cent. egg and is the only food worthy of the name.

Resembles nothing else on the market. All users delighted with it.

Do not confuse it with any other preparation. It is prepared only by us, and can be obtained of all corn dealers and bird shops. In tins, 4d., 8d., 1/3, 2/6, postage extra; 4lbs. 8/-; 7lb. bags, 13/6, post paid. Special quotations for quantities. Post free.

OUR GIANT SPANISH

is better value than sold by any other firm at the price. Compare price, weight and quality.

	Peck	Bshl.	Approx. wght. per bshl	cwt.
Giant Spanish Canary	4/3	16/6	58lbs.	32/-
Large ditto	4/-	15/6	58lbs.	30/-
Fine ditto	3/9	14/6	58lbs.	28/-
Good ditto	3/6	13/6	58lbs.	26/-
Best Morocco ditto	3/3	12/6	58lbs.	24/-
Best Bold Hemp	4/-	15/6	42lbs.	35/-
Best White Millet	3/6	13/6	62lbs.	27/-
Best Indian Millet	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	26/-
Summer Rape	4/6	17/6	52lbs.	36/-
Extra Bold Linseed	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	29/-
Teazle	4/-	15/6	28lbs.	60/-
Niger Seed	3/6	13/6	48lbs.	45/-
Sunflower, Black, Striped	4/6	17/6	28lbs.	60/-
Mixed Seed for Aviaries	3/6	13/6	53lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Foreign Finches	3/6	13/6	58lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Parrots	3/-	11/6	40lbs.	33/-
Ditto, Canaries	3/6	13/6	57lbs.	27/-
Ditto, British Finch	3/6	13/6	68lbs.	28/-

TRY OUR WILD SEEDS FOR FINCHES.

No value in the world like it. 2/6 peck, 11lbs.; or 3/- 14lbs. 1 peck post free 3/6. Quotations given for, and special mixtures can be mixed according to fanciers' own requirements.

OUR FINCH TIT-BITS, 1/- lb., our speciality.
OUR GOLDEN BIRD GRIT IS PERFECTION.
1/- ¼-cwt., 2/- ½-cwt., 3/6 cwt.

Maw, 1/3, Sesame 8d., Dandelion 6d. oz., 4/6 lb.; Cornflower, 4d. oz., 5/- lb.; Cnttlefish, 6d. and 9d., large 1/6 lb. Millet Sprays, 2/6 bundle of 50.

Dried Flies, 2/- and 2/3 lb.; Silkworm Pupæ, ground or whole, 1/3 lb.; post free. Meat Meal, 3d.; Biscuit Meal, 3d. lb.; postage extra.

Medicated Nest Bags, 7d. dozen, 6/6 gross. Nest Pans, 1/6; Wires 9d. dozen. Felts, Brown 9d., White 1/3 dozen.

MOULTING CONDITION TONIC AND SINGING MIXTURE.

Our Asthma Cure is the talk of the Fancy. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Bird Tonic will work wonders when your stock is run down. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Parrot Medicines are an eye-opener. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Price List and Samples Free

TROWER & CO.,

Seed Merchants and Bird Food Specialists,

442, Caledonian Road, 82, Roman Road, } King's Cross,

LONDON.

'Phone: 1320 North. Opposite Caledonian Rd. Tube Station.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks, dust, from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold. (579)

OFFERS wanted for three flight cages, 4ft. x 2ft. x 14in., removable fronts: Mayo, 257, Leavesden-rd., Watford. (578)

FOUR Border Fancy show cages, cage 5/-; two box cages, 21 x 12 x 9, 2/-; two small, 1/-: McDonald, 19, Blackness-st., Dundee. (579)

BARGAINS. Four 6-division Canary cages, complete, together or separate, large flight cage, cheap; Ellis, 42, Eastover, Bridgwater. (575)

GOOD strong Parrot's cage, sound condition, cost 16s. 6d., price 6s.; bargain: Proprietor, Wardrobe Stores, 53, Manvers-st., Nottingham. (577)

WANTED double breeding cages, secondhand, must be sound and cheap: view London; fullest particulars: Torrie, 13, Farklands-rd., Streatham, S.W.

SEVERAL double breeding cages and single seed boxes, fronts, egg mill, etc., cheap or exchange for small house dog: Austin, Pleasington, Blackburn.

FOR cage fronts, show cages, carrying cages, bird baths, all cage fittings, see my catalogue; 100 illustrations; post free: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

BEST Japanese birdlime, hold any bird, even Crows, also rats, in any weather, 1lb. tin 2/-, ½ 1,2, ¼ 8d., large sample box 4d.; large self-acting bird traps, 1/4, two 2/4; all carriage paid; catalogue stamp; clap nets, 5/4 pair: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (565)

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6 yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/- per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and fly 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, 2in. mesh, 7ft. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard; all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins. wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanese birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP.

Any size with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogue of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

BIRD LIME, NETS, TRAPS

New price list now ready. Bird lime, ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, post paid; trap cages, single 1/-; double, 1/6; invisible self-acting net traps, 1/6 each, two 2/6; for clap nets see price list: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

BIRD-CATCHERS' LIME.

Not rubbish like treacle. Will hold anything—Rats, Mice, etc. Prices: ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-. Guaranteed not to run in the sun. Two tons sold every year. Double trap cages, 2/- each; single trap cages, 1/6 each; spring net traps, 1/3 each; send for our new catalogue; post free.

SANDIFORD'S, Bird Specialists, PRESTON.
Established 1879. Tel., 440.

BIRD HOUSES, CARRIAGE PAID

6ft. x 4ft. x 6ft. 6in., £3 10s. 6d.; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN,

16 by 12, 5/3 dozen, 18 by 12 6/- dozen, 24 by 12 7/9 dozen; Norwich, Yorkshire, and British show cages, 24/- dozen; baths, non-splash, and frames, 7/-, 8/-, 10/- dozen; tin, 4in., 4/6 dozen; Linnet cages, 10/6, 14/-, 18/- dozen, call cages, 7/- doz.; box cages, 18/-, 22/-, 24/- dozen; dealers send for price list: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (551)

PUNCH BAR CAGE FRONTS

Owing to the vast increase of wire and solder we have had to increase our prices as follows to save using inferior wire: 12 x 12 or 10, 6d. each, 5/- a doz.; 14 x 12, 7d. each, 6/- doz.; 16 x 12, 8d. each, 6/8 dozen; 18 x 12, 9d. each, 7/6 dozen; 20 x 12, 10d. each, 8/4 dozen; 24 x 12 or 14, 1/- each, 10/- dozen. Special price for dealers' quotations, stamps for reply; odd sizes 6d. per foot: J. Ashmore, 19, London-st., Smethwick, Birmingham, late of Heath-street. (534)

WALSH'S ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

Is always alike—good and reliable; does not run in the sun; packed in lever-lid tins. ¼lb. 10d., ½lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-; sample tin, 3d. Redpoll or call cages, 9d. each, 7/- dozen. Linnet cages, 1/3 each, 12/- dozen. Finch cages, 2/- each, 18/- dozen. Spring net traps, 2/6 each.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, BLACKBURN.
Tel.: 947 (577)

NO CONNECTION

with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage of Holborn.

Remember, the Best is always the Cheapest of anything and everything.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeatere, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softbills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in world; see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Fill-up Feeders, 1/3. CALLS for Linnets, Goldfinches, etc., list free.—RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

FOODS.

MEALWORMS, 2/6 1,000, 7/6 lb.: S. Corby, 270, High-st., Watford. (580)

MEALWORMS, 3/6 1,000: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (579)

MEALWORMS, very scarce. I have a few; 150 1/-, post paid: Jones, Cranbourne-st., Brighton. (578)

THISTLE seed, freshly gathered, 3d. oz., 4/- per lb.: Pazak, 90, Gray's Inn-rd., London, W.C. (570)

THISTLE seed, wanted offers for 2lbs. well cleaned and winnowed: T. Russell, 81, Back Brae, Kilsyth, N.B. (580)

WASP grub, alive or cured, 3,000 for 1/3, 6,000 for 2/3, post free: Alec. Puck, 12, The Ridgeway, Chingford. (578)

SELL Tams' packet bird seeds for Canaries, Linnets, Larks, Parrots. Special price list to the trade of cage fronts, baths, seed boxes, pottery, etc.: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

DRIED flies 2/- lb.; ants' eggs 3/6 lb.; cuttlefish 10d. lb.; Tams' tit-bit for British birds during moult, 1/- lb. See monthly list for cheapest bird seeds; secretaries and dealers note prices: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (570)

Walsh's Pure Tasteless Pepper

Specially imported for colour feeding cage birds. The best and richest coloured pepper obtainable. 1lb. 1/9, 3lbs. 5/-, 7lbs. 10/6. Original sealed 22lb. tins, 27/6 each. Walsh's celebrated Egg Bread and Walsh's Insectivorous Food, with or without colour, 1/6 lb., 3lbs. 4/-, 7lbs. 8/6. Hot Natal Pepper, 2/6 lb., 3lbs. 7/-. Sulphate of Iron, 1/- lb. To Dealers and Secretaries: Special quotations for quantities.

WALSH, Bird Food Specialist, BLACKBURN.

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

RAMSDEN'S PURE TASTELESS PEPPER

For colour feeding Cage Birds; super quality only; ½-lb. 1/6, 1lb. 2/6, 3lb. 6/6, 5lb. 10/-; original tins, 22lb., 37/6. Hot pepper same price. All post free or carriage paid.

J. W. RAMSDEN,
11, Josephine Avenue, Brixton, London.

ERRINGTON'S

XL RED FEED

is guaranteed to be of the finest quality tasteless pepper, and free from any added oil or sugar; 1lb. 1/11, 2lb. 3/6, or 4lb. for 6/3; all post free; send stamp for sample to: W. Errington, Reliable Seedsman, Bradford. (506)

CANARY SEED.

Same Quality as supplied to the entire satisfaction of every purchaser.

28 lbs. (¼-cwt.)	7/9	Carr. Forward.
56 „ (½-cwt.)	14/6
112 „ (1 cwt.)	28/-
3 „ Post sample for		1/3
11 „ Sent carriage paid anywhere		3/10

Special notice: I pay carriage to your door on 1cwt.

C. HELD, 9, Falcon Avenue, London, E.C.

Walsh's Reliable BIRD SEEDS.

Fanciers Please Note. We are direct importers and are therefore in a position to offer the very best qualities at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary	4/6	16/-	31/-
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	28/-
Perfection Flint and Shell Grit	1/-	3/-	5/6
	lb.		7lbs.
Special Sweet Rape for Rollers	6d.		3/-
Red Summer Rape	4½d.		2/3
English Rape or Cole Seed	4½d.		2/3
Niger or Inga	4½d.		2/3
Linseed	4d.		2/-
Red, White, or Indian Millet	4½d.		2/3
Maw Seed	1/-		6/-
Sunflower	8d.		4/6
Hemp Seed	6d.		3/3
Paddy Rice	6d.		3/-
Condition Seed	6d.		3/-
Mixed Canary Seed, Mixed Linnet Seed, Mixed Finch Seed, Mixed Foreign Bird Seed	all 4d.		2/-
Mixed Parrot Food	6d.		3/-
Mixed Bone Food	3d.		1/6
Lark Food	6d.		3/-
Thrush Food	6d.		3/-
Insectivorous Food	1/6		8/6
Welsh's Celebrated Egg Bread	1/6.		8/6
Pea Meal and Bean Meal	3½d.		1/9

Special Quotations to Dealers and Secretaries for Quantities.

WALSH, Birdfood Specialist, BLACKBURN
Tel.: 947.

BOOKS.

BUTLER'S "Foreign Finches for Aviaries," 60 life size coloured plates, published £1 15/-, 17/6; "Bird Life of London," 24 plates, illustrating 120 birds, 3/6; "Bird, Useful and Harmful," 85 plates, 3/6, new; postage extra: Ford, Naturalist, Bournemouth. (563)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6." an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

"AVEAU"

This preparation of Krekodyne added to drinking water cures affections of the breathing and digestive organs, and is an excellent tonic, 1/-. Address:—W. Vale, F.Z.S., Q.M.C. Dispensary Bird Hospital, South Norwood, London.

Post-mortem examination and advice, by return post, 1/1. 50 years' experience.

Use Our Notepaper.

How 1/- To-day Will Make £'s for You.

DON'T keep Canaries; make them keep YOU —and pay you WELL. Canary breeding can be made very profitable. It can be made to bring you in large sums year after year. It is only a question of knowing HOW, and this book TELLS you how—tells you in a simple, clear and practical manner. There is no theory about it, its 380 pages are simply packed full of money-making facts—the practical experience and valuable breeding secrets of famous Fanciers. It is written by Experts—well-known Breeders who have won prizes throughout the entire Kingdom—men who have made big money from their birds. They tell you how they did it, what they did, and why they did it. It is a veritable encyclopædia of Canary Breeding, giving full information on every point, telling you what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Here are a few examples :—

How to Test if Eggs are Fertile.
How to Relieve Egg-Binding.
How to Wean the Young.
How to Destroy Parasites.
How to Breed for Exhibitions.
How to Feed for Exhibitions.
How to Exhibit to Win.
How to Judge Birds.
How to Breed for Markings and Colour.
How to Cure Diseases.
How to Give Medicines.
How to Cure Deformed Toes.
How to Defeat Egg-Eating.
How to Train Birds to Sing.
How to Treat Birds that Fail to Breed.

32 Coloured Plates
133 Illustrations
380 Pages

The book is so well divided into chapters, headings, and sub-headings that any subject can be referred to with ease. There are three indexes—one for illustrations, one for chapters, and one arranged alphabetically.

A Free Illustrated Booklet

giving further information about "Our Canaries" will be sent you on request. Better still, use this Coupon and send with a P.O. for 1/-, when "Our Canaries" itself will be sent.

If, after examination, you return the book, your 1/- will at once be refunded. If, however, you decide to keep it—and you will—you can pay the balance by easy monthly instalments. What offer could be fairer?

Send for this Book TO-DAY.

Use This Coupon

To the Publishers,
"OUR CANARIES,"
154, Fleet Street,
London, E.C.

Sirs,—I *(enclose herewith P.O. for One Shilling) shall be glad to receive full particulars of your Illustrated Volume entitled: "Our Canaries." If I decide to become a Subscriber I will remit balance in small monthly instalments as desired.

Name.....

Address.....

.....

Occupation.....

* If you like you can send for Illustrated Booklet before sending 1/- deposit, but the sending of deposit reserves the Volume in your name.

NOT SINGING.
SOFT MOULT.

DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather-plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The ideal Tonic for birds during the Moulting Season. DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC for Bronchitis, Wheezing, and Hoarseness. Absolutely unequalled for all chest and lung affections. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for Weak and Delicate Birds.

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM.
(556)

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

BEAUTIFUL young Bullfinches, cocks 2/6, hens 1/6: Turnbull, Montgomery. (577)

STRONG, healthy cock Linnet, used to catching, 1/-: Leeson, Montagne-st., Rusholme. (580)

GOLDFINCHES, strong, healthy, 1/6 each, 7/6 doz.: F. Griffith, Llanarmon, Mold, N. Wales. (586)

HAWFINCH show cages, new, 2/-; exchange British: Knight, 46, Spencer-rd., Kentish Town.

HAND-REARED Goldfinches, 4/-; Bullfinches, 3/-; grand Ferrets, 4/-: Hayter, Naturalist, Southampton.

GOLDFINCHES, selected cocks, every bird warranted, 3/6 each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (571)

SIX cock Bullfinches, 12/- lot; Nuthatch, 5/-, 7/6 each; two Mules, 2/-: W. G. Poole, Stratford-on-Avon. (577)

CLEAN moulted boxed Linnets, full song, 6/6; ditto Goldfinch, 10/-: Ellerington, 4, Tindall-lane, Beverley. (587)

BRITISH Hardbills, exhibition or aviary, splendid selection, send for list: Sutherland, Rambodde, Nairn, N.B. (579)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Bullfinch, 5/6: Miss Rosey Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (550)

SELECTED giant cock Brown Linnets for show or contest, 1/6 each, three 4/-: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

SINGING Linnet cocks, 1/6; pair C.-M. Redpolls, 3/6; H.R. cock Bullies, 5/-; wanted Goldfinches: Tullett, Sun-st., Brighton. (576)

SCOTCH Redpolls, grand size and colour, ideal birds for muling or exhibition, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (577)

HOUSE-moulted Linnet, beautiful singer, and cage, white enamelled, glass sides, perfect order, 10/6 two: Austin, Pleasington, Blackburn. (577)

EXHIBITORS! Grand cock Hawfinch, can win with moult, 12/6; also F.-M. Linnet, can win, 3/6: Stothard, 8, St. Paul's-st., Stockton-on-Tees. (579)

YORKSHIRE moor cock Brown Linnets, gems, three for 2/-, 6/6 a dozen; plenty in stock, and all guaranteed cocks: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

LESSER Redpoll, perfect in size, shape, colour, and markings, can win in keen competition, with show cage complete, price 10/-: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (577)

TWO grand young Goldfinches, commenced singing, 2/- each; cock Canary, grand songster, 6/-; extra good Greypate, 3/-; letters: Police Station, Steen's Bridge, Leominster. (580)

TEN monster exhibition cock Linnets, true type, 2/- each; 23 cocks, August caught, on song, 1/- each; cock Bullfinches, 2/6 each; H.-M. hens, 1/6 each: W. Brown, Ightfield, Whitchurch, Salop. (579)

LARGE cage, 2-compartment, 30 x 20, brass fittings, containing one pair Goldfinches, ditto Bullfinches, Chaffinches, Greenfinches, and Linnets; must sell, £1 the lot: Crombie, 104, Clare-rd., Cardiff. (577)

VERY fine cock Linnet, steady, good singer and muler, with hen Canary, bred six Mules this season, 12/6 pair; also six nice young Fylde Linnets, well on seed, 1/6 each: "B," 25, Rossall-rd., Ansdell, Lytham. (577)

TWENTY dozen Red-breasted cock Brown Linnets, 4/6 dozen, two dozen 8/6, six 2/6; extra selected, gems, 1/- each, three 2/6; Redpolls three 1/-; satisfaction certain: Gardner, Garstang-rd., Wesham, Lancashire. (577)

LINNET fanciers; two handsome hand-reared Red-breasted cock Linnets, grand songsters, fine show specimens, sacrifice 1/6 each, 2/6 two; approval; not satisfied, money returned: Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable. (580)

COCKS: Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6; H.M. Siskins, 5/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d., 1/-; Canaries, 7/6, 10/-; hens, 3/6; Siskins, 2/6; chickens, 2/-; pullets, laying, 3/6; six, and cock, 22/6; boxes, 3d., 6d.; bird lime, 9d., 1/4: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan.

GOLDFINCHES! Goldfinches! Invaluable information concerning this most popular of our British birds is found in "Nutshell No. 1." Feeding, hand-rearing, and sexing, moulting and exhibiting, are all fully dealt with. 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; list published frequently.)

LOVERS of Chaffinches should read what H. J. Fulljames says about them. "Nutshell No. 13," 2½d. post free, tells you all you need know concerning the succeseful keeping of these birds. From: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents, see list on another page).

GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Write Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Use our Notepaper.

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).

PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Couldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKiernan, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Glumun Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—Jo Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—†W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Raymer, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Lner, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt, Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§F. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorka.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

LINNETS, Red-breasted cocks, 1/- each, three 2/-; few selected cocks, correct Norwich type, 1/6, 2/- each; young cock Larks, fine as stars, singing nicely, 1/6 each, with cage 2/9; 2-compartment trap cage and call bird, 1/6; 3-compartment ditto, 2/-; travelling cages, 3d. extra; approval: Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (576)

LINNETS! Linnets!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

NORTH Country Linnets, cocks, specially picked out, 1/-, for 2/6. I have a few grand call birds, ridge net, real hemp, 30 yards x 5 yards, 15/-; each; three Linnet brace birds, 2/- each; will ride the stick; trap cages, wire and punch bar tops, not a mass of timber, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6; good Lark net, 15/-, 20 yards x 4 yards; fine Partridge net, real hemp, 30 yards x 5 yards, 15/-; Indian grass lime twigs, ready to set, 2/- box: C. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (576)

GOLDFINCHES, Linnets. Don't send your money to the sharks who never send anything in return; send to a reliable firm. Young cock Goldfinches, on hard seed and song, 1/9 each, three for 4/6; extra special picked birds, 2/6, 3/- and 3/6 each; glorious Red-breasted cock Linnets, the pick of the Fancy, 1/- each, three for 2/-; few specially picked, 1/6 and 2/- each; monster Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 9d. each; 2-compartment trap cage and call bird, 1/6; 3-compartment ditto, 2/-; call cage and bird, 1/3; bird calls for catching, 6d. each; sample birdlime, 4d., post free; travelling cages for birds, 3d. and 6d. extra; all birds in good health and sex guaranteed: Bedford, late Gore, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (579)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

LESSER LINNETS

Well on seed, 2/- ½ doz., 3/6 doz., 6/- 2 doz., 13 to the dozen, warranted cocks: Stoneham, Derby House, 2, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne. (577)

DE VON & CO.

114, Bethnal Green Road, London. Cock Hawfinches 5/6, Tits 1/6, Hedge Accenters and Robins, 1/- each; Whitethroats, 3/6; hen Blackcaps, 1/6; Wagtails, 1/6, cock Redstarts 5/6; price lists.

BRITISH BIRDS.

WANTED TO PURCHASE FOR EXPORTATION.
WANTED TO PURCHASE FOR EXPORTATION.

Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Larks and Thrushes. Only good, sound, staid birds required. Fresh-caught specimens absolutely useless. Good prices for good birds.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's St., London, E.

Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Larks, and Redpolls.

Real English cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6 each, 3 for 4/-; selected, 3 for 6/-; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6 each; hens, 1/-, 1/6 each; warranted cock Linnets, 8d., 10d., 1/-, 1/6 each; six for 2/6; dozen, 4/-; cock Larks, 6d., 9d., 1/-, and 1/6 each, six for 2/6, dozen 4/-; Redpolls, 6d. and 9d. each, six for 2/-, dozen 2/6; extra special selected cock Goldfinches and Bullfinches, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; also few grand cock Linnets, 2/- and 2/6 each. Send for illustrated price list, post free.

SANDIFORD, Bird Specialist, PRESTON.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION.

Gentlemen, I give you all a hearty welcome to hear and see my stock of birds. I have the finest stock of quality singing Linnets in England. I have a grand lot of Linnets singing day and gas light, and all taught under my undefeated champion of England; they are running and turning their notes beautifully; only 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each, and a few extra free birds, 2/6, 3/- each. I have a few good call-birds for disposal, with Linnet call-cage, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- lot. House-moulted Linnets, birds that have won all before them, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/- each. Cock Larks, finger-tame, and on nice soft mellow song, 1/6, 2/6, also one, a gem, with bow-fronted cage, 5/6 lot; cock Canaries, good free songsters 5/6, 7/6, 10/6 each. Yorkshire cocks, long, slim, typical birds, can win anywhere, 10/6, 15/6, 20/- each; make your birds sing anywhere by using a bag of my secret mixture, 1/3, post free. Linnet and Roller Whistles, 6d. All birds on approval; cash or deposit; travelling boxes, 2d. each. Thousands of testimonials; write at once to:

FRED ALLEN, Linnet Expert,
156, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

Softbills.

HANDSOME cock Nuthatches, 5/6 each: W. Johnson, St. John's, Newton Abbot. (580)

YORKSHIRE cock Larks, grand upstanding birds, 1/- each, three for 2/6: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

JACKDAW, hand-reared, 1915, tame, runs loose, commencing talking, 3/6; bargain: Skinner, Dean-crescent, Bedminster, Bristol. (576)

SKYLARKS, warranted tame, hand-reared singing cock birds, perfect health, plumage, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishops Stortford. (573)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

1914 HAND-REARED cock Brook Thrush, incessant songster, nearly through moult, price 8/6; honestly worth double; four days' approval; cash, deposit: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 30 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable. (577)

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury-terr., Dunstable, has two beautiful cock Linnets and one cock Skylark, 1/6 each; would suit bird catcher for call birds or bird dealers for shop front attractions; approval anywhere. (576)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, very loud, can be matched to sing any in this country, good contest bird or shop attraction, 1/6; secret of feeding free; approval anywhere: George Holt, Dunstable. (576)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

TO exhibitors. The following specimens selected by an expert and fit to win in keenest competition: Redstart, Lesser Whitethroat, Nightingale, Whinchat, Garden Warbler, Tree Pipit, large F.-M. cock Hawfinch; stamp particulars: Herbert J. Chick, 43, Radford-rd., Nottingham. (576)

THE Song Thrush and Blackbird.—Full directions how to keep these favourite songsters in the best possible condition; together with directions for hand-rearing the young and the selection of show birds, will be found in "Nutshell No. 4," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

EXHIBITION Softbills. Some of the finest picked specimens for exhibition; Nightingale, Garden Warbler, Reed Warbler, Blackcap, Wryneck, Wheatear, Yell. Wagtail, Gold-crested Wren, etc., also hand-reared, clean-moulted, handsome specimens of rare Grasshopper Warbler, exceedingly tame, win anywhere; true pairs for aviary: P. F. M. Galloway, Durban, Caversham, Reading. (578)

SOFTBILL keepers, take expert advice before proceeding to buy and keep the larger species of Insectivorous birds. You will then have no trouble in keeping your pets in the best of health. This advice is offered in "Nutshell No. 26," by H. J. Fulljames. It is a wonderful little work, dealing with most varieties in a highly interesting and instructive manner. Foods and their preparation, and the various styles of cages also receive full attention. Can you breed Mealworms? This booklet tells you how. Post free, 2½d. from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Look at our list of agents; call on the nearest and get it for 2d.

SOFTBILLS: the smaller species; full information upon their proper feeding and management in captivity, is given by H. J. Fulljames in "Nutshell No. 25," which also deals with hand-rearing, and describes the collection of ants' eggs, 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; see list on another page.)

Miscellaneous.

BLACKBIRDS, Song Thrushes, selected songsters, 1/6 each; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; large selected cocks, 2/- each; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 1/- pair; Robins, Blue Tits, 1/6 pair; twelve mixed aviary birds, 1/6: George Fern, East End, Isleham, Cambs. (578)

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

NOTICE, grand lot Border Fancies, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged, state wants; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas. (562)

Crests and Crestbreds.

CRESTS. Pair 1916 Crests, 10/-, parents 12/6, nice size birds: Gardiner, 10, Withipoll, Ipswich. (578)

LARGE young Crests and Crestbreds, from 12/6 each, Joyce Barnett strain: Rev. G. Mullens, Chedzoy, Bridgwater. (577)

WANTED two Crest hens, one buff, one yellow, 1916 bred, must have good crests; approval: Penn, 19, Garden-rd., Folkestone. (577)

NOTICE, grand lot Crests and Crest-breds, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas. (562)

I AM

NOW BOOKING

orders for highest class prize-bred Norwich Plainheads, Crests, and Yorkshires, also trained Rollers, all of which will be delivered soon as ready, and that means before most others. All will be sent out in rotation. Of course, I know a certain class of nonentities always profess to have such; but really, these don't count. My present price list is free for the asking, and will be found most useful and instructive. I suggest all intending purchasers should see this before deciding elsewhere.

W. RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

LARGE Norwich cocks 10/6 each; hens 5/6: Hart, Tan Yard, Measham, Atherstone. (578)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Grosvenor, Glam. (579)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich cocks from 10/-; hens from 5/- each, own breeding: Isherwood, Bromfield, Mold.

WANTED tank drying cage, cash or exchange Norwich or Yorkshire hens: Broxup, Hairdresser, Burnley. (579)

FIVE prize-bred Norwich hens, 15/- to clear; will separate; approval, deposit: Brown, 22, Alma-rd., Weymouth. (580)

OUTDOOR aviary bred, strong healthy 1916 bred birds now ready, cocks 6/6, hens 5/-: C. Lambert, 19, Sturton-st., Cambridge. (576)

NOTICE, grand lot Norwich, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

RARE bargain. 1916 Show Norwich, good songsters, large birds, good heads, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-, £1; hens 3/6 upwards: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (579)

COMPULSORY sale through death; 23 clean, healthy birds, 16 young, 7 adults, cocks 10/-, hens 4/- each; also cages; particulars, stamp: Miss Bray, Hookwood, Horley, Surrey. (517)

SEVEN good Norwich hens, 1 good Yorkshire hen, 3 good Norwich cocks, several good Goldfinch and Linnet cocks, all proved mulers this season; offer lot or separate: Drowley, jun., Maybury-rd., Woking.

REGARDS 50 Norwich advertised last week, all letters been delayed. These birds will be sold in pairs or single for cash only, or in one lot sold on premises; they include my winners: Spann, Stivichale, Coventry. (580)

SHOW birds, clean moulted, fit for keen champion competition; three exceptioually good birds, clear yellow, £4; marked buff, £3 15s.; clear buff, £3 10s., take £10 the three: W. R. King, 200, Kingston-rd., Portsmouth. (480)

CLEAN moulted buff hen that can win, 1915, 10/-; clear buff and yellow, also variegated, 1916 cocks, 10/- each; variegated buff and yellow hens, 1916, 5/- each; six pairs 1916, 8/- pair. John Müddiman, Harbridge Aviaries, Long Buckby, nr. Rugby. (578)

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.U. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

WANTED surplus stocks of British-bred Rollers: Kremner, Tib-st., Manchester.

FEW British Rollers (Randall's), details; stamp repiy: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (576)

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

ROLLERS. Four hens, Willow's-Randall's, 3/6 each: S. Moore, 208, Co-operative-st., Stafford. (577)

1915 SCHOOLMASTER (Randall's), perfect singer, exceptional bargain, 20/-: Hill, 58, Joshua-rd., Sheffield. (576)

A FEW very good Rollers, 1916, singing nicely, 7/6, 10/6: 1915, 15/- and £1; hens 3/-: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (579)

WANTED surplus stocks of Roller Canaries, large or small quantities bought: Treasure, 14, Rotunda-terr., Cheltenham. (579)

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

SIX Roller hens, 1915, for sale, all reared young this season, bargain, 2s. 6d. each, or 14s. for six.—Held, 9, Falcon-avenue, London, E.C. (575)

ROLLER Rape, finest quality obtainable, 5s. per lb.; samples two 1d. stamps; Condition Seed, 1- lb.; Maw Seed, 1/- lb.: Kremner, Tib-st., Manchester.

FIRST-CLASS English bred Rollers, just commencing to sing, 8/6 and 10/6 each; hens to match, 2/6 and 3/6 each: Sandiford, Bird Specialist, Preston.

NOTICE, grand lot Rollers, day and gaslight songsters, prices reasonable; easy payment arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas (562)

RANDALL'S. Two Schoolmasters, 30/- and 20/-, 1915; four hens, 10/-; 12 young, training, 12/6 per pair, £3 lot; exchange Crests, air gun, lady's bicycle; see Yorkshires: Govan, Cardrona, Peebles, N.B. (579)

COOPER'S JOHN BULL STRAIN

of celebrated British Roller Canaries have stood the test for upwards of fifty years; none better obtainable; cocks, in full rolling song, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, and 10/6 each; genuine Schoolmasters, 15/- and 21/- each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, and 5/- each; birds safely packed, sent any distance; cash with order: Cooper, Roller Canary King, 162, Princess-st., Manchester. (570)

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"

FOR 1916.

The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers

NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL, PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!
We believe in large sale and small profits; don't be gulled into paying exorbitant prices for birds. We can supply splendid singing Roller cocks at 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, and 10/6 and a few top-notchers at 15/- each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/- and 5/- each; real Rollers, and not mongrels; hundreds of testimonials: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (578)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

TYPICAL Yorkshire hens, 3/- each: Haynes, 2, Delamere-crescent, Paddington. (578)

GRAND Yorkshire cock Canaries, 8/- each: Sam Hughes, 71, Grosvenor-rd., Pimlico. (579)

FIVE young well-bred birds, three cocks noted, 50/-, or exchange; see Rollers: Govan. (579)

EXHIBITORS requiring show birds, fit for keen champion competition, apply at once; clear buff, 50/- (1915); unflighted buff, 30/-; clear yellow, 50/- (1915); unflighted yellow, 40/-: W. R. King, 200, Kingston-rd., Portsmouth.

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (580)

NOTICE, grand lot Yorkshires, many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval.—McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

HIGH-CLASS Yorkshires, 1915 yellow ticked cock, 20/-; buff cock, 15/-; few cocks 10/- upwards; hens 7/6 upwards; approval, deposit: John Radley, 250, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, nr. Huddersfield. (577)

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 1/1½, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Contains complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various Canaries.

YOUNG Canaries for sale, whistling, 7/6; also hens, 3/-: Shaw, Waterloo House, Uttoxeter. (576)

TWENTY Canaries for sale, also cages, loose fronts: Shea, 229, Caledonian-rd., London, N. (578)

BARGAIN, warranted cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle-Douglas.

COCK Chaffinch, good songster, two Roller Canary hens, good cage, bargain, 10/- lot. William Rixson, Dunstable. (573)

NORWICH and Yorkshire; 4 pairs and one double breeding cage, £3 lot, or separate: Burnard, 8, Maldon-rd., Acton, W. (578)

PAIR Norwich, good breeders, 8/6; three youngsters, 7/6; single breeder, 1/6: F. Merrifield, Fore-st., Salcombe (578)

SPLENDID selection of high-class singing Canaries, cocks, 6/6, 7/6, and 8/6 each; hens 3/-, 4/- each: Princess Aviaries, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

FOR sale to clear, 3 Crested hens, 1 Crestbred cock, 1 Roller hen, 1 crossbred Roller hen, 22/-: Mills, Canterbury House, South-st., W. Tarring, Worthing. (578)

FIVE pairs of Norwich at 12/6 pair; also 6 pairs of Borders at 7/- pair; to be sent on approval, or the lot for £4 deposit: James McQueen, 31, Boglane, Arbroath. (577)

FOR sale, a few nice healthy Yorkshire Canaries, also Norwich and Yorkshire cross, all this season's birds and outdoor aviary bred; cocks 8/6, 10/6; hens 4/6, 5/6: Mackness, 22, Cyprus-rd., Finchley, N.

CANARIES FOR SALE.
CANARIES FOR SALE.
CANARIES FOR SALE.

ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.

Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.

COCKS.

One, just coming on song.....8/6
Seven, ditto ditto 49/6

Last season I gave satisfaction to thousands of buyers. Only genuine birds sent away.

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, E.

MULES—HYBRIDS.

WHAT offers? 1916 clear buff Goldie Mule, cock, strong song; hen, same age, only marked head: Hutchings, Plymouth-rd., Buckfastleigh. (580)

BARGAIN. Handsome light 1915 bred Goldfinch Mule. 12/6; over moult and in soft mellow song, Finch song: G. Birkin, 8, Fairfield-av., Bath. (577)

WANTED, 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)

HANDSOME Light Goldie-Canary Mule, warranted cock, eyes, wings and tail marked, 25/-; very pretty variegated cock, 8/6; dark, 5/-, 6/- each; Sib. cocks, 10/- each; hens bred variegated and light Mules, 10/-, 20/-, 30/- each: Rowley Elston, Crediton.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

BEAUTIFUL Budgerigars, 3/6 each: Lancaster, Victoria-terrace, Walsall. (580)

GREEN hen Budgerigars, 3s. 6d. each: J. Riley, 113, Bury Road, Ainsworth. (574)

BUDGERIGARS. Outside aviary, 5/6 pair; breeding pairs, 6/6: F. Hill, Southwold. (575)

AMAZON Parrot, talks, laughs, whistles, etc., £4 4s.: Hall, 195, Folds-rd., Bolton. (575)

PAIR of breeding Cockatiels, with one young, four months, 32/-, or exchange other Foreigners: Jackson, Joiner, Bingley. 578)

TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)

STRONG young Green Budgies, 2/6 each, not so good, 1/6; hen Norwich Canary, 2/6: Rev. Raynor, Hazeleigh, Maldon. (578)

AMAZON Parrot, healthy, good plumage, £3, with cage; can talk and laugh: W. Lettly, The Field, Mildenhall, Suffolk. (576)

BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 7/- pair; yellows, 8/-; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)

PAIR Cockatiels, grand condition, 25/- pair; or exchange Canaries and British to value: H. Jinks, 2, Bramall lane, Sheffield. (580)

FOR sale, a genuine African Grey Parrot, age three years; for price, etc., apply: H. Scaife, 81, Tranmere-rd., Earlsfield. (576)

COCK Cockatiel, 10/6; splendid bird; Green Budgerigars, 3 months old, 5/6 pair, outdoor aviary: Tom Hall, Hallcroft, Shepshed. (578)

TWO Green Budgerigar cocks, one Yellow hen, fine aviary bred birds; cocks 5/6 each, hen 4/6: Franks, Loampits, Tonbridge. (576)

FOR sale, a few large healthy young Budgerigars, outdoor aviary bred, 10/6 pair; breeding pairs, 12/6: Mackness, 22, Cyprus-rd., Finchley, N. (577)

NOTICE, grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger, price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle Douglas. (562)

ONE hen Rosella, £1 10s.; 2 pairs Cockatiels, 25/- a pair; one cock Ringneck Parrakeet, 13/-; all outdoor; unheated aviary: Lee, Hartwell, Aylesbury.

YOUNG Green Budgies, 4 hens, 1 cock, 14/-; 3 adult cocks, 10/6; breeding pair, Greens 7/6, Yellows, 8/6: Benson, Autumn-st., King Cross, Halifax.

MANY-COLOURED Parrakeets, pair, odd hen, Stanley Parrakeets, ditto, own breeding, outdoors, very fine; no exchange: Smith, Woodlands, Kendal.

NOTICE, grand lot green and yellow Budgerigars, sure winners; price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)

PEACH-FACED Lovebirds, 70/-; Madagascars, 21/-; Yellow Budgerigars, 8/-; cock Red-crested Cardinal, 12/6; cock Rosella, 30/-: Miss M. Staniland, Boston, Lincs. (577)

YOUNG White Lemon-crested Cockatoo, with handsome combination cage, finger tame, just beginning to talk, 50/-: F. Harris, 9, Loughboro'-st., Kennington (576)

PIEBALD Java Sparrows, pairs 14/6, or exchange other foreigners; wanted, Nonpareil Bunting cock, Zebra Finch hen; Cutthroat hen: 16, Lockerbie-rd., Dumfries, N.B. (572)

1915 YELLOW variegated Roller cock, exchange Houlton's "Cage Bird Hybrids," or pair Yorkshire show cages or clap nets: Smith, Crow Halt Farm, Felling-on-Tyne. (574)

PAIR aviary-bred Rosellas, 35/-; Cockatiels, 20/-; hen Saffron Finch, 4/-; cock White Java, 7/6; breeders, all out-of-doors: E. R. Phillips, Black Rock, Co. Dublin. (579)

PRIVATELY imported. Blue-checked Barbet, hen Shama, Japanese Robin, young Blossom-headed Parrakeets, Golden Oriole, Glossy Calorius, Button Quail, Indian Silverbills, etc.; no postcards: Page, Langstone, Lingfield.

BUDGERIGARS, Green 6/6 pair, Yellow 7/6 pair; healthy birds, outdoor aviary bred, six months old, 5 yellow hens, adult, 8 months old, 5/- each: Church, Grocer, Sudbury, Suffolk. (578)

HANDSOME pair White Japanese Doves, 10/-; pair Ribbon Finches, 5/6; Orange Bishop, full colour, 15/-; cock Zebra, 6/-; outside aviary: Ernest Bentley, St. Mary's Lodge, Louth. (577)

GREEN Amazon Parrot and cage, also large White Cockatoo and cage, both in splendid health and plumage; best offer; write or call: Hanshaw, 8, Bollo Bridge-rd., Acton, Middlesex. (576)

MAGNIFICENT Green Budgerigars, 6/6 a pair; lovely yellows, 7/6 a pair; outdoor aviary bred; also one cock Cockatiel, 7/6; six days' approval, cash or deposit: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

REDRUMPS, Breeders, 1914, 1915, 1916, £5; another pair, finest ever seen, £5; hen Black-cheeked Lovebird, breeder, 30/-; two young Peach-faced, 30/- each; cage bred: Goodwin, 185, Old Kent-rd., London

PAIRS Rosellas, 35/-; Black-cheeked Lovebirds, 35/-; Bronzewing Doves, 40/-; Brush Bronzewing Doves, 40/-; Necklace Doves, 20/-; all bred here and in fine condition: Wm. Shore Baily, Boyers House, Westbury, Wilts. (576)

YOUNG Green Parrot, good talker, in good health and feather, with cage, 20/- to clear; also five good singing cock Linnets splendid songsters, 2/6 each, or 10/- the five; first orders gets them: Mr. Ingram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull. (577)

FOREIGN bird and pheasant feathers wanted, clean, bright colours, also variegated; Budgerigars' tails, bird wings and tails; send what you have; fair price allowed; few black: Frederick Wagstaff, The Portway Farm, Alvechurch. (575)

ACCLIMATISED birds. Yellow Budgerigars, Green Glossy Starling, Red-billed Weavers, Orange Bishops, Peach-faced and Black-cheeked Lovebirds, pair All-green and cock Ringneck Parrakeets, Whydahs, etc.; no postcards: c/o Page, Langstone, Lingfield.

CLEARING out prices, Orange-black Bishop, brilliant colour, wintered outside, 12/6; hen Ribbon Finch, 3/-; Golden hen Pheasant, good layer, 10/6; one pair cockatiels, excellent breeders, 20/- pair; 2 large 1915 yellow Norwich hens, 9/- pair; Roller hen, 1/-; will accept 50/- for lot; approval, deposit: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (578)

THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown. Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once, 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).

WAXBILLS (Golden-breasted, Orange-cheeked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 2/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners. They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (list frequently published).

AFRICAN Grey Parrot, chocolate-coloured tail (Psittacus timneh), very rare, £5 10s.; Green-cheeked Amazon (Chrysotis viridigena), 1st prize Horticultural Hall, 50/-; Ceram Lory, 70/-; Swainson's Lorikeets, £6 pair; Rosellas, £4 pair; Pennant's Parrakeet, 50/-; Tovi, finger tame, 25/-; Yucatan Jay, great winner, £5 5s.; White Blackbird, £5; Bearded Tits, 50/- pair; Lavender Finch, 15/-; Leadbeater's Cockatoo, handsome, tame, £4 4s.: John Frostick, 303, High-rd., Streatham Common, S.W. (535)

FOR sale, nine pairs Green Budgerigars, aviary bred, 7/- pair; 3 Paradise Whydahs, in full plumage; one exceptionally long tail, 15/- each; one Golden-shouldered ditto, £1 5s.; one Crimson-collared, £1 10s.; six pairs Diamond Doves, 25/- pair; one pair Bechinos Finches, £2 10s.; one pair Zebra, 8/-; pair Ruficaudas, £1 10s. pair (breeders); one pair Masked Grass, £1 5s. (breeders); one Indigo Bunting, cock, £1; one Melba cock, £1 10s.; one Yellow-rump cock, 15/-; one pair Cockatiels (breeders), £2; six Pennant Baeur Hybrid Parrakeets, 25/- each; very handsome, bred this year; one pair Lavender-headed Parrakeets, 22/- (breeders); one hen Rosella (breeder) £2; one cock Blossom-head, £2; one Diamond cock Quail, £2; one hen Sugar Bird, blue-winged, £1 10s.; one hen Olive Finch, 15/-; two young Cockatiels, 12/- each, hens; one pair Nonpareil Buntings, £2; four pair Cordon Bleus, all breeders, 22/- pair; three pairs St. Helena Waxbills (breeders), £1 pair; three pairs Golden-breasted Waxbills, £1 pair (breeders); all been in outdoor unheated aviary, in perfect condition, and splendid health; thoroughly acclimatised: Mrs. Turner-Turner, Abbey Spring, Beaulieu

THERE is no more lovely seed-eater than the popular Gouldian Finch, which, however, is very difficult to establish. This trouble can be overcome, and the variety kept successfully. But you must follow the hints given in "Nutshell No. 14," from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C., post free for 2½d. From agents (see list frequently published).

AVADAVATS! Avadavats are very charming little birds, but they need care. The "Nutshell" booklet, "Avadavats," contains full information on the management of these birds. You cannot do better than have a copy by you, and we shall be pleased to forward same upon receipt of 2½d. Write, The Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Baya Weavers, from Bombay, in magnificent plumage, very rare, 10/6 each: Jendayi Conures, 21/- each; Golden Breasts, 15/- each; Levalliants Amazons, 60/- pair.

MACAWS

magnificent plumages, tame, talking Illigers Macaws, 30/- each: Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

BLUE-WINGED LOVEBIRDS

full wings and tail, in magnificent show plumage, 25/- pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

WEAVERS

300 pairs Weavers, magnificent birds, cocks halk in colour, 8/6 pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

INDIAN STOCK

Just arrived, magnificent stock of Indian Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, and Parrakeets: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

BUDGERIGARS

Gold medal strain, Green Budgerigars, 7/6 pair; hens 3/6; Yellows 9/- pair, hens 4/-; these birds are in magnificent plumage, very deep markings; safe arrival guaranteed: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DEALERS

requiring Parrots should send for our wholesale prices, over 700 genuine Amazons in stock, also 950 Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, etc.: G. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham. Telegrams: Parrakeet. 'Phone: Central 689.

KING PARRAKEET.
PRIVATELY IMPORTED.

Only one brought over; fine young bird, head coming into colour, very tame, £7; wires have preference, or call: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (579) arrived Monday; 465 grand selected Blue-fronted Amazons, also Conures, monkeys, etc.; send for list. Over 2,000 Parrots and Parrakeets arrived during the last month: G. B. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

PARROTS

DE VON & CO.

Just arrived from Africa, Waxbills, Black-cheeks, Violet-ears, Orange-breasts, Blue-breasted Singing Finches, Natal Siskins, Cape Canaries, Bronze-wings, Quail Finches, etc.; Scarlet Tiger Finches, singing, 8/- each; Avadavats, 6/-; cock Saffron, 5/6; Amazon Parrots, 35/-; Canary-wing Parrakeet, 15/-; All-Green Parrakeet, 15/-; price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (579)

R. IRISH FUSILIERS

Depot, Armagh, Sept., 1916.; "I received Parrot safely. It is a splendid bird, excellent talker and whistler; could not be beaten for laughing and imitating animals. Thank you very much for sending such a good bird."—T. H. Gorman (Sergt.) to W. Rudd. I have some good and genuine Parrots for sale, with or without cages. New or secondhand DEALERS can have secondhand cages for Parrots or Parrakeets at absurdly low prices.

RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

Acclimatised Talking Parrots.

Grand specimens, finger-tame, good plain talkers and mimics; prices vary according to the quality of the birds. All guaranteed as represented.

No. 1.—Green Amazon	Price	£2	10	0
No. 2.—Green Amazon	,,	3	10	0
No. 3.—African Grey	,,	6	10	0
No. 4.—African Grey	,,	7	10	0

Indestructible square Parrot cages, 21/6; approval.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, BLACKBURN.
Tel.: 947 (577)

VARIOUS BIRDS.

COCK Chaffinch, good songster, healthy, and good cage, 5/-; two hen Canaries, this year's birds, 5/-: William Rixson, Dunstable. (580)

CANARIES, Yorkshire, Norwich, Roller, cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6; cock Goldfinches, 2/-; three 5/-; cock Linnets, Larks, three 2/-: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

FOR sale, last year's cock Redcap, Mule, and wire cage, 16/-; Yorkshire Canary cock, 8/-; Budgerigars 7/6 a pair; cocks 4/- each; hen Canaries from 2/- each: Addy, 35, Upper Union-st., Hull. (576) in grand condition, very tame, lovely coats, 42/- each: Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

MARMOZETS

WANTED.

WANTED hen Blue Tit: Hon. Katharine Thring, 5, Queen's Gate Gardens, S.W. (575)

WANTED, Canaries, all kinds: Dawson, Dennistown Bird Mart, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (564)

WANTED any quantity of young Canaries: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (500)

CANARIES wanted, any quantity, best price paid: Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (570)

WANTED, few cock Canaries for cash; state price: Drummond, 15, Hutcheson-st., Glasgow. (579)

WANTED 1 dozen Roller shutter cages or training cages: J. Wetherall, 48, York st., Wigan. (580)

WANTED, Linnets, from catchers, good price given: Aviaries, 12, Garfield-st., Workington. (570)

WANTED, Cockatoos, Parrots, Budgerigars, Cockatiels, pullets, toy dogs: 17, Pembroke-rd., Walthamstow. (563)

WANTED 50 hen Goldfinch Mules, give 1/6; 50 hen Canaries, give 1/3: Windsor, 22, John Campbell-rd., Dalston. (576)

WANTED, Goldfinch or Linnet Mule for catching, good price given for good bird: Elsworthy, March, Cambs. (580)

WANTED for cash, Parrot or Cockatoo, any kind; particulars to advertiser: 17, Chalybeate-st., Aberystwyth. (580)

WANTED to purchase stock of good large Norwich: James, Partington's Farm, Simister, Prestwich, Lancashire. (580)

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries, also British, small or large quantities, for cash: Barnes and Sons, Aviaries, Merthyr. (572)

WANTED Goldfinches, Bullfinches, exchange keyless Hunter watch: Davison, Boulter End, West Wycombe, Bucks. (579)

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WANTED to purchase talking Parrot. Please write particulars and price to: "Parrot," Walsgrave Lodge, nr. Coventry. (580)

CANARIES, all varieties, British birds and cages, wanted for cash; any quantity bought: Broadbent, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. (550)

WANTED Rabbits, Cavies, Mice, Doves, Bantams, Puppies, etc.; best prices for spot cash: Kremner, 104, Tib-st., Manchester.

WANTED Yellow Norwich cock for exhibition, large massive bird, good head, etc.; particulars: Isherwood, Bromfield, Mold. (577)

WANTED, Norwich and Yorkshire Canaries, large birds, also Parrots and foreign birds: Mrs. Martin, 9½, Cowcaddens-st., Glasgow. (197)

WANTED Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, Redpolls, Chaffinches, etc.: J. Flower, 76, Selater-st., Bethnal Green-rd., London. (578)

WANTED for cash, Canaries and British birds, also Yorkshire show cages; state lowest cash price: H. Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (580)

WANTED all kinds of birds; state price and particulars; will deposit cash: E. Jones, The Aviaries, 21, Caerleon-rd., Newport, Mon. (580)

WANTED Tipplers, Beards, Bald Pates, 8/- dozen; also litters of pups; cash waiting: Worsley, 11, Hope-st., Bradford, Manchester. (580)

WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)

WANTED a Goldie Mule pure Goldfinch notes, for cash; approval, deposit: Apply, C. Blaxill, 26, Moreton-rd., Round Green, Luton. (577)

WANTED from catchers weekly, Linnets, Larks Goldfinches, Bullfinches; state price: Birtwistle, 35, Argyle-st., Whittlefield, Burnley. (576)

WANTED outdoor cold-room bred Yorkshires or Borders, must be clean moulted; full particulars: F. C., 56, Clifton-rd., Peckham, S.E. (578)

WANTED, all breeds of Canaries and mules for cash; send lowest prices to A. Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (546)

WANTED birds, fowls, monkeys, Parrots, ferrets, rabbits, dogs, puppies, cheap for re-sale; state prices: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (578)

WANTED a light cock Goldfinch-Canary Mule, also a green Yorkshire, long bird preferred, of 1916: Mr. Hughes, 233, Stockport-rd., Ardwick, Manchester.

WANTED any quantity of Canaries, Mules, both sexes, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, for spot cash; state price: Bedford's Aviaries, Gooch-st., Birmingham.

WANTED, all varieties Canaries, Mules, and Foreign birds, large or small lots bought, will send cash first: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.

WANTED healthy good talking Parrot; state price and particulars; could exchange fashionably bred Pekinese bitch pup for same: Laidlaw, Damside, Hawick. (576)

WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinches and Bullfinches, for cash, weekly supply and best prices paid for good birds: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

WANTED from catchers, weekly supply of Chaffinches, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets; good prices given for good birds: Gracie, Bird Dealer, Wishaw, Scotland. (579)

WANTED 50 Goldfinches, 50 Bullfinches; 50 Larks, 50 Pea Linnets, 50 Brown Linnets, 50 Canaries weekly; money by return: T. Green, 22, St. Michael-st., West Bromwich. (578)

CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

BRITISH BIRDS
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS
FOR SPOT CASH.

KREMNER, Tib St., Manchester.

CANARIES WANTED.

I am now open to purchase large or small quantities of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Borders, Rollers, Mules, etc. Will give highest prices and will deposit cash with Editor. Send full particulars to—

H. GLEDHILL,
Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

CANARIES.
Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London E

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly British.

SEVERAL good Bullfinches, sell or exchange Mule, Finch notes: Saunders, Paperhanger, Tiverton. (578)

CRESTS, Waltham watch, Mule, phonograph, 100 records; exchange birds: Williams, Mount Vernon-rd., Liverpool. (577)

FIVE Canary-reared Linnets, as bred, believed 3 cocks, in good condition, 6/-, or exchange pair small Foreigners: Mugridge, London-rd., Burgess Hill, Sussex. (578)

Mainly Canaries.

EXCHANGE 5 cocks, 2 hens Siskins, mulers, for Canaries, or what offers in cash?: Wright, 11, Mannering-rd., Shawlands, Glasgow. (179)

PAIR prize-bred Borders, 9/-; cock winner; yellow Norwich cock, 8/6; cock Bullfinch, 3/6; show cage, 2/-: Watson, 84, High-st., Forres. (577)

YORKSHIRE, two pairs 1915, will exchange for three good Border green cocks, 1916; birds first: McLaughlin, Hairdresser, Coleraine. (574)

WHAT offers in Canaries for suit length, good tweed, any colour sent, or sell 25s.; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle Douglas. (562)

FIVE good Roller hens, 13/- lot; two Norwich hens, 6/-; pair Green Budgerigars, 7/6; cock Linnet, singing, 2/-; approval: Matthews, 27, Dover-st., Crumpsall, Manchester. (578)

EXCHANGE young Yorkshires, cocks or hens, sex guaranteed, for fresh-caught Goldies and Bullies, cocks or hens: Apply, Edwin North, Canary Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

PAIR Border Fancies, 1916 youngster, also two Canary-reared cock Greenfinches and double breeding cage, exchange house-moulted Linnets, sell 15/-: McLennan, 112, Church-st., Inverness. (513)

ONE pair Scots Fancy, three pairs Border Fancy and one odd; three breeding cages, lift-off tops, two single cages, all hardwood, joiner-made; exchange for good bicycle, or best offer: Angus, 33, Ingram-st., Glasgow. (575)

Mainly Foreign.

SPLENDID talking Amazon Parrot, say over 50 words, with large cage, £3; bargain: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (578)

PAIR Budgerigars, good breeders, 7/6; young, 2/6, or will give little cash for good Roller cock: Lomas, 28, Tintern-st., Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent. (578)

Miscellaneous.

PAIR Yellow Budgerigars, 9/6; exchange for young hen Canaries: Carless, 69, Marks-rd., Romford.

GOOD Welsh spinning wheel, 200 years old, 50/-; exchange fowls or Canaries: Wilson, 6, Kempton-rd., New Ferry. (578)

TWO pairs 1915 Canaries, two 1916 cocks, exchange gramophone; anything useful: Porter, 8, Devonshire-st., Worksop. (578)

EXCHANGE three-quarter violin, in case, cost 25/-, for four March pullets: Young, 76, Newbury-rd., Bromley, Kent. (579)

GENT'S silver hunting-cased Waltham Lever, good order; sell 25/- or Canaries: T. Walker, 271, Bilsland Drive, Ruchill, Glasgow. (579)

DUTCH rabbits, cheap, some even marked, useful exchange; must clear; offers: Honeyman, Butcher, Ship-st., Barrow-in-Furness. (578)

VERY fine large rabbit dog, can find, catch on own ground, true to hole, 55/-; exchange anything: Motley, Grocer, Pateley Bridge. (580)

BARGAIN. Gent's military watch, wristlet or ordinary, fully illuminated, 10s. 6d., or exchange live stock: Smith, 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (569)

FOR sale, Black Pom. dog, good coat, head, ears, tail flat on back, 15/-, or exchange for good Airedale: A. Gill, 3, Morcambe-rd., Ulverston. (576)

BOOK, "Our Canaries," as new, cost 18/6 cash, wanted offers Canaries or gent's wrist watch; approval: West, 17, Kimberley-st., Briercliffe, Burnley.

WILL exchange for Canaries any of my winning Silver, Browns and Fawns, all bred same as my cup winners; approval: Fenwick, Pasture-st., Grimsby. (578)

INDIAN Gouldian Finch, can win anywhere, £5; exchange clear Linnet or Goldfinch Mule or Goldfinches: G. Holloway, 15, Ganna Park-rd., Peverell, Plymouth. (576)

WHAT offers in Italian Greyhound dogs or good whippets in exchange for pair splendid White Muffs, also pair Red Self Tumblers, £1 pair: Simpson, Ironmonger, Otley. (579)

FOR sale, Retriever puppy, five months, 15/-, or exchange for Black Spaniel or Cocker, same age; would give little extra for good dog: Shawley, Pytchley, Kettering. (576)

EXCHANGE ½ gallon of white enamel (Satinette) and 54 squares of glass, 6½ x 4½, for British Hardbills; birds first: R. Lonsdale, 80, Tiverton-st., Wavertree, Liverpool. (577)

EXCHANGE lady's or gent's silver-mounted umbrella, best quality, 15/- each, for clap net, in perfect condition: Dobbs, Umbrella Manufacturer, 783, Rochdale-rd., Manchester. (578)

NEW billiard cue and case, maker Riley, Ltd., weight 17ozs. and accurately balanced; will exchange for Canaries, or sell 17/6: Rob Smith, 44, Alexandra-rd., Grantham. (576)

NOTICE! We want Canaries, Parrots, British birds, poultry, rabbits, anything for cash or exchange cutlery, plate, jewellery, boots, tools, clothing, etc.: Write, Smith Bros., 29, Pear-st., Sheffield.

PAIR good field glasses, 12/6; exchange breeding or stock cages, or cycle lamps; pairs high-class 1916 Borders, sell 15/-; or exchange as above; offers: Rascide, Seagate, Irvine, Ayrshire, Scotland. (577)

MUST sell, yellow Yorkshire cock, Roller cock, two Roller hens, four feeding hens, one yellow Sib. hen, cock Linnet, cock Siskin, hen Bullie, all house-moulted, best offer; cash preferred: W. Taylor, Lower Birchwood, Somercotes, Alfreton. (577)

FOR sale, 3½ h.p. Peugeot motor cycle and sidecar, Chater-Lea frame, N.S.U. speed gear, Bosch magneto, accessories, good condition, trial, £28, or take in part exchange outdoor aviary and Canaries: A. Clowes, 27, Church-rd., Willesden, London. (577)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

COOK, very good, and parlourmaid, thoroughly experienced, ages 30 and 34; wages, £30 and £35: four years' excellent character from Crowborough; would like situations together: Apply, Palmeira Agency, 45, Church-rd., Hove.

Cats.

SPLENDID Black Persian male, lovely coat and tail, 12 months, bargain, 12/6; ditto tabby Persian female, 8/6: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

TWO male blue Persian kittens, real beauties, healthy, 21/- each; guaranteed males; send cash; too cheap for approval: James, 4, Worcester-st., Pimlico, London. (580)

Garden.

FRESH cut roses, 25 1.6, 50 2.6; post free: Felix Spooner, Woking. (571)

LARGE fruiting Raspberry Canes, 1/- score, on rail: Mrs. Banks, Wragby, Lincs. (574)

Ferrets.

SPLENDID clean healthy ferrets, excellent workers, quiet to handle, for rats and rabbiting, 4/6 and 5/6 each: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

SPLENDID Ferrets, good workers, guaranteed, 4/6; younger, 4/-, 3/6; last year's, excellent workers, 6/-; 14 days' approval, cash with order or deposit with Editor: Thos. Waunop, Short-st., Carlisle. (577)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES
BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from

LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON
Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d. Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

FOUR Pomeranian pups, six weeks, 7/6 each, or 25/- lot: John Thomas, Tyn Rhyd, Cerrigydruidion, Corwen. (577)

AIREDALES, pure bred, dogs from £1, bitches from 15/-; five weeks old; cheap, bargain: Adams, 47, Rotherhithe New-rd., London. (580)

SPLENDID Irish Terrier male puppy, five months, good ratter and guard, used to poultry, bargain, 12/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

Mice.

PAIR tame Japanese mice and cage 1/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (512)

TAME rats, amusing pets, perfectly harmless, 2/- and 3/- per pair: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

WONDERFUL novelty; pair of performing tame mice, with combination cage and revolving wheel, complete lot, 3/-: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (578)

Rabbits.

RABBITS plentiful; 100-page catalogue; guns, nets, traps, 3d.: Clyde, 187e, Hill-st., Glasgow. (539)

FLEMISH. Miss Hilda Seebohm has fine breeding does, in kindle, 12/6; maidens, ready breeding, 10/6; bucks, ready use, 10/6 to 17/6; fine youngsters, all prices; stamp reply: Hermitage, Hitchin, Herts.

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE

By George Gardner. A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies, and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

GENT'S silver watch, chain and swimming medal, 12/6: Gibbons, 95, Peel-terr., Stafford. (577)

NEW single-barrel breech-loader gun, .12 bore, top lever, sacrifice 22/6; approval, deposit: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (551)

GENT'S 26in. Roadster, Palmer's, two brakes, ridden 100 miles, £5; or exchange with cash for motor cycle; genuine bargain: King, Grocer, Bridge-st., High Wycombe. (580)

LUMINOUS paint for watches, clocks, numbers, etc., bottles 1/6; large horn gramophone and one dozen records, 45/-: Bernard, 93, St. Alban's-buildings, Gray's Inn-rd., London. (539)

GENT'S riding saddle, stirrups, leathers, spurs, good condition, 25/-; coachman's heavy overcoat, 15/-; mackintosh motor cape, 10/6; exchange Canaries, birds: Rider, 35, Osnaburgh-st., Regent's Park.

TROUT FISHING

Magnificent greenheart trout rods, 5/11: special new season's trout flies, 1/- dozen; lines, reels, hooks, nets, gut substitute, casts, flies, rods, tackle, at wholesale prices; catalogue one stamp; saves pounds: Midland Rod Company (C), Erdington, Birmingham. (578)

Club Reports.

ACCRINGTON C.B.S.

Special meeting Sept. 7. Mr. T. Stuthard presided over very good attendance. Decided to hold open show Oct. 14. Six champion and four amateur Norwich classes. Fanciers' support solicited.—Jas. Stuthard, hon. sec., 5, Hollins Lane, Accrington.

EDINBURGH NORWICH & M.B.S.

Meeting, 142, High-st., Sept. 7, Mr. Charlton, presided over a fair attendance. A report of the F.S. Show was gone into, and showed a balance which was quite satisfactory. Leith O.S. offer of staging for Annual Show was accepted. Next meeting, Oct. 5.—A. Bell; Sec.

CUMBERLAND AND WESTMORLAND YORKS. C.C.

Meeting Sept. 6; a good number present, Mr. J. Nixon chair. It was resolved to offer the club's patronage to four shows for members and also for cup competition for best young bird bred 1916 belonging to members of the club.—J. S. Head, hon. sec.

MANCHESTER & N. COUNTIES.

Meeting Sept. 4, Deansgate Hotel, with a good attendance, and Mr. J. Raynes chair. A good classification was drawn up for Oct. show, also a good scheme to avoid any cancelling or amalgamation of classes. Mr. B. Clegg was elected as one of the judges. At next meeting, Deansgate Hotel, Sept. 18, Specials will be allotted. If fanciers, members or not, would like to give us a donation or a Special, the same will be greatly appreciated. —J. Green, Hon. Sec.

LOANHEAD C.B.S.

Meeting, Mason's Arms, Sept. 9, Mr. Wm. H. Nelson, chair. A letter of apology was read from Mr. A. Jardine, President. Sec. intimated that he had secured the Masonic Hall for show, Oct. 14, and it was agreed to again get bills and prize cards from Leith. After some discussion it was agreed to again give every penny taken at the door to local lads' comfort fund. Medals were next considered, and the same medal as last year found favour. 12 Specials were promised from those present. Vote of thanks to the chairman brought the meeting to a close.—W. B. Smart, Sec.

CHOPWELL C.B.S.

Meeting Club Hall, Sept. 9, Mr. W. Marsh chair. Again members turned up badly, only six being present. Decided to hold our annual members' show in November on the best vacant date suitable. Sec. was instructed to gather in specials and donations. Members are asked to try and get as many specials as possible and not leave it all to one or two. Schedule of 20 classes was drawn up. Entry 1s. per cage and full prize money on seven entries. Prizes 6s., 4s., 2s. Next meeting, Oct. 21 at 6.30. All members please attend and try to make our show a success. Anyone within a four mile radius wishing to become a member should attend or send sub. to me. If they do so by our next meeting they will be able to compete at annual show. Subs. due.—W. H. Christer, Sec.

READING C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 6. Show arrangements the chief item. Decided to have two extra classes for Borders, also a class for dark and light Hybrids, but to cut down Foreign classes to two, large and small. It was also decided, on account of so many members being in H.M. Forces to have members' classes on sliding scale with the addition of specials, and a few extra classes were added. Also decided to fix Sunday preceding show as last date for receiving entries, no extension whatever (other societies please note). Many members have promised specials, and it is to be hoped that all others will do likewise. A few members dip into their pockets every time, and never a grumble, while a few never help at all. Will those members help at this time when outside specials are difficult to obtain.—O. C. Smith, Sec.

SHEFFIELD C.B.S.

Meeting 7th Sept., Mr. Jones presiding. Judging by the turn-up it seemed as if all the members had joined the Army or must have been otherwise engaged. It was a poor audience, and surely Mr. Walsh deserved better support. He is an authority on British birds, and dealt with his subject in a masterly way. He is always willing to help a fancier with his advice. Several British fanciers were present, and were highly pleased with his remarks. Mr. Walsh made some important suggestions with regard to the British classes, which have already had the Committee's attention, and something will be done in the near future to carry them out. Several questions were asked, and Mr. Walsh readily replied. Will members let the sec. have ticket money for the N.F.S. Next meeting is a table show, and it is hoped members will do their best to create some interest in the Society.—E. Sisson, assist. sec.

STANLEY EMPIRE F.F. & C.B.S.

Meeting Aug. 23, R. Peart chair and a good turn-up of members. We have made up a schedule of 48 classes, so I expect all members will send plenty of entries to give the judges plenty of work and make the show a bigger success than ever we have had.—Robt. Hutchinson, Sec.

PLUMSTEAD AND WOOLWICH.

Meeting Sept. 7, Mr. Hazel chair. Mr. Robson gave his lecture on the general management of Canaries, to the satisfaction of all present, the lecture being a special item for new members covering room, cages, stock, feeding, and moulting. Very few questions were asked, which proves the success attained. Mr. Robson was thanked, and replied. New member elected, and a good evening came to a close.—Geo. H. Maclellan, hon. sec.

N.W. GLASGOW C.B.C.

Meeting Amalgamated Musicians' Hall, Napiershall-street, Aug. 29, Mr. W. Loan, vice-president, presiding over a fair attendance. Decided to have same classification for annual show as last year, with the exception of the pairs and stock classes. Members and friends, please note that at our next meeting, Sept. 26, a washing exhibition by Mr. A. Crawford will take place, when a full attendance is expected.—P. Houston, Sec.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE (East End).

Meeting, Blue Bell Inn, Shield-fd., Mr. Geo. Mac Partling chair. Mr. R. Henderson was proposed a member. Agreed to hold a one day show this year on the original Saturday, Nov. 25, and that Novice Classes be done away with for this year. Part of the other classification was gone into; the rest of the classes will be considered at next meeting. I have not the same facilities as our late sec. for seeing and visiting members, so I will be very pleased if members will forward their subs. to my address, 109, Bk. Heaton Park Road.—Ed. Coltman, Sec.

PORTH AND RHONDDA VALLEY.

General meeting held Llwyncelyn Hotel. Members turned up well to make final arrangements re schedule and judges. Mr. S. J. Nicholas (Swansea) has accepted the appointment to judge British and Mules, and we are awaiting replies from others. Messrs. Hollingshead and Edwards kindly promised to guarantee the classes for Clear Yorks. at our open show, Dec. 14, and a few other fanciers are going to give their best help in the same way. Mr. Legg has offered a good special for the best Norwich, and several other specials have been promised. Mr. Legg will give a diploma of merit for the runner up to the 2nd best Norwich. I would like to make an appeal to all members to turn up at every meeting at 7 sharp, so as to give our members who work nights good time to get home. Will those who wish to become members turn up at the Llwyncelyn Hotel, Porth, any Thursday evening?—A. H. C. Legg, assist. sec.

PONTYPOOL C.B.S

Meeting, Baker's Restaurant, Crane Street, Sept. 9. Mr. D. R. Smith presiding. A vote of sympathy was passed with Mr. J. Watkins, one of our members whose brother, Sergt. Major Watkins, 6th S.W.B., was killed in action in France. The question of allocation of charity created a good discussion, it being ultimately resolved to devote the profits for the Old Age Pensioners. Mr. Lapping was appointed to see if we could obtain St. James' Hall for our show. Classification for open show was then completed as follows:—Norwich, 11 classes; Yorks., 11; Bord., 3; Brit., 4; Sell., 2; A.V., 1; Mules, 1; Hybrid, 1. Several classes were guaranteed, and many Specials promised. If any fancier would like to guarantee a class, we shall be delighted for them to select the same. Decided to pay full prize-money on 9 entries. Messrs. Wm. Brown, S. Waters and F. Hill, were enrolled members, and we still hope for more.—W. D. Lewis.

SHEFFIELD O.S.

Meeting, Sept. 5, at Headquarters, Mr. T. Dawn presided over a good attendance. The business was the open show schedule which was soon settled, and is a great improvement on last year's in valuable attractions. Two classes for yellows were added in Crests, and there was great enthusiasm when a member offered a silver trophy, for best unflighted, to be won three years, the winner also receiving a gold medal, and the runner-up a silver one. Yorkshires are specially catered for, as in addition to the 17 guinea rose bowl, 42ozs. solid silver, for the best unflighted, Dr. Craig offered a silver trophy for exhibitors outside Yorkshire, to be won three years, the winner receiving a gold medal, second and third, silver and bronze medals, respectively. Tickets were ready and two members guaranteed to sell 400 each, and two hundred more were soon taken up, so that the outlook is really cheerful in spite of the gloom which prevails. Schedules will be ready next month, and enquiries for same will receive prompt attention.—E. C. Job, Sec.

BARROW C.B.A.

Special meeting Sept. 9, Little's Cafe, Dalton Road, with a large turn-out of members. Schedule for Red Cross show, Nov. 3 and 4, was finally fixed, and with such a classification we should have a rare turn-out of exhibitors. Our Committee and members are very anxious to make a big show for such a noble object, and in view of the same they have guaranteed many classes. We are scheduling 7 champion Yorks. classes and 7 novice, 7 champion Norwich, 5 nov., and 3 Cinn., 13 British, 17 champion Borders and 7 nov., and a selling class. There are twenty-seven classes with guaranteed full prize money. Surely, with a schedule like this, there should be a record show at Barrow, also the patronage of the Border Fancy C.C. should help materially. A very busy evening finished with the presentation of cup and medals won at the N.F. show. The presentation was conducted by the sec., who first called on Mr. G. Large, the President of the Society, and congratulated him on again securing the cup and gold medal for the Border section. Mr. Large, in reply, said it had been his pleasure to win the Border cup nine years ago, and he hoped it would not be so long before he would win it again. Sec. then congratulated Mr. J. Higgin on winning the challenge cup and gold medal with a Yorkshire. Mr. Higgin said he was out for doing his best in the future to win the cherished trophy as soon as possible. Then came Mr. Marello, who won the gold-centred medal given by Mr. Wilson for the British section, and the sec., in outlining this section, said he was very grateful to see that in the past two or three years the British section had become one of the keenest, and had improved to the extent that it demanded a specialist judge to do it justice. Mr. Marello stated his pleasure in securing the medal, but was sorry to say he had had the misfortune to have a visit from a cat, which got into his aviary and killed his 1st and 2nd Linnets, two Goldies, Brambles and Chaffinches. I am sure we all feel sorry at his loss, as they were birds that could stand their own in the keenest of competition.—D. McFarlane, hon. sec.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

BLACKSTART OR BLACK REDSTART?

Sir,—I thought that we had heard the last of the Blackstart controversy. I seemed to discern in Mr Astley's recent letter an attempt to disarm criticism by his reference to his editorial mistakes, and, in view of this and of the fact the subject was not of general interest, I decided to meet him half-way and laid aside my pen. I now see that I was mistaken, and that Mr. Astley did not wish the subject to drop. As there was nothing on the subject of nomenclature in his article which had not already appeared in the Avicultural Magazine, either in my own article on this species, or in his own subsequent remarks, I could not understand, when it appeared in the magazine, why he had written it, and in particular I could not understand the paragraphs relating to bird shows and to the "fluting of the Blackbird," etc., but I now understand that it was written for the gallery.

Well, I will not make the same mistake again. This time I will see the controversy through, so that afterwards we can give the subject the long rest which it deserves. Mr. Astley commences his article by a description of the species, and he at once shows us that he does not know the appearance of the bird with regard to which he essays to instruct us, for he describes the two central feathers of the tail as black. It is a singular coincidence that long ago Professor Newton thought he would show how clever he was, and how stupid a well-known writer, who had dared to use the abbreviation "Blackstart" was, by suggesting that the aforesaid writer could not know that the tail of the Blackstart was "as red as that of the Redstart" (or words to that effect. I quote from memory). Like Mr. Astley he came to grief badly, and over the tail; for, of course, the central tail-feathers of this species are brown.

Then we have the old, old argument that "Blackstart means blacktail," to which I will merely reply that, though the derivation of any name is always interesting, from any other point of view it does not matter twopence to us to-day what a word meant in Saxon times. A name is only a mark or sign to denote an object or an idea, and the chief test of the suitability of a name is whether it will be clearly understood by all. To-day the word "Blackstart" means a Black Redstart and nothing else.

"Blackstart" is, of course, simply Blackstart, and those who reproduce the above ancient argument are on the horns of a dilemma; if they say that the word "black," in the name "Black Redstart," refers to the body of the bird and not to the tail, then it must also refer to the body colour in the name "Blaekstart." If, on the other hand, they say it refers to the tail, then the name "Blaek Redstart" is itself wrong and misleading.

Perhaps the most amusing of Mr. Astley's arguments is that "Black Redstart" must be correct because it is the only name used in all "standard books." At one time all standard books stated that the sun revolved round the earth, and that all swans were white. But they were wrong! Let us, however, apply Mr. Astley's test to the name Blackstart. If the readers of this esteemed publication were asked what they considered to be the "standard book" on British birds, probably nine out of ten would reply "Morris's British Birds." Let us open this beautiful and well-known work and what do we find? The article on this species is headed by the title "Blackstart," and this name is used throughout! The Rev. Orpen Morris held a university degree, he was a writer of literary taste, and the author of many standard works. I think we may say without fear of giving offence, that his opinion was as valuable as that of a "country-squire."

Now Mr. Astley has told us that it is very important to be absolutely accurate with regard to nomenclature; that it is "quite as easy to be correct as the contrary," and that he always "chooses the former;" so perhaps he will permit me to call his attention to one or two small matters. I notice that he appends the scientific name of Phœnicurus titys to the Blackstart. No doubt he has seen this in some "standard book," but he does not seem to be aware that those who desire to be accurate cannot possibly use the name. In the first place "titys" is neither Greek nor Latin, nor has it any meaning whatsoever; it was in fact a literary blunder on the part of Linnæus. Secondly, the bird Linnæus described was not a Blackstart at all, but an old hen Redstart; it is indeed doubtful whether the celebrated Swedish naturalist ever saw the former species in the whole course of his life.

I was also pained to come across in his article the meaningless phrase an "insectivorous mixture." What shall be said of an Editor, who loses a contributor because he is irritated by the use of the word Blackstart, and yet himself talks about an "insectivorous mixture"? In another contribution of Mr. Astley's to the September number of his publication I was also surprised to read the expressions "don't think" and "caught him a whack." I am sure that Mr. Astley will, on due reflection, realise that both these phrases are "worse than a mistake; they are common," and I have no hesitation in saying that the last is not English. You can catch a bird, and you may possibly catch a whack (though I am a little doubtful on this point), but it is clearly impossible to catch a bird a whack.

I have alluded to certain mistakes, but we can all make mistakes. My last comment on this article is far more important. Here we have a bird-lover (!) who confesses that he removed five helpless young Black Redstarts from a nest and fed them on raw meat! As Mr. Astley himself describes this as brutal, I need add nothing. He excuses himself on the ground that he was young then; but is he any older now? He has told us that he is naturally more interested in "rarities," and no one knows better than Mr. Astley that the reason that most "rarities" are so rare and so expensive in that their lives in captivity cannot possibly be long. He also knows that I have laboured very earnestly for the past nine years to persuade aviculturists that to spend time and money in dragging over lands and seas these unfortunate little birds is unworthy of avieulture, and does our reputation much harm; also to convince them that the hardy and common birds are generally infinitely more interesting. What I have done in this direction is but very little, not a fraction of what I hoped to do, because I have had to face considerable opposition and have nearly always had to fight alone. Still, I have been able to do something, and the time will come when avienlture will be a cleaner, better thing. I am inclined to think that after the war we shall hear very little of the rarity-hunter, and not much of moated houses.

W. R. Teschemaker.

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.) J.R., J.F.

Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.)

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.)

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.).

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. —Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Nov. 29-30—Southampton C.B.S.—(W. L. Page, 30, Bedford Place.) J.R.

Dec. 6-7—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Scotland.

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

Wales.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 68, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Ireland.

Dec. 1-2.—Newtownards C.B.S.—(Wm. Montgomery, 62, Church St.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 50,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.
Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 5229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unacccpted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 6s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

Clapham C.B.A.

9th ANNUAL SHOW

OCT. 11th & 12th, 1916.

OPEN TO ALL.

Judges.—Canaries and Hybrids: Mr. John Robson. British and Foreign Birds, Mr. John Frostick. 8 Norwich, 9 Border, 16 Yorkshire, 6 Hybrid, 12 British, 6 Foreign, 5 Limit classes. Entrance fee, 1/6. Prize money 10/-, 5/-, and 2/6. Schedules ready shortly from: T. J. Hose, Hon. Sec., 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.

REVIEW OF SCHEDULE.

SACRISTON P.P.R. AND C.B.S.—Old National Schools, Oct. 7. Judge T. Dixon. 22 classes, Nor. 4, Yorks. 4, Bord. 4, Crests 2, Brit. 6, Sell. 1, Gift 1. Prizes 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d.; fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close Oct. 2 to Wm. Dodd, Mavin's Buildings, Findon Hill, Sacriston.

Twitterings.

Mr. L. Hughes, Penygraig, is down to judge the Mid-Rhondda show Dec. 7. A good classification, and numerous valuable specials will be offered for open competition.

At the bird washing competition of the Hampstead, Highgate C.B.S., Sept. 18, Mr. W. Shakespeare will officiate in the unavoidable absence of Driver W. Knight, R.F.A., writes Mr. F. C. Knight, hon. sec.

I have removed to 26, Penybont Road, Abertillery, writes Mr. A. E. Moule, secretaries kindly note. My outside birdroom at 32, Alma Street, will remain for some time, so any fanciers desiring to see my birds must do so by appointment, which will be quite a pleasure. I have had a fairly good season, breeding over fifty from eight pairs, and some very decent ones amongst them.

Our Weekly Prize for a Letter

IT is pleasant to have again to record the fine response of our readers in so freely giving their experiences for the benefit of others who have yet to learn. Although we have allowed three pages this week for the letters, we have still on hand some exceedingly interesting contributions, all of which will appear in due course. The volume of correspondence has been been so great that we have had to hold over until next week all the letters on "The Pros and Cons of In-breeding," but we hope to be able to return to the subject next week.

The awarding of the prize for the best letter, when all are so uniformly good, is not at all an easy task, but after much consideration we have decided that it shall go this week to Mr. T. Johnson, 111, Heysham Road, Southport, for his informative letter entitled "How to use a three-compartment breeding-cage.

If we might offer a mild criticism, it would be to say that some of the letters are just a bit over long; in fact, they partake more of the nature of an article than a letter. Some of the communications have had to be materially shortened, but we hope that in doing this we have not sacrificed any of their usefulness.

So long as the venture meets with the support which up to now has been given we shall continue to offer the prize of ten shillings weekly. Readers who have ideas to communicate but who do not wish to enter into competition may endorse their letters accordingly, or may have their contributions inserted over initials or a nom-de-plume. No prize will be awarded to a letter unless we are able to publish the proper name and address of the writer.

Sixty-seven classes have been arranged for the Red Cross Show at Barrow-in-Furness, Nov. 3, 4. The British section has 13 classes, and the committee and members are so enthusiastic in their efforts to ensure success that in 27 of the 67 classes in the show full prize money is guaranteed irrespective of entry.

I was very pleasantly surprised, writes Mr. G. A. Harris, to see my yellow cock portrayed in your last issue, and I must congratulate your artist on the really excellent likeness he has secured. The bird has only been out seven times, and has won first on four occasions and second twice. It has twice secured silver medals for best Norwich in show. Very best wishes for the success of "C.B."

The fanciers of the Aberavon, Port Talbot F.A., have decided to hold their first annual show on Nov. 25, writes Mr. P. H. Morris, sec., 20, Arthur St., Aberavon. A very strong committee are determined to carry out same to a successful issue, and they have decided to devote the surplus towards a charitable institution in the town. I would be pleased if any fancier or club would be good enough to guarantee a class. Fanciers of the district will be welcomed at the next meeting at Headquarters, Hong Kong Hotel, Sept 16, at 6.30.

Our Front Page Drawings.

The original drawings of our front page illustrations, and of most other pictures appearing on our pages, may be purchased by readers for framing. Terms for any picture will be sent on application.

"The lovely picture of my hen Lizard just arrived. I can hardly express the pleasure the drawing gives me, it is so beautifully done; it is going to be framed and placed by her championship diploma. It is very nice to be able to buy such a charming original, and I should be sorry for anyone who values their birds and who does not accept your kind offer when they get the luck. I can only say I hope I may have another chance with a very handsome Long-tailed Starling 1st prize winner, only time shown last year, and other birds."—(MARGARET BURGESS, Bristol).

Accrington C.B.S. will hold an open show on Oct. 14. There will be six Champion Norwich classes and four amateur. The hon. sec., who will be pleased to forward schedules on application, is Mr. J. Stuthard, 5, Hollins Lane, Accrington.

"British Birds" for September, Witherby and Co., High Holborn, 1s. monthly, contains a further long instalment of "Some Breeding-Habits of the Sparrow-Hawk" by J. H. Owen. Three obituary notices and the usual interesting "Notes" complete the issue.

At our last meeting, writes Mr. A. Wright, hon. sec. Coventry Godiva C.B.S., 42 hon. members, and one ordinary member were enrolled and subscriptions paid for one year; I wonder if this is a record. We are making great efforts to interest the public in our fancy here, and I am hoping for a lot more members yet. It was decided to give an exhibition in the collier village of Binley, on Oct. 21, so as to spread out a little interest in the fancy there.

The Cat Nuisance Again.

Mr. F. Marello (Marello and Son), of Barrow-in-Furness, has had the misfortune to lose several of his prize winning British birds as a result of the visit of a marauding cat to his bird-room.

A New Reader Likes "Cage Birds."

I have only just started in the Fancy and have purchased the last nine editions of your paper, writes Mr. Lewis H. Bennett (Plymouth), and I have obtained quite a lot of information already for next season.

Now Then, Newcastle Fanciers.

A meeting of the Newcastle-on-Tyne C.B.S. will be held at Shield's Cafe, Bigg Market, Sept. 21, at 7.30 prompt, to elect a new secretary and also to decide if we are to have a show or not, writes Mr. W. Espie, Chairman. Past and present members are requested to attend and see if an effort can be made to bring this society back to its former position.

Red Cross Show at Blaenavon.

We have decided to run our Open Show in aid of the Red Cross Society, writes Mr. G. Broome, Sec., Blaenavon C.B.S., 82, King-st.

We have put on six Border Fancy Classes, and the prize-money for same has been guaranteed by some members of the society. I hope Border fanciers will make a note of this and give us a bumping entry. Schedules ready shortly.—Apply to the Sec.

A Useful Hen.

This year I have been very successful, having bred 23 youngsters, writes Miss F. Shaw. One hen laid 19 eggs and reared 15 birds, and also fed one youngster of another clutch. The other hen has reared seven. I have only the two pairs of breeders, so I am well pleased with the results. They have all been reared in box cages. Cage bird-keeping is a very nice hobby, and it is well worth anyone's interest and patience to try again if they don't succeed the first year.

French Society for the Protection of Birds.

A new society, to be known as the French League for the Protection of Birds, has been instituted by the French National Acclimatation Society. The chief objects are the conservation and propagation of all useful birds, and their protection from destruction or injury. There has been for several years a movement in France in favour of the better protection of birds, espesially of insectivorous species.

What Happens to Rare Birds.

A Mr. J. Whitaker, of Rainworth, who is said to have "a most remarkable and extensive collection of Albino and other colour-varieties of birds," writes to the contributor of "Nature Notes and Queries" to the "Newport and Market Drayton Advertiser," that he got last week a half-grown pure White Blackbird, a cream-coloured Robin with a red breast, a dun-coloured Blackbird, and a mottled Starling. The "most remarkable collection," etc., is thereby made more remarkable, but the country-side is the poorer.

The Wagtail's Narrow Escape.

My wife and I, writes a correspondent to "Country Life," were sitting in our drawing-room at tea one afternoon last month. Opposite where we sat was a long bay-window, the sash at one end being wide open. The window faced a large lawn, the happy hunting ground of many varieties of small birds. Suddenly there was the sound of a rush of wings. In through the open window at tremendous speed came a water Wagtail closely followed by a Hawk. Both came to the floor at the opposite end of the window through which they had entered. The Wagtail was up in a moment; it doubled back, flew out of the open window and was gone. The Hawk made for the nearest sash, which was closed. As he struggled to climb up the glass my wife picked up a light coat and threw it over him. We then opened the window and let him go. The bird was evidently a male Sparrow-Hawk. It was right on top of the Wagtail as both entered the open window; the latter, but for the loss of a few feathers, escaped uninjured.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.

J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.

THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate; 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.

J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.

W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.

G. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.

J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich; terms moderate.

C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.

J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.

W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.

H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.

J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.

J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester, Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.

C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.

JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.

HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.

S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich, Cinn. and Lia. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.

W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Hucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.

J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties

J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.

C. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.

W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

Fine Trophies for Yorkshire Canaries.

At the forthcoming open show of the Sheffield O.S., Nov. 3, 4, besides the silver rose bowl, a massive trophy weighing 42ozs., for Yorkshires, there will be a silver trophy given by Dr. Craig, for the best Yorkshire Canary from outside the county of Yorkshire, with a gold medal for the winner, and silver and bronze medals for 2nd and 3rd.

OBITUARY.

It is with feelings of regret, writes Mr. R. Hutchinson, West Stanley, that I have to inform you of the great loss that has befallen one of our members, Mr. J. Teasdale. He has had the misfortune to lose his only daughter, who was accidently killed by a motor wagon on Sept. 9. Mr. Teasdale has been wounded in France, and was on his last day of leave before returning to the Front when this terrible blow happened. I am suro that all fanciers will join me in extending their greatest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Teasdale in their great trouble.

"Cage Birds" Roll of Honour.

SIR,—It is with sorrow that I inform you of the grievous loss which has befallen the well-known Crest breeder, Mr. Alex. MacFadyean, of Lanark. His son, Private J. C. MacFadyean, Black Watch, who had won the Military Medal for gallantry, has been killed in action. Only a few days before the sad event, his Colonel had presented him with the Ribbon of the Medal. I am sure that all members of the Scottish Crest Club and fanciers in general will extend sympathy to Mr. Alex. MacFadyean in the loss of his gallant son.

J. WATSON.

Thank you for the splendid picture of my hen clear-cap Lizard which a long illness has prevented me from acknowledging earlier, writes Mrs. Burgess. This hen won every time shown last year; in all 12 prizes and specials. She won 1st Glasgow Red Cross show and the open A.O.V. championship diploma. She was bred by Mr. J. Rukin, of Rawtenstall, and I have bred several young from her this year, one young cock looks ready for a place of honour, like father and mother. The father is a broken silver cock, novice champion Lancs and Lizard show 1915 and 1916. I am an invalid in bed still with heart trouble and my birds have been such a hobby and pleasure to me, also CAGE BIRDS, which I look out for weekly, and find it such help and pleasure.

The Essentials of Aviculture.

By J. W. N.

(Continued from page 609.)

A Series of comprehensive articles, which will embrace the proper management of all kinds of birds in captivity. The housing, feeding, general management, diseases, breeding of species and of Mules and Hybrids, and finally, the birds themselves will all be treated of as the series progresses.

WHILE on the subject of hand-rearing, it may be mentioned that most British birds require a few ants' eggs with the egg food for the first week, after which a little insectivorous food can be supplied in addition.

Although every effort ought to be made to make this food daily when there are young, there are a few lazy souls who prefer some form of food that can be quickly mixed. In giving a substitute for egg food, I am not pandering to their lethargic temperaments; but, as the food about to be described is an excellent one to have always at disposal for feeding up an ailing bird, or as a change to the more fastidious, it is better to mention it here.

A Substitute for Egg Food.

It will undoubtedly rear young birds, and is cheaper where there are numbers to feed; but I think all experienced aviculturists will agree that the freshly-made egg and bread food is infinitely superior. In any case, it is better to avoid advertised foods for the purpose, and, if accidents happen the question of food can quickly be eliminated. Unfortunately I cannot give the name of the inventor, but I can vouch for its excellency.

Procure a quantity of whole wheat flour and make into a stiff dough with fresh eggs previously beaten up. Add a little fine sugar and bake for three hours. It will be found that six to eight eggs are necessary for each pound of meal. On removal from the oven it should be allowed to cool and then grated to a fine powder, which can be stored in bottles tightly corked, where it will keep for years. When used, water or milk is necessary to moisten it.

All sorts of foods are recommended for Softbills, and it would be impossible to enumerate them all here, so a few useful stock mixtures which can be modified according to the taste of the reader will have to suffice.

For the large and hardier varieties, soaked dog-biscuits, barley-meal, and oatmeal all serve as a basis, but some insectivorous food must always be added, and a supply of tit-bits kept up. The following formula will serve for large Softbills: Fine chicken meal five parts, fine crissel one part; ants' eggs one part, silkworm pupæ half-part, grated dry liver one part, grocers' currants, a few.

Dried flies are extensively used, but it is open to doubt whether the evil-smelling variety on the market has the least nutritive value. I have therefore substituted dried liver. This is easily prepared by boiling it quite hard, allowing to cool, and grating finely.

For the smaller and more delicate birds the insectivorous element in the food must be increased. The egg bread mentioned is the same as described previously: Powdered egg bread, powdered biscuit, ants' eggs, and silkworm pupæ 1 part each, fine crissel quarter-part, grocers' currants half-part.

These two formulæ will illustrate the type of foods employed in ministering to the wants of this class of birds; but, of course, birds such as a Starling or a Crow, which have voracious appetites, can be fed much more cheaply. If they are in a state of comparative liberty with one wing clipped, they will supply the insectivorous element themselves.

Where birds are intended for show purposes every effort ought to be made to let them have the very best food procurable, as it is a great mistake to economise in the question of food where a bird may carry off a trophy if shown in good condition.

Although insectivorous food is necessarily an expense to the majority of bird-keepers, green food, on the contrary, can usually be obtained for nothing, and this is fortunate considering its great importance.

Some Useful Green Foods.

Mention has been made elsewhere of the value of dandelion leaves in getting birds into breeding condition. They should be taken just as they appear through the earth, when they are very tender and full of sap, and are generally prized by all birds.

Next in importance is groundsel, the seeding heads of which are greedily eaten. Chickweed, watercress, lettuce, and shepherd's purse are all examples of a milder type of green food, and all should be employed in turn.

Green food should be supplied daily all the year round. In winter, when it is scarce out-of-doors, boxes should be sown with seeds, such as rape, and when the young seedlings appear they will be thoroughly enjoyed. Germinating seed, as mentioned later in the chapter on "The Breeding of Birds," also affords a useful method of circumventing the green food difficulty in winter.

Fruit as an article of diet is almost a necessity. Birds, such as our smaller Warblers, and many foreign species, will live almost entirely on it. For these it should be ripe but not decayed, although birds like the Blackbird and Thrush seem to prefer it in the latter condition.

Many Fruits; all Good.

Perhaps the most valuable food is the apple. Most birds will partake of it, and it is excellent as a means of keeping them in health. Bananas, pears, greengages, plums, strawberries, raspberries, and wild berries, such as the privet and mountain ash, are all easily obtainable and usually appreciated.

Vegetables, such as boiled carrot and parsnip, are often given to the larger Softbills, and are a useful help when liked by the birds themselves. In like manner, boiled potato and grated carrot, either raw or boiled, are two commonly-used methods of mixing the food.

Grasses, flowering and in seed, are an important item in the feeding of many foreign birds, Budgerigars especially being very fond of them, but many British birds also will freely partake of the seeds.

Colour Feeding British Birds.

In this chapter one must also discuss colour-feeding. In colouring birds, such as Canaries, it is admissible, but in dealing with British birds I should like to record my humble protest against its indiscriminate use. A colour-fed Greenfinch, for example, is a travesty on Nature, and does away with the fundamental purpose of colour-feeding, namely, to enhance colour, and not to change it to another of a very inferior type.

The value of colour-feeding in British birds is demonstrated in the Blackbird. Here, if it is resorted to after the moult, it greatly improves the natural colour of the eye orb and beak, although, if employed during this period a uniform rusty black plumage would be the result. If an abundance of seeds rich in colouring matter be supplied during the moult, there will be no reason to colour-feed British birds to any great extent.

How to Use Colour Food.

Where, however, it is decided to employ this method of enhancing the natural colour, e.g., in Canaries, it must be commenced a little in advance of the moult. It is when the new feathers are forming that they are most easily impregnated with the colouring matter, so that in the first week of July colour-feeding should be commenced.

It should be given twice a week to start with, giving only one-half the full dose, gradually increasing the quantity and frequency until the feathers begin dropping out, when it forms part of the daily egg food.

All shades of colouring can be obtained by varying the quantity, but three parts of egg-food to one part of colour-food will serve as a guide as to an average amount necessary. For those who wish to make their own colour-food, the following formula is the one in general use: Tasteless red pepper four parts, soft sugar one part.

Although of no nutritive value, grit must always be included in the diet, and cuttlefish is an excellent method of keeping the digestive organs in good working order. This also contains some very valuable lime salts, which are no doubt assimilated.

Carnivorous birds, although not popular as pets, are sometimes encountered, and the owner has usually a good supply of mouse and Sparrow traps. In giving small birds as food, first extract the long tail and wing feathers. A small piece of raw liver will prove a dainty tit-bit occasionally

The Live Part of the Menu.

Of insects, the most popular is the meal-worm. These are readily obtained from most dealers, are cleanly to handle, and are greedily eaten by the birds. Maggots, gentles, cockroaches, spiders, etc., will vary the monotony; if a newspaper is allowed to remain amongst bushes overnight, a varied assortment will be for disposal in the morning.

With the foregoing directions and the special descriptions of the likes and dislikes of particular birds found elsewhere in these articles, the problem of a varied yet adequate diet should not present many difficulties.

From whatever source the birdkeeper may buy his birds, all new stock should be isolated for varying periods to ensure that disease is not propagated. Two or three weeks is quite sufficient for British birds, but freshly-imported Foreigners should be kept apart for six weeks. This will ensure that the dreaded septic fever has not claimed another victim, and in all cases the rule should be strictly adhered to, especially if there is valuable stock which might become infected.

In Quarantine.

By the isolation of birds is meant the keeping of them entirely apart, and the observance of certain laws of hygiene to prevent the spread of disease. They should be put in a separate room, slightly warmed if necessary for newly-imported Foreigners, and attended to after, and not before, the others known to be healthy.

Their food, sand, etc., should be kept entirely apart from the general stock, and all refuse disposed of by burying, or, preferably, burning. If at the expiration of their period of quarantine there have been no signs of disease, they may take their regular place in the birdroom or aviary, but if there have been any suspicious symptoms, a further period should be insisted on.

Freshly-caught British birds are nearly certain to be free from infectious diseases, and there is very little risk in placing them straight away with the others. They should be placed in a quiet part of the birdroom, where there will be the minimum of movement in front of their cages, and yet be in such a position that they can see their surroundings easily. Do not place the cage on a level with the face, but have it three or four feet from the ground.

In dealing with this type of bird the novice first learns the great lesson, the carrying out of which to the letter is imperative if he is to be successful. It is: Move slowly, never be in a hurry, do not indulge in any incoordinated movements whilst dealing with your birds, or even in sight of them. The steadying of birds for exhibition requires unlimited patience, and but little will be accomplished if this lesson is not early learnt and a habit so formed.

There is no royal road to getting a bird steady; in fact, some never become so, and are better liberated; but if the above rule is rigidly carried out and the following procedure adopted, there will be a low percentage of failures.

Steadiness, and How to Get It.

For the first two or three weeks leave the bird severely alone, except when absolutely necessary to go near it for the purpose of feeding and cleaning. By this time it will have been able to take stock of its surroundings, and will be more able to appreciate a few tit-bits given in passing. Thus the emotion of fear will gradually be superseded by a more pleasurable one, and he will associate the presence of anyone in front of his cage with the giving of good things to eat.

Now is the time for the trainer to spend a few minutes each day lifting up the cage and talking to him. The bird will soon be comparatively tame, and, if a steady bird, especially of the same species, is introduced in the cage, the desired result will possibly be obtained quicker, although, unfortunately, this sometimes seems to have the opposite effect.

For exhibition purposes, of course, his training has not started, and a great deal of time will have to be spent on him before he catches the judge's eye.

The first essential is that the pose must be correct. He should be coaxed by all the arts at the command of the trainer to stand in his most characteristic position, and the one in which he shows himself to the best advantage, if only for a second or two.

Great care should be taken never to let the hand rest directly above his head, or he will assume a crouching attitude on the perches, and so lose many marks. As day by day passes he gradually becomes more accustomed to posing, and, if a few tit-bits are given after each lesson he does it all the more willingly.

When he stands quite steady for a few seconds, pass him from perch to perch by a motion of the hand, or, better still, with a pencil, and he will be more used to the judge's pencil when it comes to show day. In training a bird for exhibition, try never to miss a lesson, and take special advantage of the moult, at which time the birds are most amenable to teaching. Steadiness on the perches is supposed to count half marks, so no pains should be spared in getting a really good result. In fact, it is almost quite useless to stage a bird which is at all wild.

The amount of interest taken in the birds will be mirrored in the state of the birdroom. It should be swept out every day, rubbish tins emptied, and everything returned to its proper place before leaving. If the floor be covered with linoleum it should be washed at least once a week, and the wooden table thoroughly scrubbed. On this day also thorough dusting and polishing can be indulged in, and, more important still, the drinkers can be properly washed in a solution of potassium permanganate.

(To be continued.)

THE YELLOW-BREASTED BUNTING.

(Emberiza aureola).

A beautiful member of the Bunting family, very rare in our country. It breeds in North Russia and Siberia, and winters in the tropical parts of Asia.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. T. Johnson, 111, Heysham Road, Southport.

Enter Early and Often.

SIR,—At our meeting held last week we decided to make the first post on Sunday, preceding our open show, the latest date that entries can be received. With the greatly curtailed postal delivery, and printers being so short handed, it would be foolish to extend time as in previous years. I trust other societies will do likewise, and also that the fanciers exhibiting will help secretaries by making as many entries as possible, and also post them in good time. I think under the present circumstances this is not asking too much. I trust all forthcoming shows will meet with the support they deserve.

O. C. SMITH.
Sec. Reading C.B.S.

British Bird Classes at All-England Shows.

SIR,—Now that the show season is near at hand, and societies are making out the schedules, some of them might be hesitating about putting on certain classes or extra classes for fear they may not fill and would be a loss. Now, I am sure that if all exhibitors who are interested in certain species would be willing to guarantee a class or classes against loss societies would be willing to put on the classes.

We British exhibitors want to see as good a classification provided for British birds at the All-England shows as there is for the Canaries, and it is in the hands of British exhibitors themselves if they will only do their part. I would suggest that a few exhibitors amalgamate and guarantee against loss classes at so many All-England shows where specialist judges are appointed.

I am willing to join 12, or even 6, exhibitors and guarantee the whole of the classes against loss. Let the societies do their part by providing as many specials as they can, so as to induce exhibitors to send as many entries as they possibly can. I should like to see separate classes provided for the following at all the All-England shows: Twites, Bramblefinches, Chaffinches, Yellow Buntings, Corn Buntings, Hawfinches, A.S. Hen Buntings, A.S. Hen Finch. I trust other exhibitors will let us hear what they have to say on the subject.

HERBERT J. CHICK.

Keep The Flag Flying.

SIR,—It was with great pleasure that I read the letter in your esteemed paper of Sept. 9, over the name of Mr. J. Patterson. At the present time more than any other it behoves Societies to try and hold an open show. I know it will be impossible for some, owing to the difficulty of securing a suitable hall and most of their members being called up, but there are plenty of Societies that are not so unfortunate, and it is up to them to put their shoulders to the wheel and do all in their power to run an open show.

No doubt it will be said that owing to so many fanciers having joined up there will be a scarcity of exhibition birds. Well, of course it is bound to make a bit of difference, but it will be astonishing the quantity of birds that will be put out when the show season starts. It does not follow that every fancier that is called up parts with all his birds; some have wives that can look after them every bit as well, and sometimes better, and there are plenty of fanciers belonging to their society who would be only too willing to look after their birds during the time they are away. Then again, how many members of a society do the working part of running an open show? I think that not more than eight or ten, so that won't be much of a difficulty to overcome.

I suggest that fanciers who can afford it should guarantee as many classes as they can, it would be a great help to their societies in avoiding a loss on the show; in fact, let every fancier do his or her utmost to keep the Fancy going. Once you do away with the shows all interest will die out of Canary breeding, and when that happens it will be years before it ever reaches the same standard as to day.

As Mr. Patterson says, it won't make a bit of difference to the war, one way or the other, by our holding open shows; in fact, it takes our thoughts away from very unpleasant memories. Take my case for instance. I have been rejected for military service on account of heart trouble, not a very pleasant thing to think about, but when I am in amongst the birds I forget all about that, and I venture to say there are others that are placed in the same position. Now as regards the difficulties of the transit of birds. At present it seems to me much about the same as last year. the passenger trains around here are running just the same as before the war, so I fail to see where that will make any difference. At a meeting of the Cheltenham C.B.S. last week we decided to run our open show, and it is up to others to do the same if at all possible, and fanciers should see that they give all the societies that run an open show as much support as they can by making good entries.

C. STUBBS.

The Clashing of Show Dates.

SIR,—Aberdare C.B.S. re-met on Tuesday last after a month's holiday, and the society is now working for the open show on Dec. 7, under the well-known judges, G. F. Payne, Gloucester, and E. H. Davies, Cardiff. The classification has already been drawn out, and schedules will be forthcoming. The classification is of the best, catering for all fanciers. It is rather unfortunate the show clashing with Pontypool, but your date was the only one booked in the Show Dates Fixed columns in CAGE BIRDS. We altered our date so as to enable fanciers to deal with Cardiff and also our own show. I understand that the Pontypool secretary has mentioned that he did not receive a reply from me, but on looking up my letters in copy, I find that a letter was sent to him, and I will be pleased to forward the carbon copy to him if he should require same. We as a committee had no knowledge whatever of their date.

J. M. SHELBY-JAMES.

The House Sparrow as a Cage Bird.

SIR,—In your correspondence columns of a month since, Mr. C. Knight, after a controversy with regard to the identity of a Sparrow, asked if fanciers who had kept Sparrows in confinement would give their experiences, and say how to steady and feed them. As no one has endeavoured to do so, if my little experience would be of any help to any fancier through your valuable columns, I should be more than paid for my trouble.

I am afraid the Tree Sparrow is a very unruly customer to deal with. I have kept two or three, but as they became absolutely untamable, I gave them their liberty, and I must say I have never seen one that would take to a cage, but with regard to the House Sparrow I have quite a different tale to tell.

The best time to take House Sparrows is, in my opinion, when they are very young, say even when they are "yelping" for their parents, or a young bird when he has completed his moult. When you first obtain him put him in a fairly large cage with a deep bottom, and give him nothing only plain canary seed and clean water, in hoppers outside the cage. Don't trouble him any more, with the exception of feeding him and seeing that his water vessel is filled and kept very clean, for a fortnight, and I can assure you he will not trouble you, as you will not see much of him, for when you go near him he will run about the bottom of the cage like a mouse. After this treatment for a month he must be taught to sit on the perch and look at you, which can be done with a little patience. Now you must shift him to another cage with only about an inch rail at the bottom, and a three-hop perch. He will be rather wild for the first day or two, but you must offer him some tit-bits to make him become homely. Get some good fat spiders, pin them to the top perch, and stand close by the cage, and you will see him go up and devour this relish. Then next day let the tit-bit be a mealworm, within a week I have had them take these from my fingers. I may say I have moulted two in captivity in a cage about the size of an ordinary breeding cage, and I find they will not eat any other seed but plain canary seed, but a few live insects must be given, and with this treatment I have had them in full song. I only once exhibited one, and 19 out of every 20 persons that saw him in a cage wondered what bird it was. In conclusion I should like to say I have been a fancier for 16 years, and I do not think I have missed taking CAGE BIRDS any one week during that period.

C. W. LAMBERT.

A Prolific Linnet.

SIR,—I have a hen Linnet which has laid thirty-two eggs this year; is it not unusual? She is a last year's bird; she laid one day, took a rest of three days, and then laid on every other day.

R. HOWARD.

Why Not Even-marked Norwich?

SIR,—Being a breeder of Norwich Canaries for over ten years, my interest is chiefly centred in this variety, but what often strikes me is why it is not bred for with even markings. I know that at present there are no classes for such, but is this not the breeder's fault? I have had a longing for some time to combine good marking in my stock without losing type and colour. Your readers may think this a great programme, but "nothing attempted nothing done."

This season I paired a buff cock which had been bred from clears for three generations to a variegated yellow hen which had brothers and sisters with eye and wing marks. The progeny is six youngsters; clear yellow cock, clear yellow hen, eye and wing marked yellow cock, neck and wing marked buff cock, eye and wing marked buff hen, and an eye and wing marked yellow hen.

As the parents have hit splendidly, I think that I may proceed with establishing an even marked strain. My method will be to pair these youngsters with father, also uncles and aunts of the same strain on both sides. This, of course, will be inbreeding, but as I have an object in view, and this stock is very healthy. I do not think that I can get anything but good from so doing, and may produce what I consider a bird of beauty—an even-marked Norwich Yellow Canary.

I did intend answering "Live and Learn" re the colour question, but as Mr. Bastock has put what I had to say in a nutshell I will leave it at that.

R. P. BINTER.

A Near Thing.

SIR,—In the hope that it may be of some use to beginners I am sending a little of my own experience in Mule breeding.

To begin with you must have yellow hens, and these must be as large as possible, always taking into consideration the size of the British bird you are proposing to use, that is if you want to breed something worth looking at. The British bird must be of good stamp and excel in colour. Take, for instance, the Greenfinch, which is my favourite cross. The Finch must be a yellow, and I pay more attention to the fact that he must have a good head rather than give preference to size of body. A bird of this nature paired to the biggest yellow or marked Norwich hen you can get should produce Mules fit for the show bench.

I have found it a good plan to have a few hens all going down at about the same time, so that if the hen from which you are expecting to get some good Mules turns out to be a slacker, you can transfer her eggs to one or more of the other hens. By this method you are bound to rear one or two. In my experience the biggest trouble has always been to get fertile eggs; I can always manage to rear the young ones if I can only get them, but it is not always that I have so much trouble as with a young Goldfinch mule which I reared this season. I had put up a moderate sized Goldfinch cock to a yellow marked hen. This hen laid three clear eggs in the first round, and only one fertile egg of the three in the second round. After a week's sitting, at which time I always test the eggs, I noticed she was a bit restless, and, as I take no risks, I removed the fertile egg to another hen which had just reared a nest of Norwich and was again sitting on two clear eggs. She hatched the fertile egg at the usual time but she would not look at the young one, so I fed it myself with some egg food made into a paste, and given from a match stick. I kept it going for a day, but at night it looked a bit seedy. In the morning I was up early, anxious to see how it was doing, but found it almost dead. I lost a quarter trying to get it to take something, but it was too far gone to gape. As I left for my work I asked the wife to see what she could do, although I had no hope that she would succeed. However, when I got back I found that she had boiled an egg lightly so that the yolk would just run freely, forced open the beak of the young bird, and fed it with some of the boiled yolk. It revived so much that by dinner time it was able to gape, and as I had at the time another hen due to hatch I put this young bird under her. On the evening of the same day she hatched one of her own young and reared this and the stray mule together. The mule is now six weeks old, and has the making of a fine bird. I should like to say in conclusion that mule breeding is a fascinating hobby, but it needs plenty of perseverance to find the road to success.

P. CARTLEDGE.

A Hybrid Winner in a Class for British.

SIR,—At the Ystradgynlais F. and F.S. Show, Sept. 7, the first prize in a class which read "Any Variety British Bird, Cock or Hen," was given to a Goldfinch-Greenfinch Hybrid. I came second with a Goldfinch, third with Yellow Bunting, and fourth with Lesser Redpoll. I should like to have the opinion of cage bird judges and exhibitors whether the Hybrid that was awarded the first prize was eligible to compete in this class. Surely it is not fair competition if cage-bred hybrids are entitled to compete in a wild bird class.

J. E. JEFFREYS.

How to Use a Three Compartment Breeding Cage.

A Reply to a Query in "Cage Birds" of September 2nd.

SIR,—A useful size of cage for the purpose of running one cock with two hens is one 48 inches long, 16 high, and 10 deep, with two movable partitions at equal distances apart. The breeder will also find two wire slides the same size as the wood divisions very useful adjuncts. This size of cage is also very useful for a stock cage in winter for the hens, as it allows plenty of room for them to use their wings.

About the third week in March a hen may be put in each of the two end compartments, and a cock in the centre; and after a week or so the wood partition may be drawn from the hen which is the most forward of the two, and a wire partition inserted until the breeder can see from their movements that the twain are paired up. Give them a nest pot and some nesting material, hanging it in the hen's side of the cage, and in about a week the hen may be expected to lay. Allow the cock to remain with her until the fourth egg is laid, and then insert the wooden partition, and keep the cock in solitary confinement for about four days, when, if he is a healthy, vigorous cock, he will begin to sigh for new worlds to conquer, and fresh hearts to subdue, and, as in the first case, he may be by degrees initiated into his second matrimonial adventure. The same process is followed as in the first case, and the cock is left to "gang his ain gait" until the first hen is again ready for his manifestations.

When running one cock with two hens, it is usual to allow each hen to bring up the young by herself; but I have had cocks that could be trusted to help feed both sets of young. "Novice" will lose nothing by experimenting in this way, for if he happens to have a cock of this description he will be worth more than his weight in gold, and I should advise him to stick to him closer than he would to a brother. If he cares to try this method, he should allow the cock a few days rest alone, when the wood slide may be replaced by the wire one between him and the first hen (which, by the way, should have her young hatched by this time) and when the young are four or five days' old he may be allowed to have a peep at his family.

If the breeder has a point of vantage where he can see without being seen, it will be to his benefit, and he should keep his eye on the cock bird during the first day. If he starts to feed the young, or even to feed the hen on the nest, all is well, and he will probably slave at his task like any peon; but if he should prove refractory, or should be continually calling to his other spouse, the best way would be to push in the wood slide again and allow the hen to feed alone.

It is only by the initiation of these little experiments that the knowledge of the vagaries of one's stock is accumulated and diffused; and the novice may be sure that if he should meet with a few disappointments through experimenting, he will reap many benefits from watching and studying the little ways and peculiarities of his stock, and particularly of his cock birds. A good feeding cock is a valuable asset to any breeder's room, and only by these methods can a good feeding cock be found.

Occasionally one may have a cock which will pair to no other hen than his first mate. When he is run with the second hen, he will chase her about and give her no peace, especially if he hears his first hen call to him; and if the second hen happens to be a bit plucky, and will fight him back, the interludes between feeding and drinking will usually be taken up with Adamitic struggles for supremacy. So when one has a cock like this, whose code of ethics is above the level of the courtesan, the best thing is to let him remain a Benedict and return him to his first and only love. Canaries are as various in temperament as humans, and much more interesting.

T. JOHNSON.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 542)

A Collapsible Cage?

A Way to Reduce Railway Charges.

SIR,—When in Edinburgh recently I had the pleasure of calling on my friend Mr. W. Allan, of the Fire Station. After a chat on the war, and other topics of the moment, the Fancy came on for discussion. He somewhat surprised me when he said, "You are the very man I wished to see. Come upstairs and I will show you something that will interest you." I found the interesting thing to be a Collapsible Show Cage, suitable either for Scotch Fancy or Border Canaries; the one he had made was the former. He has it made so that he can put it up or take it down in a few seconds, the bottom, back and top in one section, and the front and sides in another. This when put together makes quite as strong a cage as when joined in the usual way.

I am not at liberty to give any further particulars at present, not knowing whether Mr. Allan intends taking out a patent or not. One thing I know, I have not been so much impressed with anything else in the way of improvement, and as a help to the Cage Bird fancy in general. All of us are aware that we are simply skinned by the charges made by railway companies at present; we pay through the teeth for every ounce of wood and wire which they handle. If Mr. Allan can bring the cage to a success, fanciers will live to bless him, that is to say if show committees will take the matter up and provide such cages for benching the birds. Fanciers would then be in the same position as poultry and Pigeon fanciers, and we could send our birds in small boxes with sliding partitions, and the birds could be run into cages numbered corresponding to the one in each section. The railway charges would be less than a third, and to a fancier who could attend the show it would cost little or nothing to exhibit. That the high charges made by the railway companies are ruining the Cage Bird fancy no one can deny, and I heartily wish Mr. Adams' idea every success.

J. PATTERSON.

Some Bird Notes from Salonica.

SIR,—In whatever part of the world one travels one is struck by the quaint ways of the people and the peculiar characteristics of the country in which one finds oneself. Here in Salonica there are many happy hours for the geologist and the ornithologist. Strange birds appear at every turn. Around the city walls thousands of Jackdaws, Hooded Crows, and Storks make their nests, and keep up a continual chatter, but it is up on the Eurenyik road that you see bird life at its best, here, where the game-keeper cometh not, and the clapnet is unknown, there is a great variety of birds of prey and other wild birds. Getting a few hours from duty a week or two ago, I got possession of a pair of good field glasses, and by the aid of these I was able to observe the White-headed Eagle, with its rich brown colouring of neck and body, circling and soaring in the air. Another species has a grey head and back, and, looking through the glasses on what appeared to be only a speck in the sky, I found it to be a golden eagle. There are also any quantity of Ravens, as black as jet.

We can easily tell when there has been a death among the beasts of burden around the camps, as the Greeks skin them and leave them unburied; then the birds of prey have their feasts, and they assemble in their hundreds. As for the Greeks, they are such thieves that they would steal a cross off a donkey's back if they had the chance. Kestrels are very tame here; one I was watching was hovering only ten yards away from me, so close that its beautiful colours were easily seen, the crimson beak and blue-grey wings and tail, and the black bar at the end of its tail feathers were conspicuous as it swooped down and rose again with an animal, probably a field mouse, in its talons. Rooks and Jackdaws find food in plenty around our camp, and make themselves thoroughly at home. Among them are Carrion and Hooded Crows. Each night the Rooks, in a long, straggling line, fly to their resting places in the North-East, reminding one of the proverb, "As the Crow flies."

Jackdaws as tame as fowls seem to replace the Sparrows in the villages, where the spacious eaves give them shelter. Round Karrissa Plain a large bluish-white Hawk, probably the Goshawk, hunts over the ground, flying very low, as if about to alight at any moment. The bird looks white in the sunlight, but on near inspection shows its black wing primaries and dark grey head. A great Owl with conspicuous white patch above the tail is often out in broad daylight, but only when the oblique rays of the sun throw shadow on the hillside. Up in the hills above our camp there are great numbers of birds, rare Buntings, Goldfinches in thousands, Stonechats, Whinchats, Jays, Wheatears, and, of course, the ubiquitous Magpie. Goldfinches are a speciality here, and make one long for the proverbial pinch of salt, but when you compare the thistles of this country with our own at home we cannot wonder at their being so much bigger. I am sending you herewith a small sample of thistle seed just for comparison with the English seed.

A pair of Brown Owls have nestled under the bridge close to our camp, and their hootings during the night are enough to move the dead. There are some beautiful coloured Buntings, and I have seen one cheeky Robin with his red breast. I wish CAGE BIRDS every success, and hope soon to be at home when this war is over.

SERGT. J. H. HARRISON, R.A.M.C.

Salonica.

[With this very interesting letter from our soldier reader there came a small sample of the thistle seeds mentioned; they are nearly as large as safflower seeds. Half of the grains have already been sown in our garden, and the others will be sown in the spring. If the plants will grow in our climate there will be a treat for some British birds next autumn.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

Redpoll-Greenfinch Hybrid with Four Legs.

SIR,—I thought perhaps my experiences with a Redpoll cock and a Greenfinch hen may be of interest to some of your readers. Although somewhat disappointing to myself, it has produced something which is exceptional, but very interesting. The Redpoll is four years old, and the Greenfinch was hatched and reared last year by a Canary. My father gave me the birds, which were kept together in a large cage during the winter months, and in early April were turned into an outside aviary. The pair were very sociable, and showed signs of good results. A wicker travelling cage and some half cocoanut husks were hung about the corners, and a quantity of nesting material supplied. In May the first clutch of eggs were laid, some broken on the floor, and others in one of the husks. Two were saved, and were placed under a Canary, but proved unfertile. The Greenfinch at first showed no signs of going to nest, but after some days a nest was built in the wicker cage and five eggs were laid. Two were placed under a Canary, but proved unfertile. The other three were left to the Greenfinch, and she sat undisturbed for 18 days. When the nest was taken down and the eggs examined one was seen to be fertile, but as there seemed no signs of its hatching it was opened, and inside was found a fully developed chick which had died very shortly before it was due to hatch out. The dead bird had four legs and feet, and all were perfectly formed. Two were in their right position and the others situate underneath the wings. I have heard of various freaks, but never of a Hybrid with four legs. Some friends of mine have seen this, and say it is very unusual.

The chick has been preserved, and can be seen by anyone interested. I am 13 years of age, and like to look through CAGE BIRDS, which my father buys every week.

WALTER HOWES.

Luck in Hybrid Breeding.

SIR,—I am a constant reader of CAGE BIRDS, and have read in its pages from time to time the experience of others in the breeding of Hybrids, so I have thought that perhaps my own experience might interest other fanciers. I have been a breeder of Canaries for some years, mostly of Yorkshires, and I have bred also a few very good dark Mules; this season I have had the luck of breeding three Goldfinch-Bullfinch Hybrids at the first attempt.

In January, 1915, I got a hen Goldfinch in a trap cage, and as the bird was very steady from the time it was taken, I thought I would keep it as a call bird. Somewhere about April of the same year a friend of mine who was having a look at my birds asked me if I would sell this hen to him, as he wanted to mate her with a cock Bullfinch which he had, but as I would not sell her he asked for the loan of her for the season. To this I agreed, and he took the bird home and paired her with his cock Bullfinch. Soon the hen showed signs of nesting, laid three eggs in a nest basket, but made no attempt to sit; then he put the bird into a small outside house about 4ft. long 3ft. high and 2ft. wide, with a half-inch mesh wire-netting in front, and which contained a cock Greenfinch, a cock Bramblefinch, as well as a cock Bullfinch. She soon went to nest again, this time laying five eggs; she sat her full time, but the eggs were not fertile, and my friend returned her to me at the end of the breeding season.

I built a small outdoor aviary, 5ft. long 2ft. wide and 3ft. high, standing on four legs, so as to be about 2ft. from the ground, 2ft. at the end of this was boarded off, with a small pane of glass at the top, and the remaining 3ft. covered with half-inch mesh wire, with a 2in. strip at the bottom for cleaning-out purposes. Then my trouble was to get a suitable mate for my hen Bullfinch. I tried everywhere locally, but failed, so I sent to Hull for a Goldfinch, and got one for which I paid 4s. 6d. When I saw the bird I was disappointed with its appearance, so I wrote to a catcher at Bristol who was advertising show specimens at 5s. each, and got one of his birds, which was certainly a very nice bird to look at.

During all this time, which was in the winter, I was using the Bullfinch hen for a call bird, and when April arrived I decided to pair up my birds. I decided to put what I thought was the best Goldfinch with a nice cinnamon hen, with the object of getting some Mules. My thoughts of getting Hybrids were very small, so I decided to put the other Goldfinch and the hen Bullfinch with a common hen Canary into the aviary to do as they pleased. In the meantime the cinnamon hen went to nest, and sat her full time, but the eggs were all clear, and she had a second nest with the same result.

While relating this occurrence one day to a friend, he told me he had a very fine Linnet which he would lend me to pair with the cinnamon hen, if I cared to accept it. Instead of putting him with the cinnamen hen, however, I paired him with the common hen from the aviary in a breeding cage in my birdhouse. She soon went to nest, and laid three eggs, and at the same time the Bullfinch hen began to lay, but without going to nest dropped her first egg on the floor. As soon as I saw the broken egg I covered the floor of the aviary with about three inches of grass, which saved the next three, and these I placed under the hen which was paired with the Linnet. She left the nest two days before they were due to hatch; two of the eggs were fertile and one was clear; it had been the same with the Linnet and Canary, and from these results, although they had not been actually successful, my hopes for Hybrids went up with a bound.

The next time the Bullfinch laid she went to nest and laid in a lined nest-pan. This time I left nothing to chance, for, as luck would have it, my best pair of Canaries had gone to nest the very same day, so I put the eggs from the Bullfinch under the hen, and she brought out three, there being one clear egg and one addled. The three young birds were on the perch at thirteen days old, and they are five weeks old to-day, August 21, and well on hard seed. I might mention that the Bullfinch sat her time out on some clear eggs I gave her, and appeared to be very disappointed because they did not hatch out. The young birds have been reared on the same diet as my Canaries, viz., hard-boiled eggs, bread crumbs, crushed hemp, and summer rape, and plenty of lettuce.

Readers will see that after all hand-reared and cage-moulted birds are not always the best for Mule or Hybrid breeding, as the Goldfinch was a fresh-caught bird, which had never had a cage moult, and the Bullfinch also was wild caught and had moulted once. I had never taken any particular care of the hen Bullfinch, as she had been used throughout as a call bird. I am inclined to gather from my experiences that Hybrid breeding is more luck than a careful selection.

S. F. SIMS.

How to Catch Linnets.

SIR,—In answer to the question how to catch Linnets, I have pleasure in sending you a few short particulars of the method I adopt myself. Before I go out I make sure that I have everything ready. I usually carry three call birds; these are either three Linnets or two Linnets, and a Linnet Mule. Birds used for call birds should be well through their moult; some adopt the method of forcing an early moult, but this is unnatural, and you would probably not care to have the particulars of the process. Anyway, the birds used as call birds must be in full song or they will be of no use.

Having the birds ready, we must look to our twigs. I use young Elm twigs about 7 inches long. I get some short sticks from Elder trees, cut into about one inch lengths, sharpen the ends of the twigs and push these into the Elder sticks. I always pack my birds up over night, and get to the catching place just before daybreak so as to have everything ready just before the birds make their first flight. Everyone knows the old saying:—"The early bird catches the worm," but in this case the early catcher catches the bird. The bird lime used must be of good quality, and the Elm twigs are smeared with this, and placed in the vicinity of the call birds' cages. If one can find a stone wall which is covered with ivy, then the call birds cages can be placed along the top of this wall, and the limed twigs inserted into any convenient place near them.

As soon as the bird is caught, its plumage should be rubbed with a little paraffin oil which will quickly take off any portion of bird lime which may have become attached to the feathers. The catcher should never neglect to clean in this way any bird that he may take which he does not wish to keep. It is said that some catchers either kill unwanted birds or throw them away without taking the trouble to clean their plumage. This is a cruel method and helps to bring disrepute upon bird catching. I am pleased to say that since my letter appeared giving a few remarks on how to keep the Linnet, I have had several letters from readers of CAGE BIRDS, thanking me for the notes.

W. COWARD.

Owls and Water.

SIR,—I saw in an article in CAGE BIRDS that the Tawny Owl does not drink water. I was very much surprised, and rather horrified to read this, as I had a splendid specimen which would come and bathe and drink like any other bird, and shake and preen out its feathers no matter who was standing by. I am sorry to say I had to part with him and most of my birds last year. I would tell anyone who wants to keep an owl in good condition to give it a large bowl of water, and let its staple food be a side of "lights" fresh twice a week, and, of course, a small bird or a mouse if it is to be had.

They need a dark place to rest in during the heat of the day, and will soon become quite tame. This one would perch on my head or shoulder, and would never fail to answer if spoken to, even when it was too lazy to put in an appearance.

They are very cleanly birds for their size, and considering the nature of their food. I kept the floor of his house covered some inches thick with plain earth, and I noticed that he always rubbed his beak in it till it was quite burnished after he had had a bath. I think I told you before he often had a visitor at night time, and this was at the bottom of a good deal of trouble which I occasionally got into over him. People are so foolishly superstitious over them, believing their cries portend death and all manner of trouble.

One friend had about 150 birds from me; he lost 19 at first, but only one since, and he has asked me a question about over-growing beaks, and if anything can be done for them. I wonder if any of your correspondents could tell him how best to cut them. My old birds were never troubled in that way, and those whose beaks have overgrown must have been amongst the quite young ones. I only left myself the two nests; three young were reared, one cock and two hens, and I have now eight young ones and three Greenfinch Mules from them.

(Mrs.) E. M. SARGEANT.

Bullfinch Hens for Hybrid Breeding.

SIR,—As promised at the commencement of the breeding season, I now send a few lines as to how I got on with my three Bullfinch hens.

Siberian cock and British hen: This hen laid as follows: May 29 one egg, June 12 one, June 29 one, July 8 one, and July 16 one. The egg laid on June 12 was the only one fertile, and I have succeeded in rearing the young bird up to the present time. All the eggs were dropped from the perch, and the hen did not offer to sit. I kept this pair in a cold room in my house.

Cock Canary and British hen: Although the cock continually fed the hen from the end of May to the last week in July, and I saw her carrying nesting materials about, she did not lay or offer to make a nest. The cock is two years old, was in good breeding condition, and from the time it could pick up has always been with hen Bullfinches, as I was informed I should stand a better chance of getting fertile eggs if the cock Canary had never paired with a hen Canary. I think the hen is too old, or I give my hens too much hemp seed and so make them too fat. I hope next season to get a fresh young hen and try again.

British cock Goldfinch and British hen Bullfinch: This hen paired with a cock Bullfinch which was flying with her, and laid 19 eggs, so I ran the Goldie with one of my hen Canaries, and as he filled eggs I shall try again next year with him. Both the last pairs were out of doors.

If any of your readers will give me a few hints as to where I was wrong with my Canary-Bullfinch pair I shall be much obliged. Also I should like to know if Bullfinch hens can do without hemp seed if I give sunflower seed instead through the moult and winter. Might I suggest a letter or article on "Greenfinch hens, and how to feed and get them into condition for breeding," by a well-known fancier? I believe, from what I have read in CAGE BIRDS, that I should have reared some of the young Bullfinches from my pair, if the Greenfinch hen I had would have laid or nested.

CANARY-BULLFINCH.

(Correspondence continued on next page)

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 543.)

A Great Surprise.

Sir,—Please allow me a small space in our most valuable paper Cage Birds to thank you sincerely for the great surprise I had when I received my Cage Birds on Friday, Sept. 1, on seeing the portrait of my ticked Norwich, which won 1st and special at the Dulwich and Peckham C.B.S. show. Great credit is due to Mr. Norman for the way in which he drew the picture. I have had a fancier up to see the bird and he picked it out from the picture on the front page of Cage Birds. We must all be very thankful to have such a weekly journal from which we can obtain so much knowledge and information. I take two copies every week, one for a friend and one for myself.

I have had the best of breeding seasons this year. From six pairs of Norwich I have bred 29 young ones and all are doing well, and from 10 pairs of Yorkshires I have bred 29, and I hope they will give a good account of themselves when the show season opens. I wish Cage Birds and the Fancy the best of good luck. W. Gilbert.

A Tame Sparrow and a Clever Greenfinch.

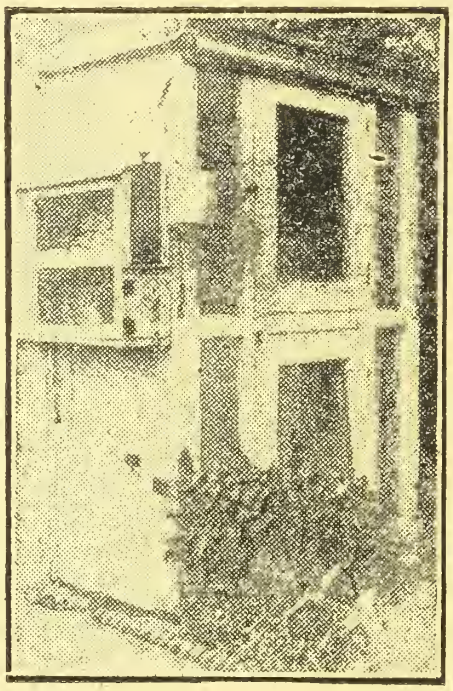
Hopes of Greenfinch-House-Sparrow Hybrids.

Sir,—A few weeks back one of your correspondents asked if anyone could tell him something about Sparrows in confinement. I have one, hand-reared, which a friend brought to me, escaped from the nest at about three weeks old (it is now about three months old). I fed it on the same food as my young Canaries, egg and biscuits, also crushed hemp and soaked bread. It is now very strong and healthy, though very ragged and short of feather, though I suppose it will be all right when it moults. It will eat almost anything I offer it now, but its staple food is mixed bird seed. It is very intelligent and tame, and takes great notice of me. It lives with a young Greenfinch about the same age, which I also brought up by hand. He will stand on my finger, and peck off my hand, and will let me do almost anything with him. He is great pals with the Sparrow. I have seen them feeding each other, but they sometimes have a few words, and then the Sparrow has to go under as it is a much smaller bird. I think it is a hen, but I am quite sure the Greenie is a male bird as he begins to warble nicely, though if he moults all right he will be mostly yellow. He is a fine bird now. He imitates the Canary's song. I thought perhaps if I can keep them alive till next season they might pair and have young, if such a thing could happen.

The Greenie, which I call Jimmy, is very clever; he has learned to lift the catch of the door, he then pushes it open with his beak and steps out on to the threshold, or invites the Sparrow to do so. When I tied the door with string, he tried to untie it, and when he found he could not do so he went to the end door of the cage and undid that, and I found him out in the room. They are in an old breeding cage. I find Sparrows very easy to keep. I have had two, one of which lived for six years, but I did not hand-rear that one, as it was left with me. I find they eat anything, including peas and beans, and mine is very fond of a piece of plain bread. I also have a few Canaries, about which I must tell you later on. I have just got a baby Canary two days old, the last of ten nests, and the only one living. I had bad luck this year, so if this one dies it will crown my misfortunes, all the young dying in the nest at a few days old. I take Cage Birds every week, and find it a useful help. I should advise every bird-keeper to take it weekly.

(Miss) C. Farrow.

Breeding Goldfinch-Bullfinch Hybrids.



Success in a Converted Meat Safe, After Two Failures in an Aviary.

Sir,—Three seasons back I made up my mind to try and breed the Goldie-Bullie Hybrid, so I bought two hen Bullfinches, as I had several cock Goldies by me, and in a long outdoor flight I fixed up two nest pans and put in two pairs of birds, separating them with a sliding shutter. During the season both Bullies laid, never in the nests but always from low perches on to the sawdust. The eggs never came to anything, so towards the end of the season I took away the cocks and let the hens fly together. Between them they laid seven eggs, some in the nest and some on the floor. I put them all in one nest and they both sat on them, more often than not cross-ways on top of each other.

I rode out to a farm to find a nest of Bullfinch eggs, but failing in this I brought home a nest of Linnet eggs, took away their own, and gave them the Linnet's; these they hatched out and reared until eight days old, and then left off feeding, and the end of first season came with no birds.

The next year I gave the whole of the flight to one pair, and the other pair I put in a large outdoor cage. The hens laid some 10 or 12 eggs each, more often than not on the sawdust, and these I gave to various sitting Canaries. I only had one fertile egg, and this I broke thinking it had gone past the time. End of second season, no birds.

I don't think I should have tried again, but I had to go and look at a house of furniture a gentleman wanted put on rail, and in the garden among a lot of odd timber was a large meat safe which had been used as a shelter for plants at night. As the safe was not worth paying carriage on to London, it ended in my buying the lot cheap, and I set to work at night and converted the safe into an aviary. When I had it finished and fixed up, early in the year, I liked the look of it, and thought I might be able to breed the Hybrids in it. First, the contrivance had been a meat-safe; next, it was used as a packing case to convey a piano from London to Stratford-on-Avon; next, it was a sort of greenhouse to protect plants at nights, and now it was an aviary.

MR. BURROWS' MEAT-SAFE AVIARY.

By this time I had sold one of the Bullfinch hens and the two cock Goldies, leaving myself with one hen Bullie only, but previous to this I had bought and moulted a fine large cock Goldfinch, and this I put in the aviary with the Bullfinch. The Bullie was not long before she laid five eggs, all in the nest, and I took away the Goldfinch and left her to sit them out, which she did all right. Two hatched out and three were unfertile. She started to feed, and all went well until the third day, when she flew off the nest with one under her wing and dropped it on the floor. I was not at home, but if I had been the result must have been the same, an early death. She went on feeding the other until it was eight days old, and then, wanting to go to nest again, left it.

I put the Goldie back with her again and she laid another five eggs and hatched the lot, though one of the youngster only got half out of the shell and one died in the nest at three days old. At this stage I put in the aviary a Roller hen Canary which I knew to be a good feeder, and, strange to say, the two hens agreed, the Bullfinch allowing the Canary to brood and feed them at the same time as she was feeding them herself. This working all right, I put back the cock Goldfinch, and he was not long before he was feeding the young also, and between the three of them two fine large birds were reared which are now on colour-food. The third was a very small bird and remained in the nest long after the other two came out. On August 3 she started to lay again, and by the 7th had laid five eggs, but these proved to be all unfertile. To-day, as I write, August 31, she is again nesting, and in the meantime the Roller hen has gone to nest and is now sitting on four eggs.

Amongst the food I kept a good supply of nice dry gentles always at the disposal of the Bullfinch, and this was the chief food she used in rearing the young. Amongst the many kinds of green food supplied, shepherd's-purse was a favourite. Nearly all the seed supplied I put through one of Walsh's mills, and sunflower seed was included. Blight or green-fly was discarded so long as gentles were to be got at, and I only kept these away one day. Chas. Burrows.

Wake Up, Show Committees.

The Patronage of Specialist Clubs.

Sir,—I was interested in reading the scathing remarks of Mr. Patterson on the above subject. What a pity his conjecture was not addressed to the Forder F.C.C. If he could only wake them up, I think he would have no cause to whine at committees being asleep. On the contrary, they are very wide-awake, and only cater for those clubs whose support is worth having. Last year Sheffield O.S. was allotted the Border Fancy C.C. patronage, having given a satisfactory classification and provided a suitable judge. The prize-money was 10s., 6s., 4s., and 2s. (half under eight entries), and three handsome specials for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, most points. The railway facilities are second to none, and the treatment of exhibits equally good.

What was the result? A miserable forty-six entries in eight classes, an average of less than six per class. Does such a patronage tempt any society to make an application when they have once been bitten? Not likely; and when other societies seeking something to improve their schedule notice our catalogues, they will not risk the chance of paying something for nothing.

Societies don't seek patronages for philanthropy. They want support, not sympathy, and if specialist clubs do not send good entries along, they naturally are left out the following year. I wonder if Mr. P. is really such a benefactor to the cause he so volubly advocates. If he has the courage of his convictions, let him devise some means to make more fanciers exhibit, and I assure him Mr. Smart will have more applications for patronage than he can cope with. W. Craig

How NOT to Breed Canaries.

Sir,—I have read a good many articles and letters in Cage Birds on "How to Breed Canaries"—the wording may have been different but the ultimate object of the article was as I have put it. Now, it has struck me that there is another side of the picture, and, as I started this season as a very ignorant novice, and have paid very dearly for my knowledge, I propose to give away a great deal of very valuable information on "How Not to Breed Canaries."

My initial mistake was that I left the purchase of my breeding stock until too late; it was not my fault, but I started to buy in March. I now know that you should purchase your stock about the end of October, when the birds will be all moulted out—at least, those that are to be of any use next breeding season.

Don't buy late hatched birds, and don't buy second-year hens unless you know them. Get your birds early, and get used to them; also get them used to you, your feeding, and general management.

Don't buy cheap birds; pay up to every penny you can afford, and get the best birds you can for the money. Don't buy birds with weak heads, that is another point worth remembering if you are going in for "Norwich" (I don't know anything about any other variety).

Purchase your birds from one breeder, and purchase all your birds from him; his birds will probably be line bred, and belong to one big family or strain, and it is a much shorter cut to success on the show bench than buying cocks from one man and hens from another. You are much more likely to get type and quality in your youngsters by the former method than if you buy indiscriminately.

Don't buy your stock and then join a cage bird society. Do it now, and attend the meetings. You will be surprised what a lot of information you will pick up, what a decent lot of men the working-men members are, how anxious they are to help you, and how "bucked" they are when you toddle round on a Sunday—by invitation, of course—to look at their stock. Don't talk too much, let your host do all that, but don't be afraid to ask sensible questions.

Having fairly started, don't be too anxious to put your birds together; wait until the weather has absolutely settled and the nights are nice and warm. This has been a most treacherous season, and I buried over forty youngsters in one week owing to inclement weather.

By mating early you get unfertile eggs, and you are sapping the vitality of your birds, particularly your hens, and you are only laying up trouble for yourself at the fag end of the season, and running the risk of losing your birds in the moult.

When the hen is laying don't be always poking her off the nest to see if she has laid "another one"; she'll come off to feed all right, and that's your chance. When your hen is hatching, don't worry her; exercise patience, and look to see what is going on when she comes off; leave her severely alone, for many hens "chuck work" through too much grandmotherly attention.

Don't forget to keep everything scrupulously clean, and, a very good tip to keep down vermin, prevent septic fever, and generally keep up the tone of your birds, old and young, is to spray them with a twenty-five per cent. solution of Sanitas and water on warm days. You can use it on the tiny youngsters in the nest—in fact, anywhere. Being non-poisonous, it does not affect the food. On the floor of the room, too, it acts as a perfect germicide, and keeps everything sweet and clean. Beejay.

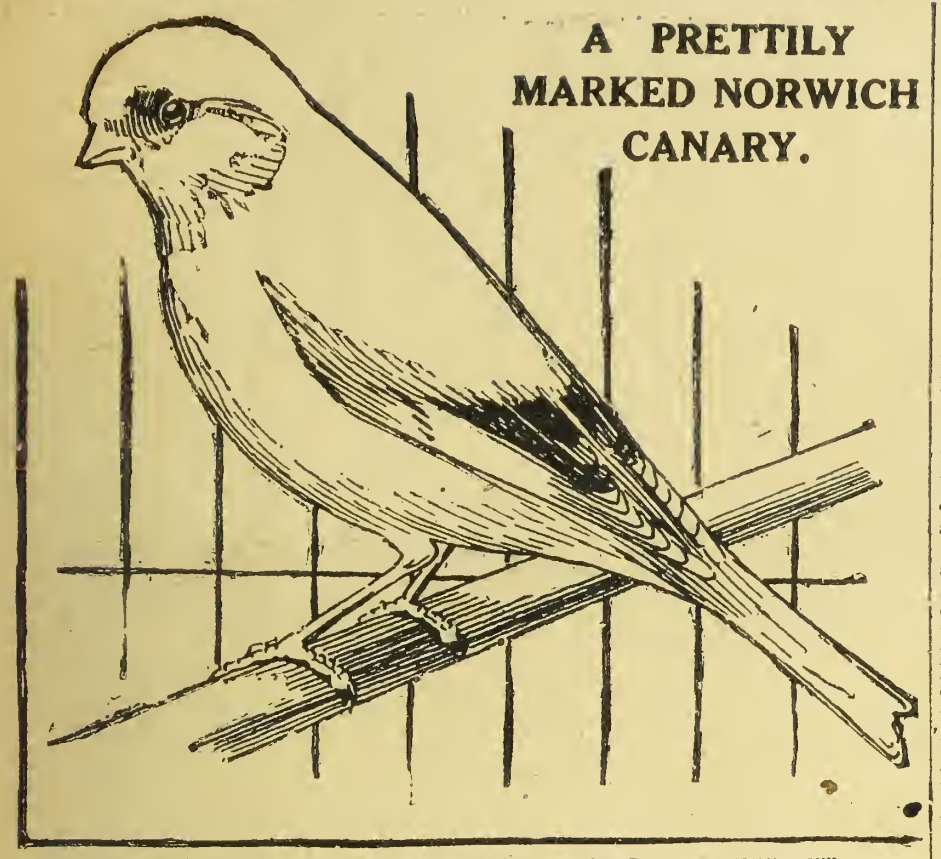
P.S.—Since I penned the above letter I note that Mr. Bastock has somewhat cut the ground from me, but I hope it contains sufficient information of value to justify its publication.

Wild Seeds and How to Store Them.

Sir,—The sound of the reaper is to be heard on every hand in the country just now, and when the farmers start their harvest then is the time for the bird fancier to start also, as the seeds which are of such value in the keeping of British Hardbills are ripe at the same time.

I am a Canary breeder as well as a British and Hybrid man, and I am never without a good stock of wild seeds for my birds, for I find them of the very greatest assistance in getting the birds into proper condition during the show season. In the spring I gather all the dandelion heads I can find, as I consider this the finest of all wild seeds. With a sharp pair of scissors I cut off the top part as close to the seed as possible, spread the pods out on a sheet of paper in the sun in my bird room to open out and dry, which they do in a few days' time, and then I put them through a sieve which allows only the seed to pass through. After sifting, the seed is again left on the paper to harden off.

Shepherd's purse is the next seed I start to gather, and this I treat in the same way as dandelion. This plant can be gathered for months as it is continually springing up, both by the wayside and in turnip fields, and is therefore always easy to get. Then comes the thistle. In gathering these I hold an open bag under the seed heads and snip off three or four of the top heads on the stem, letting them drop into the bag. I only take the three or four top ones, as I find the others mostly have immature seed in them which is of no use. To get the seeds out of the heads I place a few in a canvas bag, and either put them in the oven or on the top of stove; the heat will open them out in a very short time. I then give them a few good raps with a stick, turn them out on to a sheet of stiff paper thinly, and set fire to them. The fluff is gone like a flash of powder, and the seed is not harmed in the least. Then I put it through a sieve and put it on the sheet the same as dandelion.



Next comes plaintain or rats tail; the seed of this is easily extracted, as all you have to do is to leave them until they turn brown, run your hand down, and the seed will fall out. Put these through the sieve and store away. Knapweed or hard heads comes next. As with dandelion I always get as many of these as I can nicely store, but unlike the others I leave them on the stems and let the birds hunt the seeds out for themselves, as they make very little dirt in so doing. When the threshing season starts I get a supply of charlock, lady thistle, sow thistle, and a host of other wild seeds which grow in the corn, and which are to be had for the asking, as the farmer is always glad to get rid of them, and even if you cannot get to the thresher the farm lad will always save you some for a very small trifle.

I should like to say that I have kept Linnets, Goldfinches, Greenfinches, Redpolls, Bramblefinches, Bullfinches, Chaffinches, and Yellow and Corn Buntings, all in the pink of health and condition through giving them wild seeds as tit-bits throughout the winter and early spring. I would, however, impress upon all who store wild seeds to be certain to get them perfectly dry before putting them away, or trouble will follow.

J Marwood.

(Many interesting letters held over.)

"PIGEONS"
The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.
Coloured Plates a Special Feature.
The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,
"FUR & FEATHER"
The only Paper devoted to these subjects
Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.
Offices: Idle, Bradford, Yorks

A PRETTILY MARKED NORWICH CANARY.

Winner of 1st Prize at the London and P.O.S. Show for Mr. R. J. Burt, Notting Hill.

My First Attempts at Bird-keeping, and the Sequel.

By "BEENI," Sonning.

I HAVE become acquainted with a gentleman whose practical knowledge of wild bird life is, in my judgment unequalled for variety, detail, and truth. I have spent many happy hours with him in the woods, and he has opened before me a page in the book of Nature which has for long been sealed to me—a page moreover, which, for sheer fascination by the knowledge revealed, would be difficult to equal. It is no falsehood when I state that from him I learnt more in an hour than my own erratic efforts could teach me in a year.

As a specialist in the keeping of wild birds in captivity he is, I firmly believe, without peer. I have seen birds which, to the layman, would seem impossible to tame, under his care and treatment become so amenable that one would hesitate to believe that those same birds had ever lived anywhere but in a cage.

A Wonderful Collection.

Nightingales, Warblers of every species, Wagtails, Woodpeckers, Wrynecks, Wheatears, in fact every kind of insectivorous bird could have been seen in his admirable aviaries at some time or other, and for condition, appearance and song these birds could not be surpassed. This result has only been obtained by painstaking observation of birds under their natural conditions of life. By studying their habits, and by a careful consideration of their foods, he has been able to achieve results little short of marvellous.

But as the gentleman is well known to many who read these pages he will not, perhaps, thank me for unsolicited publicity, so I will get to my subject.

Catching some of his enthusiasm, I became infected with a desire to enter the ranks of the Fancy, and having a love for nature and her creatures, nothing would suffice but that I must keep a bird-room. The extent of my previous experiences in this direction was keeping a Greenfinch which I purchased six years ago in Gloucester for threepence. Not knowing of the existence of CAGE BIRDS at the time, I was without the valuable information to be obtained from its pages, and did not even know that suitable cages could be purchased for a moderate sum.

Accordingly I set to work to make my bird a home, and evolved a weird and wonderful contrivance of wood and wire into which I placed my bird. For some time he was mopy, and one morning I discovered that he had pecked all the toes off one foot in the endeavour to remove the lime with which he had been caught, and which had caked solidly on his foot. I have learnt one lesson from this. I always wash a bird's feet directly he comes into my possession, and when they are dry I paint them with a mixture of equal parts of iodine and Friar's Balsam. This I find saves them from sore feet, a trouble to which birds in confinement are liable.

My pet's foot healed in time, and although it is now merely a stump, it seems to inconvenience him but little, for he hops and perches without difficulty. I am never without a little bottle of tincture of iodine and another of Friar's Balsam, and whenever I see signs of foot trouble an application of the mixture generally settles the business.

An Ambitious Commencement.

But to continue with my experiences. A few months ago I decided to extend my efforts. My friend gave me a start with a Tree-Pipit and a Yellow Wagtail. The Pipit was without doubt a perfect bird. Reared from infancy by hand, he had passed through his first moult, and had come out of it with markings absolutely perfect. With his beautifully marked breast and his delicate shape he was a picture. I was indeed proud of him, and he soon settled down in a large box cage of my own construction, (a proper one this time). The Yellow Wagtail was also a fine bird. He became very tame, and his perky manner soon made him a favourite in the home.

But now I come to my woes. I determined to have more birds, and, stupidly enough, without confiding in my friend and asking his advice I sent off to an advertiser for some Linnets and Greenfinches. Being new to the game I did not specify how the birds were to be packed. A post-card arrived informing me that they were to be sent by a certain train on a certain day.

Making allowances for the length of the journey, I met every possible train by which they could arrive that day and the two following, but no birds arrived. A second postcard informed me that the dealer was sorry, but he had missed the train and the birds would be sent off by the mid-day train on Saturday. Ye gods! And this with a journey of well over 100 miles before the poor creatures, including transition across London from one terminus to another.

Would I "meet the trains on Saturday evening to ensure the birds not being left over Sunday!" Of course, I again haunted the station until the porters got tired of my repeated enquiries. To do these men justice, however, they expressed anxiety for the birds and sympathy for me.

On Sunday I was early at the station, and by good luck the parcels office was open. In answer to my enquiries a cardboard box about three inches in depth and nine inches by six inches was handed to me. Into this had been crammed 4 Linnets and 3 Greenfinches—a veritable "Black Hole" in bird history.

On reaching home and opening the box two of the Greenfinches and one Linnet were dead, and had been for some time. In the restricted space thus remaining the other birds had survived by a miracle for 24 hours without water, but they were in sorry plight. A Linnet and the last Greenfinch died in the night, and out of the seven birds originally sent me but two Linnets remained. These two looked like making fairly decent birds, but one morning when cleaning them out one of them slipped through my fingers and was out of the open window of the bird-room before I could turn round.

A Pious Wish.

My chagrin can be imagined, but I carry in my mind the note of joy with which the poor chap hailed his freedom, and my only wish is that he may find his way back to where he was caught, and there gather together all the wild birds he can, acquaint them with his experiences, and tell them to beware of the nets of the snarer who sent him on a long journey in summer, packed with six others, without water, in a cardboard box.

Now for further woes. One night, when sleeping in a room adjacent to the bird-room, I heard a commotion of fluttering in the cages. As it quickly subsided I took no further notice, and dropped off to sleep. In the morning I found to my disgust that my lovely Pipit had gone. The cage was empty, but how he had got out is a mystery. It must have been he that I heard fluttering around the room in the night. The window being slightly ajar for ventilation he, too, had found freedom and left me forlorn.

And now for the finishing touch of my run of bad luck. A few days ago when visiting the birds I noticed that my one remaining Linnet did not hop about as he usually did when I went near. Instead, he was against the cage front looking very miserable, and I soon found out that he had got one of his legs caught between the bottom of the wire front and the bottom rail. In his endeavours to struggle free he had broken his leg beyond all hope of recovery. He did not survive the injury, and thus passed away the last of the ill-fated seven.

My woes may seem largely of my own making, and it is because of this that I have deduced therefrom some lessons of value to me. I am not discouraged, and hope shortly to have more birds to replace those so unfortunately lost. These lessons may possibly be of some benefit to a beginner, and I here place them on record:—

Some Wise Maxims.

Buy your birds from a dealer with a reputation to maintain. Don't be tempted to purchase a crowd of birds because they are offered at ridiculously low prices.

Insist upon them being sent in a wooden box with plenty of head room. If necessary, be prepared to pay a trifle extra for the box. Reputable dealers, however, are sufficiently solicitous of the welfare of the birds they dispatch to see that they are well prepared for a journey of any length.

Give your address carefully, and where this differs in respect of the postal address and the address as to route and nearest station, make it clear as to which station they are to be dispatched, and the method of subsequent delivery. Never allow birds to be forwarded so as to arrive on, or near, Sunday. An unexpected delay might lead to incarceration in the parcels office during Sunday.

Seek the advice of an experienced fancier before purchasing any birds. It is cheaper in the long run, and may save many disappointments.

As a final suggestion it seems to me that readers of CAGE BIRDS might unite through the medium of the journal, and "black list" those dealers whose only aim is to rake in profits without any regard to the quality of the birds they sell, or the cruelty they inflict upon them in disposing of them to purchasers. Surely the fair and honest dealers who advertise in such an admirable medium as CAGE BIRDS would not wish to be judged as to their business methods and humanity from the experiences of such as myself, who answer advertisements in all good faith, and then have to feel that they have unwittingly given suffering to the very creatures they love.

The Border Fancy Canary and Its Origin.

A paper by Mr. J. PATTERSON, Chirnside, read before the members of the Border Fancy Canary Club.

PREVIOUS to the year 1890 the Border Fancy as it is now called was known and exhibited as the Common Canary here in Scotland, and in the North of England as the Cumberland Fancy.

I well remember a very heated discussion carried on in the Fancy Press about the home of the Border Fancy, and when it was first bred, English fanciers holding out that Cumberland held prior claim while we on this side of the Border were quite as emphatic that Scotland had the right to the honour. My own opinion then as it is to-day, was that Langholm Fanciers were the first to take up the variety as a show bird.

A Name That Did Not Fit.

That they were not fortunate in selecting a name for their bird we all admit, and whoever first called our wee favourite a common Canary was a little out of the common himself, and just like a canny Scotchman, not much veneer. There is nothing common about them unless it is that we as breeders have always striven to have a perfect bird, much as nature formed the wild Canary. Many of our Canaries may be termed fanciers' monstrosities. The head feather of the Crest, the long legs of the Yorkshire, the high shoulder of the Belgian, the long neck of the Scotch Fancy, etc., all have been bred for, and one cannot but say that the breeders of such had plenty of pluck and perseverance before they established them. However, at the same time we must admit that nature never intended any one of these points to be found in a bird.

The Border Fancy is a perfect little gentleman from the tip of his bill to the tail. You cannot find in an ideal bird the slightest flaw to mar the exquisite and charming outline, finished as nature intended him to be. Hence his gay and jaunty manner, he is all free, with nothing to hamper his movements.

I daresay I have now said enough about the merits of the birds, and now give you some idea how the Border Fancy has grown in popularity since the year 1890, when the Border Fancy Canary Club was formed. I would strongly urge all who are lovers of the "wee gem" to join. Our Secretary, Mr. W. Smart, High Street, Loanhead, will be delighted to give all information, the annual fee is only 2s. 6d., and each has the chance of three open medals; and if a novice you have the opportunity of competing at a number of shows where the novice medal is granted.

When the Club was formed, some 40 members gave in their names, and at each show then only two classes were inserted in the schedule, one for cock and one for hen, any variety. Now the club has by far the largest number of members of any club or society in existence, and the great number of handsome birds bred by the members enables them to exhibit at all shows held in their locality, and therefore forces show committees to give the best classification in their schedule. From the entries received in the Border section one can judge how well the introduction of Border classes has made the shows pay.

The Men at the Helm.

The Border Fancy Canary Club since its formation has done useful work, and placed the bird on the lofty pedestal it now so proudly occupies. Further, the rules and the handsome model so well brought out on the cover are the admiration of the cage bird world. I have, therefore, the greatest admiration for the record of the club, which has been so well looked after, firstly for three years by the late Mr. Thos. Arnot, Hawick, then by Mr. M. Jamieson, Hawick, for some sixteen years; since then by Mr. W. Smart, Loanhead, as secretaries.

That the members have been fortunate in their choice of secretaries has never been doubted, as their good work all through is a lasting testimony of their devotion to their duties, while the able help given by the other officials and members has carried the club from one success to another. I have never found the slightest flaw in its yearly alterations, which have always been for the benefit of the members in general.

The first meeting was held in Hawick on July 5, 1890, at which were drawn up the rules, standard of points, etc., and the following resolution was passed: "That this meeting disapproves of the names Common Canary and Cumberland Fancy, and that on and after this date the bird is to be known as the Border Fancy, the definition being applicable to both sides of the Border." Our late President, Mr. Richardson, Dumfries, was the member in whose name the resolution stands.

I have followed the career of the bird ever since, and I have entered into all discussions with heart and soul. The Border Fancy held the same delightful charm for me then as it does at present, and each stage has had my most careful study. I have given you the history of the birds, and that of the club, as I thought it would be interesting. If any member wishes any question, or a number of them answered, I will be delighted to give answers for another meeting.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ABERAVON PORT TALBOT F.A.—Sept. 16, Hong Kong Hotel, 6.30. Fanciers invited.—P. H. Morris.

ARDWICK AND MANCHESTER C.B.A.—Sept. 19, St. Thomas's School, 8. Business of great importance to make final arrangement re Open Show.—A. E. Thorpe.

BEAMISH C.B.S.—Sept. 16, Bird Inn, 6.30. Confirm schedule for annual show and other business.—J. H. Elliot.

BIRKENHEAD C.F.A.—Sept. 19, Ablett's Café Room, Market Street, 8. Schedule for old show, and important business. Friends invited. New members may be enrolled. Subs. due.—A. E. Lloyd.

BURNLEY C.B.S.—Sept. 16, 75, Lindsay Street, 8. Continuation from last week's "Disclosure of the Hat," "The Value of Inbreeding."—W. Broxup.

CARDIFF C.B.S.—Sept. 19. The Carlton Hotel, 8. To decide if we shall hold our annual open show; it is every member's duty to attend.—E. Thomas.

CLAPHAM C.B.A.—Sept. 19, 8. Annual show business; very important.—T. J. Hose.

CODNOR PARK AND EASTWOOD C.B.S.—Sept. 23, Three Tuns, Eastwood, 7. Open show business.—Smith and Lees.

COVENTRY O.S.—Sept. 20, Dolphin Inn, Market Square, 8. Open show.—J. Kent.

EAST ARDSLEY.—Sept. 16, Black Swan, 7. Lecture on "Moulting," by Mr. E. Norton, of Leeds.—A. Walton.

EDINBURGH C.B.S.—Sept. 19, Cairns Memorial Hall, Gorgie Road, 8. Report of F.F. show. Arrangements for October show, and annual show in Nov.—J. C. Charlton.

GARSTON B.B.A.—Sept. 20. Rechabite Hall, Seddon Road, 8. Confirmation of schedule for annual show. Elect judges and specials for annual draw, etc. Most important.—R. T. Lonsdale.

HETTON-LE-HOLE C.B.S.—Sept. 16, Colliery Hotel, 6.30. Selection of judge for annual show and other important business.—G. Vipond.

HIGHGATE AND HAMPSTEAD C.B.S.—Sept. 18, Spencer Hall, Dartmouth Park Hill, N.W. 8. Washing competition. Judge, Mr. W. Shakespeare. Members earnestly requested to attend, bringing birds if possible. Silver medal for winner.—F. C. Knight.

IRVINE AND DISTRICT C.B.S.—Sept. 22, Good Templar's Hall, Bank Street, 8. Annual general meeting. Appointment of officers and other important business. New members invited.—J. Paterson.

LEICESTER HAND-IN-HAND C.B.S.—Sept. 19, The White Swan, 8. Special show business.—Day and Roberts.

LEIGH C.B.S.—Sept. 20, Railway Hotel, 7.45. Fixing date and judge for old bird show.—R. Charleson.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C.B.—Sept. 16, Victoria Hotel, Charterhouse Street, E.C., 7. Washing exhibition by Mr. W. Shakespeare, and competition for members. Mr. Shakespeare final judge. Members kindly bring birds. Friends welcome.—W. Gilbert.

LONDON P. AND O.S.—Sept. 21. Meeting arranged for Sept. 21 postponed.—G. A. Harris.

MAESTEG C.B.S.—Sept. 16, Bird-in-Hand Hotel, 7. Report of committee meeting re show. General business.—O. Cozens.

MANCHESTER AND N. COUNTIES O.S.—Sept. 18, Deansgate Hotel, 8. October show business, etc.—T. Wilkinson.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE C.B.S.—Sept. 21, Shield's Café, Bigg Market, 7.30.—W. Espie.

NORTH MANCHESTER C.B.S.—Sept. 19, St. Stephen's School, Conran Street, 8. Important business re Nov. show. Subs. due.—A. Colley.

PENY GRAIG C.B.S.—Sept. 21, Butcher's Arms, 6. Particular business to fix date for show. A few new members are coming. Subs. due.—G. Padfield.

PLYMOUTH W.C.O.S.—Sept. 19, Oddfellow's Hall, Morley Street, 8. Important show business.—J. E. Rowe.

SOUTH MOOR SOCIAL.—Sept. 17, Club Room, 6.30. Stewards and other important business.—G. Lane.

STANLEY VICTORIA F.F. AND C.B.S.—Sept. 19, Club Room, 7. Very important business.—R. Hutchinson.

WANSTEAD F. AND F.S.—Sept. 21st, Cambridge Park, 8. Arrangement for young stock show.—H. J. Maynard.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Open Linnet Sing Contest, Clarence Hotel, Skinner Lane, Sept. 10, and some good singing was heard. 14 birds sang:—1, 2, Binns; 3, Wigfield. Judges, C. Ward and W. Rayner.—T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville-green, York-road. Open contest for quality Linnet singing Sept. 10; 18 birds sang. 1, J. Sellers; 2, Chippindale; 3, T. Ward; 4, Stead. Judges, Hardcastle, Naylor, Grant.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

The Young Bird Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

OPENSHAW, GORTON C.B.S.

Fourth Annual Nest Show, July 29, Club Room, Alhambra Theatre, Higher Openshaw, with a fair entry, but the gate results were not up to expectations. Mr. Bladon judged and gave full satisfaction. Amat. Yorks., Yell. (5): 1, vhc, Etchells: 2, 4, Gilbert; 3, Green. Buff (5): 1, Green; 2, 3, Etchells; 4, Gilbert. Nor., Yell., Cl. (6): 1, 3, Chilton; 2, vhc, Richards; 4, hc, Peters. Tkd. or Var. (8): 1, 2, vhc, Peters; 3, hc, Richards; 4, Chilton; c, Green. Buff, Cl. (10): 1, 4, c, Richards; 2, Peters; 3, Chilton; vhc, hc, Green. Tkd. or Var. (5): 1, 3, 4, Green; 2, Peters; vhc, Richards. Nov., Yorks., Yell. (4): 1, 4, Alderson; 2, Beddall; 3, Torkington. Buff (4): 1, 3, 4, Beddall; 2, Torkington. Nor., A.V. (3): 1, 2, 3, Alderson. Bord. (7): all, Newton Brit. (4): all, Newton.—A. W. Newton, Hon. Sec.

ALL JUDGES AND SHOWS SHOULD USE OUR

specially prepared and up-to-date

JUDGING BOOK.

The advantage this book has over others is that it has 3 columns for awards, and is therefore a great help to, and a double check for judges, while there is always a slip free to be sent to the printers of the catalogue.

Prices:—1 Copy, 6d. post free.
6 Copies 2/6 post free.
12 Copies 4/6 post free.

A sample page on application to "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Queries Answered

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.
(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.
(2)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.
(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.
(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.
(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.
(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).
(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.
(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

EFFECTS OF COLOUR FOOD, ETC. (G. V. S.).—(1) No, colour feeding as it is understood and practised in these days is not in the least degree harmful to the health of the birds, neither does it in any way impair their breeding qualities, whilst the suggestion of cruelty, provided only that the process is properly carried out, without the deprivation of the ordinary seed diet whilst moulting, is purely the outcome of an ignorant prejudice. (2) Tameness does not spoil a bird for breeding, though it is not unusual for a very tame bird to lose some of its confidence in its owner when mated up for breeding. This, however, will generally return after the breeding season is over, if the bird is given a little extra attention and encouragement, so there is no reason at all why you should not breed with the bird. (3) A few drops of syrup of saffron, or an infusion of "hay saffron," as the raw material is termed, in combination with a few drops of sweet spirit of nitre, is very useful to help birds with the moult when they have any difficulty in casting their plumage freely. But so long as the bird is moulting freely and doing satisfactorily let well alone. The use of any drugs without a real cause is not to be commended. (4) For green food give half ripe stalks of plantain, seed heads of shepherd's purse, seedy chickweed, flower heads of groundsel, lettuce or watercress, daily, unless the bird appears too relaxed, in which case give a morsel about three times or substitute the blooms of marigolds or nasturtiums.

SILENT YORKSHIRE (Lincoln Imp).—It might encourage the bird to resume its song if you could manage to let it hear a good songster for a few weeks. In the first place see that it is not exposed to direct cold draughts, and do not allow it to hang near or over burning lights in the evenings, nor high up near the ceiling, where the air is always more or less irritating and vitiated. In addition to the staple diet of three parts canary to one part summer rape give separately every third day for a month half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with about half the same quantity of a mixture of equal parts maw, sesame, and gold of pleasure mixed in it, and on the alternate days give one day a morsel of banana, and the next a spray of watercress and just a pinch of mixed seed. Every third day, instead of pure water give the following decoction: Place a small teaspoonful of linseed in a teacup, add a piece of liquorice the size of a hazel nut, and a pinch—about a saltspoonful—of powdered grain of paradise, fill with boiling water, stir well, and allow to infuse by the fire, stirring occasionally until the liquorice is quite dissolved. Then place aside to become cold and strain off the clear liquid, add a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and give the mixture in the drinker instead of pure water.

YOUNG NORWICH DYING (Ubique).—The bird seems to have been troubled with intestinal trouble, and the state of the bowels might have thrown much light on the real cause of the mischief, but, after all, guessing at the cause of deaths after the event and on

CANARY QUERISTS

should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

incomplete information can never be satisfactory, and the reply to "G. Hatton" in last issue is applicable to all such cases. If the items you name as the dietary are all that you gave then you might have been a little more generous with variety to the advantage of the birds. A little summer rape at least every second day is always a valuable item with young birds, who can always negotiate it easier and earlier than they can the canary, so that when the parents cease feeding them whilst still young, they can much easier supply their own needs than when rape is not given. You should also see that your hemp is sweet and sound in the kernel, as if it is not this may easily account for the bird's death, and the others would be likely to follow it sooner or later, according to their respective degree of vital resistance. Therefore you should see to this at once. Feed as follows: Give a teaspoonful of egg food to the two birds every morning for some weeks to come. In the afternoon throw out any that may be left, clean the vessel, and give a similar quantity of a mixture of equal parts hemp (only if sound), niger, white millet, teazle, linseed, and broken groats. If you have to drop the hemp, you may use as a substitute the same quantity of chopped sunflower seeds. Give a few half ripe plantain stalks, or seed sprays of knot-grass, for the special benefit of the Finch, and the blooms of marigolds and nasturtiums daily, and occasionally give a little soaked or boiled summer rape, being careful to see that the former does not remain in cage until it is sour. Keep cage floor strewn with clean gritty sand. Keep seed-box regularly supplied with good sound canary seed, on top of which place a pinch of summer rape daily.

LOSS OF SIGHT (S. W.).—The remedy you have been trying is not suited to the case of your bird. As regards looking for white specks, it is not spots on the surface of the eye that you have to look for, but a kind of milky-white disc occupying the centre inner part of the eye normally occupied by the black disc, known as the pupil. Have another look, and if you find this condition the bird is suffering from cataract, and nothing will be of any avail in restoring the sight. If there is no sign of this you may try the following remedy, but I fear there is little prospect of success. Get from a chemist an ounce of rose water, and ask him to add to it five grains of sulphate of zinc. Catch the bird and drop two or three drops of this on each eye morning and evening, holding the bird with the eye upward so that the fluid can work around and under the eyelid. Meantime keep up the bird's condition by giving every second or third day for a few weeks a morsel of bread and milk with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with maw seed, and on the intervening days give a morsel of banana or green food.

FAILING CONDITION AND SIGHT (E. V.).—(1) The bird is no longer young, and the moult is probably affecting him more than usual. It would certainly be a good thing to confine him, and keep him in a cosy corner, rather on the warm side, until he has got over the process. You may, of course, allow him a fly round for a short time daily if you wish, but there will be no advantage in allowing too much liberty. If he seems to have any difficulty in casting his feathers add to the water five drops each of syrup of saffron and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight, and when he has cast them all, and you can see the new plumage coming on the head and neck, dissolve a crystal of sulphate of iron the size of a split pea in the water and add six drops of dilute sulphuric acid every second day for two or three weeks to tone up the system again. Give a sufficiency of green salads to keep the bowels free, but not too relaxed. (2) The in-breeding, especially if it was at all close, is much more likely to be the cause of the bird going blind than the fact that the eggs were cooled before being hatched. As regards treatment for the blindness, if there are no signs of the whitish discs characteristic of cataract it is just possible that the following treatment will do good, and in any case it will do no harm. Get from a chemist a few camomile flowers, place eight or ten in a teacup, fill with boiling water, and allow to infuse beside the fire for an hour, then strain off the clear liquid, add thirty drops of tincture of opium and as much sulphate of zinc as will cover a sixpence, stir until latter is dissolved, and when cold bathe the eyes with a little of this liquid for a few minutes every evening for two or three weeks as may seem necessary, using a little fresh liquid and a fresh dossil of wool for each eye, and burn at once that which has been used. If there is no improvement in, say, three weeks, you may as well give it up as a bad job.

WHY SOME DIE (F.H.E.).—I'm afraid there must be a screw loose somewhere in your management, or some fault with one or other of the foods you supply, which gives rise to intestinal trouble. The reason some of the young thrive on the same treatment to which the others succumb is quite easy to understand, when you reflect that all birds are not equally susceptible to disease or unhealthy conditions, and those that thrive are just those that possess the greatest amount of vital resistance, whilst those in which the resistive powers and stamina are low naturally go to the wall. See that your egg food is always pure and fresh, and especially that any hemp you use is quite sound and sweet in the kernel. Crack a little of the hemp, and if the kernel is brown or discoloured reject it and get a sample in which it is of a nice milky-white colour. Continue to give a little egg food daily for a few weeks after the young are separated from the parents, mixing it rather on the side of dryness, and allowing a small teaspoonful for each bird. Give this in the morning, and in the afternoon throw out any that is left and give in its place a similar quantity of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, linseed and broken groats. As a change the latter item may be varied now and again with a teaspoonful of boiled or soaked summer rape, but in the latter case you must be careful to see that it does not remain to become sour, and the morning ration of egg food may be varied occasionally with a similar quantity of bread and milk. In addition to this, there must always be an unlimited supply of good sound canary seed in the seed-box on top of which you should place a pinch of dry summer rape daily. Keep cage and perches perfectly clean, the cage floor well strewn with clean gritty sand, and see that they always have a supply of pure fresh water, and your losses should cease. If there is not an immediate improvement under this treatment, and you have more losses, you should send one of the bodies at once to our post-mortem examiner, as per instructions under that heading, so that the cause of death may be definitely known. In all other respects you may safely go on treating the birds as advised in the handbook: "Canary Breeding for Beginners."

A VALUATION (Kate Govey).—The young can only be described as cross-breds, and the song will undoubtedly be of an inferior quality to that of the pure-bred Roller, and it would be quite impossible for anyone to give you any correct idea of the true value of the birds without seeing them and hearing their performance, as their value depends entirely upon their proficiency in song, and the freedom of the song from faulty notes. As they have the advantage of the tuition of the Hartz cock they may be reasonably expected to at least make up to the average in song abilities, but the nearest I can say is that somewhere about 10s. 6d. each for cocks when trained, and from 3s. 6d. to 4s. 6d., according to type, for the hens would be a fair price to ask for them. If not good average songsters it is doubtful if the cocks would command more than 7s. 6d. each. The tameness would count for nothing in marketable value, though one having knowledge of the birds and desiring a pet might add something for sentimental reasons.

A BAD EFFECT. (Bird Lover).—As I read your letter it seems to me that in bathing the bird in the red mite killer you must have handled it unskillfully and broken the leg, up in that part next the bordy which is covered with short feathers, and the subsequent re-handling simply aggravated the mischief. I see no other reason to account for the condition of the leg when examined the second time and the subsequent developments. Assuming this is correct, and the bird is still unable to place the foot on the perch, it would, in view of its age, be about the kindest thing to put it out of its misery, as any treatment of the crooked toe would prove ineffectual and only add to the misery of the bird. The best means of doing this is to take the bird to a chemist and ask him to do the job with chloroform. Properly managed this is quite painless, and the work of a few seconds only, and for a few pence the chemist will do it more certainly and speedily than you are likely do it yourself without experience. Had the leg been in a normal condition and the foot gripping the perch, apart from the one curved toe, the best remedy for such a deformity as your sketch shows would have been to tie the centre toe alongside the strongest outer one with two separate "ties" of thin ice wool or something soft and thin, one "tie" near the end of the toe and the other just inside the first joint from the junction of the toes, and leave these on for a few months to make sure of the toe having some strength of grip before they were removed. By the way, were you working according to instructions in bathing the bird in the red mite killer? This is certainly a very extraordinary treatment for this pest, and would be very unavailing too. You might have seen the proper treatment for the pest in this column quite recently.

A FRACTURED LEG (S.W.B.)—Judging from your description I should say the leg is certainly fractured, and if it dangles limp and loosely from the joint it would have been much the best thing to get a veterinary, or your medical man to amputate it. Failing this, the portion of the limb below the fracture will probably slough off in the course of a few weeks, which will come to the same thing except that the process will be a longer one for the bird to undergo. After this lapse of time, however, I should advise you to let things follow their own course. You did quite right to place the bird in a small cage, and keep it quiet and undisturbed, with low perches and food and water easily accessible, and if the bird could hold the leg up without dangling loosely this was quite the only thing that should have been done, and by leaving the bird quite to its own resources until it resumes activity of its own accord you will find that nature has made a tolerably good job of it.

CORRECTION.—BREEDING CROSSED SONGSTERS (Ditton).—In the first part of reply to this query in last issue, a line of M.S. was left out by the printer. The ninth and tenth lines should read: "The song will be of decidedly lower quality than that of the pure Roller, but of better quality than that of pure Norwich."

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

STORING THISTLE HEADS (W. A. Vaughan).—Kindly look up last week's query column and read the answer to "British" under the heading of "Seeds for Goldfinches." That refers to keeping the seeds of thistle after they have been separated from the fluff, but there is no reason why you should not keep the heads intact if you prefer to do so. But, and this is a big "but," you must be extra careful to dry them thoroughly, or they will mildew later on. Fanciers as a rule prefer the seeds separated because of the mess the fluff makes in the bird room when used in the head. Of course, the heads amuse the birds, and if your bird room is outside it does not matter so much. There is no difficulty in storing the heads, if, as I say, you dry them thoroughly and keep in a dry place. In collecting be careful to take ripe heads, only those on the point of bursting; in the others the seed has not properly matured, consequently when dried they shrivel up and are of very little use.

ABOUT YOUNG GOLDFINCHES (Ubique).—I am sorry you lost your young Goldies. My experience is that birds taken as yours were invariably act in the same manner. Food is plentiful and quite to their liking, consequently, like other young things, they do not know when to leave it, they overfeed, and trouble follows. An aperient occasionally is the best remedy, and a cube of stale bread soaked in hot milk and dusted with caster sugar, if given now and then in place of soaked seed or soft food, assists in keeping them healthy. (2) Your this year's bird will be fit to breed with next season, and it is quite a matter of choice as to which bird you use. If you select the healthiest and largest you cannot do wrong, and the one that is in the best condition when pairing time comes. (3) Yes. Nearly all the hen Finches have bred with cock Canaries in captivity, but this way of crossing is not so reliable as the usual way; Finch hens do not go to nest so readily as Canaries.

TAMING A BUNTING (Kent Boy).—Birds differ very much in disposition; some become tame and confiding in quite a short time, others you can do nothing with, they are constitutionally nervous, and their training is a question of much time and patience. I fear your bird must be one of these. Keep him in a box cage which is deep enough from back to front to allow him to retire when strangers are present. He will in time recognise that no harm will come to him from visitors any more than from his master. If you find he is particularly fond of any special kind of food, make a point of giving him some whenever you approach the cage. As a rule mealworms answer this purpose with Buntings admirably. I once tamed one with the very smallest portions of meat; he got the taste and could not resist it, eventually taking it from my fingers. Perhaps you can hang his cage in such a position that he secs every movement of the members of your family. It should be hung quite low, not at a level with the face, and if necessary a portion of the front might for a time be partially covered over with a thin piece of muslin. Patience will do much with all birds, but in spite of every care and attention it seems impossible to get some of them as steady as one could wish.

MANAGING A CHAFFINCH (Pink-Pink).—As a rule Chaffinches are not at all difficult to get on to hard seed; many of them take to it at once, as though they had fed on it all their lives. Crack the sunflower seed at first, and give him a mealworm now and again if he will eat it. Use the following stock mixture: Canary and teazle 2 pints each, summer rape, charlock and linseed ½ pint each. To this add ½ pint of sound sunflower, or give the sunflower in a separate dish, say half a dozen grains daily. Wild seed mixture or finch mixture as put up by some well-known firms can be occasionally offered for a change, while sunflower heads gathered from the garden when full of seed, thistle, hard-heads, seeding chickweed, shepherd's purse, and groundsel should be freely offered. They are particularly fond of house flies and other small insects, and, of course, mealworms. If your birds will eat a little insectile food it is very helpful during the moult.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

should consult Houlton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nut-shell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

GREENHOUSE AVIARY (A. Grice).—A damp greenhouse is, of course, an unsuitable place for keeping small birds in, but still birds are kept in such places, but the glass roof over the aviary is usually covered with roofing felt on the outside, both to tone down summer heat and to make it more comfortable in winter. Of course, your ventilation must be very thorough, and this must be accomplished without draught. I should be glad if you would state whether you can meet above condition, and to what extent, also whether you supply any artificial heat in winter, also the average summer and winter temperatures registered in it. If you will supply the above information I shall then be in a position to give a helpful reply. I am keeping your query by me for further reply.

BLUE-FRONTED AMAZON (J. W. F.).—It is rather difficult to be definite in such cases, as the symptoms you describe can apply either to a temporary indisposition or to something more serious. Of course, where one has bought a newly-imported bird on approval, and it becomes ailing before the appro. period has passed, it is a safe plan to get it exchanged. It evidently has the making of a good talker and a tame bird, and so one does not care to let such a bird slip unless it is really diseased. If the period does not expire for another three weeks, treat it for a couple of weeks as under, and then if there is no improvement insist on an exchange. Every fourth day put one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia in the drinking water, and on the intermediate days put a little chemical food in the water. Grit, cuttlebone, and a chunk of wood should be continually kept in the cage. Cease giving the bread and butter, and in lieu thereof give biscuits and a little plain cake, also a piece of raw carrot and nuts. The other items of the dictary you mention can all be maintained. Keep its cage where it will get light and air, but it must not be subjected to draught. If time permits report progress in a fortnight and I will then try and be more definite.

ALTERING AVIARY (Esperance).—Yes, remove the partition, but do not increase your stock, or you will lose at once any advantage gained by the change; neither do I advise increasing the number of occupants by putting in Waxbills or the like. Your birds are certain to breed sooner or later, then if two broods leave the nest almost simultaneously, your place will be overstocked till such time as they are able to fend for themselves and can be sold off. I am afraid your accommodation leaves very little probability in breeding blues from greens and yellows. To have any hope of doing so, one must have a good number to chose the bluest birds from, and to pair these up properly, and suitable housing so that they can be kept from direct sunlight. The Blue Budgerigar is obtained by eliminating the yellow from its plumage. It is too large a subject to enter into in this column. Have sufficient twiggy branches for the accommodation of your birds, but you must leave an open space for flight. For three pairs, as I have advised you more than once, there should be six husks. An imported green hen should, of course, introduce strong natural blood into your stock, but the best course would be to wait till you can hear of a good breeding hen, either yellow or green, but of course the value of such a hen would be the top price of its variety.

A GOOD SONGSTER (B. S. P., Parmenter).—I am assuming that you are not averse to a Softbill. To meet all the conditions you name the Shama about "fills the bill," unless we are at variance as to the meaning of "reasonable price." It is hardy, easily tamed, and very soon can be allowed a fly about the room. It may be easily enticed back to its cage by placing a mealworm therein; it will also soon come to the hand for the dainty. Its value is about three guineas for a newly-imported specimen, running up to five for a good acclimatised specimen. The Cardinals, as a rule, cannot be accounted tame birds, nor yet continuous singers, their melody being mostly confined to the breeding season. The cognomens Pekin Robin and Pekin Nightingale refer to the same bird, while Virginian Cardinal and V. Nightingale are also dual names for one bird, a larger and very different bird to the Pekin Robin. Some small seedeaters with good song are: Grey Singing Finch (soberly coloured), Alario Finch, Cape Canary, Foreign Siskins, all the Serins, etc. A gorgeous bird is the Gold-fronted Green Bulbul, but it has to be fed on milk-sop, fruit, and an occasional insect; it readily becomes tame, and is usually quite accomplished in mimicking the songs of other birds; value about three guineas. If I have not met your need, repeat query and I will try again.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

WHAT BIRD? (S. Porter).—It is a Crimson-crowned Weaver (Pyromelana flammiceps), and its home is Africa. Millet, canary, spray millet, greenfood, and an occasional insect about meets its simple needs; of course, grit, cuttlebone, and water are also essentials.

AILING ROSE-BREASTED COCKATOO (R. W. Cockburn).—Add to your dietary such extras as ripe fruit, nuts, biscuits, little plain cake, and raw carrot. It should also have continuous access to grit, cuttlebone, water, and a chunk of wood, the latter for it to exercise its mandibles upon. Seed mixture: Two parts each canary, white millet, oats, and sunflower seeds, also one part each hemp, saffower, and maize; well mix together, store in dust-tight tins, and keep in a dry place. Every fourth day put one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia to each ounce of the drinking water, and on other days add a little chemical food to the drinking water. Encourage the bird to take plenty of exercise—this is easily done by hanging pieces of wood at the end of a piece of chain, and by giving it cotton reels, etc., to play with. Also keep it where it will be able to share the family life, yet not where it will be scared by rushy movement. It must not be kept in either a draughty or stuffy corner. Continue above treatment till a cure is effected, then gradually, not suddenly, cease giving the drugs.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

J. NELSON.—Death occurred from pneumonia consequent upon the recent variable weather conditions.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

WHAT SEED? (Sam).—Ordinary lawn grass. There are many species of these grasses, and we are unable to name the particular one you send. Kindly see our rule as to names and addresses of enquirers.

FOOD FOR BLACKBIRDS AND THRUSHES (S. J. Nelms).—The sample you send is quite a good one, but it should not contain hemp seed. Leave out the hemp, and it will be perfectly satisfactory, although you could improve it still further by omitting the dried currants. Grocer's currants are good food for the larger insectivorous birds, but they are somewhat relaxing, and are therefore better given separately, so that the proportion may be regulated according to the state of the bird's bowels. Further, it is better to soak them overnight than to mix them in a dry state with the food. The smell you mention is due to the crissel, and is not at all harmful. Of course you will give your birds mealworms, smooth caterpillars, snails and other creepy things, as well as the stock food, and a little ripe fruit now and then as obtainable.

IDENTIFICATION OF WEEDS (Ubique).—A. Red Valerian, Centranthus ruber; B. Common Ragwort, Senecio Jacobaea. Gararde tells us that in his day country people called this plant St. James his wort also Staggerwort and Ragweed. It was formerly used medicinally. The leaves yield a good red dye; and if the flowers be gathered open and used fresh they will dye wool of a pale green, but the colour is apt to fade. If the wool be boiled in alum water and afterwards in a decoction of the flowers it takes a beautiful yellow. C. Greater Fleabane, Inula dysenterica. This plant is sometimes called the wild marigold and Job's tears by the Arabs who have a tradition that its bruised leaves were applied by Job as a remedy for his grievous diseases; and it is still held by them in high repute as a cure for wounds. Dr. Withering states that the Russian soldiers in the Persian expedition were much relieved from dysentry by the use of this plant. Though so common a plant in many parts of our island, it does not appear to have ever been used by British herbalists. D. Wild Carrot, Daucus Carota.

PRIZE-WINNER WITH DEFORMED FEET (Bert).—It certainly seems strange that a judge should award 1st and special to a Canary which is deformed in both feet. Of course, it is possible that the "deformity," as you term it, was so very slight and the bird so far in front of the other competitors that the judge thought himself justified in awarding it the prize, and it is possible also that the judge did not notice the "deformity" at all; such things have happened. Anyway, the decision of the judge is final except in cases of fraud subsequently discovered.

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from

"POULTRY WORLD,"

154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the

"CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free. Stiff Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and Its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial, are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE.

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE and SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

"BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS." By C. P. ARTHUR. 6d. post free.

Is a splendid guide-book to perhaps the most interesting and profitable side of foreign bird-keeping. It tells you all you need know.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

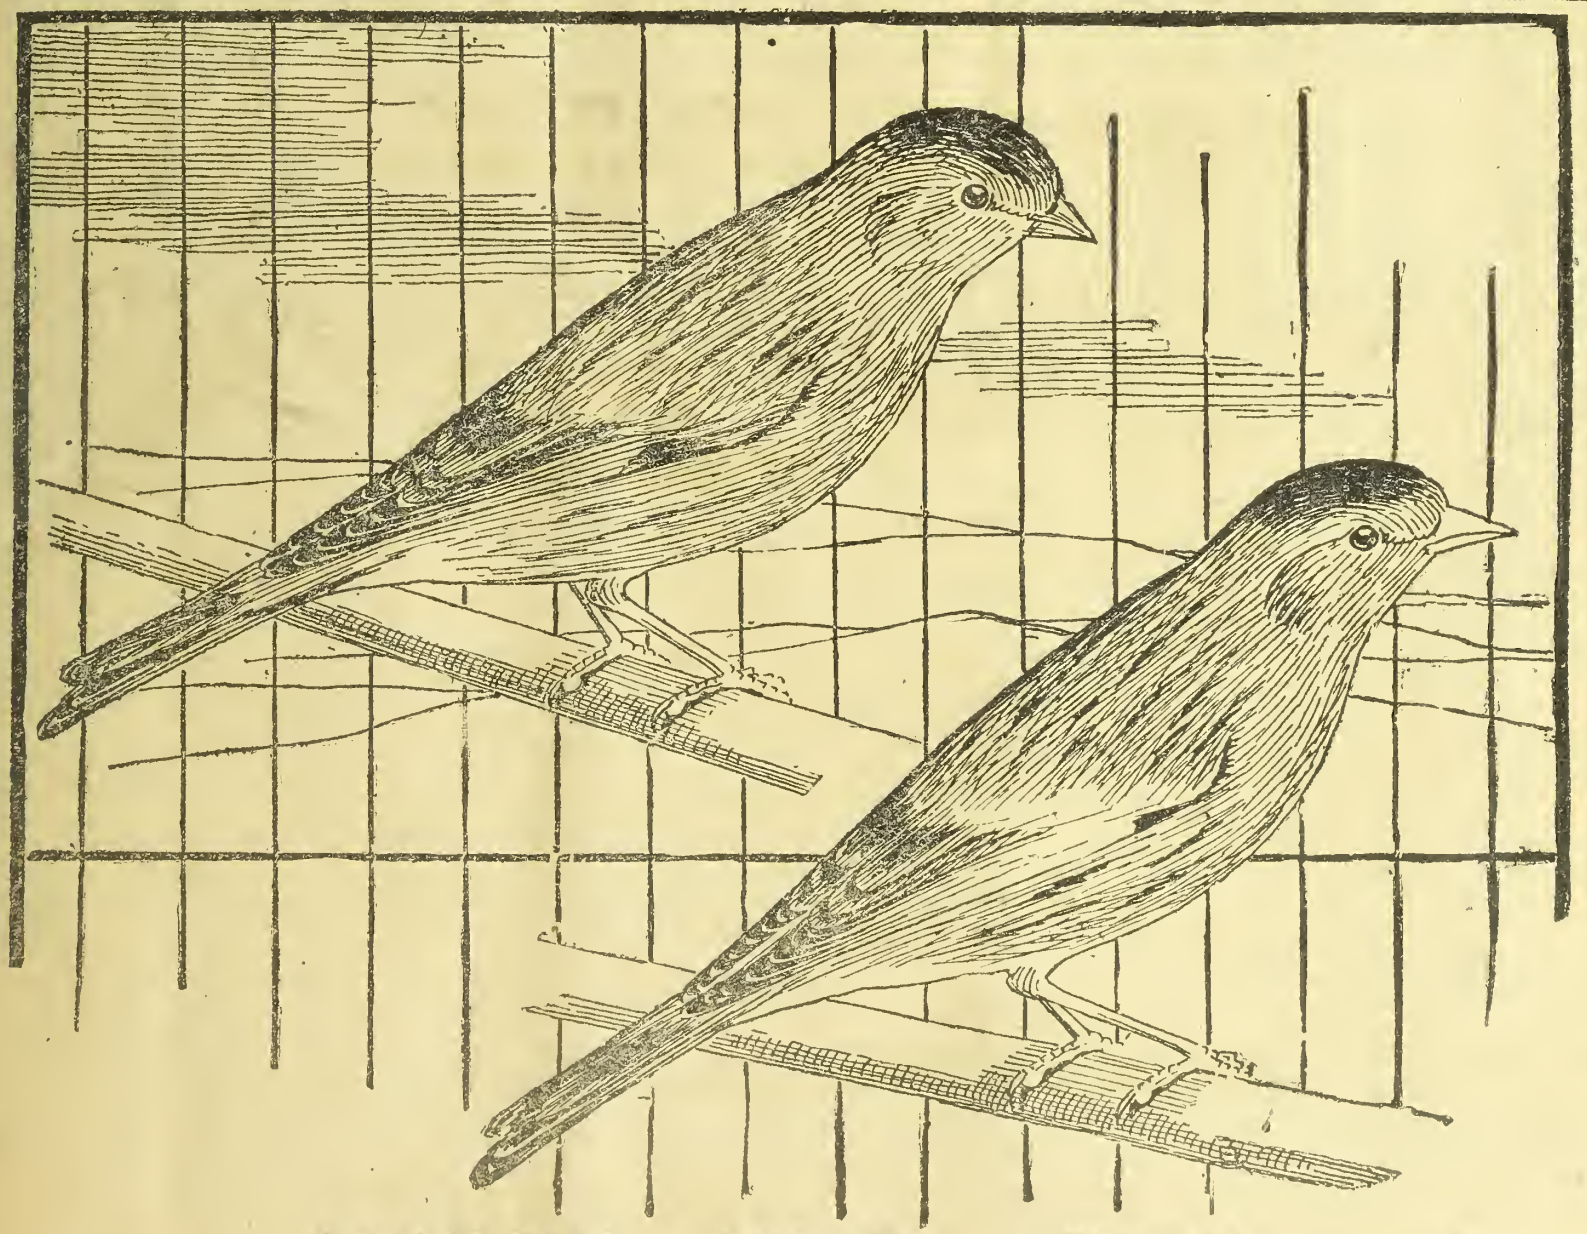
Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. CARL, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. HAMMOND AND CO., LTD., Fleet Lane, London, E.C.

SCIENTIFIC CANARY BREEDING.

SEE THIS ISSUE.

16 PAGES. 2D

636.605 CAG



CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL
Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet, London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 722 For week ending September 23rd, 1916 Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free. Foreign— 13/- per annum

FAVOURITE CANARY CROSSES.

Two British birds which are greatly in favour with breeders for crossing with the Canary are the Linnet and the Goldfinch, and some of the prettiest birds seen in the "Mule" classes at our shows are the result of one or the other of these crosses. At the top of the picture is shown the result of crossing the Linnet with the Canary, and on the right is a Goldfinch-Canary. The Dark Linnet-Canary won 1st prize at Wimbledon Show for Mr. A. E. Jackson, and the Dark Goldfinch-Canary took 1st prize at the show of the Metropolitan C.B.A. for Mr. W. Newberry.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London. E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

FOR cages, appliances, foods, etc., cheapest firm: Cooper, 163, Princess Street, Manchester. (565)

WINNOWING machines, for blowing husks, dust from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

BEST Japanese birdlime, hold any bird, even Crows, also rats, in any weather, 1lb. tin 2/-, ½ 1/2, ¼ 8d., large sample box 4d.; large self-acting bird traps, 1/4, two 2/4; all carriage paid; catalogue stamp; clap nets, 5/4 pair: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (565)

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6 yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/- per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, ⅝in. mesh, 7ft. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard; all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins. wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanese birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

BIRD HOUSES, CARRIAGE PAID

6ft. x 4ft. x 6ft. 6in., £3 10s. 6d.; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN,

16 by 12, 5/3 dozen, 18 by 12 6/- dozen, 24 by 12 7/9 dozen; Norwich, Yorkshire, and British show cages, 24/- dozen; baths, non-splash, and frames, 7/-, 8/-, 10/- dozen; tin, 4in., 4/6 dozen; Linnet cages, 10/6, 14/-, 18/- dozen, call cages, 7/- doz.; box cages, 18/-, 22/-, 24/- dozen; dealers send for price list: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornbill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (551)

PUNCH BAR CAGE FRONTS

Owing to the vast increase of wire and solder we have had to increase our prices as follows to save using inferior wire: 12 x 12 or 10, 6d. each, 5/- a doz.; 14 x 12, 7d. each, 6/- doz.; 16 x 12, 8d. each, 6/8 dozen; 18 x 12, 9d. each, 7/6 dozen; 20 x 12, 10d. each, 8/4 dozen; 24 x 12 or 14, 1/- each, 10/- dozen. Special price for dealers' quotations, stamps for reply; odd sizes 6d. per foot: J. Ashmore, 19, London-st., Smethwick, Birmingham, late of Heath-street. (534)

CAGE FRONTS

12 by 12 5/- doz., 15 by 12 6/- doz., 18 by 12 7/6 doz., 24 by 12 10/- doz., odd sizes made to order; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6, 48/- cwt.; punched bars, 1/3 doz., 12/- gross; seed mills, 1/6; egg mills, 2/-, 3/6; Tam's latest non-splash bath, 4in. 10d., 4½in. 1/-, 5in. 1/3, 6in. 1/6; Norwich Yorkshire, British show cages 2/3 each; see price list for Roller cages, box cages, breeding cages, all cage fittings; send postcard.

ENOCH TAMS,

CHURCH STREET, LONGTON, STAFFS.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS" DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

WALSH'S ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

Is always alike—good and reliable; does not run in the sun; packed in lever-lid tins. ¼lb. 10d., ½lb. 1/3, 1lb., 2/-; sample tin, 3d. Spring net traps, 2/6 each. Dealers send for special Trade Prices.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn
Tel.: 947 (577)

CAN THIS BE ECLIPSED ?

Chelmsford, Sept. 19/16.—"Please send sample Birdlime. ALL foods bought from you previously have given every satisfaction. Your Invisible Net Trap is the best I have ever used."—R. Banden to W. Rudd.

Scores of similar respecting the goods sent out are weekly received.

Remember, the Best is always the Cheapest of anything and everything.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softbills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in world; see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Fill-up Feeders, 1/3. CALLS for Linnets, Goldfinches, etc., list free. NO CONNECTION with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Garnage of Holborn, or direct from

W. RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

FOODS.

MEALWORMS, 8/6 1,000: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (579)

FINE liver gentles, equal to mealworms, 1/4 lb., free; no dirt: P. Staines, 219, Ravenscroft-rd., Beckenham, Kent. (585)

WASP grub, 2/6 lb.; gentles, 2/6 quart; flies, 2/lb.; ants' eggs, 3/-; price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (585)

WALSH'S freshly-gathered mixed wild seeds, the natural food for all British seedeaters, 6d. quart, 1/9 gallon, 3/- peck; dealers send for special prices: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/6 lb.; yolk of eggs, 3/- lb.; insectivorous food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush food, 6d. lb.; mealworms, 500 2/-, 1,000 3/6; live white gentles, 1,000 1/-: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

RAMSDEN'S PURE TASTELESS PEPPER

For colour feeding Cage Birds; super quality only; ½-lb. 1/6, 1lb. 2/6, 3lb. 6/6, 5lb. 10/-; original tins. 22lb., 37/6. Hot pepper same price. All post free or carriage paid.

J. W. RAMSDEN,
11, Josephine Avenue, Brixton, London.

WALSH'S Pure Tasteless Pepper.

Specially imported for colour feeding cage birds. The best and richest coloured pepper obtainable. 1lb. 1/9, 3lbs. 5/-, 7lbs. 10/6. Original sealed 22lb. tins, 27/6 each. Walsh's celebrated Egg Bread and Walsh's Insectivorous Food, with or without colour, 1/6 lb., 3lbs. 4/-, 7lbs. 8/6. Hot Natal Pepper, 2/6 lb., 3lbs. 7/-. Sulphate of Iron, 1/- lb. To Dealers and Secretaries: Special quotations for quantities.

WALSH,
Bird Food Specialist, BLACKBURN.

ERRINGTON'S

XL RED FEED

is guaranteed to be of the finest quality tasteless pepper, and free from any added oil or sugar; 1lb. 1/11, 2lb. 3/6, or 4lb. for 6/3; all post free; send stamp for sample to: W. Errington, Reliable Seedsman, Bradford. (506)

"Eggertine" and "Excelsior" RED & YELLOW COLOUR FOODS

best and purest Egg Food ever known. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3. COLOUR FOODS—Tasteless Red, 1/6 and 2/6 tin. "Norwich Blend," this contains the right quantity of hot and tasteless for producing deepest exhibition colour, 1/9 and 3/- tin. Red Feed and Eggertine, mixed, requires no preparation, 1/9, 3/- tin. Yellow, for producing a rich Orange Colour, 1/6 and 2/9. Sample boxes any above 4d.

RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

GENUINE SPANISH CANARY.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaners, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary ...	4/6	16/-	31/-
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-

Samples and Full List of Seed Free on Application.

WALSH,
BIRD FOOD SPECIALIST, BLACKBURN.
Tel. 947. (586)

BOOKS.

BUTLER'S "Foreign Finches for Aviaries," 60 life size coloured plates, published £1 15/-, 17/6; "Bird Life of London," 24 plates, illustrating 120 birds, 3/6; "Bird, Useful and Harmful," 85 plates, 3/6, new; postage extra: Ford, Naturalist, Bournemouth. (563)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6." an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

"AVEAU"

This preparation of Krekodyue added to drinking water cures affections of the breathing and digestive organs, and is an excellent tonic, 1/-. Address:—
W. Vale, F.Z.S., Q.M.C. Dispensary Bird Hospital, South Norwood, London.

Post-mortem examination and advice, by return post, 1/1. 50 years' experience.

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

NOT SINGING. SOFT MOULT.

DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather-plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The ideal Tonic for birds during the Moulting Season. DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC for Bronchitis, Wheezing, and Hoarseness. Absolutely unequalled for all chest and lung affections. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for Weak and Delicate Birds.

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM.
(556)

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

FIVE cock Bullfinches, 2/- each; one hen, 1/-: Exton, Newtown, Easton, Stamford. (587)

GOLDFINCHES, selected cocks, warranted, 3/6 each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (586)

REDPOLLS, 3/- dozen; picked birds, 6s. each: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (587)

HAND-REARED Goldfinches, 4/-; Bullfinches, 3/-; grand Ferrets, 4/-: Hayter, Naturalist, Southampton.

EXHIBITION Borders, exchange exhibition British (H.M.): Marello, Annan-st., Barrow-in-Furness. (586)

SELECTED exhibition rich yellow Bunting cocks, 2/6, 3/6 each: H. Welsh, Cornstall Buildings, Stamford. (586)

SELECTED singing cock Goldfinches, three for 5/-; hens, three 2/6: Wm. Cook, 66, Kitchener-rd., Ipswich. (587)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Bullfinch, 5/6: Miss Rosey Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (550)

HAWFINCHES, in beautiful plumage, caged mouths, really good birds, 7/6 each: Sobam Lodge, Watton, Norfolk. (584)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

WANTED, White cock Goldfinch, Greenfinch, or Linnet, price and full particulars to: Goodman, 24, Bedford-rd., Kempston, Bedford. (582)

WANTED all kinds British birds, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, young and old: Thos. McCrystal, 16, Langlands-rd., Govan, Glasgow. (587)

TWO young Bullfinches, Canary reared, 2/-; Canary hen, mother same, what offer? letters: Police Station, Steens Bridge, Leominster. (585)

SELECTED giant cock brown Linnets, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Goldfinches, 2/6 each, three 7/-: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)

THREE good coloured, well spangled Bramblefinch cocks, 3/6, 5/6, 7/6; aviary moulted, in grand condition: Dalby, Brandsby, Easingwold, York. (581)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

COCK Linnets, 2/- half-dozen, 3/6 dozen, 6/- two dozen, 13 the dozen; every bird warranted: Stoneham, Derby House, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne, Sussex. (583)

TWO twice house-moulted hen Bullfinches, paired with Linnet and Goldfinch last season, 4/6 each, or 8/- the two: Bowerman, 12, Wellington-st., Swindon, Wilts. (584)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

BRITISH hardbills, exhibition or aviary, all North of Scotland caught birds, noted for size, etc.; splendid selection; send for list.—Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres, N.B. (586)

CATCH thousands alive and earn pounds; new double-compartment trap cage, including two large Finches, trained call birds, only 3/3 complete; send postal orders: Mr. Copp, Stores, Dartford. (586)

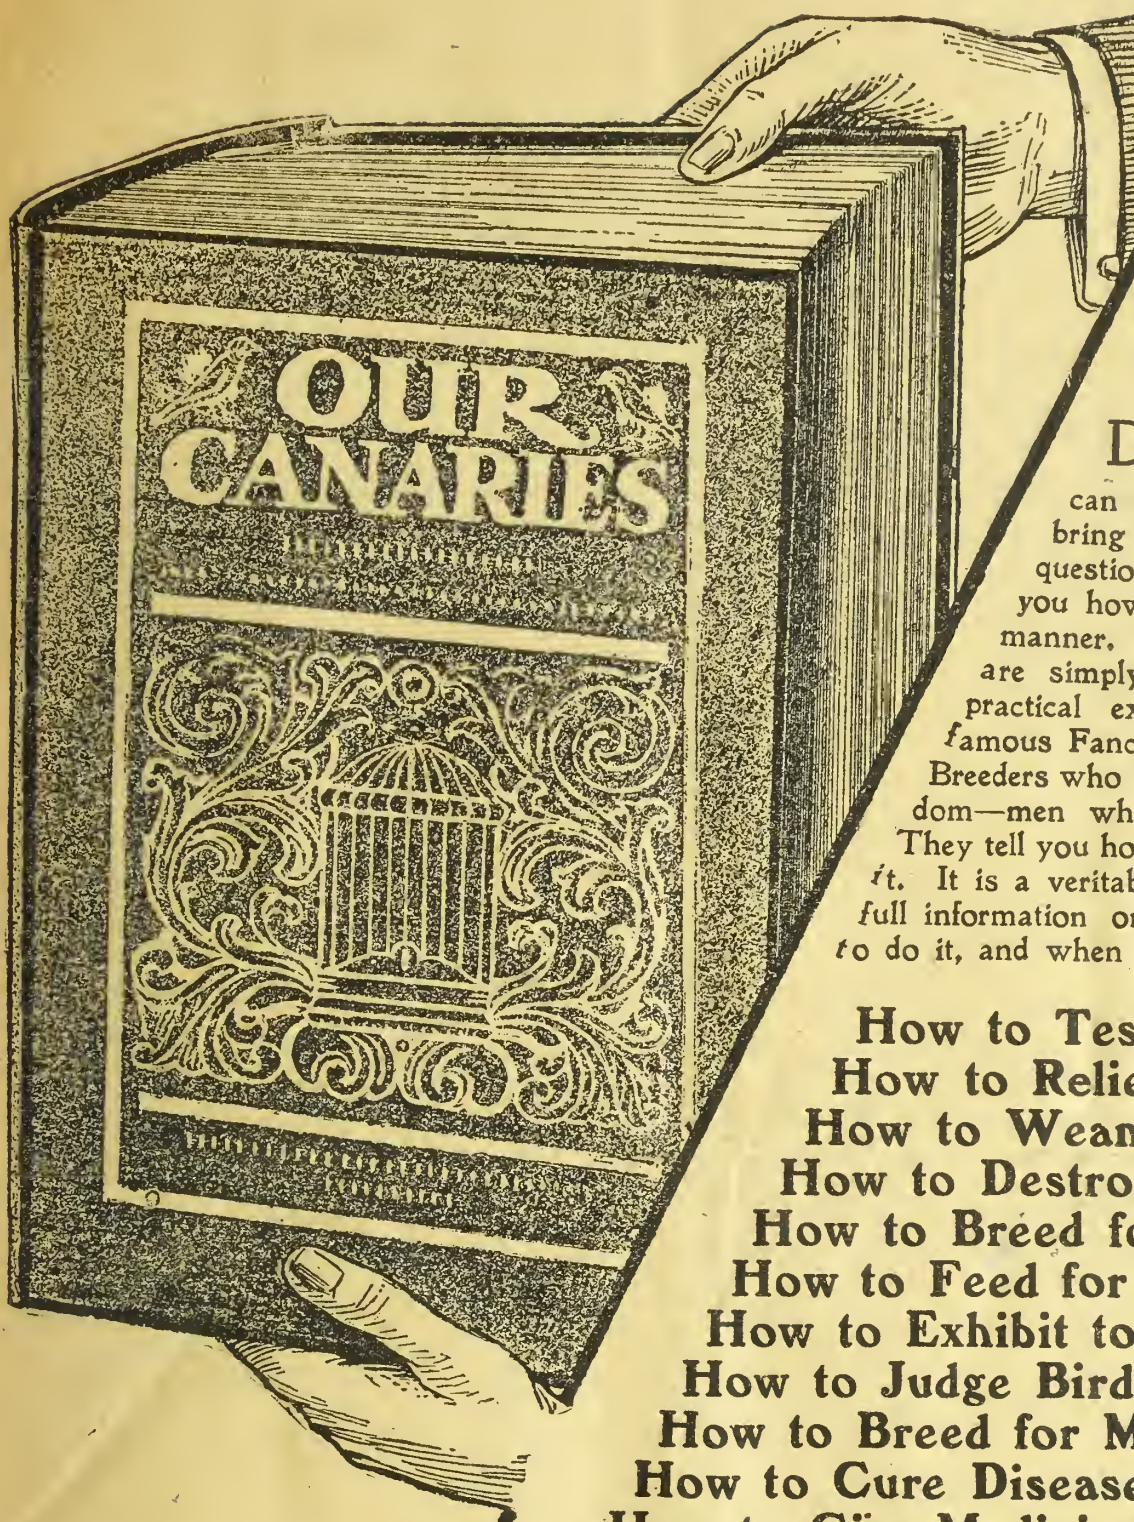
GOLDFINCHES, Linnets; copyists please note; I am overwhelmed with orders this week; fresh supply next week; for prices see last week's "Cage Birds": Bedford, late Gore's, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham.

TWENTY dozen Red-breasted cock Brown Linnets, 4/6 dozen, two dozen 8/6, six 2/6; extra selected, gems, 1/- each, three 2/6; Redpolls three 1/-; satisfaction certain: Gardner, Garstang-rd., Wesham, Lancashire. (577)

TEN house-moulted cock Linnets, singing, 4/- each; ditto cock Linnet, father of Mules, and hen Canary, 8/6 pair, and some field-moulted cock Linnets, 1/- each; approval: Porter, 8, Windsor Grove, Grovehill, Beverley. (584)

HOUSE-moulted cock Goldfinch, grand blaze, fit to show, and splendid hen Canary, bred Mules this season, 12/6, packed; also half-mounted cock Greypate, singing, 3/6; cock brown Linnet, singing, 2/-: Crombie, 104, Clare-rd., Cardiff. (585)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not fresh-caught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 7/6 the six; three for 4/-, or 2/- for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (583)



LINNET fanciers; two handsome very large red-breasted cock Linnets for sale, fine songsters, grand show specimens, make good contest birds, bargain, 1/6 each, 2/6 the two; approval; not satisfied money returned: Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable.

COCKS: Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6; H.M. Siskins, 5/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d., 1/-; Canaries, 7/6, 10/-; hens, 3/6; Siskins, 2/6; chickens, 2/-; pullets, laying, 3/6; six, and cock, 22/6; boxes, 3d., 6d.; bird lime, 9d., 1/4: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan.

LINNETS, Linnets, Southdown birds, proved to be the best in England for song or muling, grand nut brown cocks, six for 3/- or 5/- dozen; sex and satisfaction guaranteed or money returned; postcard before birds: G. Smith, Central Bird Stores, Charlotte-st., Portsmouth. (581)

I HAVE six large Welsh Greypate Goldfinch cocks, selected from a catch of thirty; they are the finest lot I have ever had, and showing well for good deep square blazes, will sure to make exhibition specimens; price 5/- each: G. Raby, 5, Park-place, Highgate Park, Birmingham. (585)

LOVERS of Chaffinches should read what H. S. Fulljames says about them. "Nutshell No. 13," 2½d. post free, tells you all you need know concerning the successful keeping of these birds. From: Cage Birds, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents, see list on another page).

How 1/- To-day Will Make £'s for You.

DON'T keep Canaries; make them keep YOU —and pay you WELL. Canary breeding can be made very profitable. It can be made to bring you in large sums year after year. It is only a question of knowing HOW, and this book TELLS you how—tells you in a simple, clear and practical manner. There is no theory about it, its 380 pages are simply packed full of money-making facts—the practical experience and valuable breeding secrets of famous Fanciers. It is written by Experts—well-known Breeders who have won prizes throughout the entire Kingdom—men who have made big money from their birds. They tell you how they did it, what they did, and why they did it. It is a veritable encyclopædia of Canary Breeding, giving full information on every point, telling you what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Here are a few examples :—

How to Test if Eggs are Fertile.
How to Relieve Egg-Binding.
How to Wean the Young.
How to Destroy Parasites.
How to Breed for Exhibitions.
How to Feed for Exhibitions.
How to Exhibit to Win.
How to Judge Birds.
How to Breed for Markings and Colour.
How to Cure Diseases.
How to Give Medicines.
How to Cure Deformed Toes.
How to Defeat Egg-Eating.
How to Train Birds to Sing.
How to Treat Birds that Fail to Breed.

32 Coloured Plates
133 Illustrations
380 Pages

The book is so well divided into chapters, headings, and sub-headings that any subject can be referred to with ease. There are three indexes—one for illustrations, one for chapters, and one arranged alphabetically.

A Free Illustrated Booklet

giving further information about "Our Canaries" will be sent you on request. Better still, use this Coupon and send with a P.O. for 1/- when "Our Canaries" itself will be sent.

If, after examination, you return the book, your 1/- will at once be refunded. If, however, you decide to keep it—and you will—you can pay the balance by easy monthly instalments. What offer could be fairer?

Send for this Book TO-DAY.

Use This Coupon

To the Publishers,
"OUR CANARIES,"
154, Fleet Street,
London, E.C.

Sirs,—I *(enclose herewith P.O. for One Shilling) shall be glad to receive full particulars of your Illustrated Volume entitled: "Our Canaries." If I decide to become a Subscriber I will remit balance in small monthly instalments as desired.

Name.....

Address.....

.....

Occupation.....

* If you like you can send for Illustrated Booklet before sending 1/- deposit, but the sending of deposit reserves the Volume in your name.

LESSER Redpoll, perfect size, shape, colour, and markings, can win in best company, 6/-; also five hand-reared Bullfinches, three cocks, 2 hens, cocks 5/- each, hens 3/- each, or exchange house-moulted Linnets or Goldfinch Mules, Finch notes; stamp reply: Hares, 14, York-sq., Richmond, Yorks. (586)

GOLDFINCHES! Goldfinches! Invaluable information concerning this most popular of our British birds is found in "Nutshell No. 1." Feeding, hand-rearing, and sexing, moulting and exhibiting, are all fully dealt with. 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; list published frequently.)

GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Write Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

NORTH Country Linnets, special picked cocks, 1/-, 3 for 2/6; I have a few champion call-birds, sure stoppers, 2/6 each; trap cages, all punch-bar and wire, no wood used, the best trap on the market to-day, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6; Esparto grass lime twigs, 2/-, box ready to set: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead (586)

GOLDFINCHES, warranted cocks, 2/-, 2/6 each; red-breasted cock Linnets, 1/- each, three 2/-; few specially selected, on song, 1/6, 2/- each; young cock Larks, fine as stars, singing nicely, 1/6, 2/- each; two-compartment trap cage and call-bird, 1/6; three-compartment, 2/-; travelling cages, 3d. extra: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (585)

LINNETS! Linnets!! Linnets!!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION.

Please note, all my birds are sent to you on 7 days' approval for cash, or deposit with Editor. I have customers all over the world. This week I have 2 lots sailing to New York, and one lot, including Grey Parrots, for Toronto, sailing on s.s. "St. Catherine," from Liverpool. I have a grand lot of wonderful talking Grey Parrots, all on hard seed and water, guaranteed acclimatised, £5, £6 each, and one, a gem, £10. Monster white Cockatoo, just commencing to talk, 35/-; Rosella, a gem, 25/-; cock Linnets, the best in England, and all on full song, 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each; quality songsters, 2/6, 3/6 each: Linnet call bird, with call cage, 3/- lot; house-moulted prize-winners, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/-; Norwich type cock Linnets, well pencilled, good colour and size, 2,6 each; h.m. Bramble, a gem, 2/6; Redpoll-Goldfinch Hybrid, 3/6; Siskin-Chaffinch Hybrid, 3/6; rock Canaries, 300 in stock, all on song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6; Yorkshire cocks, as good as anything in England, 15/6, 20/- each; Linnet whistles, 6d.; bag of Secret Mixture, 1/3, post free. Write at once to—

FRED ALLEN, Linnet Expert,
156, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

Softbills.

YORKSHIRE cock Larks, grand upstanding birds, 1/- each, three for 2/6: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

SKYLARK, cock warranted sing indoors or out, perfectly tame, 3/6: Prior, Parkside Cottage, Thorley, Bishop's Stortford. (587)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

SKYLARKS, warranted tame, hand-reared singing cock birds, perfect health, plumage, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishops Stortford. (573)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

1914 HAND-REARED cock Brook Thrush, incessant songster, nearly through moult, price 8/6; honestly worth double: four days' approval; cash, deposit: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 30 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable. (577)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, very loud, can be matched to sing any in this country, good contest bird or shop attraction, 1/6; secret of feeding free; approval anywhere: George Holt, Dunstable. (587)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

SKYLARKS, Skylarks, healthy specimens, in song, for shows and contest singing. Learn how to obtain them and keep them. "Nutshell No. 3" tells you. 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from agents (list frequently published)

EXHIBITORS, grand cock Spotted Flycatcher, 3/-; cock Greater Whitethroat, 3/-; four fine young cock Redstarts, 5/- each; hen Redstart, 2/-; best insectivorous food, 1/4 lb.; dried flies, 2/- lb: A. J. Underwood, Bird Specialist, 24, Wellington-st., Kettering.

THE Song Thrush and Blackbird.—Full directions how to keep these favourite songsters in the best possible condition; together with directions for hand-rearing the young and the selection of show birds, will be found in "Nutshell No. 4," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

EXHIBITION Softbills. Some of the finest picked specimens for exhibition; Nightingale, Garden Warbler, Reed Warbler, Blackcap, Wryneck, Wheatear, Yell. Wagtail, Gold-crested Wren, etc., also hand-reared, clean moulted, handsome specimens of rare Grasshopper Warbler, exceedingly tame, win anywhere; true pairs for aviary: P. F. M. Galloway, Durban, Caversham, Reading. (578)

Use Our Notepaper.

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds). PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Beltast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKierman, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Gluman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Raymer, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Selater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Selater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 269, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Selater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 30, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

Miscellaneous.

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury Terrace, Dunstable, would like to send on approval two beautiful singing cock Linnets and one Skylark, 1/6 each; would suit bird dealers for shop front attraction, or bird catchers for call birds. (587)

COCK brown Linnets, 4/6 dozen; Redpolls, 2/6 dozen; mixed aviary seed birds, 1/6 dozen; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; large selected cocks, 3/- each; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 1/- pair; Blackbirds, Song Thrushes, selected songsters, 1/6 each: George Fenn, East End, Isleham, Cambs.

DE VON & CO.

114, Bethnal Green Road, London. Cock Blackbirds, 1/6; Thrush, 2/-: Bullfinches, 3,- pair; Doves, 2/6 pair; cock Hawfinches, 5/6; Tits, 1/6; Hedge Accenters, 1,- each; Whitethroats, 3/6; hen Blackcaps, 1/6; Wagtails, 1/6; cock Redstarts, 5/6; price lists

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

NOTICE, grand lot Border Fancies, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; state wants; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

Cinnamons.

NOW booking orders; birds bred from my cup winner (Brown) and others; Yorkshires also for sale; holder of three cups: Craven, Yelverton-terr., Plymouth. (583)

Crests and Crestbreds.

NOTICE, grand lot Crests and Crest-breds, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

VERY large buff Crest-bred hen, also pied Crested hen, dark crest and mark on wings, two fine birds, 10/6 each, or £1 the two: Bowerman, 12, Wellington-st., Swindon, Wilts. (584)

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Grosvenor, Glam. (579)

NOTICE, grand lot Norwich, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

RARE bargain, 1916 show Norwich, good songsters, large birds, good heads, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-, £1; hens, 3/6 upwards: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (585)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England: approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

FIVE pairs of 1916 birds, five clear yellow, three ticked (two even), and two green, grand birds, 10/- pair; joining Army, must sell: A. Morris, Poles Gardens, Ware. (584)

SHOW birds, clean moulted, fit for keen champion competition; three exceptionally good birds, clear yellow, £4; marked buff, £3 15s.; clear buff, £3 10s., take £10 the three: W. R. King, 200, Kingston-rd., Portsmouth. (480)

GRAND pair clear buff Norwich, extra large 1914, 19/6; two clear buff cocks, 10/- each; three nicely marked cocks, 8/- each, 1916, all singing; one colour-fed hen, 7/-; 1915; cash or deposit: J. Wallace, 23, Cambridge-st., Glasgow. (586)

MUST clear, having to join Army October; clear yellow Norwich cock, buff hen, 25/-; marked buff Norwich cock, yellow hen, 20/-, will win in coming shows; ten pairs Norwich, 12/6 pair; twelve Norwich hens, 3/- each; cock Goldfinch, house-moulted, 3/6: S. Clough, 96, Onley-st., Norwich. (584) orders for highest class prize-bred Norwich Plainheads, Crests, and Yorkshires, also trained Rollers, all of which will be delivered soon as ready, and that means before most others. All will be sent out in rotation. Of course, I know a certain class of nonentities always profess to have such; but really, these don't count. My present price list is free for the asking, and will be found most useful and instructive. I suggest all intending purchasers should see this before deciding elsewhere.

NOW BOOKING

W. RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

SEVERAL good typical buff Norwich hens, marked and clears, 1915 bred, from 5/- each: A. Bridgwater, Corn Merchant, Warwick. (584)

GRAND 1915 buff Norwich Cinnamon cock, rare colour, type, head, and wings, £1 5/-; large rich Cinnamon green cock, rare substance, grand head, £1 5/-; typical, short, stout, 1915 yellow Norwich hen, from my winners, 15/-; large variegated buff hen, good quality and substance, 12/6: E. Baker, Waterloo-rd., Ipswich. (585)

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

GIVING away, 3 good Roller cocks, 4/6 each, 12/6 the 3: Miss Ross, Hazel Cottage, Forres. (586)

BRITISH Rollers (Randall's), details; stamp reply; approval: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (576)

GRAND songsters, 7/6, 10/6 each; ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury.

PURE Randall's, two cocks, exceptional singers, 20/- each; bargains: Carlton, 58, Joshua-rd., Sheffield.

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

A FEW very good Rollers, 1916, singing nicely, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-; 1915, £1; hens, 3/-: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (585)

EXCHANGE pair of prize Magpie Pigeons for Roller cock or good British; sell 10/-; yours first: 155, Old Fallow, Cannock. (587)

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

WATER Glucke Rollers (birds), nest 4, 12/-, B.R.C.C.; also 4 good hens, two rung, 10/-, feeders; £1 lot: Worrell, Church-st., Annfield Plain. (586)

FOUR Seifert Roller hens, good feeders, 6/-; also good black and tan Airedale bitch, 10 months, good yard dog, 12/6: Fiddler, 26, Thornton-st., Preston.

FOUR 1915 water glucke schoolmasters, prize strain, through moult and on full song, 15/- and 30/- each: R. McGowan; 31, Graham-st., Govan, Glasgow. (586)

CAN spare, a few 1916 British-bred Rollers, cocks 10/6 and 12/6 each: hens, 3/- each, also a few stock birds: Elliott, 13, Byker-terr., Walker-on-Tyne. (586)

NOTICE, grand lot Rollers, day and gaslight songsters, prices reasonable; easy payment arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas (562)

I AM NOW SENDING

out Roller Canaries, and satisfying thousands of customers in all parts; do not be tempted to wait, I only advertise what I really have in stock; no waiting; orders sent out same day as received; genuine British-bred Roller cock Canaries, clean moulted, in full rolling song, sweet mellow notes, 6/6, 8/6, 10/6, and 12/6 each; genuine schoolmasters, 15/6 and 21/- each; hens, same strain, 3/6, 4/6, and 6/- each; all birds safely packed and sent any distance; cash with order: Cooper, The Roller Canary King, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. Estab. 1884.

Scotch Fancies.

SCOTCH Fancy buff cock, pichald hen, sell or exchange British: Stoddart, High-st., Haddington.

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

GRAND Yorkshire cocks, 9/-; also dandelion seed, 3/- lb.: Sam Hughes, 71, Grosvenor-rd., Pimlico.

CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

YORKSHIRE cocks, singing, 6/-, 7/6, and 8/6; hens, 3/6 and 4/6: Princess Aviaries, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)

THREE cock Yorkshires for sale (clears), 7 months old, fine birds, price 21/-: A. Colby, No. 8, Row 13, North Quay, Gt. Yarmouth. (585)

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (580)

NOTICE, grand lot Yorkshires, many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval.—McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

YORKSHIRES. Typical, good length, rich colour and quality birds, bred from North and South Country cross; holder of three cups: Craven, Yelverton-terr., Plymouth. (583)

PRIZE-Bred 1916 Yorkshires, cocks 10/- upwards, hens 7/6 upwards; 1915 yellow cock, 20/-; buff cock, 15/-; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, Huddersfield. (584)

HIGH-CLASS Yorkshires, 1915 yellow ticked cock, 20/-; buff cock, 15/-; few cocks 10/- upwards; hens 7/6 upwards; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, nr. Huddersfield. (577)

GRAND long upstanding pair, yellow hen, buff cock, winners; cost £4, accept £1 10/-; also four grand youngsters, nearly finished moulting, very long and slim, grand quality, price 10/- each; 1915 yellow cock, winner, rare quality and length, £1; joining Army: E. Baker, Waterloo-rd., Ipswich. (585)

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 1½, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Contains complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various Canaries.

WANTED, cock birds, on song: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)
1916 COCK Canaries, full song, 5/-, 7/6 each: Poultry Farm, Brain, Aston, Birmingham. (586)
BARGAIN, warranted cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle-Douglas.
1916 hen Canaries, 3/-, 2/6; two Border hens, 3/- each; Greenfinches, 8d., 1/- the pair: H. Cunningham, High-st., Inverkeithing. (582)
CALLED up for service; 18 good Norwich and Yorkshires; what offers for lot: Ruecroft, 1, Beamish-st., West Stanley, Durham. (587)
YORKSHIRE, Norwich, Roller, and Border Canaries, splendid variety; reasonable prices; send for list.—Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (586)
1910 hen Canaries, 3/-, 2/-, 6; two Border hens, 3/- cocks, single from 5/-; pairs from 10/-: Miss Brown, Manor House, Heacham, Lynn. (585)
NORWICH, clear buff cock, 1916, 12/6; ticked yellow hen, 10/-; yellow variegated hen, 15/-; clear buff Border hen, 5/6; bargains: Gray, Baker, Burrelton, Perthshire. (586)

CANARIES FOR SALE.
CANARIES FOR SALE.
CANARIES FOR SALE.

ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.

Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.

COCKS.

One, just coming on song.....8/6
Seven, ditto ditto 49/6

Last season I gave satisfaction to thousands of buyers. Only genuine birds sent away.

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, E.

MULES—HYBRIDS.

COCK Goldie, hen Canary, mulers, 7/6; cock Goldie Mule, 6/-; cock Linnet Mule, 6/-: Hunt, 18, Swinegate, Grantham. (584)
SIX Sib.-bred yellow hen Canaries, 1916; cock Blackbird (hand-reared); two hen Goldfinch Mules: Gouldson, Harbour View, St. Budo, Plymouth. (584)
WANTED, 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)

FOREIGN BIRDS.

BUDGERIGARS. 5/6 pair; breeding pairs, 6/6; exchange offers: F. Hill, Southwold. (585)
TALKING Amazon Parrot for sale, with cage, write: Whetton, Vicarage-rd., Woodville. (582)
RED-BREASTED Parrakeet with cage, 15/-: Hobson, 42, Brook-st., C.-on-M., Manchester. (584)
GRAND breeding pair Rosellas, outside two years, 63/-: Steed, Tobacconist, Sudbury, Suffolk. (585)
TWO cock Cockatiels, splendid condition, 20/-; 16 months old: Denbighs, Heath-rd., Ripley, Derby.
BREEDING pair Californian Quails, £1; pair aviary bred young Saffron Finches, 6/-: C. F. Crow, Bank, Grimsby. (585)
COMPULSION sale, six adult Budgerigars, pair of yellows, four greens, 23/- the lot: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (585)
TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)
BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 7/- pair; yellows, 8/-; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)
ADULT pairs; Yellow Budgerigars, 8/-; Ribbon Finches, 6/-; odd cock Spice Bird, 3/6: Senrab, 75, Burns-rd., Harlesden. (584)
PAIR Sandgrouse, believed Indian painted, perfect condition, 42/-: Gerald A. Rattigan, Fron-Felen, Caersws, Montgomeryshire. (487)
GRAND pair Gouldians (B.H.), aviary bred 1915, £3 10s.; also lovely pair Red-faced Lovebirds, £3: J. Goodchild, Clare, Suffolk. (587)
AMAZON Parrot, talker and mimic, with cage, 65/-; exchange cock Canaries or pullets: Godward, Monson-rd., Tunbridge Wells. (587)
ZEBRA Finches, outdoor bred, 15/6 pair; Scarlet Bishop, gorgeous colour, prize-winner, 21/-: Godward, Monson-rd., Tunbridge Wells. (587)
PARROT, officer's pet, deceased, good home only, talking, tame, acclimatised, 40/-; large cage; heard, seen: stamp: 4, Euston-st., Euston. (587)
YOUNG African Grey Parrot, strong, clever bird, can be taught anything; call or stamp reply: Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (587)
NOTICE, grand Amazon Parrot talker, perch on finger, price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)
NOTICE, grand lot green and yellow Budgerigars, sure winners; price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)
KING Parrakeet (Psittacus cyanopygus, Russ), head now coming into colour, fine condition and feather; call or stamp reply: Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (587)
FOR sale, three Scaly-breasted Lorikeets, 65/-; pair Parson Finches, 22/6; also King's Barrabands and Golden Shoulder Parrakeets: R. Colton, 9, Birkendale-rd., Sheffield. (583)
BEAUTIFUL acclimatised Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, talks, dances, rare mimic, sacrifice, 50/-, including cage, to nice home; approval: Miss Jones, 17, Chalybeate-st., Aberystwyth. (587)
FROM outdoor aviary; cock Yellowmasked Weaver and two hens, 25/-; Zebra Finches, 10/- pair; one pair aviary-bred Bullfinches, 10/-: Mrs. Midwood, 1, Woodbury Park-gardens, Tunbridge Wells. (584)
ACCLIMATISED Black-bellied or Napoleon Weaver cock, full plumage, sell 35/-; Red-beaked Weaver cock and two hens, 15/-; full plumage; all aviary-moulted: McKinnell, 22, Mill-st., Dalbeattie.
MAGNIFICENT Green Budgerigars, 6/6 a pair; lovely yellows, 7/6 a pair; outdoor aviary bred; also one cock Cockatiel, 7/6: six days' approval, cash or deposit: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.
REMARKABLY clever and wonderfully tame talking African Grey Parrot, 2½ years, thoroughly acclimatised, real good company pet, for sale, reasonable price for one of the best seen and heard any time, being genuine; no dealers: Address, "Parrot," Wadgrave Lodge, near Coventry. (587)

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"
FOR 1916.
The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers
NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL, PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

CLEARING out; pair Cockatiels, excellent breeders, outdoors, £1 pair; Golden hen Pheasant, 8/6; cocks: Goldfinch, 5/-; Bramblefinch, 5/-; Palace aviary, never used, 12/6; approval, deposit: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (586)
BLUE-FRONTED Amazon Parrot, in splendid health and feather, good talker but swears a little, will accept 50/- for quick sale; also very large, strong square cage, 10/-, cost 40/-; and five first-class singing cock Linnets, splendid songsters, 2/6 each, or 10/- the five: Mr. Ingram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull. (584)
AVADAVATS! Avadavats are very charming little birds, but they need care. The "Nutshell" booklet, "Avadavats," contains full information on the management of these birds. You cannot do better than have a copy by you, and we shall be pleased to forward same upon receipt of 2½d. Write, The Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.
THERE is no mora lovely seed-eater than the popular Gouldian Finch, which, however, is very difficult to establish. This trouble can be overcome, and the variety kept successfully. But you must follow the hints given in "Nutshell No. 14," from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C., post free for 2½d. From agents (see list frequently published).
THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown. Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once, 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).
GUARANTEED breeding pair Peachface Lovebirds, acclimatised, show condition, £4; young from above 30/- each; hen Redface Lovebird, guaranteed acclimatised, show condition, 20/-; hen Scarlet Tanager, guaranteed as above, 30/-; early hatched Californian Quail, sexes guaranteed, 10/- each, 17 6 pair; adult pairs, 25/-; two large aviaries, also pheasantry, must be sold, particulars on application, carriage paid and best offer gets them; stamp reply: Rattigan, Caersws, Montgomeryshire.
WAXBILLS (Golden-breasted, Orange-checked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 5/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners. They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (list frequently published).
TWO cock Madagascars, 10/6 each; pair Green Budgerigars, 10/6; pair Yellow Budgerigars, 12/6; pair Combassous, 15/-; pair White Javas, 21/-; pair Masked Grassfinches, 20/-; pair Long-tailed Grassfinches, 40/-; pair Tricoloured Mannikins, 10/-; pair Rufous-backed, 20/-; pair Firefinches, 25/-; pair Yellow-winged Sugar Birds, 90/-; cock Rosella, 40/-; Green Singing Finch, 10/-; Silverbill, 5/-; Magpie Mannikin, 7/6; Masked Grassfinch, 15/-; White Java, 5/-; Redhead Hybrid, 12/6: Mrs. A. Silver, 7, Bampton-rd., Forest Hill, S.E. (584)

KING PARRAKEET.
PRIVATELY IMPORTED.

Only one brought over; fine young bird, head coming into colour, very tame, £7; wires have preference, or call: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (579)

Baya Weavers, from Bombay, in magnificent plumage, very rare, 10/6 each; Jendaya Conures, 21/ each; Golden Breasts, 15/- each; Levaillants Amazons, 60/- pair.

MACAWS

magnificent plumages, tame, talking Illiger Macaws, 50/- each: Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

BLUE-WINGED LOVEBIRDS

full wings and tail, in magnificent show plumage, 25/- pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

WEAVERS

300 pairs Weavers, magnificent birds, cocks talk in colour, 8/6 pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

INDIAN STOCK

Just arrived, magnificent stock of Indian Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, and Parrakeets: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

PARROTS

arrived Monday, Sept. 10th, 465 grand selected Blue-fronted Amazons, also Conures, monkeys, etc.; send for list. Over 2,000 Parrots and Parrakeets arrived during the last month: G. B. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

BUDGERIGARS

Gold medal strain, Green Budgerigars, 7/6 pair; hens 3/9; Yellows 9/- pair, hens 4/-; these birds are in magnificent plumage, very deep markings; safe arrival guaranteed: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DEALERS

requiring Parrots should send for our wholesale prices, over 700 genuine Amazons in stock, also 950 Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, etc.: G. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham. Telegrams: Parrakeet. 'Phone: Central 689.

DE VON & CO.

114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. Scarlet Tiger Finches, singing, 8/- each; Parrakeets, 15/-; Parrots, 35/-; Budgerigars, 6/6 pair; Yellows, 7/6; Californian Quail, 20/-; pair Cape Canaries, 8/-; Green Singing Finch, 8/-; St. Helena Singing Finch, 8/-; price lists.

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)
Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

VARIOUS BIRDS.

NETTED Welsh Linnets, well on hard seed, 1/-; selected 1/6; also Roller cocks, Randall's strain: C. Huntley, 12, Temple-st., Macsteg, South Wales.
SPLENDID pair Yorkshire Canaries, 12/6; large Norwich cock, singing, 7/6; handsome cock Goldfinch, with hen Canary, breeders, 8/6: Burch, Woodbridge. (583)
GIVING up, 3 cock Norwich, 27/-; 2 Norwich hens, 18/- (one cost 20/-); 5 selected cock Linnets, own caught, one house-moulted, mules, fine singer, 10/- the six, one cock Chaffinch, stormer, 1/6; cock Lark, 1/-; Linnet Mule, sex unknown, 2/-: G. N. Richmond, Woodstock, Prestwick, Ayrshire. (586)

WANTED.

WANTED anything alive: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (584)
WANTED all kinds of British birds at once: 124, Summer-lane, Birmingham. (585)
WANTED, Canaries, all kinds: Dawson, Dennistown Bird Mart, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (564)
WANTED any quantity of young Canaries: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (569)
WANTED, Canaries and Mule birds, all classes: Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)
WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (566)
CANARIES wanted, any quantity, best price paid: Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (570)
WANTED, few cock Canaries for cash; state price: Drummond, 15, Hutcheson-st., Glasgow. (579)
WANTED every variety of Fancy; purchase or exchange: Barlow's Aviaries East Greenwich. (587)
WANTED, clap net, cheap, good working condition: Dobbs, 783, Rochdale-rd., Manchester. (584)
WANTED any quantity big healthy Norwich, 10/- pair given: Scott, 110, Roebank-st., Glasgow. (584)
YOUNG cock Linnet Mules, will give good price for right sort: Baker, Plater, 187, Goswell-rd., E.C.
WANTED Linnet Mule in song, good price given; approval, deposit: Robinson's Boot Stores, Alnwick.
WANTED, British birds, weekly, from catchers; also singing Canaries: Torphy, Naturalist, Bradford.
WANTED, Cockatoos, Parrots, Budgerigars, Cockatiels, pullets, toy dogs: 17, Pembroke-rd., Walthamstow. (563)
WANTED Canaries, British birds, fowls, rabbits, pigeons; state price cash: Brain, Aston, Birmingham. (586)
WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Redpolls, Twites, any quantity: Clarke, 78, Whit-lana, Pendleton. (587)
WANTED Canaries, Mules, both sexes; Larks, Goldfinches, etc.: Bedford's Aviaries, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (581)
WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)
WANTED for cash, Canaries and British birds, also Yorkshire show cages; state lowest cash price: H. Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (580)
WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)
WANTED, all breeds of Canaries and mules for cash; send lowest prices to A. Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallumgate, Glasgow. (546)
WANTED Goldfinches, Bullfinches, also hen Canaries and Mules; state price: Thomas Hughes, Bird Merchant, 63, Saltley-rd., Birmingham. (587)
WANTED offers for 12 pairs Border Fancies, mostly 1916 bred, healthy birds; apply: Peter Gardner, 19, Wellpark-terrace, Bonnybridge. (585)
WANTED any quantity of Goldies; Bullfinches, Larks, Linnets, Redpolls, etc.; best prices paid for good birds: Osborne, Dudley-rd., Wolverhampton.
WANTED Canaries, Mules (both sex), Goldfinches, Bullfinches, etc., for immediate cash; please state price: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham.
WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.
WANTED, weekly, small supply of British birds, cock Canaries, fowls, pigeons, rabbits, new-laid eggs: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)
WANTED, all varieties Canaries, Mules, and Foreign birds, large or small lots bought, will send cash first: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle-Douglas.
WILL buy for cash any quantity hen Canaries; hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/- each; Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, either sex: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (586)
WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinches and Bullfinches, for cash, weekly supply and best prices paid for good birds: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)
WANTED, from catchers, weekly supply of Chaffinches, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and Linnets, good price give for good birds: Gracie, Bird Dealer, Wishaw, Scotland. (586)
WANTED, all kinds of Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price; honest dealings: Mr. Hobbs, 141, King's-rd., Camden Town, London. (586)
WANTED, any quantity of Canaries, British, and Foreign birds, also live stock of every variety; prompt cash settlement: Livestock Emporium, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)
WANTED, wanted, wanted, wanted—Canaries, Canaries, Canaries; cages; British, etc; best cash prices given; large or small stocks bought: Broadbent, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. (584)
SONGSTERS or exhibition Norwich or Yorks.; exchange orange Pomeranian dog, four months, not a toy, 25/-; small brother, will make a winner, 63/- (champion bred); approval: Miles, Aviaries, Chichester. (584)

CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!

Roller cocks, full song, over moult, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, 15 - each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/- 5/-; no waiting; birds sent off same day as order received; hundreds of satisfied customers: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (584)

CANARIES WANTED.

I am now open to purchase large or small quantities of Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Borders, Rollers, Mules, etc. Will give highest prices and will deposit cash with Editor. Send full particulars to

H. GLEDHILL,
Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

Wanted Wanted Wanted

Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, Linnets, Chaffinches, Mules, and hen Canaries, will give the following prices:—Goldfinches, 2/- a pair; Bullfinches, 2/- a pair; Siskins, 2/6 a pair; cock Linnets, 4/- a dozen; hen ditto, 1/- a dozen; Chaffinches, cocks, 4/- a dozen; ditto hens, 1/- a dozen; cock Goldfinch or Linnet Mules, 5/- each; hen ditto, 1/6 each; Norwich and Yorkshire hens, 2/- each; any quantity of the above birds required; cash sent on on receipt of birds; prompt payment; please note address: Albert Brown, 69, Slater-st. Bethnal Green, London, E. (586)

WANTED

all Breeders, Exhibitors, Secretaries, and Dealers to know that we have commenced purchasing all kinds of

CANARIES

for our extensive export orders, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, CRESTS, BORDERS, SCOTCH FANCY, MULES, etc., of all kinds.

Thanking all Secretaries, Breeders, Exhibitors, and Dealers for their assistance in helping us to maintain a good OLD ENGLISH INDUSTRY in past years, as BIRD JUDGES we are still prepared to give the highest value obtainable for birds, knowing their full value. Large or small quantities bought.

J. HOWARD & SONS,

Breeders, Exhibitors and Judges,
1, Sclater Street, and 28, Bethnal Green Road, London, and at 77, Pitt Street, Norwich

Estab. 54 Years.

For past 40 years the largest and most successful Exhibitors and Buyers in the United Kingdom. WINNERS OF over 5,000 PRIZES, CUPS, and MEDALS in OPEN CHAMPION CLASSES. HONEST DEALINGS ONLY.

Bankers: London County and Westminster (Shoreditch Branch, London), and Barclay & Co., Norwich.

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

EXCHANGE, cock Linnet Mule for Roller cock, or sell 10/-: Turnbull, Montgomery. (586)

SIX Roller hen Canaries, 3/- each, 17/- lot; offers: Wilkinson, 32, Whitecross-rd., York. (587)

EXCHANGE three large Norwich hens for young cock Goldfinches, sell 3/- each: 55, Letitia-st., Middlesbrough. (585)

EXCHANGE, 5 cock Siskin Mules and two hens for Canaries, or sell lot: Wright, 11, Mannering-rd., Shawlands, Glasgow. (586)

TWO Norwich cocks, buff and yellow, muling hen, exchange Pom. pup; offers: M. Bride, 159, High-st., Irvine, Ayrshire. (586)

SALE or exchange; five hens and seven cocks, good Canaries, sell lot 32/-; yours first: George Larmouth, Flint Hill, Dipton, Co. Durham. (582)

WHAT offers in Canaries for suit length, good tweed, any colour sent, or sell 25s.; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle Douglas. (562)

EXCHANGE young Yorkshires, cocks or hens, sex guaranteed, for fresh-caught Goldies and Bullies, cocks or hens: Apply, Edwin North, Canary Breeder, 143, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

EXCHANGE monster clear body, dark crested hen, feathers over end of beak, real Palace winner, for good lady's cycle, or sell £3 10s.: Abel, The Grove, Necton, nr. Swaffham, Norfolk. (585)

Mainly Foreign.

EXCHANGE Green Parrot and cage for Goldfinches, or sell 15/-; just starting to talk: William France, 7, Glebeland-place, Merthyr Tydvil, S. Wales. (585)

YOUNG talking Amazon Parrot, 50/-; Green Alexandra, 35/-; Rose-breasted Cockatoo, 25/-; call or stamp reply: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, S.W. (587)

GRAND talking Amazon Parrot and cage, says 20 words, £3; also genuine talking African Grey Parrot, with large square cage, £6: Standard Aviaries, Newton Heath, Manchester. (584)

SPLENDID Amazon Parrot, two years old, marvellous talker, sings, whistles, and laughs like a human being, good mimic, very tame, perfect health and condition, bargain, £4; with large square cage: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)

Miscellaneous.

GIRL'S cycle, guaranteed, sell £2; exchange Canaries: Dawson, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (585)

OFFERS in Canaries; exchange pair Ayrshire blankets, value 25/: Dawson, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (585)

NEW Blackbird's cage and trap cage, worth 12/-; offers, exchange anything: Ben, No. 2, Mustons-st., Shaftesbury. (583)

EXCHANGE high-class selfs, tumblers, reds, yellows, blacks, Nuns, for bird-room requisites: Gordon Stewart, Ipswich. (587)

WANTED, few Crested hens, cash, or gent's brown suit, almost new, also top coat; offers: McCulloch, 20, Irish-st., Dumfries. (584)

WHAT offers, Canaries, for cloth-lined chauffeur's overcoat; good condition: Moore, St. Joseph's Hospice, Mare-st., Hackney, N.E. (583)

BLACK Spaniel dog, good watch, make nice lady's pet; exchange Canaries or Foreign birds: Gracie, Brodiehill, Carluke, Scotland. (585)

SMART fawn Bedlington Whippet dog pup, four months, clean, healthy, 6s. 6d.; or exchange anything: Mrs. Forsdick, Selston, Notts. (583)

EXCHANGE three York show cages and case, breeders, aviary for birds; offers useful: T. Pegrey, 36, St. Margaret's-grove, Twickenham. (584)

EXCHANGE 18 double-sided new Regal records for good Schoolmaster Roller cock; no rubbish wanted: J. White, 7, Tyndale-place, Islington, N. (584)

EXCHANGE for Canaries, good banjo, in case, perfect condition, worth £1 10/-; what offers?: Jackson, Cambridge Lodge Villa, Hackney, N.E. (581)

EXCHANGE gramophone and records for young Norwich, or Yorkshires, hens; approval each way: Reynolds, Newham, Sithney, Helston, Cornwall.

POLICE dog, Airedale-Irish, trained, determined guard, 30/-; letters; exchange birds, anything useful: Police Station, Steens Bridge, Leominster. (587)

DOZEN travelling cages, balance doors, wire ends, 4/6; 60 1d. tins of polishing paste, 3/-; exchange cock Linnets, anything: Smith, 27, Swete-st., Plaistow. (586)

GOOD garden trap cage, excellent Goldfinch catcher, 1/11; Edward II. silver penny, 1309, 9d.; new Finch cage, 1/11: Hubbard, North Kilworth, Rugby. (584)

PAIR lady's shoes, size 6, for singing Canary; new heavy silver lever, cost 50/- month ago, for two good Roller cocks, singing: Hurst, 20, Montreal-buildings, Poplar. (585)

WHIPPET, catch hares and rabbits, night or day, 25/-; exchange B.S.A. No. 3 Air Rifle, or powerful shot air gun; no rubbish: 33, Upper Kincraig-st., Cardiff. (582)

NOTICE, we want Canaries and British birds, Parrots, anything alive, for cash, or exchange cutlery, plate, jewellery, tools, etc.—Smith Bros., 49, Pearst., Sheffield. (586)

THREE splendid first-cross Wyandotte-Rock pullets, laying, new poultry basket, 16/-; exchange Rollers, Yorkshires; offers: Durnford and Sons, Midsomer Norton. (585)

HANDSOME black silk chiffon shawl, enough for blouse, 5/6; 14 brass stair rods, 7/6, portiere rod; 7 yards oilcloth, 4/6; offers, stamp reply: Ormston, 42, May-st., Basingstoke. (583)

FOUR Black Pom. puppies, 12/6 each; six double breeders, 2/6 each; ½-plate stand camera, accessories, 30/-; approval; offers Canaries, gramophone, anything: Cawthorne, Box-lane, Pontefract. (585)

MUST sell, magnificent collection stuffed cases, heads, horns, antlers, from 5/-; quarter original price; superbly mounted; eminent taxidermists; list sent; everything on approval before payment: W., 164, George-st., Portman Square. (586)

ROLLER hens, 2/6 each; Yorks. hens, 2/6 and 3/-; 1916 Yorks. cocks, 7/- and 8/-, whistling; 3ft. 6in. double breeders, 5/- each, 12/- three; or exchange 1916 pullets or dog: Leverett, 175, Brookmill-rd., Deptford, London, S.E. (585)

WHAT offers in cash or anything useful for nine well-made double breeding cages, each measuring 36 x 18 x 10, new this season, cost £3 10s.; no reasonable offer refused: Apply, E. Peters, 4, Church Walks, Westhoughton, nr. Bolton. (583)

MUST clear; really fine muling cock Linnet and hen Canary, bred Mules, 10/-; six young Blackpool caught Linnets, 1/- each; hen Mealy Redpoll, had fertile eggs, with Linnet, 4/-; cock Redpoll, fine markings and bib, 2/6: "B," 25, Rossall-rd., Ansdell, Lytham. (584)

ROLLERS: wanted a cock and two hens in exchange for two volumes of Cassell's Educator, bound, complete edition of Marvels of Insect Life (not bound), cock must be good songster; books would make a nice present; approval both ways: Jackson, Old Lodge-lane Cottage, Purley, Surrey. (582)

NEW incubator, 10/-; new chicken rearer, 20/-; vacuum carpet cleaner, new, 12/6; gent.'s cycle, good order, 46/-; three-speed hub, 12/6 two-speed hub, 8/6; pair cycle wheels, 4/6; home cinematograph and films, 3/6; exchange fowls, Parrots, Canaries, or pure dogs: Swann, 140, Wellington-rd., Wavertree, Liverpool. (585)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Cats.

BLACK White Persian, with kitten, 3 weeks old, 4/-; rough kittens for sale: Newman, Core Lodge, Silverdale, Carnforth. (584)

Cavies.

PAIR self blacks, with two young, four weeks old, 5/6: J. Alderslade, 64, Desborough-rd., Eastleigh.

CAVY-Keepers Note! Nutshell 28, 'Profitable Pet Cavies (or Guinea Pigs)," is now ready. Deals fully with the Housing, Breeding, Mating, Rearing, Feeding, Exhibiting, Management, Diseases, Varieties, etc., etc. Price 2d., from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d., post free, from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Cycles

CHAMPION gent.'s cycle, in perfect condition, excellent tubes, tyres, free-wheel, grand brake, mudguards, 22 6; bargain: Samuel Dodd, near Northern Station, Sutton-in-Ashfield. (585)

Ferrets.

SPLENDID, clean, healthy ferrets, excellent workers, quiet to handle, for rats or rabbiting, 4/6 and 5 6 each: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

SPLENDID ferrets, good workers guaranteed, 4/6; younger, 4/- and 3/6; last year's excellent workers, 6/-; 14 days' approval; cash with order, or deposit Editor: Thos. Wannop, Short-st., Carlisle. (585)

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ABERTILLERY C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Prince of Wales Hotel, 6.30. Special meeting. Open show business.—W. Newell.

ABERDEEN AMALGAMATED C.B.S.—Sept. 29, Trades' Hall, Belmont Street, 8. Arrangements re show, and other important business. Fanciers cordially invited.—R. J. Robertson.

ABERAVON, PORT TALBOT B.F.A.—Sept. 23, Hong Kong Hotel, Aberavon, 6.30. Drawing-out schedule.—P. H. Morris.

BURNLEY C.B.S.—Sept. 25, 75, Lindsay Street, 8. General meeting. Appointment of a new Sec.—W. Broxup.

BARROW-IN-FURNESS C.B.A.—No meeting Sept. 23, owing to the holidays. Special meeting Little's Café, Oct. 11, at 7.30.—D. McFarlane.

CITY OF BRADFORD O.S.—Sept. 23, Flying Dutchman, 7. Special meeting. Important business.—W. Helliwelll.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.—Sept. 25, Institute, 60, Paddington Street, W., 8. Border judging competition. Critic and final judge, "G.G."—F. J. Martin.

DUBMIRE WORKMEN'S CLUB C.B.S.—Sept. 24, Dubmire Workmen's Club, 11 a.m. Special business; all members must attend.—G. T. Lynn.

DERBY C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Normanton Hotel, 7. Paying up for nominated birds. Annual members' show, Nov. 18, at Derby. Judge, Mr. J. H. Roe, Birmingham.—F. W. Jordan.

DONCASTER C.B.S.—Sept. 23, Black Bull, 7.30. Members' show. Important business.—H. Lumby.

EASTLEIGH C.B.S.—Sept. 25, Sec.'s residence 8. Schedule of open show and other special business.—J. Alderslade.

EAST HAM F.S., Young Stock Show, Central Liberal Club, Oct. 7.—Additional special, 2 quarts of best canary seed for best mule 1916 bred.—W. A. Harwood.

FALKIRK GOOD INTENT C.B.A.—Sept. 30, Graham's Road, 7.30. Important business. We have been fortunate in securing Mr. Geo. Arnott, Sinclairtown, Fife, to judge our annual show, Dec. 9.—W. Clarkson.

FALKIRK, GRANGEMOUTH, AND BANNOCKBURN.—Sept. 30, Oddfellows Hall, 7.30. Make final arrangements for show.—D. Aitken.

HEBDEN BRIDGE C.B.F.A.—Sept. 26, Big Café, 8. Arrangements for annual show.—A. E. Ismay.

LARKHALL C.B.A.—Sept. 30, Y.M.C.A. Hall, 7. Reports from judges; show business. Hat night. New members invited. Subs. due.—T. J. McGregor.

MIDLAND ROLLER C.C.—Sept. 28, Seven Stars, St. John Street, Wolverhampton, 7.30. Important meeting. Show business. Lecture by Mr. Twigg on "The Training of the Roller Canary."—J. W. Thomson.

MAESTEG C.B.S.—Sept. 29, Bird-in-Hand Hotel, 6.30. Discussion re show. Selecting of stewards, etc.—O. Cozens.

NEWCASTLE EAST END C.B.S.—Sept. 27, Shop, 161, Shilton Road, 7.30. Classification and general business. Members please note place of meeting, kindly lent by Mr. G. Armstrong for the evening.—E. Coltman.

OPENSHAW GORTON C.B.S.—Oct. 11, A Room, back of stage, Alhambra Theatre, Higher Openshaw, 8.30. Annual show business. Amalgamated show special; important.—A. W. Newton.

POPLAR C.B.S.—Sept. 28, All Hallow's School Room, East Indian Road, 8.30. Lecture on the Yorkshire Canary by Mr. T. G. Hunt. Friends welcome.—H. Priseman.

RICHMOND (SURREY) C.B.S.—Sept. 25, St. John's Hall, 8. Paying out prize money for young bird show. Prize winners please attend.—C. Brown.

SWANSEA C.B.A.—Sept. 23, Elysiun, 8. Open show; printing, etc. Important.—J. H. Ford.

STOCKPORT AND HAZEL GROVE B.F.A.—Sept. 27, Trinity House, Shaw Heath, 8. Classification and nomination of judge for Nov. show.—W. Stafford.

ST. QUINTIN PARK F. AND F. S.—Sept. 28, St. Traders' Institute, Portobello Road, W., 8.15. Canary judging competition and Cage-bird debate. Visitors invited.—A. S. Tarrant.

SOUTH MOOR C.B.S.—Sept. 23, South Moor Hotel, 6.30. Schedule annual show and other special business.—G. F. Bates.

SHEFFIELD O.S.—Sept. 26, Rotherham House, 8.15. Special committee meeting for open show arrangements.—E. C. Job.

SOUTH LONDON COL. AND F.A.—Sept. 28, 8. [Place not stated.—Ed.] Special general meeting; annual show business; important.—F. Tottle.

STRATFORD AND E. LONDON.—Sept. 27, Headquarters, 8. Arrangements for young stock show.—A. Wasey.

SACRISTON AND DISTRICT P.R.R. AND C.B.S.—Sept. 23, Mrs. H. Abbot's Tea Room, Front Street, 7.—Taking subs. etc. Subs must be paid at this meeting to exhibit at open show at reduced fee.—W. Dodd.

TONG C.B.S.—Sept. 23, Hand and Shuttle Inn, Dudley Hill. Members' show and meeting. Birds staged, 3. Judge, Mr. W. A. Cowgill, Bradford.—W. Walker.

VALE OF LEVEN C.B.C.—Sept. 26, Village School, Alexandria, 8. Annual show arrangements; Hall etc.—A. H. McLean.

WARRINGTON C.B.S.—Sept. 28, Blue Bell Sale Rooms, 8. Show business.—H. Warburton.

WEST STANLEY GARDEN HOUSE F.F. AND C.B.S.—Sept. 24, Club Room, 7. Confirmation of classes for annual show and other business.—T. Nicholson.

WEST BROMWICH C.B.S.—Sept. 23, Ivy House, Handsworth, 7.30. Lecture on staging and exhibition canaries.—P. T. Cowley.

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES' BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women."

Sold in boxes, 1/1½ by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from

LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON

Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

BULL bitch, breeder, worth £5; exchange gramophone; offers: 50, Commercial-rd., Liverpool. (586)

TWO game Bull-Airedale dog puppies, seven weeks, 7/6 each; bitch, 6/-; make demon guards: Barlow, Tobacconist, Greenwich. (587)

AIREDALES, pure bred, dogs from £1, bitches from 15/-; five weeks old; cheap, bargain: Adams, 45, Rotherhithe New-rd., London. (580)

FOR sale, a full-bred male Bulldog, pedigree, or exchange good Canaries; inspection invited: T. Woods, 149, Parr Stocks-rd., St. Helens. (586)

RETRIEVER-Collie bitch, black, 12 months, trained, one of the best guards living; suit watchman; 15/-: Cottam, Shoemaker, Albrighton, Wolverhampton.

TWO pure-bred smooth-haired Fox Terrier bitch puppies, 5/- each; mother same 10/-; exchange birds: Delf, 40, Co-op.-ter., Newsham, Northumberland.

PRETTY toy puppies, 8 weeks, Yorkshire-Pekingese, not exceed 5lbs. full grown, fascinating little mites, 7/6 each: Wardrobe Stores, 53, Manvers-st., Nottingham. (585)

KING CHARLES spaniel dog, 20 months, a beauty, healthy, pedigree, £3 10/-; exchange gramophone and records; approval: Shuttleworth, 7, Derby-st., Leigh, Lancashire. (586)

IRISH Toy and Airedale Terriers, Pom., Retrievers, pups, and adults for sale; cheap; state wants; dogs bought, sold, or exchanged: Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (584)

Mice.

PAIR tame Japanese mice and cage 1/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (512)

DORMICE, 3/6 pair, coloured mice, cavies, rats, wanted for cash: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (585)

WONDERFUL novelty, pair of performing tame mice, with combination cage and revolving wheel, complete, lot 3/-; lovely tame rats, perfectly harmless, 2/- and 3/- per pair: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)

Pheasants

ONE pair of Golden Pheasants for sale, in good condition, £2: Randle, Matlock Bath. (584)

PAIR magnificent Kalige Pheasants, sacrifice 25/-; pheasantry, three partitions, stamp particulars: Rattigan, Caersws, Montgomeryshire. (382)

Rabbits.

FOUR Belgian Hares, 8 weeks, 2/6 each; one English buck, 4 months, 6/6; one English doe, 5/6: Gennef, High-st., Leigh, Tonbridge, Kent. (585)

LARGE selection of tame pet rabbits, 3/-, 4/6, and 6/- per pair; cavies, same price; sent any distance:—Princess Rabbitry, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (584)

CHAMPION Belgian buck, Palace prize-winner, only rabbit left, will take 15/-: Write for particulars, etc., stamp reply, J. Heaven, Bristol-rd., Nailsworth, Gloucestershire. (584)

Various.

GENT.'S silver watch chain, and swimming medal, 12/6: Gibbons, 95, Peel-terr., Stafford. (577)

TWO Rhesus, two African, and one Bonnet Monkey for sale, £2 each; will sell separately: Randle, Matlock Bath. (584)

NEW single-barrel breech-loader gun, .12 bore, top lever, sacrifice 22/6; approval, deposit: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (551)

BLACK female Pom. puppies, gentle, good-tempered, from 21/-: Deacon, Byrlton, Frome. (583)

SALE, gramophone, in good order and tone, with large horn, 30 double-sided records, £2 lot; bargain: Great Oak, Rogerstone, Newport, Mon. (584)

GENT.'S solid silver lever watch, by Kendal and Dent, perfect, £1; coral brooch and earring, very rare, £1: Barron's patent pipe-filler and case for 12 cartridges, 5/-: Mrs. Layton, 82, Nichol's-square, Hackney-rd., London, N.E.

A BOON to all householders: how to make delicious butter at the rate of 4d. per pound; to all honourable persons sending stamped addressed envelope, and promising to send 1s. if satisfied after trial, I will forward the above receipt: J. Fletcher, Pinfold Farm, Fishwick, Preston. (550)

PEACH'S Loom offers autumn decorations. Curtains, patent Imperial Hem and Contrenet Curtains from 6/3 per pair, easement fabrics, nets, muslins, Cretonnes, linens, blankets, down quilts, green roller blinds; direct maker's prices means wonderful savings; full particulars in catalogue; write to-day: S. Peach and Sons, 150, The Looms, Nottingham.

Use our Notepaper.

Club Reports.

SHETTLESTON, CARNTYNE C.B.S

Meeting, Co-operative Hall, Visalins St., Sept. 16. Decided to hold annual show. To arrange for this, also to decide a very important matter affecting the Society, a special meeting of all members is requested on Sept. 30, at 8.—Jas. Dalling, President.

BRIGHTON AND HOVE C.B.A.

In place of the usual monthly table show for September, a members' whist drive was held at Headquarters, Sept. 13, and a pleasant evening was spent by a fair number. Messrs. A. Fellows and G. B. Absolom kindly offered the prizes. Lady, highest score, 168, Mrs. Robinson. Gent., highest score, 168, Mr. Robinson. Hidden No. (154), Mr. C. Pearson, 155. Refreshments were served during the interval, and the evening's enjoyment finished just before 11 o'clock.—Will H. Gibb, Sec.

WIGAN ROLLER CLUB.

Meeting Legs of Man Hotel, Sept. 9. Mr. Kay presided over a record attendance. Decided to hold a point competition amongst members at our annual contest held Dec. 15 and 16, a member to win only one prize in the same competition. A special effort is being made to raise a silver cup, the winner to hold it for 12 months only. Decided to hold meetings every second Wednesday in each month instead of every second Saturday. Members please note. Will fanciers and friends who promised specials please communicate at once with the sec., P. Greenall, 581, Ormskirk Road, Pemberton, nr. Wigan.

SOUTH SHIELDS (Always Ready)

Meeting Sept. 6, Hunt's Shop, Ocean-road, Mr. J. S. Dixon presiding. Show arrangements the chief item. Decided to have the following classes: Norwich 13, Crest and C.B. 6, Cinn. 4, Yorks. 13, Bord. 14, A.V. 1, Sell. 2, Mules 2, Brit. 9, For. 1. Members were asked to try and collect as many specials as possible. Decided that every member shall nominate a bird to compete for specials collected, the best bird to have the best special, and so on; there will be an extra special for best bird in show, also one for most points. Entries must be in not later than Nov. 15. Next meeting Oct. 4.—J. W. Watson, Sec.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C

Meeting, Sept. 2, Victoria Hotel, Charterhouse Street, E.C. Mr. Harrison presided over a fair attendance. Mr. Greenford, Kennington, was elected a member. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Dyer for suggesting the outing of Aug. 6, and to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert for the arrangements. Decided to make the Ramble an annual event. Mr. H. Bell in a lecture on Norwich Plainhead, entertained the members for a good time. Questions were asked from all round, and the lecturer suitably answered. A vote of thanks was accorded to Mr. Bell. Vote of thanks to the chair closed the meeting.—W. Gilbert, Hon. Sec.

LANCASHIRE AND LIZARD F.A.

Meeting, Club Rooms, Oldham, Sept. 3, a goodly number being present. Letter read from Ardwick Society giving us two classes for Lancashires and four for Lizards. Also classes at Manchester, four Lancashires and six Lizards, Mr. B. Clegg judging our section. There will also be classes in connection with Rochdale Good Intent. The first of our two club shows will be held at Oldham, Oct. 14 and 15, Mr. E. Lowe, the well-known Lancashire and Lizard breeder, judge. Decided in regard to our first club show that we have two adverts in "C.B." a week before the show, one under Lancs., and one under Lizard section. The Kingswai challenge cup for best 1916 Lizard will be competed for at Manchester. The winner will be presented with a medal by Mrs. Burgess, the donor of the cup. Decided to have a pool (not compulsory) of 2s. for each of the five shows, or any part of same; the member having most points with four highest birds to take the pool. There are already three names down for same, and members who would like to take part should write me as soon as possible. Entrance fee for club show to be 1s. 6d.—3d. for working expenses, 3d. for a special for best bird in each class, and 1s. prize money on sliding scale. Classes: Lancashire Coppy, Plainhead ditto, Hen bred 1916, also ten classes for champions and four for novices in Lizards. Birds can be kept over till Monday by letting the sec. know before close of show. I should like to hear from anyone who would like to give any specials, either for the club show or any of the others. It is hoped that our members will do their best to support all the shows we are interested in, as it is a case of keeping our varieties on their feet during these troublous times. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Chairman (Mr. Jos. Hampshire) for his services.—J. Rukin, Hon. Sec.

CRYSTAL PALACE AND PENGE.

Meeting, Alexandra Hotel, Penge, Sept. 13. Mr. Foxen, chair, and a good attendance. Five new members applied for membership; room for more. Three silver cups, medals, and specials at annual show, Nov. 10. Join at once. Mr. H. Norman gave us a surprise visit and helped us by answering a lot of questions which were put to him. An instructive evening was spent.—W. D. Fryett, Hon. Sec.

W. BROMWICH & HANDSWORTH

Meeting, Aug. 26, with a very good attendance, Messrs. Loach and Jiffer elected members Decided to have young stock show Oct. 21, Mr. Baker judge; also an inter club show in the place of open, Nov. 18, when we hope the members of City of Birmingham and Wolverhampton will do their best to make a success. Next meeting Mr. H. Collier has kindly consented to give a lecture on staging and exhibiting Canaries. Members and friends in the district are invited.—P. T. Cowley.

WARRINGTON C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, Headquarters, Aug. 31, Mr. Eckersley, chair. The Chairman read a communication from E. Harper, of the K.O.S.B., one of our members, who has been a prisoner of war in Germany, for 12 months. It was decided that we send him three or four parcels at intervals, sufficient cash being handed to the Sec., to enable him to do so. Sec. was instructed to write to the several societies within easy distance to try and arrange a combined show in Warrington sometime in November. A further discussion to take place on the subject at the September meeting.—H. Warburton, Hon. Sec.

N. YORKS. & S. DURHAM FED.

Meeting Sept. 13, Little Regent Inn, Stockton; all societies represented. Final arrangements made for open show at West Hartlepool Nov. 4, to be followed by another open show at Darlington Jan. 1. We have obtained patronage of N.B.B. Mule and F.B. Club for Hartlepool, and trust same will be granted for Darlington. Judges for Hartlepools: Canaries, Messrs. Wright and Simeson (York), British, etc., Mr. Waters (Sunderland). Full particulars will be duly advertised in "C.B."; in the meantime we appeal to fanciers to support our efforts to keep the Fancy going during war time.—B. Smurthwaite, Sec.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.

A good muster attended the meeting to hear Mr. A. Howard (son of the well-known "Jimmy") lecture upon colour-feeding. Mr. Howard pressed upon his hearers the necessity of rubbing the pepper well into the food. Birds should be sheeted down, and not kept together in large numbers or they invariably damaged their flights and tails. Linseed mixed with the canary seed, should be given daily. He considered it wrong to use hot pepper before the young birds had started well into the moult. Mr. Howard was bombarded with questions, which he readily answered. The lecturer was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks for the instructive lecture.—F. J. Martin.

WALLSEND MID-TYNE C.B.A.

General meeting, Station Hotel, Sept. 13, Mr. Simpson presided over a good attendance. A great amount of show business was gone through, and it was decided to give 5s. towards each class, to be divided out with the entries in the classes. We have received a few specials for each section, also a cup, presented by Mr. McQuillan, for best young Border Green, bred by a member. New members elected, Messrs. Peacock, Sunderland; Russell, Sunderland; Johnston, Blyth; Morgan, Preston; Moir, Walkerville; Shortt, Gosforth; Crass, Winlaton; Crawhall, Newcastle; Wakenshaw, Newsham. Members please attend next meeting, very important show business. New members joining at next meeting will be able to compete at show; subs. due.—Geo. Greenwell, Sec.

EAST ANGLIAN NORWICH P.C.

Meeting Sept. 14, Mr. J. J. Smith chair. Sec. read correspondence and pointed out that satisfactory progress had been made in obtaining new members. A committee had been meeting weekly for the purpose of drafting the general rules and the results of their labours were prescnted for further consideration. Members present were very satisfied with the committee's poposals, and though all important points were freely discussed very little improvement could be suggested. Twelve of the proposed fifteen rules were agreed to, and the remainder, which will no doubt raise considerable discussion, will be considered at next meeting, Oct. 12. Decided that alterations may be suggested at the next meeting in any of the rules already considered, and if agreed upon embodied in the rules in question.—R. Tomlinson, Hon. eSc.

DULWICH AND PECKHAM C.B.S.

General monthly meeting headquarters, Reindeer Hotel, Peckham. Members turned up in good numbers to hear Mr. Cole's lecture on the "Production of Colour." Many thanks are due to Mr. Cole for the very able manner in which he dealt with this most important subject, and for the discussion which arose from his remarks. The evening in every sense proved most instructive and enjoyable. Four new members elected: Messrs. G. Sands, W. Pavey, Richards, and Andrews. Mr. Clarke very ably occupied the chair.—W. Hodson, Hon. Sec (pro tem.).

SOUTH MOOR SOCIAL CLUB.

Meeting, Sept. 17, Mr. Taylor chair, and a good attendance. The main business was to have a working committee for our show, 4th and 5th Nov., and we decided to select Messrs. T. Taylor, Thos. Hodder, and H. Roxboro'. These men will be paid for their work. Stewards were also picked, and it was decided that the two delegates who went to Consett the last time should go again. We passed a vote of deepest sympathy with Pte. J. J. Teasdale in the sad loss of his little daughter, who was killed by a motor lorry. Pte. Teasdale has been home on leave and is going back to the Front for a second time. The members all wish him a safe return home.—Geo. Lane, Sec.

GATESHEAD C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 9, with a good attendance. Letters were read from several specialist clubs re granting us their patronage at our fourth annual show. Up to the present we have received the patronage of the Northern Yorkshire, Open Norwich, Green Border, Northern British, M. and F.B.C. Messrs. F. Laidlaw, T. Almond, Dan Hamilton, and C. Waters, are the judges appointed. Decided to add a class for breeding pairs, any variety, also to pay prize money, 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d.; fee 1s. 6d., members 1s. At next meeting a discussion "Canaries versus British, as a Hobby." Mr. Maddison, the well known judge of British and mules, takes the latter, and the sec. the Canaries. A hearty invitation is given to fanciers and members to attend, and to take part in the discussion; for date, keep your eye on club notices; fanciers invited to join. Members elected: Messrs. J. Thomas and Ward. Subs. due.—W. Curry, Sec.

NATIONAL GREEN-MARKED Y.C C

Committee meeting 9th Sept., Mr. W. A. Cowgill chair. Messrs. C. Thornton and F. Myers (Thornton and Myers) were elected members. The prize list for 1916-17 was arranged as follows:—Open competition: 1st, Sheffield O.S. challenge trophy (presented by Dr. Craig), value 10 gns.; 2nd, Club challenge trophy, value 5 gns.; 3rd, Challenge trophy value 3 gns., presented by L. Dykes, H. H. Towers, and J. Chambers. Medals value 20s., 12s., and 8s. to go with above trophies until won outright. 4th, Special value 10s. 6d., presented by W. A. Cowgill; 5th, Special value 7s. 6d., presented by J. Chippendale. Amateur section: 1st, Special value £1 1s., presented by J. T. Sharpe; 2nd, Special value 15s., presented by L. C. Casey; 3rd, Special value 10s. 6d., presented by J. Bailey. Jun. novice competition: 1st, Special value £1, presented by club; 2nd, Special value 15s., presented by club; 3rd, Special value 10s. 6d., presented by P. Mason. Cash specials for 4th and 5th birds as last year.—J. Chambers, hon. sec.

BRITISH ROLLER C.C.

Meeting Sept. 12, Cock and Lion Hotel, Wigmore-street, W. The president, Mr. Lester, was only able to pay us a short visit, but joined in with Mr. Fisher (chairman) with his able comments on song. After the minutes of the last important meeting had been read and passed, the sec., Mr. Norris, informed the meeting that the Bacup Roller C.C. had already signified their adherence to the parent club, and would therefore have nothing to do with the proposed Board of Control. Further notices of adherence will be notified in the mouthly reports. There was a good attendance, several old birds were brought, and a pleasant and very instructive evening was passed. Many tours were named and their qualities discussed, variations explained, and faults demonstrated. Prominent among the tours difficult of apprehension, and of which we had examples in the birds, were bell tour as compared to schockel, glucke roll, and a tour in koller form. Hollow roll, of course, and glucke camo in for their share, a nice slow form of the latter cropping up in a young bird, the only one exhibited. In faults we had a nasal bass, aufzug, and, needless to say, high bell. Hearty thanks were voted to the chairman for his interesting lecture. At the next monthly meeting birds will again be shown, and every member who attends will kindly bear this in mind and bring along one or two birds if he can; if not, let him come and learn.—Hy. W. Gutierrez, Reporter.

A BARRED ROOK.

The "Field" of Sept. 2 publishes a beautiful drawing by the well-known artist Mr. F. W. Frohawk, of an abnormally-coloured Rook which is accompanied by the following interesting details. The drawing is from a specimen obtained by Mr. E. W. H. Blagg at Cheadle, Staffs.

"The circumstances in which this curious bird was obtained are thus detailed by Mr. Blagg in his letter to me dated July 31: 'This bird flopped down from a nest in the rookery here on May 18. I sent it off to Messrs. Rowland Ward at once. On May 20 a precisely similarly-coloured young bird did the same. This one I tried to rear to send to the 'Zoo,' but it was thin and weak and died. I have presented it to the Stafford Museum. Of course it is 100 to 1 both birds came from the same nest. We kept a good look out, and could not find another grey one. We have only about thirty nests this year, quite close to the house, so if either of the parents had been similar in colour I should easily have spotted them. There is a strong inference that the old birds took objection against these two young ones and ceased to feed them on account of their peculiar colouring, for no other young birds flopped down from the tree tops this year, the weather being calm at perching time. I have a strong suspicion that a bird I saw last year on the wing, a quarter of a mile from here, during the middle of May was a blue-grey rook; the bird puzzled me much. It flew from tree to tree; the flight of a young rook, but not a rook. I could not get very close to it, and finally lost trace of it.

"The following is a description of this remarkably-coloured specimen: The head and neck, which are the darkest parts, are dull purplish-brown with faint dusky bars; back and rump drab-grey; wing and tail light ashen-grey tranversely barred with purplish-brown, forming broad sub-marginal bands on the primaries and secondaries as well as on the primary and secondary coverts. There are also indistinct narrow median bars on all these feathers and on the mantle and scapulars also; the tail and upper tail-coverts are conspicuously barred; the rump is less distinctly marked. The ashy-grey ground colour of the under parts is also mottled with dusky bars. The bill is deep horn-brown, the legs and feet are black, and the irides hazel. It proved upon dissection to be a male."

Tree Creepers Build in the Jaw of a Whale.

SOMETIMES there visits the larger of our woods a wee brown bird with silver-white under plumage, active and alert in all its movements, yet so fearless of your presence that it may be watched at work from a few yards away. This is the Tree-Creeper. Summer and winter finds this bird searching the trunks of the trees for insects or their grubs, and doubtless after autumn the best opportunity is given for observation of its habits. A short song in summer, something like 'tit, tit-titter-zee," is the first indication if you are basking in a particular corner of the wood that friend Tree-Creeper has put in an appearance there for something in the way of comestibles. After some minutes' careful scrutiny the brown bird may be distinguished half-way up a near stem, climbing round and round with the silent persistence of a mouse. A bare spot on the gnarled bark shows the earnest forager up quite distinctly, the slender, downward curved bill probing each likely hiding-place for insects; and one finds some difficulty which to admire most, the fawn plumage fading away to silver on the breast or the bird's adroitness at work. Arrived near the top of the tree, down it drops, only to begin a similar ascent of the next. Adapted for climbing, the claws are long, very slight, and sharp as needles. Although not a bird of passage, the Tree-Creeper dearly loves a change of feeding-ground, and it will often vanish entirely from a favourite wood for some months without regard to season or weather. The first time this bird's nest came under my notice the clutch of seven tiny grey eggs spotted with brown was a puzzler. Situated in the hollow of a whale's jaw set up as a fantastic gateway some distance from trees, the parent birds had too good a view of the approach to be at home to callers with no matter how honest intentions; but if the Cuckoo discovered its identity to the blind man by reason of its voice, so the peculiar grasping claws of the baby Tree-Creepers when they arrived made known their parentage. There were plenty of hollows in the trees of a wood to which the Tree-Creepers adjourned for the grubs to feed their offspring, but the space in the whale's jaw apparently suited as a position for their nest, and hardly a year passed in which a brood was not successfully hatched out there.—"Greenock Telegraph."

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must he sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camherwell.) J.R., J.F.

Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.)

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.)

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.).

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. —Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Nov. 29-30—Southampton C.B.S.—(W. L. Page, 30, Bedford Place.) J.R.

Dec. 6-7—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersycban, Pontypool.)

Scotland.

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

1917.

Jan. 3-4.—City of Glasgow O.A.—(J. Young, 76, Burn Rd., Rutherglen.).

Wales.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Ireland.

Dec. 1-2.—Newtownards C.B.S.—(Wm. Montgomery, 62, Church St.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 30,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.
Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 6229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID.

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 5s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DON'T FORGET

CLAPHAM SHOW,

OCTOBER 11th & 12th,

IS OPEN TO ALL,

And we want the support of every Fancier.

If you have not yet received a Schedule kindly apply to the Hon. Sec.,

T. J. HOSE,

5, WELLS CRESCENT, CAMBERWELL, S.E.

DON'T FORGET

ABERTILLERY

Open Show of Cage Birds, Gymnasium Hall, on October 18th. 42 Classes. Judge, Jno. Robson. Schedules ready.—Newell, 62, Princess Street.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

Twitterings.

White Swallows seem to be more than usually numerous this year. Another has been reported from the vicarage garden at Bramford, Ipswich.

Arbroath C.B.S., writes Mr. D. Forsyth, hon. sec., are to hold an open show on the third Saturday of November, and trust that in taking this step to keep the Fancy alive they will have the support of fanciers generally.

Old Shildon Workmen's Club C.B.S. will hold an open show, Nov. 10 and 11. Judges: Canaries, R. S. Bewick, Newcastle; British, Wm. Rutherford, Crook. There will be a good classification for British, writes Mr. Ainsworth, Sec.

In the club report of Accrington C.B.S. in your last issue, writes Mr. Jas. Stuttard, I am inadvertently shown as secretary of the society. The secretary is Mr. A. Noble, 40, Lodge Street; Accrington. My position is that of corresponding secretary.

Having been offered several judging engagements lately, writes Mr. E. J. Davies, Cardiff, I should be glad if you would kindly make it known that I cannot possibly entertain any more while my son is away in the Army, owing to the difficulty of getting away from business.

Kindly intimate, writes Mr. J. Stewart, that I have resigned the position of secretary to the Whitehaven Yorkshire C.B.S., and any communications respecting the society should be addressed to J. McLaughlin, 37a, George St., Whitehaven. We intended holding a Red Cross show.

We have received the Rule-book of the Open Norwich Plainhead Club. Besides the rules of the club, it contains the show standard for the Norwich Canary and scale of points, particulars of the various challenge cups and specials of the club, a list of patronage shows for 1916-17, and tho names and addresses of members.

Kindly allow me through the medium of our valuable paper good old CAGE BIRDS, writes Mr. W. McClymont, Caithness, to thank the sec. and members of Queen's Park C.B.S. (Glasgow) for their good wishes for me in my new situation. At present I am only a few miles from John O'Groats, and 12 miles from a station or village, and yet I get our favourite paper every Friday night as usual.

Societies wishing to have the patronage of the Northern British, Mule, and F.B.C. should apply at once, writes Mr. W. Curry, 6, Roxburgh Place, Newcastle. Patronage will be allotted at a meeting, Sept. 30, in Shield's Cafe, Bigg Market; please state number of classes and judge. The following societies have been granted patronage: Hartlepool, Nov. 6; Gateshead, Dec. 9. Fanciers invited to join, annual subs. 2s. 6d.

The "Avicultural Magazine" for September, the journal of the Avicultural Society, opens with "Nesting Notes from the Zoological Gardens," by Mr. Seth-Smith. The Editor, Mr. H. D. Astley, contributes "The Black Redstart and its Breeding Haunts," and "Miscellaneous Notes from Brinsop Court." A very interesting article is "Bird Song," by "Birdlover," and among the other items are "Some Firefinches and other Gambian Birds," by Dr. E. Hopkinson, "Five Little Waxwings," by G. G. Phillips, etc.

Your readers will be glad to hear, writes Mr. J. Bastock, City of Birmingham C.B.S., that our secretary has obtained his ticket to stay at home, so there will be no change in management. The committee have decided to hold our open show as usual, and we hope fanciers will give us all the support possible, as we give a good classification. I am guaranteeing a class for natural colour Norwich. If fanciers would like to guarantee any classes I am sure our committee will be pleased to meet their wishes in every way possible.

In sending the article entitled "How I Began Canary Breeding" Mr. Craven writes: "Since the photograph was taken I have secured another cup, so that I now hold three silver cups won by my birds this year. I have reared birds which have won for me eight first prizes which they have won at their first time out. I have now over 70 youngsters nearly through the moult, and, as these have a good percentage of green blood, they are showing good colour. After a few more weeks to fix feather and colour I shall be ready to put more on the show bench. Your advertisement pages have always done me very good service, and this week I am forwarding two more advertisements.

Our Front Page Drawings.

The original drawings of our front page illustrations, and of most other pictures appearing on our pages, may be purchased by readers for framing. Terms for any picture will be sent on application.

A Correction.

Mr. J. Patterson, Chirnside, writes that his paper on the Border Fancy Canary, published in our issue of last week, was read before the members of the Blaydon C.B.S., not of the Border Fancy C.C. as stated.

Keeping the Flag Flying.

The North Yorkshire and South Durham Federated C.B.S. will hold two open shows during the season; at West Hartlepool, Nov. 4, and Darlington, Jan. 1 (see Club Report). The secretary is Mr. B. Smurthwaite, 4, Harland-place, Norton-on-Tees.

Glasgow Show to be Resumed.

After a lapse of two years it was agreed at a recent meeting of our members, writes Mr. J. Young, sec. City of Glasgow O.A., to hold a show in Glasgow on Jan. 3 and 4 next. The show will be held under the auspices and for the benefit of the Princess Louise Fund for Limbless Sailors and Soldiers.

Rough on the Editorial.

It seems to have been a good idea, says a reader in a letter received this week, to offer a prize weekly for the best letter, as so many interesting letters are now appearing. Ever since I first took CAGE BIRDS, now about ten years ago, I have always looked at the Correspondence page first, and next in order I have read the Answers to Queries.

Gateshead Fanciers; Please Note.

An interesting letter was received from our vice-chairman, Rev. C. R. Appleton, C.F., on active service, No. 8, Stationary Hospital, British Expeditionary Force, Boulogne, writes Mr. W. Curry, Sec., Gateshead C.B.S., and we were glad to note that he was in the best of health. He wishes members of Gateshead C.B.S. to write him, and for this reason I ask you the favour of letting them know his address through CAGE BIRDS.

Swansea Show for the Red Cross.

The members of the Swansea and Dist. C.B.A., writes Mr. J. H. Ford, Sec., 83, Norfolk St., Swansea, have decided that the profits of their forthcoming show, Nov. 16, will be given to the funds of the Red Cross Society. We hope that exhibitors will favour us with their entries, and give us a bumper show. We are giving 58 open classes and a gift class, birds only to be sold by public auction; cages will be returned. Should be pleased to receive any bird for this class.

A Curiously Marked Blackbird.

There is at present in this neighbourhood, says "W. A.," in "The Scotsman," what is certainly the most curiously plumaged Blackbird that I have ever seen. The head and neck feathers down as far as the wings are mottled brown, somewhat like the plumage of a young female, while the remainder of the bird's plumage is a dead, unrelieved black. The dividing line between the two shades of colour is as sharp as if each had been cut out of a separate piece of cloth and hemmed before being fitted together. The effect is very striking. I cannot hazard even a guess as to the sex of the bird, as it is evidently out of a this year's nest. The colour of the bill has not yet developed.

Bird Protection in North America.

Mr. Lansing, the American Secretary of State, has formally announced the signature of a Treaty with Great Britain for the protection of migatory birds. It will apply mainly to the migration of game and insect-eating birds from the United States to Canada, and provides that no bird important to agriculture because of insect-destroying proclivities shall be shot at any time; that no open season on any species of game birds shall extend for a longer period than three-and-a-half months; and that game birds shall not be taken during the breeding season. The Treaty means that 1,022 species of the birds of North America will be protected, from the Gulf of Mexico to the North Pole, and is of prime importance to farmers, forest owners, and fruit growers. It is computed that nearly 300 species of birds pass through or make their homes in the Province of Quebec alone.

Even a Parrot Strafes the Kaiser.

Poor George Bull, publicity expert, author and wit, who was buried at Highgate this morning, had an extraordinarily keen sense of humour, says "The Evening News." His pet possession was a grey West African Parrot named James, who was, and still is, a fluent conversationalist. On the outbreak of war, anxious to keep the bird topical, George taught it to say "What about the Kaiser? Wretch!" and ever since James thus anathematises the chief of the Huns countless times each day. On the night of the Zeppelin raid of last October, Bull, who had left the Parrot at his office, was much afraid that it might have stopped a stray bomb, and together we jumped into a taxi, and hastened to see how James was getting on. The first sound that greeted us, as we opened the office door, was James's execration of the Kaiser. "He's a stop-press bird, isn't he?" remarked Bull.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.

J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.

THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate: 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.

J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.

W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.

G. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.

J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich: terms moderate.

C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.

J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.

W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.

H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.

J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.

J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester, Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.

C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.

JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.

HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.

S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich, Cinn. and Lia. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.

W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Hucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.

J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties

J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.

G. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.

W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

Goldfinches Around Manchester.

At Chorlton this week, says "W.G." in the "Manchester Dispatch," four Goldfinches were seen feeding in a stubble field—quite an unusual number of these Finches to be congregated so near a town. I have this week seen several odd birds following in the wake of Redpolls, near Stockport, though near Malpas a few weeks ago a good many Goldies were feeding on the thistles in the old pastures.

A Funny Attempt to be Funny.

Referring, presumably, to the article on "The Chaffinch and How to Keep It" in our issue of Sept. 9, a correspondent writes as follows:—"Re Chaffinch feeding in last issue, the person does not say what would be the best place to have some packing cases made to keep seed in if you were keeping more than one finch, or whether a bird would be likely to die if taken away from the district (change of air might affect its breathing). I should advise him to have a special man to look after them while he is at work, and keep a few nice chickens that lay brown eggs so as they could have one fresh every day. If I ever go in for keeping them again, and I have kept a few, I will buy a few fields to grow those seeds he advises."

To all of this we can only say that if our correspondent thinks that the proper keeping of a Chaffinch involves the use of packing cases for the different kinds of necessary seeds, and fields in which to grow them, we are sorry for the Chaffinches he has kept in other times, and we hope he will not start again.

In the Courts.

At Lincoln Police Court, Chas. Claxton, foundryman, and bird dealer, was summoned for unlawfully, and wilfully having in his possession five Goldfinches, recently taken. A witness said he visited the premises on Canwick Road, and purchased five Goldfinches at 5s. They were recently caught, and two of them died later.—Inspector Allen, R.S.P.C.A., spoke to seeing the birds. There were three alive, and in consequence of a complaint being received he saw defendant, and he denied catching them at first, or having sold them. He later admitted taking them. He was a notorious bird catcher, and caught many of our favourite birds and starved them.—Defendant pleaded guilty, and the magistrates said there was no doubt that defendant knew that these birds were protected the whole year round. Defendant could be fined £1 a bird. He would be fined 20s.

The Scientific Breeding of Canaries.

By R. L. WALLACE.

(Continued from page 525.)

THE one I first bought was a hen, and as I could not find a Crested partner for her, I bought a big bird which had a lot of the old Dutch blood in its composition. I bred from them, crossing the produce of the two pairs, and then went on breeding from double Crests, at the same time doing my best to make the breed popular among the fanciers in the North of England.

I found after a time that the crests began to get larger and fuller, but much rougher and wayward, so I again introduced Plainhead blood to improve the form of the crest and make it smooth. Then it occurred to me that it would be well to put the Plainheads bred from a Crested parent on one side only, to Crested birds, and this proved to be satisfactory.

Awhile afterwards I found a fancier that had bred a Plainhead cock from two Crested birds. This bird I bought to run with a Crested hen, and the produce of this pair I considered an improvement on the parents and relatives to them, and I must say I prefer a bird so bred to run with a Crest occasionally to increase the size of crest and density of feather.

The continual breeding of double Buffs is likewise a great aid in the attainment of this object; as the introduction of Yellow blood has an undoubted tendency to shorten the feather both in length and quantity, but it improves the quality.

Another objection to double Cresting is, that it produces bald patches at the base of the skull of most birds so bred, which is most objectionable, and difficult to breed out, in addition to many wayward and unmanageable feathers that stand erect in defiance of tooth brushes, etc.

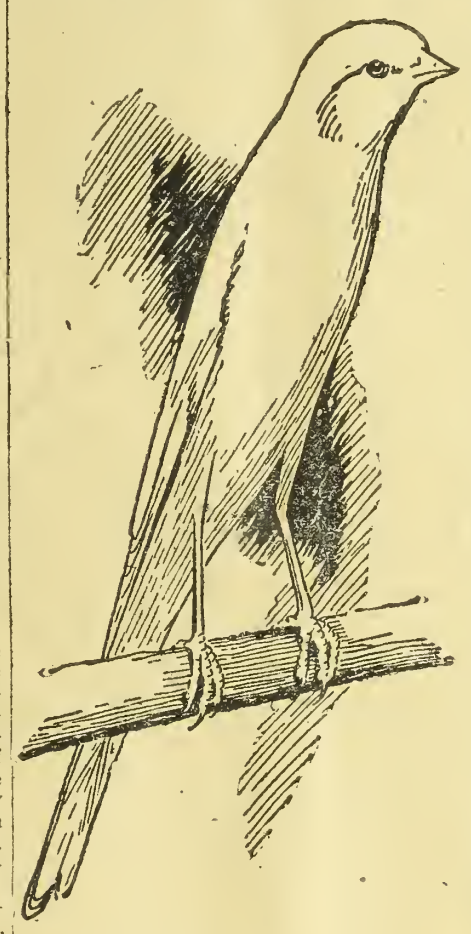
How "Toppined" became "Crest."

A few years later on we held a splendid show, on a most liberal scale at Sunderland. With the exception of one we held a few years earlier in the same town, and which proved a failure, principally owing to very inclement weather, it was, in fact, the first early open show I had heard of, barring that held at the Crystal Palace, which was established about four or five years previously.

I acted as Secretary to this show, and made all the arrangements, including the schedule of prizes. In the programme we issued, I described the "Toppined" birds as Crests, although one or two of the old-fashioned members of the club objected to this change of title, and insisted that "Topknots" was the proper designation. However, I ultimately got my own way, and this variety has been scheduled at all shows since as Crested birds. The word Crest appealed to me as a more appropriate and refined title.

At the show referred to, we had some excellent specimens sent from Nottingham, Northampton, Norwich, Birmingham and Manchester, as well as Coventry, Derby, etc. In fact, we had in attendance Richard Mackley, the father of Jacob and William, Howarth Ashton, Esq., from Manchester, and other fanciers from Birmingham, Leicester, and elsewhere.

The Foundation of a Strain.



At this show I purchased some of the best specimens of Crests from Mr. Walters, of Winchester, who, in this variety was the most successful exhibitor. They were much superior to the birds I owned at that time, being pure-bred Norwich. Shortly afterwards I removed to Berwick-on-Tweed, and decided to make Crests one of my special fancies. I procured from the towns before-mentioned the best specimens obtainable, and I had a few good birds from a noted Norwich breeder of this variety.

From these birds I commenced to work up a strain of my own. I am a great stickler for quality, and have a keen eye for the artistic and refined. So I began to breed Evenly-marked and Crested, and clear-bodied birds with Dark Crests, and I was very particular about the formation of the crest. I liked a well-formed centre to begin with, and placed as near the middle of the head as possible. I also preferred a "close centre," and the radiation even and regular in all directions, and lying flat on the head.

There were very few, if any, really round crests at this time, but, occasionally, one bordering nearly on this description would put in an appearance, and was highly prized. The Crests in those days were mostly oblong and the majority of them were curtained very artistically behind the head and half-way down the neck. This was, in the days prior to the introduction of the Coppy blood, which has so greatly altered the breed.

I went on breeding until I obtained one or two birds marked in the wings and crests only. These, if good in other respects, I kept as a foundation for producing this variety, and I kept some of the Plainheads from this strain, and paired these with birds having clear bodies, and with clear or grey crests, until I could breed with certainty clear bodies with dark crests. Then I continued, by careful selection and crossing, year by year, until I obtained, with unfaltering regularity, the particular varieties I cared for.

I may say that I did not value heavily and unevenly variegated birds, however good the crests might be, nearly so much as I did the evenly-marked and clear-bodied birds, but, if I bred an extraordinary good Crest, possessing the disadvantage of bad markings. I ran it with one of my clear-bodied dark-crested variety.

YORKSHIRE HEN CANARY.
1st Prize at the Lambeth Baths Show for Mr. W. J. Frisby, Staines.

So soon as I got a few good birds of the kinds described, I began my system of in-breeding, on similar lines to those mentioned in breeding Cinnamons, and I found it of the utmost benefit in establishing and perpetuating the creatures you most desire, after once obtaining them.

I remember one year at the end of the breeding season, more than two-thirds of my young birds were either evenly-marked and crested, or clear-bodied birds with dark crests. None were really objectionably marked, such as neck and breast markings, and with foul tails; some were marked on one wing only, and others much more heavily on one wing than the other, but none were really Piebald specimens.

A Tribute to Inbreeding.

I exhibited my birds at most of the shows in the North of England at that time, and at the Crystal Palace as well, and took first and second and third prizes against all comers, and had no end of exhibitors writing and wishing to purchase my winners, many of which I sold. I have bred and sold several first-prize winners to noted exhibitors in their day, including several Crystal Palace winners, and I attribute my great success to careful selection and in-breeding.

It was my original intention to have written considerably more on the breeding of Crested Canaries, as the method of using the Lancashire Coppy in the production of that breed has considerably altered the method. At any rate, I have said sufficient to show that the best and most efficacious method to establish any particular feature is to resort to Sib. breeding, but it must not be overdone, or it will weaken the constitution of the birds.

I would advise the breeders of any variety of fancy Canaries to adopt this method, and I am sure the result will prove satisfactory. With regard to the production of "Sib" hens for Mule-breeding, you cannot well over-do the in-breeding, but unless the hens selected are of the right stamp to begin with, and have actually produced variegated Mules, the result will be utterly disappointing, as you may be propagating qualities that are the very opposite to those required.

It is not a difficult matter to an experienced breeder to detect a hen that is truly sib-bred, as such hens get very thin and slender, as a rule, in a few years, and sparse of feather, and the voices of such hens, if well in-bred, become weak and squeaky. I prefer hens with Cinnamon blood in their veins for this purpose, and either clear in body, or light variegated. The eyes should be pink, not a dark reddish-brown, which some fanciers term pink-eyed.

My Australian Rose-Breasted Cockatoo.

By W. LIDGETT, Hon. Sec., Newark C.B.S.

ALTHOUGH at present foreign birds of any kind are more difficult to get hold of than before the war, there are no doubt hundreds of this once freely imported and hardy Australian Cockatoo in the hands of bird keepers in this country; hence a short article on the one I have had in my possession for over thirteen years.

The Fascination of Foreign Bird Keeping.

Several years ago, when I first kept birds, British were my fancy. Then, after meeting the lady who is now my wife, and whose father was an enthusiastic foreign bird fancier, I started in the foreign line, by keeping Budgerigars and Java Sparrows. Being persuaded to put the "Budgies" into the local show with, of course, great expectations, one can imagine my feelings when visiting the show at night to see the coveted red ticket on the cage of my father-in-law's Rose-Breasted Cockatoo. My disappointment must have been very noticeable to him, for shortly after he made me a present of this bird, it then being about six years old.

How proud I felt the day I brought him home, he seemed so large after my small foreign birds, and his colouring was so rich, the only thing that marred his beauty was the old cage I had to put him in, as the cage he used to live in was wanted by his late owner for an African Grey.

Still, he did not have to live long in the old cage, for I bought a very large new one as soon as funds would permit, and then I thought I had got all I wanted in this world, or rather in the bird world, but, alas, as my wife often says, I shall never be satisfied; no matter how many birds I possess, I shall still want more.

Rosgate Cockatoos are as hardy, perhaps the hardiest, as any of the Parrot tribe. They can stand any amount of cold, provided they are not subjected to draughts. Mine is kept in his cage in my outdoor aviary all the year round, with other foreign birds, British birds and Canaries, and the aviary is entirely unheated even in the coldest of winter weather. Many times his water has been frozen hard in his drinker, and yet he is and always has been, with one exception, in the best of health.

His food consists of oats, canary, hemp (in small quantities, as I find this seed tends to darken the red colour of the breast), and sunflower seed. In addition he has nuts, fruits, biscuits, and occasional feeds of green-food.

Danger in New Cages.

I hope this paragraph may prove a warning to those who may at any time change a Cockatoo or Parrot from an old cage to a new one. When I bought the new cage for "Joey," of course, in it he went immediately, and for the first day everything seemed all right. Next morning, when I went to look at the birds, I thought he looked a bit thick, but thought perhaps he had not got over his night's rousting. However, at dinner-time my wife said she was sure something was wrong with the bird, and persuaded me to put him back in his old cage; because, as he had not eaten any food that day, she thought perhaps he was sulking in his new home, and did not like the change of cage.

I did so, but he was no better at night, simply sitting with his head under his wing, and refusing anything that was offered him. Then I noticed a slight froth at his mouth and nostrils, as though he had got a cold, and I thought perhaps he had either eaten some enamel or other substance off the cage.

My next-door neighbour, a plumber by trade, at once solved the puzzle, he said no doubt the drinking or feeding vessels were the fault. The soldering perhaps had been done with the aid of spirits of salts, and the bird had got the poison into his system through the food and water vessels not being thoroughly cleansed before using. I thoroughly washed the cage all over with hot water in which a small piece of common soda had been dissolved, and the seed and water vessels I boiled in a saucepan. The next day the Cockatoo certainly seemed a little better; he just roused himself up a little, but still he was very poorly, and refused his seed.

Being away at work I had to ask the wife to try and tempt him to eat at various intervals, and during the afternoon of the second day she was successful in getting him to eat a few mouthfuls of banana, this she continued to give him several times a day, and then a little dry biscuit.

For nearly a week he lived on these two foods, and then he gradually began eating seed again. With this one exception he has been extremely hardy, but I nearly lost my pet through really no fault of my own, or rather, shall I say, perhaps a little thoughtlessness. Still many may have done the same thing inadvertently, as one does not usually trouble to cleanse a new cage. With Parrots of any kind one cannot be too careful, as these birds are continually walking on the wires and food vessels, and if there is anything left about they are almost bound to find it. Thus a word of advice may perhaps save the life of someone else's bird.

Deceiving the Dog.

Roseate Cockatoos can easily be tamed with a little care and attention, and they soon become greatly attached to their owners. The bird I possess is never happier than when perched on my hand or shoulder, and if I am appearing to take more notice of another bird in my aviary he quickly lets me know of the fact by his loud voice.

They are not usually really talented talkers, yet they can be taught many words and short sentences, and although their articulation is not so clear perhaps as the African Grey or an Amazon, still, talk they can. Mine can say distinctly several words, and six or seven sentences. In fact my dog is often deceived when he calls "Nip," and always answers with a quick look and a wag of the tail

Another thing in favour of this bird is that the price for a newly imported specimen is not large, which is a point in their favour for anyone wanting to start keeping the larger foreign birds.

A good large, well-plumaged specimen also stands a fair chance on the show bench, if it does not happen to meet any of the rarer Parrots. Mine has beaten the African Greys, Amazons, and Indian Rocks in open competition, and in local shows he has once beaten my Lemon-Crested Cockatoo, and won the cup for best in show the same day. He has 11 first prizes, besides other honours to his credit, and has appeared before thirteen different judges.

The one great drawback to sending the larger foreign birds to shows is, that, although the prize money is usually a few shillings more per class than others in the schedule, one mostly drops in for the half-prize money scheme, and what with the entry fee and the heavy cost of railway travelling, even if a first prize is taken, one is usually on the wrong side of the bargain financially; so that unless one has a deep pocket one's birds can only go out now and again.

How to Avoid Waste.

As a final word, to anyone keeping this or any other bird of the Parrot tribe, I would advise mixing one's own seed, and not to use the so-called Parrot foods sold by many dealers. Besides being so much cheaper, more variety can be given, by changing the food a little each day, and the waste will be found almost nil. Half the concoctions in many of the packets of Parrot foods are wasted, as the birds throw them out. Then, if one happens to see a lot of seed on the floor of the cage, the bird may be left to eat some of that he has thrown out before replenishing his tin; and perhaps the bird would rather starve than eat such things as marrow seeds and chillie pods.

Another thing one sometimes hears is that no Parrot needs drink. This is a mistaken idea, for although they are not great drinkers they need water regularly, and one has only to give them a fresh supply to see them immediately partake of a short drink.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. F. Groom, Gaddesdon Place, Hemel Hempstead.

"Cage Birds" Prizes as Specials.

Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque value 10s., being the prize won in last week's letter competition. If the Newcastle C.B.S. decides to hold a show this year I intend to hand the 10s. over to them for a special prize.

I may say that I have taken a great interest in the subject of in-breeding, and the correspondence in your columns, and I hope it has been of value to many of your readers also. The subject, though not new, has not of recent years been given vent to in your columns, and as we are continually receiving new recruits to the ranks of the Cage Bird Fancy, it may have given them some food for thought.

Thos. C. Crawhall.

Old Fanciers Return to the Fold.

Sir,—Who said the Fancy was declining? It is very pleasing to us to have elected, as a member of our society, the Dulwich and Peckham C.B.S., that good old fancier, Mr. Geo. Sands, and to hear that he is again taking a keen interest in the Fancy. I understand he has gone back to his old love, the Yorkshires and Norwich. Another old fancier of the Norwich, Mr. W. Pavey, was also elected a member. There is no fear of the Fancy declining when we find good fanciers like the above still keen on producing the best. The members of the D.P.C.B.S. give them a hearty welcome, and wish them the best of luck.

W. Hodson, Hon. Sec. (pro tem.)

The Other End of the String.

Sir,—Kindly allow me through your column to thank Mr. G. S. Packer for testing my method of sexing birds and for his courtesy in writing to give the result of that test. I had intended writing to give "H. W." further information, but as Mr. Packer has been good enough to do so in Cage Birds of Sept. 9, I need only add that all it requires is to take one end of the thread between the fingers of say, the left hand, and the bird in the right, not both in the same hand as his question implies. Will more readers kindly experiment and give their views? That the needle does move in different directions with the different sexes I have proved in innumerable cases, without the shadow of a doubt, but I cannot understand why; perhaps someone will be able to enlighten me.

J. R. Williams.

Earwigs as Red-mite Destroyers

Sir,—Don't laugh; but I am going to tell your readers of a novel way to clear any bird-room or aviary of red-mites. It is no use cleaning cages and using all sorts of spirits, for the mites are not only in the cages but all over the room. As you know, I am a bit of a gardener, and I have studied all insect pests that have come in my way. I have found that many of them which even professional gardeners seek and kill are most valuable, as many of them chiefly exist on fungus and fly.

Among them is the Earwig. I have seen people who should know better consider this their worst pest when it is one of their very best friends, and only eats flowers when it cannot find any fly or fungus. A year or two ago I imported a few into my bird-room, and when I came to clean and wash my cages I could not find a single mite or sign of them; my earwigs had cleared them all out. As further proof of their usefulness, a gentleman friend I was visiting was troubled with a kind of a red spider in the two windows of his drawing-room. There were millions of them, so many that they looked like so much red sand on the windows. He thought they were some foreign insect which had come in the wood, and he had used all sorts of spirits, but nothing would touch them. I advised him to find some earwigs, which he did, two of them, and in less than a week he could not find a single insect. The earwigs are still there keeping the place clear. Now is a good time to get earwigs, and a few will soon clear any bird-room, either indoors or out, no matter how badly infested. Of course, if your cages are so close that they cannot get under them, you must raise them a little with a bit of wood.

J. Bastock.

Cheltenham "Carrying On."

Sir,—It has always been the aim of the Cheltenham C.B.S. to assist and uphold the Fancy generally, and to provide a conprehensive classification at its annual show. This year we intend to "carry on" and hold our open show as usual, in spite of all the difficulties we have to face.

Last year we handed over a very nice amount to the Red Cross Society, and this year we hope to be able to do the same to our two local hospitals. We trust that exhibitors who are still at home will do their utmost to help, and will make as many entries as possible, so as to make up for those who are unable to send their usual quota through being with the colours. I feel sure that nothing will give our absent fanciers greater pleasure than to know that societies at home are doing their best to keep things going.

A. S. Treasure,
Hon. Sec., Cheltenham C.B.S.

A Hybrid Winner in a Class for British Birds.

Sir,—In the correspondence columns of Cage Birds of Sept. 16 I notice that Mr. J. E. Jeffreys raises an important question in respect of the awards at Ystradgynlais Show. I have no doubt that Mr. Jeffreys' own experience as a British bird exhibitor is quite sufficient to justify his own conclusions in the matter; nevertheless the question is worthy of careful consideration by other exhibitors and judges. There are, no doubt, some, judges included, who are of opinion that if a bird is the produce of two British bird parents it has a right to compete in a class for any variety British, but there will be many others who differ from this opinion, and if a proper and definite understanding were arrived at once for all it would be much more satisfactory for everybody concerned.

Might I ask Mr. Jeffreys to give us the benefit of his own opinion? For a start, in my opinion, the class was only open for distinct species of British birds. How a bird which combines the characteristics of two distinct species of British birds can be termed a British bird for competition with naturally bred species I entirely fail to understand. It is quite obvious that a bird which combines the blood of two distinct species could not coincide with the recognised standard of any one distinct species, and the Goldfinch-Greenfinch Hybrid now in question could not possibly be judged from the standard of perfection in British birds.

I may say I know nothing whatever about the show in question, nor do I know the name of the judge. If, however, the judge, whoever he may be, would kindly favour us with the reasons which induced him to arrive at such a decision, I am quite sure his opinions will be welcomed.

T. L. Castree.

The Treatment of British Birds During the Moult.

Sir,—I should like to explain how I moult British birds on wild seed, as requested by "Shamrock," in Cage Birds, Aug. 26. I have in my possession cock Roller, cock Goldfinch, cock Linnet, and cock Redpoll; hen Greenfinch and cock Bullfinch to arrive. All my cages are box pattern, with loose fronts, which are so essential for the thorough cleansing of the cages. Each bird has his own cage and name. I keep a good supply of fresh sand on the cage floor, and give fresh boiled water to drink. Until the moulting season my birds do well on this mixture: 1lb. canary, ¼lb. summer rape, ¼lb. hemp, 2oz. thistle and dandelion, and this keeps them in good song. When I notice the moult has begun I take the precaution to see that they are out of all draughts, as I lost a beautiful Norwich hen through the non-observance of this precaution. Every seed hopper is emptied, and filled as follows: 1 teaspoonful of teazle, ½ of thistle, ¼ of maw, ¼ of dandelion, a little and often, then there is no waste. I also give young dandelion roots and leaves, shepherd's purse, chickweed, dock, and hard-heads, and every other day the birds have fresh egg food or bread and milk sprinkled with niger, which has been in soaking since the previous night.

Don't Forget the Bath.

Finally I give all the bath, as I consider water a good conditioner. In this way I have my birds singing fairly, even when in the moult. Through taking up the hobby of bird-keeping, not a day goes by but finds a poor old medically unfit and invalided soldier more concerned about his birds and Cage Birds every Friday. For every bird they purchase beginners should have the little Nutshell book as I have, also 1916 Cage Birds Annual. If they study these well before commencing Mule or Hybrid breeding success is theirs.

A. S. Tegg.

How to Catch Linnets.

Sir,—I beg to thank Lce.-Cpl. Lloyd and W. Coward for their information on "How to catch Linnets." Would Mr. Coward be good enough to tell us how to get the Linnets through an early moult, as my Linnets are now in heavy moult and are of no use for call birds, as he says they must be in full song. I should be grateful for any tips. W. Turner.

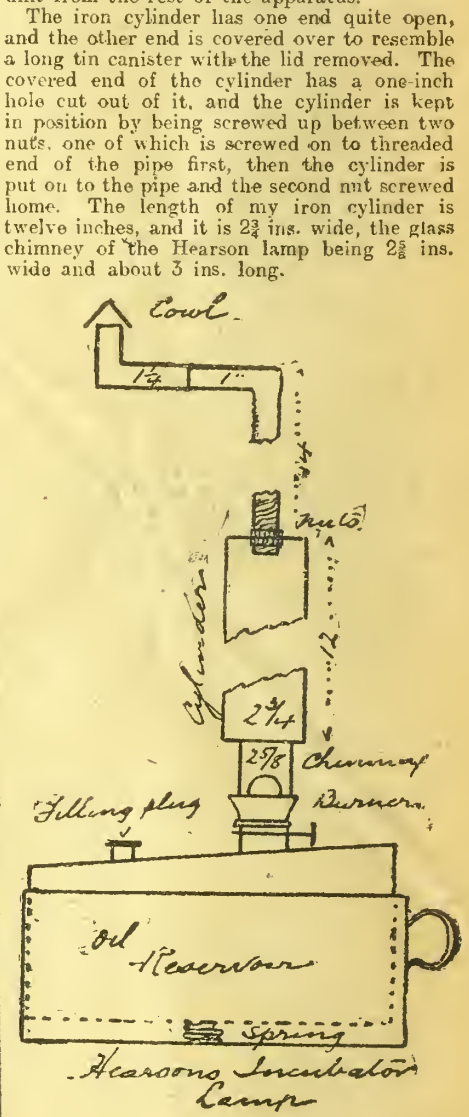
There is a method of forcing birds into an unnaturally early moult, and this was described in Mr. Coward's letter as received. It was deleted from the letter as printed, for we are not disposed to give publicity to the proceeding.—Editor, Cage Birds.

Sir,—L.-Cpl. Lloyd gives a very good idea of catching Linnets if only he had said how he placed his twigs. He has done the same thing that Wm. Tucker complains of, that is, he has not explained his method thoroughly. Everyone knows when using birdlime that you have to place it, but they don't know how, and L.-Cpl. Lloyd does not say how he does it. Chickweed is a very good weed to catch Linnets on, especially if there is plenty of seed in it. My method is this. If there is any charlock growing, or mown down, collect an armful and make a ring five yards across where there is plenty of chickweed, and you know that the Linnets are feeding on it. Place your call bird in the centre of this space, cover it up, then place your twigs in lines, starting from the call bird, up to the charlock. I make my twigs from reeds that grow on swampy ground. I don't know the name of them; they have a white pith inside. Get 100 of these a few days before wanted and dry them in the sun. Get them about 1 ft. long, of this year's growth, without any signs of bloom on them. Lime them the night before and put them in bundles of 25 into grease-proof paper, then you can pull them out by the thick end, which is left clear of lime for an inch. Place this end on the chickweed or other weeds about 2 inches high, and the pointed end on the soil. The birds walking about will get these limed twigs across the back, fastening both wings. Get your birds and clean them with a little lard, put them into the store cage, and then, if you require any more, have a gentle stroll round the field to work the birds back again. Don't wave your arms to drive them, walk steady, and then they will return.

I am pleased to say I have had fairly good luck in breeding this year. I only had three common hens, a Goldie (rather small) and a brown Linnet. The Linnet failed to fill eggs for two nests, so I put him back into the flight where I moult and keep them together during the winter. The Goldie filled three eggs with this hen the next nest, after filling 24 eggs with the other two. Seventeen hatched and seven were dead in shell. Two of the 17 died at a week old through hatching two days later than the others and not getting their share of food, leaving me with 15 Goldie Mules; the youngest was a month old on Sept. 17.

A Tip for Seed Gatherers.

My birds get plenty of dandelion seed in the spring, which I find is a grand seed for bringing them on. I get my right hand pocket full of the heads, and then on my way home I get them one at a time between my thumb and first finger of left hand, catch hold of the fluff with the thumb and finger of the right hand, give a sharp twist, and the fluff leaves the seed all clear in the head. Then I put this into the left hand pocket. You will soon do a pocketfull like this, saving a lot of mess at home. Gather the heads in the morning just before they are ready for opening. Thistles also are good for breeding time. Gather these when they are bursting open, and are quite dry. Tea time I find about the best for these; place them in a bag and store away till spring in a dry place. When your hens have nearly finished the nest throw about half a dozen into the cage morning and night till they are ready for laying. The birds, especially the Goldie, will make a fuss of the seed, and the hen will gather the fluff to finish her nest off with. I think fanciers will find this will stop a lot of feather plucking when hens are going to nest again, as the hens will have something white to finish off with. Also the seeds are doing your birds a lot of good at this time, when the rearing of young is putting a big strain on them. I trust these lines will help other fanciers, and wish them the best of luck.



J. H. Murray.

How to Warm a Birdroom.

Sir,—As we are now approaching the time when some "birdy" minds are beginning to wonder what to do when the cold, damp nights and mornings set in, and a little heat will become necessary in their outdoor bird sheds, I thought that, without claiming any originality for the idea, I could, perhaps, help to solve their problem by sending a short description of a highly efficient and inexpensive method of keeping their feathered pets warm and in an equable temperature.

All that is necessary is a length or two of ordinary one-inch hot water pipe, a one-and-a-quarter-inch iron "bend," a cowl, which can be readily made out of a scrap of old sheet iron, a long sheet iron cylinder (a piece of gas fire flue will do), and a lamp which burns paraffin. An ordinary lamp with a glass chimney will answer, but as I had a Hearson's incubator lamp I used that. The advantage in using the latter is that it has a large reservoir and a short, rather wide glass chimney covered with asbestos, which is not easily broken, and which will fit into the iron cylinder fairly tightly, preventing the blow back of fumes and soot. The reservoir of this lamp is raised or lowered by means of a spring, which keeps it constantly in one position, and makes it an easy matter to remove the whole of the oil or heating unit from the rest of the apparatus.

The iron cylinder has one end quite open, and the other end is covered over to resemble a long tin canister with the lid removed. The covered end of the cylinder has a one-inch hole cut out of it, and the cylinder is kept in position by being screwed up between two nuts, one of which is screwed on to threaded end of the pipe first, then the cylinder is put on to the pipe and the second nut screwed home. The length of my iron cylinder is twelve inches, and it is 2⅞ ins. wide, the glass chimney of the Hearson lamp being 2⅝ ins. wide and about 3 ins. long.

Mr. Gordon Stewart's Heating Lamp.

It is well to remember that, although I have shown the 1-inch pipe as being 14 ins. long, the longer the pipe the better the heat will be diffused, and after careful experiment I have found that a pipe at least 3 ft. 6 ins. long gives better results. I think, too, if a good length of pipe be used the 1¼in. "bend" can be dispensed with, as the external orifice of the pipe need only be left flush with the outside boarding of the bird house, and the cowl can also be eliminated. The disadvantage of the latter arrangement would be if the wind lay in the direction that the pipe pointed there would be the risk of the lamp being blown out. I think the diagram is self-explanatory, and anyone with a little ingenuity can easily make the whole apparatus for a few pence; in fact, a friend of mine who saw my apparatus went round to his plumber and picked up all the piping, nuts, etc., complete for nothing, fixed the chimney of the lamp we used on dark evenings to "spot the winners" into the iron pipe, and his apparatus was complete. The addition of a few feet of asbestos twine wound round the top of the chimney would make a close fit. The lamp can be stood on the floor of the bird house if a good length of down pipe is used, or it can be placed on a small shelf.

J. W. Gordon-Stewart.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 558.)

Barrow and Sheffield Red Cross Shows.

A Sporting Proposition from Barrow.

SIR,—In CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 16, I note Sheffield O.S. has held their meeting for the forthcoming show, which falls on the same day as ours, and I note two members offer to sell 400 tickets each. It is, no doubt, very good, but, as Barrow is in the "Big Push," wo are prepared to take on the two Sheffield members with one of our members, Mr. Franton, to sell more tickets than the two of them, for a special to the Red Cross Fund. The conditions are if our hero sells more than the Sheffield heroes, the Sheffield O.S. give £1 to the fund for our show, and if Sheffield heroes beat ours we will give £1 to the fund for their show. Now then, let us have some interest in the two shows, held on the same dates. This is also open to any other show in England. Schedules will be out for the Barrow show at an early date, plenty of specials, and good British classes.

D. MCFARLANE, Hon. Sec.

Society Wanted for Durham City.

SIR,—I see by CAGE BIRDS, of Sept. 9, that Mr. Robson has set the ball rolling, I think the City of Durham is one of the best places in the county for a show, and a central place for fanciers. Durham in the past had two of the best shows I ever showed at. There were four specials in each class. The first year 20 members put money together, and they received a good entry, but in the second year there was a bit of a disturbance among them, and I think that was why the show fell through. I would like to see some of the fanciers in Durham put their shoulders to the wheel and have a show on December 30 this year. I think there are a few likely men in the city to carry a show on with a bit of help from the men around the district. The show could be run on a sliding scale, for if there is not competition a man cannot look for full prize money. I will be one to guarantee a class, and if we could get 20 members to do the same the show would go on. So if there is a meeting called by a Durham fancier and the place is stated beforehand we might get a show away, for I know there are a lot of fanciers who will help. I was in full swing with Crests at the time of the City Show, and I have started again with Crests. I see Mr. Bastock also has started again; he once challenged the County of Durham with Crests.

JAMES STANGER.

The Clashing of Show Dates.

SIR,—In Mr. Shelby James's letter I see that he remarks on the unfortunate clashing of our show dates. We agree that it is unfortunate, doubly so at the present juncture, with the terrible war cloud still hanging over us, members serving, and the fancy struggling to keep "business as usual."

He says further that his Committee had no knowledge of the Pontypool date. If this is so they are evidently not careful readers of CAGE BIRDS, as in your issue of March 8 it was published under the heading of "Secretaries Note—Show Dates Fixed." He also states that in looking up his file he finds a reply was sent to me, and offers to send the carbon copy in proof. As I have not received his reply, neither has Mr. D. R. Smith, who also wrote, I cannot see that the copy is any proof; it is not evidence of posting.

Surely it would have been more sincere for Mr. James to have written to me immediately our statement appeared in CAGE BIRDS of July 29 than to allow two months to elapse before making his statement. When he states that their show date was altered to allow fanciers to deal with Cardiff C.B.S., which has not yet decided to run an open show, and their own show, it is not consistent with the statement "that they were changing their date owing to clashing of show dates." Surely it is time something was done to avoid this needless opposition, the fancy being all the poorer for it. We have not such an overabundance of shows in Wales that we can afford to play fast and loose. What is there more disheartening to any society than to find immediately it fixes its show date it is pirated by one or two more societies? The result is generally, show cancelled, society disbanded, and fanciers disgusted. Cannot a meeting be arranged of Welsh Societies, and let each society register its show date? Now, Cardiff, see if you cannot bring this meeting about. We look to you as the premier society, and your city is central.

W. D. LEWIS,
Sec. Pontypool C.B.S.

Keep the Flag Flying.

SIR,—I am pleased to see the letter from Mr. C. Stubbs in CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 16, under the heading "Keep the Flag Flying." His remarks are to the point, and are well worthy of the consideration of show committees. I trust that my letter may bring out opinions from a few more fanciers who, like me, are willing to do their best for the shows until we are once more back to normal times. It is good to know that the love of his birds can take him away from all thoughts of his personal troubles. This is where the hobby mostly serves a man when either trouble or misfortune arrives, and no one can be long in the room amongst his birds and feel utterly downhearted. Their cheery ways bring out the best which is in our nature, and make us forget all our woes.

A Friendly Challenge.

Your correspondent Mr. W. Craig seems to doubt my sincerity. To prove that I have the courage of my convictions, and am willing to help the fancy, especially the keepers of Border Fancy Canaries, I am giving a cup for points at open shows held under the patronage of the Border Fancy Canary Club under the conditions that no member can win more than 15 points at one show with one variety. After he has won 15 points in the one variety, say in clears, he may win 15 points in each of the other two varieties, i.e., up to 45 points in all. The varieties in which the competitions are to count are clears and ticks; all other marked birds; and greens and cinnamons, i.e., three varieties in all. The conditions as stated apply to all shows excepting the Border Fancy Canary Show which I expect to be held in Edinburgh as usual at the New Year. At this show every point will count in all three varieties. Points will count as follows:—First 7, second 6, and so on downwards to seventh 1. Catalogues of the shows where the competition is held are to be sent to Mr. Smart, our Secretary, marked with the numbers of points won by each member. The cup is of the value of £3 3s., and is to be won outright. Mr. Craig now has the opportunity to prove his own sincerity by granting something similar in the same manner to shows held under the Border Fancy Canary Club patronage in England. If he would do this, the cup I am giving can be confined to Scotland, otherwise it would be open to every show held under B.F.C.C. rules.

J. PATTERSON.

How a Novice Fitted Up a Birdroom.

SIR,—It might interest your novice readers if they had the experience of another novice. I decided two years ago to start Roller breeding, and, as I had a spare back room I decided to fit it up, and having a few joiner's tools I did the work myself. The room has a floor space of 10ft. x 8ft., and is 9ft. high.

To Circumvent the Mice.

First of all, I made the skirting and grate mouse-proof, for my opinion is that this pest is the biggest enemy a bird breeder has. I made tin angle plates for the top and bottom of the skirting, which I screwed on, and I fixed a piece of sheet iron over the grate and a strip of wood outside the entrance door, and I can safely say I have not been troubled at all with this pest.

On the right-hand side going in, that is, the 10ft. side, I built an aviary to use as flight for young, 7ft. high, 4ft. front, 2ft. 6in. back to front, using the walls for back and one side. The front and the other side is simply a framework with ½in. netting tacked on, 3-ply wood at top, and with a sliding tray at bottom, with outside feeder and drinker.

At the side of this aviary I made a stand to carry a flight cage 5ft. long, 2ft. 6in. high, and 14in. back to front, and on top of this I have six double breeders (3ft. x 18in. x 11in. each), with wood and wire partitions, which I put in when the old birds are feeding the young.

Facing the door, in the recess made by the grate, I built another aviary, 7ft. high, 2ft. deep, and 3ft. 6in. front, and at the side of this one I have four double breeders, and on the left hand going in I built another aviary on the same principle as the first two. I reckoned then that I had got as much in the room as it was capable of holding. All the cages and avairics are whitewashed inside and white enamelled outside, and they look A1.

A Fine Result.

Last year I put three hens and one cock in the aviary facing the door, and I had 30 nice young ones, all of which I quickly sold at a nice figure. This year I put 7 hens and 3 cocks up in one aviary and four double breeders; result, 73 young. Lucky, some will say. I think not. Keeping the birds clean and quiet is the secret of bird breeding, and unless you do this you will do no good. Clean water, clean food, and clean cages, combined with patience, are everything that is necessary in bird-breeding; at least, that is my experience.

E. ORRILLARD.

What Has Happened to Darlington C.B.S.?

SIR,—I would like to say a few words with regard to bird societies falling off just now that this war is on. Being a member of the Darlington C.B.S., and Vice-Chairman of same, I am anxious to know what has overtaken this Society. Only a few months ago it was going strong, and was one of the best societies in the North. We held a very successful show last November, at which we got 600 entries, and new members were elected every week. Now, however, I am sorry to say, it cannot get a good half dozen members at the meetings. The secretary does not seem to use your valuable paper to the best advantage, for I have rarely seen a notice of meeting in CAGE BIRDS for months. As a fancier, I think we ought to be proud that we have such a paper carrying on during such a trying time for newspaper proprietors.

How Matters may be Bettered.

Most of our members are men who are still at home, and there are dozens of men here in Darlington who would only be too pleased to become members if they were looked up and catered for. We have a first-class President in Mr. Stainsby, a man who would do anything for the welfare of the Society, and intending fanciers would do wisely in giving him a look-up in Bondgate, Darlington. He has some good stock well worth looking at. One thing the Society lacks is that the members seem not to be interested in each other. I hope that this letter will achieve its object in creating a little more enthusiasm to get back the good name the Society had a few months ago. I might say I have only been five weeks back from France, and am very sorry to find things so slack. There are three Canary fanciers here in my ward, one Yorkshire fancier and two Norwich and Crests, and if any fancier has any books or papers he could spare I am sure we should all appreciate them, and it would also help to get new fanciers. The Darlington C.B.S. wants a new lease of life, or it will become extinct.

G. E. BLACKBOURN.
6th V.A.D. Hospital, Woodside, Darlington

A Gentle Hint.

A Practical Answer from an Old Reader.

SIR,—I was rather surprised to read W. Tucker's letter in CAGE BIRDS. His experience as regards the correspondence and letters in CAGE BIRDS is far different from my own. I have kept every British seed-eater and bred with most of them, including Goldie-Bullie, Greenie-Bullie, also Goldfinch-Canary, and I have gained much valuable information from the columns of CAGE BIRDS from time to time. Of course, one must bear in mind that practical experience is far better than theory, though by reading others' experience we can sometimes jump a long way, whereas we might otherwise be travelling along very slowly in the dark.

Before anyone attempts to keep birds they must find a suitable place for them. I have heard it said, and from very old fanciers too, "Oh! they are only a few Britishers; anywhere will do for them." Now that is a mistake. I have fonnd from experience that, no matter if you feed your birds on the most suitable diet, yet if their surroundings are not suitable there will be no success.

My idea of a bird room, either for British or Canaries, is an unheated room, if possible facing south-east, or an open shed. By an open shed I mean a place with a back, two sides, and a roof, and front wired in with half-inch wire netting; that is my idea of an ideal place for breeding Hybrids, either with two British birds or with the Canary. Some may say that an open shed is far too cold for Canaries, but that is not so, for I have found my healthiest birds have been those that lived in an open shed from year's end to year's end. The water in winter has sometimes been one block of ice, but with plenty of exercise the birds were still healthy.

Supposing we have found a suitable place to keep the birds, the next thing is cages. I prefer to make my own, and my reason for so doing is that one can make them suitable for the room they are to occupy. For Hybrid breeding they should be of the box pattern, and double breeders; that is, a cage about 40 inches long, 18 inches high, and 10 or 12 deep, with a sliding partition so that the birds may be separated at will, and with front bottom rail about 2 or 2½ inches high. Of course, the cages may be made smaller, according to the room one has to spare.

Having found a room, and cages, we require the stock, and for Hybrid breeding October and November are the months for obtaining the same. If one is going in for the Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, or Greenfinches, one must remember that their food in their natural state consists chiefly of wild seeds. For the Goldfinch August and September are the months in which to collect a greater part of his food for the winter, that is, hardheads, thistle, and shepherd's purse. Always keep the seed hopper filled with some Spanish canary seed, and give as tit-bits the various wild seeds; in fact, one can moult a Goldfinch on hardheads, thistle, and canary seed. If unable to get the wild seeds one must fall back on the following mixture: Teazel, niger, linseed, hemp, and rape in equal parts, except for Linnets, which are not very fond of hemp, and should have more rape, but all these must be given sparingly, otherwise in winter the birds are likely to get too fat. I have found that a good sample of wild seeds from the threshing machine is far better for British birds than any other mixture throughout the winter. It is full of seed which they would obtain in their wild state, and the birds enjoy picking it over, and do well on it; the Linnet especially is very fond of it, but Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and Greenfinches should have a few sunflower seeds in addition.

The Management of the Birds.

To breed with two British birds or with any of the British and Canaries, the birds should be the largest and best shaped obtainable. If a Goldie is used, get a Siberian for preference, but they are not on the market at present; also see they are young birds. If fresh-caught birds, put them into a small cage for a week or two, box pattern for preference, with seed and water inside. Just throw the seed loose on the bottom of the cage for a day or two, slightly damped, and feed as already mentioned. Give a little Glauber salts about once a week for a week or two. The birds will soon settle down to cage life, and when they are getting steady cage them off in pairs as they are intended to breed, in the double breeders, with the centre partition out, so that they can get a certain amount of exercise. Let them fly together the whole of the winter months, and do not feed them too liberally on tit-bits. Put in the bars of the cage a piece of sweet apple; if they will eat it that will help to keep them in condition. As the spring advances give plenty of the following green food: Groundsel, chickweed, shepherd's purse, and, best of all, dandelion seeding heads. Don't be afraid of giving these in abundance; in fact, for a Goldfinch and Linnet nothing is better to bring them into condition. Also about twice a week give a little egg food sprinkled with maw seed, in addition to their other tit-bits.

By March or April the autumn caught birds will be nicely settled down to cage life, and very friendly together, and now comes the most interesting, and, may be, the most disappointing time for the Hybrid breeder. Where two British birds are to breed together, about the first week in May procure a bag of nice clean sawdust, also an old Blackbird's nest. Shut both your birds on one side of the cage, and in the other side take out the perches, put the Blackbird's nest in one corner (on the bottom), fill the bottom of cage with sawdust level to the top of the nest, also to the top of the bottom rail, put back the perches so that they are about half an inch above the sawdust, hanging a piece of cuttlefish bone so that the hen can easily get at it, get some rough grass or fibre, and litter this all over the bottom of cage for the hen to build with. The hen will then build in the Blackbird's nest, but most likely will not lay in it, but drop the eggs from the perches; that is why the cage bottom should be covered with sawdust. In the other partition some good sand should be used, road sand for preference.

When the Hen is Laying.

Let both birds fly together in the whole of the cage during the day, but shut the hen on the sawdust side at night; the male bird, of whatever kind, is better kept from the hen until the eggs are gathered in the morning. About every other day give to the two birds a small teaspoonful of egg food with a little cuttlefish bone ground very finely over it; that will prevent the hen from laying soft-shelled eggs. As the eggs are laid put them under a common Canary. She will hatch and probably rear the young, if any. Very few British hens can be trusted with their own eggs. This treatment will suit most of the British seed-eaters in cages, with a bath given to them very freely every day in summer; they must be kept clean, of course.

To breed with a Canary hen, the birds will require rather different treatment. Canaries will build, lay, and rear their young in nest pans hung between the two perches, without sawdust on the bottom of the cage, but the male bird should be taken away at night during incubation and the rearing of the young. In my opinion nothing beats the wild seed for bringing and keeping birds in condition, and above all the seedling dandelion; birds feed freely every day with those, and are bound to come into condition some time during the season. The road to success is regular feeding, cleanliness, and patience. If the British bird be either a Goldfinch, Bullfinch, Greenfinch, or Linnet, and he will eat gentles, pin two or three to the perches daily; that will be a great help to bring them into breeding condition.

F. GROOM.

(Several interesting letters held over.)

THE PROS AND CONS OF IN-BREEDING.

Some further expressions of opinion from experienced breeders.

(Continued from page 527.)

Sir,—Allow me through Cage Birds to thank Mr. J. W. Gordon Stewart for his reply to my query. In relation to that part of his letter which appeared in Cage Birds of Aug. 19, and in which he refers to "Invicta's" letter, I may say he has made the point quite clear, and it is a point with which I heartily agree. Although I confess I did not take the development side of the question into consideration, it is a very good point. I also thank him for the brotherly hand of fellowship he extends, and which I clasp with the greatest of gratitude, also for the encouraging words he gives me when he refers to my effort to put before brother fanciers my experience relating to in-breeding. I am sure it will be a great stimulus not only to myself but to others who, like myself, are more at home turning out something in the line of an iron casting rather than handling a pen, but I give you my word, sir, that sometime soon I shall have a good try for that 10s. note.

T. R. Wallace.

A Refutation.

Sir,—Mr. Bastock errs, in ignorance or sheer perversity, when he states, in his letter in Cage Birds of Sept. 9: "I do not think you can name a writer of a book who ever bred or moulted a winner in his life." As one who has bred and moulted hundreds of winners in dogs, poultry, pigeons, rabbits, cats, cavies, and Canaries, and who has written over a score of books dealing with different branches of the fancy, I can claim that Mr. Bastock's assertion is untrue both in substance and fact.

As to "In-breeding," no authority on the subject would say that it is the only way to produce winners, but he would say that it is the only sure and certain way. It is impossible to found a strain without in-breeding. The breeder who is constantly introducing fresh blood into his stud cannot possibly have a strain of his own. This outcrossing is spasmodic; in-breeding is not, it is a system. It is not the mere mating together of closely related birds or animals, but the working of a stud so that every unit in it is related, in some degree, to every other unit, even though it may only be in the fortieth or fiftieth degree. Much that is foolish and illogical is said and written against in-breeding, because some fanciers do not, and will not, seek to understand its meaning and mysteries.

A Galaxy of Canary Breeders.

Of men who have bred and moulted many winning Canaries and who have practised in-breeding I would mention Messrs. J. H. Scothern (Nottingham), E. Fox (Long Eaton), T. Heath (London), G. E. Russell (Brierley Hill and Birmingham), J and M. Broadley (Windhill), G. Gardner (London), J. S. Laccotier (Norwich), W. Greeves (Wrentham), W. Radmore (Plymouth), J. M. Morris (London), Tom King (Cheltenham), J. Hodder (London). I could name many others, but these are men whose names and deeds are well known to the present generation of Canary fanciers, and their successes are quite sufficient to prove there is some merit in in-breeding. C. A. House, Author of "In-Breeding—What it is, What it Does, and What it Means."

In Criticism of an Article.

Sir,—It is rather early to criticise the article by Mr. Wallace, since it is a serial, but it is so remarkable for one or two admissions which in no way buttress up the theory of in-breeding, that I can't forbear mentioning them. Evidently Mr. Wallace was not a consistent in-breeder, for he introduced fresh blood every third year; therefore his success was not attributable to in-breeding. At any rate, it is agreeable that he owed the success of his strain—which defied competition—to the outcross. His methods were not in-breeding as most fanciers understand it.

Another remarkable admission is, that on the two occasions when he was beaten, the winners were the result of outcrossing. And it was an outcross, a quarter bred Lancashire, which beat his own fancier birds. But what I would like to emphasise here is that this article is written around experiences of 40 years ago, when the Canary, or at least the Cinnamon, was being built up. It is refreshing to learn that the present day beautiful Cinnamon owes its existence to methods of out-crossing, and not to in-breeding; and it is an acknowledged fact by those in the know that varieties where size is a predominating factor must be occasionally outcrossed. What could the Lancashire and the Crest say if they could only speak? What could the Antwerp Pigeon say of the English Owl and the Show Homer? In-breeding, forsooth!

Mr. Wallace's article is rightly named "the scientific breeding of Canaries." It is scientific because he purchased the best to pair to his best. The most scientific of breeders could tell you no better method. Afterwards he paired brother and sister, and the following year cousins. I don't understand his object here. To my mind it is two years wasted. To the in-breeder, Mr. Crawhall's theory is infinitely preferable. He would have paired the best son back to his mother, and again the best son to his grandmother, which is all right on paper. Perhaps in two years time Mr. Crawhall will be able to tell us how his theory has worked out. Anyhow, the fact remains that Mr. Wallace's resultant winners were produced as a direct consequence of the outcross with unrelated blood, introduced to improve his stock; and, be it noted, he introduced fresh blood every third year. Even those fanciers who persistently breed their own winners year after year without in-breeding, don't introduce fresh blood quite so often as that. A little bit more of Mr. Wallace and we shall be getting on.

Where Does the Cinnamon Come In?

But there is one passage in Mr. Wallace's article which, although not relating to in-breeding, arrested my attention more than any other. In sifting the wheat from the chaff, I came across this passage: "I bought the best and richest coloured yellow Norwich Plainhead obtainable, and put him up with one of my best Buff Cinnamon hens, and succeeded in getting two nests of young ones from them. Several of the progeny were variegated Cinnamons," etc. Now I had always been taught that to breed a young one with Cinnamon markings, there much be Cinnamon blood on the cock's side. I have not bred Cinnamons, and I was not quite sure about it, so I interviewed an old friend of mine who was breeding and exhibiting Cinnamons before the time Mr. Wallace writes of, and is breeding them to-day, and I asked him if it was possible to breed a Cinnamon marked youngster from a yellow Norwich cock and a Cinnamon hen. He said not unless the yellow Norwich cock had Cinnamon blood in him. It is just possible the Norwich cock had Cinnamon blood in him in Mr. Wallace's case; but, considering the scarcity of Cinnamons 40 years ago, it is extremely unlikely; therefore it resolves itself into this; either we have been embosomed with a chimerical tradition of Cinnamon crossing, or Mr. Wallace has made a mistake. What do other Cinnamon fanciers say about it?

Sub Rosa.

The Opinions of an Old Breeder.

Sir,—As a Norwich breeder of 15 years' experience, I should like to give my opinions and experiences, as I feel the theories as expressed may seriously affect the system of breeding the Norwich Canary, especially in the case of any young fancier who may be looking for the short road to success.

I have tried both systems of breeding, and I admit there are often good results obtained from inbreeding. But I am confident that if everyone worked on that system we should soon have weakly birds, a great increase of birds unable to rear their young, or even able to lay their full clutches of eggs, birds unable to stand up on the perches, beside great increase in diseases, fits, blindness, etc.

In the main interests of the bird it strikes me we must endeavour to secure strength and vitality, seeing that it is living under entirely artificial conditions, and remembering that the Norwich must be a strong bird to support its weight, and to stand strongly on the perch, and be able to move in an energetic way, not lie or crouch in a sleepy manner on the perch all day, as many large birds do.

Close Breeding and the Results.

I have bred father to daughter, mother to son, brother to sister, and cousins, and I have bred nice birds from each of these matings, but I am certain that the progeny are birds of decreased vitality, although in appearance they may seem all right. Some I have bred had no feathers except a few in flights and tails, others were so nervous that they fainted at the slightest thing, and it was seldom any lived many years, whilst 50 per cent. died in the nest.

My opinion is that it is useless inbreeding unless one has a pocket deep enough to procure a pair of nearly perfect show birds, and they must be healthy, as if one inbreeds with faults depend upon it these faults are there for generations, even when crossed with birds of fresh blood; inbreeding is a means to an end.

Something In It, After All.

The best nest of young I ever bred were from a hen closely inbred, being bred, in fact, from brother and sister (but this brother and sister were both show birds, and nearly perfect in Norwich points, their only fault being that they were a shade too small); this hen was mated to a very large, stout, strong yellow cock of entirely fresh blood, which had been bred from unrelated parents. The result, four young, were all show birds, and all won prizes and I made good money of them. Unfortunately the hen, their mother, died when trying to lay the second egg in the next clutch. Undoubtedly the inbred hen had fixed type and quality, whilst the robust cock had contributed size and strength, the show points of the inbred bird overpowering the more easily disposed of points of the cock. I doubt if this would have been so had the cock been inbred also.

Personally, I should not care to purchase a bird for my own use from a breeder who persistently inbred, especially if with faulty birds, as when I purchase a fresh bird I want it to subjugate itself to my own strain, not to dominate it as it might do if inbred closely. Strength and vitality are of the utmost importance, and, try how you may, you will not be able to increase this by inbreeding; that has to be done by outcrossing.

I have bred a good many varieties of stock, and I do not know of any which are not weakened constitutionally by inbreeding; we can by outcrossing breed for size just as well as and more safely than by inbreeding, if we get birds bred from large sized birds. The persistent inbreeding of show dogs has resulted in great increases in eczema, fits, etc., and we have to resort to the mongrel to mother the big majority of pedigree pups.

I am pleased to note Mr. Stewart's remarks on skull, as this may help many novices when buying, for it is seldom one can tell what sort of head a bird has without feeling the bone; that is where experience teaches. I would advise young fanciers to leave inbreeding alone, and experienced breeders should only resort to it when they have nearly perfect birds to inbreed with. I am writing this simply in what I believe is the permanent interest of the bird, not from any wish to enter the controversy, and I hope it may possibly benefit some of our young fanciers

Norwich Lover.

What a Border Breeder Thinks.

Sir,—The interesting discussion at present proceeding in your columns on the question of inbreeding is very fascinating, and if we can only get more and more the opinions of noted breeders with regard to the policy of inbreeding as compared with mating purely by face value much good may be done. I solicited the opinion of a noted exhibitor a few years ago on inbreeding, and his reply was "Inbreed as much as you like until you see some signs of deterioration in your stock."

I myself have bred for a few years, and have inbred to a fair extent for four or five years. My breed is the Border Fancy, and during this period I have had a good share of premier honours at leading shows. The standard of size fixed for this breed is not one that needs any extra effort to attain, and the consideration of one of the so-called objections to inbreeding, namely, a diminishing of size, need not disturb a breeder of Border Fancies. What is of more consequence is a high state of condition, by which alone we can attain the sprightliness and freedom of action so necessary to the success of a "Wee Gem."

My own experience, as far as I have gone, is that the general health conditions of birds inbred for four or five generations is equal to any of my other birds, and it would be very interesting if some of our older breeders who have practised inbreeding to a greater extent would give the results of the general health conditions of birds inbred for a longer period.

I will confess that the most noted winner I have had was bred from two winners, quite unrelated, and both bred by myself. I paired this bird to a cousin, their fathers being brothers, and their mothers were sisters, and from this pair I bred some good specimens. One in particular, although not having such a noted career, has been successful in beating his sire on a few occasions, and has won numerous firsts, also he has had his share in a few of the B.F.C.C. medals.

I have won with this bird this season, and have had a nest from him with his half-sister, both yellows. They were both bred from the same hen, and their fathers were brothers. The result has been two buff cocks and a yellow, and I shall be surprised if one of the buff cocks does not emulate some of his predecessors.

Is it not rather singular to get two buff cocks from two yellows, especially when the parents on the cock side have all been yellows for three generations back? The colour of the two buffs is good, but not exceptionally rich, and I find the quality of feather quite equal to those bred yellow to buff, while the yellow is quite skimpy in feather.

I have bred half brother and sister on other occasions, and in pairing a clear to a heavy variegated or self cinnamon green (bred from marks) of this relationship I have invariably got young ones with nicely balanced markings.

In-breeding for Even-marks.

On this point I may say I am quite in accordance with the views expressed by Mr. Jas. Patterson that the utility of heavily variegated or self cinnamons or greens bred from a strain of good marks is not fully appreciated, for I have proved that by careful selection of type, etc., these birds are as likely to breed winners as those to whom nature has been more kindly disposed in markings. It is with this type of bird, in my opinion, that inbreeding is more successful than in any other branch, for when breeding marks one is certain to get all the varieties, clears, marks, variegated, and selfs, and with a judicious pairing of the clears and light marks to the variegated and selfs, added to a closeness of relationship, there is a splendid chance of getting a good percentage of well-balanced marks.

The best eye marks I have got were from a self cinnamon buff hen, bred from two cinnamon marks and a clear yellow cock, half brother and sister. He has won a few firsts in even-mark classes, and, being a green mark, I may say, for those who don't believe in a mixture of cinnamon and green blood for marks, that his markings are dense and well defined, and do not suffer in any way through the mixture of cinnamon blood.

I trust some of our older and more experienced breeders will break through the ice, and give the readers of your valuable paper Cage Birds their experiences, for surely, after twenty or thirty years' breeding, as some of them have to their credit, the results from the different matings practised will be valuable, and the diffusion of them will not be their loss, while they will be much appreciated by scores of fanciers and Even Mark.

Some Experiences of a Novice.

Sir,—As a lover of cage birds, and having obtained my little knowledge through your valuable columns and the methods of experienced breeders, as found therein, I would like as a novice to return a little in return. I have only a few years experience. But I would like to reply to the query of "Live and Learn" in Cage Birds of Sept. 2, as he wishes to know if it is necessary to breed with green or variegated birds to produce rich coloured clears. My experience is rather the reverse. An experienced fancier visited my room a few months ago and informed me that my birds were extra good in colour, but I was lacking type on the hen side. He could not supply me with the necessary birds, as he was in want of a few hens at the time, so I sent to a reliable breeder for a green marked buff hen and a green marked yellow hen, explaining what I required and got satisfaction. Both birds being heavy marked, but good in type, I decided to pair them up. The buff green marked hen I paired to an unflighted yellow cock with a slight green mark on the back of his head. In the first nest there were two eggs, and these produced two clear buffs, one cock and one hen, of splendid colour, and the second nest was exactly the same.

The yellow green marked hen I paired to a clear pink-eyed buff cock. Result; first nest four young, lost at nine days, but three were marked and one clear. Second nest, 4, fed by foster parents, one buff cock, very heavy variegated, one yellow cock, almost even-marked, one eye a larger tick than the other, and both wings, and two clear yellows, hens I think. I only took two nests of each, as they were all unflighted birds. I always pair as far as possible on one side a green marked, and I have always got a good percentage of clears as well as marked. I only have one pair of clears, a yellow cock and buff hen, the cock being the offspring of a heavy wing-marked yellow cock and a green-capped buff hen, and from two nests these produced 7 young, 4 clears and 3 marked. I am greatly in favour of using the green marked. I trust these few remarks may be of interest to "Live and Learn." I wish Cage Birds good luck.

E. O. Ashbridge.

An Opinion of a Noted Fancier—
"IT MAKES BIRD BREEDING EASY."

THE STOCK BOOK

Simplifies the operations in the Bird-room and makes it possible for everyone, even the veriest novice, to breed his birds as they should be bred. It affords facilities for the recording of the complete pedigree of all your birds; of your experiences during the season; an account of every bird reared. Contains also Pedigree, Breeding, Young Bird and Show Registers of simple and unique character; Cash and Profit and Loss Accounts for the year. Gives valuable hints for times of emergency during the breeding season.

Price 6d., from your Newsagent, or 7d. (postal order), post free, from "CAGE BIRDS," 1[illegible] Street, London, E.C.

COLOUR IN THE NORWICH PLAINHEAD

HOW TO GET AND HOW TO KEEP IT.

By F. COLE, Dulwich.

An informative lecture given to the members of the Dulwich and Peckham Cage Bird Society at a meeting held September 12th.

I DO not know why our Committee has selected such a subject as this for our discussion this evening; still less do I understand why they have chosen me to open the subject, unless it be that, just as a boxing man likes as his opponent one whom he thinks he can comfortably beat, so someone has chosen me as the scapegoat. Be that as it may, I can only hope that we may all learn something from a friendly argument on this important subject.

I think it is an admitted fact that the Norwich Plainhead is the variety of Canary that is richest in colour properties, and therefore it would be well for us to consider this variety as our object lesson. What this colour is, where it has come from, how best we can keep it, and whether it can by judicious breeding be increased, are questions that have occurred to most of us.

Colour Feeding not Everything.

First of all, What is this colour? Some will tell us it is merely a question of feed, and the very essence of it all is the capability of retention by any given specimen of the greatest amount of colour food. Some swear by one brand, some by another; others swear at them all, and can see very little more in them than the business-like way in which the birds decorate the cages.

You do not need me to remind you that it is unnecessary to give a bird more colour food than it is capable of retaining, or that an overdose is relaxing. Your own birds must be your guide as to the quantity to use, but bear in mind that if you packed a pound of the best food into one bird you would not get more colour into the feather than it is capable of retaining.

I have heard it said that when a bird is nearly through the moult the quantity of colour must be decreased, or the head will come out a deeper colour. If the bird has been properly fed, and the fullest colour got into the body feathers, the head feathers are incapable of holding a larger quantity of colour. Consequently if the head is richer in colour it is evidence that the bird did not have sufficient when the body feathers were in course of production. The reason we reduce the quantity of colour when we have come to the head is merely a question of expense, and the food is reduced gradually until the bird is weaned off so much soft food.

Colour food is not the beginning of colour production; it is the end. We must breed for it, and, having bred it, we increase colour by feeding. Now we know that certain of our friends prefer pairing yellow cocks to buff hens, others the reverse, and although I have a weakness for yellow cocks I am convinced that, given equal conditions, so far as colour production is concerned there is very little to discriminate between either. Equality of colour is the very essence of reproduction of colour. It is little use having a good coloured cock and a poor hen of either colour, but, given equality of colour, I consider the yellow cock an advantage, because a cock is more capable of reproducing his colour than a hen, and, yellow being the strongest colour, I give it the preference.

I want to make this quite clear. If I had a good coloured buff cock and a good coloured yellow hen I should prefer them to a poor coloured yellow cock and a good buff hen for reproduction of colour, and this is what I mean when I say that, given certain conditions, there is very little to discriminate between either pair. If you have followed me you will have noted that I insist that as much as possible the breeding stock must be of good colour, and that colour must be improved by concentration.

Where the Colour Comes From.

Now let us go back to the origin of our Canary, and try to see where the colour comes from. It is, I believe, an admitted fact that the original Canary was a wild bird, and that it was green; also that its shape and colour are to-day represented the most strongly in the Lizard Canary.

For this reason the Lizard Canary has been recommended by some as an assistance in the improvement and maintenance of colour in the Norwich Plainhead. We are told that the depth and tone of colour of the Lizard are superior to those of the Norwich, that the similarity of the globular markings upon the back appearing on the Lizard and the Norwich is very marked, and that as they appear with some degree of regularity in both it is evidence of the mixing of the two varieties.

Now if both varieties are co-equal in colour, and they are from one given stock, who shall say that those markings belong to one sub-variety more than to the other, or why it should be necessary to go to one sub-variety to improve the other? Surely the answer must be—let us keep to our own sub-variety.

We are told the Lizard was used in the past with excellent results. Very likely; in consequence of the mating of clear to clear the Norwich had lost in colour, and as the then Norwich was a smaller bird the risk in using the Lizard was not so great. Our old friend Adam may have found the fig leaf raiment better than nothing at all, but it would not come up to present-day requirements. We don't want to go back, we can find the material we want near at hand.

An Object Lesson.

But before we leave these globular markings I should like to suggest to you that some day, when you have a spare quarter of an hour with your birds, you should catch a good coloured one, a clear yellow for preference. Then if you hold him in a good light you will see the globular markings easily enough. This was pointed out to me by a very prominent judge. Note well what I say—globular markings on a clear bird, but don't say they come from the Lizard; go back to the period corresponding with the fig leaf raiment, and there you will find where the colour came from.

How, now, can we keep and improve the colour? We know that the ideal is a clear bird of the richest possible colour, and it would seem at first that the quickest way to our goal would be to pair clear to clear. I have not found it so. The majority of good clears are inclined to be harsh in texture of feather, and it is harshness of feather that may be our undoing and often waste time. By pairing clear yellow to yellow we get a sparseness of feather; the web is thin, and consequently the feather looks hard and more open, while the sparseness of feather makes the bird appear longer, a serious fault in the Norwich.

We are told that the buffs from a double yellow mating are invaluable for double buffing. This may be so, but why double yellow one year in the hope that something will turn up to enable you to double buff next year? If the buff from double yellowing does not turn up, and the odds are against such a happening, the season is wasted. Even if everything happens as you wish you must double buff to get the fullest advantage out of double yellowing; in other words, you are trusting to two wrongs to make a right. I don't think it is good enough myself, particularly as in nine cases out of ten you will certainly lose type, although you may gain colour.

Green the Fountain of Colour.

Colour must come from birds possessing natural colour. Now the natural colour is green, and when I am deficient in colour I double green. I don't say full greens, but lightly marked ones for preference. If you can get a good yellow green cock, and you will in all probability have to make it, one of those where the green when colour fed is a rich bronze green, and the clear parts a rich orange colour, and a buff lightly marked hen showing as brilliant a salmon colour as possible, you can breed the very richest of colour.

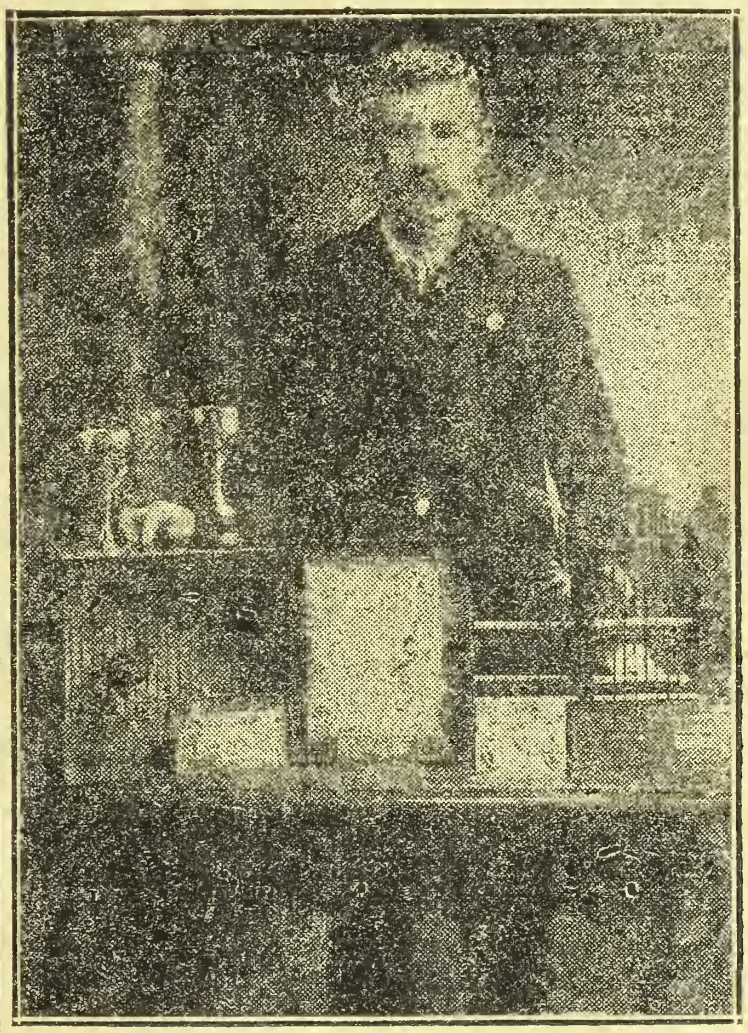
From this pair you may produce clears, and you will select the clearest, hens for preference. Why I say hens is that a hen does not reproduce her variegation so frequently, and they are easier to break up. Then by judicious breeding you can get back quickly to the clear which the reporter describes as "red hot."

But bear in mind that clearness was not your object, but richness of colour, and, therefore, if it takes longer to get back to the clear this colour must not be lost or your labour is in vain.

Yes, you may say, "I shall get a lot of marks, and possibly self greens, and what shall I do with them?" Please don't let this worry you at all. Provided they are made from the right material, you will find plenty of buyers for as many as you can get. Then, again, you can get an easier win in a marked class, as the exhibits in such a class are generally smaller in number. The reason for this is the craze for clear birds; to get them the marked birds are eliminated, and colour food relied upon to make up the deficiency, which it can never do.

I have often seen the Cinnamon recommended for colour production. I have not tried it myself, because the shape is against the Plainhead. A Cinnamon is longer in neck and barrel than we want, and its tail and flights are correspondingly longer. These appear to me to detract from its usefulness, as they are faults we are striving to breed out. We don't want to make trouble, and I should advise anyone to consider carefully what the bird had been bred from before he introduces even the best shaped Cinnamon, always remembering that the best shaped Cinnamon may be poor in colour.

I think we can find all we want in our own variety by the careful selection of our best coloured birds. The greatest trouble I have found is to eliminate the harsh coloured ones or to soften them down, and to do this we must double buff occasionally. It may seem strange to recommend double buffing for production of colour, but after a careful study of the subject I confidently recommend it to assist in the maintenance of a soft, silky feather.



In conclusion, allow me to remind you what Mr. Askwith wrote in CAGE BIRDS the other week. You may smile, but I know it was Mr. Askwith, as he signed his name "Wait and See." He said, "By inbreeding you could get the tail where the head ought to be." Of course, we don't want this, but we do want to take the fullest advantage of all our opportunities.

In-breeding in a Nutshell.

Those who object to inbreeding say it fixes faults. So it does, if the faults are there. But what fixes faults will fix good properties quite as well, and it seems to me that their very objection is the greatest possible admission of its utility. Be that as it may, we are not this evening considering inbreeding as a subject. It is merely a side line, and I have mentioned it as one of the means of getting that colour we are all striving for.

Gentlemen, I thank you for your attention. I leave the subject in your hands, and hope that we may learn something from the discussion which will follow.

[The concluding words of the above lecture were addressed, of course, to the audience who were listening to Mr. Cole, but we leave them in as applying to the larger section of Canary breeders, who we are sure will have read with interest the lecture as here printed.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

Mr. H. Craven, of Plymouth, with two of the three cups won by his birds this year. In the article below, Mr. Craven tells how he commenced Canary breeding, and recounts the methods adopted in attaining his successes.

How I Began Canary Breeding.

By H. CRAVEN, Plymouth.

IT has been suggested over and over again in CAGE BIRDS that fanciers do not give to the novice the full benefit of their experience. For myself, I do not agree with this, for in many an instance the so-called novice has been in the fancy more years than the champion has been in it months. With judgment, thought, and care one man comes to the front, and leaves others to wonder at the cause.

My own case is rather strange, and I will try to explain. A few short years ago I was asked if I would take care of a Yorkshire Canary at my house until its owner got settled in a new home. This settling took so long that I began to think I should never get the money back I was spending on the weekly seed and sand, so I decided to try my luck at breeding, having got the useful and needful twopenny Nutshell on the Canary.

I attended a show, became acquainted with a few exhibitors, and eventually purchased a hen which had won 1st prize. I found afterwards that it was only in a members' class that it had won, though the class was a strong one, and with the pair I intended to start a season. From my reading I found that some people run two hens successfully with one cock, so, being out to get a good return for the seed bill, I got another hen.

Time went on, and with a "London" cage, which I soon found it was better to discard, I had been running my cock and hen. At last on a certain morning I came across the first egg in a well and nicely built nest, and the hen began her duties after having laid four eggs.

The First Glad Sensation.

On an eventful Sunday morning I was elated at the sound of a faint chirp, and it was not long ere I saw that which all fanciers long to see, viz., five young birds cosy in the nest. My excitement, now at its height, was not for long, and the realisation of my hopes was soon to fail, for before noon four of these youngsters were crushed in the bottom of the nest. Now the question arose as to the odd bird, which, much to my satisfaction, passed away soon after the others.

Thinking my old cock bird would not feed, I purchased another, a good bird, and in this way made another pair. This speculation was more successful, for I reared five decent birds from one nest, and these, besides winning at Nest Feather shows, were the foundation of my strain. These, along with others reared, matured for I had bought a young hen which would either do as a feeder or a breeder, and when the season closed I had nineteen youngsters.

I found I needed further advice, so, besides trusting to local fanciers, I bought "Canary Breeding for Beginners," and many a pleasant and beneficial hour have I spent with this.

(Continued on next page.)

How I Began Canary Breeding

(Continued from page 561).

Books such as this are very useful, and when you have birds on which you can experiment you realise their worth, so I sent to CAGE BIRDS' office and obtained "The Yorkshire Canary," by H. W. Battye, and found this a really good work.

Time came for the birds to be got ready for show, and I was advised to wash them, though to my eye they seemed clean enough. Being inexperienced, I requested a fancier to wash the birds for me, and, though I gained a lot of experience, when my friend had gone I was minus a good old hen through a misfortune in the drying cage.

The First "Away" Venture.

My birds went to the show, and though I had to compete against good birds, yet mine got into the cards. After this show near home I entered my birds away from home, and after preparing cages and travelling case I sent them on their journey, fearing all the time that now they were out of my sight something would go wrong. Although my birds had to compete with those from champion exhibitors one was placed first and I was awarded a special, so that I had no other choice, though elated, than to pass no longer as a novice, but become a champion.

I kept in the cards during the season, but, noting certain things, I decided on a move of my own, viz., to get birds from the north, from Yorkshire, and cross them with birds from the south, from Plymouth. This proved a success, for through keeping in touch with our valued weekly paper, CAGE BIRDS, I got introduced to other birdy men, and this proved to my advantage.

Many things are in the making of a good Yorkshire Canary, but of these two stand out very prominently, viz., never allow the birds to be short of head room, and at all times encourage them to reach themselves. It is not wise for a Yorkshire fancier to be dictated to by a fancier of another breed, for though in some points they may agree, and the advice be for his good, yet in other things he will soon find, as I have done, that, so far as Yorkshires, their breeding cages, nest boxes and rails, also the training cage for the birds, which is most essential, are concerned, the Yorkshire Canary stands alone as the gentleman of the fancy.

It is not wise to overdo the breeding of these delicately slim birds, but it is a real treat to see both the cock and the hen carry food to the nest box and feed the young that are destined to bring you prizes, or to increase the weight of your purse, which you many a time need in carrying on in the fancy.

I have always been a believer in the introduction of Cinnamon blood for an improvement in the Yorkshire Canary, as I have bred birds that have been nearly self cinnamon, and truly when these birds are completing their plumage they look a picture. It was no small wonder that a few years ago the Crystal Palace Committee saw fit to introduce classes for the cinnamon marked Yorkshire, and no show can be said to cater for all classes that does not look after this variety.

Holding these views, I decided on the purchase of a cinnamon hen, Norwich type, and as this bird had been successful on the bench I decided to get her a partner, and, holding the same theory as with the Yorkshires, I got a bird from distant North Lancashire. This pair settled for me one or two convictions.

I have never been successful with the breeding of Yorkshires in a nest pan, yet my first nest pan of cinnamons brought me out five young and my second four, so either one bird can better cover its eggs or there is some other peculiarity I have not yet found.

Some Logical Conclusions.

This proves, along with other things, that the Yorkshire and the Norwich type of bird are altogether different, for if you fix even the nest box in the same position for a cinnamon bird as for a Yorkshire you would not get the same results.

I have also noted that a hen which has appeared barren in one year has in the following year proved the best of breeders and mothers.

Though realising that it is possible for birds to be purchased in a given locality and paired with success, yet in my experience I have proved that birds got from a distance and crossed have been instrumental in building up a healthy strain.

The cinnamon has many peculiarities. For example, in the Yorkshire you desire the beak to be a distance from the tail, yet in cinnamons the nearer the beak to the tail the better. It would be possible to lengthen out this to an article on the breeding of the cinnamon bird, yet I do not so intend, for recently a very good article appeared in CAGE BIRDS, and this should be read and studied to be appreciated.

I do not believe in any person going in for too many varieties, yet there is no getting away from the fact that experience, even though got from breeding different varieties, a very good teacher.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Linnet singing contest for quality Clarence Hotel, Skinner-lane, Sept. 17; 18 birds sang, and some very good singing was heard to the enjoyment of spectators from all parts of Yorkshire. 1, Binns; 2, Wigfield; 3, shared Binns and Wigfield. Judges, T. C. Summers and C. Ward.—T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green, weekly Linnet contest, Sept. 10; 12 birds sang: 1, Shaw; 2, Marshall; 3 and 4, dead heat, Newsome and Butler; judges, C. Bass, W. Lacy. Sept. 17, 15 birds; 1, 2, 3, Marshall. Judges, J. Smith, W. Lacy.—W. Lacy, Sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road. Open contest for quality Linnet singing, Sept. 17. 17 birds sang: 1, Towers; 2, Sellers; 3, Sissons; 4, B. Smith. Judges, Hardcastle, Hayes, and Ineson.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Grand singing contest, Breakwater Hotel, Benson St. Ten birds faced the judge, A. Lorrieman: 1, Turner; 2, Little; 3, C. Lorrieman. Bird singers kindly note that there will be a match on Sept. 24, when there will be some good prizes.—F. Turner, Sec. —(Advt.)

Queries Answered

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST JOHN.

PERSISTENT DIARRHŒA (F. W. H.).—The opium mixture is certainly one of the very best remedies for this trouble, and if you had gone on with this, using a smaller proportion of the acid, the bird's objection to it would probably have vanished, and the effect would have been gained all the same. Try the following remedy. First see to it that any hemp you use is quite sound and sweet; cut all linseed out of the dietary for the present, and it would also be as well only to use water that has been well boiled. Give no green food, except a half ripe plantain stalk daily if you like, or, as a substitute for this, a morsel of banana, and keep a piece of cuttlefish stuck in the wires for the bird to peck at when it likes. Give half a teaspoonful of crushed dry sponge cake about every third day, and well mix in it a little carbonate of bismuth and sprinkle it with maw seed. In the water add a crystal of sulphate of iron the size of a split pea and three drops of dilute sulphuric acid two days in every three until the looseness stops. If it refuses this try it with two, or even one, drop, and if it still refuses it give 20 drops of infusion of cascarilla with the iron as a substitute for the sulphuric acid. When the droppings become normal add one drop of dilute sulphuric acid to the water daily for a week or two to slightly acidulate it and prevent excessive drinking. It is not very likely that it will refuse this for more than a few hours.

AILING NORWICH (J. H. B.).—As staple diet give a mixture of three parts canary to one part summer rape. In addition give separately every third day half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp (see that it is quite sound and sweet), niger, white millet, teazle, black rape and broken groats, and on the intervening days give first a small spray of green food, or, as a substitute, a morsel of banana, and next a half teaspoonful of crushed, dry sponge cake, which may be varied now and again with a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with maw seed. Allow it to bathe three times a week on mild days if it desires to do so, otherwise let it go "unwashed." Every second day for a week add to the water six drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much Epsom salts as will cover a sixpence, and every second day for a week after this give 20 drops of whisky, ten of lemon juice, and four of eucalyptus oil well shaken together in the water, then miss a week, and resume the latter and give it again for another week. If not well in that time, write again, and report progress, repeating particulars.

FAINTING AFTER BATH (C. N.).—You do not say how you give the bath. If you place a small vessel of water into the cage, and it has not been accustomed to this method, it is not unlikely that the symptoms are merely due to nervousness, a kind of "stage fright." In this case, by offering the bath regularly, and avoiding all alarming movements, the bird will soon learn to regard the bath as a welcome visitor, and in its eagerness for a dip will forget to be afraid of it. If you place a white china saucer inside the cage, possibly the use of a darker coloured one—self-coloured preferably—would immediately remove the symptoms of alarm. On the other hand, it is possible the bird is extremely sensitive to chill or liable to collapse after cold bathing, and in this case it is best to offer the bath only on quite bright, warm days, and in cold weather to add a few spoonfuls of warm water to it, just enough to remove the icy chill of the water. If the bird's plumage keeps fairly clean you need not fear any harm will come of withholding the bath. Some birds manage to keep much cleaner without bathing than others do with it.

SAMPLE OF RAPE (K. K.).—The sample certainly has a slight musty smell, but I did not test the flavour, because it also has a characteristic appearance of a sample that has come from a bulk that is infested with a tiny mite that is sometimes troublesome in stocks of rape and linseed. If you look well at the bulk you may easily detect these minute whitish insects among it, or if you gently rub a quantity through your thumb and fingers you will notice it gives them a very perceptible, and not at all pleasant, foreign odour. If this is so I do not consider the seed is fit for use, or can be made fit.

BREEDING GOOD SONGSTERS (G. J.).—The actual procedure and management necessary for breeding good songsters does not differ in any material respect from that of breeding any other variety of Canary. The chief essentials are to see that stock birds from good singing strains and good performers themselves are used, and that the young cocks are trained under the most faultless tutors that can be obtained. Thorough and efficient training is very essential to success when going in for breeding good songsters that will make a reputation for themselves. You do not say whether you want a pure breed, or are not particular about crossing to obtain a combination of a good-looking bird with a good type of song. But the highest quality of song and the best-looking bird is to-day an impossible combination, so you have to choose between the two. If you want the best possible song, then you will get it in the pure Roller, and you will then have to be content with a modicum of good looks, but if you are desirous to work up a good singing and good-looking bird you cannot do better than go in for a cross between the Roller and either the Norwich or the Yorkshire. The Norwich will give the richest colour and the chubbiest bird, and the Yorkshire the slimmest and most upstanding, with plenty of stylish swagger. For details as to procedure with either of these crosses you should get a copy of the present year's CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL, which deals with the subject more fully than can be done in one of these replies. As a beginner you would also be well advised to get our manager to send you a copy of the handbook, "Canary Breeding for Beginners," post free, for 7d. This will give you all details for breeding and general management.

PROTRACTED MOULT (F. R. N.).—The cause of the birds moulting all through the year is most likely that they are exposed to either cold direct draughts, which may be constant or intermittent, damp, or sudden extremes of heat and cold. You must look into this and see that either or all of these exciting causes are removed before you can expect to remove the effects. Keep the birds in a bright and healthy place, free from the above-named defects, and with a fairly equable, and, whilst the natural moulting season lasts, rather a warm temperature. Give a staple diet of a mixture of three parts canary to one part summer rape, and in addition to this give separately every third day half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, linseed, black rape, and broken groats. On the intervening days give first a morsel of green food or banana, and next half a teaspoonful of egg food, or crushed sponge cake, and in either case for the next two or three weeks dust it with flour of sulphur and then well sprinkle it with maw seed. On the day following this add to the drinking water ten drops of lemon juice, five of sweet spirit of nitre, and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence. This should set the moult going vigorously and enable the bird to get through completely, and when you see new plumage coming through nicely on the head and neck begin to dissolve a crystal of sulphate of iron the size of a split pea in the water and then add six drops of dilute sulphuric acid three times a week for a month. The song will doubtless return naturally when the moulting is stopped.

DEFORMED TOES (W. B.).—One deformed toe on each foot of every bird in a brood of three is rather suggestive of an inherited or congenital defect which may not be amenable to treatment. There are, however, other causes, such as ill-fitting or badly placed perches, or injuries, accidental or intentional, by the parents whilst the young are in the nest, but in any of these cases it would be a curious coincidence for one toe on each foot of every bird to become affected. You have omitted the most important detail in suggesting treatment, viz.: which toe is affected, or whether it is a hind or fore toe. If a hind toe the only rational method of treating would be to give small and nearly round perches, about the size of a lead pencil, for a few weeks or months, if necessary, till the birds could be seen to regularly grip the perch with the hind toe, but in the case of fore toes, in addition to giving these perches for a time, you may carefully bind the defective toe alongside the strongest of its neighbours, using two separate "ties," one near the end of the toe and the other near the junction of the toes. Make the "ties" with fine silk or ice wool, and make small but secure knots underneath the toes to reduce chances of the birds pecking them out.

LOSING YOUNG (R. O. C.).—The seed mixture which apparently forms your staple diet is badly proportioned, and contains far too much linseed, and I note you make no mention of giving any soft food, and if you had quite stopped this before the birds were eight weeks old, this fact and the unsuitable character of the staple seed diet would suffice to account for the birds gradually dying off. If you adopt the following treatment for a few weeks I have no doubt that you will find the deaths cease and the remaining young thrive all right. In the seed box keep a constant supply of a mixture of three parts, by measure, of good sound canary to one part summer rape only. Then make a mixture of equal parts hemp (see that it is sound and sweet in the kernel), niger, white millet, teazle, black rape, broken groats, and about a half part of linseed. Give a small teaspoonful of this mixture to each bird every second should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutsheli" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

CANARY QUERISTS

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from "POULTRY WORLD," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

"PIGEONS"

The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.

Coloured Plates a Special Feature. The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,

"FUR & FEATHER"

The only Paper devoted to these subjects Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.

Offices: Idle, Bradford, Yorks

day, and on the alternate days a similar quantity of egg food, or crushed sponge cake. In addition to this supply of soft food give on the days you give the mixed seed a piece of bread the size of a hazel nut for each bird, soaked in cold milk, drained, and sprinkled with soft sugar, for a fortnight, thus making a little soft food daily for that length of time. Give a few half ripe plantain stalks, seed heads of shepherd's purse, or blooms of marigolds or nasturtiums, every second or third day. If they show no signs of beginning to cast feathers keep them rather on the warm side and add to the water five drops each of syrup of saffron and sweet spirit of nitre every second day for a fortnight.

ABOUT SEEDS (G. S. Packer).—(1) Personally, I am no advocate of restricting Canaries to a diet solely of rape, be it never so good in quality. It is generally held to be best for highly trained contest singing Rollers, but for all ordinary trained birds I am decidedly in favour of a mixture of at least two parts canary to one part summer rape as staple diet. (2) With regard to your samples, A is one of the bird rapes, but not summer rape, and is nice and mild in flavour and of good quality, but would probably prove too relaxing for a staple diet. B is summer rape of rather poor quality, and in addition is from a bulk which is infested with seed mites, and this renders it quite unfit for use as food for birds. C is a fairly good quality of hemp, but contains a small proportion of stale and discoloured grains. It is quite fit for use at present, but should be watched, as it may be on the verge, as it were, of the bulk becoming stale and unfit for use. D is a nice, large, ripe, sweet and clean sample of canary, of very good all round quality. (3) No, I do not advise feeding Rollers on rape which has been soaked and dried as a regular article of diet. As an occasional change, or as a substitute for green salad when the latter is not available, soaked rape, drained, and wiped dry, and given before it becomes dry again, forms a nice and wholesome variety, but feeding regularly on seed which has been soaked and re-dried is not, in my opinion, to be commended.

VARIOUS (A. Hann).—(1) I can hardly understand how a hind claw can become twisted around the leg and remain there unless the claw, which, of course, is the hard, horny part at the tip of the toe, which represents the finger nail, has become considerably overgrown and curved, so that it would "hook," so to speak, on the leg. In this case the remedy would be to gently release it, and then trim it back to proper proportions to prevent a recurrence. If this is not what has happened, please write again, repeat full particulars, and enclose a rough sketch showing the condition of the foot. (2) A short course of Parrish's chemical food at the end of the moult is useful in any case, but only really necessary when bird is much weakened by the moult. Twenty drops in the drinker two days in every three for a month, beginning after the feathers have ceased dropping, is the best way to give it. (3) Sorry, but it is useless to hazard a guess in such a case. You do not say even if the birds had started to moult. If they had not this might have had something to do with it. If another bird dies, send the body to our post-mortem examiner, as per instructions under that heading, without delay, lest there should be some contagion, of which you cannot know definitely too promptly. (4) The effect of such close inbreeding as brother to sister would be to materially reduce size in the progeny, and aggravate any physical imperfection that may be present. The effect with father to daughter would be similar, but in a less degree. (5) To get the correct shape of perch, make them round, then trim off the upper surface to an oval shape. This gives an excellent shape. The correct size is just such that the bird just fails to completely encircle it with its claws when it grips it. If more than one perch is used in each cage they should be of different sizes.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

SEXING MULES (G. H. R.).—There is really no outward sex differences in young Goldfinch-Canary Mules. The only safe plan is to keep the youngsters until they proclaim their sex by their song. To facilitate this, cage them off separately; if this is done they generally commence to warble a little earlier than when in a flight with others. The cock Mule is always brighter in plumage than the hen, but this is only helpful when comparing birds from the same nest. As a rule, the young cocks are rather longer in head and more snaky in appearance than the hens, and this with the richer plumage may assist you with young birds bred from the same parents. Parentage makes such a difference that a hen bred from a richly coloured yellow hen canary will generally be of better colour than a young cock bred from a buff. Your birds should be moulting now, afterwards you will have no difficulty, the cocks easily beat the hens for colour.

SIBERIAN BULLFINCH PANTING (Hen Bullfinch).—Your bird must be getting on, as we have had no Siberians over now for some time. I wish you had told me how you are feeding it. Although this is so important, nearly all correspondents fail to send their methods of feeding; consequently, our advice is sometimes not so useful as it might be.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

should consult Houlton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

First handle the bird, and note her condition. I expect you will find her rather fat, and in that case give an aperient. Dissolve as much Glauber salts as will cover a sixpence in an ounce of water, and give her this quantity twice a week if necessary until the fat is reduced. Her seed food should consist of the following: Canary and teazle two parts of each, summer rape one part, and occasionally a little sunflower, but just now your principal food for her should be wild seeds and berries gathered in the open fields and hedgerows. Of these there is an abundance just now, grasses, shepherd's purse, sow thistle, dock, and many others, also privet and blackberries—the latter should be offered in bunches, green, red and black, just as they grow. Let her have plenty of fresh air and exercise, and the bath on suitable occasions. During the winter months keep her in a dry atmosphere. I see no reason why she should not breed again next season, if she has a good moult and passes through the winter satisfactorily. It is, after all, only a question of the state of her health; providing she is not too old, she should recover with careful treatment.

BREEDING IN LARGE FLIGHT (A. S. Pegg).—It would be waste of time to attempt breeding in your flight cage with the number of birds you suggest turning in. It is only large enough for two hens and a cock, and then I would suggest that you make it into a three-compartment cage, having the centre compartment the smallest of the three. When breeding time comes put a hen Canary each end, and your Finch in the centre. As soon as one hen is ready, which you can tell by her restless manner, you pull the slide and allow her and the Finch free use of the two compartments. When she has gone to nest you repeat the operation with the other hen. I feel sure by adopting this method of working you will have far more success than you would if you allow the three to fly loose in the flight. (2) A free use of the bath will put the hen Greenfinch's tail straight; failing that, catch her and hold it in warm water until you can stroke it straight; thoroughly dry, and return. Be careful not to pull any of the feathers out.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

BREEDING IN A CAGE (S. W. B.).—You could put a pair of Avadavats in your cage, 1¾ ft. by 2¾ ft., and 1¾ ft. deep, but I do not consider it wise to add more Zebra Finches in such restricted quarters; your present pair should breed next spring. The Avadavats are wee mites, and would add life and variety to the cage; moreover, the cock bird has quite a pleasing little lay. For the Waxbills and Avadavats you could put a couple of small rush nests in the cage, somewhere up near the top, but as far distant from the husks as space permits. It is rather improbable that the Avadavats would breed in a cage, and you could have two cocks if you preferred to for the sake of their colour. The cocks when in full colour are more or less fiery scarlet, thickly spotted with white. In the early spring supply the Zebra finches with a little hay and moss, and if in breeding condition they should then nest in due course.

BUDGERIGARS (Budgic).—Though one often hears of these birds proving pugnacious of late, it used not to be so in the past, and one is at a loss to give a reason for this; the only thing to do is to remove the pugnacious members of your community, however fine they be, as if left to work their own sweet will your breeding results will be small, if not nil, in consequence of continuous squabbling. You must, however, keep the sexes of adult birds in the breeding compartment equal in number.

SEXING THE PEKIN NIGHTINGALE (New Reader).—The sexual distinctions are not very clear, though when one has a true pair in the aviary one can always recognise the sexes; nevertheless, the fact remains that it is difficult to make the distinctions clear, as they are not definite enough. The cock appears to be a wee bit larger, his beak is a richer red, and usually narrower towards the point. In adults the yellow patch round the eye is yellow in the male, in the hen the area is mostly greyish-white and only tinged with yellow. The song is the best test, but the unsatisfactory part of this is that the cock does not sing all the year round, and, again, is usually silent till he is quite at home in either cage or aviary.

TREATMENT FOR ROSEATE COCKATOO (Alimeek).—The general dietary may be summed up as follows:—Seed mixture, any kind of ripe fruit it will take, nuts in variety, biscuits, plain cake, crusts of household bread, raw carrot, and a little greenfood. The seed mixture will form the staple dietary, and the other items except the fruit need not be given daily, but by their aid you can keep its menu fairly varied. Water, grit, cuttlebone, and should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

a chunk of wood (to exercise its mandibles upon) should be continually in the cage. The Roseate is a hardy species, and if not subjected to draught should prove long-lived. If you make a habit of talking to it when attending to its wants or when you are near its cage, it should certainly prove responsive to some extent; also try the constant repetition method with some word or short phrase. As regards the period of the moult, so long as a bird keeps fit and well drugs are not necessary, nor other special things. However, as yours has been improperly fed before coming to you, for the next two months put one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia into its drinking water once a week, and on the other days lightly colour the water with chemical food. You will find an article on this species in another part of this issue.

RAINBOW BUNTING AND GOULDIAN FINCH (Pte., E.T.M., M.T., A.S.C.).—"Comparisons are odious," and it is, after all, a matter of individual opinion as to which is the most beautiful of two beautiful birds; in the present instance I should award the palm to the Rainbow Bunting, though the beauty of the Rainbow Bunting is very different to that of the Gouldian. While brilliant, the lines of its garment are so softly and exquisitely blended as to make the Rainbow a "gem of the first water." The crown of the head is beautiful apple green, the upper parts greyish cobalt, and the under parts an arrangement of yellows and orange. They have not yet been bred in captivity, but this is only a matter of time. The most likely place to induce them to breed in would be a naturally planted garden aviary. Very few are about at the present time, and I expect fully 50s. would be asked for a cock at the present. I doubt if you will be able to get a hen, unless there should be a most improbable influx. Cassell's "Canaries and Cage Birds" is out of print, but you should be able to pick up a copy by watching the lists of second-hand booksellers for a time. The Rainbow Bunting is not a delicate bird, though it often needs very careful attention when newly imported.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

SYD. SMITH.—Inflammation of the bowels and pneumonia, the result of poisoning by ptomaines.

A. GASSON.—Acute inflammation of the bowels. The bird was in very poor condition, and appeared as though there was some primary disease. Further examination, however, was impossible, as it had undergone degenerative changes.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR.

MULES OR HYBRIDS? (C. Huntley).—Excepting among bird breeders, a Mule is understood to be the hybrid offspring between a horse and an ass, while a hybrid is the result of crossing two different species of anything, animals, plants, or any living thing. A mule, therefore, is a hybrid animal, but a hybrid is not necessarily a mule. In the cage bird fancy it has somehow become accepted that "Mule" means a bird bred between a Canary and some other bird, while "Hybrid" means a bird which has not a Canary on either side of its parentage. Birds bred between a Goldfinch cock and a Greenfinch hen are therefore called "Hybrids" for the purposes of the fancy, while the produce of a Goldfinch cock and a Canary hen would be called "Mules."

WALES OR ENGLAND? (Anonymous).—We thank you for your kind intentions, although you do not send your name and address with your communication. At the same time we would say that the three towns you mention are in Monmouthshire, and Monmouthshire is not a Welsh county.

WILD SEEDS (J. HICKS).—The bulk of the sample received consists of various kinds of rape which would be useful as an extra food for several kinds of British Finches. The very small wheat tailings which form a part of the mixture are of no value whatever, and there is one particular seed which looms largely in the sample, and which we cannot identify. We are making enquiries as to this, and will reply further next week.

BUYING BIRDS (Johnni).—Our deposit system is devised especially to prevent the disappointments to which you refer. If a person has genuine goods to offer he will not object to the deposit system, which is fair to buyer and seller alike, and if an advertiser refuses to send his wares, whether they are live birds or anything else, under the conditions stated the remedy is in the hands of the would-be purchaser. The refusal should be sufficient warning, and if the purchaser disregards this and chooses to send the money direct to the advertiser, the risk must necessarily be his own.

HEALTH & STRENGTH

Deals with all kinds of athletics, including Football Wrestling, Boxing, Weight-Lifting, Fencing Running, Ju-Jitsu, Gymnastics of all kinds, Swimming, &c., &c. Gives free advice on all questions of Health, Diet, &c., to all readers. EVERY THURSDAY, 1d. Sold Everywhere. Get a copy to-day, or send for Free Specimen to "Health and Strength," Windsor House, Kingsway, London.

Live Bird Labels

Invaluable for the safe despatch of live birds by rail, etc. They are printed in red on paper gummed at back, and of most convenient size, 5½ins. by 4ins.

LIVE BIRDS
THIS SIDE UP.
WITH GREAT CARE.
If delayed will die.

Printed & sold by "CAGE BIRDS"
.....
.....
....
Date..... Per.....

Rates, 24, 3d.; 50, 6d.; 100 for 10d.; or printed up with fancier's name and address at foot, 100, 2/-; 250, 2/6; 500, 3/6, carriage free on all above prices. Address, The Manager, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London.

ALL JUDGES AND SHOWS SHOULD USE OUR

specially prepared and up-to-date

JUDGING BOOK.

The advantage this book has over others is that it has 3 columns for awards, and is therefore a great help to, and a double check for judges, while there is always a slip free to be sent to the printers of the catalogue.

Prices:—1 Copy, 6d. post free.
6 Copies 2/6 post free.
12 Copies 4/6 post free.

A sample page on application to "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the "CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free. Stiff Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS ;

CAGES
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial, are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE.

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, EXHIBITING, MOULTING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free. Cloth bound, 2/2

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d, post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

"BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS." By C. P. ARTHUR. 6d. post free.

Is a splendid guide-book to perhaps the most interesting and profitable side of foreign bird-keeping. It tells you all you need know.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. Carl, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. Hammond and Co Ltd., Fleet Lane, London, E.C

636.605
CAG

HAND-WASHING & HAND-REARING PET BIRDS.

SEE THIS ISSUE.

16 PAGES. 2D

CAGE BIRDS and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL
Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 723 For week ending September 30th, 1916 Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free. Foreign— 13/- per annum.

A FAVOURITE BRITISH BIRD.

THE SONG-THRUSH.

Few among our British Birds are so well-known as the Song-Thrush. From early Spring until quite late in the Summer its cheerful song resounds, and one does not need to go away from our towns to hear its music. On the show bench it is a very great favourite, and here its beautiful markings can be appreciated to the full. The specimen here illustrated won 2nd Prize for Mr. W. Andrews, of Olney, in a mixed class at the Holborn Town Hall Show.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS" DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks, dust, from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold. (592)

PARROT cage, equal to new, 20in. square, strong tinned wire, 40/-: Burbidge, Heathfield Cottage, Chiswick, W. (592)

SHOW cages, carrying cases, box, breeding, stock cages, glass, pottery, tin cage fittings; see my catalogue, 100 illustrations, sent postcard: Enoch Tams, Church Street, Longton, Staffs. (594)

SELF-ACTING spring net traps, 1/6 each, two for 2/6, catch any sort of bird; bird lime, 9d., 1/3, 2/- tins; trap cages, double 1/6, single 1/-; see trap price list: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs.

ONE Norwich breeding cage, 4 compartments; one double breeding cage, 4 compartments; one, 3 compartments; two single box cages, all 3-ply backs, and slides; large sizes, clean; take £1 lot: Newman, Haltwhistle. (591)

BEST Japanese birdlime, hold any bird, even Crows, also rats, in any weather, 1lb. tin 2/-, ½ 1/2, ¼ 8d., large sample box 4d.; large self-acting bird traps, 1/4, two 2/4; all carriage paid; catalogue stamp; clap nets, 5/4 pair: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (565)

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP

Any size, with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogues of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

BIRD HOUSES, CARRIAGE PAID

6ft. x 4ft. x 6ft. 6in., £3 10s. 6d.; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN,

16 by 12, 5/3 dozen, 18 by 12 6/- dozen, 24 by 12 7/9 dozen; Norwich, Yorkshire, and British show cages, 24/- dozen; baths, non-splash, and frames, 7/-, 8/-, 10/- dozen; tin, 4in., 4/6 dozen; Linnet cages, 10/6, 14/-, 18/- dozen, call cages, 7/- doz.; box cages, 18/-, 22/-, 24/- dozen; dealers send for price list: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (551)

Bird Netting, Superior Trapnests

Superfine thread Linnet netting, ¾ mesh, none better, 9 feet deep, 7d. running yard, any length cut; strong netting, for trapnets, 6d. square yard; my famous self-acting trapnets, last years, hundreds testimonials, 2/6 with printed instructions how to bait, for all kinds of birds; all post paid: Jackson, Bardney, Lincoln. (590)

BIRD-CATCHERS' LIME.

Not rubbish like treacle. Will hold anything—Rats, Mice, etc. Prices: ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-. Guaranteed not to run in the sun. Two tons sold every year. Double trap cages, 2/- each; single trap cages, 1/6 each; spring net traps, 1/3 each; send for our new catalogue; post free.

SANDIFORD'S, Bird Specialists, PRESTON. Established 1879. Tel., 440.

CLUB PATTERN SHOW CAGES

Best quality and finish. Norwich and Yorkshire 2/3, 6 for 12/6; British 2/3, 2/6, 2/9; Border 2/9, Crest 2/6, Roller 3/6. Pitchford's non-splash baths, complete, 9d., 10d., 1/-; why pay more for imitations? Punched bar cage-fronts, 12 x 9 x 10 x 12 5/- doz., 14 x 12 6/- doz., 16 x 12 6/8 doz., 18 x 12 7/6 doz., 24 x 12 10/- doz.; any special size made to order, 6d. per foot; travelling cases from 3/6; see illustrated price list for seed boxes, fountains, baths, sprayers, cages, white pottery utensils, bird foods; trade supplied: J. Pitchford, Fanciers' Stores, London-rd., Stoke-on-Trent.

WALSH'S ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

Is always alike—good and reliable; does not run in the sun; packed in lever-lid tins. ½lb. 10d., ¼lb. 1/3, 1lb., 2/-; sample tin, 3d. Spring net traps, 2/6 each. Dealers send for special Trade Prices.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn
Tel.: 947 (577)

IF YOU WANT

RELIABLE ARTICLES, HERE THEY ARE.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softhills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in Europe; see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Fill-up Feeders, 1/3. CALLS for Linnets, Goldfinches, etc., Lot of Second-hand and New Parrot Cages, cheap; list free. NO CONNECTION with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage of Holborn, or direct from W. RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

FOODS.

LARGE mealworms, 150, 1/-, post paid: Jones, Cranbourne-st., Brighton. (592)

MEALWORMS, 3/6 1,000: Miss Roscy, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (579)

WILD seeds, from threshing machine, for British birds, three quarts 1s.—Hicks, Holsworthy, Devon.

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/- lb.; cuttlefish, 10d. lb.; No. 1 Spanish, 14lbs. 4/-, 30/- cwt; see monthly price list of seeds: E. Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (594)

WALSH'S freshly-gathered mixed wild seeds, the natural food for all British seedeaters, 6d. quart, 1/9 gallon, 3/- peck; dealers send for special prices: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/6 lb.; yolk of eggs, 3/- lb.; insectivorous food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush food, 6d. lb.; mealworms, 500 2/-, 1,000 3/6; live white gentles, 1,000 1/-: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

GENUINE SPANISH CANARY.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaners, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.	224lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	6/-	18/-	34/-	62/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary	4/6	16/-	31/-	57/6
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-	54/6

Samples and Full List of Seeds Free on Application.

WALSH,
BIRD FOOD SPECIALIST, BLACKBURN.
Tel. 947. (586)

WALSH'S Pure Tasteless Pepper.

Specially imported for colour feeding cage birds. The best and richest coloured pepper obtainable. 1lb. 1/9, 3lbs. 5/-, 7lbs. 10/6. Original sealed 22lb. tins, 27/6 each. Walsh's celebrated Egg Bread and Walsh's Insectivorous Food, with or without colour, 1/6 lb., 3lbs. 4/-, 7lbs. 8/6. Hot Natal Pepper, 2/6 lb., 3lbs. 7/-. Sulphate of Iron, 1/- lb. To Dealers and Secretaries: Special quotations for quantities.

WALSH,
Bird Food Specialist, BLACKBURN.

W. A. RUDD & Co.

Write for SAMPLES of our

EXTRA GIANT
Spanish Canary Seed

5/- Peck, 19/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 20/6.
The Finest and Largest Seed in the Kingdom.
Also our
No. 1 GIANT SPANISH.
Exceptionally Good and Clean.
4/6 Peck, 17/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 18/6.
No. 2 SPANISH, BOLD SEED.
4/- Peck, 15/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 16/6.
GOOD MAZAGAN CANARY.
Suitable for British Wild Birds and Foreign Finches.
3/6 Peck, 13/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 14/6.
EXTRA FINE HEMP.
5/- Peck (sound).
SWEET SUMMER RAPE,
5/- Peck (genuine).
FINE BOLD LINSEED.
4/6 Peck.
Teazle, Niger, Maw, Thistle, Dandelion, etc.
New Price List and Samples Post Free.
Carriage Paid on Orders 10/- and over to all parts of London and Suburbs.
Remember.—The Best is the Cheapest, and therefore the most economical.
We cater especially for the Fancy, and supply only the Finest Quality Seeds procurable. The price is consistent with the quality.

Note our Only and Full Address—

180, Bishopsgate, London, E.C.

RAMSDEN'S PURE TASTELESS PEPPER

For colour feeding Cage Birds; super quality only; ½lb. 1/6, 1lb. 2/6, 3lb. 6/6, 5lb. 10/-; original tins. 22lb., 37/6. Hot pepper same price. All post free or carriage paid.

J. W. RAMSDEN,
11, Josephine Avenue, Brixton, London.

ERRINGTON'S

XL RED FEED

is guaranteed to be of the finest quality tasteless pepper, and free from any added oil or sugar; 1lb. 1/11, 2lb. 3/6, or 4lb. for 6/3; all post free; send stamp for sample to: W. Errington, Reliable Seedsman, Bradford. (506)

BOOKS.

BUTLER'S "Foreign Finches for Aviaries," 60 life size coloured plates, published £1 15/-, 17/6; "Bird Life of London," 24 plates, illustrating 120 birds, 3/6; "Bird, Useful and Harmful," 85 plates, 3/6, new; postage extra: Ford, Naturalist, Bournemouth. (563)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6," an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

Canary Seed Cheaper DURING THE WAR

our customers may rely on our continuing to supply them at LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. Free delivery by own van London district. Carriage paid to any country station in England and Wales 1/- cwt. extra.

TROWER'S WONDERFUL SOFTBILO.

The wonder of the age for Larks, Blackbirds, Thrushes, Jays, Magpies, Starlings, etc. Sold by 4,000 Corn and Bird Dealers, 7lbs. 2/3, post free.

TROWER'S IMPROVED CECTO

stands unbeaten in price and quality; with or without egg flake. An eye-opener for those who have never used a good food. Unequalled for Nightingales, Blackbirds, Robins, Wagtails, Waxbills, and all small insectivorous birds, British and Foreign, 1/6 lb., post paid 1/10 lb.; 7lbs. 11/-, post paid.

TRY THESE AND COMPARE WITH OTHER FOODS.
A REVOLUTION IN FEEDING.

TROWER'S EGBISCO.

ACKNOWLEDGED THE CHAMPION EGG AND BISCUIT FOOD

for rearing and maturing Canaries, Hybrids, and all birds that partake of egg and biscuit in any form. Contains 50 per cent. egg and is the only food worthy of the name.

Resembles nothing else on the market. All users delighted with it.

Do not confuse it with any other preparation. It is prepared only by us, and can be obtained of all corn dealers and bird shops. In tins, 4d., 8d., 1/3, 2/6, postage extra; 4lbs. 8/-; 7lb. bags, 13/6, post paid. Special quotations for quantities. Post free.

OUR GIANT SPANISH

is better value than sold by any other firm at the price. Compare price, weight and quality.

	Peck	Bshl.	Approx. wght. per bshl	cwt.
Giant Spanish Canary	4/3	16/6	58lbs.	32/-
Large ditto	4/-	15/6	58lbs.	30/-
Fine ditto	3/9	14/6	68lbs.	28/-
Good ditto	3/6	13/6	58lbs.	26/-
Best Morocco ditto	3/3	12/6	68lbs.	24/-
Best Bold Hemp	4/-	15/6	42lbs.	35/-
Best White Millet	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	27/-
Best Indian Millet	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	26/-
Summer Rape	4/6	17/6	52lbs.	36/-
Extra Bold Linseed	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	29/-
Teazle	4/-	15/6	28lbs.	60/-
Niger Seed	3/6	13/6	48lbs.	45/-
Sunflower, Black, Striped	4/6	17/6	28lbs.	60/-
Mixed Seed for Aviaries	3/6	13/6	53lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Foreign Finches	3/6	13/6	58lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Parrots	3/-	11/6	40lbs.	33/-
Ditto, Canaries	3/6	13/6	57lbs.	27/-
Ditto, British Finch	3/6	13/5	58lbs.	28/-

TRY OUR WILD SEEDS FOR FINCHES.

No value in the world like it. 2/6 peck, 11lbs., or 3/- 14lbs. 1 peck post free 3/6. Quotations given for, and special mixtures can be mixed according to fanciers' own requirements.

OUR FINCH TIT-BITS, 1/- lb., our speciality.
OUR GOLDEN BIRD GRIT IS PERFECTION.
1/- ¼-cwt., 2/- ½-cwt., 3/6 cwt.

Maw, 1/3, Sesame 8d., Dandelion 6d. oz., 4/6 lb.; Cornflower, 4d. oz., 5/- lb.; Cuttlefish, 6d. and 9d., large 1/6 lb. Millet Sprays, 2/6 bundle of 50.

Dried Flies, 2/- and 2/3 lb.; Silkworm Pupæ, ground or whole, 1/3 lb.; post free. Meat Meal, 3d.; Biscuit Meal, 3d. lb.; postage extra.

Medicated Nest Bags, 7d. dozen, 6/6 gross. Nest Pans, 1/6; Wires 9d. dozen. Felts, Brown 9d., White 1/3 dozen.

MOULTING CONDITION TONIC AND SINGING MIXTURE.

Our Asthma Cure is the talk of the Fancy. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Bird Tonic will work wonders when your stock is run down. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Parrot Medicines are an eye-opener. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Price List and Samples Free

TROWER & CO.,

Seed Merchants and Bird Food Specialists,

442, Caledonian Road, 82, Roman Road, } King's Cross, LONDON.

'Phone: 1320 North. Opposite Caledonian Rd. Tube Station.

"AVEAU"

This preparation of Krekodyne added to drinking water cures affections of the breathing and digestive organs, and is an excellent tonic, 1/-. Address:—W. Vale, F.Z.S., Q.M.C. Dispensary Bird Hospital, South Norwood, London.

Post-mortem examination and advice, by return post. 1/1. 50 years' experience.

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

REDPOLLS, 3/- dozen, 6d. each; cock Bullfinches, 2/-: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (594)

GOLDFINCH, selected cocks, warranted, 3/6 extra special 4/- each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (594)

SELECTED singing cock Goldfinches, three for 5/-; hens, three 2/6: Wm. Cook, 66, Kitchener-rd., Ipswich. (587)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Greenfinch, 1/-; cock Bullfinch, 5/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (550)

How 1/- To-day Will Make £'s for You.

DON'T keep Canaries; make them keep YOU—and pay you WELL. Canary breeding can be made very profitable. It can be made to bring you in large sums year after year. It is only a question of knowing HOW, and this book TELLS you how—tells you in a simple, clear and practical manner. There is no theory about it, its 380 pages are simply packed full of money-making facts—the practical experience and valuable breeding secrets of famous Fanciers. It is written by Experts—well-known Breeders who have won prizes throughout the entire Kingdom—men who have made big money from their birds. They tell you how they did it, what they did, and why they did it. It is a veritable encyclopædia of Canary Breeding, giving full information on every point, telling you what to do, how to do it, and when to do it. Here are a few examples :—

How to Test if Eggs are Fertile.
How to Relieve Egg-Binding.
How to Wean the Young.
How to Destroy Parasites.
How to Breed for Exhibitions.
How to Feed for Exhibitions.
How to Exhibit to Win.
How to Judge Birds.
How to Breed for Markings and Colour.
How to Cure Diseases.
How to Give Medicines.
How to Cure Deformed Toes.
How to Defeat Egg-Eating.
How to Train Birds to Sing.
How to Treat Birds that Fail to Breed.

32 Coloured Plates
133 Illustrations
380 Pages

The book is so well divided into chapters, headings, and sub-headings that any subject can be referred to with ease. There are three indexes—one for illustrations, one for chapters, and one arranged alphabetically.

A Free Illustrated Booklet

giving further information about "Our Canaries" will be sent you on request. Better still, use this Coupon and send with a P.O. for 1/-, when "Our Canaries" itself will be sent.

If, after examination, you return the book, your 1/- will at once be refunded. If, however, you decide to keep it—and you will—you can pay the balance by easy monthly instalments. What offer could be fairer?

Send for this Book TO-DAY.

Use This Coupon

To the Publishers,
"OUR CANARIES,"
154, Fleet Street,
London, E.C.

Sirs,—I *(enclose herewith P.O. for One Shilling) shall be glad to receive full particulars of your Illustrated Volume entitled: "Our Canaries." If I decide to become a Subscriber I will remit balance in small monthly instalments as desired.

Name.....

Address.....

.....

Occupation.....

* If you like you can send for Illustrated Booklet before sending 1/- deposit, but the sending of deposit reserves the Volume in your name.

TWO hen Linnets, ride flirt stick, 3/-: Bunting, 2, Leman-st., London, E. (591)

YELLOW Bunting cocks, brilliant plumage, 2/6, 3/6 each: Walsh, Cornstall Buildings, Stamford. (591)

BRITISH hardbills, exhibition or aviary, splendid selection; send for list: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres, N.B. (594)

COCK Hawfinch, 5/6, Whitethroat, 3/6: Doves, 2/6 pair; price lists: De Vou and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (593)

LINNET, house-moulted, suit catcher or singer, in full song; week's approval; 3/6: Enoch Tams, Church st., Longton, Staffs. (594)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

COCK Linnets, 2/- ½-doz., 3/6 doz., 6/- 2 doz.; every bird warranted; 5.30 train: Stoneham, 2, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne, Sussex. (593)

FINE pair Greenfinches, nested indoors this summer, and double breeding cage, 7/6: Nelson, Sandbanks, Parkstone, Dorset. (591)

SELLING out, two Canaries, Bramblefinch hens; Twite, Chaffinch, Brown Linnet cocks; what offers: Rdings, 24, Cross-st., Hyde. (590)

WANTED, White cock Goldfinch, Greenfinch, or Linnet, price and full particulars to: Goodman, 24, Bedford-rd., Kempston, Bedford. (582)

TWO hen Bullfinches, nested in aviary, 2/- each; exhibition Goldfinch, 5/-; cock Linnet Mule, 3/-: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (591)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

SELECTED giant cock brown Linnets, for show or contest, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Goldfinches, 2/6 and 3/6: Princess Aviaries, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

GOLDFINCHES, fine hardy young birds, well on seed, cocks 18/-, hens 6/- per doz., cash or deposit: Stephen Isaacson, Church-lane, Birr, King's Co., Ireland. (590)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

CHAMPION H.M. Hawfinch and show cage, big winner, late property of Mr. Aked, Manchester; first 50/- gets him: Roberts, Queen's Hotel, Cerrigydruidion, Corwen. (593)

FIVE exhibition cock Goldfinches 4/6 each; 10 tip-top Linnets, 2/- each; big Welsh cocks, on song, 1/- each; 1 Yellow Greenfinch, 1/-: W. Brown, Ightfield, Whitchurch, Salop. (593)

EXHIBITORS, Yellowhammer, 8/-; champion Redpoll, 7/6; Siskin, 15/-; Greenfinch, 12/-; Linnet, 10/6; all above with show cages and fit to win: Gentleman, Avonbridge, Stirlingshire. (594)

BROWN Linnets, Linnets, warranted cocks, all red-breasted, hard on seed, plenty in stock; dealers supplied, 4/- per dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: C. Hoskin, 5, Archer Terrace, Plymouth, Devon. (592)

THREE cock Greypates, nearly through moult, aviary bred, from Siberian cock and English hen, large size, good deep colour, 15/-; approval, deposit: E. Taylor, Leigh, Westbury, Wilts. (592)

CATCH thousands birds alive, new double-compartment trap cages, including two large Finches, trained call-birds, only 3/3, complete; purchasers delighted; send postal order: Mr. Copp's Stores, Dartford. (594)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not fresh-caught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 6/- the six; three for 3/6, or 1/6 for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (583)

LINNET fanciers, two handsome very large clean-moulted red-breasted cock Linnets, grand songsters, fine show specimens, make fine contest birds, 1/6 each, 2/6 two; approval; money returned if not satisfied.—Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable, Beds. (594)

LINNETS, Linnets, Southdown birds, proved to be the best in England for song or muling, grand nut brown cocks, six for 3/- or 5/- dozen; sex and satisfaction guaranteed or money returned; postcard before birds: G. Smith, Central Bird Stores, Charlotte-st., Portsmouth. (581)

LOVERS of Chaffinches should read what H. J. Fulljames says about them. "Nutshell No. 13," 2½d. post free, tells you all you need know concerning the successful keeping of these birds. From: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents, see list on another page).

COCK Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/6; Skylarks, Chaffinches, Yellowhammers, Linnets, 1/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d.: H.M. Siskin 5/-; Canaries 7/6, 10/-, hens 3/6; birdlime 9d., 1/4; pullets, hens, laying, 3/6; six and cockerel 22/6; ducks 2/9, five and drake 15/-: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan. (595)

BRITISH hardbills, exhibition, all in first-class condition; cock Siskins, 5/6; hens, 2/6; Twite cocks, 2/-, or 15/- dozen; cock Bullfinches, 5/-; hen Bullfinches, house-moulted, 3/-; Redpolls, 1/-; Yellowhammer, house-moulted, 3/6; approval if carriage paid both ways.—Anderson, Oswald Cottage, Forres.

GOLDFINCHES! Goldfinches! Invaluable information concerning this most popular of our British birds is found in "Nutshell No. 1." Feeding, handrearing, and sexing, moulting and exhibiting, are all fully dealt with. 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; list published frequently.)

GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Write Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

GRAND selected cock Linnets, 1/- each; Chaffinches 1/- pair; Greenfinches 6d. pair; Yellow Buntings 1/6 pair; Bullfinches 3/- pair; Budgerigars 6/- pair; hen Redstart 2/-; Whitethroat 3/-; Flycatcher 3/-, cock Blackbird 1/6; Thrush 2/-; approval, deposit: A. J. Underwood, Bird Specialist, 24, Wellingtond., Kettering. (594)

LINNETS! Linnets!! Linnets!!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

GOLDFINCHES, warranted cocks, 2/-, 2/6 each; hens, 1/-; Red-breasted cock Linnets, on song, 1/- each, three 2/6; few specials, nicely pencilled, 1/6, 2/- each; cock Greenfinches, extra large yellows, like painting, 1/- each; cock Larks, on song, 1/6 each; travelling cages, 3d. Please note.—I have the cleanest and most up-to-date aviaries for British birds (no other bird stock kept) in the Midlands; over 500 new cages on view. C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (592)

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).

PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKiernan, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Turbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Glumian Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Raymer, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Meesham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Lner, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 84, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
York.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

H.R. cock Bullfinches, 5/-; C.M. cock Redpoll, 3/-; Yorkshire hen, 5/6; very large cock Linnet, 2/6; exchange Canaries: Tullett, Sun-st., Brighton. (591)

NORTH country cock Linnets, specials, picked out, 1/-, 3 for 2/6; I have a few grand call birds, all boxed, and sure stoppers 2/6 each; trap cages, all wire and punch bar tops, the finest trap on the market, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6; single clap nets, extra fine thread, 9 x 3, 2/6 each, 4/- pair; Indian or Esparto Grass lime twigs, beats nets, traps, or anything else for catching scared birds; 2/- box, ready for setting: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (590)

(GOLDFINCHES, Linnets. What's in a name? not much if it's changed every week by the old firm. Young cock Goldfinches, on haid seed and song, 1/9 each; three for 4/6; extra special picked birds 2/6, 3/- and 3/6, one stormer, 5/-; glorious red-breasted cock Linnets, 1/- each, three for 2/; few specially picked, 1/6, 2/- and 2/6 each; monster Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 9d. each; two-compartment trap cage and call bird, 1/6, three ditto 2/-; call cages, 8d. each; bird whistle and sample lime, 4d. each, post free; travelling cages for birds 3d. and 6d. extra; all birds in good health and sex guaranteed; wanted, hen Canaries, hen Mules, 1/6 each offered; birds bought or exchanged: Bedford, late Moore's, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (594)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

GOLDFINCHES, BULLFINCHES, LINNETS, and REDPOLLS.

Real English cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6 each, 3 for 4/-; selected, 3 for 6/-; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6 each; hens, 1/-, 1/6 each; warranted cock Linnets, 8d., 10d., 1/-, 1/6 each; six for 2/6; dozen, 4/-; Redpolls, 6d. and 9d. each, six for 2/-, dozen 2/6; extra special selected cock Goldfinches and Bullfinches, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; also few grand cock Linnets, 2/- and 2/6 each. Send for illustrated price list, post free.

SANDIFORD, Bird Specialist, PRESTON.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION.

I have some of the best Linnets I ever had in my life, all singing day and gaslight. They make the best and proudest ever carried to a contest, and are taught under my well-known undefeated champions; moreover, I send them all out on seven days' approval for cash or deposit. Cock Linnets, singing lovely and quite tame, 1/-, 1/6; quality songsters, 2/-, 2/6; and a few extra good breeding birds, 3/6 each; catching Linnets, with good loud voices, 2/6; with call-cage, 1/- extra; Norwich type cock Linnets, well pencilled, grand colour and steady as rocks, ready to win, 2/6, 3/- each; H.M. Linnets, which have won all before them, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/-; cock Canaries, good free songsters, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6; Yorkshire cocks, as good as any in England, 12/6, 15/6, 20/-; Norwich pairs, can win anywhere, real good typical birds, 15/6, 20/-, 30/- per pair; talking Grey Parrots, £5, £7 each; Yellow Budgerigars, 4/6 each; Linnet and Roller whistles, 6d.; send 1/3 for a bag of my Secret Mixture, it will soon make your birds sing. Harry Allen's Linnet Booklet, 6d. Write at once, you will not regret it.

FRED ALLEN, Linnet Expert,
156, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

WANTED TO PURCHASE,
WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE,

GOLDFINCHES
BULLFINCHES.
LINNETS.

And all other British Birds.

Cash on receipt. Please submit offers immediately

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

Softbills.

EXQUISITE colour fed exhibition Robin, 5/-, gem for cup competition: Cooper, Lindley-st., Norwich.

YORKSHIRE cock Larks, grand upstanding birds, 1/- each, three for 2/6: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

SELECTED cock Skylarks, nicely on song, 2/- each; cages, 1/- each: Princess Aviaries, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

HANDSOME cock Nuthatches, 5/- each, pair 7/-; cock, caged 12 months, 7/-: W. Johnson, St. John's, Newton Abbot. (595)

SKYLARK, cock warranted sing indoors or out, perfectly tame, 3/6: Prior, Parkside Cottage, Thorley, Bishop's Stortford. (587)

THRUSHES, Blackbirds, cocks, warranted thoroughly tamed, singing, healthy, 3/6: Crisp, South Mill, Bishop's Stortford. (593)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

RARA Avis, champion early shows; handsomest cock Shorelark living, colour fed, winner many prizes, £1: Cooper, Judge, Lindley-st., Norwich. (590)

SKYLARKS, warranted tame, hand-reared singing cock birds, perfect health, plumage, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishops Stortford. (573)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

MAGNIFICENT cock Nightingale, young bird, enormous size, perfect feather and condition, warbling, win anywhere; moving only reason for selling, 35/-: Bourke, Hitcham Vale, Taplow. (568)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, very loud, can be matched to sing any in this country, good contest bird or shop attraction, 1/6, secret of feeding free; approval anywhere: George Holt, Dunstable. (591)

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury Terrace, Dunstable, would like to send on approval two beautiful singing cock Linnets, also a Skylark, at 1/6 each; would suit bird dealers for shop-front attraction, or bird-catchers for call-birds. (591)

SKYLARKS, Skylarks, healthy specimens, in song, for shows and contest singing. Learn how to obtain them and keep them. "Nutshell No. 3" tells you. 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., Loudon, E.C. 2d. from agents (list frequently published)

THE Song Thrush and Blackbird.—Full directions how to keep these favourite songsters in the best possible condition; together with directions for hand-rearing the young and the selection of show birds, will be found in "Nutshell No. 4," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

TO Exhibitors, two grand young cock Redstarts, good size and colour; one cock Whitchat, good colour and markings; one cock Tree Pipit, large and well marked; one Lesser Whitethroat, fit for keenest competition; stamp, particulars: Herbert J. Chick, British Bird Specialist, 43, Radford-rd., Nottingham. (591)

SOFTBILLS: the smaller species; full information upon their proper feeding and management in captivity, is given by H. J. Fulljames in "Nutshell No. 23," which also deals with hand-rearing, and describes the collection of ants' eggs, 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; see list on another page.)

EXHIBITION Softbills. Some of the finest picked specimens for exhibition; Nightingale, Garden Warbler, Reed Warbler, Blackcap, Wryneck, Wheatear, Yell. Wagtail, Gold-crested Wren, etc., also hand-reared, clean-moulted, handsome specimens of rare Grasshopper Warbler, exceedingly tame, win anywhere; true pairs for aviary: P. F. M. Galloway, Durban, Caversham, Reading. (578)

SOFTBILL keepers, take expert advice before proceeding to buy and keep the larger species of Insectivorous birds. You will then have no trouble in keeping your pets in the best of health. This advice is offered in "Nutshell No. 26," by H. J. Fulljames. It is a wonderful little work, dealing with most varieties in a highly interesting and instructive manner. Foods and their preparation, and the various styles of cages also receive full attention. Can you breed Mealworms? This booklet tells you how. Post free, 2½d. from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Look at our list of agents; call on the nearest and get it for 2d.

Miscellaneous.

CATCHERS note: good all round call-bird and call-cage, box of Esparto grass lime twigs, ready to set, 3/- the lot: G. Ashton, Mafeking-st., Gateshead.

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

COCKS 5/- each, hens 3/-; good strain: Rev. Henry Soames, Bromley, Kent. (590)

SPLENDID Border Fancy cocks, singing, 7/6 each; hens, 3/-; approval: Heron, Burnside, Castle Douglas. (591)

FEW pairs Borders, yellows and buffs, all from well-known winners, from 10/- pair: T. Johnson, 48, Greetley-hill, Ormskirk. (592)

NOTICE, grand lot Border Fancies, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; state wants; approval: McKeand, Seabright; Castle-Douglas. (562)

1916 BORDERS, just finished moult, and ready to win; clear yellow and buff marked and variegated cocks 7/6, hens 5/-, stock pairs from 12/6: R. Melville, Falkland. (588)

Cinnamons.

WANTED, good stock pair, large birds: Garland-Wells, 100, Tressillian-rd., Brockley, S.E. (589)

LARGE rich coloured buff Cinnamon cock, Deacon's strain, good head and body, £1; Cinnamon green cock, very stout, large bird, 17/6, same strain: E. Baker, Waterloo-rd., Ipswich. (592)

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

SEND FOR IT!

I am not asking you to buy, but in your own interests I invite you to send for my 1916 ILLUSTRATED PRICE LIST OF ALL VARIETIES. It will give you RELIABLE information that may save you much annoyance, to put it very "mildly." Then, when you have carefully perused it, you can act as you please. I send it you post free, and although I am only just a plain man, I have a reputation at stake, and, of course, I do not call myself names, for remember, as a bird is known by its note, so are persons by their conversations and writings. Yet I do not ask you to purchase from me. I leave your own commonsense to be your guide. Now a final word of advice: Whoever you decide to purchase from, insist upon having a written or printed statement that your money will be returned in full if entire satisfaction is not given.—W. RUDD, Specialist, Norwich. N.B.—All my birds are kept in clean, well ventilated rooms, as representatives of "Cage Birds" have seen for themselves.

Crests and Crestbreds.

GREEN 1916 Crested hens, 15/- each; Joyce-Barnett strain: Rev. G. Mullens, Chadzoy, Bridgwater. (593)

NOTICE, grand lot Crests and Crest-breds, prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeaud, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

DO YOU WANT A BARGAIN?

Owing to removal, all my Crests for sale. Grand var. C.B. hen, 1915, 2nd at Glasgow, hard to beat this year, and a grand var. Crest cock, £10 the pair; others from £3 a pair; also 12 S.C.C.C. show cages, 15/- for the lot: McNaughton, Dumpace, Larbert, Stirlingshire. (595)

Lancashires.

WANTED, high-class pair, also large Coppy hen, also pair Lizards: Garland-Wells (see Cinnamons).

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

F. J. LACCOHEE, Breeder and Exhibitor of high-class Norwich; reliable birds from 10/6; approval: 92, St. George's-st., Norwich. (593)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Grosvenor, Glam. (579)

LARGE three-pointed buff Norwich cock (unflighted), 12s. 6d., bargain: Morris, Fancier, Ryde.

HIGH class cock Canaries, Norwich Plainheads; all 1916, from 8/6: C. Harbour, 263, Glyn-rd., Clapton. (591)

THREE pairs Norwich, 1916, pair 1915, 9/6 pair; singly, 7/- cock, 3/- hen: Norcott, St. Mary Church, Torquay. (591)

GOOD Norwich prize-bred Canaries, cocks from 8/-; seen any time: Offord, 15, Avery-row, New Bond-st., London, W. (592)

NOTICE, grand lot Norwich, many winners, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

PRIZE-BRED Norwich cocks, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-; hens, 3/6, 5/-, 7/6; C.F., 1916 birds; approval, deposit: H. Burchell, 2, High-rd., Chadwell Heath, Essex. (593)

TWO 1916 yellow Norwich cocks, one clear, one marked, hot colour, clean moulted, ready for early shows, 15/- each: Johnson, 48, Greetley-hill, Ormskirk. (592)

FOUR buff Norwich cocks, 1916; two clear, two variegated, one clear yellow, all bred from winners, from 15/-; approval: J. W. Johnson, Wigan-rd., Ormskirk. (592)

HAVING had a good season with my Norwich Greens, I can offer some first-class show birds from 40/- each, stock birds, the same blood, on approval, from 10/- each: Jenkins, 82, Church-st., Widnes.

NORWICH wanted healthy 1916 large typical clear yellow hens, with good heads, feather and flights; give 7/6 to 10/- each for good birds; deposit Editor: Neil Livingston, Langside-rd., Bothwell.

JOINING Army.—Large deep yellow big-headed cock, typical, stout, variegated buff hen, grand pair, £2 5/-; massive green buff cock, rich colour, matched with stout typical clear yellow hen, £1 15/-; same blood as my winners: E. Baker, Waterloo-rd., Ipswich. (592)

ELEVEN good Norwich, from the best blood in the Fancy; eight old birds, three young (as bred), will take £7 10s. for the lot; giving up on account of pressure of work; Saunder's and Ratcliffe's strain; particulars from: C. Hawley, 5a, Chancelot-rd., Abbey Wood. (585)

VARDY'S noted strain; good unflighted yellow cock, grand type, quality, colour, can win, 30/-; buff unflighted, grand type, can win, 30/-; clear buff hen, 1915 bred, can win at best shows, 50/-; other good hens, 1915 and unflighted, 15/-, 20/- each; approval: W. Vardy, The Aviaries, Huthwaite, Notts. (593)

GRAND variegated yellow cock, good head and chest, splendid quality and colour, 40/-; big, clear yellow hen, sister to above and as choice, 40/-; cap-marked yellow hen, same nest, shade smaller, 30/-; all unflighted and ready to show; also extra choice dark yellow Linnet Mule, win anywhere, 40/-: Leigh, 7, Horsemarket-st., Warrington. (591)

CHAMPION Norwich, first round, from Oxford cup winners, silver cruet, Reading, 1st, spl., Leicester, etc.; three grand typical yellow cocks, real gems, 40/- each; three lovely buff cocks, 21/- each; two extra large head-marked yellow cocks, valuable stock birds, 25/- each; two broken green yellow cocks, 21/- each; green buff hen, 9/6; all unflighted; can win cost; approval, receipt cash: Lewin, Secretary O.C.B.S., 58, Marlborough-rd., Oxford. (592)

DO YOU INBREED?

Then you want size; massive unflighted non-fed yellow hen, grand head, £2; unflighted variegated buff hen, monster, grand stock hen, £1; big buff cock, head an inch wide, £2; several grand headed big yellow and buff cocks, at 20/- and 15/-; approval; low prices, high value; stamp for particulars: Johnson, III, Keysham-rd., Southport. (592)

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"

FOR 1916.

The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers

NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL; PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

ROLLER organ, good order, for sale, 32/6; stamp reply: Ward, 47, York-st., Bolton (590)

EXCHANGE pair Magpie Pigeons and Goldfinch Mule for Roller cock: Fernie, Uphall. (593)

BRITISH Rollers (Randall's), details; stamp reply; approval: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (576)

ROLLER wanted, suitable for tutor; approval: Arnott, 51, Jordan-terrace, Methil, Fifeshire. (590)

GRAND songsters, 7/6, 10/6 each; ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury.

PURE Randall's, two cocks, exceptional singers, 20/- each; bargains: Carlton, 58, Joshua-rd., Sheffield.

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

THREE hen Rollers, two clear, one variegated, reared young this season, 7/6: Wheeldon, Holly-rd., Retford. (591)

T. TWIGG has for sale grand tutor, noted winner in champion classes; Randall bird; £3: 6, Stafford-st., Bilston. (594)

TWO very fine young Roller hens, 3/- each; cock, on song, 10/6; approval: Enoch Tanis, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (594)

WANTED, a good set of training cabinets for Rollers; state price: Parkes, 8, Green-lane, Blackheath, Birmingham. (594)

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

NOTICE, grand lot Rollers, day and gaslight songsters, prices reasonable; easy payment arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas (562)

WANTED, Roller organ, in good condition, new or second-hand, cheap for cash; on approval; deposit system: Bryn Jones, Mynydd Bach, Landore, South Wales. (593)

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!

Grand singing cock Rollers, over moult, warranted pure notes, 6/6, 7/6, and 10/6; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, 5/-; all birds in best of health and in song; hundreds of testimonials from well-known Roller fanciers: Write, Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (595)

LOVELY ROLLER CANARIES.

The celebrated John Bull strain; no better obtainable; thousands of unsolicited testimonials from all parts; Roller cocks in full rolling song, 6/6, 7/6, 9/6, 10/6, and 12/6 each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, and 5/- each; safely packed for any distance; cash with order: Cooper, Roller Canary King, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

MESSRS. AMBLERS, the old Bradford firm, breeders of biggest champions and winners highest honours possible over 30 years, many championships Crystal Palace, including championship for best Yorkshire last Palace show; few of the best Yorkshires living for sale; exhibition or stock; finest quality and type in existence; pairs 15/- to 60/-; approval; satisfaction guaranteed: 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate.

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (580)

CALLED up, lengthy clear yellow cock, 12/-; ditto hens, 5/-; buffs, 4/-; stock birds; sacrifice: Russell, 14, Wimbourne St., Miles Platting, Manchester. (591)

PEDIGREE Yorkshires, including several rich salmon coloured buffs, good length and quality, bred from winners: L. Yates, 135, Maybury-rd., Woking.

NOTICE, grand lot Yorkshires, many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval.—McKeand, Seabright, Castle-Douglas. (562)

GRAND yellow Yorkshire cock, 12/6; four variegated hens, 12/-; six-compartment breeding cage, 10/-; double breeder, 4/-: Dimmock, Market-sq., Leighton Buzzard. (593)

FOR sale, Yorkshires of good size, type and colour, including greens, yellows, buff and green marked cocks from 12/-, hens from 5/-, approval: Williams, 31, Ashfield-rd., Salisbury. (589)

PRIZE bred Yorkshires, yellow ticked cock 20/-; buff hen 10/-; buff cock, 20/-; yellow hen, 10/-; few cocks 10/- upwards; hens, 7/6 upwards; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, Huddersfield. (594)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, now ready, colour-fed to perfection; cocks, on song, 8/6, 10/6 each; hens at 4/-, 5/- upwards; matched pairs for breeding, showing, etc., from 11/6; six days' approval; Norwich same prices: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (594)

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 1/1½, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Contains complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various Canaries.

FOR sale, 1916 cock Canaries, from 6/- each: 3, Commercial-rd., Bulwell. (592)

WANTED, cock birds, on song: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)

1916 COCK Canaries, full song, 5/-, 7/6 each: Poultry Farm, Brain, Aston, Birmingham. (586)

CANARIES, this year's cocks, 10/6, hens 6/- each: Burbidge, Heathfield Cottage, Chiswick, W. (592)

BARGAIN, warranted cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle Douglas.

GRAND lot of high-class Canaries, cocks, singing, 6/6, 7/6, and 8/6 each; hens, 3/- and 4/-: Princess Aviaries, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

YORKSHIRE, Norwich, Roller, and Border Canaries, splendid variety, reasonable prices; send for list: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres, N.B. (594)

WHAT offers for four pairs Scots Fancies, four pairs feeders, nine breeding and seven single cages, also rack: Bain, 2, Monteith-st., Glasgow. (590)

FOR sale, a few Yorkshires, also Norwich and Yorkshire cross, cocks from 7/6 each, hens from 3/6, all nice healthy birds, just on song: Mackness, 22, Cyprus-rd., Finchley, N. (592)

TWO Norwich cocks, singing, 7/6 each; Roller hen, green, 3/-; two Norwich hens, 2/6 each; good deep yellow cock, good whistler, 12/-: Browne, Carryale, Bolsover, Chesterfield. (594)

CANARIES FOR SALE.

CANARIES FOR SALE.

CANARIES FOR SALE.

ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.
ONLY VERY FEW ARRIVED.

Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.
Hens, 2 for 4/6. 12 for 20/6.

COCKS.

One, just coming on song..... 8/6
Seven, ditto ditto 49/6

Last season I gave satisfaction to thousands of buyers. Only genuine birds sent away.

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, E.

MULES—HYBRIDS.

WANTED, Mules, Hybrids, and muling birds, good prices given, offers to: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (594)

THREE handsome light Goldfinch Mules, 12/6; mother of above, 15/-: W. Johnson, St. John's, Newton Abbot. (595)

EXTRA large dark Goldfinch Mule cock (sure winner), Finch notes, 10/6; another, 7/6; 1916: Hames, 30, South-rd., Bournemouth. (591)

WANTED, 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)

REDPOLL-Canary, Siskin-Canary, cock and hen, 4/6; 1916 Norwich cock, 6/-; hens, 3/-; Redpoll father of Mules, 2/6; all in splendid condition: Robinson, 18, Garbutt-st., Shilsdon, Co. Durham.

HAVING had successful season, can spare buff Sib hen, bred 4-pointed Mule, 25/-; buff hen, bred 3-pointed Mule, 30/-; deep yellow hen, 4 red variegated Mules, 10/-; cocks to match, 10/- each: Rowley, Elston, Crediton. (593)

DARK and variegated Goldfinch-Canary Mules, warranted cocks, from 6/6 each, two muling cock Goldfinches, bred Mules, 10/- each; also a large variegated buff Norwich cock Canary, 10/-; all on approval: Moon, Lodge Hill, Liskeard, Cornwall.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

SUPERB aviary-bred B.H. cock Gouldian, 35/-: Rev. Raynor, Hazeleigh Rectory, Maldon. (595)

TWO cock Cockatiels, splendid condition, 20/-; 10 months old: Denbighs, Heath-rd., Ripley, Derby.

BUDGERIGARS; outdoor breeding pairs; Green 6/6; Yellow, 7/6: Church, Grocer, Sudbury, Suffolk.

BUDGERIGARS, yellow, one pair, exceptionally grand, 15/-: Hampton, 10, High-st., West Bromwich.

FINE pair Japanese Teal, 40/-; exchange Rosellas, Black-faced Lovebirds, or Mandarius: H. Phair, Aldresford, Hants. (594)

SPLENDID talking Parrot, acclimatised, tame, beautiful plumage, and cage, 32s. 6d.: 514, Stapleton-rd., Bristol. (590)

TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)

BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 6/6 pair; yellows, 7/6; husk nests, 6d.; Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)

YOUNG outdoor aviary bred Finches, cock Ruficaudas, 13/-, cock Zebras 5/-, hens 7/- each: Campbell, 48, Rockliffe-road, Bath.

AMAZON Parrot, lovely plumage, healthy, acclimatised, finger-tame, and cage, 50/-: Morgan, 81, Church-st., Orrell, near Wigan. (592)

PAIR Bronzewing Mannikins, 5/6; cock Saffron, 5/-; cock Zebra, 3/6; Madagascar Weaver, full colour, 7/-: Neale, 129, Walton-rd., East Molesey. (591)

NOTICE, grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger, price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)

NOTICE, grand lot green and yellow Budgerigars, sure winners; price reasonable; easy payments arranged: McKeand, Seabright Villa, Castle-Douglas. (562)

ZEBRA Finches, adult pairs, 10/-; three pairs, 27/6; Longtail Grassfinches, 35/-, true pairs; show cages, various, cheap: Hughes, "Central," Ammanford, Carm. (591)

THREE young Peachface Lovebirds, also two young Blackcheeks, 20/- each; also pair of Fort Lincolns for sale; wanted cock Gouldian: Webb, Brooklea Downs, Luton. (594)

TWO pairs White Javas, 15/- pair; pair Grey Javas, 10/-; aviary bred; pair Nutmeg Finches, 10/-; Black-headed Mannikin, 5/-: Clark, "Hammers Knott," Arbor Vale, Slough. (590)

BARGAIN, good talking Parrot, with a big cage, dances, rare mimic, walks about without cage, tame, £3 15/-: Wm. Newton, 22, Elphinstone-rd., Forest-rd., Walthamstow, N.E. (592)

BEAUTIFUL acclimatised Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, talks, dances, rare mimic, sacrifice 50/-, including cage, to nice home; approval: Miss Jones, 17, Chalybeate-st., Aberystwyth. (595)

TWO fine cock Starlings, pair Hedge Accentors, £2; pair Chaffinches, 2 pairs Greenfinches, cock Yellow Budgerigar, or Half-moon Parrakeet, 26/- lot, or separate: H. Phair, Alresford, Hants. (594)

FOR sale, Military Macaw, winner at principal shows, including Crystal Palace, good, plain talker and mimic, will take £4 10/-, including show cage, or nearest offer: T. McDiarmid, Park-place, Stirling.

ORANGE-Winged Amazon Parrot, charmingly finger-tame, likes to be petted, says a few words, quiet in cage or fly loose; ideal pet; call or stamp reply: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (594)

MAGNIFICENT Green Budgerigars, 6/6 a pair; lovely yellows, 7/6 a pair; outdoor aviary bred; also one cock Cockatiel, 7/6; six days' approval, cash or deposit: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

FOR sale, a few pairs beautiful large young Budgerigars, 8/6 pair; two breeding pairs, 10/6 each; one pair Zebra Finches, 18/6; all outdoor aviary bred: Mackness, 22, Cyprus-rd., Finchley, N. (592)

TALKING Parrots, Green Amazon and African Greys, few grand specimens, finger-tame, good plain talkers and mimics, prices from 50/-; approval; special Parrot list free on application: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (594)

CLEARING out prices: Six adult Budgerigars, on eggs, exceptional colour and size, with six young, and husks, outdoors, 42/- lot; Golden hen Pheasant, 7/6; Palace aviary, 12/6; Parrot cage (dome) 4/-: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (591)

ALL acclimatised: Yellow Budgerigars, All Green and Ring-necked Parrakeets, Peach-faced Lovebirds, Weavers, Whydahs, hen Zebra Finch, Grey Waxbill, hen Cockatiel, and hen Yellow-throated Sparrow. No postcards: C/o Page, Langstone, Lingfield.

A SPLENDID young Green Parrot, plain talker, in good health and feather, in good strong cage, 20/- for quick sale; also five grand singing cock Linnets, 2/- each, and three young Roller cock Canaries, 6/6 each; two hens, 2/- each; first order gets them: Ingram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull. (595)

AVADAVATS! Avadavats are very charming little birds, but they need care. The "Nutshell" booklet, "Avadavats," contains full information on the management of these birds. You cannot do better than have a copy by you, and we shall be pleased to forward same upon receipt of 2½d. Write, The Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

THERE is no more lovely seed-eater than the popular Gouldian Finch, which, however, is very difficult to establish. This trouble can be overcome, and the variety kept successfully. But you must follow the hints given in "Nutshell No. 14," from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C., post free for 2½d. From agents (see list frequently published).

THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown, Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once, 2½d post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).

ALL privately imported. Indian Glossy Starlings (young hand-reared birds), young H.R. Golden Oriole, pair Bank Mynahs, rare Jungle Babbler, rare Indian Green Barbets (young H.R. birds), Blue-cheeked Barbet, Japanese Barbet, Yellow-backed Lory, Button Quail, Bengal Pittas (pair hand-reared), Gold-fronted Green Bulbuls, B.H. Nuns, Ind. Silverbills, Himalayan Goldfinches, and Blossom-headed Parrakeets. No postcards: Page, Langstone, Lingfield.

WAXBILLS (Golden-breasted, Orange-cheeked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 2/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners. They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (list frequently published).

BLUE-WINGED LOVEBIRDS
full wings and tail, in magnificent show plumage, 25/- pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

WEAVERS
300 pairs Weavers, magnificent birds, cocks halk in colour, 8/6 pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

INDIAN STOCK
Just arrived, magnificent stock of Indian Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, and Parrakeets: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DE VON & CO.
114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. Parrakeets, 15/-; Parrots, 35/-; Budgerigars, 6/6 pair; Yellows, 7/6; Californian Quail, 20/-; pair Cape Canaries, 8/-; Green Singing Finch, 8/-; St. Helena Singing Finch, 8/-; price lists.

Baya Weavers, from Bombay, in magnificent plumage, very rare, 10/6 each; Jendayi Conures, 21/- each; Golden Breasts, 15/- each; Levalliants Amazons, 60/- pair.

MACAWS
magnificent plumages, tame, talking Illigers Macaws, 30/- each: Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

AUSTRALIAN STOCK
Arrived, a magnificent lot of Galahs, also Blue Mountain Lories, Scaley Breasts, Rosellas, Mealy Rosellas, Leadbeater Cockatoos, Zebra Finches, etc.: Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

ZEBRA FINCHES
In good hard condition, 15/- pair, hens 8/6 each. Blue Mountain Lories, 50/- each; Scaley Breasted Lories, 65/- each; Rosellas, 20/- each; Mealy Rosellas, 40/- each; Leadbeater Cockatoos, 60/- each. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

PARROTS
arrived Monday, Sept. 10th, 465 grand selected Blue-fronted Amazons, also Conures, monkeys, etc.; send for list. Over 2,000 Parrots and Parrakeets arrived during the last month: G. B. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

BUDGERIGARS
Gold medal strain, Green Budgerigars, 7/6 pair; hens 3/9; Yellows 9/- pair, hens 4/-; these birds are in magnificent plumage, very deep markings; safe arrival guaranteed: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DEALERS
requiring Parrots should send for our wholesale prices, over 700 genuine Amazons in stock, also 250 Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, etc.: G. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham. Telegrams: Parrakeet. 'Phone: Central 689.

TALKING PARROTS
all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)
Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

VARIOUS BIRDS.
BLACKBIRDS, Song Thrushes, selected cocks 1/3 each; 12 mixed aviary seed birds, 1/6; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 1/- pair; Goldfinches 2/6 pair, large selected cocks 3/- each; Blue-tits, Robins, Oxeye Tits, 1/6 pair: George Fenn, East End, Isleham, Cambs. (593)

TO clear, cheap cages, Yorkshire and Border hens, from 1/6; exhibition buff Yorkshire cock, 10/-: 26, Silton-st., Moston-lane, Manchester. (595)

CLEARING out; all my Norwich Plainheads and two Goldfinch Mules for sale; also cages and flights and utensils; no reasonable offer refused: Hately, Jesmond Dene, Queen's-avenue, King's Lynn. (592)

SELLING out—removing.—22 Norwich, 6 Yorkshires, from 12/6 pair; some winners, fed; 30 Rollers, 9/- pair; Linnet and Norwich hen, 7/-; two cock Linnet Mules, 7/- each; five pairs Budgerigars, 6/6 pair; show cages and cases, three-compartment; double and single breeders, singing and flight cages; about three dozen for sale; stamp for particulars: Oliffe, Church Green, Witney, Oxon.

WANTED.

WANTED, big healthy Norwich, will give 10/- pair: Scott, 110, Roebank-st., Glasgow. (594)

WANTED, anything alive, cheap, for re-sale: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (593)

WANTED any quantity of young Canaries: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (500)

WANTED, any quautity Redpolls: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (593)

WANTED, Canaries and Mule birds, all classes: Pewick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (586)

WANTED, all kinds of live stock, purchase or exchange: Barlow's Aviaries, Greenwich. (594)

CANARIES wanted, auy quantity, best price paid: Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (570)

WANTED, few cock Canaries for cash; state price: Drummond, 15, Hutcheson-st., Glasgow. (579)

WANTED, hen Mules, give 1/9 each: Mr. Hobbs, 141, King's-rd., Camden Town, London. (591)

WANTED, cock Goldfinch Mule, pure Finch note: H. H. Wilton, 26, Bannawell-street, Tavistock. (595)

WANTED Linnet Mule in song, good price given; approval, deposit: Robinson's Boot Stores, Alnwick.

WANTED, livestock of every description, prompt cash: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester.

WANTED, British birds, weekly, from catchers; also singing Canaries: Torphy, Naturalist, Bradford.

WANTED Canaries, British birds, fowls, rabbits, pigeons; state price cash: Brain, Aston, Birmingham. (586)

WANTED, two large yellow Norwich Canaries, good price given: Williams, Dolgonrog Hotel, Talycafn, N. Wales. (590)

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WANT to buy Linnet Mule or two Linnets, must be on full song, used to the ground: H. Pearce, 81, Albert-rd., Luton, Beds. (591)

WANTED for cash, Canaries and British birds, also Yorkshire show cages; state lowest cash price: H. Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (580)

WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)

WANTED, large or small quantities of Canaries and British birds; state price for cash: Barnes and Sons, Seed Merchants, Merthyr. (591)

WANTED, all breeds of Canaries and mules for cash; send lowest prices to A. Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallumgate, Glasgow. (546)

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.

WANTED, weekly, small supply of British birds, cock Canaries, fowls, pigeons, rabbits, new-laid eggs: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)

WANTED, all varieties Canaries, Mules, and Foreign birds, large or small lots bought, will send cash first: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle-Douglas.

WILL buy any quantity Canaries, Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Larks, Redpolls, Twites; state lowest price: Clarke, 78, Whit Lane, Pendleton.

WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinches and Bullfinches, for cash, weekly supply and best prices paid for good birds: Edwin North, 443, Manchester rd., Bradford. (563)

WANTED, wanted, wanted, wanted—Canaries, Canaries, Canaries; cages; British, etc; best cash prices given; large or small stocks bought: Broadbent, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. (584)

WANTED, exhibition Bullfinch and Goldfinch, H.M. or F.M.: good prices given; must be on approval. Mrs. Lillian E. T Dalton, "Glynderw," West Cross Lane, West Cross, near Swansea (590)

WANTED from catchers, weekly supply of Chaffinches, Goldfinches, Bullfinches and Siskins and Redpolls; good prices given for good birds: Gracie, Bird Dealer, Wishaw, Scotland. (594)

HYBRIDS, wanted best cash offers for cock Goldfinch-Greenfinch hybrid, two cock Linnet-Greenfinch hybrids, also light Goldie Mule; will send on approval if deposit with Editor; further particulars enclose stamp; cock Goldie-Canary Mule, 6/-; hens, 1/3 each: Cockram, Tatworth, Chard. (592)

CANARIES WANTED
Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

OLD FIRM, £10,000
Wanted, 5,000 pairs Canaries for export: Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Crestbreds, Mules, Cinnamons; the best price in England; we are the largest buyers in the world; annual sale 10,000 pairs; we have won over 5,000 money prizes, 100 cups and medals, and other specials: Address 77, Pitt-st., Norwich, and 1, Sclater-st., London. Largest shop in London. (594)

CANARIES WANTED.
Will give HIGHEST PRICES for
YORKSHIRES, NORWICH, BORDERS, CRESTS, MULES, Etc., Etc, and
WILL DEPOSIT CASH WITH EDITOR.

For many years I have bought large quantities of Canaries for export, and wishing to maintain my connection, I am now open to purchase large or small lots of any variety. Send price and full particulars. Remember, top prices paid and cash deposited.

H. GLEDHILL,
Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

WANTED
all Breeders, Exhibitors, Secretaries, and Dealers to know that we have commenced purchasing all kinds of

CANARIES
for our extensive export orders, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, CRESTS, BORDERS, SCOTCH FANCY, MULES, etc., of all kinds.

Thanking all Secretaries, Breeders, Exhibitors, and Dealers for their assistance in helping us to maintain a good OLD ENGLISH INDUSTRY in past years, as BIRD JUDGES we are still prepared to give the highest value obtainable for birds, knowing their full value. Large or small quantities bought.

J. HOWARD & SONS,
Breeders, Exhibitors and Judges,
1, Sclater Street, and 28, Bethnal Green Road, London, and at 77, Pitt Street, Norwich
Estab. 54 Years.

For past 40 years the largest and most successful Exhibitors and Buyers in the United Kingdom. WINNERS OF over 5,000 PRIZES, CUPS, and MEDALS in OPEN CHAMPION CLASSES. HONEST DEALINGS ONLY.
Bankers: London County and Westminster (Shoreditch Branch, London), and Barclay & Co., Norwich.

CANARIES.
Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.
JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

IMPORTANT.
To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.
'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

EXCHANGE, smart Fox Terrier dog, for pair Norwich Canaries: Evans, Grocer, 8, Charlwood-st., Pimlico, London. (593)

EXCHANGE 1915 Cinnamon-bred hen for good H.M. cock Goldfinch, Siskin or Mule, or sell 6/-: 35, Bridge End-rd., Grantham. (592)

GRAND Blackbird cock 4/-, buff Yorkshire, buff Norwich hens, prize winners, 6/- each, cards sent: Davies, Ferndale, Craven Arms. (593)

FOUR hen Canaries, 3/- each; two good Redpolls, 1/6 each, exchange for Budgerigars: A. Foley, 4, Picton-st., New Boultham, Lincoln. (591)

WHAT offers in Canaries for suit length, good tweed, any colour sent, or sell 25s.; approval: McKeand, Hamilton Place, Castle-Douglas. (562)

SEVERAL Border hens, 2/6 each, good feeders, cold room bred, or exchange for 1916 pullets, heavy breed; offers: Rennie, 8, East End, Prestonpans.

EXCHANGE good pair Norwich, cock on full song, and rung, for good Roller singing cock, yours first: Frank Lees, 46, Headingley-rd., Handsworth, Birmingham. (590)

TWO buff Yorkshire hens, good breeders, Dykes' strain, exchange for Water Glucke Roller cock, good singer; write particulars: Peters, David-st., Blaengarw, South Wales. (592)

EXCHANGE three singing Canaries for good Norwich hen, must have good head and shoulders; approval both ways: J. Taylor, 1, Wear-st., Chester-le-Street, co. Durham. (593)

YORKSHIRES, four grand birds, cock and hen, and their two young ones, exchange Rollers or anything useful, or watch: P. Rawlins, Park Villa, Talbot Terrace, Lytham, Lancs. (591)

EXCHANGE monster clear body dark Crested hen, 1915 bred, winner three firsts and two specials only time shown, feathers over end of beak, real model, for good lady's cycle, or sell £3 10/-: Abel, The Grove, Necton, nr. Swaffham. (593)

FOR sale, or exchange, clear buff cock and yellow hen, cost £3, sell £2; ditto, cost £2, sell 35/-; buff variegated cock, won only time shown, 25/-; these are grand birds, will exchange for right good cinnamons; this is a genuine offer: Borders: Edmondson, Penerith-st., Barrow-in-Furness. (594)

PUNCH-EAR wire flight, 4/-: 3ft. show cages, 10/- each; Border, Norwich, Bullfinch, 1/6 each; Norwich cock, 8/6; pair prize Borders, 8/6; Bullfinch cock, 2/6; gramophone records, 10d. each; Slater's Commercial Directory of Scotland, dated 1852; what offers?: Watson, 84B, High-st., Forres. (594)

Use our Notepaper.

Mainly British.

FIVE pairs Bullfinches, 2/6 pair, 10/- lot; exchange good Stylo pen: Saunders, Paperhanger, Tiverton.

YOUNG cock Redstart, Meadow Pipit, 6/-; exchange Siskin: Conie, Newtown, Raunds, Wellingborough. (591)

Mainly Foreign.

COCK Grenadier Weaver, full colour; exchange hen Fire or Zebra Finch: Smith, Woodlands, Kendal.

RINGNECK Parrakeet and good cage, 15/-; exchange pair Yorkshires, two fine Chaffinches, 5/-; offers: Alex Prentice, Newport, Wight. (590)

SPLENDID Amazon Parrot, talks, whistles, laughs and sings, bargain, 50/-; with cage; would exchauge: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

AMAZON Parrot, make good talker, 50/-; Alexandra Parrakeet, nice pet, 35/-; both in full plumage; acclimatised; call, or stamp reply: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (594)

GRAND talking Amazon Parrot, and grand cage, splendid talker and whistler, says over 20 words and finger-tame, will take £3 the lot, bargain: Jopson, 346, Oldham-rd., Newton Heath, Manchester.

Miscellaneous.

MUST clear, Border cocks, 5/6; hens, 2/6: King, 2, King-st., Glastonbury. (592)

EXCHANGE pure White Jacobin cock, Crystal Palace strain, for anything useful: Lorraine, Queen-st., Dumfries. (592)

TWO pairs of Yorkshires, pair Budgerigars, two double breeders; exchange anything useful: 30, Widop-st., Goole. (593)

GLAZIER'S diamond, value 15/-, new condition, exchange for Canaries, fowls, offers: Biddie, 2, Barnsbury-st., N. (592)

SELL, eight 1916 cock Canaries, from 6/6 each, or offer the lot; stamp: Dunham, Mount Pleasant, Clapham, Bedford. (594)

PIANO, small, good condition; 4 violins, 1 mandolin, £12 lot; part exchange only considered: 65, Ewart-rd., Nottingham. (595)

PEDIGREE Airedale bitch, 14 months old, exchange, or sell 25/-; owner going away: Jenkins, 70, Hampton-rd., Luton, Beds. (592)

CLEARING out, Palace aciary 8/-, pair Yorkshires 9/-, yellow Crest hen 2/6, or exchange; offers: Blake, 30, Wellington-rd., Wealdstone. (589)

EXCHANGE Aela double lens, hand camera, cutlery, or anything useful, for Canaries: George Boston, 09, St. Phillip's-rd., Sheffield. (593)

EXCHANGE Canaries to value of £2 for pedigree Fox Terrier bitch, no rubbish entertained; yours first: 48, Curzon-rd., Luton, Beds. (590)

HARMSWORTH'S Self-Educator, full series, new, cost 28s. 7d.; what Canary offers?: Hibbert, 3, Hibbert-st., South Reddish, Stockport. (591)

VIOLIN, bow, case, three-quarter, 15/-; or exchange Rollers, breeding cages: offers: Laberton, Sydney-terrace, Saddlebow-rd., King's Lynn. (592)

WANTED, good 4 volt (20 amperes) hour accumulator, exchange Canaries; particulars: Plumtree, Normanby-rd., Scunthorpe, Lincolnshire. (590)

EXCHANGE good geese and gander for two good pairs of Yorkshire Canaries; yours first: Alex. Devine, 373, Main-st., Bonhill, Dumbartonshire. (593)

COMBINED lathe, fret, circular saw, and boring machine, suit cage-maker, accept 25/-: Russell, 14, Winnbourne Street, Miles Platting, Manchester. (591)

EXCHANGE pair working boots, 9, for two hen Canaries, or good cock; pair gold-rimmed eyeglasses, one hen, offers: Malone, 113, High-st., Jarrow. (594)

BARGAIN, pair Fantails, blue cock, black hen, rung, 10/-; air rifle, powerful shot, 10/-; exchange boy's or girl's cycle: John Lambie, Whitburn, Scotland. (593)

FOX terrier dog, 8 months, clean, smart, intelligent; wanted, birds or useful exchange, sell 10/-: J. Heath, 62, Richards-st., Maerdy, Rhondda, S. Wales. (595)

SALE or exchange, 20/- handbook and maps of Greece, Ionian Islands, and others, a good Yorkshire hen preferred: Waite, Parkside-terrace, Cullingworth, Bradford. (592)

WHAT offers in birds or pullets for the Stewart horse clipper, as new, also pipe vice, two pairs of cramps, and an almost new blow-lamp: Stables, 182, Ordsall-lane, Salford. (594)

SPLENDID Whippet and Irish Terrier dog, 10 months, 10/-; pair barber's clippers, 4/6; exchange cock Canaries or poultry: Scholes, 280, Oldham-rd., Middleton, Manchester. (593)

NOTICE, we want Parrots, Canaries, British birds, poultry, rabbits, anything, in exchange for cutlery, plate, jewellery, boots, tools, etc.: Write, Smith Bros., 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (594)

SIX Pomeranian puppies, 9 weeks old, 10/- each, 2 cream, 2 black, 1 black with white collar and feet, 1 white, black on head, spot on back, or exchange Canaries or Mules (songsters): East, Caemaur, Morriston. (591)

FIVE rabbits (English, 7 weeks), house-moulted cocks: Redpoll, Tree Sparrow, Greenfinch; hens: Yellowhammer, Greenfinch, Canary, Linnet Mule; offers, cash; exchange birds; approval: Buxton, Main-st., Bulwell, Nottingham. (594)

GRAND yellow cock Siskin Mule, winner of two 1sts, 2nd, only times shown, 15/6; large Cinnamon buff hen, 7/6; three nearly new double breeders, 3/6 each; large flight, 4/-; one dozen Yorkshire show cages, as good as new, 18/-; large seed crusher, crush anything solid, iron, not tin, weight 20lbs., 10/-; also a fine stock of young Yorkshire cocks, or will exchange any of above for old scrap brass or copper, zinc, lead, solder, or tin: Steele, 201, City Road, Manchester.

Natural History.

BIRDSTUFFING and mounting, 1/2: animal, fish, and reptile ditto, 1/2; illustrated catalogue; artificial eyes, stuffed birds, eggs, insects, books and apparatus free; skin preservative, 1/- box: Davies & Co., Museum Works, Dartford. (592)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., [illegible]

Cycles

CHAMPION gent.'s cycle, in grand condition, grand tubes, tyres, free-wheel, rim brake, mudguards, 22/6, bargain: Sampel Dodd, near Northern Station, Sutton-in-Ashfield. (594)

Ferrets.

WANTED, any quantity of ferrets: state quantity and lowest prices: Livestock Emporium, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (591)

SPLENDID ferrets, good workers, guaranteed, 4/6; younger, 4/-; last year's excellent workers, 6/-; 14 days' approval; immediate despatch; cash with order or deposit: Thos Wannop, Short Street, Carlisle. (391)

Goats.

FOR sale, Grey female English goat, 12/6; 4 months old: Police Sergeant, Lenham, Kent. (592)

TWO goats, white and brown, 2 and 3 years, giving about 1 pint each, really good milkers when in full, kidded last, May 25 (50/- the two): A. Clarke, Oak Lodge, Mathews Green. Wokingham, Berks.

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES

BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c.

"BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women."

Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from

LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON

Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d. Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

GRAND curly retriever dog puppy, 2 months, champion coat, 20/-: William Owen, Smithy, Cerrigydrudion, Corwen. (593)

TWO Game Bull-Airedale dog puppies, 7 weeks, 7/6 each; bitch, 6/-; parents tackle anything: Roder, 35, Woolwich-rd., Charlton. (594)

GRAND selection of dogs and pups always on hand, cheap; state wants; dogs and pups purchased: Standard Kennels, Oldham-rd., Newton Heath, Manchester. (595)

FOR sale, good Whippet bitch, very fast, keen on rag, good rabbiter, £1; also Greyhound Lurcher bitch, 8 months old, keen on rag, 15/-: John Adamson, Irelands-square, Buckhaven, Fife. (595)

"CARE of the Dog." Nutshell No. 32, is now ready. Every one who keeps a dog will find this little booklet of great use. It treats on feeding, housing, exercising, diseases, varieties, medicines, rearing, washing, grooming, etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, a list of whom are published frequently, or 2½d. post free, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Mice.

PAIR tame Japanese mice and cage 1/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (512)

MICE! Mice! Mice! If you have any as pets you should not be without our excellent little booklet recently published, entitled "Pet Mice," which gives full information upon their care and management and is invaluable as a reference; price 2½d. post free. Write, The Publisher, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Pigeons.

PIGEONS, HOMING & FANCY

Pigeon-keepers will find much helpful information in two of our "Nutshell" Booklets, Nos. 7 and 8, which deal with these birds in a manner which will set the fancier on the high road to success. No. 7, "The Homing Pigeon"; No. 8, "The Fancy Pigeon," post free 2½d. each from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London E.C.

Rabbits.

PAIR fluffy Black and White Rabbits (adult), 3/6 pair: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (591)

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE

By George Gardner. A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Sport.

NOW READY. Nutshell No. 31, "Fishing in River, Lake and Pond." All who take an interest in fishing should not miss this highly-instructive brochure. It treats fully on the various kinds of coarse fish, their habits and haunts, and how to catch them; the angler's outfit, ground baits, hook baits, sizes of fish, specimen fish, etc., etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

FOR sale, Stella musical box, cost £22; 40 tune sheets (walnut case), £7 complete: 3, Commercial-rd., Bulwell. (592)

MONGOOSE, reliable rat exterminators, 35/-; bushy tail Dormice 3/- pair: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (593)

RHEUMATISM positively cured; particulars forwarded free; address: Birks (D.E.), "Specialist," 35, Glenbank-place, Belfast. (593)

NEW single-barrel breech-loader gun, .12 bore, top lever, sacrifice 22/6; approval, deposit: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset. (551)

GENT'S gold-filled hunter Waltham Riverside lever, £1; solid nickel silver lever wrist watch, illuminated dial, 5/6, both perfect as new: Cottam, 37, Bowling Old-lane, Bradford. (593)

WANTED, 5,000 ANGLERS

Superior greenheart trout rods, 5/11; pike rods, 3/11; spinning rods, 4/11; roach rods, 3/11; trout flies, 1/- dozen; reels, casts, gut substitute, every description; wholesale catalogue, one stamp; saves pounds: Midland Rod Company, C., Erdington, Birmingham. (591)

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Linnet singing contest Clarence Hotel, Skinner-lane, Sept. 24; 18 birds sang and some very good singing was heard. 1, Binns; 2, Wigfield; 3, shared Binns and Marshall. Judges, T. C. Summers and C. Ward.—T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green, Linnet contest; 14 birds sang. 1, Marshall; 2, A. Butler; 3, W. Butler. Judges, J. Smith, W. Lang.—W. Lang, sec.

Grand contest, Breakwater Hotel, Sept. 24; 12 birds faced the judges, A. Lorriman and F. Turner. 1, C. Lorrieman; 2, Whitaker; 3, Pears.—F. Turner, sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road, open contest for quality Linnet singing, Sept. 24; 16 birds sang. 1, W. Sissons; 2, Sellers; 3, Chippindale; 4, Stead. Judges, Hardcastle and Naylor.—W. Naylor, hon. sec.

Club Reports.

LIVERPOOL B.B.A.

Meeting, Headquarters, Sept. 14, Mr. Ewan chair. One new member elected. Treasurer reported a slight loss on the Nest Feather shows for this season. Schedule for annual show, Nov. 25, at the Oldham Hall. Champions, 8 classes, clear Yorks., 10 Green. Champ or Nov., 6 classes clear Nor., 8 Green, 8 Borders. Novices, 6 clear Yorks., 6 Green. 9 British, 1 Gift. The proceeds of gift class will be given in aid of wounded soldiers. Three excellent specials are promised for the gift class.—Thos. R. Jones, Sec.

PENY-GRAIG C.B.S.

Meeting, Butchers' Arms, Sept. 21; things went very smoothly, but we could not get forward with our show business, because of such a small attendance. Decided to change meeting night from Thursday to Tuesday, and next meeting to be held at above place, Oct. 13. Decided that Mr. Hollinshead, Mr. Williams, and myself give a washing exhibition on that night, so members kindly come; all friends interested are welcome. Mr. J. Beazer elected a member. Now let us get our show date settled so that we can have a few table shows.—G. Padfield, Assist. Sec.

HIGHGATE & HAMPSTEAD C.B.S

Meeting, Headquarters, Sept. 18, Mr. P. Johnston chair, and a good attendance. Mr. W. Shakespear judged the washing competition, and gave an exhibition of the art. Only four members participated in the competition, Messrs. Kent, Shorter, Halford, and Cooper. The last named generously declined to compete for the medal, which was fortunate for the others. Mr. Cooper commenced the business with a very efficient demonstration, the other competitors using a different method. Mr. Shakespeare adjudged Mr. Shorter, the winner, and indulged in a little criticism of the methods used. He impressed upon the audience the importance of rapidity in washing a bird, and then proceeded to wash a Yorkshire hen, explaining points meanwhile, first thoroughly soaking the plumage, then well washing the neck and head, down the back with wings extended, tail last. He then turned the bird completely over, and worked as before, thus making only one turn of the bird, and saving much time in washing and taking no libertles with the stamina of the bird. While the birds were drying, questions were asked and suitably answered, in addition to which we were entertained with some stories of the demonstrator's experiences. A hearty vote of thanks concluded the meeting.—F. C. Knight.

The Opinion of a Noted Fancier—

"IT MAKES BIRD BREEDING EASY."

THE STOCK BOOK

Simplifies the operations in the Bird-room and makes it possible for every-one, even the veriest novice, to breed his birds as they should be bred. It affords facilities for the recording of the complete pedigree of all your birds; of your experiences during the season; an account of every bird reared. Contains also Pedigree, Breeding, Young Bird and Show Registers of simple and unique character; Cash and Profit and Loss Accounts for the year. Gives valuable hints for times of emergency during the breeding season.

Price 6d., from your Newsagent, or 7d. (Postal order), post free, from "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

STANLEY (Victoria) F.F., & C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 17, J. Armitage chair, and a good attendance. It is left in the hands of members to get as many specials as they can, as we would like to have one for every class. Will all members do their best to get them?—R. Hutchinson, sec.

CODNOR PARK & EASTWOOD

Meeting Sept. 23, Three Tuns, Eastwood, with a good attendance. Mr. Roe was elected to judge annual show. Sec. was instructed to place the schedules, etc., in the printer's hands, to be ready at next meeting. Final arrangements will be made for the open show at next meeting, and all members are asked to attend.—Smith and Lees, secs.

LEIGH C.B.S.

At a very interesting meeting, Sept. 6, Mr. R. Spiby, Farnworth, gave a lecture on the Yorkshire Canary. We had a fair attendance, but there was plenty of room for more. The lecturer dealt fully with the breeding, moulting, and exhibiting of Yorkshires, laying full stress on cleanliness in all its forms. Several questions were asked, and the lecturer ably replied. A vote of thanks to Mr. Spiby concluded a very enjoyable evening.—R. Charleson, Sec.

NEW KYO (Constitutional Club).

General meeting, Aug. 13, Mr. J. Barras chair. Balance sheet was read and found satisfactory, leaving a balance of £1 1s. 5½d. Mr. R. Humphrey was elected chairman. Committee: R. Bowes, J. Thompson, R. Hewitt, T. Davidson, J. Williams, T. Wilson, R. Calaway, T. Holland, and it was decided that I should retain position as sec. Monthly meeting held Sept. 10, R. Calaway chair. A rule was passed that the show be confined to members only. Of course, it is understood that members can borrow from a member. Members must be fully-paid members before being allowed to show. Decided to hold our show on Jan. 6. Birds to stand over until Sunday night, Jan. 7. Sec. was instructed to write to the nominated judges re fees—T. Dixon, J. Stanger, Messrs. Crawhall and A. Holden. We shall hold our meetings in future on Sunday mornings at 10.30. Next meeting, Oct. 8.—J. W. Christon, Sec.

NEWCASTLE C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 21, Shield's Cafe, Mr. Espie presided over a good number present. Our late Sec. having resigned, Mr. Laidlow, after having refused his name for the last three years to go forward as Sec., consented at last to take the position. Several of the old members paid their subs., but we still want a few more. We made ten new members, and this makes things look much brighter for this season—Messrs. Nicholson, Mitchell, Nattrass, Havis, Short, Bertram, Leach, Shield, Rowan, and Smith. All members present seemed bent on having a show, so we decided to hold one, either on the date fixed, or a week later, with the same schedule as last year. Judges were nominated and the Sec. given power to elect same if terms were reasonable. We have secured a hall, and we are in touch with one much bigger, so all we want is support from members as in years gone by. There is much to be done, and rather in a hurry, but I am quite sure we will not fail, and we shall come out all right in the end to make Newcastle C.B.S. its old self again. I earnestly appeal to all not to shirk their duties, but rather to do more than ever; new members invited. Schedules for show will be sent to last year's exhibitors; others please apply: F. W. Laidlow, 55, Colston St., Benwell, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

NORTHERN YORKSHIRE C.C.

Meeting, Sept. 13, Shield's Cafe, Bigg Market, Mr. Crawhall, chair. Decided to give a silver spoon in each section, champions and novices, at shows obtaining our patronage, also the Crawhall cup for most points with birds wearing the club's closed rings. In addition, we are dividing the profits on the rings into prizes value 15s., 10s., 5s., to the winner of the cup; the second, and the third respectively. Up to the present we have only four applications for patronage: Newcastle, Blaydon, Gateshead, and Whitehaven, but it was left to the secretary to arrange with any others who may desire it, and I shall be glad to hear from anyone in the four Northern counties who wish our patronage at their shows. The president said he had been approached by the Sec. of the Northern British Club to see if we would let them join with us at our annual show, and it was decided that we welcome them, and one more specialist club if any wish to join us on New Year's day. The hall will not accommodate more. Messrs. T. C. Crawhall, R. Tindall, and Sec., were appointed to meet a committee from any other specialist club wishing to join us. The next meeting will be Oct. 25 at which there will be a table show, 3 classes champions, and 3 novices; Mr. F. W. Laidlow judge. After the business was finished Mr. Crawhall gave the members a very interesting lecture on colour-feeding and preparing birds for show.—R. Havis, Sec.

LANDORE AND PLASMARL C.B.C

Meeting, Sept. 16, George and Dragon Hotel. Decided to hold an open show on Oct. 28, at the George and Dragon Hotel Club Room. Classification was drawn out; judges to be engaged by next meeting. A handsome silver cup will be given by the President for members' competition. Specials were also promised by Messrs. Hitching, Fry, James, and Isaac. It behoves all members to hurry things up, and help in selling tickets, etc., to make the first venture of our society a record one. Fanciers caring to join may get all information by applying to the Hon. Sec., Mr. H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terrace, Landore, Nr. Swansea.

EDINBURGH C.B.S.

Meeting Cairns Memorial Hall, George Road, Sept. 19, Mr. Jas. Stormont chair, and very few members present. Sec. gave report of First Feather show, which showed a balance of 6s. 3d. Decided to hold a table show next meeting night, Oct. 17. Classification will be given later. Decided to approach the Edinburgh Western O.S. for use of their staging, etc., for our annual show. Leith Printing Co. to get order for posters, prize cards, and classification forms. Catalogues to be done by Mr. Austin, Dalkeith. Sec. was instructed to write to Board of Customs and Excise re admission tickets for show. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chair.—J. C. Charlton, sec.

GLASGOW C.B.A.

Meeting Sept. 19, Nelson Temperance Hotel, Mr. A. Maxwell (president) in the chair. Report re hall was considered, and it was decided to again hold show on Nov. 10 and 11 in Albert Halls, Bath-street, all surplus to be devoted to Blinded Soldiers and Sailors Fund. Classification was fixed much upon same lines as in former years. Prize-money, 10s., 5s., 3s., 2s.; entry fee, 1s. 6d. Assistant-secretary, Mr. J. F. Park, kindly consented to defray the cost of admission tickets, which will be on sale shortly. Any fancier wishing tickets to dispose of can have same from secretaries. Several details in connection with show were considered, and a vote of thanks to the chairman terminated the meeting.—Wm. Hutchison, Sec.

AYR C.B.C.

Meeting, Wallace Tower Hall, High St. Sept. 18. Much good business was done, the turn out of members being very fair; Mr. P. McQuiston, vice-president, in the chair. It was arranged to hold the annual show, Nov. 25, under the auspices of the Red Cross Society, and the Sec. was instructed to write the Border Fancy C.C., for its patronage. Judges were nominated, and last year's classification revised. A very few slight alterations were made in the Canary section, one alteration in British, Border, remaining as last year. There will thus be Scotch Fancy 3 classes, including 1 selling; Norwich, 9 (1 Sell.); Yorks., 3; Borders 13 (1 Sell.); Mules 2; Brit. and For., 12 (1 Sell., 1 Gift.). A handsome medal has been presented by Mr. McQuiston, for competition; and all the members present at the meeting promised special prizes.—H. M. Ferguson, Sec.

CARDIFF C.B.S.

Meeting Law Courts Hotel, Mr. E. J. Banks presided. The meeting was very poorly attended. After a long discussion, it was unanimously resolved that we alter the date of our open show to Nov. 29 and 30. The reason of the change of date is that we were unable to secure a hall on any other date. Also we had notice that we could not have a room in future to hold our meeting at the Carlton, owing to alterations. Resolved that Mr. Banks and the sec. arrange for a meeting room, and also to secure the Cory Hall for the open show, and report to a committee meeting as soon as possible. For the benefit of those members who are unable to attend the meeting I may add that we have secured the Cory Hall, but the fee is high, and I should be glad if those members who would like to help would please let me know by next meeting what specials or donations they can give to the show funds. The show is for charity, so now, members, please rally at the next meeting. A number of our boys gave up their birds at their country's call, and it is up to you to help this show along, which will, if successful, cheer up many of our unfortunate comrades who are prisoners of war. Meetings will in future be held at Godfrey's Dining Rooms, near St. John's Church. Subs. are now due.—E. Thomas, sec.

HEALTH & STRENGTH

Deals with all kinds of athletics, including Foot ball Wrestling, Boxing, Weight Lifting, Fencing Running, Ju-Jitsu, Gymnastics of all kinds, Swimming, &c., &c. Gives free advice on all questions of Health, Diet, &c. to all readers EVERY THURSDAY, 1d. Sold Everywhere. Get a copy to-day, or send for Free Specimen to "Health and Strength," Windsor House, Kingsway, London.

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.) J.R., J.F.

Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.)

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.)

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.).

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. 22.—Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Nov. 29-30.—Southampton C.B.S.—(W. L. Page, 30, Bedford Place.) J.R.

Dec. 6-7.—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Scotland.

Nov. 10-11.—Glasgow C.B.A.—(W. Hutchison, 167, Hospital St.)

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

1917.
Jan. 3-4.—City of Glasgow O.A.—(J. Young, 76, Burn Rd., Rutherglen.).

Wales.

Oct. 28.—Landore, Plasmarl C.B.S.—(H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terr., Plasmarl, nr. Swansea.) C.B.S., J.H., J.E.J.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Ireland.

Dec. 1-2.—Newtownards C.B.S.—(Wm. Montgomery, 62, Church St.)

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 5s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

PLEASE POST YOUR ENTRIES FOR

CLAPHAM

SHOW, Oct. 11th & 12th,

as early as possible, or if you have not yet had a schedule, apply for one at once, to—T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell, S.E.

CITY OF BRADFORD O.S.

(Under Yorkshire Union Rules, and the Patronage of the Y.C.C., Ogden's Trophy, Dykes' Compet., Amateur and Junior Novice Competitions, and the N.G.M.Y.C.C. Competition, C.M.Y.C.C. Compet. Open Norwich Plainhead Club) 36th Grand Annual Open Exhibition, Feversham Street Council Schools, Leeds Road, Bradford, OCT. 14. Judges, Milton Peel, Huddersfield (Yorkshires), W. A. Cowgill, Bradford (remainder). Entries positively close Oct. 10 (see Union Rules). Schedules with pleasure from—W. Helliwell, 116, Mill Lane, Bradford, Yorks. Prizes on Y.U.C.B.S. Sliding Scale.

ACCRINGTON

C.B.S. Annual Open Show, Norwich Plainheads, Crown Hotel, Accrington, OCTOBER 14, 1916. N.P.C. patronage. Schedules now ready.—A. Noble, Hon. Sec., 49, Lodge Street, Accrington.

ABERTILLERY

C.B.S. 4th Annual Show of all Cage Birds, Gymnasium Hall, OCT. 18. Judge, Jno. Robson. Don't forget this is a charity show for the soldiers. Last year's exhibitors have been scheduled; others apply —Newell, 62, Princess Street, Abertillery.

LIVERPOOL

Oct. 20th & 21st.

Judges, H. W. Battye, J. C. Barnes, C. Houlton, and G. Large. Schedules to 1914 and 1915 exhibitors, others please apply to—Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane.

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 50,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.
Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 5229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

Twitterings.

Societies requiring the patronage of the Northern Yorkshire C.C. should apply to: R. Havis, Sec., 16, Clifford St., Blaydon-on-Tyne. (See Club Reports).

We have secured Mr. Trengrove, of Rishton, to judge our open show on Oct. 14-16, at Crown Hotel, Accrington, and we have the N.P.C. patronage, writes Mr. A. Noble, Sec.

Mr. T. Holman writes that the Mountain Ash F. and F. Society intend giving a good classification at their forthcoming War Charity Show, Nov. 16, at The Grand Pavilion, Mountain Ash.

We have decided to hold our open show on Dec. 16, in aid of the British Red Cross Fund, writes Mr. J. McLaughlin, Hon. Sec., Whitehaven Yorkshire F.S. Judges, Yorks., F. Coulson, Millom; Borders, British, J. Ellwood, Cockermouth.

OBITUARY.

Mr. PHILIP JENKINS (Swansea).

It is with deep regret, writes Mr. S. J. Nicholas, that I have to record the death at Swansea Hospital, after a long and painful illness, of Mr. Philip Jenkins, the veteran member of the Swansea and Dist. C.B.S. One of the originators of the Society, he has remained a faithful member ever since its inception. "Phil.," as he was familiarly called, will be sadly missed. For several years past he has held the position of Show Manager, and always carried out his duties admirably. He was an indefatigable worker, and by his death the Society have sustained a deep loss. For two consecutive years Phil. held the position of chairman, and it was with feelings of pride he often recounted that during his period of office the Society had a record entry, but the hours of hard work Phil. put in to achieve this no one but the writer knows. Of late years he had done but little exhibiting, still his interest in the "Wee Gems" never waned, and some of his happiest moments were spent in showing his stock to his friends or chatting over fancy matters. We have lost a good friend, and I am sure all fanciers will join with me in expressing our deepest sympathy with his sorrowing wife and relations.

Mr. J. H. Ford, sec. Swansea C.B.S., also sends a sympathetic reference to the late Mr. Jenkins, and says that he was one of the first in Swansea to take up the Border Fancy. The deceased fancier, says Mr. Ford, also kept British birds, and had a special fondness for the Linnet and Redpoll.

"Cage Birds" Roll of Honour.

It is with deep regret, writes Mr. E. Thomas, Sec., Cardiff C.B.S., that I have to inform you that one of our members, Lance-Corporal W. Charles, was killed in action with the Cardiff City Battalion a month back. The fancy is poorer of a good fancier who was a willing worker at our shows. He has left a wife and four children, to whom the members of the Cardiff Society extend their deepest sympathy.

REVIEW OF SCHEDULES.

ACCRINGTON C.B.S.—Crown Hotel, Oct. 14; judge, J. Trengrove, Rishton, Norwich Canaries only, 10 cl., 6 open, 4 amat. Prizes 10s., 6s., 4s., 2s. if 10 entries. Fee 1s. 6d. Entries close Oct. 9 to, A. Noble, 40, Lodge St., Accrington.

CLAPHAM C.B.A.—Oct. 11-12, St. Ann's Hall, Venn St., Clapham Common; judges, J. Robson, J. Frostick, 67 classes:—Nor. 4 champ., 4 nov., 1 sell; Yorks., 9 champ., 9 nov., 1 sell; Bord, 5 champ, 4 nov., 1 sell; Crests 1; Mules 6; Brit. 14 (1 sell); For. 8 (1 sell). Prizes, 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d., if 8 entries; 4th prize 1s. 6d. if over 16 entries. Half prize-money if less than 8 entries. Ent. close Oct. 4, to T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell, S.E.

"Carrying On."

Newcastle C.B.S. will hold its annual show as usual. The new secretary, Mr. F. W. Laidlow, 55, Colston St., Benwell, Newcastle-on-Tyne, will be pleased to forward schedules upon application.

Our meeting and show arranged for Oct. 2, writes Mr. W. Furnandiz, hon. sec. Hull C.B.S., has been altered to Saturday afternoon, Oct. 7, commencing at 2.30, in the Oddfellows' Hall.

I see that Mr. Stanger mentions my name in writing of shows in Durham, writes Mr. J. Bastock, and I would like ask Mr. Stanger or anyone else if they can tell me the date when I was awarded first prize in Crests at Darlington. The bird with which I took the prize was claimed by Mr. W. J. Hampton; it was in the seventies. How long after this was the show to which Mr. Wallace refers in his article?

We have been forced to alter the dates of our show to Nov. 29-30, writes Mr. E. Thomas, sec. Cardiff C.B.S., as we were unable to secure a hall on any other date. We are running the show for the charity for British Prisoners of War. Last year we sent 40 parcels in each case, and received a reply thanking the Committee for their kindness, and we hope this year to be able to send a greater number of parcels, as we intend to give a liberal classification.

I have arranged with the Sunderland C.B.S. Secretary to hold our show in conjunction with theirs on Dec. 26, in the Miners' Hall, Monkwearmouth, Sunderland, writes Mr. Geo. Dobson, sec., Northern Crest Club. There will be twelve classes, and I hope members will try and get a few specials, or give one if they can. I will be pleased to receive same before next meeting, held just before the show, as I want to make the show a great success. A few members have not paid their subscriptions yet; will they kindly do so and oblige.

New Sec. for Newcastle C.B.S.

Owing to our late sec. resigning, writes Mr. F. W. Laidlow, I have taken over the duties of secretary to the Newcastle C.B.S., and all correspondence in future should be addressed to me at 55, Colston St., Benwell, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

Northern Border Fancy C.C.

Societies desirous of obtaining the patronage of the Northern Border Fancy C.C. Club are requested to make their application as early as possible, writes Mr. J. Farrer, 222, Jefferson St., Newcastle. Owing to my father having joined the colours, it is essential that members attend in good numbers at the next meeting for the purpose of electing a new secretary.

What a Champion Exhibitor Thinks

In forwarding the letter published this week under the heading of "A Gentle Hint," Mr. Fred Archer says "If other exhibitors would only come forward with their views, then all of us would be further encouraged. I fail to see why the champions in all sections should not respond to your suggestion, and then the novice could not find room to grumble."

Another Charity Show.

At a Committee Meeting of the Glasgow C.B.A., writes Mr. W. Hutchison, sec., 167, Hospital St., it was decided to hold the Annual Show on Nov. 10-11, in the Albert Halls, Bath St. All the profits will be handed over to the Fund in aid of Blinded Sailors and Soldiers. Those who are willing to help by selling tickets can obtain a supply by application to Mr. Hutchison.

The First Open Show of the Season.

The show season of 1916 opens with the show of the Clapham C.B.A. on Oct. 11-12, and, as will be seen from the Review of Schedule published this week, a fine classification has been provided. Mr. A. J. Clarke guarantees the 2 unflighted hen Canary classes, Mr. H. J. Chick the classes for Chaffinch, Bramblefinch, and British hen, and Mr. C. T. Maxwell the class for Lovebirds and Pigmy Parrots. A very fine list of 60 specials is printed in the schedule, and exhibitors should write for a copy to the hon. sec., Mr. T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell, Retirement of Two Old Fanciers.

I am obliged to sell out my stock of birds and cages owing to the fact that I am starting on a business which takes me from home four days a week, writes Mr. E. G. Oliffe, Witney. I am very sorry to have to give up such an interesting hobby, as I have been a breeder and exhibitor for upwards of twenty years, and have taken in Cage Birds since, I think, the first number, and shall continue to take it in regularly.

I am sorry to have to inform you, writes Mr. J. McNaughton, Larbert, that circumstances have arisen that compel me to give up the fancy for a time at least. I am very sorry to part with my birds, but owing to Dr. Harvie Brown's death and my removing from here I cannot see my way to carry on. I must thank you for the many kindnesses extended to me during the 11 years I have been in the fancy, and although we have passed through a very trying and depressing time, still, I hope it will soon end, and that there are good times to come. I wish "C.B." success in the future, as in the past.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.

J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.

THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate: 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.

J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.

W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.

C. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.

J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich; terms moderate.

C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.

J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.

W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.

H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.

J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.

J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.

C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.

JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.

HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.

S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich, Cinn. and Liz. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.

W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Bucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.

J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties

J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.

G. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.

W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

Liverpool Open Show.

Schedules will be posted Sept. 30. If you have not received yours by Oct. 3 apply to—Green & Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane, Liverpool.

A GREAT LITTLE BOOK.

It is not too much to say that no work of its size ever published contains such a mine of information for the breeder of live stock of any kind as "IN-BREEDING; What It Is, and What It Does," by C. A. House, the book referred to by Mr. House in his letter published in our issue of last week.

We are glad to be able to say that we have taken over a supply of this wonderful little publication, and it will be issued from the offices of Cage Birds, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C., at the price of tenpence, post free.

We have not yet had time to digest a tenth part of the contents, but what we have read enables us to say that no one who wishes for success in the breeding of any kind of stock can afford to be without it. It is written in language to be understood by all, and the matter is not complicated by intricate and puzzling drawings. Such pedigrees as are given are stated in words, from actual examples, and are set forth in the plainest possible manner.

Two short extracts from the work must suffice here, but we can promise a real treat to all intelligent breeders who may become possessed of the book.

> "The walls of prejudice have been built very high round this question of in-breeding, but they are gradually being undermined and overthrown, and the breeding of all kinds of live stock is being conducted to-day upon more rational methods than have prevailed in the past. Knowledge is power, and the bright beams of knowledge, the result of experience, are illuminating the paths of fanciers to-day as they have never done before."
>
> "It is a time-honoured aphorism that 'Like produces like': it does under certain conditions and circumstances, not otherwise. 'Like produces like' when there is a proper and established control over the individuals comprising the breeding stock. If two really first-class birds or animals from different families are paired together the chances are 1000 to 1 against 'like producing like,' but with two similar individuals from the same family the odds are reversed, and it is 1000 to 1 on its being accomplished."

The Essentials of Aviculture.

By J. W. N.

(Continued from page 541.)

A Series of comprehensive articles, which will embrace the proper management of all kinds of birds in captivity. The housing, feeding, general management, diseases, breeding of species and of Mules and Hybrids, and finally, the birds themselves will all be treated of as the series progresses.

MANY authorities state that once a week is sufficient for cleaning out cages, but this should always be done twice at least. To clean a cage it is always best to run the bird into another, and, if doors are provided at the ends, it is a very easy proceeding. The cage into which the bird is to go should face the light, his present one being placed door end to door end, but with the back toward the window. If the doors be now opened the bird will hop towards the light, when they can be closed.

While scraping out a cage do not forget to pay attention to the perches, which are best sandpapered, and to finish off by rubbing everything over with a cloth moistened with potassium permanganate solution.

The floor of the cage can be covered fairly thickly with sawdust or sand. The ordinary cage bird sand contains the grit which is necessary for efficient digestion, but it soon becomes fouled, and the sharp particles hurt the feet. Sawdust is a better covering, especially if it is got from pine wood, as it then contains a natural antiseptic and the cage has always a clean smell. If this is used the grit must be supplied separately. For larger birds, such as Thrushes, peat moss is often used, and is a cheap and efficient material.

Seed hoppers and drawers must be attended to each day, the old husks removed, and a fresh supply given if necessary. The dishes for soft food must be carefully washed and filled with freshly-prepared food, and, lastly, the water in all drinkers must be changed. It is a very good plan, if the collection is small and funds permit, to have a duplicate set of feeding utensils, and the work of the birdroom will be much more expeditiously carried out.

A Thorough Clean Out.

Twice a year the birdroom should be disinfected, and the distemper on the walls renewed once a year. The stock should be removed to new cages, the old ones remaining in the room while the work of disinfection is carried out. All openings must be sealed up with adhesive paper, special attention being devoted to the window and chimney.

Sulphur is one of the best disinfectants and should be placed at the bottom of a tin box. A few live coals placed on top will ignite it, and at this stage a rapid exit is advisable. Take care that the door is sealed up on the outside, and then leave it for some hours, after which the room can be opened up and thoroughly aired. If this is done and an antiseptic spray used frequently, very little trouble will be experienced with red mite.

Where these are suspected, a white cloth can be placed over the cage at night, and, if examined in the morning, evidence of their existence will generally be forthcoming. When found the bird must be run into another cage and treated as prescribed in the chapter on "The Diseases of Birds," but the cage can be rendered useful again if treated with something that will kill these pests.

A simple method is to take it outside and soak it with petrol, which soon evaporates, but before returning it to the racks it is as well to give it a fresh coat of enamel or distemper. For treating a cage in the birdroom, spirit of turpentine, with a drop or two of creosote or a small piece of camphor in it, is excellent, and the backs of the cages and ends of perches should be painted with this periodically.

The Importance of the Bath.

Nearly all birds require a bath daily in summer, so a supply of these is a necessity. If the bird is to bathe in its own cage, the wire bath which hooks on the cage in front of the door is preferable. Even while using these the cage is apt to get somewhat wet, so it is always best to give the bath as early in the day as possible to ensure both bird and cage being dry before roosting time.

If a bird does not come down into its bath within a reasonable time, it should be removed until next day. They will soon learn to avail themselves of the opportunity as soon as it is offered. Sometimes one comes across a case where the bird proves refractory and refuses to bathe, but, if it is put in a cage where another will show it an example, it will not usually refrain for long.

The keen exhibitor always uses rain water in his baths. For beautifying the plumage, bringing out its colours, and making the feathers fit tightly and carry a beautiful sheen, it is unsurpassed. The rain water should be collected and, if necessary, filtered through thin blotting paper rolled into the shape of a cone. Although this is a little trouble, yet the improvement in the plumage will be so evident that the birdkeeper will be amply compensated.

Those who live in towns or exhibit their birds frequently will soon find that the plumage has lost its richness of colouring and has become dull, and hand-washing becomes necessary. If the bird is intended for exhibition this is best done four or five days beforehand, as the plumage takes a few days to recover.

Hand Washing, and How to do It.

Hand-washing brings out to a remarkable degree the colouring of all birds, including the more sombre-hued species. The exhibitor should have plenty of practice, so as to carry it out expeditiously and well.

No special apparatus is required beyond a soft toothbrush or shaving brush, but a drying cage is very useful where numbers have to be dealt with. This type of cage ensures that the bird is dried in a moist heat, a very important point, but the same result can he obtained without special means by simply wrapping it in some absorbent material and putting in a warm place.

It is always best to have three or four bowls of warm water at hand. The bare elbow dipped into one is a very useful guide as to the degree of temperature, which should always be tested beforehand. The water should be soft, preferably hot rain water, but, where this is impossible, a little borax added to each of the basins will have to suffice. In the first basin a thick lather should be made, using a mild soap made from vegetable ingredients. The other basins are only for rinsing, and should contain nothing but water.

Before catching the bird, make quite sure that the hands are dry, or some of the feathers will be pulled out; in holding it, the head should be between the thumb and first finger, the latter pointing downwards towards its tail. There is no need to crush the bird, and it will be quite safe loosely held provided the feet are not allowed to touch the hand, and so give it a support by which it can push itself free.

Dip the hand holding the bird into the first basin, and immerse the whole of the body, leaving the head and neck free. With the toothbrush follow the direction of the feathers, paying special attention to the wings and tail. The head, which is done last, must have very careful brushing, and, again, do not forget to follow the line of the feathers. When the dirt has been thoroughly loosened, quickly transfer into the second basin, and with a small sponge rinse thoroughly. The other basin or basins are for subsequent washings to make quite sure that all the soap has been rinsed out. Squeeze the sponge until dry and use it to remove the superfluous water, and then quickly roll the bird in some absorbent material, leaving the head uncovered, and place it in a cage, which should be put at right angles to the fire, so that direct heat does not strike the bird. After a time the bird will emerge from its covering, which can he removed and the cage placed further away from the fire, but allowed to remain in the same room all night, all risk of chill being thereby prevented. For the next few days he liberal with seeds rich in oil, and the bird will emerge from its ordeal with all its original richness of colouring.

The Charm of a Pet Bird.

To many, I may say the majority of bird lovers, size, type, markings, and so on take a very secondary place, and tameness of disposition is the principal object desired. With certain species it is their power of talking that is the great attraction, and it is difficult to imagine a more desirable pet than a tame talking bird.

Unfortunately British birds do not lend themselves to this accomplishment, only a few, such as the Magpie and Jay, being able to articulate words with any degree of clearness, and the vocabulary even of these is as a rule very limited. Most of these British talkers are hand-reared birds, and I should strongly advise anyone who wishes to have his birds really tame to obtain them reared in this way, or to do it himself, but he should not himself attempt to hand-rear birds unless he is prepared to spend a very great deal of time and trouble and put himself to a certain amount of expense. Otherwise it is simply a waste of bird life, which could not be countenanced by any true aviculturist.

TWO "WEE GEMS."

The pretty little Border Fancy Canary is as often spoken of as the "Wee Gem" as by its proper title, and it well deserves the cognomen. The clear Yellow Cock at the top of our picture won 2nd prize at the show of the London and P.O.S. for Mr. F. Hutchinson, Poplar, and the other is the clear Buff Cock which won 3rd at the same show for Sergt. J. H. Joplin, Lee.

For the man with time at his disposal this is the ideal method; the birds become delightfully tame, and his interest in them is so much greater than if he had bought them at some bird shop, and simply put them in a cage. If he feels ambitious and wishes to try Mule and Hybrid breeding, these are the birds that will repay him for his trouble.

How to treat the Young Birds.

The best time to remove the young from the nest is when the quill feathers are beginning to shoot and the eyes to open, and I think it is only fair to their parents to limit very strictly the number taken away. It is in a matter like this that the real bird lover is distinguished from his more unfortunate brother who only collects birds. In no case ought more than half to be selected, and, although there is no rule for distinguishing the sexes, yet cock birds may usually be known by their darker colouring, brighter look, and fuller eye. With a certain amount of practice the beginner will soon be able to make a very shrewd guess, and will generally include one or more amongst his selection.

Where circumstances permit, it is wise to let the parents feed the young until they can fend for themselves, but, of course, their liberty must be curtailed. This is done by waiting until the parent bird has left the nest, and then very gently removing it to a small cage, which is placed on the old site. Great care must be taken not to damage the nest or surrounding twigs, and it is just as well not to be in the vicinity when the parent returns. While the birds are quite young the door is left open, but when they are ready to leave the nest it must be closed, feeding operations taking place through the wires.

At this stage do not forget to supply drinking water in the cage. The omitting to provide this necessity of life has given rise to the fairy tale that the parents poison the young confined in a cage. For Hardbills soaked seed with a little hard rape on top should he liberally supplied, and a little strewn on the bottom of the cage. The birds soon begin to pick up, and then they can be gradually weaned on to hard seed; at this stage the parents very soon lose interest in them.

Where this method is impracticable, the young should be removed from the nest just as it gets dark. At this time they will have been well fed for the night, and will require no attention until the following morning. They should be placed in an artificial nest in a basket and covered over. The inside of the nest should approximate as far as possible in size and nature of lining material to the original. A depression in a basket of hay, lined with moss and hair mixed, does very well for one type, and, where the nest is lined with mud, a hole cut in a turf and smoothed round with the thumbs is all that is required.

Some Important Points.

The basket should be placed in a quiet corner away from the light for the first week or so, and covered over with a cloth. When this is removed the young will usually gape, and feeding is then easy. There are two things especially to remember in hand-rearing birds; first of all, keep them warm; secondly, never overfeed. The only time the crops should be completely filled is the last feed at night.

The young birds require to be fed every two hours at first with food in a fairly liquid condition. The kind of food employed is described in the chapter on "The Feeding of Birds," but it must be freshly made each day, and the feeding utensil scalded with boiling water. The young of all species have very sensitive stomachs, and anything even slightly tainted is sure to disagree with them.

When the birds are on hard seed in the case of seed-eaters, and on adult food in that of Softbills, they should be constantly handled if tameness is the object aimed at. A hand-reared bird will very readily go on to a stick introduced into the cage, and from there on to the finger is only a step.

Let it be quite accustomed to taking titbits from the fingers, and, opening the door of the cage, tempt it to come down and get them. After a time it will fly to wherever the owner is to get the dainty

(To be continued.)

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. T. R. Wallace, 30, Daldene Avenue, Falkirk.

Newcastle's Awakening.

SIR,—Your North Country readers will be pleased to know that all is well with the original Newcastle Society. A new secretary has been appointed in Mr. F. W. Laidlow, who has worked well for the fancy, and who intends to work even more for the Society in the future. Several new members have joined and others are joining. We are running our show at very short notice on Oct. 21, the original date, and through the courtesy of the Mayor and Corporation it will be held in the Town Hall. The proceeds will be given to the Red Cross and St. John Ambulance funds. Hurrah for Newcastle!

T. C. CRAWHALL.

Another Society for Ashington.

SIR,—A few fanciers in Ashington desire to form another society, to have its headquarters in the East End Social Club, Hirst, and I have been asked to convene a meeting for the purpose of forming a society. The first meeting will be held in the above social club on Sept. 30, at 7, so will all fanciers interested in the above please attend. We also invite all fanciers who are affiliated members of social clubs outside of Ashington to attend or send their names along, as there will be no radius to this society. This society (if formed) will in no way interfere with the Ashington and Hirst C.B.S.

C. F. TAPSON.

The Patronage of the Southern Border F.C.

SIR,—After several protracted meetings it has been decided to abandon the patronage for the coming season. It is not without regret that the Committee have come to this decision, but after a deal of correspondence the Committee came to the conclusion that it would be in the best interests of the club that this course should be taken, as with so many of the members being with the forces it seemed very improbable that the support would be sufficient to warrant societies putting on the number of classes required.

We thank those societies who have applied for patronage, and can assure them that in coming to this decision we studied their interests as well as our own, and trust that when brighter days come they will again apply and be rewarded with bumper entries. It is impossible to write to all members, so will members please accept this, the only intimation. All subscriptions and other monies paid for 1916 will be carried to members' credit for 1917. Meetings will be occasionally held, notices of which will appear in CAGE BIRDS. It is hoped that all S.B.F.C. members, and, indeed, all "Wee Gem" fanciers, will support those societies who put on classes for our variety, and I trust the time is not far distant when we shall be able to start again with all the old enthusiasm.

GEO. BURTON, hon. sec.

The Affairs of the Southern Yorkshire Canary Club.

New Secretary Appointed.

SIR,—In response to Mr. R. L. Crisp's circular of Aug. 10, twenty-four voting papers were returned, and all were in favour of the present committee remaining in office, and all except two favoured competitions being abandoned during the coming season.

Mr. J. W. Rennie, to whom the club is deeply indebted for the important position it occupies in the fancy to-day, has been compelled to resign the secretaryship, owing to pressure of business and inability to devote the necessary time to the office. The satisfactory state of the club's finances reflect on him the greatest credit, and the thanks of the club are due to him for his work during the years he has officiated as secretary.

The members have elected me to fill the vacancy, and I take this opportunity of soliciting their support and assistance to further the interests of the club, so that when we come to an end of these troublous times the club may resume activities and carry out its programmes, as in past times, to the benefit of the fancy generally and the South of England breeders of the Yorkshire in particular.

The Committee would be glad if relatives or others would furnish me with the names of any members who are serving with His Majesty's forces.

P. JOHNSTON.

123, Ferme Park Road,
Stroud Green, N.

The Other End of the String.

SIR,—I notice in last week's issue of CAGE BIRDS there are queries as to how to sex mules by "G.A.R.," and Pekin Nightingales by "New Reader," and, with profound respects to Mr. Norman and Mr. Page, I should like to bring to their notice my method of sexing birds, which appeared in CAGE BIRDS of Aug. 26, and to respectfully ask if they will give it a trial and let readers know the result. I should be delighted to have their opinions on the matter.

J. K. WILLIAMS.

Another Reader Finds the Test Successful.

SIR,—In last week's issue Mr. Williams asks other readers to give their views about his method of sexing birds. I should like to make known the results of my experiments.

My first tests were with six Roller cocks, and afterwards with eight hens, and in each case the needle behaved exactly as described by Mr. Williams in his first letter, viz., across the coin for hens, and round and round for cocks. Not only with the birds did the method prove its reliability, for I next experimented with a young cat, young she kitten and sure enough in this case also the needle swung right across the coin in an unmistakeable manner.

I must confess to being very sceptical before I made these experiments, but I am now certain the method is infallible. Like Mr. Williams, I have wondered much what unseen cause directs the needle, and am hoping some scientific reader will solve the mystery.

R. S. YARHAM.

Colour in the Norwich Plainhead.

SIR,—I expect it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Frank Cole will look for my intrusion into this question of colour, and therefore there is no need for an apology.

There is also no need to reiterate what I have written respecting the Lizard, or to again pursue at length the merits of breeding the clear Plainhead, which always has been the ideal, and is yet so with breeders who aim for the highest standard of excellence.

Vigorously has my friend fought, and freely has he shed his green blood, gaining courage, and inspired by—what? It seems to be that with a variegated bird "you can get an easier win in a marked class, as the exhibits in such a class are generally smaller in number."

Thus, as with murder, things will out, and one can only regret that the grit which Adam left behind him has not been sufficient to go round. Nevertheless, as a fellow breeder, and an interested reader, I thank him for his effort, and patiently await his conversion to the ideal clear.

E. W. ALLSOPP.

Barrow and Sheffield Red Cross Shows.

A Reply to "A Sporting Proposition."

SIR,—I was surprised on opening my CAGE BIRDS this week to find a letter from Mr. McFarlane, the hon. sec. of Barrow C.B.S., referring to the report of our monthly meeting, which appeared in your issue of Sept. 16, which mentioned that two of our members were undertaking to sell 400 tickets each. Mr. McFarlane appears to take this announcement (to use a vulgar expression) as swank. I can assure you, Sir, that this was not announced with any such intention; it was merely mentioned to show the interest that our members are taking in the forthcoming show.

Personally I am very pleased to think that Barrow possesses so enthusiastic a member. Providing we accepted Mr. McFarlane's challenge how could the matter be proved as to the one individual personally selling the greater number of tickets? Why not issue a challenge when we have facts to work upon, say as follows: that we issue a schedule with a greater number of classes, provide a more valuable list of specials and prize money, have a larger entry, and, above all, hand over a larger amount of money? By these means we should then be able to prove which society should take the honour. These matters could all easily be proved, but I fail to see how such a scheme as Mr. McFarlane suggests could be.

J. A. T. WOODALL.

A Canary with One Wing.

SIR,—As a reader of CAGE BIRDS I should be very pleased to hear through your paper if it has been any fancier's luck to breed a Canary with one wing. The bird does not belong to me but my father, and he asked me if I would try to get to know. My father has had birds born with no toes, but never with one wing. It is quite healthy and is five weeks old.

W. CARTWRIGHT.

"Wake Up, Show Committees."

An Economic Problem.

SIR,—I cannot say that I agree with the tone of Mr. Craig's letter under the title: "Wake up, Show Committees," but I think that the last few lines of the letter are good advice, not only to Mr. Patterson, but to all of your readers. I consider that it is high time that we should be devising ways and means to make fanciers exhibit. I am afraid there is too much selfishness with most of our champion exhibitors, and you generally see they are men in a good position, with a good bit of ready cash. Now, until there is a scheme brought out that will entice the plodding poorer fancier to come out with his exhibits and have a fair chance of paying his way, I am afraid show committees will have a sorry time as far as making shows pay is concerned.

It is all very well for a man with an income of, say, from £2 10s. to £5 per week coming in, but what about the man with, say, from twenty-five to thirty-five shillings, and perhaps a family to rear besides the feeding of his birds, not to reckon the exhibiting of the same? A case in point I know to be a fact, as I happen to be the party, and I am writing this in the hope that someone placed in the same position as myself will come along with a letter to CAGE BIRDS and let the Fancy know that they are anxious to see their birds on the show bench, and will only be too pleased to show them if something can be done to make it easier to do so without bringing any harm to the comforts of the family circle.

As I consider the working classes the mainstay of a nation, I do the same as far as sport and recreation—the Fancy included—are concerned. At the same time I am sure that we could not get along without the men who are blessed with a good position in life. That being so, it is the duty of all to drop anything selfish that is about us and help to make life a pleasure.

I do not want your readers to run away with the idea that I think all the selfishness lies with the champions, but I am afraid few of them think of those that are yearning to have their birds out on the bench, but cannot do so because of the expense.

I am glad Mr. Patterson has broken the ice, as it were, as he seems to be thinking on these lines when he puts before you the letter re a collapsible cage. So come away, others; let us know your views on the matter; devise a way to make more fanciers exhibit, and there will be no need to ask committees to wake up. Not only will Mr. Smart, of the B.F.C.C., be overwhelmed with applications for patronage, but a few others as well.

Now for the case in point. I have at the present time thirty birds—Norwich Plainheads and Border Fancies, also a pair of Crests—and these require a quarter-stone of canary seed per week, costing 1s. 6½d. Then there are mixed seeds, bread and milk, gravel, etc., which we will say costs another sixpence. This works out at less than ¾d. per bird, but out of an income of £1 7s. per week there is not much left to bring up a family of four—ages ranging from one to thirteen years of age—not an easy thing to do in these times.

I can fancy I hear someone say: "That man should get strung up for being in the Fancy at all on such a small income." Well, all I can say in defence is that I took up the Fancy when I had no family, and it was easier then to live—as far as the bread of life is concerned—as goods of all kinds were cheaper then than now. Since the prices of goods got so high I have a few times been going to part with my birds, but it was like a soldier parting from his family to go to France to fight. It took a bit of doing, and, to make the parting harder, my wife would not let me. So you see a man that has a love for his birds can be loved by his partner in life in spite of lack of money. I have put this before you to ask if it is possible to exhibit under such circumstances, especially when railway companies are trying all they can to kill the Fancy. So now, Mr. Patterson, I know you have the welfare of the Fancy at heart, and the B.F.C.C. in particular, what is to be done? Perhaps, sir, you will allow me to couple the name of the Rev. Jolliffe, of Cardiff, along with Mr. Patterson's, as I believe, after reading his grand lecture, that he can help to solve the problem. I am afraid I shall be getting myself into trouble by taking up too much of your valuable space, but as I want to see the Fancy and CAGE BIRDS, our paper, going ahead by leaps, I crave your forbearance with me this time, as I think this a vital question.

T. R. WALLACE.

A Novice's Successful Start.

SIR,—As a novice reader of CAGE BIRD. (this having been my first year), I was interested in the letter of W. Gilbert in your issue of Sept. 16, in which he says he has reared 29 youngsters from ten pairs of Yorkshires. From one pair of Yorkshires I have brought up eleven birds; two out of four from nest No. 1, four from nest No. 2, and five from the third nest, and "all going strong" I desire to state that I got most of my information from that valuable little book, "Canary Breeding for Beginners," and advise every novice not to be without it.

R. V. JOHNSON.

Greetings from a Famous Crest Breeder Now in South Africa.

SIR,—Having now been in South Africa 16 months, I thought I would like to write you a few lines which I feel quite sure you will be glad to receive. Although being so far away, I do not forget the bird Fancy, which has passed so many pleasant hours for me. I am just as keen on Crests as ever, and hope, if spared to return, to go in for them stronger than ever. I have seen a good many ups and downs since visiting Africa, having visited and worked in two gold mines on the Rand; also at Whaling station for some little time, but, although I did very well, I found the life very rough and harder than I had ever been used to; so, after a few months I gave it up and travelled back to the beautiful town of Durban, where I have now been for about 9 months. All being well, I intend stopping for another twelve months and then return to the Old Country. I have made several birdy friends in Johannesburg and in Durban, and have found many a real good fancier amongst them. I visited the Durban and Coast Cage Bird show, which took place on the 6th and 7th July, and there were a real fine lot of Norwich and Yorkshires there, and I at once started to write out a prize list to send to you. I have also sent you a catalogue of the Rand Cage Bird Show which took place July 15, I might mention that some of these fanciers have just as good birds as I have ever seen in the old country, and the Fancy is gradually getting stronger.

G. M. DAVEY.

[The prize lists of the two shows mentioned will be published in next week's issue. We thank Mr. Davey for his kind recollection of CAGE BIRDS while so far away, and we hope after his return to have the pleasure of chronicling many of his successes, as in past times.—ED. CAGE BIRDS.]

Appreciation from an Old Reader.

The Value of a "Cage Birds" "Tip."

SIR,—I was very interested in the remarks of the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe in a recent issue on the value of CAGE BIRDS to us all, whether as private bird-lovers or as traders. I don't know if we quite realise what it would mean should it have had to cease publication in these troublous times. I for one should not care to be without my copy on Fridays.

At its new price the paper has been better than ever—useful, varied, and interesting. The delightful articles by Miss Hamilton, "Philornis," Mr. Teschemaker, "J.W.N." (whose "Essentials of Aviculture" deserves re-issuing, surely), have been of a high order indeed, and must have charmed many readers. The Correspondence columns, too, have proved a veritable gold-mine of practical experiences, as I hoped they would, when I suggested widening their scope some months ago, and the novice cannot help benefiting by it.

I have my brother's business to look after as well as my own "quill-pushing," as he has been called up, so I am not keeping many birds just now, and, being one of the "rejected," I am devoting my spare time arranging concerts for soldiers. I have a big attic standing empty, though, and am looking forward to Peace, when I can launch out and use it up properly for my birds.

I am sorry to say that I lost one of my two pet Starlings last week. I got him as a nestling, and for four and a half years he had been a constant delight to our home with his cheery whistle and quaint mannerisms. He occasionally suffered from fits, which I usually cured by a minute dose bromide of potassium mixed with some sugar of milk (an old CAGE BIRDS' tip, by the way), but they told on his system, and one morning, though his eye was as bright as ever, the next minute he was gone, and we were the poorer for the loss of a feathered friend. Fortunately, I have my older Starling still with me, until I get another softbill.

The above cure for fits is a very reliable one, but a good dose of Glauber salts must be given the next day, as the poison makes the bird look as if he was "two sheets in the wind." I wish CAGE BIRDS continued success.

DAN MCARTHUR.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 574.)

"A Gentle Hint."

Sir,—Allow me to thank Mr. Groom for his "Gentle Hint." I can imagine that readers of my letter may have misunderstood it. What I complained of was that the successful Mule breeders invariably start in this way: "Having got your birds in condition, etc.," and in my opinion this is where the success or secret lies. Mr. Groom has been the first to come forward, and it has pleased me to see he was awarded the prize, as he has gone over a good deal to assist those like myself. May it be the means of getting a few others to tell us how to condition. Wm. Tucker.

[A letter from the well-known exhibitor, Mr. F. Archer (Messrs. Martin and Archer) was also in hand, but unavoidably held over. This interesting communication is now published below.—Editor Cage Birds.]

A Reply from a Champion Exhibitor of Hybrids.

Sir,—Kindly permit me through your valuable paper to reply to Mr. Tucker and his "gentle hint." Mr. Tucker says, "It is useless telling us the old tale to buy the birds and put them together, and so-and-so will result." This portion of his letter has somewhat aroused me, for I myself have written a few times for our valuable paper, Cage Birds, and I had not the slightest idea I was writing "fairy tales." I have been trying for nine long years to get some decent Hybrids, and at last have succeeded, so if Mr. Tucker wants some solid chunks as to how to get along I will try and tell him. I might also say that any information I have given in the past or am giving now has been given in the best of spirit, for it behoves all fanciers to help one another by their hints, which hints also will help the novice.

Therefore I will proceed to describe the successful breeding of Greenfinch-Goldfinch Hybrids at Huddersfield, and how I achieved the success. The Hybrids have been bred in an outside aviary some eight yards long and four yards wide. In it are three trees which are covered over with small mesh wire netting. In this aviary I put three pairs of birds, namely, Greenfinch, Linnet and Redpoll cocks, hen Goldfinch, and two Bullfinch hens. These birds were put into the aviary at the latter end of April. I gave them the best mixed seed I could get, and threw in as much green food as I could find. As time went on I noticed continuous calling by the Greenfinch to the Goldfinch. Thinks I, these birds are showing signs of pairing, so I gathered some feathers, moss, and some hay, and placed it in a corner for their use. About the beginning of June I noticed the Goldfinch hen carrying nesting material about, and the Greenfinch helping her. A nice nest was made in one of the trees and four eggs were laid. These were never disturbed by me; I gave the birds their food, and walked quietly away, thinking it a wise plan to let nature have its own way. The four eggs all proved fertile, but unfortunately one of the young died in the shell; three were duly hatched out.

I owe a debt of gratitude to the Greenfinch for the magnificent way in which he fed the young, for he was constantly on the go to and from the nest. I lost one of the three by its over-reaching for food. This bird I found one morning about a yard away from the nest, but I have at the time of writing two good Hybrids just in moult. When the young were in the nest I made some egg-food from fresh-laid eggs and mixed with it a little softbill food, which I found made a suitable diet for the young. The Goldfinch sat as keen as if she was away in the woods, and the Greenfinch took his place on a twig by the nest, evidently waiting the time of hatching. Now, Mr. Tucker, is this a fairy tale, or does it contain any hints or methods to interest you? I am, like yourself, a "for ever tryer," and my success has come at last, but it is experience that has taught me, in addition to perseverance.

I have for a long time had the opinion that the Greenfinch was a remarkable bird. In my last article in Cage Birds I said so, and now that I have proved its success as a hybrid breeder I am more sure. It does me no good rushing into print, but it is experience from fanciers the novice seeks, and I have always advocated that the novice ought to be encouraged. I do not know Mr. Tucker or Mr. Litchfield, but either of them would be welcome here, and I should be very pleased to give them any information they wanted, so far as I am able.

As for getting the Goldfinch and Linnet into condition for Mule breeding, this is a matter that cannot be rushed. Yet if the birds are healthy to begin with, and they have careful feeding with the best of seeds, such as dandelion, thistle, shepherd's purse, maw, teazle, etc., I see no reason why they will not come into condition themselves. Proper preparations have always to be made for Canary breeding and British birds must be catered for in the same way, but as near to nature's supply as one can get.

One can easily tell whether the Goldfinch is in breeding form or otherwise. When in breeding condition his beak will be about clear, his song will be continuous, and the switching of his tail will tell you he is ready. The same remarks apply to the Linnet, only his beak will be slate coloured, and his movements and his song will be lasting. The time to prepare the birds for breeding is at least six weeks beforehand. If by such treatment as advised they are not then ready, then the birds cannot be in a healthy state. I have had fertile eggs on two occasions from the Greenfinch-Bullfinch cross, but hen Bullfinches I have proved are unreliable as feeders, therefore I lost the young. Do not overcrowd your aviary; one will do better by putting in, say, half-a-dozen birds, three of each sex. In conclusion, don't despair, and if at first you don't succeed, disappointing though it may be, try again.

If either Mr. Tucker or Mr. Litchfield derive benefit from the few notes I have written, then it will have given me a pleasure, and if others who can would help by their experience, then our hobby would be further encouraged. Wishing our valuable paper Cage Birds the success it rightly deserves.

Fred Archer.

The Songster of the Night.

Sir,—Before you closure the above correspondence let me sincerely thank Mr. W. E. Teschemaker for his lengthy and valuable reply to my article. If only bird lovers would take the tips there so plainly put for their information they would save themselves much expense and many failures. The old proverb says: "Experience keeps a good school, but it is a very dear one," and the pity is most of mankind will learn in no other. The valuable information spread broadcast by Cage Birds weekly is not valued by the hosts of bird keepers at its true worth, because they can have it for twopence weekly. Anything the people get for next to nothing is not valued, so by next year or much sooner these birdy wrinkles may be in oblivion.

Mr. Teschemaker's experiences of the effects of live ant cocoons are identical with mine, and he is in perfect agreement with me on most other points. I am very pleased my letters have been of value to Mr. Mcek, and with your permission, sir, I will gladly answer any further questions. There are very many other birdy puzzles that I have come across, but I must defer them to the future.

Fred Bent.

Flies as a Substitute for Mealworms.

Sir,—I am very much interested in the above, and I think Mr. Bent's letter is just extra, also Mr. Teschemaker's, but I also think the latter is in error when he says ants' eggs are harmful. The fact that the Lapland Buntings died proves nothing. Mr. Teschemaker says they were stuffed full of ants' eggs. In my opinion the case is on a parallel with that of a child who dies in convulsions after eating a beef steak or an over supply of ice cream. We do not say either beef steak or ice cream are harmful. Tons of ants' eggs are consumed daily, and very likely will be to the end of time. Mr. Teschemaker asks: "Who has seen a Nightingale breaking into an ants' nest, and how would the bird perform such a feat?" I might also ask who has seen a Goldfinch hunt through the woods in search of ants' eggs, yet I have seen one live on a few ants' eggs daily for over eight years. Who has seen a Sunbird come from its native wilds to look for a tin of condensed milk? Yet I have moulted one for its seventh time, and it had condensed milk every day. I could give many more examples which only point to the fact that we cannot feed our birds on their natural food so we must just cater for them to the best of our ability and find suhstitutes for what they feed on in their wild state. There is another important matter to Softbill keepers I would like to say a few words about, viz.: The scarcity of mealworms. I don't know how others are doing without them, but I will tell you how I manage. Get a quantity of maggots from a butcher or dealer. Clean them in the ordinary way in sawdust or sand for two days, then feed the birds with them. In this hot weather they will turn very quickly into flies. When they get to this stage, I put the lot into a tin box, and tie the lid down, then I pierce a small hole in the lid, just the size to let a fly out, and put a wooden plug in the hole. When you want to give the birds a feed, remove the plug and with a small pair of forceps, catch hold of the flies as they come out, and give them to the birds; you can feed a dozen Softbills in a few minutes; no smell, no trouble, and very little expense. I have not had any mealworms for four months, and my birds are in the pink. This is how I save ten shillings a month in the feeding bill; necessity is the mother of invention.

I am very pleased to see that at least a few champions of the greatest of all our birds are still to be found, but I am afraid the few are getting fewer, and why? Because the treatment meted out to Nightingales on the show bench is a disgrace to aviculture. They are made to stand down and make room for such as Waxwings, Bearded Tits, Thrushes, etc.; in fact, I think almost anything will beat a Nightingale under 90 per cent. of our judges, who are mostly Canary fanciers, and know very little, if anything, about Softbills.

I have been a Softbill fancier for 25 years, and have travelled the shows both in Scotland and England, and how many times have I seen a Nightingale with a first prize? Three! What a percentage out of, perhaps, a hundred birds, and this is our king of songsters, an aristocrat from tip to toe.

It is not entirely the fault of the judges either; the classes for Softbills are stuck on to the tail end of a Canary show, and if the judge refuses to take them he will lose his engagement. The fault, therefore, lies principally with societies who are afraid to venture a trifle on a specialist judge or an extra class or two which would turn a failure into a success. The British and foreign sections of a show are undoubtedly the great attraction. Visitors do not go to look at hundreds of Canaries, all more or less alike; not they, they go to see something they have never seen before, something out of the common, something to talk about to their friends; and these friends talk to other friends, and the result is a bumping gate, for they must all come and see the greatest of all our British birds, "The Nightingale." C. S. Montague.

A Second Time on Earth.

An Old Lover of Lancashires, Lizards, and Cinnamons Wants to Know What Has Happened to Them.

Sir,—Many years ago—in the days when a poultry paper was the only journal for bird fanciers—I was an enthusiastic devotee of the delightful hobby of bird keeping. Since then, with one brief interlude, I had lost all touch with the fancy, but, being desirous of plunging again into the fascinating stream of Canary and Mule breeding, I took in Cage Birds, and being, as it were, a kind of Rip Van Winkle, I have tried to take stock of the changes that have taken place.

The two that strike me most are, first, the boon to fanciers in having so excellent a journal as Cage Birds entirely devoted to their hobby; second, the fact that the Yorkshire and Norwich breeds appear to have almost monopolised the taste of bird lovers. I have read through the last few issues of your paper for some signs of the Lancashire, Lizard, or Cinnamon varieties, but I have not found an article, or a query, or a letter, or an advertisement relating to these three lovely and distinctive breeds.

I realise that the present moment is a bad criterion of the position of the fancy, both owing to the war and also to its being the moulting season, but it would be a thousand pities if any of these beautiful varieties of Canaries were to lose favour with fanciers. The maintenance of a breed requires not only the few expert specialists who breed exhibition specimens, but the many smaller fanciers who compose the rank and file of the hobby.

May I express the hope that the leading lights in the Lancashire, Lizard, and Cinnamon varieties will use all their exertions to keep these beautiful varieties popular, and that you, sir, will not forget to provide enlightening articles and illustrations. Remember that, to the outside world, it is the distinctive qualities of such breeds as the Lancashire, with its exceptional size, the Lizard, with its unique markings, and the Cinnamon, with its wonderful colour, that make the art of bird keeping something more than the breeding of yellow Canaries.

I may be mistaken in thinking that these breeds have lost favour, but I certainly find myself at a loss to know how to best obtain a few good pairs of the above varieties. Anticipating your retort, Mr. Editor, I am inserting a "want" advertisement in your columns.

H. Garland-Wells.

Keep the Flag Flying.

A Reply to a "Friendly Challenge."

Sir,—I am pleased to know that Mr. J. Patterson believes in banging the drum for the Border F.C.C., and hope the members will appreciate his efforts by exhibiting in larger numbers than on the occasion I referred to in my previous letter. Surely the attraction of his very handsome three guinea cup will do the trick. In answering his plaintive cry for help, I may say that I held no brief whatever for myself. I merely gave my reasons for his disappointment re enquiries for patronage, and suggested he should find a remedy, knowing that to cure a disease you ought to treat the cause.

I am not interested in Borders, except from a show point of view, and my remarks were not exclusively addressed to his club. Yorkshires are my hobby, and that I am sincere on the subject is evidenced by the fact that I am giving this year a ten guinea trophy, and, in order to stimulate competition, a second trophy will be given by me for exhibitors outside Yorkshire, with a gold medal for the winner, and a silver and bronze medal for the 2nd and 3rd respectively.

I never shirk a challenge if it applies to my variety, or even any other, if it is for the benefit of exhibitors at the Sheffield O.S. Open Show, but Mr. Patterson's suggestion is all on his own side, and, therefore, selfish. However, I will show him that I am not afraid to meet him half way. If our Society gives a similar classification to that of last year, and same judges, and Mr. Patterson guarantees the classes to fill, in order to pay full prize-money without any loss to us, I will give a cup, of the same value as he has given, in lieu of special prizes, to be competed for as my challenger wishes. If accepted a wire will oblige, as our schedule is being completed in a few days. Lest my offer should not be considered genuine, I enclose you, Mr. Editor, a cheque for above amount to hold until my offer, if accepted, is carried out.

W. Craig.

2, Norfolk Road, Sheffield.

We have received from Dr. Craig a cheque for £3 3s., as stated.—Editor, Cage Birds.

The Clashing of Show Dates.

An Invitation to Welsh Secretaries.

Sir,—I quite agree with the remarks made by Mr. W. D. Lewis, sec. Pontypool C.B.S., in Cage Birds of last week, and I consider that it would be in the best interests of all societies in Wales to meet in January or February each year and arrange their show dates.

Supposing that a sub-committee of, say, three members from each society met at Cardiff once in each year to discuss show business. I feel certain that such co-operation would bring nothing but good results to the Fancy generally.

Apart from the clashing of show dates—a very serious thing indeed for any society with no bank balance—there are many things in connection with the working of a successful show that might be discussed with advantage to the smaller societies who often go under because they have no one with any show experience to guide them in their classification, printing, advertising, and general arrangements, etc.

On behalf of the Cardiff C.B.S., and also as chairman of the Welsh National C.B.S., I extend to all secretaries in Wales a cordial invitation to meet at Cardiff Show, at the Cory Hall, on Nov. 29 and 30. A preliminary meeting could be held and arrangements made for the first annual meeting next year. I am sure that the expense of the journey to Cardiff would be more than repaid by the experience they would gain from our worthy sec., Mr. E. Thomas, whose reputation as a show manager is so well known throughout the country.

I should like to put Mr. Lewis right on one point mentioned in his letter, viz., that the Cardiff C.B.S. "has not yet decided to run an open show." It was unanimously decided at the general meeting last March to "carry on"—in spite of the fact that nearly half our members were "doing their bit" somewhere at the front, and our show dates were fixed for Friday, Saturday, and Monday, Nov. 17, 18, and 20, and judges engaged, but, the Carlton Hotel having turned our hall into a large billiard saloon, all our arrangements have been upset, and we have been compelled to find another hall and fix our dates accordingly.

In this instance we do not, I think, clash with any Welsh show, but Nov. 29 and 30 being the only dates available, the clashing with Southampton is really unavoidable, and we sincerely hope that neither society will suffer much in consequence.

E. J. Banks.

(Several interesting letters held over.)

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from "POULTRY WORLD," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

THE PROS AND CONS OF IN-BREEDING.

Some further expressions of opinion from experienced breeders.

(Continued from page 560.)

A Hint to Old Exhibitors.

SIR,—They say where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise. I must say I am ignorant of the fact that Mr. House ever bred or moulted a winner in his life, and Mr. House saying he has won't convince me. I challenge him to prove it; the testimony I shall require will be that of a reliable fancier that will speak of what he has seen, not that which he has not. I want no better corroboration of my statement that most books are written on the theory of breeding than Mr. House's admission of the few things he has dabbled in, and on which he claims to be an authority. One can draw one's own conclusions as to the practical experience of any of them, if we except cats. I know he has devoted many years to these, and spent a lot of time with them, but then this is a most fascinating hobby for a man. Mr. House gives us several gentlemen's names; most of these exhibitors are known to me personally; fanciers every one, and I am sure it would be most interesting to the readers of your valuable journal, and especially so to your humble, if any of these gentlemen will give us their experience with inbreeding, how far they went, and the result.

J. BASTOCK.

An Unpleasant Experience.

SIR,—I am only a working man, keeping a few birds for a hobby, and never missing CAGE BIRDS, and I have been greatly interested in the correspondence concerning inbreeding. I have had a cock Roller running with his mother and sister this season. The mother has hatched four nests of five each and reared them well on hard seed, and the sister has reared three nests of four, making 32 young birds, which I got on to seed. I am sorry to say, however, that I have lost eleven of them in the moult from no apparent cause: they simply drooped away and died. This is my first and last attempt at inbreeding, as I have never lost so many before. It was only through the extra cost of living and heavy private expenses that I did not buy another cock last autumn, and as I saw inbreeding recommended if the stock was healthy I tried it, but never again. Wishing CAGE BIRDS the best of luck.

C. S.

Eight Years of Inbreeding.

SIR,—I have been very interested in the discussion on inbreeding, though I must own to being perfectly ignorant on the subject, except for what I have read in CAGE BIRDS just lately, and some time back, when White Canaries and Mendelism were to the fore; but I suppose I am right in the conjecture that for the eight years I have kept Canaries they have been indiscriminately inbred, as I purchased but one cock and two sister hens, and through the whole time I have bought no more. These were, I suppose, the common Rollers of quite a pale colour; the hens not very strong, and the cock three years old, strong, and a good singer.

I think it was the third year when my stock began to show a lovely yellow colour, just that yellow a sunflower petal is, and I got my first all-green ones. There were also some very much to my liking—yellow, with just a black cap. These I never parted with, as I wanted to try and fix that type. My birds were always strong and healthy and fine singers, with a long, clear, sweet roll. I was never troubled with red mite and used nothing but paraffin as a preventive.

When I had to part with most of my birds last September, owing to the Housing Committee condemning and closing the cottages, I had two at nest, which I kept. One deserted as soon as there was no cock to feed her, and the other, a small and delicate one, brought up three—a dark cock and two pale hens. From these I have had about sixteen this year; eight of these I lost just as they were coming on to seed, owing to the hen nesting again, or because of my not understanding breeding in cages very well. The ones that died were mostly clears; the others are a fine bright yellow where the feathers are yellow, but I noticed that although the father was a very sweet singer, he had lost the roll. I am wondering if he will regain it next year, should he live, or if the young ones will have it. Is the roll altogether an artificial note only taught from example, and not transmitted?

(Mrs.) E. M. SARGEANT.

An Out and Out Believer in the System.

SIR,—As Mr. House has mentioned my name in your valuable paper as an inbreeder, I thought I would have a few words on the subject. I have been a breeder and exhibitor of the Norwich Canary for over 40 years, and never in my career have my birds been more closely related than now. I am a thorough believer in the system, of course, providing the birds are right to start with. In my early days I visited shows, bought winning birds, and used to pair up on face value. I certainly did breed some winners then, but nothing like the quantity until I began inbreeding, which is some years since. What my birds are now I don't care to boast about, but this I know, the judges always see them when I put them down.

Now take the case of Mr. W. Vardy, a man whom I have known as a personal friend for many years, and whose strain of birds I am fully conversant with. He is a confirmed pedigree breeder, whose birds have for the last 15 years been sought after by nearly every noted breeder in the country, and whose stock to-day will bear comparison for pure Norwich type and colour with any stock in the fancy. It is true that sometimes he has to go afield to keep up size, yet as sure as eggs, after the first cross they are inbred with the old strain again. To hear him run over the pedigree of his birds, which he does to me very often—"Grandfather to that, half brother to that out of a cousin to that from an own sister to that out of an aunt to that got by its own cousin," etc., and when he has gone on like that for a quarter of an hour, giving you the strain for 10 or 12 years back, all without a book, you begin to feel your roof rising, and wonder at the capacity of the man.

EDWARD FOX.

Long Eaton.

Brains, Munition, Money.

SIR,—Having read with interest the letters on inbreeding in the columns of CAGE BIRDS, I beg leave to express my opinion on the subject of producing exhibition birds. First of all, I would state that I am no advocate of pedigree breeding to the extent that some readers are, its only purpose being that you may know how far you are inbreeding your stock. I am inclined to think, like Mr. Crisp, that breeding from sight value is more reliable. Any fancier can produce exhibition stock providing, first of all, that he has the brains; secondly, the munition; and, thirdly, the money.

Unless a man uses his brain when mating his stock he has no chance of scientifically producing the "it" for exhibition. Mating a yellow cock Yorkshire, for instance, to a buff hen, requires skill in selection, and that skill in selection is the result of a prepossessed ideal framed in the mind of the breeder. It would be a calamity to mate two undersized birds, for though they may possess the texture and the shape admired, the progeny on the bench may be put back as being too small. They may also be lacking in colour, and the fancier is as far back as at the commencement, for the reason that an exhibition bird is essentially a bird of colour.

The natural, as well as the scientific step, therefore, in order to produce colour, is double-yellowing; but what earthly good is double-yellowing unless brain is exercised in selecting the "munition"? Double-yellowing has a tendency to produce length and thinness of feather, and also of producing stock too narrow, hollow, and out of balance, with one or two good properties remaining in the produce. Of course, it is quite possible to produce a serviceable bird in this way, but brain must be the chief factor in selecting the birds suitable for such mating.

It is obvious, also, that size must be the first consideration, and in my opinion two birds approaching the character of buffs should be used, and they should of necessity possess short marble-like feather in order, as far as possible, to produce short-feathered youngsters. It is said, and I have proved it, that you will occasionally get a buff (invariably a hen) from two yellows, and usually of extra quality of feather. The obvious comes in again, and that is, if you have selected large birds for breeding, you have a reasonable expectancy of getting a large youngster or two.

Now, having proved that brain is essential to success, I would advise everyone to keep a buff hen bred from two yellows, providing she has size, waist, quality of feather, and a long tail. One of our biggest breeders, I think, has said that this is his method of producing colour and quality of feather. This hen, suitably mated, should produce for its owner exhibition specimens another year.

Secondly, "munition" comes in; in other words, material or stock. It is impossible for a man who does not use his brain to acquire the correct "munition." For instance, supposing a bird is advertised: "Grand bird, a champion, etc.," and a breeder gets it on approval. Unless he has some ideal in his mind, he has no reasonable chance of finding out whether the bird is worth the money, or whether it is likely to improve his stock. He must have an idea as to what is lacking in his best birds before he is able to say whether the bird is the right one for him to buy. There is no reason nowadays, however, for anyone to be lacking in real good "munitions" when we consider the fine drawings made by Mr. Norman and reproduced in CAGE BIRDS from time to time.

Thirdly, money. It is quite easy to understand how some exhibitors possess good birds. It is not always because they have the brain, or munitions, but because they have the money to buy a ready-made article. The average fancier, of course, is a working man, and it is therefore a great credit to him when he produces the "it" for exhibition. He may be able to exercise his mind and may have fairly good material, but here is his plight. He is not able to produce a five-pounder every season, because he has not always the money to equip himself with the ideal "munition" for breeding; therefore, his progress is very slow.

It is evident that brains and practical experience play a very prominent part with the working man when he is able to produce exhibition specimens, and it is only natural to conclude that of brains, munition, and money, the greatest of all is brains.

J. KERSHAW.

IN-BREEDING:

WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT IT DOES.

A Treatise of the Greatest Interest to all Breeders of Live Stock.

BY

C. A. HOUSE.

Price tenpence, post free, from The Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A REPLY TO MR. TESCHEMAKER.

SIR,—As you have once more permitted Mr. Teschemaker to again throw his jibes and cheap sneers at me, perhaps you will kindly allow me to answer some of his remarks, giving my letter an equally conspicuous position in CAGE BIRDS. May I once more emphasize the fact that although I tried to treat Mr. Teschemaker courteously, he has continued through three years and a half to foster his rancour because I, as an Editor, objected to the abreviations of birds' names, such a 'gale, etc., in 1913; and after three and a half years, his smouldering volcano erupted in the form of an abusive letter of personalities without any provocation on my part, an eruption the ashes of which apparently contained a fair proportion of envy and jealousy, otherwise why this raging against my being a country squire and possessing a moated house? So that I am amused at his professing magnanimity of spirit when he writes that he decided to meet me half-way and lay aside his pen.

It was I who through those years endeavoured to do more than meet him half way, and if the letter he wrote some weeks ago, which you, sir, published, was a half way affair, what would be the "whole way?" It was he who, on several occasions, refused to let dead dogs lie buried, but dug them up in the form of sneering references to my objection to the abreviations, to which I paid no attention.

I cannot waste too much time over answering Mr. Teschemaker, but there is one other part of his tirade which I think should be corrected and very emphatically contradicted. He wrote: "I notice that Mr. Astley appends the scientific name of Phœnicurus titys to the Blackstart (sic). No doubt he has seen this in some standard book, but he does not seem to be aware that those who desire to be accurate cannot possibly use the name. In the first place 'titys' is neither Greek nor Latin, nor has it any meaning whatsoever."

Now may I ask readers of CAGE BIRDS to mark well these words from one who has boasted that he is an ex-schoolmaster, [twitting me with ignorance,] although what there is to boast of I do not understand. He selects Morris as having written the most popular standard book on British birds, but he quite ignores such authors (and their books) as Dresser, "Birds of Europe"; Yarrell, Gould, Seebohm, Lord Lilford, etc., and also the latest work, entitled "List of British Birds, 1915, compiled by a committee of the British Ornithological Union;" and all these eminent ornithologists call the bird in question "The Black Redstart," and furthermore give its specific name of titys, i.e., either Ruticilla titys, or Phœnicura titys.

Mr. Teschemaker wishes to teach your readers that "titys" has no meaning whatever, and is neither Greek nor Latin. Allow me to inform him that it is a Greek word, spelt "titis"; and means a small chirping bird, and is probably cognate with the first syllable of Titmouse and Titlark.

Scopoli took his specific name from Linnœus, who spelt the word with a "y," that is "titys," as did Gesner; but the best classical authorities (Stephanus, etc.) consider "titis" with an "i" to be right, since it is a Greek word with the above-mentioned meaning.

Mr. Teschemaker, in his attempts to browbeat me, tries to draw red herrings across the track, by striving to divert your readers from the real issue. Even Morris, in his "British Birds," which is what might be styled a "popular work," entitles the bird (in addition to Blackstart) "Black Redstart," and "Black Redtail," and furthermore, a fact which Mr. Teschemaker took care not to mention in citing Morris as the great authority, calls it Phœnicura (or Sylvia) tithys, which is synonymous with "titys" and "titis," using the self same specific title which Mr. Teschemaker laughs at me for doing. Morris evidently did not know the meaning or derivation of "Tithys," and Mr. Teschemaker, having apparently trusted to him, is also ignorant of it. So Morris is not so dependable as Mr. Teschemaker would have us believe, and I might add that the latter is not so dependable as he himself would wish us to think.

The following standard works all make use of "The Black Redstart" as the heading to the chapter on that bird, and also give tithys (titys) as it's specific name. None of them call it "Blackstart." Gould, "Birds of Europe;" Dresser, "Birds of Europe;" Yarrell, "British Birds;" Lord Lilford, "Birds of the British Isles," "Birds of Northamptonshire;" Thorburn, "British Birds;" Harting, "Handbook of British Birds;" "The British Bird Book," edited by F. B. Kirkman; contributors, J. L. Bonhote, W. P. Pycraft, Edmund Selous, Miss E. L. Turner, etc., and the Editor; Seebohm, "British Birds and Eggs;" MacGillivray, "History of British Birds." (N.B.—This eminent ornithologist, in addition to calling the bird "The Black Redstart," also entitles it "Black Redtail.")

One is aware that the name of "titys" was in the first instance erroneously used, and in "A Hand-List of British Birds," by Hartert, Jourdain, etc., the scientific name for the Black Redstart is, I believe, Phœnicurus ochrurus gibraltariensis [what a mouthful!], but it is a recognised rule that the name that has been first given should, if possible, be adhered to. For instance, in the case of the Hooded Golden-shouldered Parrakeet, which was called Psephotus cucullatus—i.e., hooded, this name was ruled out, because "dissimilis" was first "at the post," the latter signifying that the bird differed from the other species of Golden-shouldered Parrakeet, although the specific name was not nearly so appropriate as "cucullatus."

Even Hartert, who apparently delights in jaw-breaking trinomials, writes of "The time-honoured name titys."

After that, I think I may let the curtain drop on Mr. Teschemaker's teaching, and smile at his personal sneers, which latter are usually signs of failure in reasonable argument.

HUBERT DELAVAL ASTLEY.

[The above was unavoidably held over from last week's issue.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

"PIGEONS"

The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.

Coloured Plates a Special Feature. The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,

"FUR & FEATHER"

The only Paper devoted to these subjects. Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.

Offices: Idle, Bradford, Yorks

HOW TO START CANARY BREEDING.

WITH SOME NOTES on the NORWICH CANARY

A lecture given by Mr. H. BELL before the members of the London and Counties A.C.B., September 2.

As near as I can remember it is about 38 years since I started in the fancy, and of all my breeding seasons the last has been the worst. Nine young ones only as the result of mating 21 pairs would seem almost enough to make one give up the hobby of Canary breeding, but I know that many other breeders have also had a bad season, and I shall be interested to find out what has been wrong. I have about 12 cocks, and would not wish for any better, and I believe in my case it has been the fault of the hens, for I had nine fresh hens in starting to breed for this season, and not a single young bird did I get from any of them.

Too Much of a Good Thing.

I am prepared to take some part of the blame, for I think I gave them too much green stuff at the start, and upset the hens from the beginning. I have now three young ones just coming out of the nest. These have been reared on egg bread, a little of Spratts' plain canary food, and some cod liver oil food.

As green food I have grown some rape seedlings till about 2 ins. high, and that is all the green food they have had, and I could not wish to see three better-fed young ones. During warm weather the rape seed will grow very quickly, and I intend to give it a good trial. Next breeding season I shall sow some every week. Through the breeding season I cut a little bit off and laid it at the bottom of the cage, and in a very short time it all disappeared. The old birds seem very fond of it, and the young thrive on it.

The working man is the mainstay of the fancy, and the few words I have to say will be, therefore, for the working man who may be wishing to start in the Canary breeding fancy. Some may say that they fear to make a start, as they have no accommodation for the birds and cannot spare the money. It is for these people with no room and with no money to spare that I have these few words to say, for I might go so far as to say that any odd corner will do for the keeping of a few birds. Before now I have had a stack of nine cages in the scullery. One season I reared thirteen young from one hen in this place, and I never remember rearing so many young from any other hen in my experience.

A Beginner's Luck.

In the way of a lucky start I will tell you an occurrence which has happened this season. I had two old spare cocks, one of which I had nearly sold for £2 in its first season, and I had kept this bird for two years without being able to get a single young one from him. A friend of mine came to see me, and I told him to take the two old cocks out of my way. He accepted the offer, took the birds home, and asked me to buy him a hen. This I did, and he paired her to one of the old cock birds, got three young from the first nest, five from the second, and she is now rearing one young bird from the third nest. That is nine young ones altogether from the old cock bird which had refused altogether to breed with me.

Do not think because I am telling you of this cheap method of making a start it is the best way. By all means give the birds a spare room if possible, and one that will get the morning sun. In such a room the old birds will be off their nests and feeding their young ones early in the morning, while if the room is a dull and dark one they may sit for hours before they will come off to feed, and good feeding as soon as the young birds are hatched is three parts of the battle.

If possible, also, make an effort to start with a good stack of cages. What I call a good stack to start with is one of nine cages. I have myself two stacks of nine, two stacks of three, and a few odd box cages. If the cages are made in stacks of three they are easy to move about. I put a pair into each end cage and leave the middle cage empty ready for the young ones from both pairs.

I have sliding partitions on each side of the centre cage, and these are fitted with wire so that the old ones may feed the young ones through the wire. I always think the old birds feed better when they are away from the young than if the young are allowed to stay with them too long. It is very seldom I lose any after they get feathered, although I take them away from the old birds before they get out of the nest, and as soon as the hen has done sitting on them to keep them warm.

When starting in the hobby of bird keeping set your mind on what kind you would like to keep. Do not get too many sorts at once at the beginning. If you think you would like Norwich Plainheads by all means make a commencement with these. The Norwich Plainhead has always been my own fancy, and always will be. I have had some good ones, and hope to have some more yet, although at the beginning of the past season I started with some of the very best and then got nothing for my pains.

A Hobby for the Well-to-do.

If you fancy you would prefer Yorkshires or Crests by all means begin with these, but Crests are very expensive for a beginner. Years ago one could get a decent pair of Crests for £1, but now the men with plenty of money have control of the Crests, and I think only those who can afford it can go in for this branch of the hobby. There is also a lot of interest to be found in keeping British birds, but a working man has not time to look after three or four different kinds of birds, so he had better keep to one sort.

It is not to be expected that a working man can make much out of showing birds. Only the man who has really the crack birds is able to send a team about from one show to the other and keep on winning with a profit to himself. When he has made a reputation for his stock through their successes on the show bench he is able to sell his produce at a long price. The ordinary working man is handicapped here, for with only a few birds he cannot run the risk of having to pay entry fees and railway carriage and receiving nothing back for his expenditure.

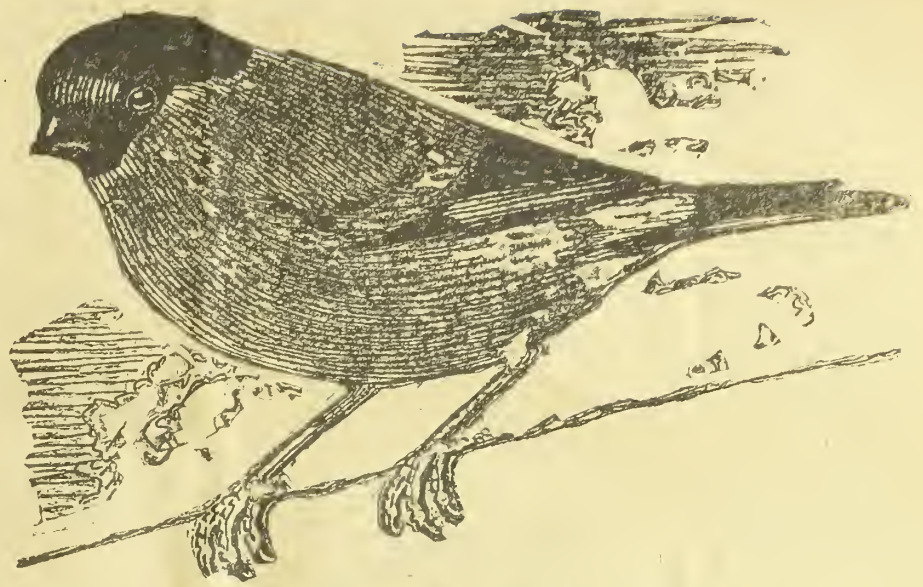
This is not to say the working man cannot breed a good bird, for I know that many good birds are bred and never see a show bench. This sometimes is for the reason that the breeder himself does not know the merits of his own bird, and thinks it would have no chance.

Whenever a show is due of a society of which I am a member I send about six of the best of my birds, and take no more notice. If they win all well and good, if not I wait for the next show.

When this terrible war is over there will be a better prospect for the bird fancy than ever before. There will be many wounded soldiers who will be able to make a few cages for themselves and keep a few birds. I know in my own case it has happened many a time that when I have been about hard up, in nine times out of ten someone has come along to buy a bird or two and helped me out of the difficulty.

I am sorry that until I heard from our secretary I did not know I was expected to give a lecture on Norwich Canaries especially, and I had written a few notes which I have read to you before hearing from him as to the subject selected, but I will now try to give you a few notes on the Norwich Canary itself.

Has the Norwich Canary Deteriorated?



Years ago I think the birds were more even in size, better in colour, and better in quality of feather than they are to-day. It was quite common at one time to hear people say that the birds looked like boxwood, but now it is not often one hears people talk like that. The craze seems to be all for size. Good big ones require getting, and if you get one thing you lose another. Of course, we want to see birds with some size in them, and not little weeds as thick as one's finger, but the bird which I like to see is one of medium size and good in all round qualities.

It would be of no use for me to describe the points of a Norwich here, as these can be seen in Cage Birds nearly every week. No fancier, young or old, can do without Cage Birds every week if he takes any interest in the fancy; he must know how things are going on in other places, know where all the big shows are, and where the best birds are.

I will try to tell you my way of keeping quality and colour in my birds. Pair two yellows together, and if you can get two or three good young ones from the pair you will have birds of good colour and quality, and birds which will improve your stock for several years. You must understand that it is of no use to pair up two small clear yellows, as in this way you would get no size at all. If they were two variegated birds I should not mind so much so long as they were of a reasonable size, but good big yellow birds want finding, and I have bred many a good show bird from two variegated birds.

Some people are all for double buffing. I do not care much for this method, for although you may rear a good bird or two at the first start, if you keep on you will soon lose colour, and the birds will become slack in feather. Even in pairing buffs together, I would just as soon pair two variegated buffs as two clear. I have now a very nice slightly marked bird of good colour just coming through the moult, and this bird was bred from two variegated buffs.

As a final word, I would say always endeavour to keep in your stock room plenty of yellow birds. When you go to a show you will see that there always seem to be more buffs than yellows, and if you keep plenty of yellows from which to breed you will get better coloured buffs for the bench.

A NOTABLE BULLFINCH HEN.

Winner of 1st prize at Holborn Hall Show, and other prizes, for Mr. P. McQuiston, Ayr.

THE YELLOW WAGTAIL AS A CAGE BIRD.

ITS CAGE AND ITS FOOD DESCRIBED.

By "BEENI," Sonning.

The members of the Wagtail family are all remarkably attractive and graceful birds. Of those best known in this country the Pied Wagtail is by far the most common. The White Wagtail resembles it very closely, so closely in fact that few but experts can tell the difference between the two. But perhaps the handsomest of the family are the Yellow and the Grey species All the family make excellent pets, and if properly fed and treated become very tame and confident, and their perky ways, jaunty movements and long stilt-like legs render them extremely interesting and amusing. Moreover, the Yellow and the Grey can be slightly colour fed with advantage and make attractive show birds.

The Yellow Wagtail (Motacilla Raii) the subject of this present article, is beautifully marked. The crown, lore, back and shoulders are pale olive. Over the eye is a streak of bright yellow. The chin and underparts are lemon yellow. The tail is very long, the upper surface prolonging the colours of the back while the under surface is light. The erratic, see-saw motion of the tail gives the family its name—Motacilla—and contributes not a little to the charms of the bird.

As a summer visitor the Yellow Wagtail is most often found in the vicinity of water where it paddles in the shallows and obtains its diet of flies and other small insects. When in condition and health it is very slender in appearance.

The Cage for a Wagtail.

The best type of cage in which to keep it is the box cage. As to dimensions a good size is 24 inches in length, 15 in height, and 12 in depth; these are the dimensions of my own cages for this species. The wire front is removable, and there should be a good sliding door in the middle of the front, and a door at one end. The door at the end is to admit a good sized bath.

In a state of nature the bird is constantly paddling; hence a bath is necessary to provide the moisture to keep the bird's feet clean and healthy. Wagtails are very liable to "sore feet" which manifests itself generally by swollen joints, and the paddling bath is a good preventive of foot trouble.

My bath, which is about 9 inches wide, by 3½ broad, and 1 inch deep, is home-made, at the cost of one penny. With a pair of shears I cut all round the base of a rectangular tin biscuit box, turned the edges over to prevent cut feet, enamelled the inside dark green to stop rust, and the outside black. A few small pebbles on the bottom, some rain water (which I use for drinkers and baths in preference to tap water), and my bird has a bath which, to judge from his frequent ablutions, is quite satisfactory to his birdy mind.

For covering the floor I always have a good layer of cut chaff instead of sand. This is constantly turned over as the bird walks about and thus the cage bottom is kept clean. Removable perches, far enough apart to ensure wing exercise in hopping from one to the other, complete the furnishing, with the exception of a food trough and a drinker (both again home-made), which slide into slots in the bottom rail at each corner.

The cage front should not have feed holes, for insectivorous birds are best fed from shallow receptacles. It is an advantage to have food and water troughs adjustable from outside, as it will not then be necessary to pass the hand into the cage to place these vessels in position.

For food, a good insectile mixture is necessary as a base, to be supplemented with a generous live insect diet. Of foods for softbills there are several on the market, but some of these do not seem to be compounded with any idea of the natural requirements of the birds. I always use the mixture made up by an experienced bird-keeper, as I have found its use keeps the birds in splendid condition. It never varies in quality, and the ingredients are just those necessary to supply the wants of insectivorous birds, and mixed in correct proportions. Birds readily take to it even when they refuse other foods. A well-compounded food has another advantage; it makes an excellent medium for colour feeding. Colour food can be incorporated with it, and a sudden change of diet or method of feeding is thus avoided.

How to Provide Live Food.

Wagtails being very partial to flies, I have found it comparatively easy to keep them going. Living near a riverside town where angling is catered for, I can nearly always procure gentles. These in themselves provide a valuable feeding item, and some I allow to pupate in sawdust in a tin, the lid of which is perforated with a hole as big as a sixpence in diameter. Over the hole is placed a balloon fly trap. When the apparatus and its contents are put into a warm place, the flies emerge from the pupæ and crawl upwards into the trap. As the supply is used fresh gentles can be introduced, and the process continued.

Spiders, earwigs, daddy-long-legs, gnats, moths and small beetles all provide variety, and all go the same way when introduced into the food trough. A sharp glance from two little bright beady eyes, a quick snap, a few bangs on the floor, and another insect finds a fresh home in the interior economy of our little friend.

The Yellow Wagtail will readily respond to colour feeding. This should be begun just before the moult commences in autumn, and continued until the moult is completed. The bird should then be in first class condition for the show bench.

As the Wagtails are good "trenchermen," it is necessary to feed often, especially in the long days of summer. A meal first thing in the morning, another at noon, a third at about five o'clock, and then a small feed last thing at night will be none too much. Birds at large begin feeding as soon as it is light, but few fanciers, however keen, care to go the rounds of their pets at three o'clock in the morning, and this is not necessary if the above method is followed out. In winter the third meal may become the final meal of the day.

In fine weather hang the cage in the open air, but avoid draughts. The Yellow Wagtail will then, by his bright, friendly ways, amply repay his owner for all time and labour spent on him, and will always command a good price in the market, although I fancy his master will become so attached to him as not to part with him for any consideration.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE C.B.S.—Oct. 3, P.S.A. Room, Albion Street, 8. Monthly business. Selection of judge, etc.—J. Whitehead.

BIRMINGHAM C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Crown Hotel Station. Show business. Roller fanciers specially requested to attend. Important business.—J. Bastock.

BLAENAVON C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Crown Hotel, 6.30. Open show business.—G. Broome.

BACUP ROLLER C.C.—Oct. 3, Park Hotel, Bacup, 7.30. Final arrangements and schedule for annual show.—H. Wantling.

BRADFORD EAST O.S.—Oct. 3, at Park Chapel Schoolrooms, 8. Arrangements for members' show; supper arrangements cancelled.—J. Spencer.

B.P. AUCKLAND.—Oct. 4, Y.M.C.A. Hall, 7. Business important.—W. Crowther.

BURNLEY O.S.—Oct. 3, Star Inn, 7.30. Selection of judge; further open show business. Subs. due.—J. Rushton.

BOWLING B.F.A.—Oct. 2, Barley Mow Hotel, 7.30. Usual business and steward for Oct. show.—J. Nicholl.

BRISTOL EAST C.B.S.—Oct. 2, Headquarters, Glass House Hotel, Lawrence Hill, 8. Annual show schedule to pass for Nov. 25. Table show moulted birds. Judge, Local, Mr. F. Bees.—W. J. Norman.

CHORLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Shepherd's Hall, 7.30. Show business.—R. Hatch.

CITY OF BIRMINGHAM C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Crown Hotel, Hill Street, 7.30. Final arrangements for members and open shows.—A. C. Shirley.

COVENTRY GODIVA C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Dun Cow Inn, 8. Election of Sec. Binley exhibition. Classes to make. Balance sheet of young stock show. Enrol new members and other important business.—A. Wright.

CLITHEROE C.B.S.—Oct. 2, Howard's Dining Rooms, 7.30.—J. Southworth.

COVENTRY O.S.—Oct. 4, Dolphin Inn, 8. Business, open show.—J. Kent.

COWDENBEATH.—Oct. 7, Gothenburgh, 6. —A. Robertson.

CROYDON F.A.—Oct. 4, Ruskin House, West Croydon, 8.15. General meeting. Approve schedule for annual show and any other business.—F. B. Roberts.

EAST HAM F.C.—Oct. 7. Young stock show. No exhibits penned for competition after 10 a.m. day of show.—W. A. Harwood.

EAST ARDSLEY.—Sept. 30, Black Swan, 7. Final arrangements of inter-club show.—A. Walton.

EDINBURGH NORWICH AND M.B.S.—Oct. 5, 142, High Street, 8. General business; arrangements for annual show.—A. Bell.

EDINBURGH NORTH EASTERN O.S.—Oct. 2, Regent Hall, Abbeymount, 8. Arrangements for annual show.—R. S. Spence.

EAST HAM C.B.S.—Oct. 5, Town Hall, 8. Annual show business.—F. Onslow.

HALIFAX C.B.S.—Oct. 5, Trafalgar Inn, King Cross, Halifax, 8. General meeting and members' show business; Union handbooks to be given out.—A. Sutcliffe.

HIRST, EAST END, SOCIAL CLUB C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Club Room, 7. Election of officers. Date of show, judge and subs.—C. F. Tapson.

HUDDERSFIELD O.S.—Oct. 2, White Hart Hotel, 7.30. Open show business and distribution of Union handbooks.—A. Lawford.

IRVINE C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Templars' Hall, Bank Street, 8. Annual general meeting. Appointment of officers and other important business. New members enrolled.—J. Paterson.

IDLE C.B.A.—Oct. 4, Springfield Hotel, 8. Business very important.—J. Chippindale.

ILKESTON C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Hand and Heart Inn, Cotmanhay, 7. Arrangements for open show.—T. Smith.

LOANHEAD C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Mason's Arms, 7.30. Final arrangements for show and draw specials.—W. B. Smart.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C.B.—The washing demonstration by Mr. Shakespeare and competition for members is postponed until Oct. 7, at 7. Silver medal to be competed for; will members bring a few birds.—W. Gilbert.

LEIGH C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Railway Hotel, 7.45. Report of delegates visit to Warrington re Amalgamated show.—R. Charleson.

LLANELLY C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Greyhound Hotel, 7. Business re open show.—H. Webster.

LAISTERDYKE BOWLING AND TONG, AMALGAMATION.—Oct. 2, Barley Mow, 7.30. Old feather show. Stewards for same, contributions.—J. E. Hudson.

LEYTON C.B.A.—The monthly meeting down for Oct. 2 is cancelled.—A. W. Farmer.

LAISTERDYKE B.F.A.—Oct. 4, Railway Hotel, Laisterdyke, 7.30. Members and open show business; most important.—L. Hodgson.

LOCHGELLY C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Drill Hall, 6. Classification for members' show. Specials for ditto. Printing of schedules and appointing of stewarts.—W. Grewar.

NORTH MANCHESTER C.B.S.—Oct. 3, St. Stephen's School, Conran Street, 8. November Show business. Urgent.—A. Colley.

NORTHERN BORDER F.C.C.—Oct. 4, Pillars Cafe, Pink Lane, 7.30. Election of new secretary, allotment of patronage.— Subs. due J. Farrer.

NEWCASTLE C.B.S.—Oct. 5, Shields Cafe, Bigg Market, 7.30. Open show business, etc., subs due.—F. W. Laidlow.

PENY-GRAIG.—Oct. 13, Butcher's Arms, 6. Washing exhibition, by a few members; friends invited. (Notice not signed.—Ed.)

PONTYPOOL C.B.S.—Sept 30, Baker's Restaurant, 6.30. Open show, important.—W. D. Lewis.

PUDSEY AND STANNINGLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 2, Fleece Hotel, Stanuingley, 7.30 sharp. Distribution of hand-books and other important items.—Roy Kell.

PROVINCIAL ROLLER C.C.—Sept. 10, Old Boar's Head, Manchester, 6.30. Annual show business; members with birds on song, kindly bring one or two to meeting.—J. T. Smith.

QUEEN'S PARK (GLASGOW) C.B.S.—Sept. 27, Y.M.C.A. Rooms, Eglinton Toll, 7.45. Discussion on Colour Feeding, opened by Mr. E. Steel.—A. K. Hunter.

QUEENSBURY C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Granby Hotel. Members show; judge, Mr. A. M. Craven, Shipley; birds staged at 3.—W. Jagger.

ROCHDALE GOOD INTENT C.B.S.—Oct. 4, Temperance Club, Toad Lane, 8. Business important.—J. W. Jackson.

READING.—Oct. 4, Palmer Hall, 8. Special show business.—O. C. Smith.

ROTHERHAM C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Mail Coach, 7. Special meeting, fixing date for annual show.—W. Wilshaw.

ROCHDALE O C.—Oct. 2, Club Rooms, Clarke's Place, 8.30. Committee meeting.—J. Butterworth.

STOKE-ON-TRENT C.B.A.—Oct. 2, Red Lion Hotel, 8.—Fix date of special show; vice Red Cross Show.—J. Glover.

SACRISTON P.P.R., AND C.B.S.—Sept. 30, Mrs. H. Abbot's Tearooms, Front Street, 6.15. Taking entries; gent's watch, special for most points.—R. Forster.

SOUTH EAST LONDON F. AND F.A.—Constitutional Club, 432, Old Kent Road, 8. Closing of entries for October show; allot specials.—C. H. Coppendale.

SOUTHAMPTON C.B.S.—Oct. 3, Waterloo Hotel, 8.30. To consider annual show.—G. J. Slade.

SOUTH SHIELDS "ALWAYS READY"—Oct. 4, Hunt's Shop, Ocean Road, 7.30. More show business to be discussed; discussion on how to make meetings more interesting this winter; anyone welcome.—J. W. Watson.

SHEFFIELD O.S.—Oct. 3, Rotherham House, 8.15. Open show business.—E. C. Job.

WIMBLEDON C.B.S., —Oct. 2, 6, Broadway, 8. Lecture by Mr. F. J. Martin, "Canaries"; fanciers and friends heartily welcome.—G. Griffiths.

WAKEFIELD O.S.—Sept. 30, Crown and Anchor, 7. Members' shows and ordinary business; also October show arrangements.—J. Isherwood.

WALLASEY C.B.S.—Oct. 15, Headquarters, 8. Old show business.—Wm. Mallinson.

WEST LONDON F.A.—Oct. 5, Windsor Castle Hotel, 8, Classification and other business for annual show.—J. Dewhurst.

WEST STANLEY EMPIRE F.F. AND C.B.S.—Oct. 1, Club Room, 7. Electing stewards for annual show.—R. Hutchinson.

WINDHILL C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Blue Bell Hotel 2.30. Members show; judge, Mr. F. Self, Clayton; entries Friday 7 to 9.30 p.m. —, Taylor and Garnett.

Queries Answered

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

CLICKING BEAK (D. T.).—It may be nothing at all serious, and is not at all uncommon occasionally during the moult, and when damp weather is prevalent. Very often it disappears as they come through their moult. But to be on the safe side you should see that the birds are not exposed to direct cold draughts, especially when roosting at night, and not subject to sudden extremes of heat and cold. The following treatment will do no harm in any case, and may prevent the development of anything more serious, in case the birds have been exposed to unfavourable conditions. Give a piece of bread the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and then sprinkled with soft sugar every second day for a week or so, beginning as soon as the clicking is heard. On the alternate days add to the drinking water 20 drops of whisky, ten of lemon juice, and two drops of eucalyptus oil, shaking it all well in the water. Do not allow the birds to hang in a window of all places; no place is more likely to cause this clicking noise, and then it generally means trouble.

SCALY LEGS (M. P. O.).—This is a usual accompaniment of age, and may quite possibly account for the bird keeping so much on the floor of the cage, as during the moult, and occasionally for some time after, the legs are very tender and more or less inflamed. At the same time you would do well to examine the bird's eyes to see if the sight is all right. If the scales are very coarse and prominent you may give much relief by removing the very coarse ones. To do this get a saucer of fairly hot water—as hot as you can comfortably bear the little finger in for some time—and dissolve in it a little borax. Catch the bird and immerse the foot and leg—it is best to do one at a time, the second a few days after the first—in the saucer for a few minutes, occasionally lifting it out at the beginning to wash away any dirt that may be adhering to the toes. After soaking for, say, ten minutes, very gently press the end of the thumb-nail or a match stick against the lower raised edge of the scales, one after another, when they will probably lift up quite easily, and may be removed. If they do not respond to very gentle pressure, continue the soaking a little longer and try again, repeating this until they lift quite easily. Use no force, and strictly avoid making them bleed. Finally, dry gently, and sparingly anoint with a little zinc or boracic ointment. If the claws are overgrown, trim them back during this operation.

CLOSED SONG BOXES (Trilby).—It is not the custom to keep Rollers continually in closed song boxes. Highly trained specimens for singing contests are so kept for a goodly portion of the time during the show season only to prevent them getting too "wild," or high in song or singing themselves out too quickly, and to ensure them singing when staged in a contest. They may also be kept in the closed boxes with great advantage to the birds themselves during the time they are moulting, for the sake of the extra protection from draughts, warmth, and to help to shorten the process by making it more rapid.

COLOUR FEEDING (Jim).—Yes, it is quite correct to suppose that a bird which was colour fed last season must have the process repeated at this moult if it is to moult out with the enhanced colour as usual. If not colour-fed this season it will simply revert to its natural colour and come out of the moult the same tone as if it had never been colour fed at all. When the moult is nearly over, or when the bird has ceased dropping feathers, and you can see the new plumage coming through nicely on the head and neck, a crystal of sulphate of iron the size of a split pea may be dissolved in the water three times a week, which will fix the colour and also help to tighten the plumage.

A QUESTION OF TEMPERATURE (J. M. W.).—A room that is never allowed to get below 45 degrees cannot properly be termed a cold one, as it will very often be much above the normal temperature during the winter months. As a matter of fact 45 degrees is about the correct winter heat to aim at where there are appliances for heating a room. During the moulting season anything between 60 and 65 degrees would be quite sufficient for all ordinary purposes. If heating appliances must be used the best form naturally depends upon the size, aspect, position, and general character of the particular room in question, and without full particulars on these points it is impossible to advise. But in a general way, where gas is available, a room of moderate size may be most conveniently given all the heat that is really required by means of a small portable hot-water coil heated with an atmospheric burner, which may be arranged on a brick setting in the centre of the room.

FLIGHTED OR TAILED (Joey).—A young bird of the season that has lost its tail and grown an adult one cannot properly be shown in a class for "unflighted" birds. To be eligible for the class a bird must have the flights and tail of its nestling plumage, or a great majority of them, otherwise it would probably be "passed" unnoticed.

EYE TROUBLE (B.L.).—Your birds are doubtless suffering from ophthalmia, which seems to be of a contagious nature. Therefore your first step should be to isolate all infected birds in one or more large cages and keep them away from the rest in a rather shaded part of the room, and wash out all cages which have contained an infected bird with a solution—1 in 50—of Jeyes' Fluid, that is a large teaspoonful of the fluid in about half-a-pint of water. It would be best to burn all perches from such cages, and provide new ones. The infected birds may be kept in groups in one or more large cages, and these cages should be thoroughly disinfected before they are again brought into use for healthy stock. As regards treatment, as soon as any sign of the trouble is observed, bathe the eyes morning and evening for a week, and once daily afterwards until quite well, with the following lotion:—Get from a chemist some camomile flowers. Place a dozen or so—about a drachm in weight—in a large teacup, fill with boiling water, cover, and allow to infuse beside the fire for an hour, then strain off the clear fluid, add 30 drops of tincture of opium, and when cold it is ready for use. Take a little of the fluid in a small shallow vessel, and with a small dossil of cotton wool bathe the eyes for a minute or two each morning and evening, using a little fresh liquid and a fresh dossil of wool for each eye and burning at once that which has been used. Continue this treatment until the eyes are quite well, but do not return the birds to the company of healthy stock for two or three weeks after all signs of the trouble have disappeared.

SWELLING ON CHEEK (W.E., Leeds).—(1) If you had sent a rough sketch showing the position of the swelling and described its colour and texture as nearly as you could, I might have given you a far more satisfactory reply. It is not possible to say what such a swelling is without either seeing it or having a very clear description of it. It is in all probability one of two things; an accumulation of air due to the rupture of an air sac, in which case it would appear much like a blister blown up with air, and by passing a clean needle through it to permit the air to escape no other treatment would be likely to be needed. On the other hand it may be a nodular swelling formed by a deposit of cheesy nodules by unhealthy action within the system. In this case the swelling would have a yellowish appearance, and to the touch feel full of pus, or semi-fluid contents. A vet. would probably open it and cleanse out the contents, but only personal inspection would enable one to say whether this should be done. On the whole I think you had better paint it lightly three times, with an interval of four days between each time, with a small feather dipped in tincture of iodine, and add 12 drops of fluid magnesia to the drinking water every third day meantime, and see if this causes it to be absorbed. If not, and the bird is a valuable one, then you had better let a veterinary have a look at it. As regards the bird not moulting you may, if not yet started, treat it the same as advised to "F.R.N." in last issue. (2) This bird seems to be a weakly and highly-strung, nervous subject. Treat him gently and methodically, and avoid any sudden, jerky movements near him, or anything to give him sudden alarms. In addition to the staple seed diet give every third day for the next month a morsel of bread and milk with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it and sprinkled with maw seed. On the intervening days give half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, linseed and broken groats one day, and the next add to the water 20 drops of Chemical food. Give a little green salad or banana daily.

A BROKEN LEG (S.W.B.).—Unless you got a chemist or your medical man to complete the amputation of the stump there is nothing else you can do but await the course of nature, which, if slow, is sure, and the discoloured stump will undoubtedly be thrown off in due course. Skilful amputation would certainly have been the shortest way to a soundly healed stump if performed at the time of the fracture, and may even now shorten the bird's painfully crippled condition, but this would be a question for the veterinary to decide. If you do not decide to have it should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. removed still go on keeping the bird as quiet as possible and avoid fluttering it about until you see that things have righted themselves. See that it has a scrap of green salad daily. There is no necessity for any further addition to the dietary, nor for drug treatment.

CANARY QUERISTS

KEEPING SOFT (B.A.E.).—The birds will gradually fine down in plumage in the course of the next few weeks, but it will assist them to do so if you allow them regular daily bathing, and as you gradually withdraw the soft food, replace it for the next few weeks with a small teaspoonful of mixed seeds three times a week, and twice a week add to the drinking water six drops of tincture of gentian and four of tincture of steel. Keep the cage floor strewn with clean gritty sand, and allow the birds as much space as you can spare for exercise.

CONDITION AND BLOOM (Baxter).—A pinch of linseed about three times a week during the latter half of the moult and until the plumage is quite fine again is very useful for putting a nice sheen and bloom on the feathers, or a similar quantity of chopped sunflower seeds will have the same effect and have less other objectionable qualities than linseed. The latter seed is not an advisable item in the regular dietary, its chief use being as a small proportion of a seed mixture to be used at the end of the moult. For bringing the birds into high condition, as when wanted for show, the following is as good as any. Two parts each of hemp and niger; one part each of black rape and white millet; a half part teazle; a quarter part each of linseed, maw, and gold of pleasure seed, and a sprinkling of yellow mustard and chopped sunflower seeds. Give a small teaspoonful of this mixture three times a week at the end of the moult, during the show season, or for a week or two before any event for which you wish to have the birds in high condition. That extra bloom, or "polish," which wins, is just as much, or even more, the result of careful breeding, combined with skilful washing and grooming, as of any particular method of feeding. A dash of Cinnamon blood, for instance, is a very excellent donor of that extra fine polish. These are fundamental points which you have to take into serious consideration when selecting your breeding stock. To neglect these matters then and trust to retrieve the shortcoming by special foods or dieting is one of the most certain barrages to a position on the top rung of the ladder.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS.

Answered by H. NORMAN.

TROUBLE WITH LINNET (James Lennox).—The trouble with your Linnet has been caused by one of the extremes of either constipation or diarrhœa, and I would advise the following treatment: A spoonful of soaked seeds daily, and see that this is eaten before allowing him to have ordinary dry seed. Fortunately, your trouble has occurred at a time of the year when wild seeds can be gathered in abundance, and you cannot do better than give him plenty of these. The species I would suggest are shepherd's-purse, chickweed, gold of pleasure (which is now in splendid condition), thistle, and grass seeds. Plantain and hard knobs I would not use, as these, I fancy, are somewhat difficult to digest. Let his drinking water be boiled, and add to it half a teaspoonful of chemical food for, say, three or four days, then miss a like number and repeat. Your object must be to tone up the system, and although another tonic such as iron might be more useful, it is inclined to be binding, and constipation must be avoided. Watch his motions, and if you think he requires an aperient, give rhubarb and salts combined. Dose, three drops of syrup of rhubarb and as much Glauber salts as will cover a threepenny-piece dissolved in two tablespoonsful of water. Instead of oil, anoint the vent with either "Zambuk" or "Zom." Put the bird in a large cage so that he can exercise freely, and give him the bath on fine days.

MIXED BREEDING IN AN AVIARY (F. Champion).—Aviary breeding is seldom so successful as cage-breeding, but still it has its charms, and many bird-lovers find a deal of pleasure in attending to the inmates. In a mixed collection like yours, where one of the cock birds is a Canary, he is generally the parent of the majority of the young ones, and for that reason he should be a good big bird, as large young are much more saleable than small ones. Therefore a stout Norwich cock would be preferable to a Border. The cock Mule you would have to remove as useless for breeding purposes, and likely to interfere with the others. Half a dozen cock Linnets are too many, they would only play about with each other and waste time. You must not have an excess of male birds; have the majority hens, too many male birds cause a good deal of fighting. If you still intend to have a cock Canary in the aviary, you will find a Goldfinch and Linnet quite sufficient for breeding purposes with your five hens, or you could remove the Canary and add another Goldie, or a Greenfinch or Redpoll as you suggest. Another suitable hen would be a Bullfinch, but do not overcrowd.

PREPARING FOR BREEDING (Bird Lover).—The old fashioned London breeding cage is now quite out of date, and if you intend to use it for breeding purposes your first step should be to knock out the partitions and use the cage as a single breeder, hanging a nest pan on a nail in the back or side for the birds to nest in. You could very well let all your birds fly together during the winter months, but I always fancy the hens get on a bit better if they are by themselves for a time, particularly during very bad weather. Cock birds are somewhat greedy, and usually get the best of the food. Your idea of allowing the Canaries to breed in cages and the Greenfinches in the aviary is a good one, but you will have to watch the latter, and if you find the Goldfinch keen on one hen and quite neglecting the other, you had better remove her and give her a fresh partner. As a rule a cock Goldie can be relied upon to mate with more than one hen, especially if he is healthy and house moulted.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS should consult Houlton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

If a Finch has white legs he has been house moulted; after the first moult the whiteness is not very pronounced, but they get paler with each moult. Hemp should at all times be used sparingly, and one should be very careful to see that it is of good quality, as no seed is so injurious as bad hemp. Sunflower can be used to partially take its place. Finches are very fond of it; give half a dozen good sound seeds daily.

BREEDING REDPOLL MULES (R. W. Dennis).—You will have no difficulty in breeding Redpoll-Canary Mules providing both of your birds are healthy. You can let them fly together during the winter months, as the same seed will do for both of them. Give them a spray of greenfood or a piece of sweet apple occasionally. An ordinary single breeding cage will do admirably. All you will have to do is to give them a nest pan and some building materials in the spring, say the beginning of April, and treat them practically the same as you would a couple of Canaries. (2) I am afraid you do not read your copy of CAGE BIRDS carefully, as the difference between Hybrids and Mules was explained quite recently. In fact, a full explanation was given by the Editor in the "General" answers in our Sept. 23 issue, but you had probably sent your question before you received last week's CAGE BIRDS. A Hybrid is a cross between two British birds, a Mule a cross between a Canary and a British bird. These are really only fanciers' differences, for as a fact both crosses are Hybrids.

KEEPING BIRDS OUTSIDE (Outside Cage).—You could add a Siskin and a Bullfinch to your collection. From them you would get a little song, and as they are nice plumaged birds they would give colour to the interior. (2) The best colour you could have for the cage would be a fairly bright green. It would show up the birds better than any other. A couple of coats would be sufficient or one coat of lead colour and one good one of green. (3) Instead of straw you would find a rough bundle of furze and heather much more serviceable. The birds would get in among it to roost, whereas with straw they would only perch on the top of it. (4) A piece of old carpet or tarpaulin fastened over the part would keep the birds cosy in rough inclement weather. It could be put up and taken down quickly if a few rings were sewn on it and some dresser hooks screwed along the front woodwork. I think the arrangement of your aviary very good. Do the birds go into the sleeping apartment to roost? If not, you should try to drive them in at dusk.

SEX OF YOUNG THRUSH (A. Alford).—If you have only the one bird, there is no real sex distinction that I can give you that will be of any use in helping you to decide what your bird is, but as you say he is warbling quietly I have no hesitation in saying he is a cock bird. Birds do not break suddenly into full song, they have to learn to sing in the same way as we have to learn to do things. The low warbling is by fanciers called "recording," and you will find it gradually gets louder until the bird is in full song. Feed him well, let him bathe, and have exercise, then you will no doubt get plenty of song from him.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

AILING AMAZON PARROT (September).—The dietary is about right if you are supplying grit regularly. It would also be better if you kept a chunk of wood continually in the cage for it to exercise its mandibles upon. You might also give some nuts; it would be better to supply these shelled till it is a little older (peanuts and walnuts are the best). The first moult with newly imported parrots, especially young ones, is usually a very protracted one, and lasts for months; this is a great strain upon their system, and they frequently get off colour at this period. Give it one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia in its drinking water every fourth day, and on the intervening days lightly colour the water with chemical food. You might also dissolve in a little hot water one teaspoonful each of cod liver oil emulsion and sugar, and as soon as dissolved pour the liquid over several biscuits, allow them to dry, and supply a piece to the bird; treat all its biscuits so till it is in condition again. Keep it where it will get light and air, yet where it will be out of reach of cold air or draughts. Lightly spray the bird with tepid water once or twice a week, but not during cold spells. Report progress in a few weeks' time.

TO BREED NEXT SEASON (S. W. B.).—Among your birds both the Budgerigars and Zebra Finches should be certain breeders in roomy cages, and the Avadavats and St. Helena Waxbills probable breeders. One pair only should be in each cage, except in the case of Budgerigars, and if you can give these a cage 4ft. by 1½ft. by 2ft. high you will be more likely to attain success with two pairs. Put four husks in the cage, as distant from each other as space permits; the husk openings must face the light. Budgies require no nesting material. For the other birds a large size rush nest (fixed in one corner near the top of cage and screened with a twiggy branch, the opening facing the light) is about the best. Hay and a little moss as nesting material. None of your present stock are likely to cross with the domestic Canary; the Serin tribe and foreign Siskins are the best for this purpose. The following all readily cross with the Canary:—Alario Finch, Grey and Green Singing Finches, St. Helena Seed-eater, and any other Serin or Siskin. The same condition as to accommodation and treatment as for species will be required.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

GREENHOUSE AVIARY (Grice).—I do not keep queries by me, and cannot call to mind the full details of yours. If the arrangements you propose will maintain the temperature you name (though 45 deg. minimum would be better), and you can keep out excessive damp without draught, then such as Alario and Red-headed Finches, Avadavats, Gold-breasted Waxbills, Grey and Green Singing Finches, Saffron and Zebra Finches, all the Weavers and practically all the Serin tribe, should do well with you. When you have made your choice, if you will send me a list and repeat full details of the accommodation you have provided for the respective birds, I shall be pleased to advise you as to general treatment, etc. Our Nutshells, 2½d. each post free from our manager, dealing with any of the birds you decide upon, would be helpful to you in making a start.

PEN FOR COCKATEELS AND BUDGERIGARS (September).—(1) In your pen (I am assuming it is an outdoor one) you could keep one pair of cockateels and two or three pairs of Budgerigars, providing you sold, or moved the young to other quarters as soon as they were able to fend for themselves. (2) Your proposed projection from window should be an advantage, but this should have some kind or a grating bottom (perforated zinc or stout wire netting), and on this you could place sods of grass, watering them through a rose in dry weather; besides being good greenfood, Budgerigars take their bath by rolling in wet grass and herbage. (3) A small barrel 9 ins. diameter by 12 ins. deep would be best for the Cockateels; in any case your box must have a concavo bottom and be of similar dimensions to the barrel. Cockateels and Budgerigars require no nesting material. (4) There should be one or two half-inch holes covered with wire netting at the highest point of the "pen," just under the roof, to let out hot air, but they should be so placed that they do not create a draught from front to back.

BUDGERIGARS (Esperance).—Confine the yellow cock and hen which you wish to mate together in a cage till you notice them feeding each other, then you can put them into the aviary, and they should remain constant to each other. The value put upon your birds may be correct for specially fine birds for exhibition, but you might not find a ready purchaser at such a figure. They do occasionally fetch such prices, bought at a show, or for a show; those needing breeding stock usually pick their birds at nearest local supply at a little above normal prices. There is sure to be a cage-maker in your town; you cannot do better than go to him and ask to see his show cages suitable for Budgies, and choose one the colour of which will harmonise with your birds. A member of your local club would tell you where to go. The birds should be put into a cage (not the show cage, one a little larger) two or three weeks before the show, and it would be better to run them from this cage to the show cage, and thus avoid handling them if possible. Plumage is often sadly marred by the birds knocking themselves about while being caught. You will have to chance your luck; it all depends upon what they are up against. Your birds appear to be good ones, and you should stand a good chance of being in the money. Adopt any means you can to steady them, so long as you do not scare them in any way.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

GENERAL.

Answered by THE EDITOR

EXHIBITORS AS STEWARDS (W. A.).—We agree with you that it is injudicious for the management of a show to appoint as steward to a judge a person who is exhibiting in the classes that particular judge is handling. In fact, it is better that exhibitors should have no duties in connection with a show which entail their presence while judging is going on. Their being present may make no difference, but it opens a field for grumbling and suggestion, as in your own case. We would point out, however, that, so far as the individual judge is concerned, your grievance, if any, is not against the gentleman named in your letter; he did not judge the class to which you refer. If you will refer to your catalogue, or to our report, you will find that the class in which your bird was entered was judged by a different judge to the one you mention. We are glad to hear of your success in another section of the hobby, and hope soon to find that you have returned to the section which you seem to have given up in a moment of disappointment.

WILD SEEDS (J. Hicks).—Further to our reply of last week, we find that the seed which formed so large a proportion of your mixture was that of one of the oraches (Spinach), probably either the narrow-leaved orache (atripex patula) or the triangular leaved orache (atripex deltoidea). There are other kinds of orache, such as the grass-leaved sea orache (atripex littoralis) and the sea purslane (atripex portulacoides). If you could let us have a spray of the seed, and a piece of the foliage, we should be pleased to advise you more particularly. The oraches are allied to the buckwheat, persicaria, etc., and the seeds should be quite useful as food for British finches.

KINGFISHER NEAR BRIGHTON (W. Tullett).—The Kingfisher is resident with us all the year round, and is to be seen at all seasons along the shallow streams which it frequents. In autumn and winter they frequently make a movement towards the coast, and are then to be seen in places where they are rare in summer.

KEEPING A BLUE TIT (A. Taylor).—The Blue Tit is not particularly difficult to keep in captivity, as it will eat hemp seed, sunflower seed, cracked nuts, etc. It should have also any kind of small insects you can find for it, and some insectile food of good quality. You will find full information as to the proper keeping of this and other small birds in Nutshell No. 25, which has been forwarded to you.

ENAMEL FOR CAGE WIRES (F. Gibbs)—Any of the well-known enamels, Aspinall's etc., are suitable for the purpose. They should be applied very thinly in two or three coats, each coat being allowed to set thoroughly between the operations, and the cage should not be taken into use until two or three days after the final coat. A list of coloured plates and postcards has been forwarded to you by post.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the

"CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

In all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free.
Stiff Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens.
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial, are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. CARL, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. HAMMOND AND CO., LTD., Fleet Lane, London, E.C.

636.605
CAG

CANARY MANAGEMENT FOR BEGINNERS.

SEE THIS ISSUE.

16 PAGES. 2D

CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL

Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 724 For week ending October 7th, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free.
Foreign— 13/- per annum.

WINNING CINNAMON CANARIES

The fine specimen at the top of our picture is a Yellow Cinnamon, the property of Mr. S. Wilson, Banchory. On its three times out it has won 4th in Young Birds' Crystal Palace, 1914; 1st at Lochgelly, 1915; and 2nd at Lambeth, 1915. The other is the Buff which has won for its owner, Mr. J. B. Adams, Woodford, 1st Prize at Watford, 1st at East Ham, 1st London and P.O.S., 2nd Leyton, and 2nd Holborn Hall.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 43, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS"

DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6." an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

LINNETS and other birds for sale: Apply to G. Baker, Catcher, 19, Frog-st., Exeter. (595)

WARRANTED cock Linnets, 4/- dozen, cash or deposit: R. Wiseman, 142, Chapel-st., Luton, Beds.

FIVE cage-moulted cock brown Linnets, full song, 2/6 each, 10/- the 5: Engram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull.

GOLDFINCH, selected cocks, warranted, 3/6 extra special 4/- each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (594)

SELECTED singing cock Goldfinches, three for 5/-; hens, three 2/6: Wm. Cook, 66, Kitchener-rd., Ipswich. (587)

FEW good white-legged Goldfinch cocks, guaranteed breeders; particulars: Rudd, Specialist, Norwich.

WANTED, all kinds of British birds, from catchers, best prices given: Enoch Powers, 89, Sclater-street, Shoreditch. (603)

BRITISH hardbills, exhibition or aviary, splendid selection; send for list: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres, N.B. (603)

TWO good cock Goldfinches, two hens, one cock Linnet, 5/- lot: P. Jenner, Eastern-rd., Haywards Heath, Sussex. (601)

EXHIBITION Linnet, Yellow Bunting, Chaffie and Redpoll; stamp reply: Stothard, 8, St. Paul's-st., Stockton-on-Tees. (506)

SELECTED Yellow Buntings, cocks, exhibition aviaries, etc., 1/6, 2/6, 3/6 each: H. Welsh, Cornstall Building, Stamford. (601)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

COCK Linnets, 2/- ½-doz., 3/6 doz., 6/- 2 doz.; every bird warranted, 5.30 train: Stoneham, 2, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne, Sussex. (593)

GRAND selected cock Linnets, 9d., 1/- each; Redpolls and Greenies, 6d. each: Henshaw, 24, Wesley-st., Cotmanhay, Ilkeston. (600)

EXCHANGE, young yellow or buff Yorkshire cock, for good Siskin or exhibition British: Knight, 46, Spencer-rd., Kentish Town. (601)

BIG winners, Bramblefinch, four 1sts, 30/-; Siskin, three 1sts, 20/-; Greenfinch, two 1sts, 20/-: Bancroft, Gorse Lane, Swansea. (602)

WANTED, White cock Goldfinch, Greenfinch, or Linnet, price and full particulars to: Goodman, 24, Bedford-rd., Kempston, Bedford. (582)

MOOR cock brown Linnets, 6/- dozen; exhibition, 3 for 2/-; old cocks; proud young ones, 9d. each: P. Cawood, 25, Britannia-st., Scarborough. (602)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Greenfinch, 1/-; cock Bullfinch, 5/6; cock Goldfinch, 3/-: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne.

TWICE house-moulted Goldfinch and 8 cock Linnets, from aviary, exchange for cock Mule, or sell, 12/-: Mrs. Armitage, 53, Ivy-rd., Luton, Beds. (600)

LINNETS, warrauted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

SELECTED cocks: Linnets, 1/-; Chaffinches, 8d.; Redpolls, Greenfinches, 6d. each; Yellow Buntings, 1/6 pair; approval: Garrod, 37, Spencer-rd., Rushden. (602)

COCKS: Larks, Linnets, singing, 1/-, 1/6 each; trap cages, 1/-, 2/-; spring nets, traps, 1/6, 2/- each: Brain, Poultry Farm, Lichfield-rd., Aston, Birmingham. (599)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

GRAND cock Goldfinches, 2/- each, three for 5/6; selected birds for showing or muling, 3/- each, three for 8/-; approval: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

FOUR picked cock Goldfinches, 3/6 each; three Roller hens, 3/- each; H.M. cock Bullfinch, 5/-; cock Goldfinch Mule, wild note, 7/6: Hands, Etnam-st., Leominster. (601)

BROWN Linnet, house-moulted, suit catcher, muler, or fierce singer, in full song, bargain, 3/6; full week's approval: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (604)

CATCH thousands birds alive, new double-compartment trap cages, including two large selected Finches (trained call-birds), only 3/3 complete; send postal orders: Mr. Copp, Stores, Dartford. (604)

EXHIBITION cock Twite, exceptional size, splendid col. and markings, 5/-; cock Lesser Redpoll, sure winner, 3/-; cock Chaffinch, perfect exhibition specimen, 2/6: C. Ross, St. Leonard's-rd., Forres. (603)

WARRANTED cock Linnets, 4/6 dozen; a few fit for catching, 1/-, 2/- each; a few will make quality singers, 2/6 and 3/6 each; travelling box, 3d.: W. Jones, 14, Pleasant-place, Neptune-st., Hull. (603)

A GREAT rarity, a white Linnet, in show trim, £1; a pair of charming Blue-tits, 3/6; a magnificent Coal-tit, 5/-; cock Bullfinch, 4/6; hen Bullfinch, 2/6; a large Redpoll, 2/-: Mrs. Kemp, 34, Tovey-place, Kentish Town. (603)

FOR sale, all twice aviary moulted, cocks: Linnet, Chaffinch, Redpoll, Canary, 2 Greenfinches; hens: Chaffinch, Redpoll, Yellowhammer, Bullfinch (laid eggs last two seasons), 2 Canaries; lot 12/6; stamp, particulars: L. Grigg, Shrift-st., Northampton. (601)

REAL English cock Goldfinches, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, three for 4/-, selected three for 6/-; few gems, 3/-; hens, 1/-; cock Linnets, 8d., 1/-; Redpolls, 6d., 9d.; buy from a catcher and get the cream of the fields: Broxup, Stock-st., Burnley. (604)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not fresh-caught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 6/- the six; three for 3/6, or 1/6 for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (583)

LINNET fanciers, two handsome very large clean moulted red-breasted cock Linnets, grand songsters, fine show specimens, make fine contest birds, 1/6 each, 2/6 two; approval; if not satisfied money returned: Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable. (603)

EXTRAORDINARY large finger-tame cock Linnet, well pencilled, good colour and on fine song, 2/6; also a good call Linnet and cage, 3/- lot; others on low song, 1/-, 1/6; approval willingly; Redpoll, a gem, 1/-: Fred Allen, Linnet Expert, Porter-st., Aviaries, Hull. (604)

COCK Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/6; Skylarks, Chaffinches, Yellowhammers, Linnets, 1/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d.; H.M. Siskin 5/-; Canaries 7/6, 10/-, hens 3/6; birdlime 9d., 1/4; pullets, hens, laying, 3/6; six and cockerel 22/6; ducks 2/9, five and drake 15/-: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan. (595)

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses; designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks, dust, from bird seed: Whitney, Reydon, Southwold. (600)

TEN-compartment rack cage, several box and flight cages, and fittings; see Rollers and Yorkshires; offers: Govan. (603)

THIRTY high-class breeding cages, all complete, up-to-date, 3/- each; show case and 3 cages, 7/6; Yorkshires: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (600)

SHOW cages, strictly Club pattern, Roller cages, 3/8, as supplied to members M.R.C.C.; Norwich, 2/6; Yorkshires, 2/3; British, 2/6 and 2/9 each: The Enterprise Cage Works, Dudley-rd., Wolverhampton.

SHOW cages by Palmer and others, sizes 12 x 16 inches, excellent condition, with feeding glasses, etc., complete; also 2 travelling boxes to contain 3 cages each; what offers: Dr. Keays, East Hoathley, Sussex.

EIGHTEEN double and single breeders, some never used, others this season; nest pans and hangers, hoppers, drinkers and hangers, egg dishes, seed cleaning machine, new; full particulars: Richards, Nurseries, Dursley. (602)

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/-, per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and fly 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets, half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, ¾in. mesh, 7½t. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard; all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins. wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanesse birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

BIRD HOUSES, £3 3s.

Lean-to roof, complete with floor, 6ft. x 3ft. x 6ft. high; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (603)

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP

Any size, with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogues of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN.

14 x 12, 4/6 dozen; 16 by 12, 5/3 dozen; 18 x 12, 6/- dozen; 24 x 12, 7/9 dozen; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6; punched bars, 12/- gross; for cheap window cages, box cages, bird baths, seed boxes, see illustrated catalogue; dealers send postcard: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (604)

WALSH'S

ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

Is always alike—good and reliable; does not run in the sun; packed in lever-lid tins. ¼lb. 10d., ½lb. 1/3, 1lb., 2/-; sample tin, 3d. Spring net traps, 2/6 each. Dealers send for special Trade Prices.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn

Tel.: 947 (577)

CLUB PATTERN SHOW CAGES

Best quality and finish. Norwich and Yorkshire 2/3, 6 for 12/6; British 2/3, 2/6, 2/9; Border 2/9, Crest 2/6, Roller 3/6. Pitchford's non-splash baths, complete, 9d., 10d., 1/-; why pay more for imitations? Punched bar cage-fronts, 12 x 9 x 10 x 12 5/- doz., 14 x 12 6/- doz., 16 x 12 6/8 doz., 18 x 12 7/6 doz., 24 x 12 10/- doz.; any special size made to order, 6d. per foot; travelling cases from 3/6; see illustrated price list for seed boxes, fountains, baths, sprayers, cages, white pottery utensils, bird foods; trade supplied: J. Pitchford, Fanciers' Stores, London-rd., Stoke-on-Trent.

CAGE FRONTS

12 by 12 5/- doz., 15 by 12 6/- doz., 18 by 12 7/6 doz., 24 by 12 10/- doz., odd sizes made to order; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6, 48/- cwt.; punched bars, 1/3 doz., 12/- gross; seed mills, 1/6; egg mills, 2/-, 3/6; Tam's latest non-splash bath, 4in. 10d., 4½in. 1/-, 5in. 1/3, 6in. 1/6; Norwich Yorkshire, British show cages 2/3 each; see price list for Roller cages, box cages, breeding cages, all cage fittings; send postcard.

ENOCH TAMS,

CHURCH STREET, LONGTON, STAFFS.

BIRDS FOR NOTHING

See "Cage Birds" of August 26, 1916, page, 492, coloumn three—THAT WILL TELL YOU.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softbills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in Europe; see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Just read this one example:—"Sept., 1916, Ipswich: Please send another tin of birdlime. It is the strongest I have ever used, yet I find it easy to clean off the birds.—E. Gooderham." Lot of Second-hand and NEW PARROT CAGES, from One Shilling each. Patent Anti-Mite Perches; list free. Giant Double-screened Canary Seed, cheapest in England. Birds, Fish, and Animals preserved and mounted in any style by a Gold and Silver Medallist. NO CONNECTION with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage, of Holborn, or direct from

W. RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

FOODS.

RIPE privet berries, 160 large hunches, 1/-, post paid: Wm. Young, Misterton, Somerset. (600)

ANTS' eggs, 2/6, 3/- lb.; dried egg yolk, special, 2/6 lb.; special prices in quantities: L. Cura and Sons, Bath Court, Warner-st., Clerkenwell-rd., London, E.C.

WALSH'S freshly-gathered mixed wild seeds, the natural food for all British seedeaters, 6d. quart, 1/9 gallon, 3/- peck; dealers send for special prices: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/6 lb.; yolk of eggs, 3/- lb.; insectivorous food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush food, 6d. lb.; mealworms, 500 2/-, 1,000 3/6; live white gentles, 1,000 1/-: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

FAR CHEAPER THAN EGGS

Yet made from New-laid English Eggs, and sold with guaranteed Analytical and Microscopical Reports, by Arthur Hill Hassall, M.D., and Francis Sutton, Esq., F.I.C., F.C.S.

EGGERTINE

Best and purest Egg Food ever known. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3, post free. Sample box, 4d.

RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

ERRINGTON'S

XL RED FEED

is guaranteed to be of the finest quality tasteless pepper, and free from any added oil or sugar; 1lb. 1/11, 2lb. 3/6, or 4lb. for 6/3; all post free; send stamp for sample to: W. Errington, Reliable Seedsman, Bradford. (506)

GENUINE SPANISH CANARY.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaners, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.	224lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-	62/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary	4/6	16/-	31/-	57/6
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-	54/6

Samples and Full List of Seeds Free on Application.

WALSH,

BIRD FOOD SPECIALIST, BLACKBURN.

Tel. 947. (586)

WALSH'S

Pure Tasteless Pepper.

Specially imported for colour feeding cage birds. The best and richest coloured pepper obtainable. 1lb. 1/9, 3lbs. 5/-, 7lbs. 10/6. Original sealed 22lb. tins, 27/6 each. Walsh's celebrated Egg Bread and Walsh's Insectivorous Food, with or without colour, 1/6 lb., 3lbs. 4/-, 7lbs. 8/6. Hot Natal Pepper, 2/6 lb., 3lbs. 7/-. Sulphate of Iron, 1/- lb. To Dealers and Secretaries: Special quotations for quantities.

WALSH,

Bird Food Specialist, BLACKBURN.

NOT SINGING.

SOFT MOULT.

DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather-plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The ideal Tonic for birds during the Moulting Season. DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC for Bronchitis, Wheezing, and Hoarseness. Absolutely unequalled for all chest and lung affections. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for Weak and Delicate Birds.

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM

(556)

BOOKS.

BUTLER'S "Foreign Finches for Aviaries," 60 life size coloured plates, published £1 15/-, 17/6; "Bird Life of London," 24 plates, illustrating 120 birds, 3/6; "Bird, Useful and Harmful," 85 plates, 3/6, new; postage extra: Ford, Naturalist, Bournemouth. (563)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

COCK Hawfinch 7/6, hens 2/6; Lesser Spotted Woodpecker; Magpie, rare size and condition, 7/6; exhibition Nuthatch, 5/-; cock Bullfinches 2/-, 2/6, hens 1/-, 1/6; Chaffinch, 1/-; Yellow Buntings, 1/-, 1/6; cock Linnet, 1/-; cock Goldfinches 2/-, 2/6, 3/6; three dozen cock Chaffinches 10/-; clearing aviary; not fresh caught: W. G. Poole, Stratford-on-Avon. (503)

SELECTED Greypates, somo in colour, others not so far advanced, but showing promise of expansive blazes; prices 7/6 and 5/- each; smaller 3/6 each; a few 3 x 6 for muling, 4/- each; specially picked 1916 cock Greenfinches, 3/6 each; young Linnets, 2/- each; stamp for reply: W. F. Lloyd James, Luntley Court, Pembridge, R.S.O. (602)

NORTH Country cock Linnets, cannot be beaten for size and colour; specials, picked out, 1/-, three for 2/6. I have some rare good call-birds, been out with nets for weeks, 2/6 each; clap-nets, 9 x 3, single, 2/-; double 3/6; finest thread, complete; Indian grass lime twigs, limed ready to set 2/- 100; exchange nets or show birds for cycle; callers note: being a catcher and net-maker, don't look for a bird-shop; I don't keep one: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (603)

LINNETS! Linnets!!! Linnets!!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

GOLDFINCHES, warranted cocks, 2/-, 2/6, 3/- each; hens, 1/- each; 100 cock Linnets, all in separate cages, on free song, 1/- each, three 2/-; worth treble; few extra large nicely pencilled, 1/6, 2/6 each; monster cock Greenfinches, like paint, 1/- each; Redpolls, 9d. each; exhibition specimens, 1/6 each; travelling cages, 3d. and 6d. extra; all the above are exactly as advertised; inspection invited. Wanted, Canaries, Mules, etc.: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (602)

GOLDFINCHES. Linnets.—Notice to the Birmingham advertisers, I am open to pay 13/- per dozen for all the cock Goldfinches they can bring me; money speaks all languages; why be fooled? Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, on hard seed and song, 2/- each, three for 5/-; few picked, very large cocks, 2/6, 3/-, and 3/6 each, three for 7/6; two absolute gems, 5/- each; glorious red-breasted cock Linnets, 9d. each, 3 for 2/-; few picked birds for size and song, 1/6, 2/-, and 2/6 each; cock Greenfinches, Redpolls, Chaffinches, 9d. each; two-compartment trap cage and call-bird, 1/6; three-compartment ditto, 2/-; call-cages, 8d. each; over 500 birds in stock; wanted, hen Canaries, hen Finch Mules, 1/6 each given; sample bird lime and Linnet whistles, 4d. each, post free; birds bought, sold, or exchanged; travelling cages, 3d. and 6d. extra; all birds warranted sound and healthy, and sex guaranteed: Bedford, late Gore's, 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (604)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnats, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

WANTED TO PURCHASE,
WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE,

GOLDFINCHES
BULLFINCHES.
LINNETS.
And all other British Birds.

Cash on receipt. Please submit offers immediately

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

GOLDFINCHES, BULLFINCHES, LINNETS

Redpolls, real English cock Goldfinches, 2/-, 2/6, three 5/-, selected three 6/-; hens, 1/-, three 2/6; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/- each; hen Bullfinches, 1/-, 1/6; Lancashire cock Linnets, 9d., three 1/9, six 3/-, 6/- dozen; Redpolls, 6d., three 1/-, six 1/6, extra special selected cock Goldfinches and cock Bullfinches, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each, special selected cock Linnets, for showing and muling, 2/-, 2/6 each; show Redpolls, 1/-, 1 6 each; best bird lime, ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/2, 1lb. 2/-, postage free: Matt. Hopkins, Bird Specialist, 88, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. Est. 1895. (599)

Softbills.

TRUE pair tame Great Tits, fine birds, 7/6: H. Gardiner, Veitchpark, Haddington. (599)

COCK Wheatear, been caged 6 weeks, beauty; what offer?: Higgins, 1, Mary-st., Tyldesley. (603)

YORKSHIRE cock Larks, grand upstanding birds, 1/- each, three for 2/6: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (580)

SKYLARK, cock warranted sing indoors or out, perfectly tame, 3/6: Prior, Parkside Cottage, Thorley, Bishop's Stortford. (587)

THRUSHES, Blackbirds, cocks, warranted thoroughly tamed, singing, healthy, 3/6: Crisp, South Mill, Bishop's Stortford. (593)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 20 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable (599)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, very loud, can be matched to sing any in this country, good contest bird or shop attraction, 1 6; secret of feeding free; approval anywhere: George Holt, Dunstable. (601)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

Miscellaneous.

WANTED, British birds, all kinds: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (600)

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).

PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finchas.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Ilenson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKierman, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§ Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gosthing, 153, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Gluman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Trea Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dawsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶ A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgoss St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Rayner, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 53, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotta St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 67, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merrlat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portamouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶ Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury Terrace, Dunstable, would like to send on approval two beautiful singing cock Linnets, also a Skylark, at 1/6 each; would suit bird dealer for shop front attraction, catchers catchers for call-birds. (601)

COCK brown Linnets, 4/6 dozen; Redpolls, 2/6 dozen; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; large cocks, 3/- each; Robins, Blue-tits, 1/6 pair; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, Skylarks, 1/- pair; selected cocks, 1/- each; 12 mixed aviary seed birds, 1/6; water hens, 2/6 each: Fenn and Son, Bower's-lane, Isleham, Cambs.

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

TYPICAL Borders, from 7/6, approval: Hislop, 114, Baker-st., Stirling. (602)

BORDER show cages wanted, reasonable: Warburton, 73, Ellesmere-rd., Lower Walton, Warrington.

WANTED, Borders, cocks and hens, good prices paid; offers to: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn.

SPLENDID Border Canaries, cocks, singing lovely, 7/6 each; hens, 3/- each; approval: Heron, Burnside, Castle-Douglas. (604)

NOTICE! Grand lot Borders for show or song; prices low, easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BORDERS, buff green cock, 5/6; two buff green, two buff variegated hens, 3/6 each; 1916 bred; 17/- the lot: David Rea, 1, Hill-road, Arbroath. (603)

GRAND lot of green Border Fancies for show or stock; prices reasonable taken; approval, stamp reply: D. Sturrock, 1, Lawrence-st., Dundee. (600)

Cinnamons.

FOUR grand colour-fed unflighted Cinnamon cocks, two yellows, two buffs; father of same has won 1st every time out; mother the famous Nunes strain; £1 each: S. Varley, 40, Pontefract-rd., Castleford, Yorks. (604)

Crests and Crestbreds.

GOOD Crests for sale, from 15/-; state wants: Williamson, Fairfield Common, Buxton. (603)

WANTED, 1 buff and 1 yellow Crested hen, 1916 bred, crests full in front and sides: Penn, 19, Garden-rd., Folkestone. (601)

NOTICE! Grand lot Crests and Crestbreds; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

DO YOU WANT A BARGAIN?

Owing to removal, all my Crests for sale. Grand var. C.B. hen, 1915, 2nd at Glasgow, hard to beat this year, and a grand var. Crest cock, £10 the pair; others from £3 a pair; also 12 S.C.C.C. show cages, 15/- for the lot: McNaughton, Dumpace, Larbert, Stirlingshire. (595)

MUST CLEAR.

1916

CRESTS and CRESTBREDS

Also some splendid stock birds; winners; Mr. Evins' and Davey strains; £1 to £20. Can be seen by writing for appointment.

Mr. VERNON, Ashton, Cavendish Place, BOURNEMOUTH. (599)

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

F. J. LACCOHEE, Breeder and Exhibitor of high-class Norwich; reliable birds from 10/6; approval: 92, St. George's-st., Norwich. (593)

SIX cocks, 1/6 each, or 36/- lot: Missenden, Holly House, Chingford, Essex. (600)

NICE Norwich cock, with good cage, 6/6, bargain: Coward, Bay, Gillingham, Dorset. (601)

WILL give 8/- pair for good Norwich: Enoch Powers, 80, Sclater-st., Shoreditch. (602)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (602)

1915 BUFF cock, 10/-; yellow hen, 5/-, good colour, type, quality, 14/- pair: Buck, 3, Westbourne-terr., Hove. (600)

LARGE yellow ticked Norwich stock cock, 10/6, good buff variegated hen, 5/-: Thomas Clark, 23, Queen-st., Peterhead. (601)

NOTICE! Grand lot Norwich; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

PRIZE-BRED Norwich cocks, from 7/6; hens, 4/- upwards, seen any time: J. F. Mitchell, 724, Oldham-rd., Failsworth, Manchester. (601)

WANTED, a Norwich yellow hen, unflighted, for stock, a large bird, good price for suitable bird: Penn, 19, Garden-rd., Folkestone. (601)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, has still remaining the best of last year's stock, also those bred this season. All large and healthy. All for sale. (596)

D. DEVOY, breeder and exhibitor of high-class Norwich, stock birds from 10/- each; pairs from 20/-; inquiries solicited: 23, George-st., Stranraer, Scotland. (603)

BERT LEWIS, diploma winner.—1915 ticked buff cock, typical, massive head, 35/-; 1915 yellow green cock, 35/- cash, approval, or deposit Editor: 38, Morley-st., Kettering. (602)

LARGE eye-ticked buff hen, ready for the bench, 60/-; clear ditto, rather smaller, 40/-; cap marked fit for small show, 15/6; others reasonable; approval: Miles' Aviaries, Chichester. (603)

HAVING had a good season with my Norwich Greens, I can offer some first-class show birds from 40/- each, stock birds, the same blood, on approval, from 10/- each: Jenkins, 82, Church-st., Widnes.

EXCEPTIONAL bargains in Norwich; one ticked buff cock, 10/6; one dark variegated buff, 10/6 and 12/6; colour fed variegated, £1; another, 25/-; colour fed hen dark variegated, 12/-; large buff ticked, 17/6: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (602)

CHAMPION Norwich; 1915 variegated buff cock, Allsopp's Cardiff direct strain, 30/-; also 1915 clear yellow hen, from Hulse, 20/-; 1916 eye tick buff cock and two clear buff hens from above, 20/- the three; approval, deposit: Davies, Tyn-y-Fawnog, Hinovwig, Cwm-y-Glo, North Wales. (590)

CALLED up: Extra good buff cock, grand size, splendid head, 40/-; or exchange for cycle, value 50/-; grizzle-cap buff cock, 27/6; clear buff cock, 20/-; wing-marked buff cock, 12/6; clear buff cock, 10/-; two clear yellow cocks, 20/-, 15/-; foul-marked yellow cock, 9/-; saddle-marked buff hen, 12/6; marked yellow hen, 9/-; wing-marked yellow hen, 9/-; all colour-fed, 1916 birds; stamp; approval: Porteous, Westend, Biggar.

HOPKINS' CHAMPION NORWICH

Three grand hens for disposal, 30/- each: J. and J. Hopkins, Mouse Trap Inn, Disley, Cheshire. (602)

MUST CLEAR.

Some Splendid Norwich

(Winners at best shows). Mr. Baker's and Gill and Pethwick's strains. 1916 and stock birds. A few beautiful Yellow Greens, Harding's strain. Can be seen by writing for appointment.

Mr. VERNON, Ashton, Cavendish Place, BOURNEMOUTH. (599)

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.B.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heatbfield, Sussex. (160)

1915 Schoolmaster, pure Randall, 25/-; Hill, 58 Joshua-rd., Sheffield. (603)

TWO good Roller hens, 2/6 each, cheap: S. Atkinson, 15, Wellington-st., Redditch. (601)

BRITISH Rollers, Randall's; details, stamp reply: approval: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (601)

GRAND songsters, 7/6, 10/6 each; ten days' approval: W. Powick, Lastfield Cottage, Dewsbury.

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6; Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

ROLLERS, 1916, over moult, Greens and Variegated, 10/6 pair; approval: Chamberlain, Talbot, Llantrisant, Glamorgan. (600)

TWELVE young, as bred, 6 cocks noted, Randall's, offers; exchange Crests, air-gun, sell £3; see Yorkshires: Govan. (603)

NOTICE! Grand lot Rollers, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, has still remaining a number of the best of last year's stock, also those bred this year. (596)

SEVERAL 1916 cocks for sale, 12/6, singing nicely; also a few good hens, 3/- and 3/6 each: Yarham, 49, Portnall-rd., Paddington, W. (601)

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

SPLENDID Roller Canary, with hanging cage, 10/6; one pair in good breeding cage, 17/6; two pairs in large double breeding cage, 32/6: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (602)

GENUINE Roller breeders; having surplus 1916 cocks for disposal, are requested to write, giving price and particulars to: Alpin, Sunnyside, Skelmanthorpe. No rubbish wanted. (599)

Solid Facts, Not Bunkum

Cooper's John Bull strain of Roller Canaries are recognised by all the leading fanciers as the very best obtainable; Roller cocks, in full rolling song, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, and 12/6 each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each, packed free, sent any distance; best Roller rape seed, 7lbs. 4/6, cash with order: Cooper, Roller Canary King, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. Estab. 1884. (590)

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!
Grand singing Roller cocks, pure notes, over moult, 7/-, 8/-, and 10/- each; hens, same strain, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each: all birds strong and healthy; hundreds of testimonials: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (604)

MUST CLEAR,

FIRST-CLASS ROLLERS

MISS THOMAS' STRAIN.
Hens 5/-, cocks 15/- to 20/-.
Also some grand Goldfinch Mules. Can be seen by writing for appointment.
Mr. VERNON, Ashton, Cavendish Place, BOURNEMOUTH.
(599)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

MESSRS. AMBLERS, the old Bradford firm, breeders of biggest champions and winners highest honours possible over 30 years, many championships Crystal Palace, including championship for best Yorkshire last Palace show; few of the best Yorkshires living for sale; exhibition or stock; finest quality and type in existence; pairs 15/- to 60/-; approval; satisfaction guaranteed: 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)
YORKSHIRE hen Canary and cage, 6/6, young bird: Miss Young, St. Aubyns, Dorking. (600)
HIGH-CLASS Yorkshires, colour-fed, own breeding, sell cheap: Barfe, Pateley Bridge. (601)
WILL give 8/- per pair for good Yorkshires: Enoch Powers, 89, Selater-st., Shoreditch. (603)
CHOICE champion youngsters, cocks from 7/6, hens 5/6: Knight, 46, Spencer-rd., Kentish Town. (601)
SIX young, as bred, 3 cocks noted; see Rollers; sell 12/-; no cards: Govan, Cardrona, Peebles. (603)
CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)
GRAND singing Yorkshire cocks, over moult, lengthy birds, 7/- and 8/- each: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (604)
1915 YELLOW cock, 8/6; buff hen, 3/6; good colour, type, quality, breeders, feeders: Black, 3, Westbourne-terr., Hove. (600)
CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (580)
OWING to war service, must dispose immediately, ten pairs prize-bred Yorks., 10s. pair; cash; approval: Batten, Rosevean-rd., Penzance. (601)
NOTICE! Grand lot Yorkshires; many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.
YORKSHIRE cocks, winners, or bred from winners, yellow, variegated, and buff, from 15/-; hens, 5/-; selling to make room: Miss Garland, Barkham Manor, Wokingham. (601)
CHEAP to clear, a few good class birds, cocks, 8/6, 10/6; hens, 3/6; Roller hens, 2/6; one white young Norwich, 4/-; approval, deposit: Taylor, St. Michaels, Bridport, Dorset. (600)
YORKSHIRES, one pair 1916, with double breeding cage, 20/-; also three hens (one 1916, two 1915), good breeders, with double breeding cage, 20/-; lot, 37/6: Woonton, The Strand, Blaengarw, Glam. (604)
PRIZE-BRED 1916 yellow cock, 30/-; buff hen, 20/-; yellow marked cock, 30/-; buff marked cock, 20/-; few cocks, 12/6 upwards; hens, 10/- upwards; approval, deposit: John Radley, 250, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, near Huddersfield. (600)
GRAND pair prize bred Yorkshires, ticked yellow cock, grand upstanding bird, fine quality, 30/-, and rare buff hen to match, 15/-, or £2 the pair; Ambler's strain; approval, cash: Jas. Thomson, 99, Lumphinnans-rd., Lochgelly, Fife. (599)
CHAMPION Yorkshires, now ready, colour-fed to perfection; cocks, on song, 8/6, 10/6 each; hens at 4/-, 5/- upwards; matched pairs for breeding, showing, etc., from 11/6; six days' approval; Norwich same prices: Edwin Nortb, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (594)
YORKSHIRE Canaries, 2/2, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Containe complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various Canaries.

FOR sale, 1916 cock Canaries, from 6/- each: 3, Commercial-rd., Bulwell. (592)
CANARIES, 1916, one dozen, 3/- each by dozen, as bred: B., 38, Fant Lane, Maidstone. (600)
BARGAIN. Grand lot cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton-pl., Castle Douglas. 1916 green Border cocks, 6/- each; 2 hens, 3/- each; two York cocks, 10/- each: W. Davey, 25, Portland-place, Devonport. (601)
CANARIES, cocks and hens, good birds, what cash offers, owner enlisting: Cobb, Alma Villa, Shalstone Road, Mortlake, Surrey. (601)
FOUR grand extra long 1916 Yorkshire cocks, 8/6 each; Roller hen, 4/-, good mother: Clarke, 33, East-ave., Woodlands, Doncaster. (600)
NORWICH, Yorkshire, Roller, and Border Canaries, splendid variety, reasonable prices; send for list: Sutherland, Ramboddle, Forres. (603)
25 1915 and 1916 Norwich hens, all colours, including 7 Cinnamons, all large birds, various prices: also some Borders: D. Murray, Watchmaker, Dingwall. (599)
OFFERS wanted for following: 2 Norwich hens, 5 Roller hens, 1 Yorkshire cock, cash, or anything (lot or separate): R. H. Barber, Westgate, Southwell, Notts. (601)
TEN Yorkshire and Yorks. Norwich cocks, just on song, from 7/6. Several hens, from 3/-; offers for lot considered: seen by appointment: Goldie, 19, Manse Road, Stoke Newington, London, N. (603)

MULES—HYBRIDS.

1916 LARGE cock Goldfinch-Greenfinch Hybrids, 20/- each: F. Mascall, Stansted, Essex. (601)
TWO good cock Goldfinches, exchange cock Goldfinch or Linnet Mule, must be pure note. Clements, Jeyne's-row, Tewkesbury. (604)
WANTED, any quantity of Goldfinch or Linnet Mules, will give best price obtainable.—Enoch Powers, 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch. (603)

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL" FOR 1916.

The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers

NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL, PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

GRAND 1915 cock Linnet Mule, wild notes; 1916 Goldfinch Mule, sex uncertain, 10/- two, bargain: Robinson, 35, Bridge End Road, Grantham. (601)
1916 COCK Linnet Mule, 6/6; three Norwich hen Canaries, 5/- each, 12/6 the three; all bred Mules; approval, deposit: G. Hannies, Kensington House, Goodwick. (603)
GRAND pair of 1916 Goldfinch-Bullfinch Hybrids, cock and hen, clean moulted, also parents of same, 50/- the lot, or would separate: Welsh, Reform-st., Stamford. (600)
WANTED, 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)
HOUSE-moulted cock Linnet, bred Mules, 1916 clear yellow Norwich hen, 8/6 pair; buff Norwich cock, grand type, size, 8/6: Delf, 40, Co-op.-terr., Newsham, Northumberland. (603)
GENUINE Sibs., buff hen, bred 3-pointed Mules, 30/-; buff hen, bred 4-pointed Mule, 25/-; hens, bred variegated, 10/- each; cocks, 10/- each: Rowley, Elston, Crediton. (600)
HYBRID breeders, hand-reared cock Bullfinch and young house-moulted hen Chaffinch, 1/- the pair, or exchange two house-moulted Linnets, cocks: Hares, York-square, Richmond, Yorks. (601)

FOREIGN BIRDS.

FINE adult Cockatiels, outdoor aviary, 10/-: Belaney, Glen Road, Hollington, Sussex. (600)
STRONG, healthy Budgerigars, 5/6 pair; 4 pairs, 20/-: Dodd, Bulmer, Sudbury, Suffolk. (604)
CALIFORNIAN Quail, 4 cocks, 3/- each: Woodman, 208, Ann's Hill Road, Gosport, Hants. (600)
GOOD healthy King Doves, 2/6 pair: Amery, 20, St. John's Villas, Upper Holloway, London. (600)
TWO cock Cockatiels, splendid condition, 20/-; 16 months old: Denbighs, Heath-rd., Ripley, Derby.
BUDGERIGARS; outdoor breeding pairs; Green 6/6; Yellow, 7/6: Church, Grocer, Sudbury, Suffolk.
PAIR adult Golden Pheasants and pair young, £2 10/-, or offers: F. Mascall, Stansted, Sussex. (601)
STRONG outdoor breeding pairs Green Budgerigars, 6/6: Amery, 20, St. John's Villas, Upper Holloway, London. (600)
PARADISE cock Whydah, in colour; giving up outdoor aviary: Miss Keys, 14, Grange-rd., Upper Norwood, S.E. (599)
WANTED, all kinds of foreign birds, Parrots, monkeys, etc., for spot cash: Enoch Powers, 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch. (603)
TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)
BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 6/6 pair; yellows, 7/6; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)
STRONG, healthy outdoor aviary-bred Rosellas, 35/- each; now in perfect plumage: H. Earl, Earsham House, Bungay, Suffolk. (600)
BUDGERIGARS for sale, prize-winning strain, from outdoor aviary: cocks 3/-; approval: John Struth, Bonnybridge, Scotland. (599)
FEW first-class talking Grey Parrots for sale, on approval; special Parrot list free on application: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn.
FOR sale, 9 Budgerigars, 4 hens, and 5 cocks, all in breeding condition, accept £1 5/- for the lot: Apply, John Walkden, 170, Scholes, Wigan. (600)
NOTICE! Grand lot Green and Yellow Budgerigars; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.
NOTICE! Grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger: price reasonable; easy payment arranged: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.
BUDGERIGARS, outdoor bred, beautiful birds, greens, 3/- each; exchange Cockatiels, other Foreigners: Henry Sissons, 8, Potter-st., Worksop (600)
WANTED for aviary, screeching Parrots, Cockatoos, and Parrakeets, cheap for cash; dumb birds and backward talkers not objected to: Cobb's Aviaries, Dartford. (604)
COCK Madagascar, 8/6; hen Red-billed Weaver, 4/6; exceptional adult Budgies, Greens, 7/6; yellows, 10/6 pair; wanted Gouldian Finches: Rev. Raynor, Hazeleigh Rectory, Maldon. (600)
WANTED, one pair of Parrakeets each: Bourke's, Turquoisine, Blood-rumped, must be good breeders and acclimatised; state lowest prices: Meredith, 4, Queen Anne's, Bideford, Devon. (595)
REDRUMPS, Breeders, 1914, 1915, 1916, £5; another pair, finest ever seen, £5; hen Black-cheeked Lovebird, breeder, 30/-; two young Peach-faced, 30/- each; cage bred: Goodwin, 185, Old Kent-rd., London.
ALL acclimatised: Yellow Budgerigars, All Green and Ring-necked Parrakeets, Peach-faced Lovebirds, Weavers, Whydahs, Grey Waxbill, hen Cockatiel, and hen Yellow-throated Sparrow. No postcards: C/o Page, Langstone, Lingfield.
PARROTS for companions, tame, and including some first-class talkers, all from private owners; particulars of each bird free; can be sent with or without new or second-hand cages. My place is not a shop: Rudd, Specialist, Norwich.
VERY large handsome Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, splendid talker, swearing only fair't, five years old, in best of health and feather accept 50/- with cage, honestly worth £5; also nice young Rock Parrot, saw few words, will make a good one, 20/-: Engram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull. (601)
AVIARY, new last November, cost £30, accept £12, carriage paid; Peach-face Lovebirds, 70/-; guaranteed acclimatised and true breeding pair, show condition; young from above, 30/- each; pairs Californian Quail, 17 6 pair: 3 pairs, 50/-; hen Scarlet Tanager, 30/-; take £7 10/- for lot: Rattigan, Caersws, Montgomeryshire. (602)
THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown, Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once, 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).
ALL privately imported. Indian Glossy Starlings (young hand-reared birds), young H.R. Golden Oriole, pair Bank Mynahs, rare Jungle Babbler, rare Indian Green Barbets (young H.R. birds), Blue-checked Barbet, Japanese Robin, Yellow-backed Lory, Button Quail, Bengal Pittas (pair hand-reared), Gold-fronted Green Bulbuls, B.H. Nuns, Ind. Silverbills, Himalayan Goldfinches, and Blossom-headed Parrakeets. No postcards: Page, Langstone, Lingfield.

WEAVERS

300 pairs Weavers, magnificent birds, cocks halk in colour, 8/6 pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

KING PARRAKEET

Young King Parrakeet (Psittacus cyanopygus, Russ.), head now coming into colour; call or stamp reply: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London.

INDIAN STOCK

Just arrived, magnificent stock of Indian Ringnecks, Rock Parrots, and Parrakeets: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DE VON AND CO.

114, Bethnal Green-rd., London.—Zebra Finches, 15/- pair; Californian Quail, 20/-; Budgerigars, 6/6; yellows, 7/6 pair; Canary-wing Parrakeet, 15/-; Green Singing Finch, 8/-; price lists. (600)

LIST OF BIRDS.

All in Pairs unless otherwise stated.

PARRAKEETS.

	£. s. d.
Pair of Plumheads	2 0 0
Odd cock, defective eye, but in perfect health	10 0
Indian Ring-necked, have bred	17 6
Cactus Conures, have bred	1 10 0
Enops Conures	2 10 0
Peach-faced Lovebirds, breeding	3 10 0
Red-faced Lovebirds, particularly fine pair	2 5 0
Hen Canary-wing	1 0 0
Hen Half-moon Conure	10 0
Cock All Green	15 0
Cock Red-collared Lorikeet, very fine	1 15 0

WAXBILLS, ETC.

Blue-breasted	1 10 0
Cordon Bleus	1 10 0
Orange-breasted	1 2 6
Fire Finches	1 0 0
Bar-breasted do.	1 7 6
Orange-cheeks	10 6
Pink-cheeks	10 6
Avadavats	10 6
Several cock do., in fine colour	6 0
Lavender Finches	1 5 0
1 odd cock (rather rough)	7 6
2 Orange-breasted (1916 bred)	17 6
Black-faced Quail Finches, Black-cheeked (not recently imported)	1 10 0

FINCHES, ETC.

4 young Cuban	2 0 0
1 Pair Olives	1 5 0
1 Hen Hooded Siskin	1 10 0
Zebras, adult pairs	15 0
Do., several young, each	6 0
Napoleon Weavers (cock)	7 6
Hens and young, each	3 0
Longtailed Grass	1 10 0
Hybrid Longtailed and Masked, each	10 6
Pope Cardinals	17 6
Pekin Nightingales	1 2 6
Grey-winged Ouzels	1 0 0
African Zosterops	2 2 0
Chestnut-breasted (cock only)	10 6
Rosellas, remarkably fine breeding pair	3 15 0
Their 3 young, £1 each, the 3	3 15 0
Californian Quail, adult pair, have bred	1 0 0
Do., odd cock	7 6

BRITISH SOFTBILLS, ETC.

Redstarts	8 6
Tree Creepers	1 5 0
Sedge Warblers	12 6
Nuthatches	10 0
3 Longtailed Tits	1 0 0
3 Golden-crested Wrens	1 0 0
1 Hen Wheatear	7 6
1 Hen Reed Warbler	7 6
1 Cock Nightingale	1 7 6
1 Cock Whinchat	7 6
Golden Pheasants, cocks in full colour	15 0
Do., Hens	7 6

Dr. Keays, who has joined the Army, and will shortly be leaving, is disposing of all his birds. All are in exceedingly fine condition, and there are no recent purchases among them. As the birds are still flying loose in the aviaries, neither immediate delivery nor the sex of all birds can be guaranteed, but a genuine effort will be made to send only true pairs, and as soon after the order has been received as possible. Reasonable offers will be entertained.
Address: DR. KEAYS, EAST HOATHLY, SUSSEX.

BLUE-WINGED LOVEBIRDS

full wings and tail, in magnificent show plumage, 20/- pair: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

We expect to receive a consignment of Foreign Birds from South Africa, in time for sale at Clapham Show, on Wednesday and Thursday next, Oct. 11 and 12.
T. J. HOSE, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell, S.E.

Baya Weavers, from Bombay, in magnificent plumage, very rare, 10/6 each; Jendayi Conures, 21/- each; Golden Breasts, 15/- each; Levalliants Amazons, 60/- pair.

MACAWS

magnificent plumages, tame, talking Illigers Macaws, 30/- each: Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

AUSTRALIAN STOCK

Arrived, a magnificent lot of Galahs, also Blue Mountain Lories, Scaley Breasts, Rosellas, Mealy Rosellas, Leadbeater Cockatoos, Zebra Finches, etc.: Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

ZEBRA FINCHES

in good hard condition, 15/- pair, hens 8/6 each Blue Mountain Lories, 50/- each; Scaley Breasted Lories, 65/- each; Rosellas, 20/- each; Leadbeater Cockatoos, 60/- each: Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

PARROTS

arrived Monday, Sept. 10th, 465 grand selected Blue-fronted Amazons, also Conures, monkeys, etc.; send for list. Over 2,000 Parrots and Parrakeets arrived during the last month: G. B. Chapman, Parrot Aviaries, Birmingham.

BUDGERIGARS

Gold medal strain, Green Budgerigars, 7/6 pair, hens 3/9; Yellows 9/- pair, hens 4/-; these birds are in magnificent plumage, very deep markings; safe arrival guaranteed: G. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)
Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

TALKING PARROTS

To those who are wanting a genuine Grey or Green Parrot, at the moment we have a magnificent lot of genuine trained talking Parrots, including African Greys, Blue-fronted, Double-fronted, Golden-naped, Yellow-fronted, White-fronted, and Red-fronted Amazons, Indian Rock Parrots, Ringnecks, Macaws, Cockatoos, etc. At the moment we have over 1,000 genuine Parrots, Cockatoos, and Parrakeets in stock; inspection invited; the largest importer of Parrots in England: G. B. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham. Telegrams: "Parrakeet." 'Phone: "Central 689." 11

VARIOUS BIRDS.

TWO large cock Robins, grand feather, 3s. each; Thrush show cage, new condition, 4/-: R. Robertson, 4, Hosefield-rd., Aberdeen. (602)

EXCHANGE H.M. cock Goldfinch, full song, for breeding Yellow hen Budgerigar; yours first: Thomas, 10, Ardrigh-rd., Dublin. (602)

NETTED Welsh Linnets, well on hard seed, 1/-; selected 1/6; also Roller cocks, Randall's strain: C. Huntley, 12, Temple-st., Maesteg, South Wales. (600)

ALL cocks: Linnet Mule, 8/6; Linnet, father of above, 5/6; Greenfinch Mule, 5/6; Yorkshire Canaries, 5/6 to 10/6: T. Lister, Beech Holm, Leven, Fife. (606)

FOR sale, 1 cock Goldfinch (muler), 2 muling hens, 1 light, 1 Roller cock, 2 cages, 1 three-compartment breeder, complete; 1 Brighton; first p.o. for 30s. gets the lot: Williams, 47, South-st., Bargoed, Glamorganshire. (601)

SPLENDID cock Canaries, full song, 6/6, 7/6, and 8/6 each; hens, 2/6 and 3/6; selected cock brown Linnets, grand songsters, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Skylarks, full song, 2/6 each; talking Parrots, 25/-, 30/-, 40/- each; sent any distance.—Princess Aviaries, Princess-st., Manchester. (600)

SELL two Goldfinch Mules, 15/-, 12/-, Finch notes; four Roller cocks, 1916 birds, 9s. each; noe Norwich clear, £1; two hens, 3/-; two Linnet Mules, 10/-; two double breeders, 9/-; two Linnets, 3/- each; or exchange talking Parrot or centre second chronograph watch; approval, no rubbish offered or wanted: James Norburn, 47, Station-rd., Worsbrodale, nr. Barnsley. (402)

WANTED.

WANTED, birds, dogs, poultry, ferrets: Jopson, Newton Heath, Mauchester. (604)

HEN Bullfinch, for catching, must be cheap, hard times: Wilbee, Botley, Hants. (602)

WANTED any quantity of young Canaries: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (500)

WANTED, Canaries and Mule birds, all classes: Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (586)

WANTED, cock Linnet, full song, used to the grass, approval: Turner, 4, Southgate, Sleaford. (601)

WANTED, Larks, Linnets, cocks, 4/- dozen given, any quantity weekly: King, Capel-st., Dublin. (604)

WANTED Linnet Mule in song, good price given; approval, deposit: Robinson's Boot Stores, Alnwick.

WANTED, big, healthy Norwich, will give 10/- pair upwards for good birds: Scott, 110, Roebank-st., Glasgow. (604)

WILL buy for cash, any quantity hen Canaries, hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/- each: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (600)

WANTED, two large yellow Norwich hen Canaries, good price given: Williams, Dolgarreg Hotel, Tal-y-Cafn, N. Wales.

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WANTED, Goldfinches, and Bullfinches, exchange game pedigree wire bitch, champion, sell 15/-: Lee, Huntsman, Southwell. (604)

WILL give from 6/- to 7/6 pair for Norwich or Yorkshires; prompt cash: Reynolds, Newham, Sithney, Helston, Cornwall. (601)

WANTED, pair Canaries, for Swiss lever watch, guarantee good timekeeper: Wright, 11, Mannering-rd., Shawlands, Glasgow. (601)

WANTED 500 Canaries, all varieties, large or small lots taken; cash sent first; no risk: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED, 28 x 1¼ outer cover and tube, or back wheel complete; exchange exhibition British: Stothard, 8, St. Paul's-st., Stockton-on-Tees. (602)

WANTED, anything alive, birds, dogs, pups, ferrets, common poultry, bantams, rabbits, monkeys, Parrots, etc.: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (600)

WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)

CATCHERS, notice, wanted, Goldfinches and other British, send for my price list, it will astonish you: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (602)

WANTED, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, also hen Canaries and Mules; state price: Thomas Hughes, 63, Bird Merchant, Saltley-rd., Birmingham.

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.

WANTED, good large colour-fed Norwich, for cash, good prices paid, will deposit cash; please offer to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

WANTED, weekly, small supply of British birds, cock Canaries, fowls, pigeons, rabbits, new-laid eggs: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)

WILL buy for cash, any quantity Goldfinch Mules, Canaries, Bullfinches, Goldfinches, Siskins, either sex: Write, stating prices: Helyar, 55, Palmer-rd., North Brixton. (600)

WANTED, wanted, wanted, wanted—Canaries, Canaries, Canaries; cages; British, etc; best cash prices given; large or small stocks bought: Broadbent, 255, London-rd., Sheffield. (584)

NOTICE.—We want poultry, bantams, rabbits, Canaries, Linnets, dogs, anything, in exchange for cutlery, plate, jewellery, boots, tools etc.—Smith Bros. 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (602)

WANTED, all kinds of Mules, house-moulted Goldfinches, hen Canaries, small or large quantities, state lowest price; honest dealings: Hobbs, 141, King's-rd., Camden Town, London. (602)

WANTED, from reliable catchers, weekly supply of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Siskins, good price given. Apply, Matt. Hopkins, Bird Specialist, 58, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. (603)

WANTED, any quantity of British Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Redpolls, Siskins, Larks, or any saleable birds, from catchers weekly, state prices to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

A GRAND OPPORTUNITY.

To secure good and genuine Birds that are certain to give one and all satisfaction, in following varieties:—

Norwich Plainheads — Scotch Fancies

Yorkshires — Borders

Crests and Crested-Breds — Home-Bred Rollers

Etc.

CANARIES DIRECT FROM NORWICH

THIS IS NOT WHAT I SAY!

And, they, with numbers of others, are of recent dates. They are uncontradictable facts that speak for themselves:—

Reading, Sept. 29, 1916.—Received birds safely. Am very pleased with them.—J. Rumble.

Glasgow, Sept., 1916.—Received birds in good condition; am well pleased with same.—W. Smith.

Glasgow.—Just a short note to thank you for the fine songster you sent me. It does you great credit. You are an honest gentleman, and none shall have my order for birds but you in future. This is not the first I've had from you, and all your birds have been first-class.—H. Gallacher.

Southall, Sept. 30, 1916.—Bird arrived safely. I am highly satisfied with the same.—G. Maskell.

Folkestone.—I am very pleased with Canary, the bird sings well. I shall do my very best in recommending you to my friends.—J. R. Anscombe.

Pembroke Dock.—Birds arrived, safe. Perfectly satisfied.—J. O. Hitchings.

I, of course, can give you the same unbounded satisfaction as the above and thousands of others have received. If you require any particulars write me, enclosing stamped directed envelope, when you will receive a prompt and courteous reply; or I can send you my New Illustrated List for 1916 season, post free, if you will send your full address—a postcard will do. I also have a splendid lot of Talking Parrots at the present time. All Birds are on approval. Yes, I mean a genuine approval—that is, if entire satisfaction is not given, your money is returned in full, without quibble or comment. Such is the ONLY WAY to ensure the unqualified satisfaction that all desire, and have a right to expect.

W. RUDD, THE BIRD SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

SALE or birds; miniature jet black Pom bitch puppy, 4 months old, 1½lb. weight, pedigree contains champion Sable Mite, champion Chocolate Fly, champion May Duchess, and many more; cash 25/-: 23, Dobb Brow, Westhoughton. (602)

WANTED, Norwich, Yorkshires, or Rollers, in exchange for British Telephat Button camera, fine lens, tripod, solid leather case, 300 plates, 3 gross brooches, chemicals, price £4; also Beck Double Aplanat, half-plate lens, f.7.7 focus, 6¾in. portrait attachment, leather case, and flange, perfect condition, £3: Wooldredge, 16, St. Mary's Road, Harlesden, N.W.

WANTED, CANARIES

Colour-fed Norwich and Yorkshire Canaries, Goldfinch and Linnet Mules, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, etc.; best prices given; cash by return: Sandiford, Bird Specialist, Preston. (604)

CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

OLD FIRM, £10,000

Wanted, 5,000 pairs Canaries for export: Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Crestbreds, Mules, Cinnamons; the best price in England; we are the largest buyers in the world; annual sale 10,000 pairs; we have won over 5,000 money prizes, 100 cups and medals, and other specials: Address 77, Pitt-st., Norwich, and 1, Solater-st., London. Largest shop in London. (594)

CANARIES WANTED.

Will give HIGHEST PRICES for

YORKSHIRES, NORWICH, BORDERS, CRESTS, MULES, Etc., Etc, and

WILL DEPOSIT CASH WITH EDITOR.

For many years I have bought large quantities of Canaries for export, and wishing to maintain my connection, I am now open to purchase large or small lots of any variety. Send price and full particulars. Remember, top prices paid and cash deposited.

H. GLEDHILL,

Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

Use our Notepaper.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

NORWICH cocks, for show cages, Yorks., Norwich: Knight, 46, Spencer-rd., Kentish Town. (601)

OFFERS in Canaries; exchange real Ayrshire blankets value 25/- pair: Dawson, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (602)

FINE young cock Goldfinch Mule, singing nicely, 7/6: H. E. Farnell, 4, Great Hales-st., Market Drayton, Salop. (603)

EXCHANGE Border cock, two hens, and cash, for sporting gun: Cooper, 13, Trewyddfa-terrace, Plasmarl, Swansea (602)

WANTED offers in Canaries for six purebred 1915 pullets, everlasting layers: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.

SALE, or exchange Norwich Canaries for Toy Pomeranian bitch, must be good: Elrick, 58, School Street, Fraserburgh. (603)

YOUNG Yorkshire hens, 7in long, 10/6 each; exchange Roller cocks; anything useful: Ketley, 99, Wayman-st, Sunderland. (602)

FIVE Border hens and 1916 cock, also buff Norwich hen, sell 17/6, or exchange Budgies, or offers: James Drummond, Old Town, Peebles. (607)

PAIR Norwich, 27/6; clear yellow Yorks. hen, 7/6; Green Norwich hen, 5/6; exchange beaded cycle tyres, 28 x 1¼, chain; anything useful: Fairhurst, Thunder Bridge, Kirkburton. (601)

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 8 hens, 4 cocks, 12 single cages, accept £3 5/- lot, or exchange for 1916 White Leghorn pullets: J. Ibbitson, 18, Willoughby-row, Domestic-st., Leeds. (601)

EXCHANGE (all Norwich) one buff hen, one yellow hen, one yellow cock, for two hens and one cock (Borders); must be 1916 bred: Carson, Duntreath Cottage, Kilsyth, Stirlingshire. (602)

Mainly British.

HOUSE-moulted cocks: Greenfinch, Bullfinch; exchange cock Borders; yours first: Low, 48, Loanhead-terr., Aberdeen. (603)

GRAND singing cock Linnets, trained under my noted contest singer, 1/6 each; special birds, 2/6: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (604)

EXCHANGE good cinn. marked Norwich cock, colour-fed, 1916, for two good house-moulted cock Goldfinches; approval: G. Wells, Yard 126, Kirkland Kendal. (603)

Mainly Foreign.

LARGE Amazon Parrot, acclimatised, make good talker, can win anywhere, 20/6; exchange: Robinson, Bird Specialist, Windermere. (602)

BUDGERIGARS; 2 pairs Greens, 1 pair Yellows, sell 23/-, or exchange Rollers or anything useful: N. Clarke, 144, Dimsdale-parade, Wolstanton, Staffs.

AMAZON Parrot, two years old, most wonderful talker, splendid mimic, good whistler, accept 50/-, with cage: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

Miscellaneous.

WHAT offers for two pure-bred White Leghorn cockerels: 21, Sebert Road, Forest Gate. (602)

AIREDALE pups, good pedigree, sell or good exchange: 6, Watkin Terrace, Northampton. (600)

FOX Terrier, winner, exchange child's bike, or gramophone: Phillips, 29, Drysdale-st., Liverpool.

TEA, trinket, toilet services, exchanged for Canaries, British, Foreign: Cawthorne, Box Lane, Pontefract. (602)

SALE, a pair of roller skates, 15/-; exchange dogs, anything: Beech, 119, Cannock-rd., Chadsmoor, Cannock, Staffs. (602)

WANTED, Canaries, cocks, hens, 5 cross Irish Terriers, cash, or exchange: Percival, 46, Burgess-st., Grimsby. (600)

WANTED, Canaries, exchange new Ayrshire blankets, sell 27/6 pair: Chalmers, 53a, Stevenson-st., Calton, Glasgow. (602)

No. 2 BROWNIE and sundries, 5/-; quantity fishing tackle, 3/-; gate net, 5/-; or exchange: Middleton, 96, Northgate, Canterbury. (601)

EXCHANGE, cutlery, watches, clocks, or anything useful for Canaries or songsters: George Boston, 69, St. Phillip's-rd., Sheffield (604)

SALE, or exchange, 8 Roller feeding hens, 20/-, good air-gun, 10/-; ½ plate hand camera, etc., 10/-: Gripton, 30, The Lot, Cheslyn Hay, Walsall. (600)

WHAT offers in Canaries for first-class cornet and case, splendid condition, worth £2; approval: J. Sheard, 2, Sackville-st., Ravensthorpe, Yorks. (600)

GENT'S second-hand navy blue serge suit, large size, waist 42, leg 32, exchange Canaries, Mules, Goldfinches, or fowls: Tomson, 111, High-rd., Willesden, Green. (604)

EXCHANGE full size child's iron cot and mattress, good condition, for clear Norwich cock, paying difference, or sell 8/-: W. 2, Watery-lane, Merton, Surrey. (595)

WANTED

all Breeders, Exhibitors, Secretaries, and Dealers to know that we have commenced purchasing all kinds of

CANARIES

for our extensive export orders, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, CRESTS, BORDERS, SCOTCH FANCY, MULES, etc., of all kinds.

Thanking all Secretaries, Breeders, Exhibitors, and Dealers for their assistance in helping us to maintain a good OLD ENGLISH INDUSTRY in past years, as BIRD JUDGES we are still prepared to give the highest value obtainable for birds, knowing their full value. Large or small quantities bought.

J. HOWARD & SONS,

Breeders, Exhibitors and Judges,
1, Sclater Street, and 28, Bethnal Green Road, London, and at 77, Pitt Street, Norwich

Estab. 54 Years.

For past 40 years the largest and most successful Exhibitors and Buyers in the United Kingdom. WINNERS OF over 5,000 PRIZES, CUPS, and MEDALS in OPEN CHAMPION CLASSES. HONEST DEALINGS ONLY.

Bankers: London County and Westminster (Shoreditch Branch, London), and Barclay & Co., Norwich.

FULL-SIZE dulcimer, in oak, beautiful tone, 25/-; also full-size violin and case, fine old instrument, 30/-; exchange 1916 exhibition Norwich; approval; yours first: Mitchelmore, 9, Lambert-st., Southend.

SALE, or exchange, two Yorkshire hens, yellow and buff, cold-room bred, 3/6 each; also two good Belgian Hare does, 3/6 each, for two 1916 Yorkshire cocks, clear preferred: Sprake, Tarampa, South Petherton, Somerset. (601)

WAVERLEY Book, Canaries, Hybrids, and British Birds, new, unsoiled, offers in birds, sell 16/-; also pair flesh gloves, for two 1916 Roller hens: Platt, 3, Stoney-st., Burnley Wood, Burnley. (601)

EXCHANGE, clear Norwich cock, two buff hens, clear, one yellow marked hen, one feeding hen, ou colour-feed, nearly through moult, sell, 20s., or offers: Keightley, 61, North Norman-st., Ilkeston.

FIVE Pomeranian Toy Puppies, all black, make winners, registered pedigrees, 40/- each; exchange cock Greypates to value, or yellow Norwich hens: G. Holloway, 15, Ganna Park-rd., Plymouth. (650)

WANTED, Canaries, or offers, exchange grand pen Spangled Game Bantams (Marsden's), winning Dutch and English rabbits, also champion self black cavies: Reynolds, 23, Main-rd., St. James's, Northampton. (600)

PARROT, young Blue-front Amazon, talks, sings, very good mimic, also new cage, £2; or would exchange for good class Norwich Canaries; take breeding cage part exchange: Geo. Williams, 26, Devonshire-st., Gateshead. (603)

GOOD curly-coated Retriever dog puppy, 4 months, old, very sensible, 15/-; good Lurcher dog, 12 months, good worker, used to ferrets, 10/-, or exchange anything; reason for selling, giving up: C. Barrow, 12, Market-place, Bridlington. (602)

BEAUTIFUL rose-breasted Cockatoo, talks, dances, shake hands, will perch on shoulder, very tame, value 50/-, with large cage, sell or exchange breeding cages, show cages, etc.: Allen, 3, Lightfoot-ave., Glasshoughton, Castleford, Yorks. (601)

NORWICH cock, yellow green, and buff hen, 8/6 pair; cock Linnet and Norwich hen, 4/6 pair; cock Linnet Mule breeder, and Norwich hen, 8/6 pair good cock Linnets, 1/- each; exchange for Roller hens; approval: Porter, Windsor Grove, Grovehill, Beverley. (602)

GENT'S 12 guinea cycle, Sturmey-Archer three-speed trio Coaster, 69, 80, 110, oil bath gear case, 7in. cranks, 26in. frame, etc.; exchange hornless gramophone, talking Parrot and cage, cock Mules or cock Canaries, sell £4, bargain: 35, Bridge End Road, Grantham. (601)

NEW Scotch blankets, full size, 21/-; boys' new suits, gent's waterproofs, new ladies' and gent's silver watches, eight-day marble clock, strikes hours and half-hours, price £2 10/-; exchange lot for Canaries: Thos. Walker, 271, Bilsland-drive, Ruchill, Glasgow. (604)

SIX good Yorkshire hens, one Green Norwich hen, 4/- each; 5 feeders, 2/- each; Green Norwich cock, 8/6; seven 1915 Silver Campine pullets, 30/-; three R.I.R. ditto, 4/6 each; Grenadier cock Weaver (full colour), 40/-; cock Java Sparrow, 4/6; 2 hen Weavers, 3/- each; sell or exchange any for young rabbits. Grey Parrot: S. Corley, 270, High-st., Watford. (601)

Aquarium.

BITTERLING, Dogfish, Rockbass, Temperature Fish, Plants, Snails, Weeds, Aquariums, etc., etc.; list free; catalogue of aquariums and vivaria, 1d.: L. Cura and Sons, Bath Court, Warner-st., Clerkenwell-rd., London, E.C.

Aviaries.

WORTH notice. Extra grand large Palace-shaped three-compartment new drawing-room aviary, 4ft. long, 3½ft. high, 18in. broad, fitted complete with two movable wire partitions, sand bottoms, seed drawers, and revolving perches, close wired to hold smallest Foreign birds, price 70/-, worth £10; approval; drawing sent: McKeand, Cage Manufacturer, Castle Douglas.

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Mice.

FAWN rats, waltzing mice, 6/6 each; white rats, coloured mice, 9d. each; offers: exchanges: Gardiner, 27, Gloucester-st., Newcastle-on-Tyne.

WONDERFUL novelty, pair of performing tame mice, with combination cage and revolving wheel, complete, lot 3/-: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (600)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES' BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON. Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d. Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale, Dogs for Exchange.

CHOCOLATES and Black Pomeranian puppies, healthy, good coats, ideal pets, females, £1; dogs, 25/-: Matthes, Bracton-rd., Rotherhithe. (603)

SIX Pomeranian puppies, seven weeks old, three black, three brown, white points, 35/- lot: Roberts, Queen's Hotel, Cerrigydrudion, Corwen.. (603)

LARGE selection of healthy young dogs and puppies always on hand, dogs and puppies purchased: Kennelman, Princess Kennels, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (600)

PEDIGREE Airedale bitch, also two puppies of same, very promising; sell or exchange small breed or other live stock: James Dykes, 54, East Main-st., Darvel. (602)

LARGEST selection of healthy dogs and pups in England; no fancy prices: state wants; dogs and pups bought or sold, or exchanged; Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (604)

Ferrets.

SPLENDID Ferrets, good workers, guaranteed, 5/-; younger 4/-; last year's excellent workers, 6/6; 14 days' approval; cash with order or deposit with Editor: Thos. Wannop, Short-st., Carlisle. (603)

Pigeons.

NINE lovely rare ice pigeons, prize-bred, cheap, £3; exchange prize Norwich or Lizards: Wm. Shearer, Newtown, Wales. (602)

PIGEONS, HOMING & FANCY

Pigeon-keepers will find much helpful information in two of our "Nutshell" Booklets, Nos. 7 and 8, which deal with these birds in a manner which will set the fancier on the high road to success. No. 7, "The Homing Pigeon"; No. 8, "The Fancy Pigeon," post free 2½d. each from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London E.C.

Rabbits.

WANTED, any quantity of cavies and rabbits, give best prices: Enoch Powers, 80, Sclater-st., Shoreditch.

BLACK doe, 23½ x 5½, age 12 months, good mother, 8/-: Geo. Parker, Northgate-rd., Pinchbeck, Spalding. (604)

HANDSOME pair Belgian Hares, 12 months, well bred, to clear 12/6: Sprake, Tarampa, South Petherton, Somerset. (601)

LARGE selection of tame pet rabbits, 3/-, 4/-, and 5/- per pair; sent any distance: Princess Rabbitry, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (600)

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE

By George Gardner. A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Sport.

NOW READY. Nutshell No. 31, "Fishing in River, Lake and Pond." All who take an interest in fishing should not miss this highly-instructive brochure. It treats fully on the various kinds of coarse fish, their habits and haunts, and how to catch them; the angler's outfit, ground baits, hook baits, sizes of fish, specimen fish, etc, etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

FOR sale, Stella musical box, cost £22; 40 tune sheets (walnut case), £7 complete: 3, Commercial-rd., Bulwell. (592)

SIX volumes of "The Great War," never been read, bound in red covers, price £3: Richards, Nurseries, Dursley. (602)

RHEUMATISM positively cured; particulars forwarded free; address: Birks (D.E.), "Specialist," 85, Glenbank-place, Belfast. (593)

MONGOOSE, reliable rat exterminators, 35/-; Hedgerogs, 2/6; bushy-tail Dormice, 3/- pair: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (503)

GRAMOPHONE, 25-guinea model, beautiful horn-less drawing-room cabinet, inlaid Sheraton, height 4ft., record cupboard enclosed, powerful motor, quantity celebrated records; approval willingly; accept 5½ guineas: 3, Aubert Park, Highbury Park, London, N.

REMOVING: nine-compartment breeding or flight cage, used once, nest-pans, fountains, seed hoppers, complete, 16/-; bargain; 7 performing mice (parents, 5 young), various colours, in performing cage, glass front, 4/-; exchange: George Veasey, Oakthorpe, Ashby-de-la-Zouch. (600)

PEACH'S Loom offers autumn decorations. Curtains, patent Imperial Hem and Contrenet Curtains from 6/3 per pair, casement fabrics, nets, muslins, cretonnes, dimens, blankets, down quilts, green roller blinds; direct maker's prices means wonderful savings; full particulars in catalogue; write to-day: S. Peach and Sons, 150, The Looms, Nottingham.

RUSSIAN Fox, 60/-; English Fox cubs, 25/-; Mongoose, 80/-; young Indian Civet Cat, 70/-; Tawny Owl, 12/6; large White Cockatoo, 70/-: Gerbille, 5/6; six Japanese Rats, 7/6; cock Golden Pheasant, 25/-; Golden Amherst, 40/-; English, 12/6; all above in perfect condition, mostly very tame; wanted, Grey Parrots and Cavies: Wilkinson, Zoo, Morecambe.

Use Our Notepaper.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID.

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 5s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.

J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.

THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate: 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.

J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.

W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.

G. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.

J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich: terms moderate.

C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.

J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.

W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.

H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.

J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.

J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester, Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.

C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.

JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.

HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.

S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich. Cinn. and Liz. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.

W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Bucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.

J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties

J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.

G. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.

W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ALFRETON C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Red Lion Hotel, 6.30. Most important, specials and stewards for show. Subs. due.—G. Sawer.

ABERAVON PORT TALBOT B.F.A.—Oct. 6, Hong Kong Hotel, 6.30. Appoint judges. Date of show is altered to Nov. 23.—P. H. Morris.

ABERTILLERY C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Prince of Wales Hotel, 6.30. Last meeting before open show.—W. Newell.

BRADFORD EAST O.S.—Oct. 7, Park Chapel Schoolrooms. Members show. Judge, Mr. R. Garnett (Windhill). Birds staged 2.30. Entries Friday 8 to 9 p.m.—J. Spencer.

BURNLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 8, 75, Lindsay Street, 8. General meeting. Business important.—W. Broxup.

Bolton Roller C.C.—Oct. 10, Joiner's Arms 7.30. Show. Business important.—T. Ormston.

CODNOR PARK AND EASTWOOD C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Three Tuns Inn, 7. Open show business.—A. Smith.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.—Oct. 9, Church Institute, Paddington Street, W., 8. Washing exhibition and competition prizes, 5s., 3s., 2s.—F. J. Martin.

CRYSTAL PALACE AND PENGE.—Oct. 18, Alexandra Hotel, Penge, 7.30.—Postponed from Oct. 11 on account of Clapham show. Schedule of annual show; specials, etc.—W. D. Fryett.

DONCASTER C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Black Bull, 7.30.—H. Lumby.

ECCLESHILL C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Fountain Inn, 6.30. Objection re Gilman's Cup. Of vital importance. Y.U. year books to hand.—S. Wilcock.

FALKIRK, GRANGEMOUTH AND BANNOCKBURN.—Oct. 14, Union Hall, 7.30. Business of special importance.—D. Aitken.

FARNWORTH C.B.S.—Oct. 11, Church House Church Road, 8. Show business; selecting judge, etc.—W. Dawson.

GUISELEY YEADON C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Regent Hotel, 7.30. Members' show business.—W. Rose.

GATESHEAD C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Lockhart's, High Street, 7.30. Show business. A discussion, Canaries versus British, Mr. J. Maddison takes British, W. Curry Canaries Fanciers invited. Subs. due.—W. Curry.

GUISBRO PRIORY C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Wear's Rooms, 7.30. Table show arrangements. Fed. report.—A. Knaggs.

GLASGOW AND W. COUNTIES CLUB.—Oct. 7, 122, Ingram Street, 7. Lecture on the Border Fancy Canary, by Mr. R. I. Campbell, Dunfermline.—J. H. Adam.

GT. HORTON O.S.—Oct. 7, Station Hotel, Members' show birds. Staged at 3. Judge, Mr. M. Broadley.—B. Hainsworth.

HOUGHTON-LE-SPRING C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Queen's Head Inn, 7.30. Annual show business.—R. H. Dixon.

HUDDERSFIELD O.S.—Oct. 9, White Hart Hotel, 7.30. Monthly table show. Birds staged 7.30. Judge, Mr. G. Bray, Holmfirth.—A. Lawford.

HALIFAX C.B.S.—Oct. 7, King Cross Band Room, King Cross, Halifax. Birds staged 2.30. Members show. Judge, Mr. R. E. Helliwell, Halifax.—A. Sutcliffe.

HALIFAX O.S.—Oct. 7, Plummet Line Hotel, 7.30. Confirm classification for annual open show. Washing exhibition by Mr. S. Rolfe, and novice washing competition for silver medal.—J. J. Dunn.

KEIGHLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 10, Black Horse Hotel, 7.30. Stewards for show and other business.—C. W. Town.

LONDON C.B.A.—Oct. 12, Red Lion Hotel, 2, York Street, St. James. "Questions and Answers." Fanciers invited.—A. Wallington

LARKHALL C.B.A.—Oct. 14, Y.M.C.A. Hall, 7. Discussion: Shall we have an open show? Report from judges.—T. J. McGregor.

LIVERPOOL B.B.A.—Oct. 12, Oldham Hall, 8. Preparing birds for exhibition, by Mr. A. E. Huyton. Fanciers invited.—T. R. Jones.

LONG EATON C.B.S.—Oct. 14, the Blue Bell Inn, 6.30. Classification for show.—J. Turner.

LEEDS ROLLER C.C.—Oct. (date not stated, ED.), Griffin Hotel, 7.30. Show business and judging competition. Will members bring a few birds.—H. Best.

LEEDS C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Lockhart's, next to Hope Bros., Briggate, 7.30. Table show of unflighted canaries, and British birds. Judge Mr. W. Hall. Fanciers invited.—J. Chambers.

MIDLAND ROLLER C.C.—Oct. 12, Seven Stars, St. John Street, Wolverhampton, 7.30. Compiling of schedule.—J. W. Thomson.

MAESTEG C.B.S.—Oct. 11, Bird-in-Hand Hotel, 6.30. Show committee meeting to arrange business in connection with show.—O. Cozens.

NEW KYO CONSTITUTIONAL CLUB, Oct. 8.—10.30 a.m. Election of judge, and compilation of schedule.—J. W. Christon.

PLUMSTEAD AND WOOLWICH C.B.S.—Oct. 12, Trinity Schools, Beresford Street, Woolwich, 8. Minutes; show arrangements for Nov. 9-10. Subs. and specials wanted—.G. H. Maclellan.

SPEN VALLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 9, Brotherhood Rooms, 7.30. Arrangements for show.—S. B. Grayshon.

SOUTH WEST LONDON C.B.S.—Oct. 11, instead of Oct. 12, Plough Hotel, St. John's Hill, 8. To arrange matters for annual show.—W. Lilley.

SOUTH SHIELDS.—Oct. 7, Cyprus, 7. Schedule for annual show.—W. L. Smith.

TONG C.B.S.—Oct. 10, Hand and Shuttle Inn, Dudley Hill, 7.30. Open show business.—W. Walker.

WEST BROMWICH.—Oct. 7, Ivy House, Handsworth, 7.30. Special show business.—P. T. Cowley.

WINDHILL C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Blue Bell Hotel, 2.30. Members' show. Judge, Mr. F. Self, Clayton. Entries Friday night, 7 to 9.30.—Taylor and Garnett.

WIGAN ROLLER CLUB, Oct. 11, Legs of Man Hotel, 7. Framing of schedule. Contest, etc.—P. Greenall.

WIGAN C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Legs of Man Hotel, 7.30. Show business.—J. McAndrew.

WIBSEY C.B.S.—Oct. 7, Horse and Groom, 7. Arrangements for show and other business.—W. Chapman.

WALLSEND MID. TYNE C.B.A.—Oct. 11, Station Hotel, 7. Very important show business as regards another judge and specials. Subs. due. New members invited.—G. Greenwell.

LIVERPOOL

OCTOBER 20 and 21,

AT ST. MARTIN'S HALL, SCOTLAND ROAD.

Judges:—Battye, Barnes, Houlton, and Large.

SPECIAL CLASSIFICATION FOR NOVICES. GOOD PRIZE-MONEY, PAID DAY OF SHOW.

Exhibits home on Saturday night. Schedules have been sent out; if you have not received one apply to GREEN & METCALFE, 5, Rocky Lane.

CHELTENHAM OPEN SHOW

NOVEMBER 1st and 2nd, 1916.

Judges:—Messrs. J. ROBSON, H. BATTYE, and J. H. PAYNE.

Open Classes—Crests 15, Norwich 13, Yorks 8, Borders 9
A.O.V. I, British 7, Hybrids 4, Foreign 6, Selling 4.

Schedules will be sent to last year's exhibitors; others please apply to the—
SHOW MANAGER—J. MADAGAN, 4, QUEEN'S PARADE, CHELTENHAM.

All Profits will be given to the Cheltenham Hospital.

DON'T FORGET TO VISIT

CLAPHAM SHOW

at St. Ann's Hall, Venn-st., Clapham Common, S.W., on Wednesay and Thursday, 11th and 12th October. Owing to so few entries coming in will receive entries up till last post Saturday, 7th. Oct. We expect a consignment of birds from South Africa in time for sale at show.—T. J. HOSE, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell, S.E.

NEWCASTLE

is awake again. The 11th Annual Show will be held in the TOWN HALL, Saturday, Oct. 21st, in aid of the Red Cross Funds.

GRAND CLASSIFICATION.

Popular Judges.

Please help us to make Newcastle again one of the leading shows and to give a good subscription to the Red Cross Funds.

Note.—Show held Oct. 21st, not 28th, as stated on tickets. Entries close Monday, Oct. 16th.

For schedules apply to Hon. Sec., F. W. LAIDLOW, 55, Colston Street, Benwell, NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

DON'T FORGET.

LANDORE & PLASMARL

C.B.S.

Annual Show. Saturday, Oct. 28, 1916.

Judges:—Canaries, J. Hockings; Hybrids and British, J. E. Jeffries.

Please apply for Schedules to—
Hy. Fry and Alf. Hitchings, 22, Plasmarl Terrace, Plasmarl, nr. Swansea.

Please post your entries for

ABERTILLERY

Show. One of the best shows of the year.

42 Classes. Judge, Mr. Jno. Robson.

If you have not had a schedule, apply for one at once to:—
NEWELL, 62, Princess St., ABERTILLERY.

Manchester & Northern Counties

Oct. 27th and 28th. Judges:—B. Clegg, H. W. Battye, J. Greaves, and C. Houlton. Schedules now ready. If you don't get one please apply to: J. GREEN, 4, Johnson Street, Bradford, Manchester.

The Young Bird Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

QUEENSBURY C.B.S.

Members' show, Granby Hotel, Sept. 30; 53 birds were judged by Mr. A. M. Craven, Shipley. Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Ck.: 1, Blagbrough; 2, Gregson; 3, Haggis. Buff Ck.: 1, Farrar; 2, Gregson; 3 and hc, Ambler; 4, Allatt; vhc, Haggis. Mkd. Buff Ck.: 1 and 3, Ambler; 2, Verity. Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Hen: 1 and 4, Womersley; 2, Farrar; 3 and c, Ambler; vhc, Sugden; hc, Allatt. Buff: 1, 3, vhc, Sugden; 2, Ambler; 4, Gregson; hc, Allatt; c, Myers. Mkd. Yell. Hen: 1, Allatt; 2, Verity; 3 and vhc, Ambler; 4, Gregson. Buff: 1, 3, Ambler; 2, Haggis; 4, Verity; vhc, hc, Allatt; c, Sugden. Unflig. Ck.: 1, Ambler; 2, Verity; 3, Rolfe; 4, Womersley; vhc, Sugden; hc, Blagbrough; c, Farrar.—W. Jagger, Sec.

A CAGE BIRD SHOW IN NEW ZEALAND.

White Canaries and Black Canaries on View.

The Wellington P.P. and Canary Society held its 34th annual show July 5, 6, 7, in Wellington Harbour Board's Shed. No less than 129 classes were provided for cage birds in the gigantic schedule of 747 classes. The support accorded was, however, very meagre, for the 129 classes contained only 145 birds, some of the classes having no entries, many of them only one, and the largest entry in any class being seven birds. Notwithstanding the fact that there was a three guinea trophy for most points in Yorkshires and another for most points in Norwich, and that there were no less than nine five-guinea challenge bowls in competition, the Yorkshires only mustered 58 entries in 21 classes and the Norwich 44 entries in 23 classes.

Mrs. J. Martin, whose claim to be the first to exhibit White Canaries will be familiar to old readers of Cage Birds, and who is certainly the first to show Black Canaries, was represented by one of each of these latter-day developments in Canary breeding. It may be remembered that on the outbreak of the war Mrs. Martin was about to send to our offices some Black Canaries for inspection, and that she has promised that when hostilities cease she will send one or more of these curiously coloured birds.

HIS CANARIES SAVED HIM.

A Bradford Fancier Exempted from Military Service.

The other day the Bradford Military Tribunal had before them the appeal of a well-known Yorkshire Canary specialist, who hails from the Eccleshill district. Our readers may be interested in solving the question of his identity.

Mr. Cawthron, who appeared for the appellant, said his client was formerly a quarryman, but had to give up that employment on account of two accidents which left him with one leg shorter than the other, whilst the other bent both ways, yet notwithstanding this he was passed as fit for general service. As a matter of fact one of the doctors who examined him at Halifax on August 18 told him wooden legs were quite good enough for the Army.

The Military Representative: I should rather doubt that statement.

Mr. Cawthron, continuing, said that, being unable to follow his ordinary employment, applicant saw a chance of making money in the Canary business, with which he had for a long period been interested. In the Canary line he claimed to be quite the top man in the country with Yorkshire Canaries. His bird business was largely export, and he turned over a large sum of money year by year. He had sold Canaries for as much as £15 each. He owned what was said to be the finest bird in the country, and it had taken all the principal prizes at the shows at which it had been exhibited.

The Military Representative: Can't his wife look after the birds?

Mr. Cawthron: No; he holds the view that high-class birds need as much supervision as human beings.

The Military Representative: He realises that there is a war on?

Mr. Cawthron: Yes, he does. I think we all realise that, but I suggest his physical condition is such that he is not fit for active service. He has had the offer of a position in a munition works, and is willing to go.

The appellant, in answer to questions, said he had about 200 birds, and that at the present time there was a greater demand than ever for the cheaper kinds. He sold Canaries in this country, but they were afterwards sent to America.

Exemption conditional upon his going into munition work was granted.

Strange Results from Experimental Colour Feeding.

What is the Active Principle in Colour Food?

By C. A. HOUSE.

I HAVE just been reading an article by a learned American biologist dealing with the changes wrought in animals and birds by feeding and environment. Some of the conclusions come to are most startling.

If one asked an enlightened British cage bird fancier what was the active principle in the different colour feeds which are used to improve the colour of exhibition birds, he would undoubtedly reply that the active principle, the thing that does the trick, is the colour pigment in the food given, but if we are to believe Professor M. A. Jull, the experiments conducted by Dr. Sauermann upset this idea altogether.

The experiments of Dr. Sauermann were conducted not only upon Canaries, but also upon fowls, and the results in each case led him, and his associates, to the conclusion that not the colour pigment, but a fatty substance known as triolein, is the active principle in changing the colour of the plumage of birds which are colour fed.

A New Theory.

Cayenne pepper was the ingredient with which Dr. Sauermann experimented. Cayenne pepper, of course, is a composite substance from which a number of distinct chemical substances can be extracted. The red colour of the cayenne is caused or derived from a pigment known as capsicin, which can be separated from the pepper. It is generally supposed, and has been faithfully believed by scientists, naturalists, and fanciers that this capsicin was what gave the birds their enhanced colour, and that the change from yellow to red was simply caused by a transference of the colour pigment from the cayenne to the blood of the Canary, or whatever bird was being fed upon it, during the moulting period. Dr. Sauermann states it is not so. Yellow-coloured Canaries were not in the very slightest degree affected by the pigment alone, but curiously enough variegated birds were, all birds of broken plumage did react, but in a curious manner the black or dark green portions of the plumage became distinctly lighter in tone of colour.

The real agent in changing the colour is, says Dr. Sauermann, the fatty substance known as triolein, which appears to convey the pigment to the blood and to produce the changing of yellow plumage into red. Surprised at the results obtained with Canaries Dr. Sauermann experimented with some fowls, and again most curious was the result, as some white fowls when fed with the pigment showed distinct traces of yellow in plumage, but here there were not racial, but only individual susceptibility and differences, as all the birds experimented with did not react to the stimulus of the colouring agent.

A similar series of experiments were made with some other colours, and it was found that with carmine the yellow colour of the Canaries was destroyed, and the birds became white. This should be of interest to those engaged in the production of White Canaries. This unexpected result is explained by the scientific fact that a mixture of violet and yellow produces white. The fact that the fatty constituent of the cayenne pepper, triolein, plays the chief part in the colouring of the plumage of Canaries may, perhaps, help to explain the very singular fact that green Amazon Parrots change from green to yellow when fed upon the fat of certain fishes. The natives of the Amazonian region are aware of this fact, and many of them feed the common green Parrots of the district with the fat of the large Siluorid fishes, and the birds thus treated become beautifully variegated with red and yellow feathers.

Another peculiar thing about Dr. Sauermann's experiments was that the fowls given the pigment were affected upon the breast only.

THE STOCK BOOK

Simplifies the operations in the Bird-room and makes it possible for every-one, even the veriest novice, to breed his birds as they should be bred. It affords facilities for the recording of the complete pedigree of all your birds; of your experiences during the season; an account of every bird reared. Contains also Pedigree, Breeding, Young Bird and Show Registers of simple and unique character; Cash and Profit and Loss Accounts for the year. Gives valuable hints for times of emergency during the breeding season.

Price 6d., from your Newsagent, or 7d. (postal order), post free, from "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

THE RUFOUS WARBLER.

A beautiful member of the Warbler Family which only on very rare occasions visits our shores. Its winter residence is in the Oases of the Great Desert of Sahara.

Newly-Imported Grey Parrots and How to Acclimatise Them.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

An instructive article showing how the troubles so generally experienced by purchasers of these charming pet birds may be obviated.

THE gem of all that talented race, from a linguistic point of view, it is a pity indeed that so much difficulty should be experienced in acclimatising the Grey Parrot. Seeing that the bird is so hardy and easily managed when once acclimatised, that it is an eminently long-lived species, its length of years often totalling as great a sum as those of the human subject, it goes without saying that it is worth a considerable amount of trouble and inconvenience to get a bird safely settled in this country. As a talker it stands pre-eminent, and altogether forms a most companionable and charming pet.

The cause of the tremendous amount of mortality that is known to exist amongst newly-imported Greys has been ascribed to various causes, including "ship" fever and pneumonia, the latter consequent upon the vast change from the sunny skies of their native land to the inclement conditions of our own clime.

The Mischief of Improper Feeding.

But, after all, it seems to resolve itself into a question of management, or, rather, mismanagement, than anything else, although I do not for a moment mean to imply that climate has nothing to do with the matter. However, when we find a graminivorous species compelled to subsist on a diet consisting mainly of sops, or soft food, and fed in many instances upon bits of "anything that is going," in which animal substances figure side by side with puddings and sweet stuffs, it is little wonder that the digestive organs rebel, and the unfortunate subject becomes a dyspeptic, and not infrequently a feather eater, which craving is satisfied by plucking out and chewing its own plumage.

Now, to remedy or prevent all this misfortune, we will go back to the time when the birds arrive in this country, or are going to be purchased. Let the transaction be completed as soon as possible after the birds arrive, so that the health may not be undermined by improper treatment longer than is really necessary.

Endeavour also to procure a newly-imported bird towards the end of May or early in June, for the simple reason that then our summer is near at hand, and this, coupled with proper management, will increase the bird's chances of survival to a great degree.

When it arrives from a dealer the bird will in all probability have been fed on a diet of boiled maize and sop, and, being decidedly conservative in its habits, some care must be exercised in bringing about the required change in its bill of fare.

Do not imagine you will succeed by at one step placing a proper diet of hard seeds before it and compelling it to eat that because you know it is the proper thing—in short, treating it, as some will tell you, as you would a spoilt child. The change must be brought about by slow degrees.

Begin by decreasing its allowance of sop to almost vanishing point, and let this small portion be with-held on alternate days, after the first few days, and as soon as possible discontinue it altogether.

As this item gradually disappears, a drink of water should be offered the bird twice a day. It may be offered even whilst the sop is given, but will probably not be accepted.

Then fill its seed tin three-quarters full of a mixture of dry seeds—maize, wheat, dari, canary, and a little hemp and sunflower. Fill up the tin with the usual boiled maize, prepared fresh every day. Doubtless this quantity of boiled maize will be insufficient for the bird's daily need, and when this is eaten it will pick over the mixture of dry seeds, and, after a time, partake of them, and thus acquire a taste for its natural food.

In a few days' time the quantity of boiled maize should be still further decreased, and, as the bird takes to the dry seed, gradually dropped altogether. Finally, it should only be given on special occasions for some particular purpose.

Permanent Treatment Outlined.

Presuming that the bird has now taken kindly to the dry seeds offered, and has consequently been almost or quite weaned of all sloppy food and cooked maize, let its future diet consist of the above mixture of seeds, supplemented by an occasional piece of dry plain biscuit or crust of bread, and a small quantity of sweet, ripe fruit daily—bananas, grapes, oranges, or sweet apple or pear are all excellent and wholesome.

Water may be kept in the cage regularly provided the bird does not soak its food in it, in which case it must be taken away, and a drink offered morning and night.

Keep the cage and food vessels scrupulously clean, and do not forget to supply coarse, gritty sand to aid digestion. Fine sand is useless; these birds require a gravel of almost as coarse a nature as a pigeon.

For some weeks, or until the nights are quite warm, cover the cage over as soon as the bird has settled down for the night with a green baize cover, or a piece of blanket or flannel, and take every precaution to protect the bird from a direct draught.

Never allow it to stand in front of an open window until it is thoroughly acclimatised, and if it shows any signs of a cold at any time at once add a few pods of chillies to its seeds, and see that it is kept quite warm for a time.

It will also be advisable to resume the practice of covering its cage as soon as the nights become chilly in autumn, and continue it through its first winter in this country.

In cases where recently imported birds are not procured until the autumn months arrive this practice may be deemed quite necessary during its first winter with us. With these few simple precautions there is little, if any, difficulty in acclimatising the most delightful of pets—a Grey Parrot.

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.) J.R., J.F.

Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.)

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.) J.R., H.W.B., J.H.P.

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. 22.—Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Nov. 29-30—Southampton C.B.S.—(W. L. Page, 30, Bedford Place.) J.R.

Dec. 2-4.—Bristol F.A.—(G. H. T. Maggs, 9, Trinity St., Newtown, Bristol.)

Dec. 6-7—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Dec. 9.—Gateshead C.B.S.—(W. Curry, 6, Roxburgh Place, Newcastle.) F.L., T.A., D.H., C.W.

Scotland.

Nov. 10-11.—Glasgow C.B.A.—(W. Hutchison, 167, Hospital St.)

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

1917.

Jan. 3-4.—City of Glasgow O.A.—(J. Young, 76, Burn Rd., Rutherglen.).

Wales.

Oct. 28.—Landore, Plasmarl C.B.S.—(H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terr., Plasmarl, nr. Swansea.) C.B.S., J.H., J.E.J.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Ireland.

Dec. 1-2.—Newtownards C.B.S.—(Wm. Montgomery, 62, Church St.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 50,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."

Tel. No. 5229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

Twitterings.

Wadebridge F.A. is holding its annual county show on Dec. 11, and the Sec., Mr. E. Mitchell, Egloshayle Road, would be pleased to hear from anyone willing to help by guaranteeing a class or giving a special.

The annual show of the Gateshead C.B.S. will be held on Dec. 9. The judges are Messrs. F. Laidlow, T. Almond, D. Hamilton, and C. Waters. The hon. sec. of the society is Mr. W. Curry, 6, Roxburgh Place, Newcastle.

Mardy P.P. and C.B.S., writes Mr. D. D. Jones, Gen. Sec., intend holding their show on Dec. 14, when some 15 classes for cage birds will be given. Local secretaries please make a note of this as we intend sticking to our day. We were clear of all surrounding shows last year and hope that others will do the same.

The Yorkshire Union of C.B.S., writes Mr. S. Midgley, will offer for competition at all Union shows, also at the Sheffield show, which was granted the full patronage of the Union, and where all points gained for the various competitions will count, a ten-guinea trophy. The opening show will be the City of Bradford O.S., Oct. 14, when Mr. Peel, Skelmanthorpe, will judge Yorkshires, and Mr. W. A. Cowgill the remainder. The two British classes will be included in the schedule of all Union shows this season, and are open to all, members of the Union or not. It is hoped that British bird exhibitors will see that these are well patronised and thus encourage the various shows to extend them another season.

For our annual show, Nov. 25, we have fixed up the following judges, writes Mr. J. Thomson, sec. Pathhead "Kirkcaldy" C.B.S.: Scotch Fancy, J. Stenhouse, Kelty; Borders and Norwich, J. McLeay, Kirkintilloch; British and Foreign, J. Mackie, Frenchie; so with good classification, full prize money, and numerous specials, we hope to have a good show.

I should be glad, writes Mr. J. Hopkins, if you would kindly announce that in the Accrington schedule it was omitted to state that members of the N.P.C. competing for our specials must mark their entry forms "N.P.C." Members' subs. are due, and must be paid before members are entitled to compete. In case any member does not receive a schedule for a patronage show, he should write to the secretary concerned.

I had quite a pleasant surprise, writes Mr. F. Hutchinson, to see the drawing of my wee gem in last week's Cage Birds. I have been a successful breeder and exhibitor of the Borders during the past four years, and I attribute a great part of my success to the useful hints obtained from the fancier's friend, Cage Birds, and to the honest treatment by the breeders from whom I have purchased stock. I wish Cage Birds the success it so well deserves.

"British Birds" of October, Messrs. Witherby, 326, High Holborn, 1s. monthly, opens with an obituary of the celebrated Scottish naturalist, Dr. J. A. Harvie-Brown, who died on July 26 last, at the age of seventy-two. The leading article is the concluding portion of "Some Breeding Habits of the Sparrow-Hawk," by J. H. Burn, illustrated by some beautiful photographs by the author. The rest of the issue is taken up by the usual "Notes" which this month are up to even more than their usual interest to students of British bird-life.

We are very pleased to say, write Messrs. Day and Roberts, joint secs. Leicester Hand in Hand C.B.S., that we have secured the services of Mr. H. W. Battye (Canaries) and Mr. C. Houlton (British) as judges at our seventeenth annual open show, Nov. 4 and 6. We are anticipating a bumping entry, having increased our classification, there being 29 classes Canary section (extra Yorkshire classes) and 14 British, full prize money being guaranteed in several classes. Specials are rolling in, and we hope to have more than in previous years, as these have always been a special feature at our show.

The September issue of Bird Notes, the journal of the Foreign Bird Club, contains an account by Mr. W. Shore Baily, of the breeding of the Jackson's Whydah. It is only a very few years since this beautiful bird appeared for the first time on our show benches and Mr. Baily is to be congratulated upon the early success which gains him the club's medal. Other articles are "Breeding Red-naped Lorikeets," by Mr. E. J. Brook, "Breeding Blue Budgerigars," by J. W. Marsden; "Pheasant Rearing Under Broodies," by G. E. Ratigan; "Aviary Experiences," by H. Carr Walker and "Some British Birds in my Aviaries," by W. Shore-Baily. The latter records another successful breeding of the Bearded Tit in an aviary.

REVIEW OF SCHEDULES.

Abertillery, Gymnasium Hall, Oct. 18; judge, J. Robson; 42 cl. Nor. 11 (3 Nov.); Yorks. 12 (4 Nov.); Bord. 4; A.O.V. 1; Mules 3; Brit 7; Sell. 4; prizes, 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d. if 9 entries; sliding scale if less. Fee 1s. 6d, Ent. close Oct. 14 to W. Newell, 62, Princess St.

Newcastle C.B.S., Town Hall, Oct. 21. Judges, G. Dobinson, T. C. Crawhall, T. B. Tomlinson. 47 cl., Nov. 8 (2 Nov.); Crests 4; Yorks 7 (2 Nov.); Scotch Fancy 2; Bord. 9 (Nov. 2); A.O.V. 1; Sell. 2; Mules 3; Brit. 8; For. 2; Gift 1. Prizes, 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d. if 10 entries; half if less. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close Oct. 16, to F. W. Laidlow, 55, Colston St., Benwell, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

LIVERPOOL O.S.—St. Martin's Hall, Scotland Road, Oct. 20-21. Judges, H. W. Battye, J. C. Barnes, G. Large, C. Houlton. 66 classes: Yorks. 24 (12 Nov.), Nor. 20 (8 Nov.), Bord. 9, Sell. 3, Mules 2, Brit. 7, Gift 1. Prizes 10s., 5s., 3s. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close first post Oct. 15 to G. Green, 5 Rocky Lane, Anfield, Liverpool.

LANDORE, PLASMARL C.B.S.—George and Dragon Hotel, Landore, Oct. 28. Judges, J. Hocking, J. E. Jeffreys. 48 classes: Nor. 12, Yorks. 12, Bord. 9, A.O.V. 2, Mules 4, Brit. 9. Prizes 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d., if 9 entries; sliding scale if less. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close Oct. 23 to H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terrace, Plasmarl, nr. Swansea.

Our Front Page Drawings.

The original drawings of our front page illustrations, and of most other pictures appearing on our pages, may be purchased by readers for framing. Terms for any picture will be sent on application.

Fine Prizes for Roller Canary Fanciers.

At the open show of the Provincial Roller C.C., Dec. 1, 2, £6 will be given for points competition in champion birds, and £6 for Novices.

Washing Demonstration in London.

A Washing Exhibition and competition will be held at the meeting of the City and Suburban A.C.B., at The Church Institute, Paddington St., on Oct. 9 at 8. Mr. F. J. Martin, the hon. sec., writes that fanciers are invited, and novices in particular should attend early to secure a seat.

Some Newcastle Show Tickets Wrongly Dated.

On some of the admission tickets for Newcastle Show, the date Oct. 28 is printed, writes Mr. T. O. Crawhall. This is a mistake; it ought to be Oct. 21, and I shall esteem it a favour if you will make this known through Cage Birds, as I know several tickets were sold before the mistake was found out.

Resuscitation of the Welsh C.B.C.

I am desired, writes Mr. D. H. Tedstone, to thank you for all you have done for the Welsh C.B.C. in the past, and trust that you will help us in the future. When I held office before you helped me to build up the club to a record, but I am sorry to say it has since dropped almost to zero. I hope with your co-operation to build it up again; this I know you will grant me. Out of the subscription of three shillings per year sixpence is placed to a benevolent fund, and from this fund grants are made for legal advice, or loss or damage to birds in transit to or from a show or while at the show. Societies wishing for the patronage of the club, or fanciers desiring to join, should write to Mr. Tedstone, at 5, Struet St., Brecon.

OBITUARY.

MR. JOB HARGREAVES (Eccleshill).

I am sorry, writes Mr. J. Firth, to inform you of the death of Mr. Job. Hargreaves, which occurred on 25 Sept. He was interred on Sept. 28, at Eccleshill Parish Church. He was known all over the British Isles as one of the largest breeders of Canaries, and was in a large way as a manufacturer of all classes of cages for over 60 years. As a Canary exhibitor, he won prizes all over the country and was widely known and respected.

"Cage Birds" Roll of Honour.

It is with sincere regret, writes Mr. J. Ellwood, hon. treas., Cockermouth F.S., that I have to inform you of the great loss sustained by our esteemed sec. Mr. John Jackson, in the death of his son Pte. Hubert Jackson, of the 5th Border Regt., who was killed in action in France, on Sept. 16, in his 21st year. Bertie was one of our best working members, and his father's right hand man. I feel sure all fanciers who have the acquaintance of our secretary, and they are many, will sympathise with Mr. and Mrs. Jackson and their young son in this great sorrow.

Clapham Entries Extended.

At the time of writing, writes Mr. T. J. Hose, Hon. Sec. Clapham C.B.A., I have only received a dozen entries, so will have to extend time of closing till last post on Saturday next, Oct. 7.

Change of Show Date.

Please note, writes Mr. H. M. Ferguson, sec. Ayr C.B.C., that instead of Nov. 25 our annual open show (Red Cross) will be held on Dec. 9 to prevent clashing with dates of neighbouring shows.

The Patronage of the British Roller C.C.

Roller societies desiring the patronage of the British Roller C.C. should write at once to me, writes Mr. J. W. Norris, 31, Scylla Road, Peckham Rye, S.E., so that I may bring the applications before our next meeting, Oct. 17.

What is a "British" Bird?

In the British section of the schedule for the show of the Clapham C.B.A., every class except the two for insectivorous birds is distinctly stated to be for British birds, and it will be interesting to see the result in some of the classes. Very many Siskins, Greenfinches and Hawfinches, for instance, have in the past come almost direct from the Continent to the show benches via "Club Row," and, although this will not happen this year, many of these birds which have had an assisted passage to our shores are still in the flesh.

Pleasant Evenings for Bird-Keepers

An instructive evening is open to bird lovers in London at the next meeting of the London C.B.A., Oct. 12, at the "Red Lion," 2, York St., St. James's, at 8 o'clock. The evening will be devoted to questions and answers, and anyone interested is cordially invited. Gateshead fanciers should attend the meeting of the Gateshead C.B.S., on Oct. 14, at Lockhart's, High St., at 7.30, when Messrs. J. Maddison and W. Curry will discuss the respective merits of British bird and Canary keeping.

The Rare Bearded Titmouse.

The Bearded Tit has been recorded from Berkshire, the first appearance in the county for more than seventy years.

A Near Thing.

Cage Birds last week was very nearly coming out under a new Editor, for it was only by a very short distance that the first bombs dropped in the Zeppelin raid on Sept. 24 missed our present Editor's house. He was awakened out of his beauty sleep by the explosions, and was further scared by the flashes and reports of a couple of "Star lights" which were sent up from a defensive station within a very few yards from his windows. His nerves are not so strong as they once were, and as this was the second time he has been "put through it," he wishes to apologise for any shortcomings in last week's issue. He says it shall not occur again if he can avoid it.

MY STARLING "BOBBY."

By Mrs. E. M. SARGEANT.

THE kind reception by the Editor of my previous notes emboldens me to write an account of my Starling, "Bobby." He was brought me in a nest with two others by two small scout boys who had been camping at the Old Hills for a week-end (this is many years ago, and both are now serving their country at the front). They had had some trouble to get them out of the hole in a tree, and the nest was rather an untidy affair, inside of which were three little balls of grey fluff and three little yellow sun-bonnets with wide brims.

And what hungry little things they were! The little bonnets were everlastingly opening for a morsel of something good. I fed them at first on bread and milk, with a little hard-boiled egg and scraped beef, and as they got older I used biscuit meal and chopped green food, "scalded" and made crumbly moist with barley meal or sharps, and a little bit of meat or egg each day.

I think they were the very laziest birds I ever had. It must have been six weeks before they attempted to leave the nest, and all this time the sunbonnets had been undergoing a metamorphosis, dwindling as to width and taking leaps and bounds in the diminution of length.

One of the young birds was very tame, and would follow me about as he got older, so I decided that was the one I would keep, and I christened him "Bob." He soon got to know his name, and called himself by it. I used to put a little piece of meat on my head, and he would fly up for it when I patted my head and said "Up, Bob." Sometimes I would show it to him and then double my hand up over it, and he would perch on my wrist and prize my fingers open with his beak till he found it.

He was particularly fond of music, especially dance music, and while it was being played he would stand on my head, stretching up and down, and sing the tune to his own name, saying "Bobby, Bobby, Bobby," over and over again. He would go round and take a bit of food from all the other birds, and was just a spoilt tyrant.

After a time his grey suit was changed for a most beautiful one of shot silk, green and blue, and pink in some lights, dotted over with a thousand pearls. It was then he began to take a great interest in a house at the top of the street which he could see through our back window, for there two Starlings were keeping house in a little hole under the eaves. They would come down the road for pieces of bread when the snow was on the ground, actually taking them off the Sparrows, who would have to stand around at a respectful distance while the Starlings broke the big pieces up, and they could rush forward for the little bits.

When the spring came Bob was looking fine and glossy, for he never failed to have three or four baths a day. And my head was his drying ground! Alas! one day towards summer I had failed to close the door securely, and Bobby got away, straight down the street, and up on to the roof where the household affairs of his friends were proceeding. All the entreaties and all the large pieces of meat placed conspicuously on my head had no effect; there he stood, shrieking "Bobby! Bobby!" at me, and dancing about in glee.

After a bit there came another Starling, and two dwelling houses under the eaves, and all four of them would come down in the following winter for bits. Some boys caught Bobby under a riddle, but I gave them something for him and let him go: he had tasted liberty, and had his mate, and, much as I loved him, I could not find it in my heart to deprive him of them. He was still there when I left the following spring.

CANARY KEEPING FOR BEGINNERS.

By J. NORTH.

Helpful Hints on Management, Pairing, Breeding and Rearing, which should make the Hobby of Canary Keeping easy of pursuit by the amateur, and containing information of interest to older hands.

THE chief object in writing these articles is to assist beginners and to give readers generally the results of a good many years' experience and observation. We do not claim to know everything, and we shall not attempt to explain mysteries about which we know nothing. No doubt many omissions will be made, and we shall be only thankful if those fanciers who are in a position to supply the deficiencies will have the goodness to do so.

Although the subject has been discussed over and over again, yet many new readers have not shared in the proceedings, and different people have different ways of saying the same thing, so that perhaps even those who have read and observed as much as, or more than we have, will bear patiently with us while we go over the elementary course.

We do not intend to take up a lot of room in narrating the history of the origin of Canaries, nor in arguing as to the exact date when they were subjugated to domestication, yet, as they will never entirely lose the attributes with which they were at first endowed, and which are constantly presenting themselves in various forms to those who study their breeding and rearing, it is advisable to understand to what order and family of birds Canaries belong, and their habitat or place of original naturalisation.

What is a Canary?

Thus, one should know whether or not the Canary belongs to the great family of Warblers, such as Nightingale or Blackcap, or to the Buntings, of which the Yellowhammer is a familiar example, and to which the Canary is more closely allied.

It has many resemblances to both of these, yet it belongs to neither. Its volume of song, its compass of musical notes, its vivacity of execution present a similarity to the former, while its colour and marking and size render it not unlike many species of Bunting.

The instincts of the Canary prompt it to seek, and its internal organisation permit it to assimilate, seeds of various kinds, chiefly grasses, but the food of the true Warblers is mostly derived from the animal world, while that of the Buntings consists of portions of both.

Anyone that has been accustomed to observe the habits of Finches will readily see that those of a Canary are very similar. It has the size and build, or type, of a Finch, it behaves like a Finch. Its food, its nest, its eggs, all indicate its relationship. It is a true Finch and very characteristic of the tribe, and its scientific name is fringilla canariensis, or Canary Finch. Some may exclaim: "It's all very well to say a Canary is a Finch; but how can you prove it?" In this way—that it has never been crossed with any bird that was not a true Finch.

The Dawn of Canary Breeding.

It is thought that the first Canaries that were bred in cages went from St. Helena to Elba over three centuries ago, and for many years it would seem that the variations under domestication did not amount to the establishment of anything like the distinct classes as we understand them now.

No doubt there were several Continental varieties, such as Belgian; high-shouldered Flemish, big in body and coarse in feather; and also French, which were spangled, possibly something between what we now know as "Lizards" and "London Fancies"—many years before there were any distinct breeds in England.

The original Canary was doubtless possessed of that full share of versatility that is so characteristic of members of the Finch tribe. You may look into the store-cage of the birdcatcher, and amongst the crowd of Linnets or of Goldfinches a fanciers' eye will at once commence to find points of difference in size, and shape, and colour.

How Varieties Were Produced.

These differences would exist just as likely amongst a lot of wild Canaries, and possibly more so, because their plumage is not that of simple colour, but compounded of inky blue and yellow, forming golden-green, and under domestication the non-production of the blue pigment, at first, probably in patches on the under-part only, would leave the yellow pure.

This would be appreciated by those who were taking trouble to reproduce them, and a selection would be started by pairing together those that showed proclivities in the desired direction, so that we see from very early times selection and pedigree-breeding have constituted, just as they do to this day, the trunk lines by way of which the maintainance of distinguishing classes can be perpetuated and perfected.

A Universal Hobby.

The cultivation of the domesticated Canary is not confined to any particular class of society. It is to be found in the palaces of the rich, and in the garrets, and, we regret to say, in the cellars of the poor. They are bred as affording pleasure as pets, for prizes, and for profit by different people in every walk of life.

The love of birds is a humane sentiment, and the desire to cultivate them in captivity is a laudable occupation, and the study of it affords means of recreation to many busy people. The rearing of Canaries, whether for singing purposes or for prize competition, is the means in many homes of augmenting the income, and the friendly emulation at exhibitions, and the meetings of clubs and societies for the reading of papers and the comparison of specimens give vitality to the cult, and make for the elevation of it far above the level of mere marketing.

Some of our readers are fond of Canaries that are pure yellow in colour, others prefer marked or variegated birds, a third party leans to size or length before either colour or marking, then also the Crested variety has its followers, some accepting the dark-crested Norwich, and others the large, majestic, clear, Lancashire birds.

Then there are the Cinnamons, so named from their colour being considered to resemble that of the spicy bark, and lastly the Lizards, with dark spangled backs and clear caps, about as opposite in all æsthetic properties as a Canary could be from the Lancashires, and yet extensively bred in the same localities, side by side.

Better to Have the Best.

Many of our readers possess Canaries of no particular breed, and it is quite likely that a few might be found who would not admit there existed any different classes of them, and who would deny that there could possibly any better Canary than the one they petted.

This state of things is all very well and excusable, but our object is to help our readers in the selection of a specific variety, and to explain to them the best manner of pairing, for the purpose of maintaining and strengthening the distinctive points of difference and of excellence.

It costs no more to feed and rear first-class birds that excel in size and shape and colour than to keep weedy little things that have no pretension to beauty in any shape or form.

It would be as well for us now, perhaps, having just indicated the different varieties, to proceed with giving our views generally on breeding and management, reserving until another occasion remarks on the peculiarities of each variety, and the best means of pairing for the keep-up of or improvement in fancy points.

Yet in doing so, we do not want to appear neglectful of that portion of our readers who only keep one Canary, or perhaps a few, as household pets or singing-birds, and do not wish to embark on the anything but tranquil sphere of the full-blown Canary fancier. The owners of such birds receive their full measure of enjoyment by their careful attention to their pets, and the birds make return for such kindness by livening everyone up with their joyous song and sprightly ways.

How Not to Keep Canaries.

Yet there is a seamy side even to this simple pleasure, inasmuch as the little prisoner is apt to go off song, to sit "humpy" on the perch, or to sleep a lot too much; to cough, or sneeze, and to cast its feathers at unseasonable times. Some will also make a mess with the husks of their seed, or will throw the seed itself about, or splash their drinking-water in one's face.

These latter trivialities can be easily remedied, and are generally got over by surrounding the cage with yellow or green leno, which, being shaped like a bag and run with a string or light cord in the hem, can be easily removed, cleaned, and returned, while the annoyance of splashed water on one's face, or where it shows more plainly on the window-panes, can be avoided by giving the water in vessels that are not open at top like a cup or pot, but enclosed like the ordinary bird bottle of the shops.

Latterly, however, very nicely made white china or earthenware water-pots have been put on the market that can easily be kept clean, and, being covered for the most part, the water is preserved cool and pure.

Those deterrent elements which we noticed on the seamy side of the house Canary-keeping, arise chiefly through the bird being kept in an all-wire cage through which every available draught runs its course, and, as if there were not enough of them in any part of any room, the poor little bird is placed in the window, where he gets them with all the vigour of freshly-made things: the heat of the sun, concentrated through the glass, and the chills of a frosty night, which the windows cannot affect or soften.

In addition to all this, his strenuous exertions to find a mate, the desire for which is one of the causes of his frequent whistling, appeal to callous ears; the exuberance of his spirit flags, the music of his voice is gone, he pines and mopes in solitude.

We don't know whether or not it is possible to construct a decently lighted and ventilated room without having a draught from the window, but what we do know, and what concerns us, is that nine hundred and ninety-nine Canaries out of a thousand have not found such rooms, and the proportion of those that are kept in the uncomfortable round or square all wire cages is almost as great.

The Proper Kind of Cage.

We are aware that in addition to the lenobag protector, already mentioned, many good people provide light-coloured and dark-coloured wraps for their cages, the former for day use and the latter for night, and given constant attention. There is nothing to be said against their use, but what we, in the interests of the birds, and consequently in the interests of the owners also, condemn is the all-wire cage when another should be used that can be made equally nice looking and a great deal more comfortable.

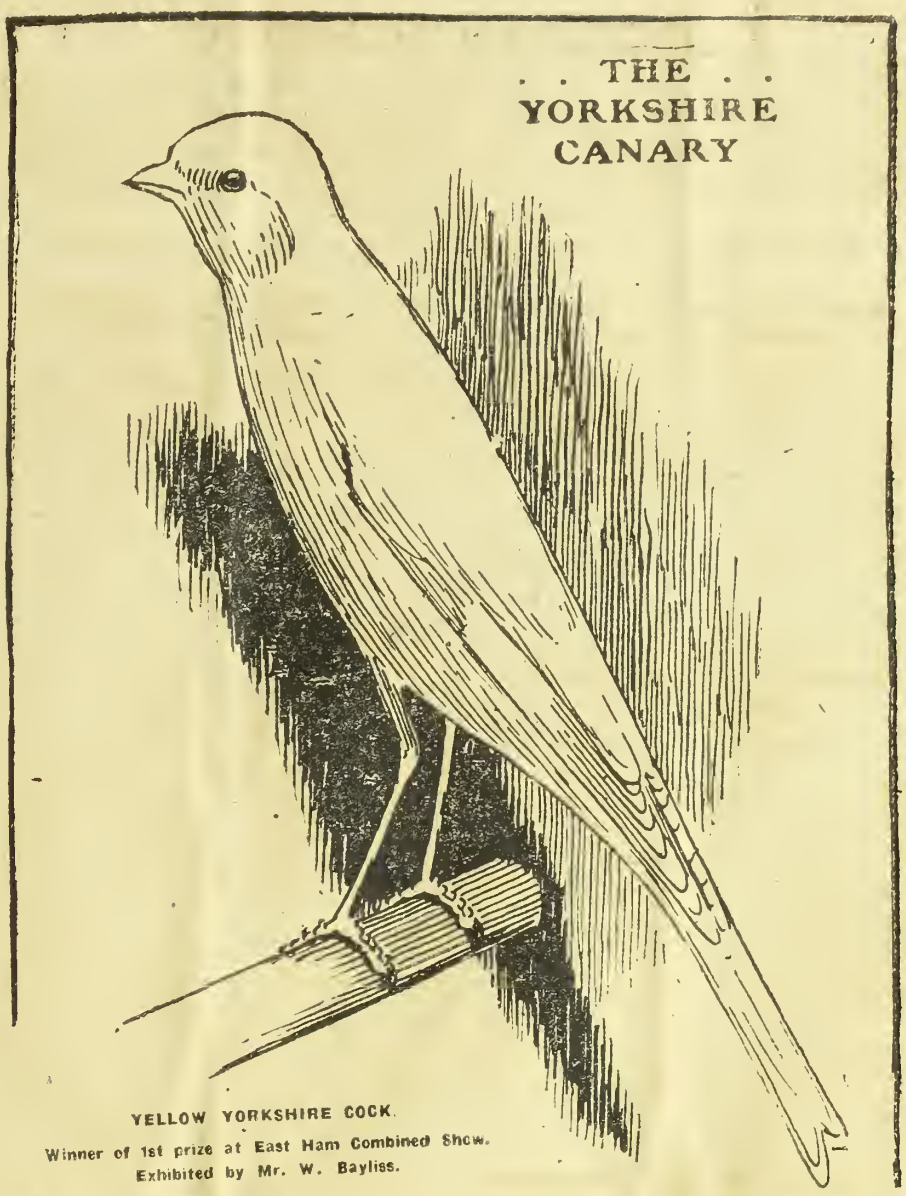
This should be made of pinewood for all parts except the front, which alone should be wired, the door being in the centre of it, so that a bath might be attached occasionally.

The seed and water bottles should be placed one on the outside of each end, and a perch should run from one bottle-hole to the other across the cage. Above this two other perches should be placed in parallel positions from front to back, so that the bird can exercise himself properly, both in a to-and-fro manner between the parallel bars and up and down to the perch running lengthways.

The size of the cage should not be less than thirteen or fourteen inches broad, twelve inches high, and eight inches from back to front. The woodwork may be stained and varnished—there seems no time for French polishing bird cages nowadays—or two tones of the same colour in enamel may be used with artistic effect. Very light blue or green, or both blended, for the inside, and the corresponding colour in very dark shades for the outside looks very nice.

Such a cage might hang on any wall without bringing discredit to it, and its position should be studied so that as much light as possible passes into it. There could be no harm accrue to the occupant if this cage were brought quite close to the window, or even suspended from the ceiling near to it, and attached to a loop in the centre of the cage top.

Many people might easily imagine that the owner of the batchelor Canary was not far removed in sentiment from the Canary breeder or aviculturist, and that, given the opportunity, one might slide, almost as a matter of evolution, from one to the other.



We do not say that this is impossible or improbable, neither do we think that anything but genuine pleasure and relaxation is likely to be the result, yet we have discovered an intermediate or connecting link in a class of hobbyists who say they have no appreciation of fanciers' distinctions, and even go so far as to stigmatize as "monstrosities" many of the advanced specimens that show classic perfection in a remarkable degree.

Such people pretend to greatly admire Canaries and British birds on account of their natural beauty of plumage and their characteristic ways, but we very much fear that if the uncultured and normal plumaged Canary were shown to them, they would not feel very enthusiastic about troubling to breed it in cages.

A Mistaken Idea.

Too many people take it for granted that in some undefinable portion of the globe, clear yellow and clear buff Canaries fly about in the woods and groves. If such people have sufficient time for and feel any pleasure in breeding Canaries that neither appeal to the eye of the ordinary observer, and that possess no distinctive class qualification, nor money value, by all means let them do so. To say, however, that any fancy bird can possess such an amount of standard properties as to render it a "monstrosity" is equivalent to saying that a cat or dog, or a horse, or a lady, can be too beautiful, or that anyone has got such a lot of gold that they are too rich.

(To be continued.)

YELLOW YORKSHIRE COCK.
Winner of 1st prize at East Ham Combined Show.
Exhibited by Mr. W. Bayliss.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. J. Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage Road, Harborne.

Extra Classes for Border Canaries at Clapham.

An Example Worth Following.

SIR,—I was pleased to see, on receiving the schedule from the Clapham C.B.S. that they are making what I think a step in the right direction in giving two classes for unlighted Borders. It is asking too much for a young bird to have in one year the development of an old bird.

They have also put on a selling class for Borders, and I think these classes, if run at other shows, would meet with good results. I wish Clapham Show every success.

Cheltenham. H. ELSTON.

Helpful Articles on Canary Management.

A Request for a Reprint.

SIR,—Some twelve years or more ago you published in CAGE BIRDS some most helpful articles on Canary Management; I think by Mr. North, who at that time answered the Canary queries in your columns. I have a keen recollection of the enjoyment with which as a young fancier I read these articles as they appeared, and I am sure that if you could see your way to republish them you would be conferring a favour upon many fanciers who are not such old readers of CAGE BIRDS as I am myself.

J. A. JAMESON.

[We have referred to the articles mentioned by our correspondent, and in the interests of our novice readers we have pleasure in reprinting a first instalment this week. The remainder will follow in due course.—ED. CAGE BIRDS.]

A Hybrid Winner in British Bird Class.

The Judge Tenders an Explanation.

SIR,—In your issue of September 16, Mr. Jeffreys, of Swansea, seeks my reason for giving my decision at the Ystradgynlais Show recently in favour of a bird crossed between a Goldfinch and a Greenfinch—in other words, a Hybrid—in a class which was catalogued as "Any variety British bird," and, furthermore, Mr. Jeffreys complains that such a bird is not eligible to compete in a class with this heading.

As the judge in this particular case, I should like to justify my decision, and also to enlighten Mr. Jeffreys, and Mr. Castree, who in the following week's issue also seeks enlightenment.

May I ask what are British birds? In this case the prize winner was a direct descendant of true species, viz., a Goldfinch and a Greenfinch, and I maintain that, although in the category of a Hybrid, a bird got from such parents, which have only the single difference that one is "Gold" and the other "Green" Finch is nothing less than a true British species. May I go outside the Fancy to give an illustration: If a cat has kittens in a herring basket, is it necessary that the kittens are herrings? If an Englishman weds a Welshwoman, is it necessary their offspring are half-castes? And if we cross a Goldfinch with a Greenfinch, is the blood coursing through their veins other than British? It is true such a specimen is called a "Hybrid," but as you Mr. Editor pointed out in "General Queries" in the issue of Sept. 23, a Hybrid is not necessarily "Mule," and a Mule is the result obtained from crossing with that which is foreign, such as a horse and an ass.

It is a well-known fact such a bird as that obtained from a Goldfinch and a Greenfinch is most difficult to breed, and surely a judge is justified in recognising the hybridiser; at least, I think so.

The point which requires clearing is this: Is the Goldfinch a British bird? I maintain it is. Is the Greenfinch? It is. Is the product from two such species a British one? As one who has given years of study to the subject, my views are clear, and I shall always maintain that such a specimen has a perfect right to compete with the Redpoll which Mr. Jeffreys entered for the competition, especially when taking into consideration that Redpolls can be caught, tamed, trained, and judged in ten minutes.

ARTHUR COOK.

Ystalyfera.

How I Bred My Greenfinch-Bullfinch Hybrid.

A Lady Bird-keeper's Success After Several Failures.

SIR,—It must now be some seven or eight years ago that one of your coloured plates fired me with an intense longing to possess a bird like the one pictured. It was the beautiful picture of a Greenfinch-Bullfinch which forms the frontispiece to Mr. Charles Houlton's splendid book, "Cage Bird Hybrids." I had a Greenfinch (one of my first birds), and procured a Bullfinch hen. They agreed together well, but the Bullfinch did not go to nest till the second year. I had had a nest of Greenfinch-Canaries from the cock the year before. The Bullfinch was not a very good nest builder in a cage, for she would carry horsehair and other materials, but mostly horsehair, all day long, first to and then from the nesting place. Indeed, in the end I had to make the nest for her where she laid her eggs, all clear, but in the next lot she had two good ones. I had let them have the range of the room this time, leaving the cage door open. Now she sat quite steadily, and hatched out two, but did not rear them, probably owing to my inquisitiveness.

Next year she built in the same cage, and brought out one in the first nest. I saw it when she was off after the first few days, a very fine bird indeed, with a good cropful. Then for several days she did not seem to come off at all, and looked very poorly, so at last I thought I had better see if anything was wrong, and I found that the poor hen was fastened securely round the legs with the horsehair, and the chick was dead.

A Lapse and a Reformation.

During the next two or three years they were amongst more birds loose in a room, and the Greenfinch took up with a Canary or a Greenfinch hen and reared several nests, but last year he returned to his old love, and she had a first nest with two good eggs, which I put under a Canary. She brought up both, but they died in the nest.

Next nest there was one good egg, and I let her hatch it out, but at the end of three days I found she was not feeding the young bird, and it was the tiniest bird I had ever seen, so I put it with a nest of Canaries. The Bullfinch consoled herself by appropriating and helping to feed a nest of Greenfinches which were already being tended by the right mother and a disappointed Canary hen. It was, as I said, so tiny that it did not get a proper share of food, so I moistened egg yolk with cod liver oil and malt, and fed it myself when the hen was off. To my unbounded delight the little thing lived, but its bones were so soft that the little feet became deformed, the outside claws of both feet going right under the other two, and all I could do was of no avail, as if I put on rubber tubing the little leg itself bent nearly double. So I decided to leave it alone, and by and bye its pretty breast feathers began to shine and look quite sleek, and it began to perch, and presently to sing something between a Canary and a Skylark's song. It is very tame and confiding; it will stand on my finger and eat from my hand, but I have never been able to do anything for its feet. It is now coming slowly through the moult; if it gets through I shall be glad to hear it singing again.

I was going to try again this year, but the Bullfinch I reared turned out a cock, also the Greenfinch, but the Greenfinch has brought me three dark Mules, two of which are cocks, both singing splendidly, and the Bullfinch has been with a hen Canary and two young ones. He has assisted in teaching them to fly, and is still agreeable, although one is beginning to sing, and fights the other young one, till Mr. Bullie puts his foot down, and then there is peace for a while. If he lives I will try him with a hen Canary next year; I purpose keeping him through the winter with this hen unless he knocks her about. Perhaps I will get them a little aviary or a large cage built out of doors with my prize money, for you will guess how pleased and surprised I was to see my name at the head of the correspondence page of CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 2 as having won with the account of my tame Rook one of your weekly prizes for the best letter sent in. "Jack Corvus" had an extra piece of beef on the strength of it.

(Mrs.) E. M. SARGEANT.

Bristol Show to be held as Usual.

Preliminary Difficulties Overcome.

SIR,—The Bristol Fanciers' Association has, after what looked like being an impossibility, been fortunate in securing a Hall to hold its 26th Annual Show, which will now be held at the Corn Exchange, Bristol, on Saturday and Monday, Dec. 2 and 4, this being the only dates available. The hall is second to none in the kingdom for show purposes, being exceptionally lighted, and free from draughts, and situated in the centre of the City.

The show is receiving the support and interest of the Bristol Constabulary and the Chief Constable of Bristol, and to the good offices of the latter we owe our thanks for such a splendid venue. The whole of the profits will be devoted to the late Inspector Harrison Fund. By the way of explanation, I must regretfully state that Inspector Harrison lost his life in the course of performing his duty in a recent Bristol fire, and left six orphaned children. This cause naturally commends itself to everyone, and needs no further comment to the cage bird fancy.

The Cage Bird Section will again be under the capable management of Mr. J. A. Greenslade, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Tristem, and other experienced fanciers as stewards, and although the show will entail a three days stay for the birds, during Sunday they will have a quiet rest, this, combined with our good attention, will be to their advantage than otherwise.

All exhibits will be sent home on Monday evening, with the usual attention they always receive at Bristol, which has so often been favourably commented on by exhibitors in the past. Schedules will be ready shortly, and will be sent to known present exhibitors, but anyone overlooked should please write.

G. T. MAGGS.

9, Trinity St., Newtown, Bristol.

Ants' Cocoons as Food for Insectivorous Birds.

How to Procure and Prepare them.

SIR,—As the above subject has been so prominently brought before the readers of CAGE BIRDS by such noted aviculturists as Messrs. Teschemaker and Bent, I feel I should like to give my own experience on the use of such a valuable asset in the diet of British Softbills. It is well known that the natural protection of the ants lies in the fumes which they emit from their bodies. Were it not so, they would have a very small chance against such enemies as Fowls, Pheasants, Partridges, Jays, Magpies, etc. I have proved over and over again that if a good-sized nest is scattered about and any of the above birds come across the eggs before the ants have time to gather themselves together, very short work is made of them. On one occasion I left a lot to clear themselves, and on going to gather up the eggs a couple of hours afterwards was surprised to see a pair of Jays and what appeared to be their young brood having a rare time among the ants' eggs. Seven or eight of these birds scampered off on my approach.

I know a keeper who last summer reared nearly a thousand young Pheasants with ants' eggs gathered in this wood, which is near Harborne. I have reared scores of Softbills annually on ants' eggs alone. Among the birds I have kept in this way have been Tree Creepers, Wrynecks, Nightingales, Redstarts, Willow Warblers, Garden Warblers, Fly catchers, Wheatears, etc.

But I don't use live ants' eggs in large quantities, and I fancy this is where the difference comes in, so I will endeavour to give my own procedure. First of all I open the nest carefully, and gather the eggs with as little as possible of the structure of the ant hill, then I riddle the larger sticks away on the spot and take home the portion which goes through the sieve. On reaching home I put this through a finer sieve, which takes out all but the eggs and dust; then I use another sieve which retains the eggs, and allows the dust to drop through.

All that is left after this is a nice sample of eggs and some clean light fibre. This I turn into a tin box and subject to a sharp heat in a good stove, then I spread thinly on to a sheet of brown paper in a nice airy place to dry. It is necessary to see that the eggs should not be placed in a back yard or garden to dry, otherwise the Sparrows will take the lot. The advantage of retaining the fibre with the eggs is that the eggs can be kept quite nicely in this way with much less drying than if the fibre were not used. In my own back garden I rear a lot of chickens, and what I riddle through the sieve is very soon devoured by them; they are ready for a fresh lot as it comes round each week, and they thrive remarkably. Those who have not the convenience for completing the clearing of the eggs at home should finish the work in the woods ready for the stoving. J. JEFFREY.

Escaped Canary Mates with a Wild Goldfinch.

SIR,—Last year I gave an officer of the Royal Garrison Artillery a dock Canary which used to fly about the room, and had got very tame. It always had its bath on the table, and would perch on its owner's finger. Last May I was called away when it was flying about the room, and I left without noticing that the window was slightly open. When I returned I found the bird had flown away, and it was not seen for several days. It was then noticed flying about with the Sparrows, but it was missed again till about a fortnight later, when it was seen by the Admiral's gardener in his garden. It mated with a hen Goldfinch, and flies about with its young. I have not seen them yet, but the gardener has. Should I be able to do so, I will let you know as soon as possible. GR. E. J. BREWER.

Sheerness.

"An Economic Problem."

The Poorer Fancier's Consolation.

SIR,—Mr. Wallace in his letter in the Sept. 30 issue of CAGE BIRDS, has put in writing the thoughts of many fanciers in his position, myself for instance. With a few fairly good birds to start with, I went through the novice and amateur classes in three or four years, then to the champion and how do I stand now? If I manage to breed a bird worth keeping, what happens to it? I send it out and it is claimed by the man with the deep pocket, so that the only thing to do is to keep it at home. If a man does have to pinch a bit to keep a few birds, he does not want the best taken, for we all know they cannot be bred quite so easily as they can be bought. But cheer up Mr. W., our time will come; there is a pleasure you have that is very often denied to the man with the deep pocket, that is, your wife and kiddies to take an interest in the birds. Perhaps you have a little fellow about four years old out with his "mum." and he brings home a bit of thistle or something for the birds, and gives it to you feeling very pleased and important over it; that is a pleasure that money cannot buy.

I was reading the letter from "Beeni Sonning" in another issue, and I cannot understand him sending nearly a hundred miles for Linnets and Greenfinches only to get them nearly dead, and dead ones in the box. If he will get permission from one of the landowners around Sonning and let me know, I would go over with the nets and birds and make him a present of part of the catch, as I am not very many miles from Sonning. Ask the Editor for my address, Mr. Beeni. YELNEH.

The Clashing of Show Dates.

Pontypool C.B.S. Alters Its Date, and Members will Attend a Conference at Cardiff.

SIR,—At a meeting, Baker's Restaurant, Sept. 30, Mr. D. R. Smith in the chair, and a good attendance, a letter was read from Mr. G. Broome re awarding of specials. This created an interesting discussion, and it was ultimately resolved not to place the specials this season. The question of clashing of our show next occupied attention, and it was felt that if we held our show on the fixed date it would result in failure, which would mean disaster to our society, as we are all working men fanciers.

The members did not appreciate the idea of abandoning the show, so it was decided to alter the date to Jan. 4, if we can arrange for the hall and judge. We trust we shall not inconvenience any society or fanciers by so doing, as we have endeavoured to fix a date without pirating that of anyone else. If we have unwittingly done so, we trust to hear immediately.

The question of how best to get a pair of birds for one of our members wounded in France and discharged disabled was soon dealt with, it being decided to try and obtain £4 from the members of our club, Mr. D. R. Smith to have charge of the subscription list.

Mr. E. Sweet was appointed Assist. Treas. during the absence of Mr. Ashman, who makes another of our members called to do his bit.

Mr. Banks's letter in CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 30, suggesting that a committee of three members from each Welsh society meet once yearly at Cardiff to discuss show business, with the special object of avoiding the clashing of dates, was read, and it was unanimously resolved to accept the invitation to attend a preliminary meeting at Cardiff Show, Nov. 29, and we shall probably attend Cardiff in force. Notice of motion was given that all members produce their CAGE BIRDS at meetings or be fined twopence, the same to be added to funds. We hope to see all members endeavour to attend regularly, so that we can arrange lectures, and invite friends. More new members are wanted.

W. D. LEWIS, Sec.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 590.)

Second Nesting of Rooks and Jackdaws.

Sir,—I should be glad to hear if any of your readers ever heard of Rooks and Jackdaws having a second brood in the year. At Springfield, near here, where there is a large rookery, it has happened this year, and it has been thought very curious, and a sign of an "Indian Summer." Young Rooks have been found which have fallen from their nests. I take Cage Birds regularly, and have been much interested in the correspondence.

C. Griffin.

Society Wanted for Durham City.

Sir,—I was pleased to read the letters of Mr. Robson and Mr. Stanger re the above, but I do not quite agree with Mr. Stanger when he writes about a newly formed Society having a show this year, while old-established and well-managed societies have difficulty in running successful shows. I do think, however, that a society might be formed, get into thorough working order, try a members' show first, and then launch out for something big, not to start at the top of the ladder and come down with a rattle. There are not many fanciers actually in the city, but there are hundreds in the surrounding districts. I trust we shall have some other opinions on the matter.

J. Gillespie.

Canaries With One Wing.

Some Further Examples.

Sir,—I notice in this week's Cage Birds Mr. W. Cartwright inquiring if any fancier has bred a Canary with one wing. I had the bad luck to breed one in the last round; it was in a nest of three Yorkshire-Borders. When they left the nest I noticed to my surprise that one of them only had one wing. The bird was lying in the bottom of the cage on its side, and I fancy was otherwise deformed, as when it got on its side it could not right itself again, so I promptly put it out of its misery.

A. Cunningham.

One that Lived for Eight Years.

Sir,—W. Cartwright asks us in Cage Birds, dated Sept. 30, if anyone has reared a Canary with one wing. I reared one in 1904, it was one of a nest of four of Norwich Plainheads, and turned out to be a fine Yellow cock and a splendid singer, a strong, healthy bird. I gave it to my sister, and it lived with her for eight years. On account of its being one wing short, it sometimes toppled over, and could not balance itself to get on its feet again for a second or two. There was no sign whatever of a growth of a wing on the side where it was missing.

W. C. Keynes.

The Abertillery Penny Fund.

What it Has Done and Is Doing.

Sir,—I hope you will be able to find room for the enclosed letter from the hon. sec. of the Abertillery Penny Fund, so that exhibitors may see what the Abertillery C.B.S. is trying to do as its share in helping on the good cause. W. Newell, Hon. Sec.

"The Abertillery Penny Fund, in aid of which the Abertillery C.B.S. are this year running their annual show, was instituted in Sept., 1915, for the purpose of providing comforts for men on active service from that locality, for welcoming service men home on leave, for the provision of necessities for men who are prisoners of war, and for the recognition of men who have distinguished themselves in the field. From its inception the fund has been fortunate in the possession of an untiring committee and officers whose unfailing devotion to the work has been the means of the fund making its usefulness increasingly appreciated. At present no less than 300 workers are connected with the movement, all work is voluntarily rendered, and not one penny has been paid for time lost or given to carry on the work. Over 3,000 parcels have been sent to the fighting sphere, and in the majority of cases acknowledgments have been received from the men. Upwards of 400 parcels have been given to men when on leave; three public receptions and presentations have been organised for men who have distinguished themselves in the field, and in every case where knowledge of a wounded man's arrival has been available, a motor car has been placed at his disposal for safe removal home. Necessities have been regularly sent to men from the district who are prisoners of war, and the number of these at the present date is 21.

"The Abertillery C.B.S., in lending their assistance to such a cause, are fulfilling their part in that great effort of 'Taming the Hun,' which is the determined idea of every true patriot."

(Signed) R. J. Horsham.

A Second Dispersal in a Year.

Dr. Lovell-Keays Joins the Army and Bids Good-bye.

Sir,—I have already begun to break up my collection, although I have never kept the same number of birds as when I so nearly gave up twelve months ago. I have joined the army now as an army doctor, so this must be the final good-bye to birds till after the war when it will be in some place other than East Hoathly. I should be glad if you would express for me my adieux to all bird lovers amongst whom I have made many many friends, and found much help and happiness. Also I should like to say how invaluable I have found Cage Birds. I tell all budding aviculturists that Cage Birds is as essential to them as an aviary. I am having it sent out to me wherever I go.

L. Lovell-Keays.

While conveying Dr. Lovell-Keay's message, we know we shall have the support of a large section of our readers in responding to his good wishes, and in saying "Au revoir, but not adieu."—Editor, Cage Birds.

Barrow and Sheffield Red Cross Show.

Barrow Secretary Repeats His Original Proposition.

Sir,—I was surprised to find that Mr. Woodall has taken such a view of my challenge. My challenge is merely a sporting proposal with a view to raise interest in both shows. I am prepared to still hold up our hero, Mr. Trantor, to sell more tickets than the Sheffield two members for the proposed amount, and personally I see no difficulty in knowing the actual number of tickets sold. Why not take it as honesty on both sides, and trust to either giving an honest return of the tickets sold? We are enthusiastic in our wish to make the show a success for a good cause, but to accept Mr. Woodall's proposal would be far out of our reach, as this is our first open show for many years, and to give a larger schedule than an old established society like Sheffield would be preposterous. But our schedule is of the best, and our specials are in galore, so you see we are out for a successful show at Barrow for a good and noble cause. So if Mr. Woodall cares to accept our proposal and rely on honesty as to the number of tickets sold by the representatives of both societies, well and good; if not, the correspondence will cease. Mr. Trantor, our own representative, is out for business and a good show.

D. McFarlane.

Earwigs as Red Mite Destroyers

Drastic Measures More Effective.

Sir,—Reading Mr. Bastock's letter re "Earwigs as red mite destroyers" brought before me an experience of mine. One year I had up eight hens for breeding in a room facing south, which got the full glare of the sun, which, by the bye, seems in my opinion to encourage the mite to multiply by scores if left alone for a week or two, more so than a room facing the north, that gets no sun at all.

Now that year I was taken very bad with my eyes, and was almost blind for a few weeks, with the result that I could not look after the birds myself, so they got a bit neglected as far as the cleaning out was concerned. When I got better I found the "mighty mite" had got a firm hold; they were everywhere, under cages, on top of cages, and in every nook and corner, and as I was turning down the cages I found one of those mite destroyers that Mr. Bastock brings before us, an earwig.

Did I leave them, that is, the mites, to him? No fear; I set to work with my sleeves up, got a camel hair brush, mixed some hot water and Sanitas disinfecting fluid, and applied the fluid mixture to all cracks and crevices that I could see, or any other place where they had got a hold, such as ends of spars, end doors, etc. The mixture brought them out of their lairs, and then I applied pressure of my fingers, and they were gone. Then I got a moulder's trowel and some putty, and set to work to fill up all places in which they had congregated, and then cleaned up all loose dust that was lying about, and retired dead tired after such a fight against the enemy.

A week later I had another good "scrunty," and again found a few between end doors, on the ends of spars, and between turn-rails of cages. I applied again the fluid mixture with the brush, and again finished them off with the fingers, cleaned up again, and sat down this time to live and learn by reading Cage Birds. From that day to this I have not been much bothered with red mite; if I should see any I just repeat the dose, and when giving the birds their bath I drop a little quassia liquid into the water, which helps to keep them off the birds if there should be any about.

I do not want Mr. Bastock to surmise that I do not believe that earwigs can devour red mite, although I hae ma doots, as their natural sphere is out in the open in garden and field, and not inside a bird room. My advice to anyone who is troubled with red mite is, roll up your sleeves and go in for some good exercise to the detriment of the mighty mite. I thank you, Mr. Editor, for space granted for former letters. T. R. Wallace.

Breeding Goldfinch-Bullfinch Hybrids.

A Model Bullfinch Hen.

Sir,—On receipt of Cage Birds each week, my first interest in the paper is to see what progress is being made in breeding new varieties of Hybrids. I was very pleased to see a few weeks since a claim made by one of your correspondents of having bred a Goldfinch-Chaffinch Hybrid, but since the claim was made I do not remember seeing anything further of the case. I hope the bird is alive now; perhaps the owner will let us know.

Last year I furnished you with an account of how I had bred a Hybrid between a Goldfinch and one of my hen Bullfinches. The hen Bullfinch on that occasion sat her full time, fed and brought up the young Hybrid, and had previously brought up two young Canaries. The Goldfinch and Bullfinch have not since been parted, but have been kept together in a cage in the aviary. This year in May she laid five eggs, all in the nest, and sat the full time, but all the eggs proved infertile. In June she nested again with five more eggs, and one of these produced a young Hybrid on July 3rd. She fed and brought this young bird up together with a young Yorkshire, which she must have fed well as it measured nearly 7 in. at 7 weeks' old. She nested again in July, with five more eggs, and this time two Hybrids were hatched, August 8 and 9, but the one hatched on the 9th had only one eye. All the four Hybrids bred from the Bullfinch hen are still alive and doing well, but it seems very strange that although I have bred more Hybrids than any other breeder in the city in which I live, I have never had a hen Goldfinch-Bullfinch yet, all of the Hybrids being cock birds, and these last three also have the appearance of being cocks.

I had a Goldfinch paired with a Chaffinch hen, and the hen laid five eggs, but all were infertile. The Yorkshire cock Canary brought up last year by the hen Bullfinch I paired with a hen Chaffinch, which in two nests laid eight eggs, but all were infertile. The hen Greenfinch paired with a cock Chaffinch, but did not nest, neither did a pair of Greenfinches.

You will observe that the two last Goldfinch-Bullfinch Hybrids were hatched rather late, so I thought I would help her a little in feeding them. This hen was so tame that it was not at all unusual for me to be feeding one of the young at the same time that she was feeding the other. She would rise from the nest when I put my hand in and let me take the young from under her and put it back again in the nest while she was still sitting in it. I think the great secret in breeding Hybrids is to keep the parents very tame and attached to the owner.

I feed my Hybrids in a way of my own, and this I gave to you some months ago. I beat up some egg and milk, and boil it for about 20 minutes until it becomes quite firm; then I press it through the ordinary perforated zinc, and mix with some very dry bread crumbs and a little finely chopped suet. I give green food as in season, and find the birds are very fond of the hearts of lettuce. This is the second hen Bullfinch I have had which has proved equally good for bringing up either Canary or Hybrid young. J. F.

The Other End of the String.

Does the Movement of the Needle Really Indicate Sex?

Sir,—When I first saw Mr. Williams' letter in Cage Birds, of Aug. 26, stating how to sex birds by means of a needle and string, I thought it was a hoax, but on seeing it referred to a second time I tried it. I have three old birds, the sex of which I know, and three young, of which I was not sure of sex. With the old birds the needle made one motion for cocks and another for the hens, and I was surprised and delighted. I then referred to Mr. Williams' article, but lo; the needle had made the wrong motions, and my birds were the wrong sex, but I knew the old birds sex, and had my own opinion regarding the others. So I took a cock bird out and tried again. Then the needle revolved (which was correct). Well, I thought, this is funny, and while thinking the needle steadied and started the pendulum motion, while the same bird was in my hand. From this I thought the movement of the needle must be controlled by the mind, so in my mind I said "stop," and the energy seemed to leave the needle and it came to rest.

On a florin there is a sort of a cross; I set my mind on one direction of this cross, and the needle swung that way. Then I changed my mind to the other direction of the cross (right angles), and the needle steadied, then moved in that direction, keeping on the lines of the cross. The cock bird was in my hand all this time, so it seems as if the needle is controlled by a concentrated mind.

Perhaps if I had had the orthodox motions of the needle in my thoughts it might have worked correctly in the first instance, but when it revolved for hens, and gave the pendulum motion for cocks, there seemed something out of course. I have delayed writing this for about three weeks, thinking someone more able might have a similar experience and write their account of it, but others can experiment for themselves while I await developments.

F. Head.

Exploded Long Ago.

Sir,—I note your correspondent J. K. Williams is anxious to know the opinion of Messrs. Norman and Page about what he terms "his method of sexing birds." It is rather late in the day to claim this method as his own, seeing that it appears in a journal, of which I possess a volume, published close on fifty years ago, and even prior to that time it had been given in a book devoted to animal magnetism and kindred subjects. I myself fully described the method in an article in "C.B." somewhere about 10 or 12 years ago, about which time the subject was much discussed, and matters went so far that some kind of mechanical device was invented, which was believed by its supporters to demonstrate the method infallibly. But, as the device in question soon disappeared from publicity, its utility, one would suppose, may have been somewhat exaggerated. My own experience, after giving the method a good test and seeing many tests made by others, was that sometimes the needle acted in accordance with "the book," but often it did not, and at other times was most erratic, and would giddily indicate any sex or no sex at all for the same bird. The fancier who relies implicitly upon this method of sexing his birds is in for a time of glorious muddle. Far better cultivate the faculty of close observation.

Claude St. John.

How to Catch Linnets.

And a Recipe for Making Bird-lime.

Sir,—Kindly allow me through your wonderful paper Cage Birds to give my method of catching Linnets in the hope that it may be of some use to the enquirers whose letters have recently been appearing.

I get about 50 twigs of privet, about 10in. long, and from the thick end of each twig I cut out a "v" shaped aperture and split the end up for about 3 ins. These are for fixing on the top of the bushes. The bark of the twigs is peeled off, and then they are ready for liming.

Then I trim the hedge where the twigs are to be placed quite level, and place the twigs at about a foot apart with the points facing the light, so that they do not glitter as the sun strikes them. Be sure not to stick them perpendicularly upwards, as they are intended to be used as perches for the birds you are out to catch. When they are set, keep a sharp look out for the birds perching on them, otherwise you are not only giving the birds unnecessary fright, but you are in danger of losing them from weasels or other vermin.

To lime the twigs I take a portion of the bird-lime between two fingers and the thumb of the left hand, and twist the twig round, beginning from the bottom and drawing it through until it is covered to the top.

I make my bird lime as follows:—I take three gills of unboiled linseed oil, and place this on the fire in a pan large enough to allow it to boil without boiling over. As soon as the oil boils up the pan should be shifted to the side of the fire so that it boils very slowly, and it gradually thickens until strong enough for use. Then the pan is placed in a cool place, and when the oil is quite cold about a tablespoonful of Stockholm tar is well mixed into the jar, and it is then ready for use. W. S.

"PIGEONS"

The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.

Coloured Plates a Special Feature.
The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,

"FUR & FEATHER"

The only Paper devoted to these subjects.
Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.

Offices: Idle, Bradford. Yorks

THE PROS AND CONS OF IN-BREEDING.

(Continued from page 576.)

Personalities Rebuked.

Immoderate Language Defeats Its Own Object.

Sir,—I have seen Mr. Bastock's letter in this week's Cage Birds, and I greatly regret it. I hope he will withdraw what he has written about Mr. House, and apologise for his unpardonable breach of good taste. I do not think he can do anything less in view of the letter from Mr. Edward Fox. Mr. Bastock could hardly have been more offensive had he given Mr. House the lie direct. It is not the kind of letter which is wanted in this discussiou, and if Mr. Bastock cannot couch his language in more reasonable terms he would be far better out of the discussion altogether. Vulgar bombast never carries conviction.

J. W. Gordon Stewart.

Sir,—I thought that I had finished with this correspondence, but I cannot allow such a letter as Mr. Bastock's to pass without a protest, although no doubt Mr. House's high reputation and long experience as breeder and judge and his position as the chief fancier's authority upon the subject of in-breeding will stand him in greater stead than any attempt of mine to defend him. I can mention names of others in Canarydom who, if not out and out inbreeders, at any rate recognise its use in certain cases. Names of equal if not greater repute in the Canary world than J. Bastock's. For instance, W. H. Shackleton in "The Yorkshire Canary," says "I was under the impression that the credit for my successes must be given to my good selection in the first place, but it came to my knowledge that although owned by two different fanciers they were of the same strain and blood, and had actually come from the same yard." Later on he says "These experiences proved to me that face value and mere selection are very weak reeds." and again "I have always strongly advocated inbreeding as means of forming a reliable strain."

H. W. Battye, whom no one can accuse of being an out and out inbreeder, says, "I do not object to the system under certain limitations and conditions"; again "If the has a stud of really high class birds he may practice it judiciously, and with great care, for the purpose of maintaining the perfection of that stud. Always he should use his best birds, those that are nearest perfection in type and position, and above all other things, be sure they are in sound health and sound constitutionally." J. Broadley, in his book says, "You must keep the best from the year's breeding and breed them a little akin. You will thus build up a strain of your own. You can go on breeding in this way for a year or two. You will then want some new blood."

Had I time I might give many more quotations, but these will suffice to show your correspondent is one of the bricks in that stone wall of ignorance against which it seems to be useless to batter.

T. C. Crawhall.

Mr. C. A. House, the Author of "Inbreeding, What it is, and What it Does," Replies to Mr. Bastock.

Sir,—It is not my wish to indulge in lurid personalities nor to attempt to destroy Mr. Bastock's reputation. I may only have "dabbled," but my dabbling has enabled me to do what many men have tried to do and failed. I have produced birds which have gone through six seasons without defeat, and which have won many cups, medals, and specials for myself, and when sold by me at record prices have continued to defeat all comers. Thus my dabbling, if I have only "dabbled," has brought myself and others considerable fame and benefit. It also proves that, as a believer in and exponent of in-breeding, I have derived considerable success by its practice. In a word, I have made my mark.

Mr. Bastock has made his mark as an horticulturist during the years he has been quiescent as a fancier. As I write I see, in my little garden, some lovely violas which bear the prefix "Moseley," and am proud to know that an old Canary fancier has given me the enjoyment derived from them. Knowing this, I should be ashamed to say Mr. Bastock has "dabbled" in gardening.

Mr. Bastock asks for proofs. They can be found in show catalogues and the Fancy Press for thirty-six years past. I have no wish to flaunt them here. Beyond the fact that they show what can be done by in-breeding, they have no bearing upon this discussion. If Mr. Bastock is so ignorant, as he says, there are gentlemen in his own city who would, no doubt, be pleased to remove his ignorance did he ask them. Messrs. H. Allsop, F. Machin, J. Mitchell, and J. Dixon Jenkinson, all leading lights in the Columbarian world, could give him instruction in my past if he really does not know, also Mr. G. E. Russell. These men are of world-wide fame, and their integrity beyond dispute.

Indulgence in personalities will not assist the readers of Cage Birds to understand the problems of in-breeding, but such letters as that of my old friend "Teddy" Fox in Cage Birds of Sept. 30 will prove what in-breeding will do. Mr. Bastock will not believe me. Will he believe Mr. Fox?

My thanks are due to you, sir, for your splendid notice of my little book on In-Breeding. Yourself and several members of your staff have first-hand knowledge of what I have done in several different branches of the Fancy. You know that if I have "dabbled," I have "dabbled" "to some purpose," as we say here in Yorkshire.

C. A. House.

Says it Wants More Understanding.

Sir,—When writing of the Norwich Plainhead it is easy for the fancier to conjure in his mind's eye the picture of the handsome dashing, sprightly bird, with its flashing eye and restless demeanour, brimming over with the joyousness of life. Such a bird truly is a beautiful picture, and no more like its progenitors than is the Queen of the garden like its ancestor the wild rose of our hedgerows. Both are almost solely the results of man's own creative genius.

Even to-day, however, we often see in our Norwich show cages, carrying off the money prizes, large drowsy specimens, seemingly without sufficient strength to stand upright on their legs, resting their weary bodies on the perches, and looking for all the world as if life had become an intolerable burden to them. Such birds ought not to win, but unfortunately they often do.

Now I do not suggest that inbreeding is solely responsible for the last mentioned condition, nor for the first, but I would ask whether it is a remedy. The inbreeder says: "Oh, dear, no, you must have your birds perfect, perfected by careful selection, or any other means, before you may think of in-breeding." The point Mr. Crawhall was so good as to miss one writer makes rather a lot of, Nature being a great inbreeder; but when Nature inbreeds she does so entirely by chance, not with the cold calculation of the inbreeding Bantam and lapdog fancier who inbreeds for the express purpose of reducing size. How does that suit the Norwich Plainhead breeder whose sole aim is ever larger birds.

But are those hundred-year-old rookeries the select communities he would have us believe? What happens when Miss Winsome, of the Hall Rookery, tips the glad eye to young Jock, of the Manse rookery, when they meet by chance on some poor farmer's seed bed in spring? Well; fresh blood, of course. And who has not seen the picture in our "Harmsworth's" of our own ancestor coming from over the border with his fresh wife in one hand and his trusty club in the other? He may have raided the neighbouring community for quite ulterior motives, but anyway, fresh blood was what he had got, and who is to estimate the value of the Rejuvenated stock?

Inbreeding is the first law of evolution; a universal natural law; but if persisted in in small communities it soon makes its presence felt in the shape of weak, unhealthy stock, which are soon quite unable to reproduce their kind. I never said the Canary was not a robust animal; he is, if kept under proper conditions, but we so often find him coddled up in heated sheds, carefully protected from every draught, and carefully shielded from every cold wind or storm until the least variation in the atmospheric conditions upsets his apple cart, and we find him just before breeding time full in the moult. Then listen to the man in all his wisdom complaining of clear eggs, sweating hens, youngsters going light, swearing at his wife for milksop, castor oil, and the like, and ending up by declaring the fates are against him, it is just his bad luck, and so on.

The Norwich Plainhead stands to-day on the highest pedestal of its existence. It has been placed there by years of careful selection, years of patient effort, careful forethought, and endeavour, and it behoves present-day fanciers to be very careful lest by a short-sighted policy, or some false system a false step is taken, and down comes the whole structure, crash, and the cry is raised, "if we had only known." The subject is an interesting one, but a few more letters like the one from an old breeder in your last issue should do much to clear away the mists and enable us to understand the subject better. Wm. Robinson.

A Request for Authoritative Literature.

Sir,—One of the most useful and interesting letters on this subject appeared in Cage Birds of June 17, page 335, over the initials F. T. H., accompanied by an instructive diagram. In this letter your correspondent writes: "Fortunately Canary breeders have, if they choose to profit by it, the benefit of the labours of poultry breeders," etc., etc. Now, as many of us are seeking for facts based on system, I for one should be glad to get hold of some of this literature. As the laws that govern the production of fowls' combs may interest Crest breeders, and colour of feather, etc., a host of other Canary breeders, I think the greatest help for a Roller breeder would be to learn of the principles discovered regulating size, deep chested birds, deep voiced birds, etc. Can you, Mr. Editor, or F. T. H., help us?

In reply to Mrs. E. M. Sargeant, it is clear from her letter that she has been breeding for colour, and in order to secure this she is parting with the quality of song; time will show. While breeding for certain colours and markings it is impossible to improve the song, much less to produce a prime songster; the tendency will be backwards, although if she buys a first class songster to supply the place of the one she has been using she will benefit her young birds, but it will be doubtful if she succeeds if she waits till next year. If her birds are hollow roll songsters they possess throat formation to produce this tour, but it must be brought out by the schoolmaster, and for that purpose the better the bird the better the pupil. H. W. Gutierrez.

Some books which would be of immense assistance to the student of scientific breeding with a definite object are: "The Biology of Poultry Keeping," Dr. Raymond Pearl, 1913; "Principles of Breeding," Prof. E. Davenport; "Mendelism," R. C. Punnett, 1907; "The Poultry Manual," 1915 edition, Rev. T. W. Sturgess; "Heredity," Prof. J. A Thompson, 1908; "Inheritance in Poultry," C. B. Davenport, 1906; and, above all, the fine work by Professor Bateson, entitled "Mendel's Principles of Heredity." Most of these books, however, are costly, and the useful little work "Inbreeding, What it is, and What it Does," by C. A. House, costs but a fraction of any of them, and will be found a veritable mine of information.—Ed., Cage Birds.

Practical Advice Desired.

Sir,—I am much interested in the discussion going on in your columns, and this, I trust, will serve as my excuse for this letter. My variety is the Norwich Plainhead, and I have for some years been desirous of making the experiment of inbreeding, but keeping in view what I have always understood to be a sine qua non, viz., the highest degree of excellence in the birds to be utilised, I have from time to time postponed the matter, doubtless with the caution characteristic of my race.

I may state that I have some good show birds, but I would point out that many winners, although excellent birds, exhibit in some degree a fault. For example, many of our winners in the Norwich section, in these days of large birds, have faulty wing carriage, a fairly large percentage, I think, and this brings me to the point on which I seek information: Would it be advisable to inbreed with a bird failing in wing carriage, but first class in all other points, assuming that the mate to be used is good in wing carriage?

Personally I have bred this season, among others, a very nice clear yellow hen of perfect type, very full fronted, best of quality, and good size. This hen has nothing to spare in head, that is to say, the head, though of nice shape, could be more massive, and this is, I think, a usual experience with deep-chested birds. To match this hen I have an excellent buff variegated cock, extra good in head and size, in fact, a good all round show bird. The cock has already won on the show bench, and the hen, I am sure, will win, though I know she would be improved with a larger head.

I feel if I am to wait until I get a perfect pair for a foundation I will never get a start to inbreed at all. Will someone with experience of the art advise me if this pair would be suitable to lay the foundation for inbreeding? They are not related, but would it be wise, assuming that I can get a good young buff cock from them next season having a good head, to pair him to his mother in the following season? The birds are well bred, and I know their history.

Much has been written on the subject in general terms, but I have not seen this very practical point raised in your columns. We are constantly being told, "Let the birds be good before you start inbreeding," and I am sure many like myself will wish some guidance exactly as to how good the birds must be.

Thistle.

The Keeping of Cage Birds; a Working Man's Hobby.

How Bird-keeping Brighters Life.

Sir,—For close on thirty years cage bird keeping has been my favourite hobby, and although I have gone in for others as well, dog fancying, fishing and, when younger, such sports as boxing, swimming, and running, with some success, nothing has given me half the pleasure, nor have the prizes won in them given half the satisfaction as those won with the birds.

Bird life of every kind has my entire sympathy, and I can see beauty in every feathered creature. When one goes out into the country lanes, what joy to see the flocks of Linnets and Starlings, and in the late summer and autumn there is the pleasure of watching the homeward flight of host after host of Rooks to their roosting place.

But it is the bird-keeping part of the hobby that I love best. After a man has had a trying day's business, what a relief after tea is over to go into the aviary and attend to the wants of the birds. Their needs satisfied, what greater joy than to light up the tobacco, if one is a smoker, and sit watching the birds, always one or another on the move. Nothing brings one's best thoughts to the top, and makes kindness show itself everywhere, more than having live stock as a hobby, and a bird keeper, with such tiny bits of live nature to tend, must be kindness itself, or he cannot show it to the birds.

When one handles a bird the size of a Linnet or a Canary, feel how the little heart throbs, even if the bird is used to being handled. Then there is generally a kind word to the bird to let it know that its life is in no danger, and with a gentle stroke of the finger across its head, the bird seems to know that one won't hurt it. I have at the present time several of my birds that are finger-tame; in fact, if one is taken out of its cage I can almost see the jealousy of the others. I believe, if birds cannot really think, they are quite conscious of many of our doings with them. Feeding time alone tells us this, for if one is used to going a regular way round the birds, and for some reason a particular bird's wants are not attended to in rotation, it is not long before the fact is made known by the bird.

The Necessity of Not Overdoing It.

I usually keep from 40 to 50 birds, including Norwich Canaries, Foreign birds, and a few Britishers, and although I should like to keep three times as many, I do not believe in keeping a bird more than one can properly look after, for if one has more birds than he has time to attend to, the pleasure they give would soon become a toil, and then what really was a pleasant hobby becomes irksome.

I always make a point of feeding my birds at a regular time, and unless something unforeseen happens, I do not alter that time. Just after tea I spend an hour or more in the aviary; again first thing in the morning I have a good look round to see that all is right, and I take just a peep at dinner time, with the wife saying: "I am sure those birds will be all right until you come home to tea." Yet she is ever ready with any help that is needed. And when the breeding season, with its expectations, joys, and sometimes disappointments come round, we are only too glad, sometimes, to avail ourselves of the good wife's help, perhaps in the way of feeding a nest of young ones when the hen has died, or giving the green food for us when it would be a little inconvenient to have it as fresh as we should like it. Then again it keeps a man at home, and what wife is there who does not like to see that the attractions the home has for her husband are greater than those he would perhaps seek elsewhere?

As a final word I would say one rarely finds, once a man has kept birds, that he is long without them, even if they have to be temporarily given up for some cause or other, and for a working man bird-keeping is the hobby par excellence. It can be made to pay its way, or nearly so. It is a clean and pleasant pastime, and will help to pass away many happy hours. W. Lidgett.

IN-BREEDING:
WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT IT DOES.
A Treatise of the Greatest Interest to all Breeders of Live Stock.
BY
C. A. HOUSE.
Price tenpence, post free, from The Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Budgerigars: Their Management and Breeding.

By T. A. BOWES.

(Continued from page 529).

ALWAYS examine the floor of the aviary and the husk. Prevention is better than cure, so to avoid egg binding (for the bird dies if not speedily relieved) it is advisable never to let weakly or young hens breed, not to give oats till the young appear, always to provide a plentiful supply of egg-shell, grit, etc., to supply the necessary lime for the shell, to give plenty of green-food, not to breed out of season, and not to attempt more than three nests in the year.

The means suggested for relief are:—(1) Oil to the vent and by mouth; this by its aperient action, induces additional muscular effort. (2) Administration of whisky or brandy, for their general stimulant effect. (3) Hot-water and steaming the vent, to relieve inflammation and spasm locally.

Attempts to make the hen eat egg-shell are quite useless, as she is too ill to eat anything. Puncturing the egg is a dangerous proceeding, as serious damage may be done to other parts. To do it properly the egg must be seen, and if it can be seen, puncture is unnecessary.

Having tried all these except the last (puncturing the egg) and found them wanting, it struck me that assistance by manipulation to increase the force of expulsion behind would be of the greatest benefit.

Egg-Binding and Its Cure.

I now always relieve egg-binding by manipulation, from whatever cause it arises, and whether the eggs are hard or soft. It is quick, relief is speedy, recovery rapid, and it is quite safe. I have done it five times in succession to the same hen, with subsequent rearing of the young.

The duct in which the egg is formed opens into the vent by an aperture less in diameter than the interior of the duct itself, and it is just at this point the obstruction occurs.

The difficulty the hen has is to drive the egg through this narrow portion of the channel, the tissue of the vent being very elastic and offering little resistance to the laying of the egg.

To perform the method, put a glove on the left hand (for the bird may still bite severely). Take the bird in this hand, its back resting on the palm, the head towards you, the tail pointing away from you, and the vent therefore upwards. No glove on the right hand, as it interferes with the delicacy of your touch.

With the right fore-finger and thumb it is quite easy to locate the egg. Place them on either side near the vent, draw the tissues slightly towards you to put them on the stretch, and, gently holding them against the egg, slip the finger and thumb over the egg till they lie in front of it.

Then push everything gently and steadily towards the tail of the bird. The vent opens, the end of the orifice of the egg-passage appears and rapidly dilates, exposing the egg, and a little more persuasion delivers it through this orifice into the palm of the right hand, when it can be transferred to the nest.

The hen, though nearly dead before this, in an hour's time is quite lively again. In one severe case I accidentally broke a hard egg, but was still able by this method to get rid of the broken egg-shell.

Its action is equally satisfactory with soft eggs. Before I conceived the method I lost many hens through egg-binding; afterwards only one, and that one I was accidentally prevented from seeing before it succumbed; but even after death, when quite cold and stiff, I had no difficulty in delivering a soft egg which the hen had been unable to negotiate.

A prolapsed oviduct I have meet with once only. A red body the size of a raspberry, and easily bleeding, projected from the vent of the hen, and on the floor was a broken soft egg. With the aid of a smooth rounded implement it was tucked back into the vent, and did not return again.

The cause was relaxation of the parts from excessive egg production. The cure was to return it, and rest the hen from laying, after which she subsequently bred again.

Some Infantile Complaints.

Turning to diseases of the young; the first are congenital deformities, affecting chiefly toes and beak. Nothing can be done, and do not breed with such birds.

French moult manifests itself early by a deficiency of feather in the young birds. My experience has been that feathers on the head, back and body are most affected; but the tail and wings may be affected also. The young look half naked when flying from the nest.

In mild cases I have seen the feathers grow again, so that after the moult the birds appear perfect. Its causes are said to be breeding excessively, or from too young birds, or during moulting, or that it is an hereditary constitutional complaint.

I have had it crop up suddenly, after two healthy nests from a hen that on careful examination showed a few feathers missing on the neck and some roughening of the beak. Also from a hen which had not nested for a year, and which was paired with a different cock to the last nest of the previous year, which had showed French moult in the young.

I have also had it from an Australian hen that I obtained in her nest feathers. All these hens were adults. I made absolutely certain that lice and ringworm were not the origin of it.

The exact factors in its production seem, therefore, not quite determined. By always ringing your young birds, should this disease suddenly crop up from one pair of birds, you have the power to eradicate it.

I have seen one kind of paralysis affecting the legs of young birds, and I made it out to be due to keeping young birds just off the nest in a small cage. There was not sufficient room for them to fly from perch to perch, so they always climbed round the wires. So much strain was thrown on the legs that they lost power in them, and never recovered.

There are some points which may be mentioned here, as they affect young birds. After a first nest in the old style husk, examine the bottom carefully, as a gap may appear through shrinkage by drying, and the second nest of young, when just hatched, may fall through the gap. I have lost birds in this way.

Incubation begins with the second egg laid, and as the clutch (usually five), may be as many as ten, the last will be hatched a week after the first, and may get crushed by its comrades. Therefore examine nests about this time, and if any youngsters are dead remove them with the forceps, or they will smell badly.

Some young birds before they can properly fly, will come off the nest, fall to the floor, creep to the nearest corner, and are not fed by the parents busy with the nest above, and die of starvation. I have found it answer satisfactorily to put them back again, once or twice a day if necessary, until they can look after themselves.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting. Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

A MARVELLOUS BRITISH BIRD.

A BLACKCAP WITH SNOW-WHITE PLUMAGE.

MEMBERS of the committee of the National British Bird and Mule Club present at the meeting of Thursday, Sept. 28, had a rare treat in the shape of an exquisitely plumaged Blackcap kindly brought by Mr. J. P. Carr for their inspection.

This marvellous little specimen came into the possession of Mr. Carr last year as a nestling, and it was then in normal plumage. The body feathers in its last moult have come out of the purest possible snow-white, and only the flight and tail feathers, and just a few on the back and in the cap, are of normal colour.

As a young bird, this and another Blackcap were kept with a Robin, and the Robin killed the other Blackcap outright, and had very nearly finished this one when a rescue was effected. Some amusement was caused by a humorous suggestion of Mr. Carr that the bird's hair, so to speak, had been turned white by the fright.

However this may be, Mr. Carr is in possession of a bird which is as unique as it is beautiful. We understand that our old friend "Sam" Cook, the veteran British bird judge, has searched his complete collection of Crystal Palace, Aquarium, and other catalogues without being able to find a record of a single abnormally-coloured Blackcap among the host of Albino and other curiously feathered birds which have appeared on the show benches, and other Blackcap enthusiasts, such as Messrs. W. A. Lott and O. Puck, also say that they have never before seen a Blackcap of other than normal colouring.

Mr. Carr was kind enough to say that, if possible, he would send this feathered exquisite to Clapham Show at St. Ann's Hall, Venn Street, Clapham Common, on Oct. 11 and 12, although there is no class provided for rare-feathered birds, and if he can manage this it is safe to say that no bird throughout the whole show will hold such a levee.

THE SISKIN.

The pretty little Siskin is one of the easiest of all birds to train as a "Homer," as will be explained in the article which commences below.

"HOMING" SONG BIRDS.

By A. R.

A charming account, by a life-long bird lover, of his birds which he trained to leave and return to their cages.

WHAT are "homing" song-birds? I call cage birds which voluntarily return to their "prison" after having regained their liberty Homing Song-birds; birds which have been kept in confinement for our pleasure and have then become sufficiently tame to emulate the habits of the domestic pigeon as far as leaving and entering its cote goes. "Homer" pigeons do more than that, but all pigeons do a certain amount of "homing," and as the birds I refer to did the same thing, also in the open, their freedom being restored to them, I added the qualification "Homer" to their name.

Encouraging certain of my song-birds to act in that manner has been my practice and great pleasure for many years, I may say ever since the possibility of achieving success was revealed to me as the outcome of another practice of mine, viz., that of preserving sickly bird's lives by restoring them to freedom "while it was yet time." I was ever of opinion that by resorting to nature for a nurse, I should contribute more successfully towards certain birds' recovery than by doctoring them. Thus, the exercise of a touch of philanthropy accidentally put me in possession of what I now call "Homers."

How the Idea Originated.

Later on, a desire to overcome greater difficulties set in, and ambition became the incentive. If an ailing bird could recuperate by a timely dose of nature's restoratives, would not a healthy bird be better preserved in that condition by having periodical access to the same medicine chest? Why wait until they were actually ill? My ambition rose to turning healthy birds into Homers.

I reflected that if the birdcatcher, with the assistance of call-birds, can beguile a flock of wild ones into dropping from the clouds in the net, if a hen Bullfinch can allure numbers of her congeners to destruction, if numbers of Tits, Nuthatches and even Chaffinches can be easily taught to enter an open cage on a window-sill for food, why could not a sound song-bird be trained to love the home where, for a considerable part of his life, it had met with all its natural requirements, including congenial companions? By fostering their propensities, and exploiting their instincts, I hoped to obtain some likely subjects with which I could try to satisfy my ambition.

The training was somewhat circumscribed; selecting the most docile specimens caught in autumn, taming one or other of them by making a frequent companion of it, teaching it to fly freely in and out of its cage, familiarising it with the person and voice of its keeper, and encouraging any signs of attachment to one of its companions; these were the first elements to be worked up, and constituted all the training I could apply.

A roomy breeding cage, with a separate compartment for the companion, which would have to serve as call-bird and attraction, had to be provided, a useful length of twine to be fastened to the door, a handy perch projecting six inches to be fixed near that. Finally, the selected bird had to become used to finding a tit-bit just inside that door when it returned from its occasional excursions round the room.

Canaries not Good "Homers."

Not all song-birds lend themselves to my experiment. Canaries, presenting themselves first to most minds as handy candidates, are to be excluded. They have never had to protect themselves by quick flight, and would be stalked sooner or later by the first passing marauder, biped or quadruped. Certainly, if one of a pair happens to escape, it will wait for its mate and return to it, if it is able and allowed to do so. I have had many such, but they had to be protected and watched all the time.

Even if the proffered assistance of officious friends and neighbours is firmly declined, and the neighbouring cats are enjoying their midday sleep, there is still the ubiquitous Sparrow, who will resent the intrusion on his domain. I well remember the instance of a hen Canary which ultimately would fly some fifty yards in a bee line to a well known second floor window, but that was not the homing I wanted. She had to be carried to a particular starting point against her will, and would have lost her way if liberated elsewhere.

(To be continued.)

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green, Linnet contest, Oct. 1; 15 birds sang. 1, Shaw; 2, Marshall; 3, Newsome. Judges, J. Smith, W. Lacy.—W. Lacy, Sec.

Grand contest Oct. 1, Breakwater Hotel; 12 birds. Judges, T. Johnson and A. Lorriеman; 1, Ridgeyard, 2 and 3, Bamfield.—F Turner, Sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road. Open contest for quality Linnet singing, Oct. 1, 18 birds sang:—1, Sellers; 2, Sissons; 3, Chippindale; 4, Sissons. Judges, Hardcastle and Grant.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Open contest for quality Linnet singing, Clarence Hotel, Skinner's Lane, Leeds, Oct. 1. 16 birds faced the judges, and some good singing was heard: 1, Kilbride; 2, Shepheard; 3, Brown. Judges, H. Wigfield and A. Binns.—T. E. Summers, Hon Sec.

Club Reports.

PROVINCIAL ROLLER C.C.

Meeting Old Boar's Head, Manchester, Sept. 30, Mr. Massey, presiding. Mr R. Vernon, Wigan, and Mr. T. Hunt, Swinton, ere elected members. Patronage was granted to Leeds Roller Club. Mr. Wareing, president, and Mr. Smith, sec., were elected to attend Roller conference at Leeds, Nov. 4. Decided to have five classes at open show, Dec. 1 and 2: Champion young birds, novice young, champion any age, amateur any age, £2 limit open, also to give £6 in champion and £6 in novice young birds point competition. This will prove an interesting competition, as the P.R.C.C. rings have been greatly patronised by other Roller Clubs.—J. T. Smith, Hon. Sec.

BARNSLEY (Dove Inn) L.C.

Committee meeting, Sept. 30. Audited accounts were passed as correct. Decided that sec. should have a levy of fourpence per member as salary, and that members interrupting the general meeting be fined a penny for each offence.

General meeting Oct. 1, one of the best meetings since the club started; Mr. Fishwick chair. Officers elected:—Pres., J. Dunk; Sec., F. Hardman; Assist. Sec., F. Fishwick; Committee, J. Muldoon, A. Dickinson, J. Croops, J. Hayes, G. Wright, and F. Shepherd. Timer, F. Shepherd; Assist., J. Dunk; Chalker, J. Walton; Assist., J. W. Bamforth. New membersship left for committee to arrange. Vote of thanks to chair closed the meeting. We have in hand £6 9s. 6d. to start the season, a good result for a first year's working.—J. Hardman, Sec.

MIDLAND ROLLER C.C.

Meeting, Sept. 28, headquarters, Seven Stars, St. John St., Wolverhampton. In the absence of the chairman, vice-chairman Mr. Bird presided over a good attendance. New member elected, Mr. Layland, Birmingham. Decided to have schedule and prize money as last year. Champion Young Birds, 1916, judge, Mr. Netherwood; Nov., judge, Mr. Willow; Open to all birds. Novice, (any age), Open limit, judge, Mr. Tomlinson. Decided to call a special meeting for Oct. 12, to compile schedule. Will members and fanciers who have received subscription lists kindly let me have them on or before Oct. 12. After business, Mr. T. Twigg gave his paper on training; great attention was given, and his paper was much appreciated. An interesting discussion followed, and many questions were asked to which the lecturer ably replied. A vote of thanks to Mr. Twigg concluded a very enjoyable evening.—J. W. Thompson, Hon. Sec.

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from "POULTRY WORLD," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

NEWCASTLE EAST END C.B.S.

Meeting, 161, Shields Road, kindly lent by Mr. G. Armstrong, Sept. 27, Mr. J. G. Hutchinson, chair. Membership of Mr. R. Henderson was confirmed. The rest of the classification for show was gone into, and it was curtailed to 50 classes: 9 Nor (including one natural colour), 7 Crest and C.B., 3 Cinnamons, 6 Yorks., 9 Borders, 1 Lizard, 1 Scotch fancy, 2 Mules, 7 British, 1 foreign, and 1 A.O.V. Canary. Each variety was fairly well represented, and we had a good meeting.—Ed. Coltman, Sec.

AYRSHIRE SCOTCH FANCY C.A.

Meeting, Ossington Coffee House, Kilmarnock, Sept. 30; Bailie Robertson presiding. Present, Messrs. Hainey (V.P.), E. Ralston, Rodger, Morley, Lyon, MacDowall Burgess, Campbell, R. Allan, and Ferguson. Sec. intimated that arrangements were made with the Kilmarnock C.B.F.C. to share with them the Co-operative Hall, in John Finnie Street, as last year; and that Mr. Price (Barrhead), and Mr. Watson (Glasgow), had accepted the invitation to judge at the show on Nov. 18. Messrs. Hainey and E. Ralston were appointed stewards. Cash specials were handed in by Messrs. Burgess and Hainey. Messrs. R. and E. Ralston each give specials. The President gives a special prize for the best bird not in the tickets. Two gold medals are offered by Bailie Robertson for the best young bird in each of the two classes, cock and hen. The President will not compete for either of these medals and no man may win two medals. The funds of the Association show an increase of £1 15s. 2d. over last year.—H. M. Ferguson, Hon. Sec. and Treas.

QUEEN'S PARK (GLASGOW) C.B.S.

Meeting, Y.M.C.A. rooms, Sept. 27, Mr. R. B. Cairns chair, and a large turn out of members. New member admitted, Mr. Mason. Decided to have marked catalogues at Annual Show same as last year. A number of members promised to take breeders' cards in catalogue at 4d. each; any other members wishing same kindly inform sec. The following members promised specials:—Messrs. Hunter, A. Foreman, J. Fulton A. Hardie, E. Holliday, D. Knox, R. Hamilton and J. Black. Mr. R. B. Cairns promised a gold medal for best young bird bred, reared and moulted by exhibitor. Mr. Kerr 5s. for best 2nd, Mr. W. Connelly 5s. for best 3rd, and Mr. Carter 2s. 6d. for best 4th; open to all champion sections. Owing to entertainment tax being in operation it was decided that all members pay for admission this year to the show. Owing to Mr. McKnight, one of our committee, being called up. Mr. John McLuskie was elected to fill the vacancy. This club is catering extensively for the novice this year at the Annual Show, and any person wishing to join should write sec. for particulars. Next meeting Oct. 25, at 7.45.—A. K. Hunter, Sec.

Welsh Cage Bird Club.

A Fresh Start Made at the Annual General Meeting.

Annual general meeting, Ship and Bell, Merthyr Tydfil, Sept. 23. Mr. E. Powell (Tredegar) occupied the chair, and in the absence of the secretary, Mr. A. E. Brown, Mr. D. H. Tedstone acted as secretary pro tem. The balance-sheet was presented and showed nearly £10 in hand. This was considered satisfactory. It was unanimously agreed to offer the patronage of three shows at which they will give club medals for champion and novice members for the most points gained by three birds. Only one medal or value can be won by the same member. There will be medals, or value, given in addition for most points gained during the season at the three shows selected (other specials are expected). These specials will be competed for in open classes (not selling or limit), except in shows offering novice classes. It is hoped that fanciers will rally round the old club and enable them to keep the flag flying and to offer better and more prizes another season. Chairman presented medals to Messrs. G. T. Jones, E. J. Bevan, J. Llewellyn, A. E. Brown, W. B. Watkins, and D. H. Tedstone. The Chairman also being a medal winner, his was presented to him by the Vice-Chairman, W. B. Watkins. The Chairman then presented D. H. Tedstone with the Leach challenge cup, given to the club by the late R. J. Leach, and the Norwich challenge cup, for having won them three times, they now become his own property. Officers were elected as follows: Chairman, E. J. Powell; Vice-Chair, W. B. Watkins; Treas., J. H. Jones; Committee, Maj. B. W. Collier, Messrs. O. J. Bevan, J. Llewellyn, F. H. Cook, G. T. Jones, A. E. Brown. Late sec., Mr. A. E. Brown, declined to continue in the office on account of business pressure, and a hearty vote of thanks was accorded him for his past services to the club. Mr. D. H. Tedstone, who acted as secretary for many years, agreed to accept the office once again, and all correspondence must be addressed accordingly to—D. H. Tedstone, Sec., 5, Struet, Brecon.

THE CAGE BIRD FANCY IN SOUTH AFRICA.

DURBAN AND COAST C.B.S.

This show was held July 6-7, and the following are the awards:—

Nor. A.C., 1915-16: 1, spl, Oman; 2, Spring; 3, Booth. Cl: Yell.: 1, Oman; 2, Booth; 3, Spring. Buff: 1, 2, Oman; 3, vhc, Spring; c, Booth. Durban Club Rung, 1915: 1, spl, 2, Spring. A.C., Cock or Hen: 1, Oman; 2, Booth; 3, Spring. Pairs: 1, 2, Oman; 3, Spring. Yorks, A.C., South African Rung, 1915-16: 1, Huntly; 2, vhc, Booth; 3, Oman; hc, Spring. Cl. Yell.: 1, Booth; 2, Spring; 3, Oman. Buff: 1, Oman; 2, 3, Booth. Tkd. Mkd. or Varieg.: 1, Booth; 2, Spring; 3, Oman; vhc, hc, Huntly. Durban Club Rung 1915: 1, spl, Spring; 2, vhc, Booth; 3, hc, Huntly. Hen: 1, spl, vhc, Booth; 2, 3, Oman; hc, c, Huntly. Pairs: 1, 3, Oman; 2, Spring; vhc, c, Booth. A.O.V. Can.: 1, 2, Gordon.

RAND C.B.C.

Fine Prizes and Splendid Enthusiasm.

4th annual show held under the rules of the South African C.B.C. The enthusiasm of the members is well shown by the fact that 27 exhibitors staged 320 birds between them. There was a fine array of more than 20 special prizes, headed by a "Floating Trophy" value 10 guineas, accompanied by a gold medal, and another valued five guineas and a gold medal. Besides these there were specials of three guineas, two guineas, one guinea, and many of half-a-guinea. Mr. A. Oman had quite a field day, winning both trophies, three guineas, two guineas, and several other specials.

Bord. (14): 1, spl, 3, Mrs. Mackie; 2, Watt Bros.; vhc, hc, Dowler. Bord. Rung 1915-16 (10): All awards Dowler. Nor. Cl. Yell. Ck. (4): 1, Mitchell; 2, Clark; 3, Robinson. Hen (3): 1, Oman; 2, Peterson. Buff Ck. (5): 1, Walker; 2, Mitchell; 3, Mrs. Spring. Hen (2): 1, 2 spls, Oman; 2, Mrs. Spring. Tkd., etc., Ck. (6): 1, 2 spls, 3, Watt; 2, Mitchell. Hen (5): 1, Walker; 2, Watt Bros.; 3, Robinson. Buff Ck. (4): 1, 3, Walker; 2, Johns. Hen (4): 1, 2, Walker; 3, Mitchell. Non-fed Yell. (4): 1, 3, Oman; 2, Walker. Buff (5): 1, spl, Oman; 2, Walker; 3, Clarke; vhc, Brady. Cl. Yell. Ck. 1915-16 (6): 1, Mrs. Spring; 2, Walker; 3, Clarke; vhc, Mitchell; hc, Oman. Hen (4): 1, 3, Oman; 2, Walker. Buff Ck. (7): 1, Peterson; 2, Dowler; 3, Mitchell; vhc, Clarke. Hen (6): 1, Walker; 2, Mitchell; 3, Watt Bros.; vhc, Mrs. Spring. Tkd., etc., Yell. Ck. (4): 1, spl, Oman; 2, Mitchell; 3, Peterson. Hen (8): 1, 3, vhc, Watt Bros.; 2, Mitchell; hc, Oman. Buff Ck. (8): 1, 2, Watt Bros.; 3, Walker; vhc, hc, Oman. Hen (5): 1, Brady; 2, Watt Bros.; 3, Oman. Crest or C.-B. (4): All Mackintosh. Nor. Pairs (7): 1, spl, vhc, Oman; 2, 3, Walker; hc, Johns. Pairs, Sell. (4): 1, 2, 3, Watt Bros.. Single (4): 1, 2, Watt Bros.; 3, Johns. Yorks, Cl. Yell. Ck. (5): 1, 2, Mrs. Spring; 3, Robinson; vhc, Squire. Hen (4): All Robinson. Buff Ck. (4): 1, Brady; 2, 3, Walker. Hen (5): 1, hc, Robinson; 2, vhc, Mrs. Clarke; 3, Oman. Tkd., etc., Yell. Ck. (6): 1, 2, Robinson; 3, Mackintosh; vhc, Oman; hc, Mrs. Clarke. Hen (4): 1, 3, Robinson; 2, Watt Bros. Buff Ck. (5): 1, vhc, Oman; 2, Robinson; 3, Mrs. Clarke. Hen (2): 1, Mrs. Spring; 2, Mrs. Clarke. Non-fed Yell. (4): 1, 3, Walker; 2, Oman. Buff: All Walker. Cl. Yell. Ck. 1915-16 (12): 1, sp. Mrs. Spring; 2, Peterson; 3, vhc, Robinson; hc, spl, Walker; hc, Brady. Hen (5): 1, Squire; 2, 3, Walker; vhc, Oman. Cl. Buff Ck. (8): 1, Brady; 2, Robinson; 3, Walker; vhc, Mitchell. Hen (4): 1, 2, 3, Walker. Tkd., etc., Yell. Ck. (7): 1, Squire; 2, vhc, Robinson; 3, Peterson; hc, Oman. Hen (6): 1, 3 spls, 2, Oman; 3, Robinson; vhc, Mrs. Clarke; hc, Brady. Buff Ck. (4): 1, 2, 3, Robinson. Hen (7): 1, Oman; 2, vhc, Robinson; 3, Mrs. Spring; hc, Squire. Pairs (6): 1, spl, vhc, hc, Oman; 2, 3, Robinson. Pairs, Sell. (4): 1, 3, Robinson; 2, Walker. Single (4): 1, 3, Walker; 2, Watt Bros. A.O.V. Can. (4): All Dowler. Brit. Mule, Light (1): 1, Johns. Dark (4): 1, 3, Hannah; 2, Watt Bros. S. African Mule (7): 1, spl, 2, hc, Hannah; 3, Mitchell; vhc, Mrs. Johns. S. African Wild Bird (4): 1, 2, Brady; 3, Clarke. Brit. Hardbill (1): 1, Oman. Roller Singing (2): 1, Peterson; 2, Mitchell. NOVICE SECTION.—Cl. Yell. Nor. (4): 1, 2, Sharpe. Buff (2): 1, spl, Sharpe; 2, McLennan. Tkd., etc., Yell. (5): 1, 2 spls, 2, 3, McLennan; vhc, Brits. Buff (1): 1, McLennan. Cl. Yorks Yell. (11): 1, spl, vhc, Smeaton; 2, 3, McLennan. Buff (8): 1, spl, 2, Smeaton; 3, vhc, Pasker. Tkd., etc., Yell. (5): 1, Smeaton; 2, McLennan; 3, Sharpe; vhc, Denholm. Buff (7): 1, 3, Denholm; 2, Pasker; vhc, McLennan. Gift (14): 1, spl, Brady; 2, Walker; 3, Dowler; vhc, Honly; hc, Watt Bros.

Use Our Notepaper.

Queries Answered

Answered by THE EDITOR.

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

A POOR SINGER.

R. F.—I am rather inclined to think the sex of the bird is all right, but that it is a naturally poor performer. Every individual, even among pure Rollers, is not a "star" performer, and if yours is one of the lesser lights your system of keeping it in a Crystal Palace aviary in company with a group of small foreigners would not in any sense help or induce him to open out in song. It is not necessary to keep him in the cabinet regularly, though if the cabinet were left open it would serve the purpose of a single cage, with the advantage of protecting the bird more efficiently from direct cold draughts. My advice, assuming that the bird has quite finished moulting, is to cage it alone in a box cage of moderate size, or in the cabinet and leave it open, give a staple diet of a mixture of two parts canary to one part summer rape, and in addition give separately every third day about half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, and a quarter part each of maw, gold of pleasure and sesame, with just a sprinkling of yellow mustard. On the intervening days give first a similar quantity of crushed sponge cake, or bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar one day, and the next a morsel of banana, and add to the drinking water ten drops of lemon juice and a crystal of sulphate of soda the size of a small pea. Give a morsel of green salad daily as long as it is available in good condition. Continue this treatment for a month, by which time it should be in fairly good song if nothing radically is wrong with it.

A GREAT THIRST.

E. M. B.—In all probability the excessive thirst is the effect and not the cause of the extreme looseness. I take it the bird is still going on with the moult. If so, keep it rather on the warm side, and see that it is not exposed to cold direct draughts, nor sudden extremes of heat and cold. In addition to the staple diet give every second day for a fortnight half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake dusted with carbonate of bismuth and well sprinkled with maw seed, and on the alternate days give a similar quantity of good sound hemp seed. Keep a piece of cuttlefish in the cage wires for it to peck at, and add to the drinking water two days in every three, until the looseness is quite stopped, six drops of dilute sulphuric acid and four of tincture of opium. When the bird has quite ceased dropping feathers add 20 drops of chemical food to the water four times a week for a month to tone it up a bit.

HELPING A SLOW MOULT, AND OTHER MATTERS.

Three Bad Bargains.—Thanks for report. Glad to hear there is an improvement in the condition of the birds, and I think you cannot do better than go on for another month with the treatment previously advised in all cases where the improvement is most pronounced. (1) As regards No. 2 hen it is the normal course for the flights and tail feathers to be shed before the small body feathers, but there is no constant lapse of time between the flights and tail being shed and the commencement of shedding of the smaller feathers. They may start almost simultaneously. As the bird appears so slow to go on with the moult keep it quite on the warm side, throw a light cover over the cage, and add 20 drops of whisky, and five each of sweet spirit of nitre and syrup of saffron to the water every second day until the small feathers are dropping freely. (2) You may stop the tonic advised for No. 3 until she has finished moulting, and treat her the same as No. 2 except that you need not give the medicines in the water if the moult is going on satisfactorily. Give instead a crystal of sulphate of soda the size of a small pea and six drops of dandelion juice every third day, which will help to correct the liver trouble for the time being. (3) The colour feeding is not at all likely to be tho cause of the liver trouble unless it was very badly carried out and of some unrecognised type. (4) Feed the Yorkshire cock through the winter as follows:—Staple, good sound plain canary only. As extras give separately a small teaspoonful twice a week of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle and broken groats, with a quarter part maw and gold of pleasure, and just a slight sprinkling of yellow mustard. Give a little green salad daily as long as it can be procured in a fit condition for use, and at other times give as a substitute a morsel of banana or sweet apple twice a week. Offer the bath only in mild weather and on mild days. (5) Your friend will do best by feeding the bird on the dietary advised for No. 4, with the addition of half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake, or a morsel of bread and milk sprinkled with soft sugar once or twice a week. At present she is rather overdoing it. The sample of seed sent contains too much linseed for my approval as a staple diet, and too little summer rape. (6) At present such a book as you desire is not available, for which you may probably thank the present warlike conditions. Wait and pray for peace, and then——.

CONTINUOUS LAYING.

W. C. F.—This continual laying is doubtless due to abnormal development and activity of the ovary, and so long as the hen appears in a good, well-fed condition is not at all likely to prove harmful. You need have no fear that she will "lay herself to death." The most inconvenient point about it is that it prevents any natural broodiness, which is a necessary adjunct to the completion of the natural cycle of reproduction. But this difficulty is easily surmounted, assuming the eggs are fertile, by keeping a few extra hens to act as foster parents and take over these eggs and com-

CANARY QUERISTS

should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

plete the cycle by hatching and rearing the young. The only thing you can do to help to discourage the excessive production is to feed on a quite plain dietary, with a liberal allowance of green food, and not to allow the cock to remain with her continually. Remove him with each clutch when she has laid the third egg and keep him out of her sight and earshot for a fortnight at least to see if she will settle down to incubation. If she does, keep him away until the young are ready to leave the nest. Of course, you will not continue trying for young any more this season. It is much too late to think of that now.

EFFECTS OF MOULT.

Arthur.—The bird has evidently got badly run down by the moult, and is consequently more than usually susceptible to any harmful influences to which it may be exposed. Keep it in a cosy place, and see that it is quite free from sudden extremes of heat and cold, draughts, or fumes of burning lights until it is quite up to concert pitch again. In addition to its dietary of seeds give a morsel of chickweed or other green food daily, and half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion well mixed in it and sprinkled with maw seed every second day for two or three weeks, according to the bird's condition. On the alternate days during the first fortnight add to the drinking water five drops each of oxymel of squills, ipecacuanha wine, and sweet spirit of nitre.

NOT SINGING.

B. T., Cardiff.—There is nothing whatever to worry about, as it is quite natural for a bird not to sing whilst it is moulting. Indeed, some birds take a few weeks' rest after the moult is over before resuming song. But as a rule they will begin to sing again in about a month after they have quite ceased dropping feathers, and this is what you may expect of your bird, but certainly not more, as more really belongs to the exceptions which go to prove the rule. Keep it in a bright and cosy place, free from cold, direct draughts, rapid extremes of temperature, or fumes of burning lights. Then add to the drinking water 20 drops of chemical food two days in every three for a fortnight, and after that 20 drops of whisky, ten of lemon juice, and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence every second day for a fortnight. By this time you will doubtless find him gradually resuming his song.

LIVER TROUBLE.

E. V.—(1) The details of the menu you give explain much of your trouble with the birds. I would not say that you had erred in being too generous with the maw seed, as a liberal supply of this would have little or no effect one way or another in causing liver trouble. But you certainly seem to have erred generally in being too generous with the good things all round. Your staple diet, for instance, consisting of one-fifth part of its bulk of linseed, is thoroughly bad for the birds' health over any lengthy period. Begin now and give a staple diet of plain canary seed only. Give separately once a week a small teaspoonful per bird of the mixed seed of which you sent sample, and on one other day a similar quantity of summer rape seed, which may occasionally be given boiled as a change, and once a week give a piece of bread and milk about the size of a filbert per bird. Give a little green food, preferably dandelion or chicory, as long as it can be obtained, then substitute banana or sweet apple. This will be quite sufficient all through the winter. All the other items you are now using should be cut off altogether, and the birds will benefit thereby. (2) A course of glauber salts depends upon what it is used for—it may be short or an extended one. In your case as much as will cover a sixpence and ten drops of lemon juice in the drinker—say an ounce of water—every second day for a week, then miss a week, and give in this way in alternate weeks for two months would be advisable. In your case also the following after-moult tonic is most suitable, which you may give in the intervening weeks between the aperient during the first month. In each ounce of water dissolve a crystal of sulphate of soda (which, by the way, is practically glauber salts under another name) the size of a small pea, ditto of sulphate of iron half as big, and add six drops of dilute sulphuric acid. Give instead of plain water every second day. (3) The fact of the bird with a broken beak thriving so long on an almost exclusive diet of egg and soaked biscuit only goes to prove that birds, like humans, are not equally susceptible to the bad effects of high feeding, and possibly his deformity prevents him getting so much as he otherwise would. (4) Plantain is a very wholesome green food, but is not to be taken as a remedy in any sense for ailments. Dandelion or chicory would be far more likely to exercise influence over liver trouble so far as a scrap of green food might. (5) No, liver disease is not "catching." Tho reason of so many of your birds being troubled with it is that they are all exposed to the same predisposing causes. (6) The green colour of the droppings would in the case of your birds indicate derangement of the liver.

A SUCCESSFUL START.

F. B.—Very glad to hear that you have succeeded so well with your first attempt at Canary breeding, and have made it a profitable affair in the first season. With regard to your queries about the Border Fancy: (1) Yes, they are very nice singers, coming next in ability to the common Roller. (2) They are fully up to the average in prolificacy, and are easy to breed and manage. (3) They will thrive quite well in a cold room indoors. (4) There is very little to choose in size between them and Rollers. Taking tho breeds as a whole I should say they were on an equal footing in this respect. It would probably be a mere "toss-up" whether either of these breeds or the Lizard is the smallest Canary.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

MOULTING GOLDFINCH MULES.

M. Shilcott.—Glad to hear your birds are doing well. As regards the one with the few feathers uncoloured, if these are nest feathers they will be moulted in time, and new ones will grow to take their place, but if they have grown since the bird was fledged, say just previous to the moult, they will not be replaced until next autumn. If these few feathers spoil his appearance for the bench you will have to remove them as soon as you are quite certain. Continue the colour food in a reduced form right up to the show. (2) If either of the four in the flight looks particularly promising, I would advise you to cage it off when it has nearly finished the moult, or possibly it will get plucked and spoilt for exhibition. Your feeding appears to be all right. You might add a few sunflower seeds and a little thistle, which you can easily collect in your district. (3) Do not bring the Finches inside unless the weather is very bad, as they will moult out a better colour where they are. Goldies are naturally somewhat late in moulting, therefore others are not more forward than your own. Give the Bullfinch privet and blackberries, and, if he will eat soft food, just a spoonful occasionally, with a few drops of chemical food mixed in with it. Kindly read Rule 7 under "Queries Answered."

WHAT BIRD?

A. Taylor.—The bird's wing sent for identification is that of the Hedge Accentor, or, as it is commonly called, the Hedge Sparrow, a resident British bird that is fairly common everywhere. It varies a little in plumage, according to the seasons, which would account for the differences you mention. It has never been a favourite cage bird, being somewhat shy, not particularly lively, and by no means a brilliant songster, although not to be despised when heard in the open in the very early spring, long before most birds have uttered a note. Its song is somewhat shrill and lacking in variety. It is not a difficult bird to keep and will live upon mixed seed, a little soft food, and a few insects. I have seen a good well-marked specimen win at a show but this was rather unusual, as it has to compete against rarer and more interesting species.

THRUSH DOING BADLY.

W. G. Tucker.—You have been feeding and treating your bird injudiciously, which is the cause of the trouble. One can hardly expect a lusty bird like the Thrush to do well for any length of time in a cage without being fed and treated to suit its requirements. When you found your treatment was not successful should consult Moulton's great work, "Cage Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

you should have tried something different. You did quite right in giving the salts, and I would advise you to repeat it occasionally. The gaping is not caused through any lung trouble, but general debility. I would advise you to procure a pound of good insectile food as given to warblers, containing ants' eggs, dried flies, meat meal, etc., and feed him on it, mixing a little scraped raw carrot with it to make it crumbly moist. After a time you can use boiled potato instead of the carrot for a change. Be liberal just now with insects; if you have a garden or live in the country you can collect quite a number of caterpillars among your growing crops, and on trees in the district, also beetles and grubs. These are particularly plentiful just now, and not difficult to get. In addition to these you should let him have soft fruit or berries daily. There are several species of wild berries ripening now; these can be used in turn with apple, pear, and banana. Have you our Nutshell Booklet on the Thrush?

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

CORRECT TREATMENT OF PARRAKEET.

Leinster.—Do not give tea, coffee, or milk sops, table scraps, or any kind of animal food. Diet: Seed mixture, ripe fruit, and a few nuts daily. The following may all be supplied as extras to vary the dietary a little: biscuits, stale crusts (dry; if the bird wants them moist it will dip them in the drinking water), plain cake, raisins, and a little boiled rice when such is to hand. Parrot grit, cuttlebone, water, and a chunk of wood are all essentials and should be continuously in the cage. From your description you have either an Alexandrine or Ring-neck Parrakeet, and it is most probably a hen. By all means let it have a bath; it is best to give this about mid-day, omitting the bath on very cold days in winter. If its cage does not stand in a draught it will benefit rather than take harm from a fairly regular tub. A bird often gets out of tone during the moult. It is well to give a laxative (one teaspoonful of fluid magnesia) in the drinking water once a week, and on other days to lightly colour the water with chemical food. Its cage should stand where it can get light and air, yet not where a current of air or any draught can pass through it. If you take this precaution it is a hardy species and should do well with you.

BUDGERIGARS NOT BREEDING.

Esperance.—While getting young aviary bred birds is quite in order, you have not space for turning in odd birds, and if you do so they must be a pair. It is well to remember that really good birds fetch top price, and except under special conditions, if specimens are offered cheaply, one may reasonably expect to get either birds that are partly worn out for breeding purposes, or those that have refused to breed or are of a quarrelsome disposition. It is quite possible to find all three classes among birds that look in fine condition and faultless plumage. If I am to definitely advise, I say watch our columns and buy a "breeding pair," some of the friends you have named should be willing to sell you such to give you a start, but you cannot reasonably expect to get such at the lowest ruling rates for Budgerigars. I always look "askance" at birds offered me below normal rates, unless I know there are special reasons. The same remarks apply to Cockatiels. If you buy a breeding pair they should nest almost at once, but a young pair may or may not take a couple of years before settling down to serious nesting. You could have two pairs of Budgies, and one pair of Cockatiels in your small aviary, providing you sell or remove the young as soon as they are able to fend for themselves. If I have not read your query correctly you must repeat it.

WHAT PARROT?

Acorn.—It is a cock Ring-necked Parrakeet. I have not seen for some time the mixture you name, but the firm is a large and reliable one with a reputation to maintain, so that it should be as good as any trade mixture. In addition to the mixture it would be well to keep a small tin of mixed canary and white millet in the cage, so that it can partake at will. It should have a little ripe fruit daily (any kind it will take; sweet apple is good and most Parrots are fond of it), and you can supply as extras to vary the menu shelled nuts, biscuit, stale crusts, plain cake, and green food. Parrot grit, cuttlebone, and water should be continually in the cage, as also should be a chunk of wood for it to exercise its mandibles upon. Do not give table scraps, tea, coffee, or milk sops, or any kind of animal food. See other replies as to avoiding draught and giving bath; the same directions will apply in your case. A good seed mixture can be compounded as under: One quart each canary, white millet, sunflower, hemp and oats, one pint each shelled pea nuts, paddy rice, and safflower seeds; the whole to be well mixed, stored in dust-tight tins, and kept in a dry place. ou can, of course, mix any quantity at a time, using equivalent quantities of each.

GREY PARROT NOT TAKING SEED.

Goold.—The diet your bird is getting is quite wholesome, and you must continue it, but at same time keep the seed mixture continually in the cage, and it will ultimately partake of same. So long as it does not get the unwholesome sops and messes referred to in the Nutshell, it will take no hurt from its present dietary. You are, of course, giving water. You have no cause that I can see for uneasiness, as I take it that your bird is a young one, and such often cling to the infantile dietary for a long period, and are very loth indeed to crack seed. Keep cuttlebone, should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 21 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

grit, and a chunk of wood continually in the cage; avoid draught, and the bird should do well with you. The bowels should move freely, yet with no undue looseness, but at any sign of constipation put one teaspoonful of Dinneford's magnesia in its drinking water daily till the costiveness disappears. Few Parrots are able to resist shelled walnuts for long.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

GENERAL.

CLASSIFICATION AT SHOWS.

H. Hathaway.—Your letter is interesting, and we should be pleased to publish it if you would let us have your full name and address, according to our rules. We should be glad, however, if you would note that our printers will not make such alterations as are necessary to put a letter in proper form for publication, and when the matter is so crowded together as in your communication, it is impossible for us to render the same fit for the printers' acceptance without rewriting the letter from start to finish, which we have not time to do.

We are unable, for the reasons stated, to deal with your letter as received, but if you will re-write the same, and send it with your name and address, we will give it publicity.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the

"CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/3 post free. Stiff Paper Cover, 1/3 post free.

Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

A HANDY BOOK.

1/2 post free.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens.
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. Carl, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. Hammond and Co., Ltd., Fleet Lane, London, E.C.

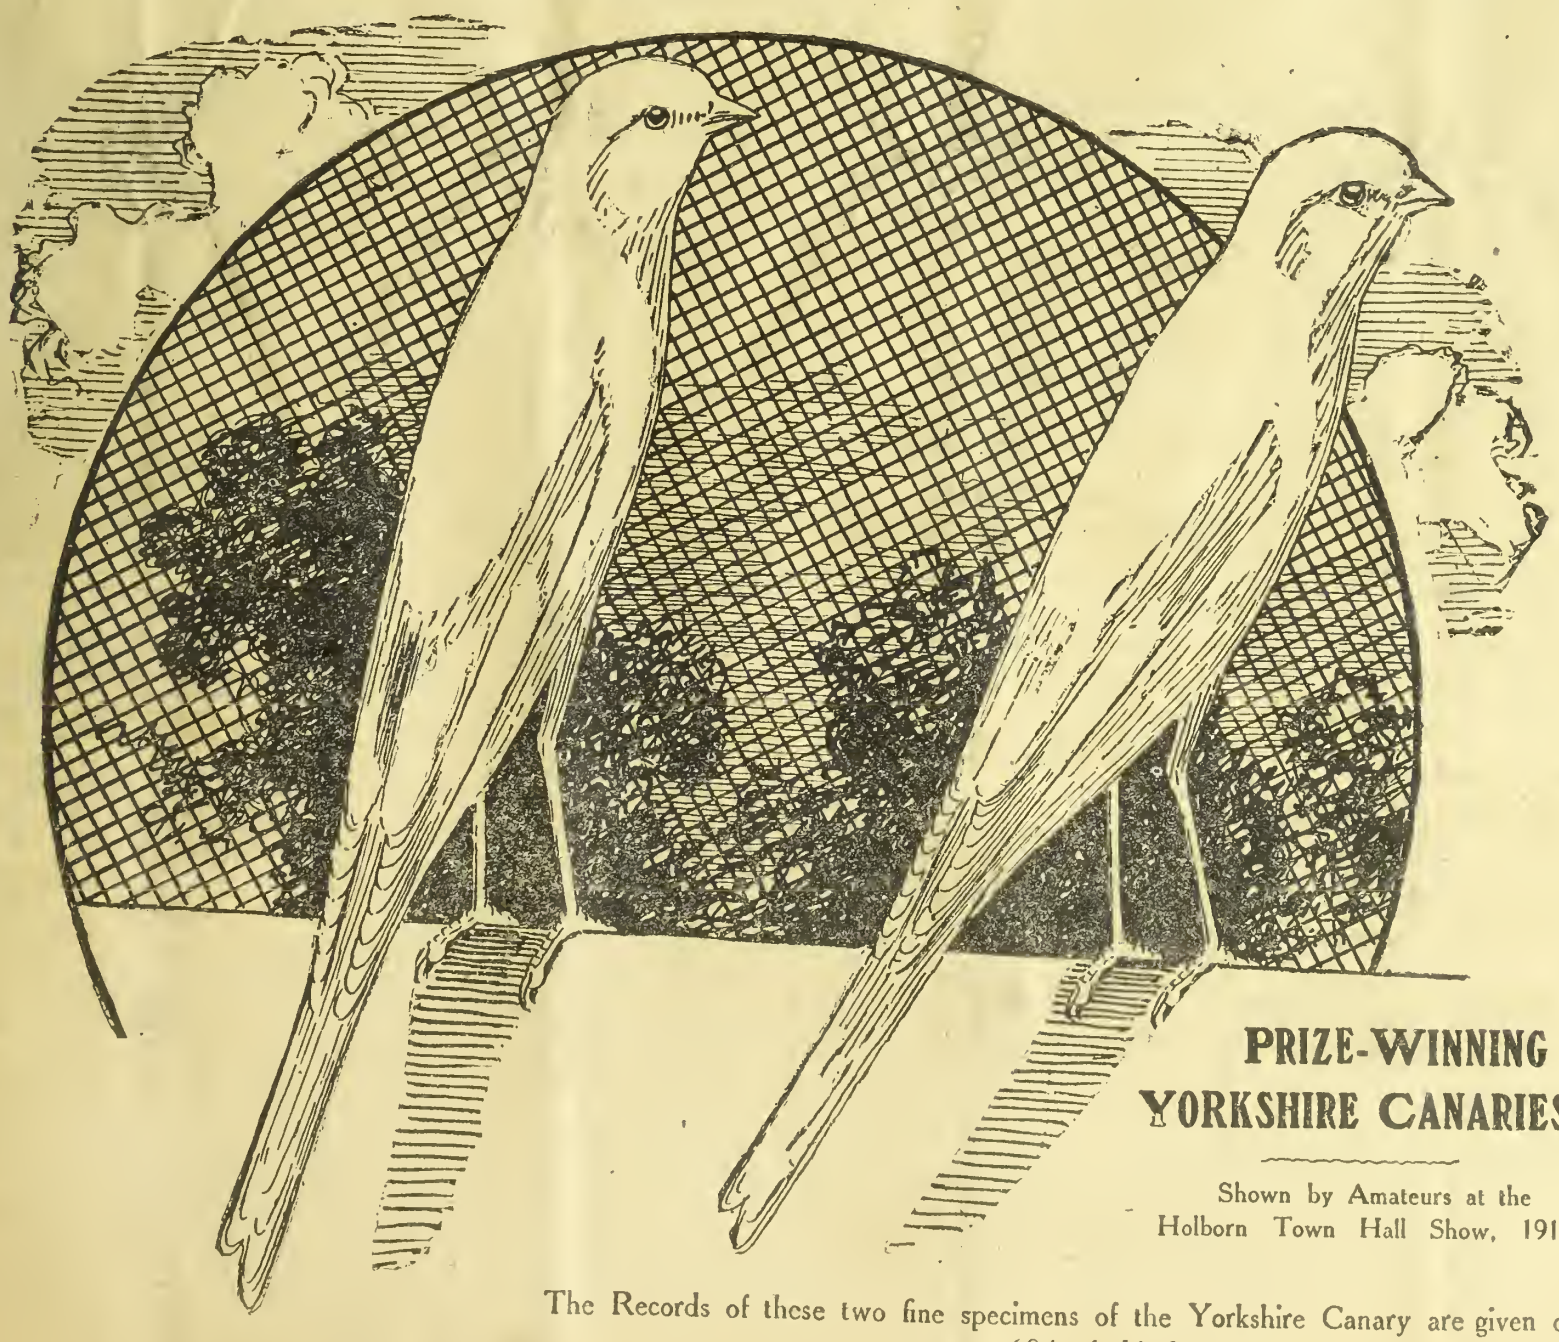
636.605
CAG

"CAGE BIRDS AND BIRD WORLD," October 14th, 1916.

FOR ALL ABOUT PET BIRD KEEPING

16 PAGES. 2D

SEE THIS ISSUE.



CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL
Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 725 For week ending October 14th, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free.
Foreign— 13/- per annum.

PRIZE-WINNING YORKSHIRE CANARIES.

Shown by Amateurs at the Holborn Town Hall Show, 1915.

The Records of these two fine specimens of the Yorkshire Canary are given on page 664 of this issue.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS" DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the seuder after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must he borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor. We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—It the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

OUTDOOR aviaries, nird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks and dust from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold.

THIRTY high-class breeding cages, all complete, up-to-date, 3/- each: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (600)

PAIR of hand-made clap nets, Linnet mesh, 12 yards long, 8 feet deep, pull line, all accessories, complete, 20/-; Marshall, 9, Manvers-st., Nottingham. (610)

WORTH notice; extra grand large Palace-shaped three-compartment new drawing-room aviary, 4ft. long, 3½ft. high, 18 inches broad, fitted complete, with two movable wire partitions, sand bottoms, seed drawers, and revolving perches, close wired, to hold smallest of Foreign birds, price 70/-; worth £10; approval; drawing sent: McKeand, Cage Manufacturer, Castle Douglas.

BIRD HOUSES, £3 3s.

Lean-to roof, complete with floor, 6ft. x 3ft. x 6ft. high; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (603)

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP

Any size, with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogues of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (538)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN.

14 x 12, 4/6 dozen; 16 by 12, 5/3 dozen; 18 x 12, 6/- dozen; 24 x 12, 7/9 dozen; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6; punched bars, 12/- gross; for cheap window cages, box cages, bird baths, seed boxes, see illustrated catalogue; dealers send postcard: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (604)

WALSH'S ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

Is always alike—good and reliable; does not run in the sun; packed in lever-lid tins. ½lb. 10d., ¼lb. 1/3, 1lb., 2/-; sample tin, 3d. Spring net traps, 2/6 each. Dealers send for special Trade Prices.

WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn
Tel.: 947 (577)

BIRDS FOR NOTHING

See "Cage Birds" of August 26, 1916, page, 492, column three—THAT WILL TELL YOU.

Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softbills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in Europe: see my list. It is sent you post free. STRONGEST BIRDLIME IN WORLD, hold from Linnet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1, all post free. Lot of Secondhand and NEW PARROT CAGES, from One Shilling each. Patent Anti-Mite Perches; list free. Giant Double-screened Canary Seed, cheapest in England. Sample tin, 6d., post free. Try it and compare with all others you have ever used. Birds, Fish, and Animals preserved and mounted in any style by a Gold and Silver Medallist. NO CONNECTION with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage, of Holborn, or direct from

W. RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

Use our Notepaper.

FOODS.

WILD seeds for British birds, 3 quarts 1/-: Hicks, Victoria-rd., Holsworthy. (611)

MEALWORMS (large) 1/9 150, post paid: C. Sanders, 52, Pitt-st., Peckham. (606)

RIPE privet berries, 160 large bunches, 1/-, post paid: Wm. Young, Misterton, Somerset. (600)

WALSH'S freshly-gathered mixed wild seeds, the natural food for all British seedeaters, 6d. quart, 1/9 gallon, 3 peck; dealers send for special prices: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/6 lb.; yolk of eggs, 3/- lb.; insectivorous food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush food, 6d. lb.; mealworms, 500 2/-, 1,000 3/6; live white gentles, 1,000 1/-: Walsh, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. (549)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

FAR CHEAPER THAN EGGS

Yet made from New-laid English Eggs, and sold with guaranteed Analytical and Microscopical Reports, by Arthur Hill Hassall, M.D., and Francis Sutton, Esq., F.I.C., F.C.S.

EGGERTINE

Best and purest Egg Food ever known. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3, post free. Sample box, 4d.

RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

GENUINE SPANISH CANARY.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaners, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.	224lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-	62/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary	4/6	16/-	31/-	57/6
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-	54/6

Samples and Full List of Seeds Free on Application.

WALSH,

BIRD FOOD SPECIALIST, BLACKBURN.
Tel. 947. (586)

NOT SINGING. SOFT MOULT.

DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather-plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The ideal Tonic for birds during the Moulting Season. DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC for Bronchitis, Wheezing, and Hoarseness. Absolutely unequalled for all chest and lung affections. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for Weak and Delicate Birds.

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM (556)

BOOKS.

ON sale that valuable book, "Our Canaries," in excellent condition, cheap, 14/-: Apply, John Walkden, 170, Scholes, Wigan. (600)

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them." "Nutshell No. 6." an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

GOLDFINCHES, selected young cocks, warranted, 3/6 each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (612)

BRITISH Hardbills, exhibition or aviary, splendid selection; send for list: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres, N.B. (611)

SELECTED cock Goldfinches, showing good blazes, 2/6 and 3/- each; approval: Jones, 18, Gadbys-rd., Aberdare, Wales. (611)

DOVES 3/- pair; wanted any quantity birds for cash; all kinds: Do Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (608)

GOLDFINCHES, cocks, 1/6, 2/-, three 4/6; selected, 3/-; Redpolls, 6d.; Linnets, 8d., 1/-, three 2/6: Broxup, Stock-st., Burnley. (613)

SELECTED cocks; Linnets, 1/-; Redpolls, Greenfinches, 6d.; Yellow Buntings, 1/6 pair: Garrod, 37, Spencer-rd., Rushden. (613)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

A FEW good selected Linnets, nearly ready for bench, from 5/- each; see Mules: Maddison, Tullochst., Newcastle-on-Tyne. (608)

COCK Brown Linnets, 4/- dozen, 7/6 2 dozen; guaranteed cocks, all healthy: Stoneham, 2, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne, Sussex. (608)

SCARBOROUGH Moor cock Brown Linnets, 6/- dozen; exhibition cocks, three for 2/-: P. Cawood, 25, Britannia-st., Scarborough. (609)

WANTED, White cock Goldfinch, Greenfinch, or Linnet, price and full particulars to: Goodman, 24, Bedford-rd., Kempston, Bedford. (582)

SMART cock Bramblefinch, colour-fed, finely marked bird, 4/-; big cock Hawfinch, 6/-: Staines, 219, Ravenscroft-rd., Beckenham. (610)

EXHIBITION British: Chaffinch hen, 10/-; Redpoll, 5/-; Himalayan Siskin, 15/-; H.M., ready for show: J. J. Rees, Brynhyfryd, Swansea. (612)

FIELD moulted Redpoll, 8/-; outstanding Chaffinch, 9/-; Goldfinch Mule, 10/; all with show cages, Gentleman, Avonbridge, Stirlingshire. (612)

COCK Hawfinch, 6/-; hen, 3/-; cock Linnet, 1/6; cock Greenfinch, 1/-; cock Goldfinch, 3/-: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne.

F.-M. cock Linnets, caged eight weeks, from 2/-; a few for exhibition from 3/6 to 5/-; stamp: Chas. Degg, 77, Hamilton-rd., Normacot, Staffs. (612)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (588)

SELECTED giant cock Brown Linnets for show or contest, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Goldfinches, 2/6 and 3/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (588)

THREE young Goldfinches, 2/- each; large Bullfinches, 1/6; singing Canary, 2/-; Redpoll, lovely pet, 1/-: Police Station, Steen's Bridge, Leominster. (613)

COCKS: Larks, Linnets, singing, 1/-, 1/6 each; trap cages, 1/-, 2/-; spring nets, traps, 1/6, 2/- each: Brain, Poultry Farm, Lichfield-rd., Aston, Birmingham. (599)

BRITISH birds, all kinds, to relieve overcrowded outdoor aviary; moulted, perfect condition; no dealers: Wagner, 33, Brooke-st., Holborn, London, E.C. (608)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

BULLFINCHES. Cocks 2/-, hens 1/-: one very good cock, 5/-; Chaffinches, 1/6 pair; Greenfinches, 1/- pair; very large cock, 6/-: Bass, Queen's-ferr., Rushden. (611)

COCKS: Bullfinch, 5/-; Goldfinch, 4/-; Redpoll, 3/-; Linnet, 2/6; Hens: Canary, 3/-; Goldfinch, Redpoll, 1/6; exchange Canaries, Mules: Tullett, Sun-st., Brighton. (612)

EXHIBITION Goldfinch, through moult, exchange exhibition Chaffinch, Bramble, or Bullfinch. F.-M.: J. Wright, 32, Ashgrove-av., Foggy Furze, West Hartlepool. (609)

WANTED exhibition H.-M. Goldfinch: Mrs. Lilian Dalton, "Glynderw," West Cross, nr. Swansea.

EXHIBITORS, grand Hawfinch, moulted to perfection, approval for cash: stamp for particulars: Apply to Wm. W. Topping, 18, St. David-st., Dunfries, Scotland. (612)

HAWFINCH, 6/6; Bramblefinch, fed, sure winner, 10/6; both cocks; light Goldfinch Mule hen, sure winner, 10/6; approval: Groom, Gaddesden-place, Hemel Hempstead. (606)

SELECTED muling, exhibition, large Linnet cocks, well on seed, 1/6, 2/6 each; extra size, colour, Yellowhammers, cocks, 2/6: H. Welsh, Cornstall Buildings, Stamford. (609)

GRAND white-legged Goldfinch and hen Canary, Mule breeder, 15/-; also Redpoll and hen Canary, bred Mules, 5/6; Redpolls, 1/- each: Grout, 64, Hughenden-rd., Norwich. (610)

GENUINE Canary reared, ring 1916; cock Chaffinch, 7/6; hen ditto, 5/-; cock Goldfinch, 7/6; grand birds; various cages cheap: Thompson, Confectioner, 63, Wellington-st., Luton. (613)

FORFARSHIRE Linnets. Selected cocks, good size, colour and markings, for field moulted classes, 3/6 each, three 10/-; satisfaction guaranteed: Wm. Taylor, Barbers Croft, Arbroath. (612)

COCK Bullfinches, 3/-, 3/6; one selected, 5/-; Corn Bunting, 1/6; Chaffinches, Greenfinches, 6d. each, half-dozen 2/6; Redpolls 9d. each, half-dozen 2/9: W. Reid, Invererne, Forres, N.B. (607)

Canary Seed Cheaper DURING THE WAR

our customers may rely on our continuing to supply them at LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. Free delivery by own van London district. Carriage paid to any country station in England and Wales 1/- cwt. extra.

TROWER'S WONDERFUL SOFTBILO.

The wonder of the age for Larks, Blackbirds, Thrushes, Jays, Magpies, Starlings, etc. Sold by 4,000 Corn and Bird Dealers, 7lbs. 2/3, post free.

TROWER'S IMPROVED CECTO

stands unbeaten in price and quality; with or without egg flake. An eye-opener for those who have never used a good food. Unequalled for Nightingales, Blackbirds, Robins, Wagtails, Waxbills, and all small insectivorous birds. British and Foreign, 1/6 lb., post paid 1/10 lb.; 7lbs. 11/-, post paid.

TRY THESE AND COMPARE WITH OTHER FOODS.

A REVOLUTION IN FEEDING.

TROWER'S EGBISCO.

ACKNOWLEDGED THE CHAMPION EGG AND BISCUIT FOOD

for rearing and maturing Canaries, Hybrids, and all birds that partake of egg and biscuit in any form. Contains 50 per cent. egg and is the only food worthy of the name.

Resembles nothing else on the market. All users delighted with it.

Do not confuse it with any other preparation. It is prepared only by us, and can be obtained of all corn dealers and bird-shops. In tins, 4d., 8d., 1/3, 2/6, postage extra; 4lbs. 8/-; 7lb. bags, 13/6, post paid. Special quotations for quantities. Post free.

OUR GIANT SPANISH

is better value than sold by any other firm at the price. Compare price, weight and quality.

	Peck	Approx. wght. Bshl.	per bshl	cwt.
Giant Spanish Canary	4/3	16/6	58lbs.	32/-
Large ditto	4/-	15/6	58lbs.	30/-
Fine ditto	3/9	14/6	68lbs.	28/-
Good ditto	3/6	13/6	58lbs.	26/-
Best Moroceo ditto	3/3	12/6	68lbs.	24/-
Best Bold Hemp	4/-	15/6	42lbs.	35/-
Best White Millet	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	27/-
Best Indian Millet	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	26/-
Summer Rape	4/6	17/6	62lbs.	36/-
Extra Bold Linseed	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	29/-
Teazlo	4/-	15/6	28lbs.	60/-
Niger Seed	3/6	13/6	48lbs.	45/-
Sunflower, Black, Striped	4/6	17/6	28lbs.	60/-
Mixed Seed for Aviaries	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Foreign Finches	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Parrots	3/-	11/6	40lbs.	33/-
Ditto, Canaries	3/6	13/6	67lbs.	27/-
Ditto, British Finch	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	28/-

TRY OUR WILD SEEDS FOR FINCHES.

No value in the world like it. 2/6 peck, 11lbs., or 3/- 14lbs. 1 peck post free 3/6. Quotations given for, and special mixtures can be mixed according to fanciers' own requirements.

OUR FINCH TIT-BITS, 1/- lb., our speciality. OUR GOLDEN BIRD GRIT IS PERFECTION. 1/- ½-cwt., 2/- ½-cwt., 3/6 cwt.

Maw, 1/3, Sesame 8d., Dandelion 4d. oz., 4/6 lb.; Cornflower, 4d. oz., 5/- lb.; Cuttlefish, 6d. and 9d., large 1/6 lb. Millet Sprays, 2/6 bundle of 50.

Dried Flies, 2/- and 2/3 lb.; Silkworm Pupæ, ground or whole, 1/3 lb.; post free. Meat Meal, 3d.; Biscuit Meal, 3d. lb.; postage extra.

Medicated Nest Bags, 7d. dozen, 6/6 gross. Nest Pans, 1/6; Wires 9d. dozen. Felts, Brown 9d., White 1/3 dozen.

MOULTING CONDITION TONIC AND SINGING MIXTURE.

Our Asthma Cure is the talk of the Fancy. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Bird Tonic will work wonders when your stock is run down. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Parrot Medicines are an eye-opener. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Price List and Samples Free

TROWER & CO.,

Seed Merchants and Bird Food Specialists,

442, Caledonian Road, 82, Roman Road, } King's Cross, LONDON.

'Phone: 1320 North. Opposite Caledonian Rd. Tube Station.

BOOKS ARE STAR SHELLS
THAT LIGHT THE WAY TO SUCCESS.

Our Handbooks Help Novice and Expert Alike.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS. By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.—An exceptionally helpful, intensely practical and instructive handbook for beginners and tyros at Canary Breeding. It contains 116 pages 7in. by 5in., and is profusely illustrated and contains innumerable hints helpful to all young bird-keepers. In this book the reader is instructed how to pair up the stock birds, how to cage and feed them, how to test the eggs, what to do when the young birds are hatched, and so on until the birds are old enough to be put on the show bench. It is interesting from cover to cover, and is by far the best 6d. handbook on the subject ever published. Price 6d., post free 7d. Cloth bound, 1/2.

AVIARIES, BIRD-ROOMS AND CAGES: THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND FURNISHING.—A practical, up-to-date guide on this most interesting subject; written and illustrated by "Cage Birds" artist-in-chief, Mr. H. NORMAN. It is fully illustrated with ten full-page photographic plates and numerous helpful sketches. Bound in cloth Gilt, price 2/-, post free 2/3; paper board covers 1/6, post free 1/8.

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL. By H. NORMAN.—Published complete, 190 pages, 7in. by 5in., bound in cloth, and also in two parts—"Hardbills" and "Softbills." This latest and most up-to-date manual on British birds has been written and illustrated in colours, and black and white, by "Cage Birds" artist-in-chief, Mr. H. NORMAN. The author, who has made a life-study of the subject, gives in these volumes information and hints of the utmost value to all keepers of British birds. Part I., "Hardbills," deals with the Finches, their keeping, feeding, showing, etc.; and Part II., "Softbills," Blackbirds, Thrushes, Larks, Buntings, etc. Price 1/- per part, post free 1/1.

COLOUR FEEDING OF CANARIES AND OTHER BIRDS. By J. W. RAMSDEN.—Tells you how to mix the colour-food, and how to moult the birds to get the richest possible colour. Price 3d., post free 3½d.

FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS. By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S., etc.—A most useful manual for all keepers of Foreign birds. It will be found indispensable information of an entirely practical nature—by a life-long specialist—on the keeping and feeding of the more common and popular varieties of foreigners. It contains illustrations in colour, and black and white, of some of the well-known species, and should be purchased without delay by all fanciers who go in for this most interesting branch of bird-keeping. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½d.

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL. By C. A. HOUSE.—5th Edition. A thoroughly practical guide to the general management and breeding of Canaries, dealing fully with the breeding, etc., of every member of the Canary family, including the Roller (or Singing Canary). An illustration of each bird, by the master Canary artist, Mr. H. Norman; exhaustive chapters on aviaries and cages, breeding procedure, moulting, exhibiting, diseases, and seeds—a compendium of knowledge. Price 1/, post free 1/2. Cloth bound, 2/2.

THE SECRETS OF HYBRID BREEDING REVEALED AND EXPLAINED. By many notable Mule and Hybrid Breeders. Among the contributors are such well-known breeders as Messrs. R. Colton, W. H. Vale, C. Houlton, C. J. Ward, J. Beswick, G. Lander, T. H. Kinch, T. Smith, etc. This Handbook, which contains 212 pages, 7in. by 5in., is brimful of the most practical information on the highly interesting subject of Hybrid breeding. Being written by successful breeders, it is quite invaluable to everyone who would also be successful in his hobby. Price 1/-, post free 1/2.

YORKSHIRE CANARIES. HOW TO BREED, MANAGE, AND EXHIBIT. By H. W. BATTYE, past President of the Yorkshire Union. It deals fully with the Yorkshire Canary and its sub-varieties, and should be in the hands of every breeder. It gives the fullest instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, exhibiting, and how to treat birds in health and disease. Illustrated by Messrs. H. Norman and A. J. Simpson. Price 2/-, post free 2/2.

BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS. By C. P. ARTHUR.—How to keep, feed, breed, and teach to talk. This handbook is written by a specialist, from a life's experience in the keeping of these two popular varieties of foreign birds. The information given in it is of a most practical and concise nature, and no keeper of these birds can afford to be without a copy. Price 6d., post free 6½d.

THE STOCK BOOK, OUR INVALUABLE BREEDING ROOM REGISTER. Compiled by G. E. WESTON. The stock book which makes bird breeding easy. The book no breeder of birds can really afford to be without. Everything that a cage bird breeder needs to assist him in keeping his accounts is found in its pages. A large number of emergency hints are also given for the assistance of the fancier during the breeding season. Price 6d., post free 7d.

NORWICH CANARIES. By C. A. HOUSE.—The latest and most practical manual on this popular variety of Canaries. It tells the fancier all that he needs to know to enable him to become successful as a breeder and exhibitor of the Norwich Plainhead. The chapters on "Forming a Stud," and "How to Produce the Ideal," are worth the cost of the whole book many times over. Price 1/-, post free 1/1.

PARROTS FOR PLEASURE AND PROFIT. By C. P. ARTHUR.—A comprehensive and practical handbook, 36 pages, 7½in. by 5in., dealing with the keeping and feeding of the more widely-kept varieties—the Grey, the Amazon, etc. It explains fully how to sex these birds, the treatment of newly-imported specimens, and cures for their various ills. Price 6d., post free 7d.

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE. By GEORGE GARDNER.—A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies, and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits, etc. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½d.

SEEDS, FOODS, AND WILD PLANTS FOR CAGE BIRDS. By various Leading Authorities. A comprehensive and complete manual on this most interesting subject. 'In it will be found information on the various seeds suitable for all varieties of cage birds, their food values, uses, etc. Descriptions and illustrations of the various wild plants that are indispensable to the successful keeping of all cage birds are fully given. Price 1/-, post free 1/2.

SEPTIC FEVER OR CANARY PLAGUE. By R. H. CLARKE, M.D., M.A.—A very useful booklet on this subject, which should be found in every bird lover's library. Dr. Clarke has given the subject of his book very special study. Price 6d., post free 7d.

Other Books obtainable from us—

BIRDS OF THE COUNTRYSIDE. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—A handbook to the wild life of all our familiar British birds; their appearance and habits accurately described. With 12 beautiful coloured plates, and 118 photographic illustrations. A charming gift book. 5/4 post free.

PETS, AND HOW TO KEEP THEM. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—Gives the correct method of housing, feeding, and managing every kind of pet; all sorts of animals are dealt with—monkeys, dogs, cats, lizards, tortoises; also gold and other fancy fish, while there is a large section devoted to birds. Contains many coloured plates and illustrations from photographs. Another charming gift book. 5/4 post free.

EGGS AND NESTS OF BRITISH BIRDS. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—A most interesting Handbook for all lovers of British birds, containing coloured reproductions of 154 eggs from nature in 20 plates, and 74 eggs in half-tone and other illustrations. Price, 5/4 post free.

AVIARIES AND AVIARY LIFE. By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.—An interesting manual devoted to the housing, feeding, and general treatment of Foreign and British birds, and details the various groups that can be kept safely together in outdoor and indoor aviaries; the best food mixtures, and an enormous amount of equally important matter in connection with the subject. Lavishly illustrated with photographs and sketches. Price, 12/6 post free.

"Cage Birds"
COLOURED PICTURE POSTCARDS
OF
CANARIES, BRITISH BIRDS AND HYBRIDS.

THE MOST DELIGHTFUL AND APPROPRIATE POSTCARDS FOR BIRD LOVERS ON THE MARKET.

The Cinnamon Canary.
The Lizard Canary.
The Lancashire Coppy.
Green Canaries.
Border Fancies.
Scotch Fancy.
Crest and Crestbred.
Jonque Four-pointed Goldfinch-Canary.
Jonque Dark Goldfinch-Canary.
Goldfinch-Bullfinch.
Goldfinch-Redpoll.
Greenfinch-Bullfinch.
Linnet-Bullfinch.

BEAUTIFUL COLOURED PLATES.

PRICE 6d. EACH, Post Free.

Goldfinch and Bullfinch.
Blackbird and Robin.
Popular Parrakeets.
Belgian and Scotch Fancy.
50 Varieties of British Birds.

PRICE 2d. EACH, Post Free, 1s. 6d. per doz.

Greenfinch Hybrids.
Nightingale and Spotted Flycatcher.
Cinnamon-marked Yorkshires.
Three Champion Yorkshires.
Lancashire and Lizard.
Cinnamon Norwich.
Norwich Plainhead, Yellow and Buff.
Popular Mules (Canary Crosses).
Popular Hybrids (British Bird Crosses).
"Stars of the Season" (Norwich and Yorkshire).
Bullfinch.
Bullfinch Hybrids.
Larks and Pipits.
Popular Parrots.
Magpie and Starling.
Wood Warbler.
Indian Jewels (Foreign Birds).
Goldfinch Hybrids.
Greater Bird of Paradise.
Magpie, Chough and Jay.
A Group of Gems from Foreign Climes.
A Study in Cinnamon Blood.
Varieties of Norwich Plainheads.
Roller, Tho (Coracias garrulus).
Popular Buntings.
Ring Ousels.
Foreign Birds for Beginners (Finches).
Clear and Dark Yellow Siskin-Canary Hybrids.
Greenfinch-Bullfinch Hybrid.
Parents and Progeny (Canaries).
Study in Canaries (various breeds).
Chaffinch, Greenfinch, and Bramblefinch.
Gems from Foreign Climes (Foreign Birds).
Linnet, Twite, and Siskin.
Three Graces (Crests).
Wild Seeds and Plants for Bird-keepers.
Masked Shrike, Bee Eater, and White-winged Lark.
Grey Parrots.
Dainty Softbills, Lesser Whitethroat, Willow Warbler, Gold-Crested Wren, Blackcap Warbler.
Canary Variations (Lancashire, Scotch Fancy, and Lizard).
Blackbird (Cock and Hen).
Border Fancy and Roller Canaries.
A Study of Crested Canaries.
Good and Bad Points in Exhibition Goldfinches.

PRICE 2d. EACH, Post Free, 1/6 DOZ.

The Nutshell Series
OF POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON
CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, Etc.

Everything you require to know about one particular bird "in a nutshell."

Price, 2d. each; by Post, 2½d. 6 for 1s. 2d. 12 for 2s. 3d.

NOW READY.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and how to cure them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, and Aviaries.
10.—The Roller (or Song) Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—The Couldian Finch.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—Grey Parrots.
18.—The Budgerigar.
19.—The Pekin Nightingale.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Green Canaries.
23.—The Border Fancy Canary.
24.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
25.—Insectivorous Birds (Part I.)
26.— " " (Part II.)
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
29.—Cavies or Guinea Pigs.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird-room Appliances.

OTHERS IN COURSE OF PREPARATION.

"THE SMALL GARDEN." The Book of the Moment. How best to utilise small spaces, simple but complete instructions for the novice gardener, especially for the amateur who wishes to turn a little plot of land to good advantage. List of vegetables and flowers. A most valuable little book for all who wish to grow their own food. Price, 7d., post free.

"IN-BREEDING"—What it is and what it does. Deals comprehensively with one of the most fascinating problems of the live stock hobby, by the celebrated Fancy authority, C. A. HOUSE. Of equal value to the breeders of any kind of stock. Explains what prepotency does. The first steps to take; how to make the weak strong; breeders' experiences, etc. Price, 10d., post paid.

"EVERY WOMAN'S BOOK OF POULTRY." By the Hon. Mrs. Lionel Guest. Most favourably-reviewed book of poultry for the season. The problem of the food supply is a great and growing one. The author writes delightfully and instructively on a subject of which she has made herself a perfect mistress, and the result is a book that can be cordially recommended to every woman who can and ought to take up the industry. Price, 8d., post free.

Published by F. CARL, 154, Fleet Street, London.

"OUR CANARIES" is being Reprinted—the demand having exhausted the complete edition.

CATCH thousands birds alive; new double-compartment trap cages, including two large Finches, trained call birds, only 3/3, complete; send postal orders: Mr. Copp, Stores, Dartford. (609)

EXHIBITORS. Following cocks selected for size, colour, and markings; Bullfinch, 4/6; Twite, 4/6; Redpoll, 2/6; Greenfinch, 2/6; cash or exchange Canaries: C. Ross, 7t, Leonard's-rd., Forres. (611)

EXHIBITION birds wanted; cock Siskin, Yellow Bunting, Greenfinch, good price for fine specimens, ready for immediate exhibition; cash or deposit; approval: Potter, Printer, Lingfield, Surrey. (609)

TO catchers; wanted weekly, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, cocks and hens, any numbers; please state price per dozen: A. J. Underwood, Bird Specialist, 24, Wellington-st., Kettering. (610)

BIRD netting, superfine thread, Linnet or Finch netting, ¾ mesh, 9ft. deep, 7d. running yard; dyed, preserved, 1d. yard extra, none better; any length cut: Butler (late Jackson), Station-rd., Bardney, Lincoln. (610)

GRAND pairs, Bullfinches, 3/-; Linnets, 1/-; Redpolls, 1/-; Chaffinches, 1/-, 1/6; Yellow Buntings, 1/6, 2/-; Greenfinches, 1/-; from outdoor aviaries: A. J. Underwood, Bird Specialist, 24, Wellington-st., Kettering (610)

WHY not catch your own? Grand cock Linnet call bird, not a waster; call cage and box of esparto grass lime twigs, all ready to lay down, 3/- the lot; noted for straight dealing: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (507)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not freshraught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 6/- the six; three for 3/6, or 1/6 for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (583)

GOLDFINCHES, Linnets, Redpolls, cock Goldfinches, 2/- each, three 5/-, six 9/-; Redpolls, 3/- dozen; show specimens, 1/- each; cock Linnets, in full song, 1/-, 1/6 each; travelling cage, 3d.; approval, cash or reposit: Engram, 54, Gaultonst., Hull. (611)

GOLDFINCHES. Being overstocked with orders can offer the following: Worcestershire cock Linnets, 1/- each, three 2/-; few specials for exhibition or muling; 1/6 each, three 3/-; extra large cock Greenfinches, like paint, 1/- each; travelling cages, 3d. extra; wanted Canaries, Mules, etc.: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (600)

COCK Larks 5/- dozen. I can supply red-breasted cock Linnets, 5/- dozen, 50 full song, 1/- each, or three for 2/6, six for 4/6, picked for show or muling 1/6 each; Chaffinches, 1/- pair; Greenfinches, 1/- pair, or 2/6 dozen; wanted Goldfinches, Redpolls, Bullfinches, wanted for spot cash: W. Darby, 41a, Spon Lane Aviaries, West Bromwich. (607)

NORTH Country Linnets, nothing can beat them for contest singing, 1/-, three for 2/6; I have a few champion cock Linnet call birds that know their work; been out with nets all the season, 2/6 each; trap cages, the best on the market to-day, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6; esparto grass lime twigs, will not break, limed ready to set, the only thing known for catching scared birds, 2/- 100, 7/6 1,000; pheasant, partridge, plover, Lark and rabbit nets for sale; state wants; stamp reply; noted for straight dealing: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (507)

GOLDFINCHES, Linnets. These are the noted Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, all on hard seed and song, 2/- each, three for 5/-, few picked very large cocks, 2/6, 3/- and 3/6 each; few gems, 5/- each; one, show condition, 7/6; glorious red-breasted cock Linnets, 9d. each, three for 2/-; few, picked for size and song, 1/6, 2/- and 2/6 each; nothing better. Cock Greenfinches, Redpolls, Chaffinches, 9d. each, specially selected 1/- each. Two-compartment trap cage and call bird, 1/6; 3-compartment ditto, 2/- each; call cages, 8d. each; sample bird lime and Linnet whistles, 4d. each post free. Hen Canaries and hen Finch Mules, 1/6 each given. Birds bought, sold or exchanged; travelling cages 5d. and 6d. extra; all birds warranted sound and healthy, and sex guaranteed: Bedford, late Gore's, 131, Goochst., Birmingham. (612)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 50, George-st., Leeds. (570)

GOLDFINCHES BULLFINCHES LINNETS

Redpolls, etc., real English cock Goldfinches, 2/-, 2/6, three 5/-; selected, three 6/-; hens 1/-, three 2/6; cock Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/- each; hens 1/-, 1/6 each; Lancashire cock Linnet, 9d., three 1/9, six 3/-, 5/- dozen: Redpolls, 6d., three 1/-, six 1/6, extra special selected cock Goldfinches and cock Bullfinches, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; special selected cock Linnets, for showing or muling, 2/-, 2/6; show Redpolls, 1/-, 1/6; best birdlime, ½lb. tins 9d., ½lb. 1/2, 1lb. 2/-; postage free: Matt Hopkins, Bird Specialist, 38, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. Est. 1896. (619)

WANTED TO PURCHASE. WANTED TO PURCHASE. WANTED TO PURCHASE.

GOLDFINCHES
BULLFINCHES.
LINNETS.
And all other British Birds.

Cash on receipt. Please submit offers immediately

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
22t, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION.

Gentlemen, if you want value, send to your humble servant. All my birds are sent to you for cash or deposit with Editor. All on approval. I have sent another consignment of Linnets, etc., to Ontario, on the s.s. "St. Louis." I have a grand lot of cock Linnets, singing night and day, 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each; quality songsters, delightful to hear, 2/6, 3/- each; Linnet call birds, good loud voices and call cage, 3/- lot; H.M. Linnets, birds that have won all before them, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/- each; Redpolls, real beauties, 1/-, 1/6, and one a stormer, 2/6; cock Chaffinch, a gem, 3/6. I have over 300 Canaries, all singing grand, cocks on full song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6 each; pink-eyed hens, 3/6, 5/6 each; Roller cocks, 8/6, 10/6; Roller hens, 2/6 each; Yellow Budgerigars, 4/- each; Linnet and Roller whistles, 6d. Harry Allen's Linnet Booklet, 6d.; bag of Secret Mixture, will make your birds sing, 1/3; Nutshells, 2½d., all post free. Write at once. You will not regret it. Thousands of testimonials.

FRED ALLEN, Linnet Expert,
156, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds). PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Benson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKiernan, 62, Raikes Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Glumman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Wittnn, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Ineull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Rayner, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Holme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

LINNET fanciers; two handsome extra large clean moulted red breasted cock Linnets, splendid songsters, fine show specimens, make grand contest birds, bargain, 1/6 each, 2/6 two; if not satisfied, money returned; approval: Dixon, Old New Inn, Dunstable. (612)

COCK Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/6; Skylarks, Chaffinches, Yellowhammers, Linnets, 1/-; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d.; H.M. Siskin 5/-; Canaries 7/6, 10/-, hens 3/6; birdlime 2d., 1/4; pullets, hens, laying, 3/6; six and cockerel 22/6; ducks 2/9, five and drake 15/-: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan. (595)

Softbills.

COCK Thrushes, 1/- each, well on food: Rd. Wright Pen, 108, Shellfield-rd., Marshside, Southport. (611)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

WARRANTED cock Skylarks, in full loud song, day and gaslight, 2/- each; cages 1/- extra: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

JACKDAW, hand-reared, 1915, tame, runs loose, commencing chattering, 3/6; bargain: Skinner, Dean-crescent, Bedminster, Bristol. (611)

YOUNG cock Song Thrush, aged 3 months, eats from hand, finely marked, very large, healthy, 10/-; another smaller, 5/-: H. Gardiner, Veitchpark, Haddington. (607)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

SKYLARKS; large genuine selected cocks, 5/- doz., six 3/-; exhibition specimens, 1/-, three 2/6; clean, healthy hens, 2- dozen: Butler (late Jackson), Station-rd., Bardney, Lincoln. (610)

THREE genuine hand-reared Song Thrushes and new cages, one 1915, two 1916, in good song; call Saturday or Sunday morning: Mrs. Robinson, 86, Ethelred-st., Lambeth Walk, S.E. (609)

EXHIBITORS! A few good birds for disposal; Tree Pipits, Gold Crested Wrens, Sedge Warblers, Lesser Whitethroats, Grey Wagtail: R. C. Tout, 135, Queen-st., Portsea, Portsmouth. (610)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 30 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable (599)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, very loud, can be matched to sing any in this country, good contest bird or shop attraction, 1/6; secret of feeding free; approval anywhere: George Holt, Dunstable. (608)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

ON receipt of 9s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

SKYLARK fanciers; two fine upstanding extra large house moulted real Dunstable bred cock Skylarks, sing their pure wild notes, fine show specimens, sacrifice 1/6 each, 2/- the two; approval, money returned not satisfied: Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable. (612)

CHOICE SOFTBILLS FOR SALE.

Hand-reared, this year's cock Nightingale, perfect in feather and in grand condition, ready for show bench, nicely on song, price £2 2s.; hand-reared exhibition cock Blackcap, clean moulted, in grand condition, a gem, price 30/-, splendid songster; hand-reared exhibition cock Thrush, clean moulted, large bird, perfect in every way, take some beating, price 25/-: F. Bent, Confectioner, Glasshouse-st., Nottingham. (613)

Miscellaneous.

A GRAND singing Linnet, with contest cage, 2/6; also Lark and cage, 2/-: Mrs. Maloney, 58, Scholes, Wigan. (607)

YELLOWHAMMERS, Larks, Linnets, Redpolls, Greenfinches, 1/6 pair; selected cocks for show, singing, or muling, 1/6 each; approval, deposit or cash: B. Onions, 66, Rushall-st., Walsall. (608)

GOLDFINCHES, Goldfinches; cocks 2/6 each, three 7/-; hen Goldfinches, 1/3, three 3/6; cock Thrush, beauty, 2/-; all old caught, well on seed and food: J. Whiteley, Catcher, Boston-rd., Holbeach. (609)

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury-terr., Dunstable, would like to send on approval two beautiful singing cock Linnets, also a Skylark, at 1/6 each; would suit bird dealers for shop front attraction, or bird catchers for call birds. (608)

HANDSOME pair of Blue Tits, 3/6; Marsh Tit, 4/-; magnificent Coal Tit, 5/-; cock Bullfinch, 4/6; hen Bullfinch, 2/6; large Redpoll, 2/-; Robin, 2/-; all show condition; private address: Mrs. Kemp, 34, Tovey-pl., Kentish Town. (609)

WARTER hens 2/6 each; cocks, per dozen, Brown Linnets, 4/-; Redpolls, 2/6; Skylarks, 2/6; Greenfinches, 1/6; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; large selected cocks, 2/6 each; Linnets, Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, Skylarks, 1/- pair: Blue Tits, Robins, 1/6 pair: 12 mixed aviary birds, 1/6: Fenn and Son, Bowers Lane, Isleham, Cambs. (610)

WINNING BRITISH BIRDS

Entire stock of local fancier called to the Colours. Three Yellowhammers (one winner, 1st and 2nd), 5 Greenfinches (1 winner, 2nd), Greenfinch hen, winner 1st; cock Bullfinch, winner 1st and 2nd; Hawfinch, winner 2nd and 3rd, rough feather yet; Starling, finger-tame, winner 2nd, 3rd; Greater Whitethroat, splendid Robin, full song; offers wanted for above, whole or part; best accepted: Wilkinson, County Aviaries, Lancaster. (611)

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

TYPICAL Borders, from 7/6, approval: Hislop, 114, Baker-st., Stirling. (602)

BORDER Canaries, 1916 bred, grand songsters, stamp: Young, 122, High-st., Dumblane. (611)

SLENDID Border cocks, singing lovely, 7/6 each; hens, 3/- each; approval: Heron, Burnside, Castle Douglas. (612)

BARGAINS. Two hens, clears, yellow and buff, prize winners last season, 7/6 each; particulars: Egerton, Hensingham, Whitehaven. (611)

NOTICE! Grand lot Borders for show or song; prices low, easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

HAVING bought G. Beveridge's, of Leven, stock of Borders, I have all kinds for sale; also breeding cages: Harry Brown, Lundin Links, Fifeshire. (613)

GRAND lot of Green Border Fancies for show or stock; prices reasonable taken; approval; stamp reply: D. Sturrock, 1, Lawrence-st., Dundee. (609)

GOOD pair 1915 variegated green Border Canaries, sell 12/6, or exchange good cock British to value; suitable for call birds: 6, Silvermere-rd., Catford, Kent. (609)

BORDERS. Even marked buff cock, yellow hen, even marked yellow cock, buff hen, even marked yellow hen, buff cock, cinnamon even marked hen, cock to match, £1 per pair; approval: McClue and Hilson, 18, Lowpatrick-st., Hamilton. (610)

EXHIBITION Borders; yellow even mk. cock, 12/6; yellow green cock, 14/-; buff green cock, 15/-; buff cinnamon cock, 12/6; clear buff cock, 10/-; buff variegated cock, 10/-; clear yellow hen, a real knockout, 15/-; yellow cinnamon hen, 11/-; buff green hen, 9/-; all with show cages: Gentleman, Avonbridge, Stirlingshire. (612)

Belgians.

BELGIAN yellow cock, 1 bred, 1916, extra long, 25/-; bargain: Crook, 48, Freeman-st., Grimsby.

Cinnamons.

CINNAMONS. Grand pair, buff cock, yellow hen, 22/6; young cocks, 10/-; clear yellow or buff cocks from 7/6; hens 3/6: Warburton, 73, Ellesmere-rd., Lower Walton, Warrington. (612)

Crests and Crestbreds.

CRESTBRED clear yellow cock, £1, rich colour, 1916: Crook, 48, Freeman-st., Grimsby. (606)

FOR sale, pair healthy Crestbreds, sex warranted, 12/-: Taylor, 3, Prospect-terr., Aberdeen. (608)

MRS. MONTAGU SCOTT has a few Crests and C.B. for sale: 6, Staple Inn, London, W.C. (580)

NOTICE! Grand lot Crests and Crestbreds; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

COMPELLED to clear my complete stock Crests and Crestbreds, single or pairs, immediately; no better blood; cages, cases; no fancy prices, from 10/-; large birds; stamp reply: Shipley, 64, Victoria-rd., Longeaton, Derbyshire. (612)

DO YOU WANT A BARGAIN?

Owing to removal, all my Crests for sale. Grand var. C.B. hen, 1915; 2nd at Glasgow, hard to beat this year, and a grand var. Crest cock, £10 the pair; others from £3 a pair; also 12 S.C.C.C. show cages, 15/- for the lot: McNaughton, Dumpace, Larbert, Stirlingshire. (595)

MUST CLEAR!

Crests 1916 and Stock Birds.

Winners. Mr. Evins and Davey strains. £1 to £20; also few Norwich winners, Mr. Baker's strain. Greens and few Glucke Rollers; seen by appointment.—Mr. Vernon Ashton, Cavendish Place, Bournemouth. (607)

Greens

NORWICH greens, yellows and buffs, from 10/- each; approval: Jenkins, 82, Church-st., Widnes.

Lancashires.

THROUGH being on munition work am compelled to sell the following: clear buff P.H. cock, big winner, 35/-; buff P.H. hen, big winner, 30/-; ditto 30/-; yellow coppy cock, winner, 30/-; all eighteen months; 1916 bred; ticked yellow P.H. cock, 40/-; three clear yellow P.H. hens, monsters, 30/- each; clear buff coppy cock, 25/-; ticked buff P.H. cock, 30/-; clear buff P.H. hen, 30/-; yellow P.H. cock, 17/6; healthy and in tip-top condition; approval: Minty, Stony-st., Frome. (609)

LANCASHIRES AND LIZARDS
Fanciers' Association. Grand show of Lancashire and Lizard Canaries, Saturday and Sunday, October 14th and 15th, Volunteer Inn, George-st., Oldham.

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

F. J. LACCOHEE, Breeder and Exhibitor of high-class Norwich; reliable birds from 10/6; approval: 92, St. George's-st., Norwich. (593)

R. J. Bixter can spare few yellow and buff hens, 7/6, 10/- each: 40, Cyprus-st., Prescot. (610)

FEW buff hens, 3/6; approval; stamp reply: Broxup, Hairdresser, Colne-rd., Burnley. (611)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (602)

THREE cocks and one hen, 1916 bred.—Wm. Moir, jun., Post Office, Auchnagatt, Aberdeenshire. (603)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich Plainheads, all 1916 cocks, from 8/6; hens from 4/-: C. Harbour, 263, Glyn-rd., Clapton. (606)

NORWICH 1916 cock, 7/6; hens 3/6, or 10/6 pair: E. Carroll, 18, Robert-st., Oldham-rd., Failsworth, Manchester. (609)

TEN Norwich cocks, exhibition and stock birds, can be seen any time: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (610)

EXHIBITION Norwich cock, with show cage, 10/6; a few other cocks, 6/6; hens, 4/6: Gentleman, Avonbridge, Stirlingshire. (612)

NOTICE! Grand lot Norwich; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED on approval, unflighted, ticked, or variegated yellow hen, price must be reasonable: E. Dowson, The Close, Norwich. (611)

SPLENDID variegated 1916 Norwich cock, singing well, 12/6; also green cock, 12/6; approval: Freeman, Bayswater-rd., Melton Mowbray. (609)

GIANT Scotch Redpolls, ideal birds for mulling or exhibition, 1/- each, three for 2/6: ring Doves, 2/6 pair: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (612)

SPLENDID yellow cock, 10/6; another buff, 7/6; pure buff hen, 5/-; large green hen, 4/-; all 1914 birds: H. Hutt, 91, Walnut-st., Leicester. (610)

MASSIVE buff Norwich stock cock, 1915, large head and neck, clean moulted, colour-fed, 12/6: Manning, 712, Romford-rd., Manor Park, Essex.

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

SOME splendid Norwich for disposal, large typical birds, no fancy prices, genuine bargains; approval; state wants: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (611)

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, has still remaining the best of last year's stock, also those bred this season. All large and healthy. All for sale. (596)

TEN pairs Norwich, good size, type, and quality, bred direct from winning stock; cheap to clear; stamp, approval: James Ward, 425, Main-st., Shettleston. (609)

D. DEVOY, breeder and exhibitor of high-class Norwich, stock birds from 10/-each; pairs from 20/-; inquiries solicited: 23, George-st., Stranraer, Scotland. (603)

TWO 1916 variegated buff Norwich cocks, colour-fed aud ready for bench, 20/-, 25/- each; approval, deposit: Davies, Tyn Fuwnog, Dinorwig, Cwm-y-glo, N. Wales. (608)

GOOD buff Norwich cock, £1; yellow hen, 10/-; Banbury's strain; two show cages and case, 6/-; one single and case, 3/6; E. Butchor, Eastover, Bridgwater. (612)

COLOUR-FED Norwich; four 1915 Norwich hens, 5/- each; six Norwich cocks, 1916, 10/- and 12/6 each; yellows and buffs: J. J. Rees, Dental Surgery, Brynhyfryd, Swansea. (612)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, fine lot of unflighted and 1915 birds for disposal, yellows and buffs, good size, quality, colour, 10/- upwards: Sykes, 107, Petersbury-rd., Edgeley, Stockport. (611)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich Plainheads, yellow and buffs, clear, ticked, var., many winners amongst them; mostly unflighted, 10/- to £2; approval: G. Bennell, Bootmaker, North-st., King's Lynn. (611)

MUST clear; song or stock unflighted, variegated, colour-fed, cold-room, from best green blood obtainable; cocks 11/-; hens 5/-; clear buff cock and yellow hen, good breeders, green cock 11/-; good stock bird: Reade, 10, Leonard-rd., Gloucester. (611)

CAP and wing-marked buff cock, 12/6; big yellow cock, only fault carries tail on one side, 7/6; clear yellow hen, 7/6; buff hen, 7/6; all colour-fed; buff Yorkshire hen, 5/-; two Greenfinches, bred Mules this season; H.-M. Chaffinch and Bramblofinch, 3/- each, or 10/6 the four; reason for selling, called up: Hoye, 4, Bedford-rd., Hitchin. (609)

CHAMPION Norwich, bred from my Oxford cup winners, 1st, special, Leicester, 1st, special, Reading, etc.; unflighted yellow and buff cocks, real gems, win anywhere, 21/- to 40/- each; two heavily-marked unflighted yellow cocks, colour producers, 15/- each; extra large buff stock cock, year old, 15/-; approval receipt cash: Lewin, Sec. O.C.B.S., 58, Marlborough-rd., Oxford. (609)

COMPULSORY sale through removal; Norwich cocks, clear yellow, variegated, 15/-; one clear, one var. buff (Silk's) 20/- each; cobby var. buff, 1915, 15/-; hens, clear yell., winner, grown rough tail last moult, big, cobby, invaluable stock hen, 20/-; clear yellow (Granger's), good quality, 12/6; clear buff and capped yellow (Silk's, 1915), 15/- each; var. yellow (Thomas's), large var. buff, 1915, 15/- each; £7 7s. the lot; cash or deposit; selected for own breeding at good prices; five double, one compartment breeders, new last year, 25/-; four show cages, 5/-: Hale, Station House, Aintree, Liverpool. (610)

EDWARD BARRON
Breeder, exhibitor, and judge. Winner of Scottish Plainhead Club, gold medal, and many other trophies, has a select number of birds for disposal:
119, MONTROSE-ST., GLASGOW

High-Class Plainheaded Norwich.
Please state requirements, with stamped envelope, or send for my 1916 free illustrated list of all varieties. All birds on approval.—RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL."
FOR 1916.
The Golden Reference Book for all Bird Keepers
NOW READY.

BETTER THAN EVER THIS YEAR.

The first edition last year was sold out in three weeks, and the first edition this year is nearly all ordered. Last year many were disappointed through waiting. Order quickly or you may be again too late.

In its pages will be found information of value to every bird keeper, and no bird keeper can afford to be without it.

It tells how to breed English Canaries to equal the Germans in song. How to mate Canaries to ensure success on the show bench. How to make a perfect drying cage. How to keep mice out of the Bird-room. And many other things of every-day value.

The price, as usual, is only Sixpence.

GET YOUR COPY TO-DAY

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL; PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

CHAMPION NORWICH PLAINHEADS

Can spare the following champion high-class show and stock birds at prices far below their value. Most of them are through moult and very fit. Clear yellow cock, 1916 bred, large head, stout, large one, price 25/-; splendid variegated yellow cock, 1916 bred, real topper, grand size, good head and substance, extra value at 30/-; massive 1916 bred, clear buff cock, large head, stout, regular bouncer, 30/-; lightly marked 1916 bred buff cock, one of the very best, 30/-; 1916 bred variegated buff cock, grand quality, type, colour, 15/-; 1916 bred, natural coloured, clear buff cock, very large, grand head, stout chest, win in natural colour classes, price 25/-; also 1916 bred clear yellow cock, natural colour, same quality, only 25/-; monster clear buff hen, 1916 bred, grand head, wonderful substance, grand bird, price 21/-; also marked buff hen, big, bold, certain winner, only 15/6; 1916 bred, large clear yellow hen, beauty, dirt cheap, 20/-; several other hens, yellow and buff, from 10/- each; above all, worth over double; good birds are scarce and are very dear this season; send at once before I am sold right out: George Cubley, Claxtons-grove, Long Sutton, Lincs.

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1310)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

1915 Schoolmaster, pure Randall, 25/-: Hill, 58, Joshua-rd., Sheffield. (603)

YOUNG Rollers, on song, 8/6 each: R. Williamson, Devonshire Arms, Fairfield, Buxton. (603)

TWO charming Roller cocks, 5/- each; reliable songsters: Miss Ross, Hazel Cottage, Forres. (611)

BRITISH Rollers, Randall's; details, stamp reply; approval: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (601)

GRAND songsters, 7/6, 10/6 each; ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury.

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

DEEP Glucko and Water Glucke Rollers, B.R.C.C., approval; pairs selected: Earnshaw, 51, Rook-st., Nelson. (607)

FEW hens for disposal, pedigree birds, 5/- each; enquiries invited: Page, 81, Dumbrock, Eltham, London. (611)

EIGHT pure Willows, 1916 cocks, for sale, best offers: Apply, J. Lonsdale, 2, Picturesque-terrace, Manchester-st., Hull. (612)

NOTICE! Grand lot Rollers, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

THREE 1916 Roller cocks, clean moulted, on song, 6/6 each; approval, deposit: Southam, Stationmaster, Abercanaid, Merthyr. (611)

THIRTEEN high-class Rollers, as bred, £2 13s. the lot; 1915 cock and two hens, 25/- the three: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (609)

GENUINE high-class deep Glucke and Water Glucke Roller, schoolmaster, and hen to match, 27/6; B.R.C.C. rung: Ormerod, 5, Flag-st., Bacup.

SCHOOLMASTER, 1915, pure Randall's, club rung, 20/-; others £1 and upwards; first P.O. gets it: F. Owen, 66, Wolverhampton-rd., Cannock. (610)

SELLING class; two pairs of Glucke Rollers, one pair of Yorkshires, 15/- a pair: Thomas Gent, Charles-st., Leabrooks, nr. Alfreton, Derbyshire.

1916 ROLLER cocks, 6/-; hens 2/-; Crested hen, 2/-; pair of breeding Budgerigars, 6/6; all outdoor bred: H. Lomas, 18, Tintern-st., Hanley, Stoke-on-Trent. (609)

HAVING to sell all my Bird's strain of Rollers, I have 12 cocks at 10/6, 12/6; 3 hens 3/- each; some good birds; all B.R.C.C.; offers for lot: Worrell, Church-st., Annfield Plain. (609)

COOPER'S JOHN BULL STRAIN,
of Roller Canaries; recognised by all the leading fanciers as the very best obtainable; cocks in full-rolling song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6 and 12/6 each; hens, same strain, 3/6, 4/6, and 5/6 each; sent any distance; cash with order: Cooper, Roller Canary King, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Rollers! Rollers! Rollers!

Grand singing Roller cocks, full song, pure notes, over moult, at 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, and 10/6; few good schoolmasters at 15/- and 21/-; hens 4/- and 5/- each: hundreds of testimonials from satisfied customers; birds packed safe for any distance; carriage paid and insured, 9d. per bird extra: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

MESSRS. AMBLERS, the old Bradford firm, breeders of biggest champions and winners highest honours possible over 30 years, many championships Crystal Palace, including championship for best Yorkshire last Palace show; few of the best Yorkshires living for sale; exhibition or stock; finest quality and type in existence; pairs 15/- to 60/-; approval; satisfaction guaranteed: 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate.

PAIR Yorks., yellow cock, buff hen, 9/6: Jeffry, 1, Vicarage-rd., Harborne.

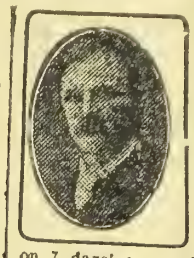
LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

SIX young, as bred, 3 cocks noted; see Rollers; sell 42/-; no cards: Govan, Cardrona, Peebles. (603)

YORKSHIRES, variegated, one cock on song, and two hens, lot 12/6: C. Suggitt, 36, James-st., Hull-rd., York. (609)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

YORKSHIRES. Two cocks, 7/- each; yellow 1916 cock and brass cage, 12/-; full song: 24, Padiham-rd., Burnley. (611)



CHAMPION green Yorkshire, on song, nearly 7in. long, young bird, 15/-, on approval: Williams, 31, Ashfield-rd., Salisbury. (608)

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (550)

NOTICE! Grand lot Yorkshires; many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

PRIZE-BRED Yorkshires; one cock, 8/-; nine hens 36/-, or offers; must clear; husband joined up: Jacomb, "Tabeal," Albany-rd., Chadwell Heath, Essex. (507)

YORKSHIRES. Having won the cup and gold medal 1916, have some grand birds, same strain, reasonable; approval: J. Sheard, 2, Sackville-st., Ravensthorpe, Yorks. (610)

WINNING YORKSHIRES

I have a few splendid Yorkshires now ready for sale, including some grand lengthy birds, clean moulted and ready for benching, at 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/- each upwards, cocks or hens. These birds are capable of winning their cost in prize money, and I am prepared to send on 7 days' approval anywhere at same prices. I have also some grand thick-set Norwich. If requiring birds of any kind please write stating wants.

JOE THOMAS,
AMBLER THORN, HALIFAX.
Established over 35 years at same address.

GOOD 1916 buff cock, 30/-; another, 25/-; several 10/6, 15/-; hens 7/6 upwards; variegated cocks, 10/6 to £3; approval, deposit: Adams, "Maydene," Westend, nr. Southampton. (609)

FOR sale, Yorkshires, 1916, aviary bred, variegated, etc.; good type, through moult, singing hard, 7/6 pair, or cocks 6/-, hens 3/-; 20 for sale: Beasley, Hailey, Guildford. i(603)

SEVERAL smart young Yorkshires now ready, green-marked, cinnamon-marked, clears, nicely colour-fed, cocks 7/- to 12/6, hens 4/- to 6/-; approval: Smith, 9, Ward-st., Skipton, Yorkshire.

YORKSHIRES, winning strain, cocks from 10/-, 12/6, 15/-, upwards; hens 6/- upwards; large stock cocks, 20/- to 30/-; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, nr. Huddersfield.

HAVING selected stock for next year, can offer several lengthy young cocks, buffs and yellows, 10/6 each; hens 5/-; exchange anything useful, or two pairs for gramophone and records: Butler, 209, Second-st., Trafford Park, Manchester. (609)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, now ready, colour-fed to perfection; cocks, on song, 8/6, 10/6 each; hens at 4/-, 5/- upwards; matched pairs for breeding, showing, etc., from 11/6; six days' approval; Norwich same prices: Edwin Nortb, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (594)

EXHIBITION Yorks, 4-pointed marked buff cock, clear yellow typical hen, 1915, 50/- pair; clear buff, upstanding, long cock, smart, clear yellow hen, 1915, 30/- pair; one green hen, 5/-; two buff clear hens, 7/6 each; called up: Crook, 48, Freeman-st., Grimsby. (606)

GREAT COMPULSORY SALE

Yorkshires, some of the best in the Fancy, for show or stock purposes, from 10/- upwards; approval, deposit: T. McLoughlin, Valley-rd., Liversedge, Yorkshire. (610)

NOTICE.
OWING TO WAR SERVICE
S. BINNS, High St., Rawcliffe, has to clear his Yorkshires. I have some of the best Yorkshires in the Fancy. I have bred and sold winners in the keenest competitions at all the Yorkshire Union shows. Winner of Sheffield cup, and Shipley cup, and Spen Valley cup; winner medals, etc. I have green-marked and cinnamon-marked, and clears. Please notice the new address:
S. BINNS, Bootmaker.

HIGH-CLASS YORKSHIRES

COCKS, HENS, OR PAIRS.

Please state requirements with stamped envelope for reply, or send for my free illustrated 1916 list of all varieties.—RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

COLIN BROWN OFFERS

novices the following bargains owing to pressure of business. I will start any novice with a complete outfit, so he can start at once in the fascinating hobby of Canary breeding. My offer is:—Three nearly new double breeders, cost 17/6 each, joiner made, 42 x 12, in rack, loose fronts, sand trays, sliding partition, enamelled blue inside, black outside, nest pan, hanger, special non-splash earthenware bath, seed hopper and drinker, and two pairs of my 1916 youngsters to breed with; many of these youngsters are fit to win on the show bench. They are all bred from my big winners, so they have some of the best points it is possible to have. I will make no rash statements as to what they will win, etc., but will say I have shown seven of this year's birds and they have all been in the cards except one, and these and some more are the birds I am going to put in the cages I am selling. Price complete, £4 10s., cash or deposit. To every genuine fancier who buys a rack I will make him a present of two show cages, so he can show his birds, showing being the life and soul of the hobby. To those starting I can offer some fine youngsters, winners, reasonable, but you must state clearly and fully what you require, to save my time as well as yours. I have still 8 or 9 first-class exhibition birds which are for sale now or later on. It is obvious I can't sell all my cages before I reduce my stock considerably, so there will be some fine birds going cheap if I sell the racks easily, and I have no doubt I shall. So write at once to

COLIN BROWN,
Inglenook, King's Road, Richmond, Surrey.

Various Canaries.

BARGAIN. Grand lot cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton-pl., Castle Douglas.

CANARIES. One cock (yellow), 3 hens (one yellow), 4 for 12/6: Jones, Cranbourne-st., Brighton.

HANDSOME yellow Yorkshire cock, 1916, on song, 8/6; buff cock, 8/6; yellow Norwich cock, 7/6: S. Burch, Woodbridge. (609)

TEN Yorkshire and Yorks.-Norwich cocks, good healthy birds, on song, from 7/6; hens from 3/-: Goldie, 19, Transe-rd., Stoke Newington, London, N.

THREE cock Canaries, 1916, two pure yellow, one marked green, starting singing, make grand songsters, 8/6 each: Mrs. Nock, Longdon Rectory, Wellington, Salop. (608)

MULES—HYBRIDS.

LARGE cock Goldfinch Mule, 10/6; 1916 bred: W. Backlog, Folly-rd., Wymondham. (611)

COCK Goldfinch Mules, 7/- each; Siskin Mule, 7/-; all full song: J. Goodchild, Clare, Suffolk. (613)

WANTED hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/- each, if variegated 1/3: Cobb's Aviaries, Dartford. (608)

GRAND cocks; Goldfinch Mules, moulted and singing, pure Finch notes, 7/-, 8/-: Jones, Vine Cottage, Station-rd., Bagult, Flintshire. (609)

NORWICH hen, two hen Linnet Mules, hen Linnet, house-moulted, cock Greenfinch, perfectly healthy, 5/- lot: Till, 49, Church-st., Hanley. (609)

LARGE Sib-bred cock Canaries, buffs from 10/-, yellows 15/-; Lancashire-Norwich, inbred for many years; approval: Rankine, 167, New-rd., Dunfermline. (612)

TO exhibitors; team of very light Mules for sale, including clear Goldfinch; stamp for particulars; see British: Maddison, 67, Tulloch-st., Newcastle-on-Tyne. (608)

HYBRID breeders, hand-reared cock Bullfinch and young house-moulted hen Chaffinch, 7/- the pair; or exchange two house-moulted Linnets, cocks: Hares, York-square, Richmond, Yorks. (601)

GENUINE Sibs., buff hen, bred three-pointed Mule, 30/-; buff hen, bred four-pointed Mule, 25/-; buff hen, bred six-pointed Mule, 20/-; hens bred variegated, 10/- each; cocks 10/- each: Rowley, Elston, Crediton. (611)

FOR sale, four Goldfinch-Norwich Mules, good birds, singing; trained under first-class Goldfinch, two at 8/6 each, and two exceptionally big birds, 10/- each; Linnet-Norwich Mule, singing, 8/-; variegated Norwich and clear buff Yorkshire hens (one each), 3/- each: Apply, Mr. Little, Schoolmaster, Trawden, Colne, Lancs. (608)

FOREIGN BIRDS.

BUDGERIGARS. Green cocks, 2/6; Yellows, 7/- pair; hen 3/6: Miss Heins, West Dene, Hereford.

LARGE, tame, handsome talking Parrakeet, in new cage, 25/-: Hayter, Naturalist, Southampton.

COCK Ringneck Parrakeet, strong round cage, 20/-: Howarth, Calvert-rd., Attercliffe, Sheffield. (609)

THIS year's aviary-bred Zebra Finches, 12/- pair: Mrs. Gibbous, Boddington Manor, Cheltenham.

BUDGERIGARS; outdoor breeding pairs; Green 5/6; Yellow, 7/6: Church, Grocer, Sudbury, Suffolk.

WANTED pair acclimatised Grey Singing Finches or cock only: Miss Parmenter, Didgemere Hall, Roydon, Essex. (610)

TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (572)

GREENWING Doves, aviary bred, pair 30/-; White Doves, 2/3 each; Ruficauda cock, 15/-: Sprankling, Seath-rd., Taunton. (512)

BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 6/6 pair; yellows, 7/6; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Easthourne. (519)

PAIR Cockatiels, grand condition, 25/- pair, or exchange for Canaries to value: H. Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (612)

BUDGERIGARS, 6/6 pair; Yellows, 7/6; All-green Parrakeets, 12/6; price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (608)

BUDGERIGARS for sale, prize-winning strain, from outdoor aviary; cocks 3/-; approval: John Struth, Bonnybridge, Scotland. (599)

NOTICE! Grand lot Green and Yellow Budgerigars; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

NOTICE! Grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger; price reasonable; easy payment arranged: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

MUST sell, all guaranteed in show condition; pairs, Redfaced Lovebirds, 50/-; Gouldians, 50/-; Diamonds, 30/-; Masked, 22/6: J. Goodchild, Clare, Suffolk. (613)

OUTDOOR aviary-bred Peach-faced Lovebird, in fine adult plumage, 20/-; 3 hen Zebra Finches, 8/- each; 4 cocks, 5/- each: E. Haggie, Boarshill, Oxford. (607)

PAIR Three-coloured Mannikins, exchange two adult breeding hen Budgerigars, or sell 7/-; cock Budgerigar, 3/-: A. L. Baldock, 69, Calais-rd., Burton-on-Trent.

GREY Parrot, African, red tail, genuine, privately imported specimen, acclimatised, talking, seen appointment or stamp reply: Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (613)

BUDGERIGARS. Outdoor bred, strong, healthy, finest possible condition; adult Greens 8/6 pair, young 6/6; two Yellow cocks, 4/6 each: R. Baines, 6, Toronto-st., Lincoln. (609)

ACCLIMATISED from outdoor aviaries; cocks, Crimson-wing, £3; Barnard, £6; Roscilla, 30/-; pair Black-cheek Lovebirds, £2; pair Red-face, 20/-: Hathwood, Dacres-rd., Forest Hill. (606)

HANDSOME double-fronted Amazon Parrot, £2 15s.; African Grey, fluent talker and mimic, tame, £8; Cuban Parrot, good talker and mimic, £3 10s.: 62, Hamilton-rd., Highbury. (605)

SPECIAL price to clear; three pairs of breeding Budgerigars, good colour and size, together with six young on perch, outdoors, accept 5/- the lot; Golden hen pheasant, 5/-: Reynolds, High-st., Stourbridge. (610)

GOOD price given for all kinds of coloured feathers from Foreign birds; also black feathers and scarlet tail feathers from fancy pheasants; send any that you may have: Frederick Wagstaff, The Portway Farm, Alvechurch. (607)

A REAL good talking Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, in large square cage, equal new, 60/- lot; also few pairs, English bred, Californian Quails, 15/- pair; three pairs 42/6; odd hens, 10/- each; approval willingly; cash or deposit: Mrs. Day, 77, Porter-st., Hull. (611)

COCKS. Exhibition Fruitsucker, 50/-; two Plum-headed Parrakeets, 20/- each; Blue-breasted Waxbill, 15/-; Double-banded Sand Grouse, 15/-; pair Malachite Sunbirds, have nested twice, £5; pair aviary-reared Partridges, 15/-; all outdoors and healthy: Dr. Amsler, Eton. (608)

THREE Madagascar Weavers, 15/- each; two Napoleons, 15/- each; one pair Tahu, £1; three young Ruficaudas, £1 each: one hen Olive Finch, 15/-; one Pekin Robin, 15/-; one pair Indigo Buntings, £2; two hen Cockatiels, 10/- each; young; one Port Lincoln Parrakeet, whistles tune, £3; two Paradise Whydahs, 15/- each; one cock Melba £1 10s.; two Nuns, 10/- each; one Yellow-rump Finch, 15/-; one Chestnut-breasted Finch, 15/-; two cock Ruficaudas, £1 each; one cock Painted Quail, £1 10s.; all from outside aviary, in splendid health; thoroughly acclimatised: Mrs. Turner-Turner, Abbey Spring, Beaulieu. (611)

THOUGH they can often be purchased for the modest half-crown. Pekin Nightingales are very beautiful in plumage, have a fine song, and make ideal cage or aviary birds. Some very helpful information on this variety will be found in "Nutshell No. 19," the author of which is Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S. Get it at once, 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. 2d. from our agents (list published frequently).

TALKING AT ONCE!

Hastings, Oct. 3, 1916.—"Parrot arrived safely. Very pleased with same. Commenced talking at once."—M. S. to W. Rudd. I have talking Parrots for sale that have all been household pets; also new and secondhand Parrot cages from 1/- each (one shilling).—RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)

Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

OTTERSPOOL
Public Gardens Collection

Pairs.—Red-headed Amadine Finches, 15/-; Red Avadavats, 12/6; Red-billed Weavers, 10/6; Saffron Finches, 9/6; Giant full-coloured Golden Oriole Weavers, 30/-; Gorgeous Glossy Violet Cow Birds, 25/-; Zebra Doves, £1; Half-collared Senegal Doves, 25/-; Zebra Doves, £1; Half-collared Senegal Doves, £1; Blue-rumped Triangular Spotted Pigeons, 50/-; White-rumped Triangular Spotted Pigeons, 42/-; Australian Crested Pigeons, 35/-; also one only, Vinaceous Dove, 12/6; one only Australian Brush Bronzewing Pigeon, 35/-; cock Californian Quails, 7/6 each; all the above are and have been outdoors for the last 12 months. Pairs.—Full-coloured breeding Pennants, £5; breeding Rosellas, £4; breeding Yellow Budgerigars, 10/6; Green, 8/6; Alexandrine Parrot, £3 10s.; finger-tame Canary-wing Parrakeets, £2 10s.; finger-tame Yellow-fronted Tui Parrakeets, £3; finger-tame All-green Blue-wing Parrakeets, 37/6; also the following odd birds: hen Mullers Parrot, £3; finger-tame Senegal Parrot, £3 10s.; one Red-necked Lorikeet, £3; cock Blossomhead, 15/-; tame Rose Cockatoo, 30/-; finger-tame Bear-eyed, 50/-; Slender Cockatoo, £3 10s.; talking Lemon-crested Cockatoo, £2 10s.; wonderful Salmon-crested Cockatoo, £8 10s.; finger-tame Mealy Amazon Parrot, £3 10s. All the above are thoroughly acclimatised and outdoors. One finger-tame Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, saying a word or two, 37/6; one Festive Amazon, saying a word or two, 37/6; one finger-tame Short-tailed Parrot, probably the only one in captivity, £5; also large stock of Cranes, Bitterns, Geese, Ducks, Rheas, Emus, Kaleeges, Pheasants, Currassows, pet animals, etc.

CROSS,
Otterspool Zoo,
LIVERPOOL.

VARIOUS BIRDS.

FOR sale, Goldfinch-Canary Mules, singing, 5/-; also Canary hens, bred above: Gott, Weetwood, Leeds. (607)

ROLLER cocks, 7/6, Yorks cocks, 7/6; cock Linnets, 1/6; Goldfinches, 3/-; Larks 1/6; Thrushes, 2/6: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

PAIR White Javas, 8/-; pair Saffron Finches, 8/-, or 15/- the lot; also cock Linnets, 1/6 each: Finch, 21, Milton-rd., Old Fletton, Peterborough. (608)

CLEARING; three pairs Norwich, two pairs Borders, three Norwich hens, two hen Bullies; inspection invited; stamp reply: Alex. Barr, Arnloss, Slamannan, Stirlingshire. (612)

SELLING out. Five pairs Norwich, 12/6, 15/-, exhibition birds; dozen Roller hens, 2/6 each; dozen single breeders, 1/6 each; double, 3/-, wire flights, 2/6 each; four pairs adult Budgerigars, 6/- pair: Olliffe, Church Green, Witney, Oxon. (608)

W. BAYLISS, 20, Hamfrith-rd., Stratford, has decided to sell all his birds, including his noted winners; see last week's "Cage Birds." Norwich, Yorkshire, British, 10/- per bird, by taking the lot; unbeaten Greenfinch, unbeaten Chaffinch, worth 40/- each; inspection by appointment only; about 30 birds. (608)

GRAND pair nesting Yellow Budgerigars, 12/6; pair Green, eggs, 7/6; odd cock, 4/6; beautifully spotted H.R. Missel Thrushes, 7/6, 10/-; monster cock Chaffinches, A.M., 3/6, 5/-; cock Canaries, buffs, yellows, greens, clears, 7/6, 10/-: hens 2/6, 3/-; moulted beautifully; coloured cock Robin, 2/-: Weaire, Snodland, Kent. (611)

COCK Thrush and Blackbird, 1/6; few caged 16 months, 5/-; cock Linnets, singing, 1/- and 1/6; few specials, on full song, 2/6 and 3/6; cock Chaffinch, 1/6; Greenfinch, 4d.; extra large, fit for show, 1/- and 1/6; Redpolls, 1/-; large cock Skylarks, 1/6 and 2/-; extra fine birds, coming in song, fit for show, 2/6 and 3/6; Budgies, 10/- pair; Rosebreasted Parrakeet and new cage, 35/- lot; all birds on approval; Flavell and Gengues, The Sunny Aviaries, Top o' Tillige Corn Stores, Selly Oak. (613)

WANTED.

WANTED, Canaries; exchange Goldfinches: E. Ellis, 5, Mount-st., Welshpool. (612)

WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow (586)

COCK Garden Warbler, lovely singer, exhibition specimen, 15/-, bargain: Joshua-rd., Sheffield.

WANTED Canaries, best prices given; send full particulars: Bairstows, Ormskirk-rd., Preston.

WANTED six Border cocks, six hens, offers lot or separately: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (611)

WANTED birds, mice, rats, rabbits, anything alive: B. Onions, 66, Rushall-st., Walsall. (608)

WANTED one pair Violet-eared Waxbills, one hen Parrotfinch: Mrs. Turner-Turner, Abbey Spring, Beaulieu. (609)

BIRDS, dogs, ferrets, rabbits, Parrots, monkeys, etc., cheap, for re-sale: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

WILL buy for cash, any quantity hen Canaries, hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/- each: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (600)

WANTED, a large quantity of Canaries and British, best prices paid: Barnes and Sons, Corn Merchants, Merthyr. (612)

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WILL give 5/6 to 7/6 pair for Norwich or Yorkshires, cash at once: Reynolds, Newham, Sithney, Helston, Cornwall. (607)

WANTED for cash, all kinds British birds and Canaries, also Yorkshire show cages: Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (612)

TWO or three show cages, Norwich, in case, must be in good condition, price to: Wyvill, Bootmaker, 11, Newbro'-st., York. (609)

WANTED all kinds of Canaries, Mules, British, any quantity, best price paid: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (610)

WANTED for export, all classes of Canaries and Mules; best price paid: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Mill-rd., Dewsbury. (610)

WANTED all breeds of Canaries, also British and Foreign birds; send particulars and price to: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (612)

NOTICE! We want Canaries, Parrots, British birds, poultry, rabbits, anything for cash, or exchange cutlery, plate, jewellery, boots, tools: Smith Bros., 40, Pear-st., Sheffield. (611)

WANTED 500 Canaries, all varieties, large or small lots taken; cash sent first; no risk: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED Canaries, Goldfinches, Siskins, and Bullfinches, either sex; state price: Frank Sparks, Bird Dealer, 200, Overgate, Dundee. (515)

WANTED six large 1916 cold-room bred yellow Yorkshire hens, also few good breeders, cheap for cash: F. C., 56, Clifton-rd., Peckham. (608)

WANTED all kinds of Britishers weekly; state price, large or small lots taken; honest dealings: Mrs. Kemp, 34, Tovey-pl., Kentish Town. (609)

WANTED, good large colour-fed Norwich, for cash, good prices paid, will deposit cash; please offer to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.

WANTED Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, also hen Canaries and Mules; state price: Thomas Hughes, Bird Merchant, 63, Saltley-rd., Birmingham. (613)

WANTED good supplies clean trapped rabbits, weekly supplies wanted regularly; correspondence invited: Thompson Bros., Arnan-squ., Dewsbury.

WILL buy for cash, any quantity Goldfinch Mules, Canaries, Bullfinches, Goldfinches, Siskins, either sex; write, stating prices: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (600)

WANTED from reliable catchers, weekly supply of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Siskins; good price given: Apply, Matt Hopkins, 38, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. (609)

WANTED secondhand boots, men's, large 9's; lady's 5's; give Parrot cage, breeding cage, side net, yellow and buff Norwich hens, Redpoll: Cook, Pembridge. (611)

WANTED Crystal Palace, also good Borders; exchange good breeding cages and two Norwich show cages in case, as new: Brailsford, 12, Maple-av., Chorlton cum-Hardy. (608)

WANTED pair outer covers, 28in. x 1½in., wire-edge; will exchange pair variegated Yorks and single breeder, joiner made: P. Smith, Upper Wanboro', nr. Swindon. (610)

WANTED four Scotch, Border Fancy show cages and case; state price; or will exchange pair of Yorks. value 25/-: Furness, 218, Chestnut-st., Ashington, Northumberland. (613)

WANTED, wanted, wanted, wanted—Canaries, Canaries, Canaries; cages; British, etc; best cash prices given; large or small stocks bought: Broadbent, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. (584)

WANTED a few reliable catchers; can offer the best price for Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and other British; cash waiting; hankers' reference: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (608)

WANTED, any quantity of British Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Redpolls, Siskins, Larks, or any saleable birds, from catchers weekly, state prices to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

WANTED! WANTED! WANTED!

Reliable catchers to supply weekly all kinds of British birds, also cock Mules wanted for prompt cash:

SHAWS, 97, ESSEX ROAD, LONDON.

CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

BEST BUYERS IN ENGLAND.

of all varieties of Canaries and Mules for prompt cash, large or small quantities taken. This is genuine.

WRIGHT & SON,
84, HEATH ROAD, NORWICH.

OLD FIRM, £10,000

Wanted, 5,000 pairs Canaries for export; Norwich, Yorkshires, Crests, Crestbreds, Mules, Cinnamons: the best price in England; we are the largest buyers in the world; annual sale 10,000 pairs; we have won over 5,000 money prizes, 100 cups and medals, and other specials: Address 77, Pitt-st., Norwich, and 1, Sclater-st., London. Largest shop in London. (604)

WANTED

all Breeders, Exhibitors, Secretaries, and Dealers to know that we have commenced purchasing all kinds of

CANARIES

for our extensive export orders, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, CRESTS, BORDERS, SCOTCH FANCY, MULES, etc., of all kinds.

Thanking all Secretaries, Breeders, Exhibitors, and Dealers for their assistance in helping us to maintain a good OLD ENGLISH INDUSTRY in past years, as BIRD JUDGES we are still prepared to give the highest value obtainable for birds, knowing their full value. Large or small quantities bought.

J. HOWARD & SONS,

Breeders, Exhibitors and Judges,
1, Sclater Street, and 28, Bethnal Green Road, London, and at 77, Pitt Street, Norwich

Estab. 54 Years.

For past 40 years the largest and most successful Exhibitors and Buyers in the United Kingdom. WINNERS OF over 5,000 PRIZES, CUPS, and MEDALS in OPEN CHAMPION CLASSES. HONEST DEALINGS ONLY.

Bankers: London County and Westminster (Shoreditch Branch, London), and Barclay & Co., Norwich.

WANTED, ANYTHING ALIVE

Birds, animals, beasts, and reptiles, wild or tame, large or small lots; best prices given; England's largest and best buyers: Livestock Emporium, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

CANARIES WANTED.

Will give HIGHEST PRICES for

YORKSHIRES, NORWICH, BORDERS, CRESTS, MULES, Etc., Etc, and

WILL DEPOSIT CASH WITH EDITOR.

For many years I have bought large quantities of Canaries for export, and wishing to maintain my connection, I am now open to purchase large or small lots of any variety. Send price and full particulars. Remember, top prices paid and cash deposited.

H. GLEDHILL,
Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

YORKSHIRE cock and two hens, 12/6, or exchange, offers: Andrew Clark, 71, Windmill-st., Peterhead.

OFFERS in Canaries; exchange real Ayrshire blankets value 25/- pair: Dawson, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow. (602)

EXCHANGE few good Borders, hens, for Peking Bantam hens; yours first: Alan Rea, 27, St. Mary-st., Arbroath. (606)

WANTED offers in Canaries for six purebred 1915 pullets, everlasting layers: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.

BUFF Border cock, last of my waning stock, 10/6, exchange H.R. Thrush or cock Mule: Simmonds, 1, Wilcox-rd., S.W. (616)

CREST cock, Crest hen, Crestbred hen, Bullfinch cock, Chaffinch cock, 20/-; exchange Yorkshires: Alex. Prentice, Newport, Wight. (613)

PAIR good Yorkshires, 9/-; Crest hen, 3/-; splashed Norwich hen, 3/-, or exchange: Blake, 30, Wellington-rd., Wealdstone. (608)

IMMEDIATE clearance; see column Crests; offers exchange; Roller hens, 2/6 each: Shipley, 64, Victoria-rd., Longeaton, Derbyshire. (612)

FINE yellow Norwich hen, Vardy's, hot fed; exchange three songsters, sell 20/-; approval, yours first: Williams, 1, Mary-st., Blaengwynfi, Port Talbot. (611)

DARK orange sable Pomeranian bitch, two years proved breeder, sire, "Token from Mars," exchange Rollers or Yorkshires; offers, or sell 35/-; approval, deposit: Lister Holmes, 74, Laithe-st., Burnley, Lancs. (611)

Mainly British.

PAIR Rollers, rung 1915, for Greenie Mule, songster: R. Outtrim, Limpsfield, Surrey. (611)

WHAT offers in British for 20 pigeons, pair or lot; or ¼-plate camera or massage chain: Broxup, Stock-st., Burnley. (613)

MUST sell, called up; singing Linnet, 2/6; splendid Chaffinch, 2/-; hen Linnet, 6d.: Rutter, Victoria-st., Littleport. (610)

EXCHANGE 1916 cock Goldfinch Mule for good house moulted cock Goldfinch, muler: Evans, 36, Upper High-st., Rhymney. (612)

WILL exchange cage-bred cock Bullfinch, rung, for Norwich cock, offer wanted for parents, bred two nests this year, in cages: B. Southcott, 2, Hereford-st., Bedminster, Bristol. (609)

EXCHANGE twice H.-M. cock Goldfinch and Sib. hen Canary, parents of variegated Mules, for pair of 1916 Norwich Canaries, sell 18/-; yours first: 115, Wilson-st., Gervan, Ayrshire, Scotland. (610)

Mainly Foreign.

COCK Ringneck Parrakeet and strong round wire cage, 20/-: Howarth. (See Foreign.) (609)

SPLENDID talking Parrot, 35/-, with cage; would exchange: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

TALKING Amazon Parrot; exchange male Pekingese puppy or young dog: Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico, London. (613)

GRAND talking Amazon Parrot, says over 20 words, 55/-, with cage: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

SPLENDID White Cockatoo, Lemon Crest, plain talker, very tame, bargain, 25/-; exchange: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Miscellaneous.

CLAPNETS, 10 yards, good condition, complete, 10/-: Lewis, 55, Letitia-st., Middlesbro'. (611)

TWO good glazier's diamonds, sell or exchange Canaries: Butler, Quarter, Staplehurst, Kent. (609)

EXCHANGE good cross Terrier for good Roller cock; yours first: A. Oram, 9, Ashley-pl., S.W. 3/- and buff Yorkshire hen, exchange songster: Jackson, Kershaw-lane, Audenshaw, Manchester.

TWELVE good novels (36 vols.), popular authors, 5/6; exchange birds: H. Smith, 10, Waterloo-st., Hove. (611)

WELL-bred Fox Terrier dog, 10 months, good guard, 12/6; exchange birds: H. Smith, 10, Waterloo-st., Hove. (611)

WANTED, Canaries, exchange new Ayrshire blankets, sell 27/6 pair: Chalmers, 33a, Stevenson-st., Calton, Glasgow. (602)

PULLETS, various breeds, March, April hatched 1915 laying fowls; exchange for birds, etc.: Thistlewaite, 116, Wavertree-rd., Liverpool. (612)

WILL exchange a good tailor-made overcoat or lady's costume to measure for Canaries, fit and style guaranteed: Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage-rd., Harborne.

EXCHANGE four-compartment breeder for Yorks. or Norwich cock offers; pair gold eye-glasses for good hen offers: Malone, 113, High-st., Jarrow. (612)

WHAT offers in Canaries for shocking coil, value £1; also hand camera, value 32/6, F7.7 lens, utensils; approval: Phillips, 137, Hitchin-rd., Luton, Beds. (610)

EXCHANGE leather handbag, 14in. by 7in., almost new, cost 25/-; for breeding cages, double compartments, approval both ways: Shepherd, 136, Granville-st., Grimsby. (610)

SMALL stud long-faced yellow show tumblers, rung, 5/- pair; pair Green Budgerigars, 10/-; exchange watch, cage birds, anything: Lockwood, 4, Townend, Ossett. (609)

GENT'S thick dark grey overcoat, fit medium man, 5ft. 6in., nearly new, 20/-; powerful air gun, perfect, 10/-; exchange good Rollers: 26, Dolyfelin-st., Caerphilly, Glam. (609)

TWO cock Linnet Mules, 7/6 each; one Goldfinch Mule, 8/6; all singing; two ticked buff Yorkshire hens, 3/6 each; bargains; approval willingly: Brown, 11, Crow Nest, Burnley. (610)

EXCHANGE gent's silver watch, cost 50/-, two pairs of Rollers, for Parrot, or bike; sell 50/-: 121, Cannock-rd., Chadmore. (610)

I EXCHANGE household goods, boots, suits, and clothing of all descriptions, for birds, poultry, dogs, pups, or anything alive: Jopson's Exchange Stores, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

THREE Yorkshire hen Canaries, 3/- each; Redpolls, Greenfinches, 6d. each; selected 1/- each; exchange for Budgerigars or offers: A. Foley, 4, Puton-st., New Boulthain, Lincoln. (610)

MONKEY, nice pet, tame, clean in habits, exchange Canaries or anything alive, or sell £3 10s.; bargain, or nearest offer: J. Steele, 169, Railway Approach, Shepherd's Bush, London, W. (610)

SALE or exchange White Pomeranian bitch, good mother and pet, 10/-, or sell; Belgian buck, good stud and colour, 5/-; boots wanted; yours first: George Larmouth, Flint Hill, Dipton, Co. Durham.

THREE young Ferrets, clean, quiet, and healthy, 3/6; also four hen Canaries, Yorkshires, fit for show, exchange the lot for young cock Canaries: Ramsey, Woodcote Lodge, Banstead-rd., Purley, Surrey. (611)

PAIR cock Bullfinches, H.M., 2/6 each; 1916 cock Canaries 6/-, hen 3/-; three 5 months pure White Leghorn cockerels, Cam's and Barron's, 10s., or anything useful: Porter, 8, Devonshire-st., Worksop.

FINE clean thistle seed, 4d. oz., four ozs. 1/-, 3/- lb., postage 2d.; house-moulted Skylark, grand songster, with his large cage, 6/-; approval; or exchange poultry or Bantams: Dolan, Sherwood, Bonnyrigg, Edinburgh. (612)

SEVERAL pairs high-class Norwich, bred from my cup winners, several can win, called up, 15/-, 20/-, 30/- pair or useful exchange, household goods or jewellery preferred: Lambert, 122, Northumberland-st., Norwich. (610)

WHAT offers in Yorkshire Canaries for grand bred Collie bitch, 18 months, good guard, kind with children, never been used, or would sell for £1; approval each way: T. Richards, 20, Hardwick-st., Holmwood, nr. Chesterfield. (610)

WILL exchange a good pair tailor-made trousers, 36 waist, 31 leg, for pair Roller Canaries; also house-moulted Siskin and Thrush for cock Canary, and young vixen cub fox, quiet to handle, 15/-; or exchange Canaries: Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage-rd., Harborne.

LARGE handsome Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, splendid talker, sings, whistles, good mimic, swearing only fault, 50/-; also young Rock Parrot, say few words, only 20/-; will exchange either for Canaries or cock Mules: G. Engram, 54, Gaulton-st., Hull. (611)

PIPE and case with amber and vulcanite mouthpieces, equal new; also field glasses, exchange cinnamon Borders or Rollers, extra good pair Scotch Fancies and Crestbred cocks, exchange for show Crest or C.-B. hens, or model beam engine: J. Osborne, John-st., Sligo. (611)

EXCHANGE boots, clothing, bedding, jewellery, cutlery, etc., and household goods of every description required for birds, Parrots, ferrets, puppies, common poultry, pigeons, bantams, rabbits, cavies, etc., or any other livestock: Manager, Exchange Stores, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

ROLLER Bird Organ, perfect, 35/-, or exchange five young Roller cocks, four British show cages and case, 10/-; drying cage, glass front, 2/6; two British cages, 4/-; three Linnet, 2/-; biscuit box breeding mealworms, 10/-; set boxing gloves, 5/-; table punch ball, 5/-; body ball, 5/-: Smith, 331, Weelsby-st., Grimsby. (610)

EXCHANGE racing pigeons for cock Canaries; red cock, Toft-Baker, 1907, parents cost £9, sire bred by J. L. Baker (Sedgley) from Big Blue and Little Wonder; red hen, pure Toft, bred by J. W. Toft, Esq., from 5228-229. 6228 red cock flown Nantes; his sire 13, flown Bordeaux three times; full pedigree given: G. Miller, 3, Howberry-rd., Thornton Heath, Surrey. (605)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Mice.

DORMICE, 2/6 pair; coloured mice wanted: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London.

WONDERFUL novelty, pair of tame performing mice and combination cage, with revolving wheel, complete lot, 3/-; tame fancy rats, harmless pets, 2/- per pair: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES

BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from LESLIE MARTYN, LTD, CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON. Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d. Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

FOR dogs and puppies of every variety. We buy, sell, or exchange: Princess Kennels, 163, Princess st., Manchester. (610)

PRETTY black and white Pom. male, 12 weeks, good coat, evenly marked, 15/-: Cleaves, George-st., Pontypool, Mon. (609)

TWO game Bull-Airedale dog puppies, seven weeks, 7/6 each; bitch, 6/-; parents tackle anything: Roder, 35, Woolwich-rd., Charlton. (612)

LARGEST selection of healthy dogs and pups in England; no fancy prices; state wants to: Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (611)

Ferrets.

LARGE selection of clean healthy ferrets, guaranteed workers, 5/6 and 6/6 each; sent any distance; ferrets always wanted: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (607)

SPLENDID ferrets, good workers, guaranteed, 5/-, younger 4/-; last year's excellent workers, 6/6; 14 days' approval; cash with order, or deposit with Editor: Thos. Wannop, Short-st., Carlisle. (610)

Pigeons.

TWO pairs exquisite Ice Pigeons, cheap; heavily-feathered feet: Shearer, Newtown, Wales. (609)

THREE blacks, Hammond's, with basket; exchange gramophone: Bernard, 133, Worple-rd., Wimbledon.

PIGEONS, HOMING & FANCY

Pigeon-keepers will find much helpful information in two of our "Nutshell" Booklets, Nos. 7 and 8, which deal with these birds in a manner which will set the fancier on the high road to success. No. 7, "The Homing Pigeon"; No. 8, "The Fancy Pigeon," post free 2½d. each from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London E.C.

Rabbits.

LARGE selection of tame pet rabbits, 2/6, 3/6, and 5/- per pair; surplus stocks purchased: Princess Rabbitry, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Sport,

NOW READY. Nutshell No. 31, "Fishing in River, Lake and Pond." All who take an interest in fishing should not miss this highly-instructive brochure. It treats fully on the various kinds of coarse fish, their habits and haunts, and how to catch them; the angler's outfit, ground baits, hook baits, sizes of fish, specimen fish, etc., etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

RHEUMATISM positively cured; particulars forwarded free; address: Birks (D.E.), "Specialist," 35, Glenhank-place, Belfast. (593)

CRYSTAL Palace aviary, 8/6; large strong flight cage, 10/-; Linnet Mule, 2 hen Canaries, 7/6 lot: Hellier, 62, Bramshott-rd., Southsea. (611)

BABY'S shortening clothes, everything necessary, never used, home-made, 26 articles, 10/6; approval willingly; post free; coat and cape, 5/6: Mrs. Home, 2, Harehills-terr., Leeds. (609)

RABBITS plentiful. Guns, single breechloaders, 40/-, double, 60/-; hammerless, £5 10s.: workmen's watches, 4/6; large catalogue shooting, netting, trapping, 3d.: Clyde, 187e, Hill-st., Glasgow. (611)

GRAMOPHONE, 25-guinea model, beautiful horn-less drawing-room cabinet, inlaid Sheraton, height 4ft., record cupboard enclosed, powerful motor, quantity celebrated records; approval willingly; accept 5½ guineas: 3, Aubert Park, Highbury Park, London, N.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 5s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DON'T FORGET

BARROW-IN-FURNESS

RED CROSS SHOW

NOV. 3 and 4. Specialist judges, Mr. H. W Battye (Canaries), Mr. C. Houlton (British and Mules). Patronage of B.F.C.C. and G.C.A. Classification: 13 Yorks, 13 Norwich, 3 Cinnamons, 22 Borders, 2 Scotch Fancy, 13 British and Mules, 1 Selling, 1 Gift. Specials galore, including £1 1s. for best exhibit. Don't forget to send your exhibits. The champions will not be here. 27 classes; guaranteed full prize money. Entries close October 28. Any entry bearing postmark of Oct. 29 will be accepted by—D. McFarlane, Hon. Sec., 26, Lord Robert Street, Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.

Landore & Plasmarl C.B.S.

ANNUAL SHOW will be held on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1916.

Classes: Nor. 12, Yorks 12, Borders 9, Mules 4, British 10. Specials galore.

Judges: Canaries, Mr. J. Hockings. Hybrids and British, Mr. J. E. Jeffrees.

If not yet received a schedule, please apply to Hy. Fry and Alf. Hitchings, 22, Plasmarl Terrace, Plasmarl, nr. Swansea. Entries definitely close on Monday, October 23, 1916.

SHEFFIELD O.S.

(CHARITY SHOW).

NOVEMBER 3rd and 4th.

A CLASSIFICATION TO SUIT ALL FANCIERS.

Prize money, 10/-, 6/-, 4/-, 2/-. Foreign, 12/-, 8/-, 4/-, 2/.

Judges: W. A. Cowgill, J. C. Barnes, J. Robson, and J. Frostick.

E. C. Job, Wincobank.

Come and see the Scotch Fancy Canaries as they should be, at

NATIONAL DERBY SHOW

in the National Halls, Main St., Gorbals, Glasgow. Our Annual Show of Shows will be held on Saturday, OCT. 14. Don't miss it! (606)

We need your help. Send and visit

ABERTILLERY

Open Show of Cage Birds

This is one of the finest shows held in Wales, and no fancier will regret paying us a visit.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 18.

42 CLASSES.

Judge, Jno. Robson. Entries extended to last post Monday, Oct. 16. Come on fanciers, please. Let's have your entries. All profits for Abertillery Penny Fund.—Newell, 62, Princess St., Abertillery.

LOOK OUT!

Huthwaite C.B. Society

Annual Open Show, OCT. 21, 1916. Headquarters, Shoulder of Mutton Hotel. Good specials.

NEWCASTLE

11th Annual Exhibition will be held in the Town Hall, Saturday, OCT. 21. 46 Classes. Popular judges. Net profits given to Red Cross Funds. Judges: Geo. Dobinson, T. C. Crawhall, T. B. Tomlinson, J. Stanger, R. Tindale. Entries close first post Tuesday, Oct. 17. Schedules ready.—Hon. Sec., F. W. Laidlow, 55, Colston Street, Benwell, Newcastle-on-Tyne.

tN AID OF THE WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

By helping us you may be helping your own Town's Wounded Heroes, as the hospitals contain wounded soldiers from various towns and districts.

Do your Best!

NORTHAMPTON

45th Annual Show. Judge, Mr. C. A. House. 10/-, 5/-, 2/6. Entry 1/6. Wednesday and Thursday, OCT. 25, 26. No cancelling class under 8. Entry fees pooled. Birds 10 classes. Give us a bumping entry; it is for a good cause. Entries close Oct. 18. Schedules ready.—E. H. Woodman, Sec., 7, Lady's Lane, Northampton.

Manchester & Northern Counties O.S.

34th ANNUAL SHOW

OCT. 27th & 28th.

Under the patronage of the L. and L.T.A., the G.C.A., the O.N.P.C.C., the N.P.C., the N.B.F.C.C., and the N.B.B. and M.C.

GOOD CLASSIFICATION AND POPULAR JUDGES.

Schedules now ready.—Apply, J. Green, 4, Johnson Street, Bradford, Manchester. (610)

NORTH YORKS & SOUTH DURHAM

Federation of C.B. Societies. 1st Open Show, NOV. 4, 1916, at West Hartlepool. 55 classes. Judges: T. Wright, J. Simeson, C. Waters. Entries close October 30. Schedules from Show Secs., Watson & Wright, 32, Ashgrove Avenue, West Hartlepool. (606)

BRECHIN

OPEN SHOW.

First in Scotland. NOV. 4. Grand classification. Judges: Norwich, Calderwood; Borders, Clark (Irvine); British, McLean (Larkhall). Schedules from—John Daigety, Sec., 10, River Street, Brechin.

LEICESTER

Hand-in-Hand C.B.S.

17th Annual Open Show, NOV. 4 and 6. Judges: H. W. Battye (Canaries), Chas. Houlton (British). Schedules.—Day and Roberts, 28, Francis Street, Leicester.

DON'T FORGET

HANLEY

Open Show, NOV. 9, 1916. Judge, Mr. W. A. Cowgill. Schedules ready shortly.—Apply, C. Beckett, Sec., 186, High Street, Far Green, Hanley.

DON'T FORGET TO ENTER AT

BLAENAVON

SHOW, NOV. 9th.

41 Classes. 9 Novice Classes. tn aid of Red Cross. Schedules will be sent to last year's exhibitors. Others please apply to—G. Broome, 82, King St., Blaenavon. (610)

THE STOCK BOOK

Simplifies the operations in the Bird-room and makes it possible for everyone, even the veriest novice, to breed his birds as they should be bred. It affords facilities for the recording of the complete pedigree of all your birds; of your experiences during the season; an account of every bird reared. Contains also Pedigree, Breeding, Young Bird and Show Registers of simple and unique character; Cash and Profit and Loss Accounts for the year. Gives valuable hints for times of emergency during the breeding season.

Price 6d., from your Newsagent, or 7d. (postal order), post free, from "CAGE BIRDS," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Cage Birds Annual

They are nearly all gone.

SEVENPENCE EACH, POST FREE,

as long as they last.

Address, The Manager, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 11-12.—Clapham C.B.A.—(T. J. Hose, 5, Wells Crescent, Camberwell.) J.R., J.F.

Oct. 18.—Abertillery C.B.S.—(W. Newell, 62, Princess St.) J.R.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.) H.W.B., E.C., J.G., C.H.

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.) J.R., H.W.B., J.H.P.

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. 22.—Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Dec. 2-4.—Bristol F.A.—(G. H. T. Maggs, 9, Trinity St., Newtown, Bristol.) C.A.H.

Dec. 6-7.—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 7.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Dec. 9.—Gateshead C.B.S.—(W. Curry, 6, Roxburgh Place, Newcastle.) F.L., T.A., D.H., C.W.

Scotland.

Nov. 10-11.—Glasgow C.B.A.—(W. Hutchison, 167, Hospital St.)

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

1917.

Jan. 3-4.—City of Glasgow O.A.—(J. Young, 76, Burn Rd., Rutherglen.).

Wales.

Oct. 28.—Landore, Plasmarl C.B.S.—(H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terr., Plasmarl, Nr. Swansea.) J.H., J.E.J.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(J. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Nov. 29-30.—Cardiff C.B.S.—(E. Thomas, 48, Craddock St.)

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 30,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.
Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 5229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

"CAGE BIRDS" will be sent post free weekly, on the day of publication, at the prepaid rate of 10s. per annum for the United Kingdom, and 13s. annually for foreign countries.

Twitterings.

"I always hand my copy of Cage Birds on to a local fancier who joined up last year in the Flying Corps, and whose wife is interested in his hobby, and keeps the copies for him now that he is in Salonica." Thus writes a Carshalton friend.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING.

"The replies I had to my advt. absolutely swamped me, although it was of high priced birds. This week I am appealing to the novice, and it will be interesting to see if I get the same result. I only wish I had time to write fully to everyone who replied to my advt., as I find it a source of pleasure explaining my birds."—COLIN BROWN (Richmond).

"In enclosing my advertisement of Norwich Plainheads for the first time this season, I trust I may have as good results as I had last season, and I shall be more than satisfied. There were several weeks last March and April when I received hundreds of orders which I had to return, as most of my birds were sold before March. There was one week alone during which I could have sold two hundred pounds worth if I had had them. I wish you, your staff, and CAGE BIRDS the enormous success which you rightly deserve."—GEORGE CUBLEY (Long Sutton).

We are having our annual open show on Dec. 16, writes Mr. B. Gabbitas, sec. Mansfield C.B.S. A well-known London judge will place the cards.

The judges at the forthcoming show of the Landore and Plasmarl C.B.C., Oct. 28, are Mr. John Hocking, the well-known Border exhibitor, and Mr. J. E. Jeffreys for Mules and British.

If Mr. A. Storrar, of Coaltown of Wemyss, who asks for an estimate for printing announcement cards, will please send his address an estimate shall at once be sent as desired.

There will be a meeting in the Victoria Club, Stanley, on Saturday, Oct. 21, at 7, writes Mr. J. Armitage, to see if we can form a show for the district. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

Owing to our late secretary being called to the Army, I have taken over the duties of Secretary to the Brechin C.B.S., writes Mr. J. Dalgety, 10, River Street, Brechin. We are holding our open show on Nov. 4th, and we hope fanciers will give us all the support possible, as we give a good classification.

The Glasgow and District Open Show, writes Mr. E. Barron, Secretary Scottish Plainhead Club, is giving eight classes for unflighted birds, and the Committee of the Scottish Plainhead Club have placed the club's annual show at this fixture. The club is showing along with the general fancy in these classes this year.

Schedules for the annual show of the Eastleigh C.B.S. will be ready shortly, writes Mr. J. Alderslade, 64, Desborough Road, and exhibitors who exhibited last year will receive one. Anyone else requiring a schedule should write for one. I shall be pleased to hear from anyone who would like to guarantee a class or send a small special.

Will members of the Northern British, Mule and Foreign Bird Club please note, asks Mr. W. Curry, sec., that we have given our full patronage to the Newcastle Show on Oct. 21. I earnestly hope members will show as many birds as possible, as all the profits are to be given to the Red Cross funds. By doing this they will let the Northern fanciers who are fighting our battles in foreign countries see that fanciers are doing our bit at home.

At the last meeting, held Oct. 30, of the Coventry Godiva C.B.S., writes Mr. A. Wright, 77, Ransom Road, Coventry, I was elected to the office of hon. sec., which I had temporarily held for some months. Fanciers knowing our late sec., Mr. Green, or those who have had any correspondence with him, will be sorry to hear that he has been forced to resign his office, under orders from a specialist he is attending with his eyes. It is the wish of all our members that his sight will improve under the treatment he is undergoing, and that it will once more become strong.

At the annual open show of the City of Birmingham C.B.S., Dec. 6 and 7, writes Mr. A. C. Shirley, there will be something like 55 classes. No classes will be cancelled or amalgamated, and there will be a good list of specials. The show will be held, as usual, in the Assembly Room at the Crown Hotel, Hill Street, an ideal room, well ventilated without draughts, and well lighted by electricity. The L. and N.W. and Midland stations are just outside the show room, and the G. Western within five minutes' walk, so exhibitors need not fear about rail. Birmingham is on the main line from north, south, east, and west. We had about 700 entries last year, and trust to go one better this year.

Correction in Liverpool Show Schedule.

Exhibitors please note, write Messrs. Green and Metcalfe, that classes 22 and 53 should read "Unflighted hen, any variety."

Free Admission for Wounded Soldiers.

Wounded soldiers will be admitted free to the 11th annual show of the Newcastle C.B.S. in the Town Hall, Newcastle, on Saturday next, Oct. 21.

A Novelty in Fanciers' Evenings.

As will be seen by the announcement in "Club and Society Notices" column this week, a demonstration on the method of determining sex which has been the subject of so many differing views during the past few weeks will be given by Mr. W. R. Bonniwell at the meeting of the Queen's Park C.B.A., at Emmanuel Hall, Harrow Road, on Oct. 19, at 8. It was claimed by Mr. Williams, in a letter published in Cage Birds of August 26, that if a bird be taken in one hand and a needle suspended by a silken thread be held by the other hand so that it hangs in close proximity to a silver coin, then if the bird be a cock the needle will move round the coin, and if it be a hen it will move backward and forward across the coin. When the letter was originally published we headed it "Is there anything in this old story?" and many replies have since been printed. Those interested in the matter have now an opportunity of seeing the idea properly tested, and should attend the meeting mentioned. A very interesting evening seems to be foreshadowed.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

Ashington East End C.B.S.—Oct. 14, East End Social Club, 7. Classification, Judge, and to enrol new members.—Wm. Hall.

Bradford East O.S.—Oct. 17, Park Chapel, Schoolrooms, 8. Arrangements for members show, Nov. 1; report of balance-sheet for show held Oct. 7.—J. Spencer.

British Roller C.C.—Oct. 17, The Cock and Lion, Wigmore Street, London, W., 7.30. Birds present, and the song explained.—J. W. Norris.

Burnley C.B.S.—Oct. 16, 75, Lindsay Street, 7.30.—W. Broxup.

Bolton Woods C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Victoria Hotel, 2.30. Show (members). Judge, Mr. H. Long. Entries Oct. 13, 7 to 9 p.m. Notice unsigned (Ed.)

Barry F. and F.S.—Oct. 14, Headquarters. Committee 7; general 7.30.—H. P. Thomas.

Beamish C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Bird Inn, 6.30. Final meeting and annual show business; members' show Oct. 21.—J. H. Elliot.

Bradford West C.B.A.—Oct. 14, Shoulder of Mutton, 7.30. Most important.—F. P. Terry.

Birkenhead C.F.A.—Oct. 17, Ablett's Café Rooms, Market Street, 8. Preparing birds for exhibition and lecture. Important business before the annual show.—A. E. Lloyd.

Barrow-in-Furness C.B.A.—Oct. 14, City Café, Dalton Road, 7.30. Special business for open show. Special meetings will be held every Saturday at 7.30 up till the show.—D. McFarlane.

Chester-le-St. C.B.A.—Oct. 14, King's Head Hotel, 6.30. Confirmation of schedule and final arrangements for annual show.—R. Ward.

Chopwell C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Workmen's Club Hall, 6.30. Show business, etc. Subs. due.—W. H. Christer.

Clydebank C.B.C.—Oct. 19, 81, Kilbowie Road, 7.45. Arrangements for annual show and other important business.—Wm. Kaye.

Cardiff C.B.S.—Oct. 17, Godfrey's Dining Rooms, Trinity Street, 8. Complete arrangements for open show; receive specials and other important business; subs. due.—E. Thomas.

Coventry Godiva C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Dun Cow Inn, 8. Binley show business.—A. Wright.

Eastleigh C.B.S.—Oct. 16, Sec.'s residence, 8. Final arrangements for annual open show, and election of officers.—J. Alderslade.

East Ardsley.—Oct. 14, Black Swan. Inter-Club show with Wakefield; staging at 3. Judge, Mr. H. J. Chittenden, Manningham.—A. Walton.

Edinburgh C.B.S.—Oct. 17, Carter's Memorial, Hall, Gorgie Road, 8. Table show, 13 classes; 5 Nor, 1 Crest, 5 Bord, 1 A.O.V., 1 Mule; and business connected with annual show.—J. C. Charlton.

Gt. Horton O.S.—Oct. 14, Station Hotel, 7. Stewards, etc., for open show.—A. Hainsworth.

Garston B.B.A.—Oct. 18, Rechabite Hall, Seddon Road, 8. F.M. British night show, 8 classes and washing; exhibition and demonstration by Mr. J. Lloydd; fanciers invited, especially the novice.—R. T. Lonsdale.

Gt. Horton Good Intent O.S.—Oct. 14, Grange Congregational School, All Saints' Road. Members' show. Birds staged 2.30. Judge, Mr. T. Inman, Bradford.—W. Firth.

Highgate and Hampstead C.B.S.—Oct. 16, Spencer Hall, Dartmouth Park Hill, N.W., 8. Judging competition for members. All varieties of Canaries and British. Subs. and specials for annual show welcomed.—F. C. Knight.

Halifax O.S.—Oct. 14, Plummet Line Hotel. Members' show (classification as per syllabus). Birds staged 2.30. Judge, E. Clegg, of Dewsbury. All cock birds; also special members meeting to confirm or otherwise.—Sub-committee report.—J. J. Dunn.

Hetton-le-Hole C.B.S.—Oct. 14, Colliery Hotel, 6.30. Forming classes for annual show and other business.—G. Vipond.

Hartlepools C.B.S.—Oct. 18, St. George's Hall, 7.30. Important—electing stewards for federation show.—Watson and Wright.

London and P.O.S.—Oct. 19, Raglan Hotel, Aldersgate Street, 8. Lecture on Colour Feeding, by Mr. J. W. Ramsden.—G. A. Harris, assistant secretary.

Leicester Hand-in-Hand C.B.S.—Oct. 17, White Swan, 8.30. Schedules ready for open show. Members' specials to be allotted.—Day and Roberts.

Llanelly C.B.S.—Oct. 21, Greyhound Hotel, 7. Business re open show.—Hy. Webster.

Leigh C.B.S.—Oct. 18, Railway Hotel. Washing competition start 7.30. Mr. T. Collier, judge.—R. Charleson.

Manchester and N. Counties O.S.—Oct. 16, Deansgate Hotel, 8. Schedules, etc., for Oct. show, and general business.—F. Wilkinson.

Middlesbrough and Teesside.—Oct. 28, Crown Hotel, 6. Question night. Members note change of date owing to Fed. show at Hartlepool on our usual date.—T. Deans.

North Manchester C.B.S.—Oct. 17, St. Stephen's School, Conran Street, 8. November show business. Subs. due. New members invited.—A. Colley.

Plymouth W.C.O.S.—Oct. 17, Oddfellow's Hall, Morley Street, 8. Important show business.—W. A. Dyer.

Queen's Park C.B.S.—Oct. 19, Emmanuel Hall, Harrow Road, W., 8. Demonstration by Mr. W. R. Bonniwell on "How to Ascertain Sex of Birds," described in Cage Birds of Aug. 26 last. Fanciers and others welcome.—W. R. Beasant.

Stanley Victoria F.F. and C.B.S.—Oct 15, Club Room, 7. Electing stewards for annual members' show.—R. Hutchinson.

Wombwell B.F.A.—Oct. 21, Ship Inn, 2.30. Members' show. Judge, L. Dyson, Skelmanthorpe; birds staged 4. Entries Thursday.—F. Moore.

Wanstead F. and F.S.—Oct. 19. Young stock show 5 to 9. Exhibits staged Wednesday evening 8 to 9 and Thursday 8 till 2.—H. J. Maynard.

Yorkshire C.C. of Scotland.—Oct. 14, Central Halls, Bath Street, Glasgow, 6.30. General meeting; allocation and patronage. Subs. due.—S. F. Wood.

REVIEW OF SCHEDULES.

N. Yorks and S. Durham Federation, St. George's Hall, Park Road, Liverpool. Nov. 4. Judges, G. Simeson, T. Wright, C., Waters. 55 classes: Yorks 11 (6 Nov.), Nor 11 (6 Nov.), Bord. 7 (2 Nov.), Crest 4, A.O.V. 2 (1 Nov.), Mules 2, Brit. 13 (1 Nov.), For 2, Sell 3. Prizes on sliding scale. Fee 1s. 3d. Entries close Oct. 30, to Watson and Wright, 32, Ashgrove Road, W. Hartlepool.

Northamptonshire Good Intent O.S.—Skating Rink, George Hotel, Northampton, Oct. 25, 26. Judge, C. A. House. Ten open classes, Nov. 6, A.O.V. Can. or Mule, Sell., Brit., For. (small). Prizes 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close Oct. 18 to E. H. Woodman, 7, Lady's Lane, Northampton.

Manchester and N. Counties O.S., Caxton Hall, Chapel Street, Salford, Oct. 27, 28. Judges, H. W. Battye, B. Clegg, J. Greaves, C. Houlton. 82 open classes. Lancs., 4; Liz. 6, Yorks. 18 (4 Green, 6 Amat.), Nor. 24 (4 Green, 7 Amat., 4 Cinn), Bord. 12. (2 Amat.), Crest 2. Sell 3, Mules 3, Brit. 7, For. 3. Prizes 10s., 5s., 3s., 2s. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. close Oct. 32 to J. Green, 4, Johnson Street, Bradford, Manchester.

OBITUARY.

MR. GEORGE HOBBS (Northampton).

Many of your Cage Birds readers, writes Mr. F. Cox, will learn with regret of the passing away of George Hobbs on Oct. 2, at the age of 70 years. He was a member of the Northampton Good Intent Society for 41 years without a break, and one of the founders of the Fanciers Club twenty years ago. Hobbs' Blackbirds and Thrushes were the admiration of every fancier at shows they were exhibited at for the splendid condition in which they were shown. Our late friend had been ailing for the last eighteen months, and leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

Mr. John Crabb (of Messrs. Crabb and Finlayson, Brechin) having been called to the Army, all communications should be addressed to John M. Finlayson, 39, High St., Brechin.

The Manchester and Northern Counties O.S., writes Mr. J. Green, hon. sec., 4, Johnson Street, Bradford, Manchester, has been granted the patronage of the Northern Border Fancy C.C., but too late to be printed in schedule.

Late Entries at Clapham Show.

Mr. T. J. Hose sends us a number of envelopes, accompanied by a note as follows:—"I am enclosing herewith a batch of envelopes of entries received to-day, Oct. 9, for our show, which I have reluctantly had to return. Exhibitors seems to forget, or do not know, that there is no post in London on Sunday. The reason I am troubling you with these is that you should see the date of posting."

The earliest postmark on the envelopes received is Oct. 7, which would mean that the entry could not be received until Monday. One is dated Oct. 8, and one was not even posted until Monday, Oct. 9.—Ed. "C.B."

Our Front Page Illustration

On our front page this week we publish the portraits of the two Yorkshire Canaries which won first and second prizes at the Holborn Town Hall Show. The bird on the right of the picture is the buff cock which won first prize for Mr. T. Morgan Phillips, of Llanelly. It had previously to its credit 3 First Prizes, 2 Second Prizes, 1 Third Prize, and several specials. The other bird is the buff cock which won 2nd Prize in the same class. It is owned by Mr. P. Johnston of Stroud Green, the secretary of the Southern Yorkshire C.C., and previously to the Holborn Hall show it had won 1st Prize at the show of the City and Suburban A.C.B., and 1st at Highgate and Hampstead, each time competing as an unflighted against old birds.

The Essentials of Aviculture.

By J. W. N.

(Continued from page 573.)

A Series of comprehensive articles, embracing the proper management of all kinds of birds in captivity, their housing, feeding, general management, and diseases. The breeding of species and of Mules and Hybrids, and finally the birds themselves will all be treated of as the series progresses.

THE talkers among pet birds are usually foreigners, and of large build, but smaller species are represented by the Budgerigar, which in some cases talks as well as an average Parrot. This, however, is rare, and a bird of these accomplishments is valuable.

The question as to which Parrot makes the best talker is very debatable. The African Grey Parrot and the Amazon Parrot seem to be the favourites, the latter usually displaying his powers to greater advantage before strangers.

Very few of these birds are hand-reared, and their training and teaching is of great importance if they are to be confined to a cage and become a pet. There is a wide gulf between the newly imported specimen, whose temper is usually very uncertain, as evidenced by the bleeding fingers of anyone who tends to him carelessly, and whose only accomplishment is screaming, and the tame, docile pet who can be handled with freedom, who takes a pride in conversation, and immediately enters into the life of the house. The pleasure of possessing such a pet is so great that detailed instructions for training may not be out of place, as one sees so many "Pollies" whose education has been only half finished.

How to Tame Parrots.

In a monograph on the Cockatiel Mr. C. P. Arthur has described the procedure where one of these birds is concerned, and the method is so well adapted for Parrots, as I and many others can testify, that I cannot do better than give it briefly now.

The bird should be in a large square cage, with the perch on a level with the door. His first few lessons should take place in the evening, with the gas quite low; in fact, you should just be visible to the bird. Approach the cage very quietly and sit down in front of it, addressing the Parrot by name all the time. Very gently open the cage door and pass the hand slowly into the cage above the bird's head. In the dark he will be unable to discern it, and his whole attention is given over to listening, for the talking must be kept up during the whole of the lesson.

If by any unlucky chance he should become aware of something unusual in his cage, it is probable that he will immediately become wild, and the lesson must be abandoned for that night. All being well, the hand is now above his head, and the forefinger should just rest on it for a second. He will probably start and shake his head, but the hand must be kept rigidly still.

When he has recovered touch the bird's head again, and again keep the hand quite quiet. At first he is very cross, even snapping at some imaginary danger in front, but after a few attempts he will allow his poll to be scratched without any demonstration. This is sufficient for the first lesson, and the following two should be a repetition.

The Dawn of Wisdom.

By this time he will have become quite accustomed to having his head tickled, and will even like it, and in the ensuing lesson, if the light be slightly raised he will become aware of the hand and will associate it with the pleasurable sensations he has been experiencing. Of course, it is possible that he may be greatly alarmed, but he will soon calm down and allow his head to be tickled without further trouble. Withdraw the hand several times towards the cage door and again return it to fondle him.

On the next occasion start the same proceeding with the light low, but gradually increase it until the room is fully illuminated. By this means he loses all fear of the hand, which is the beginning of his education. Do not attempt to put the hand in the cage by daylight until he is thoroughly accustomed to it by gaslight, but when this is accomplished he is ready for the next step.

Open the door, and, just inside, go through the motion of scratching with the forefinger. Before he responds a great deal of patience sometimes has to be exerted, but, if in previous lessons he got to like being fondled, he will soon come and put his head down, waiting for it. Continue this for a few nights, when he will soon come on the finger, or, as I have found better, the cuff of the coat. He is now quite tame, and it is only a question of time before he can be handled with impunity.

When he has reached this stage he must be taught to repeat sentences. Possibly he has said something, or tried to say something, before, as he will have become very accustomed to the sentences the owner has been repeating to him as his education was progressing, and will be in a very receptive mood for any new ones.

On approaching the cage during the day repeat the chosen sentence, but use only one phrase at a time, or he will get horribly confused. At night, with the light low, sit down beside him and spend another 10 or 15 minutes repeating this same sentence, always speaking as if you yourself were reciting a lesson with the bird as the master or mistress. In this way, when proficient, he will appear as if talking to you, and will not have that artificial method of delivery so common amongst badly trained birds.

Birds in an Outdoor Aviary.

After this digression into the method of teaching birds to talk we will get back to the general subject. So far, we have dealt with birds confined to cages, and when we come to the outdoor aviary the same principles of management hold good. The seed hopper must be attended to daily, also the grit tin and drinking fountain. The aviary must have its periodical cleaning, consisting of a fresh coat of distemper to the inside of the shelter shed and the removal of all soiled branches. Gravel and sand must be renewed frequently, and once a year all the earth should be dug up.

The inmates of an aviary require very careful watching, and where there are numerous quarrels the ringleader should be removed. If the aviary be devoted to British birds, it is better to stock it with cocks, unless breeding is contemplated, for in a collection confined to one sex there is more likelihood of peace being maintained. If breeding is contemplated the hens should be turned in first and be quite accustomed to their new quarters before the cocks arrive, or the fight for nests will result in many casualties. This is particularly the the case with Canaries, and if too many fights occur the principal offenders should be removed quickly.

British birds may be put in an outdoor aviary at any time of the year, but for all others the middle of April should be the earliest, and, if a bird is at all delicate or recently imported, a month or six weeks later is soon enough for it to be turned outdoors.

If the aviary is to be used for moulting out birds, these should be placed in it for about a week before the moult starts. They will then have benefited by the change, and have plenty of reserve energy to carry them through this trying time.

With those bird keepers who possess a garden the supply of green food should not prove a difficulty. One corner of the garden should be given up to the growing of those plants and grasses which are favourites with the birds. To only mention a few, dandelion, groundsel, thistle, shepherd's purse, teazle, plantain, and lettuce are all easily cultivated.

The management of birds is a subject which cannot be dealt with exhaustively within reasonable limits, for as the characters of the birds vary so must their treatment, and here only the fringe of the subject has been treated. Experience is the only true guide, but if strict attention is paid to the main principles the novice need have no fear of a gratifying result.

THE DISEASES OF BIRDS.

Birds in their wild state are very seldom acquainted with illness, and if their disability becomes obvious to other birds the law of the survival of the fittest is ruthlessly carried out. This is the reason one so seldom sees a sick bird in a state of nature, and has led to the impression that their health need not be considered to any great extent when confined in cages. This, however, is an error; ailments arise from time to time, some in the course of nature, and some which should be preventible, and these ailments require treatment.

It is surprising how closely some of these diseases simulate those of humans, and therefore how nearly their treatment must correspond to that prescribed for their captors under like conditions. By this, of course, I do not mean that they should be given any tonic or other drug that has been beneficial to the birdkeeper, but that the underlying principles of treatment should correspond.

Illness is unmistakable in the animal world, the general lassitude, lack-lustre eyes, and, in the case of birds, the bunching up of the feathers all tell their tale. Just as in humans these symptoms may be due to errors of feeding, of housing, and in some cases to bacterial infection. It should be the custom of the birdkeeper to examine each of his charges every day, and, if any signs of illness be present, to find out the cause.

THE GREAT, OR SIX-EYE TIT.

A pretty and familiar British bird which can hold its own on the show bench, but which is not very generally kept in captivity, as in company with other birds in an aviary it is of a murderous disposition, and will kill birds bigger than itself.

The excreta is a useful guide to preliminary treatment, which in the majority of cases will effect a cure, but on no account should the underlying causes be lost sight of—too rich and unsuitable food, cage in a dirty condition, stale drinking water in an unwashed receptacle, lack of exercise and of bathing facilities, any of these will soon change a bird full of life and spirit into a miserable bundle of drooping feathers.

A sick bird must always be isolated from the rest, and put in a perfectly clean cage supplied with grit, boiled water, or, better still, distilled water, in a china drinker, and food within easy reach. It should be placed in a quiet spot with a subdued light, and where there is no possible chance of a draught reaching it, otherwise the illness may probably terminate fatally.

All About the Moult.

Before starting a description of the more definite diseases common to bird life I should like here to discuss the moult. This is the annual casting off of old worn out feathers, and the replacing of them by an entirely new plumage. It is accompanied by constitutional symptoms more or less severe, and it is for this reason that I include it in a chapter devoted to diseases of birds.

The normal moult takes place in the later summer months, although partial moults may occur at other times. These, however, do not require any special treatment, and the bird quickly recovers from them. A condition known as the soft moult is directly attributable to such causes as draughts, extremes of temperature, impure air, etc., but even a fright has been known to start it. The principal method of treatment is to correct the debility which is always present.

The first break in the summer weather is the start of the yearly moult, and the bird is then seen to be listless, to have ceased singing, and to look generally ill. The presence of a shed feather, usually that of the tail or wing, should be an easy guide for the birdkeeper to make his diagnosis. The treatment of this condition will depend on a knowledge of the physiological changes taking place, so a short description of these will give a better understanding.

For some time previous to the moult the cells, whose function it is to supply the feather with its natural oil, start to atrophy, and, in time, this process being complete, the feather becomes dry and brittle, "dies," and eventually falls out.

As soon as this happens, another set of cells, to whose activities the new feather is due, proliferate at an enormous rate, and, gradually, as a result, it begins to appear. The pigment or colouring matter of the feathers is due again to certain cells which have the peculiar quality of responding to the action of the sun's rays to such an extent that the depth and richness of the resulting colouring is directly proportional to the degree of this action. This is a very significant fact in considering the treatment.

The formation of new feathers requires a great deal of energy, and so less is available for the carrying on of other functions, with the result that lassitude and other symptoms of illness are always present.

First of all then, we have to deal with a condition of lowered vitality, and, if this is present previous to the moult, which is often the case if the bird has been bred from to any great extent, it will have a very detrimental effect on the reproductive energies of the cells employed in the formation of feathers.

To bring a bird into condition there is no better method than to let it fly loose in an outdoor aviary, and, as it will have the maximum benefit of the sun's rays in such a position, the resulting colouring will be of the best if we allow it to remain there during the moult. It should be remembered, however, always to place the bird in the aviary a weed or two before this comes on, otherwise the feathers may cease to be shed, and a very troublesome condition result.

Feed Well During the Moult.

The food must be very rich in quality, and a few insects given to seed-eaters at this time will be eaten with avidity, and prove a useful stimulant. Seeds rich in oil, such as linseed and hemp, should be liberally supplied, both at the time of the moult and immediately prior to it, as these will put a beautiful gloss on the feathers. To combat any bad effects such a rich diet might bring about, plenty of green food, dandelion and other wild seeds must always have a prominent place.

The Softbills are more difficult to cater for, but no diminution must occur in the amount of insectivorous food provided, and, if the bird has shown a special preference for any one insect, this must be freely given. In addition a little egg food will prove useful, and abundance of green food a necessity.

For cage moulting the accommodation must be as large as possible, and on all fine days the cage should be put outside. Birds with delicate colourings, such as some of our Canaries, seem to be hypersensitive to light, and the plumage is apt to be bleached unless this is toned down by the intervention of some such material as thin muslin placed in front of the cage.

An absolute necessity is a daily bath, preferably of filtered rain water. This ensures the satisfactory shedding of the old feathers and a good growth and condition of the new.

If these directions are carried out, a successful moult will generally take place, but if the bird's condition gives rise to uneasiness, a drop or two of Parrish's Chemical Food in the drinking water and an ever watchful eye to correct constipation will usually bring the bird back to health again.

I will now describe some of the more common diseases of birds, and I should like to remind the reader that all medicines must be given in china dishes.

(To be continued.)

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from "POULTRY WORLD," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. T. J. McMilian, 55, Vernon Street, Belfast.

Canaries with One Wing.

A Soldier Reader Who Has One Five Years Old.

SIR,—As a regular reader of CAGE BIRDS I should like to state that in 1912 I bred a buff variegated Norwich hen with one wing. She was one of the healthiest birds I ever had, and was a perfect breeder and mother. Last year, when I was home on leave, she was still as good as ever.

J. CURRIE,
B.E.F., France.

Prize Cards of the British Roller C.C.

A Complaint of Delay in Sending Out.

SIR,—I have been wondering if the British Roller C.C. have forgot they have not sent any prize cards out yet, as I think it is quite time, and I cannot understand the reason of so much delay; it does not look well for the B.R.C.C., which calls itself the "parent" club. Lots of Wigan Roller fanciers are complainiug of not having got prize cards yet, so I am not the only one that has not got a prize card. I know quite well the secretary, Mr. Norris, is being much occupied on his special police work, and if that is the reason of the delay would it not be better for him to hand over the secretaryship to someone who could give the necessary time to the work? I hope the B.R.C.C. will try to oblige winners at the last open contest with prize cards to put a stop to all complaining.

G. SMITH.

Wigan.

New Secretary for Richmond (Surrey) C.B.S.

The Retiring Sec. Expresses Thanks.

SIR,—It was with deep regret that I was compelled, through business, to place my resignation before the members of the Richmond C.B.S. at our last meeting. It has given me great pleasure to be in an official capacity, as at all times I have found that all true fanciers, rich or poor, give of their best for the sake of their birds and their society.

You may be interested to know that the balance in hand has trebled itself since I took office, and I have no doubt it will continue to increase under the able guidance of Mr. C. Parmiter, 13, Sydney Road, St. Margarets, S.W., who has taken on the secretaryship, and to whom all communications should be addressed.

I also should like to take this opportunity of thanking you for the courtesy you and your staff have extended to me at all times. I know many times my reports to you have been anything but clear, and nearly every time they were late, but not once did you fail me, and members have never been disappointed by not seeing the report of their show or meeting in the correct issue of CAGE BIRDS.

COLIN BROWN.

An Albino Lesser Whitethroat.

Unfortunately Killed by Accident.

SIR,—Apropos of your description of an albino Blackcap, I send you, under separate cover, a pure white Lesser Whitethroat. It is a bird of this season, obtained and kindly forwarded to me by Mr. W. Johnson, 3, St. John's Street, Newton Abbot.

It was knocked down with a cap and unfortunately killed. The Lesser Whitethroat is rare in this neighbourhood (Teignmouth) as a nesting species, and I have not yet seen a pure albino of this species.

W. E. TESCHEMAKER.

[We thank our esteemed correspondent for his kindness in forwarding for inspection the body of this very rare specimen. It is a thousand pities that it was killed in the capture, and it is also to be regretted that the dead bird was not properly set up by a taxidermist, instead of being allowed to "mummify," as has been done. The plumage is entirely snow white, and the feet and claws are pale straw colour. It would have made a valuable acquisition to any museum, or it would have been especially welcome as an additional specimen in the collection of birds belonging to the London and Provincial Ornithological Society which has been for many years one of the attractions of the Crystal Palace Bird Show.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

A Ringed Chaffinch Caught.

SIR,—Mr. W. Leadbetter, of Oglet, near Liverpool, caught in his garden on Sept. 26 a Chaffinch bearing a ring marked "C.H.46 Witherby, High Holborn." I thought it would be of interest to report this to you, and I should be glad if you could let me have any particulars as to when and where the bird was ringed. Oglet is about eight miles east of Liverpool, on the banks of the Mersey.

R. T. LONSDALE.

[We are making enquiries from Messrs. Witherby, and will publish the reply as received.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

New Society for Whickham and District.

SIR,—It has been decided to form a society at Whickham, and the headquarters to be at the Whickham Social Club. We shall be pleased to hear from any fanciers in the district who would like to join, only at present they must be affiliated members. We are holding a show on Dec. 16, open to all affiliated members. The proceeds to go to the Soldiers' Welcome Home Funds. The committee of the Whickham Social Club have granted the free use of the room, and have generously subscribed £5. So I earnestly appeal to all fanciers who are members of clubs for support, so that we can hold the show annually, and at the same time hand over a handsome sum for the benefit of our boys when they return from this cruel war. Schedules will be ready shortly, and all fanciers requiring same please apply to—

R. JOHNSON, Sec.
17, William St., Whickham,
Swalwell, S.O., Co. Durham.

An Improved Roosting Perch.

"Loose Boxes" for Cage Birds.

SIR,—Having tried the following roosting arrangement, where a number of birds are kept together in flight cages, etc., with complete success for several seasons, I thought it might be of interest to your readers, and incidentally add to the comfort and well-being of their feathered pets. I divide the perch up into divisions by cutting some thin wood (three-ply tea-box answers well) into 6-in. squares. Clamp or fix the wood together and drill a ½-in. or ⅝-in. hole through the lot, 2 inches from the front and 1½ inches from the bottom edges, rounding off the bottom outside corner. Then cut your perch the required length, being careful it fits the holes quite tightly, and the divisions will then keep in position without any other fixing. Now slide the divisions on, allowing about five or six inches between each. This allows each bird to have a "loose box" to itself, and it will be very rare to find a bird on any other peroh at night when one of these has been fitted up.

Run a plain perch six or eight inches in front along the whole length, to enable the birds to gain easy access to and from the roosting perch. It is essential to have one or two more divisions than there are birds, as two birds never agree in one division. The perch with the partitions should be fixed on the back of the cage, as close to the top as possible, not more than half an inch away in any case.

Among the advantages of this arrangement will be found: Absence of fighting at roosting time, as each bird will select its own "box," and he would be a very bold bird that attempted to oust out the one in possession; the birds are much more snug and warm when kept out of doors, as all draughts are kept off by the divisions; more room is allowed for flight, as fewer perches are required in and about the cage, this one accommodating the whole lot at night; wild birds steady quicker, as they seem to like the little extra privacy to retire to and consider matters, after which they soon come down and make themselves at home.

It will be found that all birds, young and old, wild and tame, take to the arrangement immediately, and I think your readers would find it well worth the little trouble of fitting up. One word of warning, though; it should not be used in breeding cages when the birds are breeding, as I find the hens take such a fancy to it that they waste a lot of time trying to lodge bits of building material up there, which, of course, fall down, and I have had to remove the perch before they would take to a nest pan.

G. W. E. BROWN.

Do Wild Birds Poison their Young which are Caged?

An Experiment in the Firing Line.

SIR,—Seeing in CAGE BIRDS of August 19 a question was asked whether old birds in freedom poisoned their young which have been caged up for them to rear, I am writing to tell you of a little experience of my own here in the fighting line.

I took from the nest three young Goldfinches, just as they were getting feathered, and made a box cage in which I put in the nest of the birds just as it was taken, hung some water in a tin drinker outside of the cage, put some seed on the cage bottom, and left them to receive such attention as the old birds would give them. At this time I used to visit the young birds once a day only.

My battery having received orders to move up, I had to take the young birds with me, although this was earlier than I intended taking them from their parents' care; but I have had no trouble with them. They are going strong, and are now just getting their colour. A comrade of mine also reared two nests in the same district—one of five and one of four birds, and all these are going on well, three of them having already got a red blaze.

Now I think I will tell you of a curious experience with some Greypates that I was keeping in a cage. One day as we had run out of seed and were much too busy to get any, two of the Finches were let loose. They flew away and fed, and at night returned to their cage. I had got these birds myself less than a month before, and I would not have believed that they would come back if I had not seen them do so with my own eyes.

I may tell you that my wife sends me out my copy of CAGE BIRDS regularly, so that I have it now just the same as if I were at home.

Since I saw the fine picture of the Bramblefinch and Hawfinch on the front page of August 16 issue, I have taken a great fancy to the Bramblefinch, and must have one of these birds when I get back to "Blighty."

My Goldfinches have had many a rough march with me, but none of them is any the worse for it.

HENRY POPLE,
5th Mountain Battery, Salonika.

Keeping the Flag Flying.

Cups for Border Fancy Canaries.

SIR,—I am obliged to Mr. W. Craig for his answer in CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 30. I wrote him immediately I read his letter, stating that if Sheffield Society agreed to alter their schedule to read that full prize money would be given over six instead of eight entries I would guarantee the Border classes. I am fully aware that show committees must safeguard their interests as far as possible, but I think a committee is overstepping the mark in paying full prize money over eight entries. This is particularly applicable to a show like Sheffield in giving classes to the Border Fancy, for there are not enough local fanciers to make the show a success, and they must depend on outside support, in most cases from a long distance, and I know for a fact that fanciers fight shy at a show with a rule as stated. To my mind half prize money has been the ruin of many a good show. Also the judges they engage must be both breeders and exhibitors of the Border Fancy, and make them their special variety, and they should arrange that their show does not clash with any of the leading shows held here in Scotland.

I think I have not asked anything unreasonable in the above, and if Sheffield Society agrees then I will guarantee to see their classes fill. This I do not from any personal point of view, but for the love of the bird I admire, and I know that fanciers will do their best to back me up, and make the show a success, more especially seeing that Dr. Craig has been so generous as to give a cup to the value of cheque sent you. I can assure all that I appreciate it in the spirit in which it is given, and I trust the Society may receive a grand entry to repay them as well as the donor.

I am delighted to see Mr. Craig likes a Border from a show point of view, and trust that after he sees them again he may take the variety up. I have declined to make any arrangement how the cup is to be awarded, as I intend to be an exhibitor myself, and someone may accuse me of making the competition to suit myself. I cannot agree that my suggestion is selfish. I am out to help the interest of the Border Fancy as far as possible, whenever shows are held under the B.F.C.C. rules, and in my first letter I clearly stated so.

J. PATTERSON.

Use Our Notepaper.

The Lot of the Ordinary Singing Canary.

A Suggestion which would Ameliorate It.

SIR,—I have been breeding and selling singing Canaries yearly for the last eight or nine years, and I have tried at all times to improve the lot of the songster Canary, which I think you will agree is invariably (through ignorance of its owner) the most wronged member of the Canary tribe. Most fanciers have received the request, "My bird seems out of sorts; call round and let me know what to do with him." We all know the general cause of the trouble; cage in draught or up against ceiling (probably in the kitchen), cage too small, perches like knitting needles, filthy tin drinkers, no grit, bad seed, etc. Could fanciers not take this matter in hand? In nine cases out of ten the owner errs through ignorance. I mentioned this matter to a brother fancier, who was callous enough to tell me it was "good for trade." This is not so. People get "fed up" losing birds. I have been told that Canaries are delicate, and have been looked at askance when I told of Canaries which I kept in splendid condition out of doors.

I have often intended getting up an attractive little card to present to persons buying Canaries from me, and containing information for their benefit. I wonder if your journal CAGE BIRDS (which I couldn't do without) would think of this suggestion. I send you what I think I would wish to print, and I would like the opinion of other fanciers who might be interested. The cost would not be more than 1d. each, I am sure, and would be worth it.

Hints Concerning "Dickie."

"Dickie," as our feathered pet is usually called, if well cared for, will repay his keep in a delighted song of thanks. The following suggestions to his well-being will be found useful:—

The cage should be well made, without crevices, and as plain as possible. The best size is about 16 ins. by 8 ins. by 14 ins. high. It should be hung in a bright, airy position, free from draughts, and in a room of even temperature.

The perches should be oval shaped, about 9/16 by ¾, two in number, and placed as far apart as will permit of Dickie turning without touching the end of the cage with his tail.

The drinker should be of glass. This is much cleaner than either zinc or tin. Fresh, clean water should be supplied daily.

The seed hopper to hang on outside of cage is preferable to the drawer inside the cage; the latter provides too good a breeding ground for insect pests, as well as being more unclean and wasteful.

Grit is an absolute necessity; it should be strewn on the cage bottom, and it is even a better arrangement to hang a supply inside on the centre bar of cage.

The seed should be large, clean, and free from dust. A good staple diet is that containing three parts canary seed and one part red summer rape.

A bit bit containing equal parts hemp, flax, rape, maw, niger, and gold of pleasure, given, say, twice per week, will be of great benefit.

Sugar and sweets should be avoided, as they are very harmful to the bird. Cuttle fish should be always in the bars of cage.

Green food in season is beneficial. Dandelion, chickweed, and lettuce in spring, summer, and autumn, and sweet apple in winter will help to keep "Dickie" in perfect health.

A little piece of bread soaked in boiling milk (the size of a sugar lump is sufficient) given once per week will be of great benefit.

A bath should be provided twice, or at least once, per week early in the day.

The cages, perches, and utensils should be thoroughly washed and disinfected at least every three months.

Canary breeding is a profitable and delightful hobby; any local fancier will supply you with useful information, and great benefit can be obtained from CAGE BIRDS, a journal devoted entirely to the proper keeping of feathered pets.

I hope you will consider the suggestion worthy of a space in your splendid journal, and that others will let us have their opinions.

T. J. MCMILLAN.

[The suggestion seems to us to be an admirable one, and one that all dealers should be glad to adopt. We should be pleased to arrange for a supply of such cards if the idea commends itself to our readers who are placed similarly to Mr. McMillan.—Editor.]

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

HEALTH & STRENGTH

Deals with all kinds of athletics, including Football Wrestling, Boxing, Weight Lifting, Fencing Running, Ju-Jitsu, Gymnastics of all kinds, Swimming, &c., &c. Gives free advice on all questions of Health, Diet, &c., to all readers. EVERY THURSDAY, 1d. Sold Everywhere. Get a copy to-day, or send for Free Specimen to "Health and Strength," Windsor House, Kingsway, London.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 606.)

Society Proposed for Durham City.

Why Not Arrange a Meeting?

Sir,—In reply to Mr. Gillespie's letter re a society for the Durham district, I think if Mr. Gillespie and the fanciers in the City would arrange for a room and call a meeting for some Saturday night a good strong society could soon be started. Fanciers in the surrounding districts would rally round and join if someone would only set the ball rolling, and I trust to hear of something being done in this direction.

H. Briggs.

Sir,—I read Mr. Robson's letter about a show for our city. I don't think either Mr. Robson or I wishes to start at the top of the ladder. We wanted a Durham man to call a meeting and see if we could arrange a show for the City, for I think it is a grand central place. Mr. Gillespie has read my letter wrongly. I did not suggest an open show; a man can guarantee a class in a members' show as well as in an open one. When I mentioned December 30 for a show date it was because of there being very few big shows on that day. I know there are many fanciers around the district who would like to see a society formed in Durham City.

J. Stanger.

Sir,—Correspondents on the above subject seem to be mistaken as to the idea of Mr. Robson's letter, which I think was to get the feeling of fanciers in the district to see if a society could not be formed for the ancient City of Durham. Whether they run a members' or an open show this year can be left to the meeting to decide if a society should be formed. Now, as I have the authority to speak for a few of the fanciers around here, I can safely say that if Mr. Robson could arrange for a suitable date and place for a meeting, I am sure that a society can be formed and a start made with a decent membership. Of course, as the show season is now upon us, Mr. Robson would have to try and arrange a date when there is no local show, so that it may be convenient for fanciers to attend.

R. Ward,
Sec., Chester-le-St. C.B.S.

Wake Up, Show Committees.

A Suggested Alteration in the Scale of Prizes.

Sir,—I was pleased to see the letter from Mr. Wallace in Cage Birds of Sept. 30. There can be little doubt that there is a great deal of selfishness in most of our champion exhibitors, but if he gives the subject a little more consideration he will find that the exhibitors who are not yet champions are tarred with the same stick. To my mind the fact that so many club shows are confined to members has much to do with keeping away entries from our open shows. Fanciers residing within a radius of some towns that I know can exhibit at a club show every week, or nearly so, and win far more of both money and specials than at open shows. What is more to the point, I have seen fanciers working hard to get specials for their club shows, and when they are asked to do the same for an open show they either find some excuse or fight shy of it altogether; this, to my mind, is far from a way to make the fancy in general a success.

We have only the champion exhibitor in most cases to keep up the open shows; that some of them do so for the sake of what is termed "filthy lucre" no one can deny; indeed, I know that the same has been put down to my own action where I have wished a show to be a success, and have sent the best team and as many of them as I had fit to turn out. That I like to win I won't deny, but at the same time my thoughts often run in the direction of giving the visiting public something for their money, and others I know do so with the same idea.

It is not income alone that can make a fancier turn out his birds to win, or, indeed, make the hobby a success; far more depends on the amount of time, thought, and energy that he puts into his hobby. I have never come across a prominent fancier yet but who spends the most of his leisure time amongst his birds, and although Mr. Wallace is not in a position to keep a large stock, yet if he sticks in, his birds will add to his income.

I have often said that the working man is the backbone of the fancy; without him there would be neither shows nor Committees of management. Indeed I may go further, and say that the Cage Bird Fancy all through is run by working men, and, as Mr. Wallace says, it is high time that we were devising ways and means to make fanciers exhibit.

Take a working man with a small wage, similar to Mr. Wallace. How long can he afford to send birds to shows, pay entrance fees, exorbitant railway charges, etc., and have his birds come home, as the wife of one remarked to me once, with "Condemned Cards." He may do so at one or two shows in the earlier part of the season, but if he gets nothing in return no one can blame him for keeping his birds at home.

My remedy I have many times stated through the pages of Cage Birds, and although many shows have taken the matter up in a proper spirit, yet to my mind they have not gone far enough in the way of reducing the value of the first prize. There is far too much distinction made between the prize money, and what I feel quite sure would bring the shows back to their old level would be to extend the prize money further down the class, say even to the sixth bird. I have found when judging that in a good class there is sometimes scarcely a straw's value between the winners, and when that is so, in fairness to all concerned, there should be as little difference betwen the prize money. If this were to be carried out it would enable all to get a little of their expenses back instead of the few who pocket the lion's share, go their way smiling, and leave their less fortunate brothers to stand the loss.

To illustrate my meaning clearly, I will take a show where prize money is 20s. per class divided into 12s., 8s., 4s., 2s. What I would like would be to award the prize money thus:—7s., 6s., 5s., 4s., 3s., 1s. Perhaps the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe, whom Mr Wallace has coupled with my name, may have a better way to solve the problem. If so I shall be delighted to see it in our valuable paper Cage Birds.

J. Patterson.

The Clashing of Show Dates.

Two Rhondda Valley Shows on the Same Date.

Sir,—I notice in "Twitterings" last week that the Mardy P.P. and C.B.S. intends holding its show on Dec. 14. This is very unfortunate, as the Porth and Rhondda Valleys C.B.S. is running the annual open show on the same date, and as we have completed every arrangement for our show we cannot alter our date. Mr. D. D. Jones, the gen. sec. for Mardy, asks local secs. to note that they intend sticking to their day. Is there not a possibility of preventing this clashing between us? As Mr. Jones well knows, our members patronised the Mardy show in good style last year, and if the two dates clash this year we should not be able to help the show as we should like. If we had not made every arrangement I am sure my Society would be sports enough to alter the date, and if it is possible perhaps Mardy P.P. and C.B.S. will alter its date, and secure a better entry, which is my sincere wish.

A. H. C. Legg,
Assist. Sec. Porth and Rhondda Valleys C.B.S.

The Other End of the String.

Another Believer in the Apparatus.

Sir,—In reference to the correspondence in recent issues of Cage Birds on the subject of determining the sex of birds by means of a needle suspended over a coin as described by Mr. Williams in your issue dated August 26, I may say that I myself laughed at the matter when it was first published, but having been a breeder of Canaries for a great many years, and never before having heard of any such method, I decided I would try the same, and I can assure you I found it to work out exactly as stated by Mr. Williams, not only on birds, but on other animals. If there be a fancier who laughs in ignorance at such a method let him try it on his own children, one of either sex, and I have no doubt he will have cause to be satisfied with the results obtained.

J. W. Sharp.

Tried It; But Not Convinced.

Sir,—In regard to Mr. J. K. Williams' method of sexing birds, out of curiosity I procured a foot length of silk thread, attached a fine needle to the end thereof, held the thread so that the needle just cleared a half-crown piece, and held a bird as close to the needle as possible in my left hand. So far as I could determine, the needle moved about the coin according to the slight movement of my right hand; and I have a suspicion that the breathing of the bird, if the beak is near to the needle, is a second cause of movement either across or round the coin. If your correspondent Mr. Williams will secure the thread on a fixed horizontal bar of wood or metal, permitting the needle to hang as near the coin as possible, keeping the bird's breathing away from the needle, I think he will find that the method in question is of no use whatever in determining the sex of a bird.

Percy Lane.

A Plea for the Scotch Fancy Canary.

Why is it Not More Popular?

Sir,—At a time like this, when one can almost hear the roar of the cannon, the rattle of the machine gun, and the click of the rifle, and when many of our brave soldiers who have gone out to defend the old country have passed over to the great majority, one can hardly gather one's thoughts sufficiently together to express all one would wish, but as I see you are asking for letters on any subject, I am taking the opportunity of endeavouring to put before fanciers claims for the Scotch Fancy Canary for fuller recognition.

The Scotch Fancy is one of the noblest and most beautiful birds of the Canary tribe, and I often wonder why it is it does not make more headway in the Fancy. It is as easy to breed as any other variety, as easy to keep, and easier to get into show condition. No colour food is necessary, and that is a great matter, for it is no easy task for the novice to colour feed show specimens. In the Scotch Fancy there is no trouble of that kind. It is as good a songster as most Canaries, and it is as easily purchased as any of the high-class birds. If you go to a Yorkshire breeder for a pair fit for the show bench you will pay him anything from £5 to £15. For a good pair of Norwich Canaries you will pay even more, and for Crests you will have to pay more still. It cannot therefore be high prices that are keeping the Scotch Fancy back, for I know that a pair of Scotch Fancies bought in Scotland for £3 were good enough to be in the money in every show they were sent to in Ireland. I could tell of many others bought for even less, and these birds have won and have had winners bred from them. At one time I thought that Scotch and Irish Societies did not give the "Bird of Circle" a fair chance in putting it before the novice, but if one looks at the doings of English societies one finds that they give lectures on the breeding and management of Canaries of all varieties, except the Belgian and Scotch Fancy. If it were not for the Scotch shows we would scarcely know there was such a bird as the Scotch Fancy Canary, and that is a very bad state of affairs. If societies would give classes for the Scotch Fancy, and get some of their members to read papers on the breeding and management of this beautiful variety, I believe it would draw many new supporters into the ranks of the breeders of the pride of the "Land of Burns."

A Pleasurable and Profitable Hobby.

The breeding and exhibiting of Canaries is one of the best of hobbies. It not only gives pleasure, but it pays its way, and such a hobby deserves to be supported and encouraged. It is true that a great number start to breed Canaries, not only Scotch Fancies, but of all varieties, and in a season or two will give them up. These are not true fanciers. Years may mellow, but can never quench the fire that smoulders in a true fancier's heart. As I look back for about 20 years I find that nearly all the old school have passed away, and I was greatly struck a few weeks ago when I saw in Cage Birds that Mr. James Ronaldson, of Belfast, had died. If ever there was a true fancier and a good man it was James Ronaldson. He was a keen admirer of the Belgian as well as of the Scotch Fancy, and was always a good supporter of the shows. He was one of the best breeders of the Scotch Fancy in Ulster, and will be greatly missed. His place will be hard to fill, for he was a genuine fancier, a gentleman, and a true Britisher. All his boys are doing their bit for the country, and I hope will be spared to return to their sorrowng mother.

In a short time the show season will be on us again, and that will be the time for the novice to make a start Go to a few shows and meet fanciers there, and learn from their experience. When you make a start, buy young birds, and buy the best you can afford. It is a mistake to begin with weeds, for you can never breed good ones from such birds. I often wonder how it is that men can advertise birds fit to win and to breed winners at from 15s. to 30s. a pair, and these same men will pay as many pounds themselves for a real good one. Why do they not breed from these birds they advertise themselves, instead of selling them for shillings and spending pounds in buying others? I believe this practice has done very great harm in the fancy, for we can often see birds of all the different breeds of Canaries advertised for a few shillings, these birds being only fit for song, and of no value at all for breeding purposes. Anyone who tries to reach the top of the ladder by that road will make a great mistake. Buy good stock and you will breed good ones. They may not be all winners, but you will have a good percentage of winners, and, what is more, you will have the pleasure of breeding your own. It gives a true fancier much more joy to breed a third prize winner than to win a first with a purchased exhibit, and in a short time you will feel your way.

A Bird for the Beginner.

Here there is one more thing to recommend the Scotch Fancy, for it is very easy to know a good one from a bad one, and a beginner can soon judge for himself: It is as hardy as any other breed, quite as prolific, and just as good a "Feeder." In all the other varieties if the breeders have a real good stock of birds they keep also a number of "feeders," and it is not fair to the Scotch fancy to say it is delicate and a bad feeder. Give it a fair field and no favour, and I believe the time will not be far distant when we shall see the Scotch Fancy in the place it should be, that is in the front rank. I hope the breeders of the Scotch Fancy will waken up and properly look after the interests of this noble bird before it is too late.

Seeing that we have such a paper as Cage Birds in which to voice our opinion, we should not be afraid to help one another and so make the Fancy the better for our experience, and if these few rambling notes prove of any value to a novice reader I shall be well repaid for my trouble.

W. McKee Dunlop.

Ballymoney.

A Hybrid Winner in a British Bird Class.

Sir,—Mr. Arthur Cook's explanation of why he placed the Goldfinch-Greenfinch first at Ystradgynlais show seems very limp if not silly. In the first place, he says the prize winner was a direct descendant of true species of British birds. Is he sure the parents were British birds? One or both of such a cross could be foreign. The illustration of a cat having kittens in a herring basket and calling them herrings is very weak. His questions: "Are the Goldfinch and Greenfinch British birds?" he answers himself. He also adds: "Is the product from two such species a British one?" He seemingly does not know, for he does not answer. As for his remarks about Redpolls being judged in ten minutes, I think he meant looked over. His letter is a very easy way of getting out of the difficulty, bnt not quite satisfactory. Briar Bush.

What of Its Parents?

Sir,—I am surprised that Mr. Arthur Cook, the judge at Ystradgynlais show, has come out with his theory of a hybrid being a British bird. Whether Mr. Cook has a great experience of judging or not, I do not know, but I do hope that no judge in future, including Mr. Cook, will do such a monstrous thing as award a prize to a Goldie-Greenie, or any other hybrid in a class entirely meant for whole British birds.

We may argue until Doomsday that the bird is entirely British. It is emphatically not "entirely" British, and it is quite possible that the Goldie may be a Spanish, Russian, or Siberian, and the Greenie also may be continental. The crux of the whole thing lies here, viz., half a Goldfinch and half a Greenfinch will not make one whole species in combination. They are still, although united, half and half. A whole British will produce its like; a half and half combination will produce nothing—being sterile. Further, I do not know of any British standard for judging combined qualities, and therefore fail to understand upon what basis Mr. Cook judged the bird in a British class. Mr. Cook states that the points which require clearing are these. Is the Goldfinch a British bird? It is not necessarily so, and the same applies to the Greenfinch. Secondly, is the product from two species a British one? No, it is "a British two," and cannot of necessity make one whole. They cannot be judged except under hybrid standards. J. Kershaw.

Not a British Wild Bird.

Sir,—I have read with interest and astonishment Mr. A. Cook's explanation respecting his placing a Goldie-Greenfinch Hybrid first in a British class at Ystradgynlais Show; his outside illustrations are more or less ridiculous, and it is not my intention to argue upon them. Certainly he is correct in stating that such a Hybrid is bred from two British birds, and may therefore be termed "British," or, better still, "British bred," but this does not make it a "British wild bird," as is meant by the term. Surely Mr. Cook, who states he has had so many years' experience, must know that the general character of any Hybrids shows a happy blending of the parents from which they are bred, both in colour and shape. Apart from this, how is Mr. Cook or any other person to tell whether a Siberian Goldie is not one of the parents, unless he actually knows? This in itself should debar it from competing in an A.O.V. British class, and such a Hybrid or any other

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 607.)

British bird Hybrid would not be recognised as a British bird by any experienced judge or the British Bird and Mule Club.

I respectfully ask Mr. Cook the following question: Supposing he was judging an all-England show, and the exhibitor who owns the Goldie-Greenfinch Hybrid in question entered his bird in the A.O.V. British class, while another exhibitor entered a like cross in the Hybrid class (between two British birds), which would be wrong class?

In conclusion, it is a lame excuse for Mr. Cook to compare the Goldie-Greenie Hybrid with the perky little Redpoll. He states that this Hybrid is hard to produce; my experience proves otherwise; it is the most common of Hybrids, and stands little chance on the show bench unless it be quite an outstanding specimen. A tip top winning Redpoll is equally as valuable as the Goldie-Greenie Hybrid from an exhibition standpoint.

James A. Tonks.

One Who Agrees with the Judge.

Sir,—I have followed this controversy since it was initiated by Mr. Jeffreys, of Swansea, in Cage Birds for Sept. 16, and taken up by your able correspondent Mr. Castree, who invited Mr. A. Cook, the judge at the Ystradgynlais show, to explain his decision. Both these gentlemen have now had the pleasure of reading the judge's explanation, as Mr. Cook has given his reasons in a concise form. It may be news to your readers that the same bird took 4th prize in a similar class at the Carn Aynfill show on Oct. 5, under Mr. W. C. Foote, of Doncaster, and the exhibitor of the bird also took 1st and special with his Goldfinch. I am one of your readers entirely in accord with the explanation given by the judge, for I fail to see how we can get away from the fact that a Hybrid is a British bird, although house reared. It is the product of two distinct British birds caught in their wild state. These parents were transferred into captivity in the early part of the present year, and the exhibitor must be a very keen and adept fancier to get the cross so shortly after bringing the birds from their wild state into a different environment. Until I am, as a reader of your valuable paper, convinced from a very eminent authority on the subject I shall maintain that a Hybrid is eligible to compete in a class for British birds of any variety in an open show.

Sam D. Davies.

What a Celebrated Exhibitor of Hybrids Thinks.

Sir,—I have read with interest Mr. Cook's reply to Mr. Jeffreys re the Hybrid winning in a British bird class. Mr. Cook says, "May I ask what are British birds?" As one who is an exhibitor of both British and Hybrids, I should never dream of entering one of our Hybrids in a British bird class, simply because I should get wrong classed, and I should have received my proper treatment in such case. Mr. Cook may try to prove his case with his illustration as to the bird being British from both the parents, Greenfinch and Goldfinch, but in the name of the fancy his decision was wrong; the bird should have been wrong classed. The word Hybrid means a cross between two parents of different species, and they can be either British or foreign. The word Mule is often used, and this is understood as a cross between a British bird and a Canary, but it is an acknowledged fact that these birds are not eligible to compete in an "any variety British bird" class; they must compete in classes that are provided for them. Mr. Cook says that the point which requires clearing is whether the Goldfinch is a British bird. There are both British and foreign, and I don't know but the Goldfinch might have been foreign in this young Hybrid. I quite agree that such a bird as that obtained from the Goldfinch and Greenfinch cross is difficult to breed, and the owner has had something to do, but a judge is not justified at awarding it 1st in an A.O.V. British bird class. Mr. Jeffreys asked for the opinion of some other exhibitor. I give my opinion openly, and if Hybrids were allowed to compete along with British birds then our exhibitions would soon shut up.

I do not know Mr. Cook, but I reply with all good feeling, and in conclusion say, "Let's fratch and agree." Mr. Jeffreys was certainly justified in wanting an explanation. Mr. Cook's answer is interesting, but he is far away from the point when he says that the Hybrid referred to has a right to compete with the Redpoll which Mr. Jeffreys entered. It makes not an atom of difference whether a Redpoll can be caught, tamed, trained, and judged in ten minutes or sooner. It was in its proper class, and the Hybrid was not.

Fred Archer.

"Bullies" of more than one kind.

Sir,—I notice from the correspondence columns of Cage Birds that Mr. Jeffreys is anxious for an explanation, and so would any other man be as a fancier. No doubt the judge would have wanted one if he had been so unfortunate as to drop into the same trouble with a bird of his own. I also notice that Mr. Cook, in giving his reason for placing the Hybrid first, mentions a cat having kittens in a herring basket. I thought at first that he was referring to the basket being the father of the kittens. Mr. Cook's explanation, in my opinion, is as much wanting as his judgment in placing the bird in the cards. If we are going to place Hybrids in British classes where shall we stop? We shall have Greenie-Bullies, Redpoll-Bullies, and all other sorts of Bullies, and we should get well bullied ourselves after judging is over, and serve us right if we give prizes to Hybrids in British classes. The bird in question is not a true British bird, it is a cross-bred.

A. W. S. P.

How to Avoid Misunderstanding.

Sir,—I think societies themselves are somewhat to blame in wording their schedules ambignously. "A.O.V." means Any Other Variety. There are varieties in British birds; for instance, there are Cheveril Goldfinches, White Blackbirds, etc., but the heading of such classes should be A.O.S., meaning Any Other Species. "Variety" is quite all right in the Canary classes, but the word is wrongly applied to British and Foreign birds. A "Variety" Goldfinch or a "Variety" Blackbird would have no chance with a judge who knew his business.

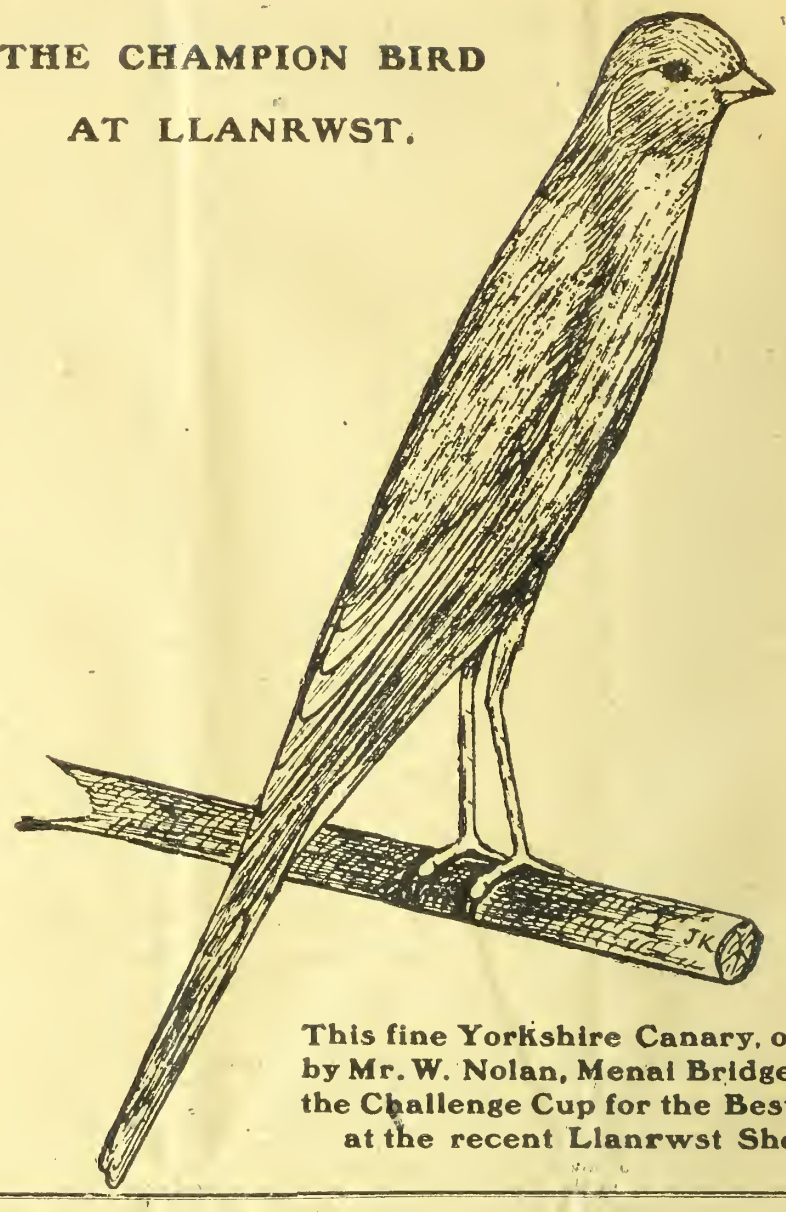
The proper heading, "Any Other Species," has been for some years adopted by some of the leading societies, but secretaries generally seem not to notice anything outside of their own society, and so we still see "A.O.V. British Bird," which is an old-time absurdity.

If the class were properly headed "Any Other Species" there could be no possibility of a mistake, for it is scarcely to be imagined that any judge would recognise a Hybrid as being a Species. The difference may seem unimportant beforehand, but when a wrong has been done in awarding a prize to a cross-bred under the idea that it is a "variety" of British bird because both of its parents were British it is too late to repair the mischief. The decision of the judge is final, even if wrong. In this particular case the judge makes his position worse by saying that he took into consideration the trouble of breeding the Hybrid. British birds are not bred for exhibition, as are Canaries and Hybrids; they are caught in the fields.

Forward.

IN-BREEDING:

WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT IT DOES.



A Treatise of the Greatest Interest to all Breeders of Live Stock.

BY

C. A. HOUSE.

Price tenpence, post free, from The Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

THE CHAMPION BIRD AT LLANRWST.

This fine Yorkshire Canary, owned by Mr. W. Nolan, Menai Bridge, won the Challenge Cup for the Best Bird at the recent Llanrwst Show.

The Pros and Cons of Inbreeding

How to Learn by the Experience of Others.

Sir,—I have followed the articles on "Inbreeding" with a very keen enthusiasm, and appreciate much that has been written by some of the writers who have practised it with undoubted success. I had no intention of entering the lists as an advocate for or against, as my time at present is very fully occupied, and I can ill-afford to take on a correspondence that would make a call on me that I might not be able to make good. My reason for writing now is to enlighten anyone who is endeavouring to commence in-breeding and to encourage him by relating an experience of in-breeding.

More than 150 years ago, on a farm, in a mountainous district, where a very select stock of sheep were bred, the farmer decided that he would require to do something to improve the weight of his stock, as he found that when he sent them to the markets in the south his beasts did not fetch the prices of the average lowland sheep—these were bulkier, bigger in bone, carrying more flesh.

The difficulty that presented itself to him seemed insurmountable, but, being a careful, thoughtful man, he decided to experiment with a certain proportion of his stock. I may explain that his stock were of a particular variety called black faced, and he wished to keep them so. He could not get a bigger black-faced sheep to improve his own, as at the time he had the best black-faced beasts to be had.

He purchased from the lowlands several large rams of a variety noted for their size of bone and general fleshiness. These he crossed into his stock, and found after a year's breeding that he had improved size, but in many cases he had lost the general characteristics of his original pure stock—the black-faces had disappeared, and a sort of mongrel had sprung up.

Loath to lose what he had attained, he paired back the largest of the cross-breds to their mothers, and in the second generation he got most of his original stock's character back, plus a bit of size.

After years of very careful breeding and inbreeding he ultimately raised the bulk of his stock to good average lowland-sheep size, and now that farm still retains the original characteristics of a race of sheep having black faces, yet much larger than neighbouring sheep not thus experimented on. The old farmer has gone years ago, but his descendants are still there, and still practise outcrossing and in-breeding to keep what they have, and to improve with the times.

To go fully into this subject one would require to explain very many things, but, from knowledge acquired from the records of this farm, I gathered that all the in-breeding from the first crosses was gone about in the following way. On first introducing a stranger, care was taken that the females selected for use were typical of the general stock. From the progenny, as size was the ultimate desire, the largest males and the largest females were selected. These large males were paired back either to their mothers or to some other female nearly related to the mother. The large females were seldom used, but when used they were paired back either to their mother's father or to a brother of their mother.

All this careful handling was to assure the maximum size at second asking with the minimum loss of the general characteristics of the sheep. After the second year only those males and females showing size, and retaining black faces, were used to go back to the flock for general breeding purposes.

A sheep farm, of course, lends itself to such an experiment owing to the large numbers dealt with, but many may ask what sheep have to do with birds. I can only answer by stating that most authorities agree that we may infer from certain experiments, in a direction which yields certain results, that a similar experiment on a different species may reasonably be expected to yield quite the same variations. It has been my own experience in breeding on the above lines, aiming for size, and at the same time endeavouring to retain the salient features of the variety I handle, that the experience of the sheep farmer may be used and studied with profit.

I ask "Thistle," of last week to study the above. Anything can be bred out, just as most things can be bred in, and the quickest and surest way to that end is to have control of what you are endeavouring to fashion. Will any one of the many writers who do not believe in in-breeding tell me that, should a misfortune overtake their stock, so that they should lose all of them, they could look round about among strange birds from a variety of districts and pick up a stock to go on again as if nothing had happened?

I thank Mr. House and many others who have written for the food for reflection which they have supplied, and I trust the correspondence will proceed without gathering the fungus of mud-slinging which is a blemish that good breeding should eliminate.

Hippocrates.

The Amende Honourable.

Sir,—I have to thank Mr. House for the very nice way he refers to my gardening pursuits. I can assure him that I shall not be offended at him saying I have dabbled in gardens. I rather like the term. I have dabbled in gardening, and to some purpose, as he says, and the world holds the proofs. I was not writing of fantails or any other pigeon, however; my letters refer to Canary breeding. Mr. House mentions the name of a fancier for whom I have the greatest respect, and if he can furnish me with the proof asked for I shall be quite satisfied. I have no wish to damage Mr. House's reputation as a writer. I have placed him top hole a long time ago.

There is one thing I regret on reading my letter in print, and this is the abrupt manner I asked for proof. It was rough, and I am sorry. My answer to Mr. Gordon Stewart and Mr. Crawhall must be "where ignorance is bliss it is folly to be wise." I have read the letter from our friend Mr. Fox, and should like to ask him how far he has gone in in-breeding, and the winners he has produced from its use. I am sure our old friend Vardy is a sticker for pedigree breeding; so am I, but there is a difference between pedigree breeding and persistent in-breeding.

J. Bastock.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

BLACKSTART OR BLACK REDSTART.

A Reply to the Letter by Mr. H. D. Astley which appeared in CAGE BIRDS of Sept. 30th.

By W. E. TESCHEMAKER.

THREE weeks' residence in a remote corner of the country has prevented me from keeping in touch with avicultural happenings, and, though our excellent Editor had the kind intention of sending me a copy of CAGE BIRDS containing Mr. Astley's letter, a copy of the preceding week was sent instead by mistake, and by the same post there came a mysterious injunction to answer the letter with great care.

Never having previously known our Editor to show any anxiety as to the nature of the many and various comments which I have inflicted on his long-suffering readers, I sought in vain for an explanation of his enigmatic words until my return to civilisation a few days since, when I obtained a copy containing Mr. Astley's letter, and the mystery was explained.

If I were to say what I really think of Mr. Astley's suggestion that the real cause of my letters was that I envied him his house, it would not make for peace. Surely we have never had anything quite like this in CAGE BIRDS before! However, I will treat the suggestion in the lighter vein,, and merely say that I envy no one a moated house, if only because I imagine that it would be dreadfully damp. For the great majority of your readers I feel sure that this statement will suffice. If there remain any who are still unconvinced, I may add that I myself own a large country house, and am very thankful to have found a wealthy man who is prepared to pay me a moderate rental and to face the great expense of maintaining it.

My "little grey home in the west" is a most modest tenement, and suits my ambitions much better. As I have never published photographs of my country-house in the "Avicultural Magazine," or elsewhere, of course Mr. Astley would know nothing about it.

Mr. Astley sees nothing to boast of in the career of a schoolmaster, and he will find that every member of that underpaid and overworked profession will most cordially agree with him. My suggestion was simply that, if any aviculturist desired to show his superior knowledge of literature, or of the classics, it might be wiser not to select a schoolmaster—even an ex-schoolmaster—as the victim.

There were a number of points in my former letter, one of which I was careful to describe as important, but I notice that Mr. Astley has decided to "smile at" these and to offer battle on the propriety of the specific name titys. If he had tried to answer the aforesaid comments, and had contented himself with "smiling at" my remarks on the word titys, I think it would have been better, but that, of course, is his affair.

We are told that titys is titis, but Titis is merely one of many guesses as to what Linnaeus was really thinking of when he wrote titys, and not a very probable one; it seems unlikely that Linnaeus would have had any knowledge of this obscure Greek word, found only (according to Liddell and Scott) in Photius.

Hemprich, Ehrenberg, and Von Henglin guessed that he meant to write tites, and Mr. J. E. Harting guessed tithos. At this distance of time it is impossible to say with certainty what Linnaeus should have written, and the only definite statement, which can now be made, is that titys is incorrect in itself, and doubly incorrect, in view of the fact that Linnaeus did not apply this specific title to the Blackstart, just in the same way as he did not apply the well known Daulias luscinia to the Nightingale, but to the Sprosser. This is not to say that those of us who do not seek to be meticulously accurate cannot use the name; but Mr. Astley cannot use it.

The whole of the above facts, and many others, also the popular names of the species in several languages, may be found in my article on the Black Redstart in the "Avicultural Magazine," so Mr. Astley need not have wasted ink in informing me as to the meaning of titis.

I will not waste more words about this matter because it is fairly obvious that Mr. Astley has looked up the subject and discovered that he is in the wrong. He is merely trifling with us. For instance, he tells us "Even Hartert writes of the time-honoured name titys. Yes, and this is what Hartert wrote: "The time-honoured name," titys, is erroneously used for the Black Redstart!"

We now come to the popular name Blackstart. Evidently Mr. Astley realises that he is in another difficult position. Either he must say that Morris did not write a standard work, and did not know what he was writing about, or else he must admit that, according to his own standard, Blackstart is a recognised popular name which I was fully justified in using. His solution of the difficulty is to inform us that "Morris entitles the bird (in addition to Blackstart) Black Redstart and Black Redtail!"

As most of your readers are aware, Morris added to all his articles, a glossary of synonyms—French names, Italian names, and quaint names, used by the old country-folk. There, and there alone, will you find the name Black Redstart! As I said in my former letter and now repeat, Morris headed his article with the title Blackstart, and used that name throughout his article.

Mr. Astley is evidently much annoyed both with the late lamented Morris and myself, and he makes an unpleasant remark about each of us. "Morris," he tells us, "evidently did not know the meaning of tithys, and Mr. Teschemaker, having apparently trusted to him, is also ignorant of it." The Rev. Orpen Morris is no longer here to speak for himself, but I think that I can clear his reputation. The reason why he could not translate tithys is that, as stated in my former letter, and as I now repeat, it "is neither Greek nor Latin, nor has it any meaning whatsoever." As to the ignorance of Mr. Teschemaker, fortunately he can look after himself; if not, the editors would have put the extinguisher on him long since.

Mr. Astley cites a number of distinguished people who have used the name Black Redstart, including Miss E. Turner. When next I meet this clever lady-photographer, I must tell her that she is now a recognised authority on nomenclature, and I know that she will be much amused. I have, however, never found fault with this name, I have simply claimed (and proved) that Blackstart is a recognised, popular name, and that I had therefore, a perfect right to use it in the "Avicultural Magazine," without any discourteous comments by the Editor of the magazine.

We have heard a great deal about personal matters (which I simply used as a peg on which to hang my protest), but next to nothing about the principles in defence of which my protest was launched. I am not tilting at wealthy aviculturists; the more of the latter that we can induce to join our hobby the better for our hobby. (Consider what Sir William Ingram and the Marquis of Tavistock have done for aviculture.) But we want them to talk to us about aviculture, not about their houses. The community which we call the "Bird-world" is a republic, and its best feature should be that the humblest and poorest of its citizens can take the highest rank in our little republic. Let us preserve that feature.

In my oft repeated attempts to dissuade aviculturists from the importation of species which cannot long survive in our uncertain climate, I have had in mind not only the interests of these unfortunate little birds, but also the interests of aviculturists themselves. The craze for collecting "rarities" may suit the wealthy, but I know of at least two instances of aviculturists of moderate means who have been brought to the verge of ruin thereby.

Mr. Astley's accusation that I have "fostered rancour" against him refutes itself. I could have voiced my grievance at any time in the "Avicultural Magazine" had I wished, but, having twice refused the editorship of that publication, I did not wish to put difficulties in Mr. Astley's way, or to ruffle the still waters of the Avicultural Society. I gave him three and a half years in which to acquire more tact as an editor, and more wisdom as an aviculturist, and even then, it was only when he repeated his protest in CAGE BIRDS that I asked him to explain why he addressed such remarks to a fellow member of the society.

Let us have a simple test as to which of us has "fostered rancour." I will make Mr. Astley an offer. If he will write another article for CAGE BIRDS, I will with pleasure write something for the magazine. Of course, the balance of obligation would be greatly in favour of CAGE BIRDS, but this is the best that I can do to show that I am, and always have been, ready to meet him half way.

[It happens very curiously that Mr. Astley has anticipated the suggestion of Mr. Teschemaker, and an article from his pen appears on this page.—Editor, CAGE BIRDS.]

SOME OF MY BIRDS

AND HOW THEY ARE TENDED.

By HUBERT D. ASTLEY, M.A., F.Z.S., etc.

The Editor of the Avicultural Magazine gives readers of CAGE BIRDS some practical hints on bird-keeping in telling how his own birds are kept and tended.

I HAVE all sorts of birds, because I find it difficult to specialise; but whatever species the bird may be, I try my best to see that it has the food it likes, and that its aviary or cage is kept scrupulously clean.

There are many people who do not seem to understand what real cleanliness and tidiness mean, for one sees bird fanciers, quite evidently very fond of their birds, keeping them with unwashen perches, dirty drinking water, and the sand drawer deep in husks of seed and droppings, whilst it may be that a sprig of groundsel or chickweed hangs between the bars in a withered condition, showing very plainly that it was not placed there even yesterday.

The Importance of Clean Water.

My cages have the drawers cleaned every morning, the food vessels in the case of insectivorous birds scalded, and a bath fixed to the door is filled with fresh water. Neither is it sufficient simply to give fresh water, for the drinking vessel and the bath must be wiped, so that no slime is allowed to form, or the result will be an accumulation of bacteria of some sort, and this ultimately means disease.

Then from time to time it is advisable to remove the bird, or birds, and thoroughly scrub the cage, using some disinfectant, such as Jeyes Fluid, in the water. Birds' feet, too, should be seen to, and if encrusted with any dirt, they should be carefully washed in tepid or warm water, and if at all sore, a little Zam Buk can be gently rubbed on.

For perches, natural ones are good, taking care that they are neither too stout nor too fine for the bird's feet. People who live in towns can generally obtain a bundle of such perches from someone in the country, and when they become worn or too dried up, fresh ones can be substituted.

For the bird's bath and drink rain water is really best, provided it is clean and fresh. Sometimes I even put my birds that are in cages out in the rain, removing the sand drawer, and afterwards wiping the cage dry, for birds in a wild state often bathe in the rain, and my Doves and Parrakeets in the aviary raise their wings to catch the drops. The Doves will sit on the ground to do this, in just the same position they adopt in order to sun themselves, whilst the Parrakeets will cling to the wire-meshing, spreading their wings and turning themselves upside down.

Birds are for the most part extremely cleanly, keeping not only their own bodies in good order, but also their nests and young ones. There are exceptions, such as Cormorants and so on, which seem perfectly oblivious to a horrible stench of decaying fish, etc., around their nests, yet even they are clean in themselves. No one ought to keep birds unless they so delight in them that it would be pain and grief to see them other than as clean as they are in a wild state.

For Nightingales, Redstarts, and such birds with tender feet, it is well to cover the drawer of the cage with saw dust, peat moss litter, or cedar litter, and if the sawdust be of pine wood, so much the better. Every morning it can be shaken up, and the droppings removed. I have two Nightingales in cages whose feet are in beautiful order with clean sawdust to hop on. Furthermore, the cages are lighter to carry about than if they had sand, which adds to the weight if there is a thick layer of it.

Cheese as a Tit-bit.

I find my Nightingales, and indeed nearly every bird, putting aside of course waders and water fowl, are delighted with cheese, so that a few mouthfuls of it are given daily, not mixed in the insectile food, because the birds are apt in their wish to find every scrap to scatter the food about the cage.

A Shamah that I have hops backwards and forwards in his cage directly the cheese is brought in at lunch time, and never rests until he is given some. A Wilson's Paradise bird greedily devours it, a Scarlet-Bellied Mountain Tanager from Ecuador siezes on a bit and nibbles it; a Grey Parrot is equally eager, as well as a Long-tailed Mocking Bird, and others. In the case of the Shamah, who sometimes flies about the dining-parlour, I can always decoy him back to his cage by throwing in a mouthful of cheese, after which he will go as readily as he will for a mealworm. It is just ordinary Canadian cheese, but there are other cheeses equally good.

For insectile food I use a mixture made by Mr. Galloway, of Caversham, although of course there are other mixtures which are also very good; but it is, and it goes perhaps without saying, all important that such foods should never become sour, which in hot weather they very soon do. Never add fresh food to that of the day before for the sake of economy, however much there may be left over. It will not be economical in the end, but will mean the end of the bird.

Anyone who has a garden in which some turves are stacked will find on turning them over in the spring and early summer that ugly larva of the "daddy-long-legs," the "leather-jacket" as it is called, an uncouth and stout grub looking as if it had no head or tail, and of a dirty grey-brown colour. These are greatly appreciated by insect-eating birds. When I have removed these leather-jackets from under a layer of loose turves one day, I have generally found two or three more in their places the day after.

To my seed-eating birds, I always give chickweed, groundsel, etc., except when it is very wet or frosted. In the autumn there are blackberries and elderberries, and during the winter thorn-berries, which are much appreciated by fruit-eating birds, as well as by Thrushes of various species.

A Bird of Many Parts.

I have birds which are not to be found in every collection, such as Pink-crested Touracos, Chestnut-bellied Blue Rock Thrushes, Queen Alexandra Parrakeets, and so on, but if anyone has a chance of obtaining an Orange-headed Ground Thrush (geocichla citrina) from India, I can recommend no more charming cage bird, to judge by one I once possessed. This bird is extremely handsome, the whole head and underparts being a light orange-yellow, the back, wings, and tail silvery grey, and, moreover, it is a really beautiful songster, whose notes remind one of those of our Thrush and Blackbird mingled together.

My particular bird used to be carried in his roomy cane-barred cage to my bedroom, and on winter mornings, the windows being wide open and the curtains drawn back, he would tune up as soon as the first streak of the dawn appeared. When I arose, the windows were shut for a while, so that the Thrush could come out for a flight; then he would have his bath in a green glazed dish on the floor, and end by pulling at anything he found he could lift, nail scissors, pencils, tooth brushes, and so on.

And thus he flourished until I was away for a few weeks, when I returned to find him looking very poorly. One saw the difference in a moment, though the bird-keeper's eyes were sealed to it. In a moment, too, I saw that the poor bird's food was sour and stale, in spite of my thousand and one exhortations to the contrary before I had left home.

It is, as I have hinted, there are people who go through life with their eyes shut, partly and chiefly because they either have no thinking power, or else do not use it. And so my poor Orange-headed Ground Thrush died. It was too late. Disease had set in too strongly.

The Choice of a Pet Bird.

Sometimes I wonder if I could only keep one cage bird, what that bird would be. If my income was quite small, I should say a Bullfinch, or a Blackbird, or a Thrush; but if I could afford it, I should feel very much inclined to choose an Indian Shamah, because in that bird you have plenty of colouring, without gaudiness, grace of form, a natural and wonderful tameness, and a lovely song. If it were a case of keeping a seed-eater only, I am sure I should say a Bullfinch; yet a Goldfinch is also charming. It would not be a piping Bullfinch, because some bars of a hackneyed valse continually repeated become monotonous, and although our Bullfinch's natural song is not exactly melodious, yet there is in it a hidden melody and a quaintness all its own. My Bullfinch should have strawberries and raspberries, and blackberries and apple, and freshly-gathered groundsel, and the rest of it, and a roomy cage with a clean bath, and clean perches and good sweet sand, with a flight round the room every day.

One can have too many birds, and too much of anything brings with it a greater responsibility, so that any bird lover who has only a Bullfinch, or only a Linnet, or only a Canary can truly reap much happiness from that humble possession; and the bird too will be happy if his happiness is carefully thought on.

Club Reports.

CITY AND COUNTY OF PERTH.

Meeting Laidlaw's Rooms, Leonard Street, Oct. 2, Mr. R. Crawford chair. Secretary read all correspondence. Stewards, Mr. R. Crawford and Mr. W. Gunning, were appointed to hand down birds. Decided that each member take one hour at the door. Mr. J. Murray was proposed as a member. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the chair.—J. L. Smith, Sec.

SCOTTISH PLAINHEAD CLUB.

The Committee has allocated the Club's patronage to Brechin, Glasgow and District, and the City of Glasgow open shows. Sec. is writing Arbroath, Ayr, Irvine, and Larkhall to accept the patronage. Notice will be sent to Cage Birds if any of these materialise. The annual club show will take place either at the Glasgow and District or the City of Glasgow shows. When this is fixed members will be notified. Members might endeavour to support the shows to encourage those who have risked much for us.—E. Barron, Sec.

NORTHERN NORWICH P.C.

Meeting Oct. 7, Mr. J. W. Lawson chair. Decided to give patronage to the three local shows this year, Newcastle Oct. 21, Blaydon Nov. 11, Gateshead Dec. 9. Cup as in previous years. Silver spoon champion and novice most points, and silver spoon for best bird bred by a member, Newcastle, Oct. 21; Blaydon, silver spoon champion and novice most points; Gateshead, young bird cup, silver spoon best young bird opposite colour to cup winner; silver spoon, champion; silver spoon, novice; most points to three highest birds to count over the shows. Table shows later to be fixed by sec. on suitable dates for Mr. Holden's cup and Mr. Curry's medal. Anyone wishing to join us must pay their subs., 3s. 6d., before Oct. 21, to compete for specials. As I am also sec. of the Newcastle C.B.S. I make an earnest appeal, especially to N.N.P.C. members, to remember Saturday, Oct. 21, and give us good support for the needy cause, the Red Cross.—F. W. Laidlow, Sec.

SOUTHAMPTON C.B.S.

General Meeting, Oct. 3, Waterloo Hotel. Mr. W. G. Fellows chair. The attendance was not large, many members having joined up since last meeting, whilst many are working late on War work. A letter was read from the late hon. sec., Mr. Page who is now serving in India 11,000 feet up in the Himalayas. He described a brush with submarines on the voyage, and closes by mentioning the splendid scenery where he now is, but evidently would gladly change it for the club room in Southampton. The earnest hope was expressed by all members that he and all the rest of the "boys" may soon be with us again. Report of F.F. Show was presented, showing a small balance to the good. Votes of thanks were passed to Mr. G. T. Webb for judging, and to Mr. and Mrs. E. Chandler for entertaining the workers to tea as well as lending large room for show. Annual Show was discussed, and it was considered that the prospects rendered it impossible to hold an open show. Decided to hold a members' show Nov. 29. Mr. J. Robson judge, 39 classes. All cups will be competed for. Twelve specials offered, and more will probably follow, so things look promising for a good members' show in spite of all drawbacks.—G. J. Slade, Hon. Sec.

LEEDS ROLLER C.C.

Meeting Oct. 7, Mr. F. Heaton chair, the best meeting ever held in connection with the club. Schedule of the annual show was submitted, and unanimously approved; it is the best ever compiled by the Leeds Club. We intended having our show in the Griffin Hotel, but owing to police restrictions we have decided to again engage the Trinity Church School Rooms, Boar Lane, and a better room for the purpose it will be hard to find, as it is well lighted and lofty, and kept at a nice heat. It was again decided to invite all Roller clubs to attend the conference in the Griffin Hotel, Boar Lane, Leeds, on Nov. 4, to discuss the arrangements re Control Board. The Provincial, Wigan, Bolton, and Walkden Clubs have signified their intention of being present and we in Leeds still think that if the other clubs would only comply and send delegates there is no outstanding difficulty in the way of a settlement being arrived at suitable to all. In any case it is worth considering by outstanding clubs. After business the members had a couple of hours devoted to judging the Roller Canary and expressing their different views in respect to the tours sung. Mr. Walton very ably explained the different tours gone through, after which the sheets were handed up for inspection, and there were some very creditable attempts made by the novices. The time seems not to be distant when there will be plenty of able judges in Leeds. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Walton for the care and patience he had taken to explain the different tours.—H. Best, Sec.

STANLEY (Empire) F.F. & C.B.S.

Meeting Oct. 1. Mr. R. Peart chair. We had a good meeting, and got through a lot of business. Stewards for our annual members' show, Nov. 18 and 19, Messrs. W. Kilty, J. Mason, G. Lane, and W. Gowland. Members please get as many specials as possible, and bring them to next meeting.—R. Hutchinson, Sec.

DULWICH AND PECKHAM C.B.S.

Meeting Oct. 3, Mr. Clarke chair. Mr. D Reeks gave an exhibition of washing and preparing Canaries for the show bench. A good number of members were present, and were keenly interested in the proceedings, especially the novices. Mr. Reeks is quite an expert, and the manner in which he handled the birds was a treat to see; the birds themselves seemed to enjoy the tubbing. A washing competition had been arranged to follow, but unfortunately there was not time to carry it through. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Reeks for the pleasant evening he had given to those present.—W. Hodson, Hon. Sec.

SOUTH SHIELDS (Always Ready).

Meeting Oct. 4, Hunt's Shop, Ocean Road. Mr. J. S. Dixon presided over a very good attendance. Our first business was a handsome challenge cup presented to our Society by our President, Mr. C. A. Cochrane, M.P. for the Borough, to be competed for annually by members, and to be awarded for best bird in show. Collection was made, and we raised sufficient to give 10s. for most points and a gold medal for winner of cup. Members have collected a good number of specials, and we are still looking for more. Anyone joining before Oct. 18 will be able to compete. Apply Sec., Watson, 75, Leighton Street. Arising out of the discussion how to make meetings more interesting this winter, we are having a bird washing night at next meeting by Messrs. R. Armstrong and T. Baker. It was agreed unanimously that members who have joined H.M. Forces shall be exempt from paying contributions to the end of the war. We wish them all a safe and speedy return.—J. W. Watson, Sec.

GREENOCK, PORT GLASGOW AND GOUROCK O.S.

Meeting Shepherd's Hall, Oct. 4, B. Molloy chair, with a good attendance. Secretary read replies from the selected judges, Mr. John Craig, Brechin, Canaries, and Mr. Wm. Bishop, Stirling, British. Decided to hold annual show in Boilermakers' Hall, Jan. 6, that admission be sixpence, including war tax. Decided to get two new trophies, one to replace the club cup won outright last year, and one for the Mule or Hybrid section, members to collect funds for same, and during the meeting a very satisfactory start was made. Decided to extend the Norwich from four to six classes, and Borders from four to nine. A slight alteration was made also in British classes, which brings the total to 48 classes. Decided to get prize cards from Garroch, Edinburgh, shield shape, same as last year, and printing from Leith Publishing Co. Six members gave a promise of birds for gift class. Next meeting tickets will be on sale, when we hope to see a record turnout of members.—J. McG. Dooley, Sec.

NEWCASTLE C.B.S.

Meeting Oct. 5, Shields Cafe, Bigg Market, Mr. Espic chair, and a good turn-up of members, many old members turning up again, which made things look like old times. Correspondence read from the judges, which the sec. had had power to elect, and passed as satisfactory. Norwich G. Dobinson, Crests T. C. Crawhall, Yorks., T. B. Tomlinson, Borders Jas. Stanger; Mules and British R. Tindale. A letter was read from Mrs. S. Young, mother of the late Capt. A. C. Young, offering a silver tankard as a special prize for 2nd best bird shown by a member, to be won twice in succession or three times in all. The offer was accepted, and the sec. was instructed to write thanking Mrs. Young for the gift. Six new members elected: Messrs. Coomber, Almond, Foster, J. Hands, T. Leck, Cleverly, which makes 16 new members in two meetings. Business of the show was dealt with, but all seemed to be well in hand. Members seem to have been doing their bit, which makes it a great help to the sec., so all we want is a bumping entry and gate. We have a splendid hall, plenty of room, good light, and quite free from any draught, so we are looking forward to a successful show. The auditors presented a balance sheet from our late sec. up to his resignation, Sept. 2, but this was not signed on account of his claiming £2 10s. for his work from Feb. 3. Members present thought it a high figure for only two meetings since his re-election, but as he decided to grant all the money to the Red Cross Fund the balance sheet was passed on that condition, as the money would go to a good cause. We can all see brighter days in store, and the Society will soon be back to standard pitch again, second to none, and we hope for good support on Oct. 21. We decided to admit wounded soldiers free to the show. Members please return unsold tickets to me on or before the morning of show.—F. W. Laidlow, Sec.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Linnet singing contest for quality, Clarence Hotel, Skinner Lane, Oct. 8; 19 of the best birds in Leeds sang before a crowded house from villages around Leeds, who quite enjoyed the sport. 1, Binns; 2, Wigfield; 3, shared between Binns and Kilbride. Judges, T. C. Summers and C. Ward.—T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Grand contest, Breakwater Hotel, Oct. 8. 16 birds sang, and we had our old friend W. Lipman, Burley, who has been discharged out of the Army, and A. Lorrieman as Judges: 1, Ridgeyard; 2, Whitaker; 3, Lorrieman and Mills shared. Mr. T. Mills will gladly welcome any fancier at his house.—F. Turner, Sec.

Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green Weekly Linnet contest, Oct. 8; 18 birds sang. 1, Marshall; 2, Butler; 3, Newsome. Judges, W. Lacy, R. Dearlove. Also grand Canary contest; 9 birds sang for the first time this season. 1, Thompson; 2, Johnson; 3, Smith. Judges, W. Lacy, A. Bamfield. Open Canary contest, Oct. 15.—W. Lacy, Sec.

The Young Bird Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

BRISTOL EAST C.B.S.

Table show of Yorkshire Canaries, Glasshouse Hotel, Oct. 2. Judge, Mr. F. J. Bees. Some fine birds were on view. The principal winners were: Yellows, Hiscocks; buffs, Davis, Hiscocks.—Report unsigned (Editor).

GREAT HORTON O.S.

Fourth members' show, Station Hotel, Oct. 7, with a very good entry, and some fine specimens were shown. A. W. Hartley won spl. best bird. Mr. M. Broadley judged. Cl. or Tkd. Yell.: 1, Hartley; 2, Midgley; 3, Ormondroyd; 4, Lingard. Buff: 1, Hartley; 2, Midgley; 3, Lingard. Even or Var.: 1, Lingard; 2 and hc, Hainsworth and Son; 3, Midgley; 4, Hartley; vhc, Ormondroyd. Hen: 1, Midgley. Cinn.: 1, Lister. Unflig. Ck.: 1, 2, 3, Hartley; 4, Lister. Hen: 1, 2, 4, Hartley; 3, Ormondroyd; vhc, Lister. Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Hen: 1, Ormondroyd; 2, Lister. Buff: 1, 2 and 3, Hartley; 4, Hainsworth and Son; 5, Ormondroyd. Nov., Cl or Tkd. Yell.: 1 and 2, Neale. Buff: 1, Self; 2, Firth. Even or Var. Ck.: 1, 2, 3, Brown. Hen: 1 and 2, Self. Cinn. Ck.: 1, 2, 3, Coombs. Hen: 1, 2, Coombs. Unflig. Ck.: 1, 3, 4, Neale; 2 and vhc., Self; hc, Coombs. Hen: 1, Firth; 2 and 3, Self; 4, vhc, and c, Brown; hc, Neale. Cl. or Tkd. Buff Hen: 1, 3, 4, Self; 2 and vhc, Coombs.—B. Hainsworth.

HALIFAX C.B.S.

Members' first winter show of Canaries, King Cross Band Room, proved very successful, 91 exhibits being staged, and amongst them some splendid specimens of the Yorks Canary; many no doubt will be heard of later. Mr. R. E. Helliwell, Halifax, judged, and his awards met with the approval of all. He got through his work in good time, and the room was filled with members and visitors after judging. Mr. A. Sutcliffe scored most points in open section, 22. Mr. C. Senior most points in Novice, 36. The following is the result of the competitions to date: Open section: Sutcliffe, 35; Stobart, 20; Walsh, 16; Sharpe, 15; Rigg, 15; Priestley, 10. Novice: Wilson, 55; W. Mitchell 44; Senior, 41; Gelder, 37; Thornton, 35½; F. Horsman, 21. Cl. or Tk. Yell. Yorks: 1, Rigg; 2, Sutcliffe; 3, Sharpe; 4, Priestley. Buff: 1, Rigg; 2, Sutcliffe. Yell. Hen: 1, 2, Priestley; 3, Sharpe. Buff: 1, Stobart; 2, Sutcliffe. Unfl.: 1, Rigg; 2, Walsh; 3, Stobart; 4 Sharpe; vhc, Sutcliffe; hc, Sharpe. Hen: 1, Sharpe; 2, 4, Sutcliffe; 3, Rigg; vhc, Walsh Mkd. Yell.: 1, Priestley; 2, 4, Sutcliffe; 3, Stobart. Hen: 1, Sharpe; 2, vhc, Sutcliffe; 3, Stobart; 4, Sharpe. Nov., Cl. or Tkd. Yell.: 1, Holroyd; 2, Thornton; 3, Wild. Buff: 1, W. Horsman; 2, Wilson; 3, Gelder. Yell. Hen: 1, 3, Senior; 2, Thornton; 4, Gelder, vhc, W. Horsman. Buff: 1, W. Mitchell; 2, W. Horsman; 3, 4, Senior; vhc, Thornton; hc, F. Horsman; c, Wild. Unfl.: 1, Stocks; 2, Senior; 3, vhc, Wilson; 4, hc, W. Horsman; c, Thornton. Hen: 1, 4, W. Mitchell; 2, vhc, Gelder; 3, Wilson; hc, Stocks; c, W. Horsman. Mk. Ck.: 1, Thornton; 2, Stocks; 3, c, Senior; 4, W. Mitchell; vhc, Wilson; hc, W. Horsman. Hen: 1, 2, Senior; 3, W. Mitchell; 4, Thornton. Both sections, Self or Foul Green Cock: 1, F. Horsman; 2, W. Mitchell; 3, 4, c, Leach; vhc, Thornton; hc Sharpe. Hen: 1, 3, F. Horsman; 2, Thornton.—A. Sutcliffe, Sec.

Queries Answered

Answered by THE EDITOR.

(1)—All questions must be clearly written in ink (or typewritten) on one side of paper, and conclude with either the correct name or a pseudonym.

(2)—The proper name and address in full of querist must always be written on a separate sheet of paper, and enclosed with the query.

(3)—Queries intended for different specialists must be written on separate sheets of paper.

(4)—Queries must not include or be included in orders for books, instructions re advertisements, or any other matter for publication.

(5)—The department to which the queries refer must be stated on the left-hand corner of the query.

(6)—Queries received during any week, up to the first post on Saturday morning, will be answered in the issue bearing date of Saturday in the following week.

(7)—If an answer by post is desired from our specialists, a postal order for sixpence must accompany any query relating to sickness of birds, or a shilling in ordinary enquiries, with a stamped and addressed envelope in either case. Dead birds must not be sent to the office (see Post-mortems).

(8)—All who desire letters of complaint written to advertisers must state grounds for doing so clearly and fully, and enclose a fee of sixpence.

(9)—All queries must be addressed to the Editor, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C. Postcards are not admissible.

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

AILING CREST.

T. W.—The bird is probably suffering from some slight obstruction of the moult, which the following treatment for a week or two should correct. Of course, I am taking it that the bird's sight is not affected, as this will at times cause a bird to act strangely. Keep it quite on the warm side, but see that the warmth is regular and fairly equable, not fluctuating between extremes of heat and cold, and do not expose it to the fumes of burning lights. Keep a light cover over the cage until all feathers have quite ceased dropping, and offer the bath on each nice mild day. In addition to the staple seed diet, give every second day a piece of bread the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, and well sprinkled with maw seed, which you may vary occasionally with a similar quantity of crushed sponge cake or egg food. On the alternate days give half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, linseed, and broken groats. Give a small spray of watercress or some other green salad daily. In the drinking water every second day for a fortnight add 20 drops of whisky, and five each of syrup of saffron and sweet spirit of nitre, then stop all drugs, and when the plumage is fining down after the moult add to the water four drops each of tincture of gentian, tincture of calumba and aromatic sulphuric acid every second day for a fortnight to tone it up a bit.

DIET FOR COLD ROOM.

W. R., Portobello.—In addition to the staple diet of three parts canary to one part summer rape, the following mixture will be a suitable one for use as a separate item for Border Fancies kept in a cold room. Mix together, by measure, two parts each of hemp and black rape, one part each of white millet, niger and broken groats, a quarter part each of teazle and chopped sunflower, an eighth part each of maw and gold of pleasure, and a slight sprinkling of yellow mustard and linseed. Give a small teaspoonful of this separately once a week to each bird at present, and when the cold weather begins give half the quantity every third day, and during severe spells of weather give it every second day, and on the intervening days a similar quantity of egg food or bread and milk. For the present and in all ordinary conditions of weather it will suffice to give a small teaspoonful of egg food or the bread and milk substitute once a week, this allowance, of course, being for each bird. Give a small spray of green salad three times a week as long as you can get it in a fit condition for use, and afterwards give a morsel of banana or sweet apple or raw or boiled carrot as a substitute.

GROWING SUNFLOWERS.

Rusticus.—(1) Sorry, I cannot say definitely what is the cause of your sunflowers partly rotting away with mould before the seed is ripe, but should rather imagine it is largely due to a too damp or otherwise unsuitable

CANARY QUERISTS

should consult St. John's "Canary Breeding for Beginners" (7d.); House's "Canary Manual" (1/2); Battye's "Yorkshire Canaries" (1/1½); House's "Norwich Canaries" (1/1); Weston's "Stock Book" (7d.); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); Norman's "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); Ramsden's "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); "Seeds and Foods for Cage Birds" (1/2); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each): No. 5 "The Pet Canary," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 10 "The Roller," No. 23 "The Border Fancy," No. 24 "Green Canaries." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

locality. Sowing the seed in April is correct, and the plants should be thinned out to give them plenty of room, when they usually do well in a flower border or shrubbery. Being grown in a kitchen garden, especially if in a bed, possibly you did not allow sufficient room between the plants. Perhaps some of our readers who see this and have succeeded in growing the seed to ripeness will send us the method of treatment. Anyway, as it is a question rather beyond the scope of aviculture you would be best advised to address a query to the Editor of the "Garden," giving full particulars of your treatment and the locality in which they are grown, and thus assure expert opinion of the right kind. (2) I do not know any fanciers living in Bognor, but there are several cage bird societies round about there, addresses of which you will find in CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL, and if you addressed a request for information to the secretary of any of these together with a stamped address for reply they would undoubtedly oblige you. The nearest I know are Brighton: Secretary, Mr. W. H. Gibb, 19, Bond Street, Brighton; and Lewes: Secretary, J. Martin, Lindholme, Lewes.

PROTRACTED MOULT.

Pansy.—I see no reason to suppose it is anything more than a very slow moult that is troubling the bird, which a little careful attention should soon correct. As, however, it is kept in a living room with a fire all day, you should see to it that it is not exposed to extremes of heat and cold nor direct cold draughts. The former is most likely if the bird is kept too near the fireplace, and a situation near or in a window, or near or over a burning light in the evenings, should be strictly avoided. Choose a place for it where the temperature is fairly equable and comfortable, though it need not be overheated. This is the most essential point, but your dietary also may with advantage be a little more generous. For the next month give a staple of three parts canary to one part summer rape mixed together. In addition give separately every third day half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle and broken groats, with just a sprinkling of yellow mustard and gold of pleasure in the bulk, and on the intervening days give first a similar quantity of crushed sponge cake, or bread and milk sprinkled with maw seed, and next a morsel of green food or sweet fruit—apple or banana. In the drinking water add 20 drops of chemical food two days in every three for a fortnight, then miss a week and resume, and give it again for another week. If bird is not then quite well, write again, and repeat full particulars or refer to this reply.

A VARIETY.

H. G.—(1) You say nothing about the diet or general treatment of these two hens, so I cannot tell whether the fault of the non-feeding is likely to be found there or not. But, anyway, as you cannot find accommodation for any feeders to provide for the possibility of the refusal to feed being repeated next season, your best course is to discard the hens in question and replace them with others from parents that are known to be good feeders. But in addition to this you should look into your method of treatment and see if the fault lies in that direction. If you have not a copy of "Canary Breeding for Beginners" get one from our Manager, post free, 7d., compare your own treatment with that advised in its pages, and see if you can find where you have gone wrong between now and next season. (2) Cut the linseed out of the staple diet of these unmoulted birds; keep them in a fairly warm and equable place; give the egg food with the sulphur and also potash, etc., in water daily for a week; then discontinue the latter items, throw a light cover over the cages, and remove them with the birds to a decidedly colder room, but see that it is free from damp and cold draughts. Leave them there for a week or so, still keeping the covers on, when the moult should set in freely, and when it is well in progress you may take them back to a fairly comfortable temperature and treat in the usual way for moulting birds until fine again. (3) Certainly, ripe sweet apple is just as suitable for Rollers as any other breed of Canary. But upon the whole I prefer banana as a fruit for all varieties, though this is not saying apple is in any way unsuitable. (4) The four-months-old youngster which has been subject to fits since leaving the nest is undoubtedly a physical degenerate—the weakling of the brood. It is not possible to say what is the real cause of the weakness without very full knowledge of the conditions. It may have been partly starved or injured in the nest by stronger and overbearing nest mates. It is extremely doubtful if it will ever be of any use either for stock or song, and a merciful dose of chloroform would be the best remedy. (5) Quite so; it is very much a matter of opinion what are the best proportions of egg and bread crumbs to use. I prefer about double the quantity of bread crumbs to that of the egg when finely minced in bulk. (6) This query is rather vague. You say you had an average of one clear egg out of every four throughout the breeding season, but you do not say in what nests, or if it was one clear egg in each nest. The latter will sometimes occur, and there is no accounting for it except that the hens do not appear to come into the necessary virile condition until the first egg is laid. You had better repeat this query and say in what clutches and how many in each were clear. (7) You cannot adhere to any hard and fast lines as to the correct quantity of egg food to allow to each hen for feeding a brood of chicks. Some hens will consume a great quantity themselves if allowed an unlimited quantity, whilst others will take little but what they need to pass on to the chicks. The only safe limit is to be guided by observation and allow just as much as they clear up just before the next supply is due to be given, so that none is left in the drawer when you come to give the fresh supply.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

MULE BREEDING IN AN AVIARY.

G.H.R.—For your aviary, 20ft. long, of which 13½ft. is flight, and 6½in. shelter, the height being 8ft., I would advise about nine hen Canaries, and three Goldfinches. If the finches are healthy and strong leave them outdoors during the winter where they are now. It is a good plan when the birds are outside during severe weather to empty the drinking vessel at night, and refill it with tepid water in the morning, giving fresh during the day if it freezes. The young can be successfully reared on a mixture of egg food and insectile mixture. The hens should be given some before they go to nest to get used to it, although as a rule they will eat it freely. In aviary breeding Canaries cannot always be relied upon to act as one could wish. In the early season two of them will sometimes select the same nest; in that case, the only way is to remove one of the hens, or take away the nest box. Another difficulty is that they sometimes persist in feeding the wrong brood, or perhaps neglect the young ones when they leave the nest. Some of these difficulties can be got over by a little management. One should be very careful in arranging the nest pans or boxes. Have several more than will be required, and spread them out all over the building, keeping them well away from each other, so that the hens do not return to the wrong nest, which they will sometimes do if they are close together. As a rule finches can be trusted with the eggs when flying in an aviary, but should one prove to be an egg destroyer he must be removed at once.

WAXWING MOULTING BADLY.

A Well-Wisher.—I rather expect your bird has been checked in its moult by contracting a chill at a critical time, and I am doubtful if it will be of much use this season for exhibition purposes. I do not see that you can make much change in its diet, excepting to increase its supply of live food and wild berries. I would also advise half a teaspoonful of chemical food mixed in the soft food; give it three or four days in succession, then miss a couple of days, and repeat. You do not say where you are keeping your bird, but it should be in a cold room, quite away from artificial heat.

TREATMENT OF A BULLFINCH.

Edith Harter.—Possibly your Bullfinch was not a young one when you purchased him. You give me no information as to your feeding, which is very important. Just now let him have a spoonful of egg and biscuit daily; also the same quantity of soaked rape. See that he eats this before allowing any other. Squeeze a few drops of fresh lemon juice in his drinking water daily, and just wet the bare places around the eyes with the pure juice. When the bird is better discontinue the egg food, and feed on the seed mixture advised in our Nutshell booklet. In addition to the food advised you should give a spray of privet berries daily, or, failing these, a piece of ripe apple or pear. Keep him in a cage large enough for exercise, and let him have the bath on every suitable occasion.

STAPLE MIXTURE FOR MULES.

Miss Parmenter.—The wild seeds you are collecting and giving your birds form quite the correct diet for them, and some of them could be gathered and used during the winter months, when they will afford a welcome change from the usual stock mixture. The latter should consist of the following:—Canary, 3 parts; teazle, 2 parts; hemp, 1 part; rape and linseed ½ part each. The hemp and linseed should be reduced during the summer months. For the Linnet mule add an extra quantity of rape. Give both birds a few grains of sunflower seeds twice a week.

TREATMENT OF BLACKCAP.

Blackcap.—I am rather surprised your Blackcap will not eat mealworms; as a rule they are particularly fond of them, although some will refuse them as yours does. Try him with some of the very smallest. In addition to flies, you should be able to gather several kinds of caterpillars, as these seem exceptionally plentiful this year. If it is quite impossible for you to get live food during the winter months you could occasionally (say twice a week) offer a tiny morsel of raw lean meat, but be very careful in using this, and see that it is perfectly fresh and sweet. The Blackcap will live some time without live food, but you must supply him liberally with fruit; get a banana or ripe pear, and fasten it to the wires of his cage. Elderberries will not hurt him; they are his natural food. As regards his soft food, see that it is of the best quality, containing plenty of ants' eggs. If the bird is not satisfied with the food you supply at present change it for another; he evidently likes the sponge cake, so continue to give it. You will have to steady him if you hope to do any good with him on the show bench. Handle the cage frequently, and talk to him, and let him see all your visitors.

FLIGHT FOR SONG BIRDS.

Fancier.—I would advise you to leave out one of the Linnets from your collection; you will find one will do better than two. If properly fed and treated you should get plenty of song from the birds you mention. The Linnet mule would most likely lead the chorus. In making your flight let the roof project over the front three or four inches, and have the front rail rather deep; this will keep the interior dry if a shower should happen while the flight cage is hung outside. The deep part will also prevent litter when the flight is indoors, and for this reason I would suggest that the self feeder be hung at the back of the flight inside, or at the side outside, making holes in the woodwork for the birds to feed through.

BRITISH BIRD & HYBRID QUERISTS

should consult Boulton's great work, "Cage-Bird Hybrids" (7/6); Norman's "British Bird Manual" (2/3); or Part 1 "Hardbills" (1/1), Part 2 "Softbills" (1/1); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants" (1/2); "Secrets of Hybrid Breeding" (1/2); Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.); "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 1 "Goldfinch," No. 2, "Linnet," No. 3 "Skylark," No. 4, "Song Thrush and Blackbird," No. 11 "Bullfinch," No. 13 "Chaffinch," No. 15 "Greenfinch," No. 22 "Siskin, Redpoll, and Twite," No. 25 "Small Insectivorous Birds," No. 26 "Large Insectivorous Birds," No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, etc.," No. 12 "How to Moult British Birds." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

THE ELUSIVE CHAFFINCH-CANARY.

Ignorant Hollinwood.—We have no authentic record of the breeding of the Chaffinch-Canary hybrid. If you produced one it would probably be worth £10 or more, if a good specimen. As regards its song, it is only guess work on my part to say it would resemble anything, as mules are so varied in their singing. (3) You will have no trouble in disposing of all you can produce. (4) The selected pair should be allowed to fly together all the winter, and they should both be young birds.

TREATMENT OF WOODLARKS.

Talbot.—If you have succeeded in moulting out your Woodlarks in cages, the food you have given them should be good enough to continue with. I am sorry you did not say what it was. I might have suggested some slight improvement, although it is doubtful. Give him any insects you can procure, as these are a great help in bringing a bird on to song, and have his cage in a nice light airy position.

FEEDING RINGDOVES.

Strabane.—Ring Doves will eat almost any kind of grain, and a certain amount of green food, particularly the tender tops of turnips. A good grain diet would consist of half maple peas, a quarter portion of wheat, and the other quarter made up in equal quantities of turnip, dari, buchwheat, and hemp. They will also eat beechmasts and acorns.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

NONPARIEL BUNTING, &c.

E.P.M.—The most common name by which they have been sold is Nonpareil, without any prefix or affix; other names are: Nonpareil Bunting, Painted Nonpareil, Nonpareil Painted Finch, and Painted Bunting, but the most generally used is that given first above, viz., "Nonpareil." At one time they were quite common on the market; they are now quite the reverse, owing to the prohibition of the exportation of birds from the United States some years ago. At the moment I have not a list by me giving the published price of Cassell's "Canaries and Cage Birds" (but about 25s. I think), it was also issued in parts, 6d. each. I think—my copy does not state the published price, and I have not a list to hand offering it for sale, but usually secondhand booksellers' lists give the original published price of the particular issue. So far as I remember there has been more than one edition of it. Pleased to hear you have succeeded in getting a copy. Of course, its pages do not contain much that pertains to the methods of present day birdkeepers; nevertheless it contains much that is still of practical value.

BLACK-CHEEKED WAXBILL.

Parmenter.—It is also known as the Black-faced Waxbill, and I am not aware of any other name. It would only be mentioned in the more recent of the popular avicultural books, though, of course, it appears in all ornithological works such as "Birds of Africa," etc., most of which are pretty costly. It is not always an easy bird to acclimatise, and one frequently experiences annoying losses before one succeeds in getting an established pair. It has a pretty little song in the breeding season, but comparatively with the Canary it cannot be called a song-bird. So far as I am aware it has not yet been bred in captivity in the British Isles. Under the conditions you name, a roomy cage in the winter, and an outdoor aviary in the summer, Violet Eared Waxbills are commonly (that is, so far as their appearance on the market permits) kept by most aviculturists. These also need care as new arrivals.

FOREIGN BIRD QUERISTS

should consult Page's "Foreign Birds for Beginners" (1/1½); Arthur's "Budgerigars and Cockatiels" (6d.); Arthur's "Parrots for Pleasure and Profit" (7d.); "Aviaries, Bird-rooms, and Cages" (2/3); "Seeds, Foods and Wild Plants" (1/2); Dr. Clarke's "Septic or Bird Fever" (7d.) "Colour-feeding" (3½d.); or the "Nutshell" booklets (2½d. each); No. 6 "Ailing Birds and How to Cure Them," No. 9 "The Disinfection of Cages, Bird-rooms, etc.," No. 14 "Gouldian Finches," No. 16 "Avadavats," No. 17 "The Grey Parrot," No. 18 "Budgerigars," No. 19 "The Pekin Robin," No. 20 "Waxbills." All thoroughly practical and instructive. Prices quoted are post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

WHAT BIRDS?

S.W.B.—Your little Waxbill-like birds must be common African Firefinches. The Combason is a nice little bird, but only wears its refulgent garment during the breeding season; at other times it is plainly coloured with dark brown striations on a brown-buff ground colour, with distinct whitish-buff eye-streaks. The present value of Firefinches is 15s. to 21s. per pair.

AMAZON WITH CUT WING.

T.R.H.—You must either patiently await the shedding of the stumps in the ordinary moult, or you may draw them singly, say two or three every other day. At the same time this inflicts a little pain, and often the bird's temper is completely ruined by being thus punished at frequent intervals. Our Nutshell, "The Grey Parrot," is out of print, but another edition is being printed, and as soon as it is out your copy will be sent on. As the bird is finger tame and in good health I should possess myself in patience, and allow the bird to regain perfect plumage by the natural process of the moult.

WHAT PARRAKEET?

Parrot, Belfast.—You must give me a little more information before I can give you a definite answer. I can only say it is not a Cockatoo. You must give me some idea of size; also state how you are feeding it; presumably this is according to your friend's instructions. Are there any other bright areas of colour not mentioned in your query, particularly on the lower back, which may only be visible when the wings are raised. I am of the opinion it is either a Barnard's or a Port Lincoln Parakeet, the latter most probably. I am keeping your query by me awaiting the above information, and when this comes to hand I will answer fully the points you raise.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically-sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

Miss H. W. Brown.—Death occurred in both cases from pneumo-enteritis, i.e., puteritis complicated with pneumonia, the result of ptomaine poisoning.

GENERAL.

LANCASHIRES, LIZARDS, AND CINNAMONS.

A Lizard Fancier.—Your letter is unsigned, does not give your address, and the envelope was unstamped. We had to pay double postage, therefore, on a letter which we cannot use, because it does not conform to our rules, and which we cannot return. If you will repeat the letter, authenticate it with your name and address, and prepay the postage, we shall be pleased to publish it.

BOOKS THAT HELP

Both the Novice and the Expert are the "CAGE-BIRDS" BOOKS

They comprise expert advice on everything appertaining to the keeping, feeding, breeding and general management of Canaries, Mules and Hybrids, British and Foreign Birds. Send along at once for those most suited to your requirements.

On all matters relating to the fitting up of the accommodation for your birds you had better consult their construction and furnishing, by H. Norman, and note the best way to house your birds.

"Aviaries, Birdrooms & Cages,"

Money spent on suitable cages is well spent.

Make them yourself? Certainly, the book shows you how.

Many Photographs and Art Plates as well as Articles.

Cloth Gilt, 2/8 post free.
Stiff Paper Cover, 1/8 post free.
Profusely Illustrated.

Wisely fed birds are healthy birds, and healthy birds do you service. Avoid all errors of diet in feeding them, therefore

"Seeds, Foods, and Wild Plants for Cage Birds"

will help you to feed them properly. It is especially valuable at the season when wild foods are to be had in such abundance, merely for the gathering.

There are many sketches and illustrations of all the best known wild plants.

1/2 post free.

A HANDY BOOK.

For a Complete Knowledge of British Birds You Can't Beat

THE

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL.

By H. NORMAN.

The Most Thorough and Practical Work on British Birds ever Produced. Published in two parts, or complete bound in cloth. Part I. Hardbills. Deals in the fullest manner with Linnets, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, and all other species of Finches. Part II. Softbills. With Blackbirds Thrushes, Jackdaws, Larks, and most of the more commonly kept species of insectivorous birds.

This work, lucidly written by a noted specialist, contains fullest directions for Hand-rearing, Keeping, and Exhibiting the most popular of our British Birds. Each bird is dealt with separately, its nesting habits, etc., are fully explained, and these, together with a description of its general characteristics, will enable the novice to easily identify the various species. Each part contains a coloured plate and numerous black and white illustrations by the author.

Price, in parts, 1s., post free 1s. 1d.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS.

By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

By far the Best Practical Guide for Beginners in the Art of Bird Breeding.

NOTE THE FOLLOWING SUMMARY OF CONTENTS;

CAGES.
Single and Double Breeders.
Points to Avoid.
Perches and other Fitments.
Seed and Water Vessels.
Egg and Finger Drawers.
Nest Box or Pan.
Nesting Materials.

THE BIRD ROOM.
Furnishing.
Temperature.
Ventilation.

BREEDING.
To Distinguish Sex.
Food when Preparing for Breeding.
First Principles in Mating.
Pairing Up.
Condition.
Help when Nest Building.
Making a Nest.

INCUBATION.
Removing Early Eggs.
What to do with the Cock Bird.
Close of Incubation.
Testing Eggs.
Hatching Difficulties.
Dead in Shell, etc.

EGG FOOD.
To Rear Without Egg.
A Middle Course.
Egg Food and its Making.

FEEDING THE YOUNG CANARIES.
Sweating Hens.
Use of Foster-Mother.
Tempting Dishes for Bad Feeders.

LEAVING THE NEST.
Marking and Marking Rings.
When Out of the Nest.
When Feeding Themselves.

SECOND AND THIRD NESTS.
Hot Weather Management.

THE MOULT.
Colour-Feeding.
Moulting Cages.
Importance of Exercise.
Fresh Air and Baths.
Toning Down the Light.

TRAINING FOR SHOW.
In the Show Cage.
Final Points.

Price 6d. from your newsagent or any of our "Nutshell" booklet agents. 7d. post free direct from

"CAGE BIRDS,"
154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

MULE and HYBRID BREEDERS make your next breeding season a record in every way by purchasing now a copy of

CAGE BIRD HYBRIDS.

This great work is written by CHARLES HOULTON, an authority with a reputation extending over 25 years as a leading Exhibitor, leading Expert and Judge.

Complete Bound in Cloth, 7/6 carriage paid.

Magnificently Illustrated by that great bird artist MR. H. NORMAN.

MARVELLOUSLY COMPREHENSIVE.

First of all is considered at great length the question of cages and aviaries for hybrids. All the various methods of housing are thoroughly and carefully described. The perches are minutely detailed; nests and nesting material have a chapter to themselves. Mr. Houlton's special cage for hybrid breeding is clearly described and illustrated. All the foods, natural and artificial, are enumerated. Egg and other soft foods and their feeding values dealt with. The selection of the stock is debated at length. The hens which breed light and dark exhibition mules described. The proper breeding procedure for Dark Goldfinch Mules gone into. Egg binding and its treatment. The food supply. Care of the young hybrids. All these topics are treated with that experience and skill only an expert of Mr. Houlton's standing could bring to such a task.

There are no less than Sixteen Coloured and Sixteen Art Plates in this work. EACH PLATE IS A PERFECT STUDY OF AN INDIVIDUAL HYBRID. Every plate shows the correct colour, the correct shape, the present day type and general characteristics of a prize-winning Hybrid.

THE PRACTICAL AND COMPREHENSIVE WORK WHICH ALL HYBRID BREEDERS REQUIRE

Real practical information on every variety of Canary, illustrated with an art plate of a standard bird, is contained in

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL.

The author, that well-known expert and judge, gives much useful instruction on AVIARIES and CAGES, BREEDING, MOULTING, EXHIBITING, DISEASES & THEIR CURE, SEEDS, Etc., and devotes a separate chapter to each individual variety.

Get a copy now, it will help you during the breeding season.

Price 1/2 post free, Cloth bound, 2/2.

VALUABLE BOOKS FOR FOREIGN BIRD LOVERS

"PARROTS FOR PLEASURE & PROFIT."
By C. P. ARTHUR. 7d. post free.

A comprehensive handbook. Deals fully with the keeping, feeding and general treatment of the Grey, the Amazon, etc. The difficulty of sexing is banished, and the treatment of newly imported specimens is fully dealt with.

"FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS."
By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S. 1/1 post free.

Contains indispensable information of an entirely practical nature on the keeping, feeding and general management of the more common and popular varieties of foreign birds.

NORWICH & YORKSHIRE FANCIERS.

These two books are just what you require.

"Norwich Canaries"
By C. A. HOUSE,
1/1 post free.

"Yorkshire Canaries"
By H. W. BATTYE,
2/2 post free.

Both books are written by experts from personal experience, and to follow the hints they give means to SUCCEED BY THE SHORTEST AND EASIEST WAY.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.

Printed for the Proprietor, Mr. F. Carl, 154, Fleet Street, by J. G. Hammond and Co., Ltd., Fleet Lane, London, E.C.

GREAT FAMINE IN CANARIES

16 PAGES. 2d

SEE PAGE 621.

CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL

Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 726 For week ending October 21st, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum. post free.
Foreign— 13/- per annum.

THE WAXWING

The extreme beauty of its plumage and the simplicity of its wants in captivity combine to make the Waxwing a prime favourite among keepers of British birds. No show of any importance is without one or more specimens of this lovely bird on its benches, and the one here pictured won 1st prize at the show of the City and Suburban A.C.B., and 1st at Clapham Show last week for Mr. S. Richards of Dartford.

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned. Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bona-fide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS"

DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-fides of either buyers or sellers in all transactions the adoption of our Deposit System should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid.

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final.

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—It the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

WINNOWING machines for blowing husks and dust from bird seed: Whiting, Reydon, Southwold.

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

THIRTY high-class breeding cages, all complete, up-to-date, 3/- each: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (660)

ELLIPTICAL wire net traps, unbreakable, invisible, 1/9 each, six 7/6, post paid; approval, deposit: Nash, Kirkby, Sleaford. (622)

WANTED dozen Norwich show cages, perfect condition, also cosy-carriers, no canvas: Gordoo Stewart, Ipswich. (622)

BIRD netting, ¾in. diamond mesh, 80 meshes deep, 6d. yard; clap nets made to order, all sizes: 77, Glovers-rd., Small Heath. (614)

NEARLY new Norwich carrier (three-ply), and show cage, 4/-; 14 grand wire fronts, the best, 12 x 14, 6/-; lot 8/6; see Mules. (619)

SIX show cages, suitable for Norwich or British case by Gilbert, all as new, 17/6; approval with pleasure: Andrews, Weston, Olney, Bucks. (621)

CRYSTAL Palace aviary for sale, mahogaoy, three-compartmeot, full size, 17/6; two breeding cages, 3/6: Sheret, Post Office, Hare-hill, Chertsey. (619)

PAIR of hand-made clap nets, Lionet mesh, 12 yards long, 8 feet deep, pull line, all accessories, complete, 20/-; Marshall, 9, Manvers-st., Nottingham. (610)

PARROT cage, guaranteed oew, bargain, £1; two Canary show cages, with travelling cases, complete, perfect order, 2/6 each: J. Ireland, 28, Waterside North, Lincoln. (615)

THREE double breeding cages, complete, four drinking vessels, ditto seed vessels, nest-pans, oest-racks, packet saffron, 31 packets dandelion, thistle, turnip seeds, 12 china eggs, three egg-drawers, 6d. bottle bird tonic, lot 15/-: Lee, 30, Windsor Park, Fairfield, Buxton. (620)

BEST Japanese birdlime, hold any bird, even Crows, also rats, in any weather, 1lb. tin 2/-, ½ 1/2, ¼ 8d., large sample box 6d.; large self-acting bird traps, 1/4, two 2/4; all carriage paid; catalogue stamp; clap nets, 5/4 pair: Young, Netmaker, Misterton, Somerset.

BIRD nets, all complete for use, poles, pegs, lines, sockets, carrying bags, ¾-mesh, 24ft. long, 6ft. wide, 10/-; 24ft. long, 5ft. wide, 8/9; all sizes; hints on bird-catching, 9d.; tips on catching, birdlime, 6d.; and book for catching, 9d.; 92-page catalogue, stamp; all post free for 1/9: Young, Practical Net and Trap Manufacturer, Misterton, Somerset. (619)

WORTH ootice; extra grand large Palace-shaped three-compartmeut new drawing-room aviary, 4ft. long, 3½ft. high, 18 inches broad, fitted complete, with two movable wire partitions, sand bottoms, seed drawers, and revolving perches, close wired, to hold smallest of Foreign birds, price 70/-; worth £10; approval; drawing sent: McKeand, Cage Manufacturer, Castle Douglas.

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/- per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and fly, 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net, and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets, half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, ¾in. mesh, 7ft. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard, all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanese birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., 1lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

BIRD HOUSES, £3 3s.

Lean-to roof, complete with floor, 6ft. x 3ft. x 6ft. high; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poulton, Birkenhead. (603)

FOR JOINER-MADE CAGES, CHEAP

Any size, with any number of compartments, loose wire fronts, 3-ply backs, best materials only used, none better made; illustrated catalogues of all kinds of cages, and everything required, free.

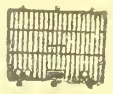
E. E. PASS, HUCKNALL, NOTTS.

BOARDS, CAGE SETS, CAGES

Fronts, and all bird-room appliances, boards for cage making, 9in. 6/-, 10in. 6/4, per 25ft.; breeding cage sets, singles 3/2, doubles 6/3; stamp for list: Orford, 10, Chester-st., Poultoo, Birkenhead. (538)

WALSH'S

ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME



is always alike good and reliable, does not run in the sun, packed in lever lid tins; ¼-lb. 10d., ½-lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-. Special terms to dealers.—WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN.

14 x 12, 4/6 dozen; 16 by 12, 5/3 dozen; 18 x 12, 6/- dozen; 24 x 12, 7/9 dozeo; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6; punched bars, 12/- gross; for cheap window cages, box cages, bird baths, seed boxes, see illustrated catalogue; dealers send posteard: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (604)

PUNCH BAR CAGE FRONTS

Owing to the vast increase of wire and solder we have had to increase our prices as follows to save using inferior wire: 12 x 12 or 10, 6d. each, 5/- a doz.; 14 x 12, 7d. each, 6/- doz.; 16 x 12, 8d. each, 6/8 dozen; 18 x 12, 9d. each, 7/6 dozen; 20 x 12, 10d. each, 8/4 dozen; 24 x 12 or 14, 1/- each, 10/- dozen. Special price for dealers' quotations; stamps for reply; odd sizes 6d. per foot: J. Asbmore, 19, London-st., Smethwick, Birmingham, late of Heath-st.

CAGE FRONTS

12 by 12 5/- doz., 15 by 12 6/- doz., 18 by 12 7/6 doz., 24 by 12 10/- doz., odd sizes made to order; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6, 48/- cwt.; punched bars, 1/3 doz., 12/- gross; seed mills, 1/6; egg mills, 2/-, 3/6; Tam's latest noo-splash bath, 4in. 10d., 4½in. 1/-, 5io. 1/3, 6io. 1/6; Norwich, Yorkshire, British show cages 2/3 each; see price list for Roller cages, box cages, breediog cages, all cage fittings; seod postcard.

ENOCH TAMS,

CHURCH STREET, LONGTON, STAFFS.

XXX Triple Strong Birdlime.

Hold from Lionet to Hawk, 3d., 7d., 1/1. Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softbills, 2/1; for Magpies, Jackdaws, etc., 2/9; extra large, 3/3; will not ruffle a feather. All post free. For Single or Double Trap Cages, Call Cages, Back Cages, Linnet Singing Cages, Bird Whistles, Linnet and Goldfinch Calls, best in Europe; see my list. It is sent you post free. Patent Anti-Mite Perches; list free. Giant Double-screened Canary Seed, cheapest in England. Sample tin, 6d., post free. Try it and compare with all others you have ever used. Birds, Fish, and Animals preserved and mounted in any style by a Gold and Silver Medallist. NO CONNECTION with any others advertisiug in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage, of Holborn, or direct from

W. RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

FOODS.

ONE hundred large live snails, 1/-, post paid: Older, 53, Days-rd., Bristol. (619)

WILD seeds for British birds, 3 quarts 1/-: Hicks, Victoria-rd., Holsworthy. (611)

MEALWORMS (large) 1/9 150, post paid: C. Sanders, 52, Pitt-st., Peckham. (606)

MEALWORMS, 150 large fat mealworms for 1/2: Jones, Cranbourne-st., Brightoo. (618)

RIPE privet berries, 160 large bunches, 1/-, post paid: Wm. Young, Misterton, Somerset. (600)

PRIVET berries, Bullfinches' grand natural food, 135 large ripe bunches 1/-, post free: Mrs. Teat, Ermine-terrace, Ancaster, Lincs. (619)

RIPE privet berries, 6d. per lb.; clean berries, postage extra, or 160 bunches 1/-, post free; cheapest by weight: L. Yeat, Kirkby, Sleaford. (622)

ANTS' eggs, 2/6, 3/- lb.; dried egg yolk, special 2/6 lb.; special prices in quantities: L. Cura and Sous, Bath Court, Warner-st., Clerkenwell-rd., London, E.C.

ANTS' eggs, 3/6 lb.; dried flies, 2/- lb.; cuttle fish, 10d. lb.; No. 1 bold Spanish, 14 lbs. 4/-, 32/- cwt.; see price list of seeds: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (622)

PRIVET berries, natural food for Bullfinches, etc., keeps them in splendid plumage and health, 100 large bunches 9d., 1,000 5/-, post free: Wm. Young, Misterton, Somerset. (618)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

LIVE GENTLES FOR CAGE BIRDS

The real live maggot, freshly bred, absolutely the masterpiece of all bird foods; highly recommeoded; try sample quart and you will be delighted, 1/3, on rail (oo stamps): The Maggotorium, Looglee Keighley.

A FOOD THAT HAS NO EQUAL.

Far Cheaper than Eggs

Yet made from New-laid English Eggs, and sold with guaranteed Analytical and Microscopical Reports, by Arthur Hill Hassall, M.D., and Fraocis Sutton, Esq., F.I.C., F.C.S.

EGGERTINE

Best and purest Egg Food ever koown. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3, post free. Sample box, 4d.

W. RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

GENUINE

Spanish Canary.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaoers, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Caoary	4/6	16/-	31/-
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-
No. 4 Good Spanish Canary	3/6	13/-	24/-
Red Summer Rape	4/6	16/-	30/-
Special Sweet Roller Rape	5/6	19/-	35/-.
Hemp Seed	6d. lb.	7lbs.	3/3
Condition Seed	6d. lb.	7lbs.	3/-
Mixed Wild Seed	6d. qt.	1/9	gall.

Ants' Eggs, 3/6 lb.; Dried Flies, 2/6 lb.; Yolk of Egg, 3/- lb.; Egg Bread, 1/6 lb.; Insectivorous Food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush Food, 6d. lb.

Samples and Full List of Seeds oo application.

Special Quotations to Secretaries aod Dealers for Quantities.

WALSH, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.

IF YOU WANT GUARANTEED

Spanish Canary Seed, Sun-dried

ask for

MACQUEEN'S

BOLD CHAMPION

Also Genuine Bold Sweet Tasteless Pepper or Papsika.

Also Dry White Cuttle Fish Bones and Bird Seeds of all kinds.

Note Address:

JOHN MACQUEEN,

Brown Street, Glasgow, Scotland. (614)

Use Our Notepaper.

BOOKS.

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject, second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books seot on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6," an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragemeot and money, and costs only 2½d. post free.—From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., Loodon, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

BULLFINCHES, cocks, 2/-; hens, 1/- each: W. Johnson, St. John's, Newton Abbot. (622)

YELLOW h.m. cock Grecnie, winner, muler, 5/-: Allison, 74, Leigham-vale, Streatham. (618)

EXTRA large Yellowhammer cocks, 2/6, 3/6: H. Welsh, Cornstall-buildings, Stamford. (618)

GOLDFINCHES, selected young cocks, warranted, 3/6 each: Ellis, Boot Manufacturer, Welshpool. (612)

BULLFINCHES, cocks 2/-, hens 1/-; Chaffinches, 1/6 pair; Greeofinches, 1/- pair: Bass, Queeo's-terrace, Rushden. (618)

BRITISH Hardbills, exhibition or aviary, splendid selection; send for list: Sutherlaod, Raubodde, Forres, N.B. (622)

SELECTED cock Goldfinches, showing good blazes, 3/- each; one beauty, 5/-; approval: Jones, 18, Gadlys-rd., Aberdare. (619)

TRY one of my champion Linnet whistles, 6d. post paid, all catchers use them: North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

HANDSOME cock Goldfinch, spleodid songster, sure winner, 4/-; also hen, 1/6; approval: Pearce, 63, Church-st., Dunstable. (618)

REDBREASTED singing cock Linnet and call cage, 2/-, 2/6, 3/-, 3/6 each: Haywood, 3, Neville-grove, Meadows, Nottingham. (619)

COCK Brown Linoets, 4/- dozen, 7/6 2 dozeo; guaranteed cocks, all healthy: Stoneham, 2, Colonnade-rd., Eastbourne, Sussex. (608)

LARGE selected cock Goldfinches, splendid specimens, 4/- each; do. cock Chaffinches, 1/6 each: Richards, 16, Waldeck-rd., Dartford. (621)

COCK Linnet, 1/6; cock Greenfinch, 1/-; cock Goldfinch, 3/-; cock Chaffinch, 1/6; Redpolls, 1/6 pair: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne.

SELECTED giant cock brown Linnets, for show, contest, or muling, 1/6 each, three 4/-; contest cages, 1/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

HAWFINCH cock, 5/6; Bullfinch hen, 2/-; cock Linnets, 1/-, 3 for 2/6; guaranteed well on seed and singing; Palmer, 352, Upper-st., Islington. (622)

THOSE requiriug a genuine siuging cock Goldfioch, on approval, cheap; send me your address, I will seod to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

EXHIBITORS; grand b.m. Hawfinch and Linnet, also f.m. Linnet and Yellow Bunting; stamp reply: Stothard, 8, St. Paul's-st., Stockton-on-Tees. (623)

PER dozen; cock Linnets, 5/-; Chaffinches, 4/-; Greenfinches, 1/-; pair Goldfinches, 2/6; supply weekly: Fenn, West-row, Mildenhall, Suffolk. (622)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, cocks, 6/- dozeo; picked birds 1/- each, three for 2/6; Goldfinches 24/- dozen; show birds 6/- and 6/- each: 77, Glovers-rd., Small Heath. (614)

SELECTED giant cock Browu Linnets for show or contest, 1/6 each, three 4/-; cock Goldfinches, 2/6 and 3/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

GOLDFINCHES, clean moulted cocks, lovely condition, 4/6, 5/-, large selected young cock, 3/6, 4/6, prompt dispatch: Alfred Rutter Kirbymoorside.

TWO house moulted Goldfinches 2/6 each; 1916 Roller hen, turoed back claws, healthy, 9d.; no postcards: R. Malcolm, 2, India-buildings, Duodee.

WILD seed, splendid clean mixture, excellent for conditioning for exhibition, 14lbs. 2/-, sample two stamps, Hopwood, Albrighton, Wolverhampton. (620)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well oo seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneintoo, Nottingham. (538)

COCK Linnets, full song, 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each; cock Goldfinches, 2/-, three 5/-, six 9/-, 18/- dozen; approval, cash or deposit: G. Ingram, 54, Gaulton-st., Hull. (618)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin Nortb, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

DARK Goldfinch Mules, 5/6, 6/6; variegated, 8/6; Goldfinches, August caught, 4/6; two immense blaze, 7/6 each; cocks: Cook, 16, Shillington-st., Battersea. (616)

GOLDFINCHES; I have a few extra fine cocks fit to win anywhere, 2/6, 3/6, and 5/- each, according to class; deposit system: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (618)

WINNERS, all in cards; Redpoll, 1st, 3/-; Chaffinch, 2od, 3/-; Oxeye Tit, 5/-; all h.m.; cocks, f.m. Linnet, 2/6; Greenfinch, 2/6: Knight, 46, Spooeer-rd., Keotish Town, London.

WHAT offers for black Yellow Bunting; cock Linnets, 1/-; Redpolls, Greenfinches, 6d.; Yellow Buntings, 1/6 pair; Chaffinches, 1/- pair: Garrod, 37, Spencer-rd., Rushden. (619)

EXHIBITION H.M. Welsh Goldies, 45/-, 25/-; Linnet, 20/-; Hawfinch, 35/-, show cages included; approval, cash: Tom Roberts, Queen's Hotel, Cerrigydruidion, Corwen. (620)

SEVEN tip-top exhibition Goldfinches, 6/6 each, 13 real good Finches, 4/- each, few monster Linnets, 2/- each; picked cocks on song, 1/- each: W. Brown, Ightfield, Whitchurch, Salop. (620)

GRAND specimens, cocks; Linnet, 2/-; Goldfinch, 3/6; Redpoll, 2/-; Greenfinch, 2/-; Chaffinch, 2/-; first P.O. secures these bargains; must clear: Rowlands Bros., Forest-Fach, Swansea. (619)

EXHIBITION British; h.m. cock Bullfinch, perfect, 10/-; h.m. 1916 Goldfinch, certain winner, 7/6; Redpoll, 2/6; several hen Bullies and cock Greypates, to moult wioners; particulars: Hands, Etnam-st., Leominster. (618)

COCK Goldfinches, 2/-, three 5/-, six 9/-, 17/- dozen; show specimens, 3/-, 4/- each; cock Linnets, 4/6 dozen; selected cocks, for show or song, 1/-, 1/6 each; hundreds io stock; no waitiog: Day, 77, Porter-st., Hull. (618)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not fresh-caught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 6/- the six: three for 3/6, or 1/6 for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dahocney Cottage, Duostable. (583)

COCK Linnet, well on song, suit catcher, 1/-: Leeson, Montague-st., Rushden. (623)

EXHIBITION cocks; Twites, 2/- each, or 3/- for two; cock Bullfinches, 3/- and 5/-; hen Bullfinches, house-moulted, 3/6; cock Linnets, 2/-; Yellowhammer, house-moulted, 3/6; Greenfinches, 1/-; cock Siskins, 5/6: Anderson, Oswald Cottage, Forres. (622)

WESTMORLAND cock Bullfinches 5/6, one extra special, 10/6, winning cock Goldfinches 6/-, monster cock Yellowhammer, brilliant plumage, winner, 6/6, show cock Linnet, 5/6, one large, perfect specimen, win anywhere, 12/-: Robinson, Bird Specialist, Windermere. (620)

TO Linnet fanciers. Two handsome extra large house-moulted red-breasted cock Linnets, splendid songsters, fine show specimens, make contest singers; sacrifice 1/6 each, 2/6 two; approval, not satisfied money returned: Dixon, Old New Inn, Dunstable.

COCKS, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/6; H.M. Siskin, 5/-; Chaffinches, Yellowhammers, Linnets, 1/-, 1/6; Skylarks, 9d., 1/-, dozen 4/6; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d., dozen 3/-; Canaries, 7/6, 10/-; youngsters, 3/6, 5/-; birdlime, 9d., 1/4, boxes 3/6: Irwin'a Aviaries, Lurgan. (622)

GIVING up the Fancy; well-known winning Song Thrush, 1st Manchester 1915, fed, with show cage and case, 30/-; Bramblefinch, vhc at Manchester, 1915, class of 14, with show cage, 10/6; grand 1915 dark yellow cinnamon Greenfinch Mule, fed, with show cage, 15/-: Walsh, 38, Lydia-st., Accrington.

GOLDFINCHES, warranted cocks, 2/- each, three 5/-; selected, 3/-, 3/6 each; hens, 1/-; Linnets, Red-breasted cocks on song, 1/- each, three 2/6; Greenfinches, extra large cocks, 1/- each; wanted Canaries, Mules, etc.; exchange; travelling boxes, 3d. extra: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham. (619)

GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Wrlta Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

A GENUINE offer; h.m. Goldfinch and h.m. Bullfinch, paired, 12/6; h.m. Goldfinch and yell. Norwich hen, 10/6; h.m. Linnet and yell. Norwich hen, bred var., Mules, 10/6; Greenfinch and Yorks. hen, 5/-; one h.m. Goldfinch, 3/6; also few Norwich cocks and hens cheap; can be seen Saturday afternoon or Sunday morning: W. J. Smith, 69, Park-avenue, Mitcham, S.W. (617)

GOLDFINCHES, cocks, 24/- dozen; for show, 4/-, 5/- each; Bullfinches, 20/- dozen; picked birds, 4/6 each; Greenfinches, 5/- dozen; large yellows, 1/- each; Chaffinches, 6/-; Linnets, 6/-; extra specials, 1/- each; Redpolls, 5/- dozen; for Siskins send p.c.; all birds on approval: Smith, 17, Cattell-rd., Bordesley Green Aviaries, Birmingham. (618)

NORTHCOUNTRY Linnets; special cocks, picked out for show, none can beat them for contest singing, 2/6 each; few rare good call birds, sure stoppers, been with nets all the season, 2/6 each; Yellowhammers, Chaffinches, three for 1/6; no hens kept of any sort; trap cages, the best on the market, not toys, all wire and punch bar tops, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6 each; Linnet nets, 6 x 3, 2/- each, complete; esparto grass lime twigs, all dried and trimmed, limed, and ready to lay down, beats anything for scared birds, 2/- 100, 7/6 1,000; nets for Wren or hare; state wants; stamp: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (618)

GOLDFINCHES, Linnets; these are the noted Worcestershire cock Goldfinches, all on hard seed and song, 2/- each, three for 5/-; few picked very large cocks, 2/6, 3/-, and 3/6; few extra specials, 5/- each; glorious red-breasted cock Linnets, 1/- each, three for 2/-; few picked for size and song, 1/6, 2/-, and 2/6 each: all trained under my Midland champion; cock Greenfinches, Chaffinches, Redpolls, 1/- each; specials, 1/6 each; two-compartment trap cage and call bird, 1/6; call cages, 9d. each; sample birdlime and Linnet whistles, 4d. each, post paid; wanted hen Canaries and Finch Mules, 1/6 each paid; birds bought, sold or exchanged; travelling cages, 3d. and 6d. extra; all birds warranted sound and healthy, and sex guaranteed: Bedford, late Gore's, 131, Goochst., Birmingham. (622)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each. I have a nice lot, suitable for time singing. 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; singing cages, 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 55, George-st., Leeds. (570)

GOLDFINCHES BULLFINCHES LINNETS

Redpoll, etc., real cock Goldfinch, 2/-, 2/6, large special selected 3/-, 4/-, 5/-, hens 1/-, three 2/6, cock Bullfinch 2/-, 2/6, hens 1/3, 1/6 each; cock Linnet 9d. three 1/9, six 3/-, special selected cock Linnet for muling or showing 2/-, 2/6; Redpoll 6d., 1/- each, best birdlime ¼ lb., 9d. ½ lb. 1/2., 1lb. 2/-, postage free: Matt Hopkin, 38, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. (620)

WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE.

GOLDFINCHES
BULLFINCHES.
LINNETS.
And all other British Birds.

Cash on receipt. Please submit offers immediately

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION

Gentlemen, I give seven days' approval with every bird, and you can deposit your cash with Editor. I have thousands of testimonials. Cock Linnets, tame, through moult and singing lovely, 1/-, 1/6, 2/- each. Quality songsters, a treat to hear, and taught under my cup winner, 2/6, 3/-, 5/6 each. Call birds, with extra loud voices and call cage, only 3/- lot. H.M. Linnets, birds that have won all before them, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, 20/-. I have a very good, well-pencilled Linnet, grand type and size, win anywhere, 3/6; Redpoll, gem, 2/6; Chaffinch, one of the best, 3/6; cock Goldfinches, 2/6; and a few extra good ones, 3/6, 4/6, 6/6 each; cock Canaries, full song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6 each; Yellow Budgerigars, 4/- each. Harry Allen's Linnet Booklet, 6d. Nutshells, 2½d. Linnet and Roller whistles, 6d., post free. Singing Mixture, 1/3. Travelling boxes, 2d. Write at once and you will not regret it.—FRED ALLEN, 156, Porter Street Aviaries, Hull. (622)

Softbills.

LARKS, grand lot; selected cocks, 1/- each: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (622)

COCK Garden Warbler, lovely singer, exhibition specimen, 15/-; bargain: 58, Joshua-rd., Sheffield.

THEY—ARE—HERE

I don't ask you to take my word solely for it. You can call and see them; or you can have them sent to your door on approval, and if not to your entire satisfaction, your money freely returned in full.

CLASSICAL NORWICH AND YORKSHIRES.

A magnificent collection, including many show birds amongst them. These high-class birds are offered as follows:—Cocks, 15/-, 20/-, 30/-, 40/-, 60/- each. Hens, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-. Pairs, judiciously mated, 20/-, 30/-, 40/- upwards. I have plenty of others at far lower prices. I will not say they are cheaper; but, still, good reliable birds. Hens, for instance, 3/6, 4/6, 5/-. Cages, 4d. and 6d.

Also, I have a good collection of CRESTS and CRESTED-BREDS, etc., etc. Full particulars can be given of any bird, or I shall be pleased to send my Illustrated List of all varieties free upon receipt of address.

The two following extracts taken from over One Hundred received during the past five or six days, speak for themselves:—

Gillingham.—I have been recommended by a fancier, who states I cannot do better than get the birds from you, as he says you are the most honest dealer advertising. That is perhaps one of the reasons why so many have found satisfaction in dealing with you.

Cowden.—Birds to hand satisfactory in every way. Thanks for prompt attention.

IMPORTANT NOTICE! I am not supplying this season (nor have I since the commencement of the war) any German-Americans with Canaries. It should be patent to all that our own fanciers have the right to be thought of first; hence, it is my intention, to the utmost of my ability, to supply the British Fanciers with the stock they require.

If a farmer sold all his seed wheat, and then could not purchase more for his own use, all his once useful acres would be lost to the country as a means of growing wheat. That I think you will see quite clearly, and the same applies, to my point of view, re Canaries.

I may here state that I have a lot more of tip-top songsters (for youngsters); also superior Muling Hens, at 4/6 and 5/6 upwards each.

W. RUDD, THE BIRD SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

COCK Blackbirds, 1/6; Thrushes, 2/-; Tits, 1/-: price lists: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (617)

THRUSHES, Blackbirds, cocks, warranted thoroughly tamed, healthy, singing, 3/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishop's Stortford. (622)

FINE cocks, Grey Wagtail, 4/6; Great Tit, 1/-; Thrush, 1/6; Blackbird, 1/6: Hpmphries, 65, Cramptonrd., Penge, London. (618)

LOOK again; successful four contests, won with George Holt's Skylarks, last week; try one, on approval, 1/6: Dunstable. (618)

SKYLARKS, guaranteed hand-reared cocks, perfectly tame, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishop's Stortford. (622)

I HAVE a grand singing cock Skylark, measures 14 inches from tip to tip, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (545)

SIX cock Skylarks, full loud song, day and gaslight, pure wild notes, 3/6 each; cages, 1/- extra: Seedsman, 165, Princess-st, Manchester. (622)

CAGES for Thrushes, Blackbirds, Skylarks, strong, roomy, elegant, own make; send stamp for prices, sketches: Crisp, Southmill, Bisbop's Stortford. (622)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark or cock Linnet on approval cheap, send me your address; I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

SONG Thrushes, 3/6; Blackbirds, 1/9, on song, 2/6, Skylarks, 1/6, on song, 2/6; warranted all cocks; travelling cage, 3d.; Greater Tits, 1/9 pair: Palmers, 352, Upper-st., Islington. (622)

EXHIBITORS; cock Redstart, 7/-; Great Whitethroat, 4/-; Robin, 2/6; cock Reed Bunting, 7/-; the above are perfect and first-class specimens: Robertson, 4, Hosefield-rd., Aberdeen. (621)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 30 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable (599)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeuey Cottage, Dunstable. (542)

SPECIAL select singing cock Skylark, can be heard 200 yards, good shop attraction or contest bird; will match him to sing any Lark in this country, 1/6; approval; secret of feeding free: George Holt, Dunstable. (618)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, Weststreet, Dunstable. (568)

Miscellaneous.

A GRAND singing Linnet, with contest cage, 2/6; also cock Skylark (singing) and cage, 2/-: Palmers, 352, Upper-st., Islington. (622)

A GOOD singing Linnet, with new contest cage, 2/6; also good Lark and cage, 2/-; money returned if not satisfied: Maloney, 58, Scholes, Wigan. (620)

YELLOWHAMMERS, Larks, Linnets, Redpolls, Greenfinches, 1/6 pair; selected cocks for show, singing, or muling, 1/6 each; approval, deposit or cash: B. Onions, 66, Rushall-st., Walsall. (608)

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury-terrace, Dunstable, would like to send on approval two beautiful singing cock Linnets, also Skylark, 1/6 each; would suit bird dealers for shop front attraction, or bird-catchers for call birds. (618)

GOLDFINCHES, Goldfinches, properly netted; warranted genuine cocks, three 7/-, single 2/6; hens, three 3/6; cock Thrush, beauty, 2/-; pair fine thread clap nets, complete, 22ft. by 5½ft., with two braced Linnets, ditto two Goldfinches, 12/6 lot; spring net traps, latest, best, 1/6, two 2/6: J. Whiteley, Catcher, Boston-rd., Holbeach. (622)

GOLDFINCHES, 2/6 pair; large selected cocks, 2/6 each; cock brown Linnets, 4/- dozen; Skylarks, 2/6 dozen; Redpolls, 2/6 dozen; Chaffinches, Redpolls, Greenfinches, Yellow Buntings, Skylarks, 1/- pair; Robin Blue Tits, 1/6 pair; 12 mixed aviary seed birds, 1/6; Blackbirds and Song Thrushes, selected songsters, 1/6 each; exchange Canaries or Mules: Fenn and Son, Bower-lane, Isleham, Cambs. (619)

SOFTBILLS, exhibition, extra large wellmarked Treecreeper, 20/-; handsome Gold-crested Wren, 20/-, crest like fire: nice hand-reared Wryneck, 25/-; Lesser Whitethroat, very pure in colour, 10/-; Reed Warbler, adult cock, 10/6; Wheatear, in spring coloured plumage, beauty, 15/-; for aviary, large Wryneck, hand reared, Redstart hen, fine Nightingale hen, large as cock, pair Wheatears, Yellow Wagtail cock, Garden Warbler; prices reasonable.—P. F. M. Galloway, Durban, Caversham, Reading. (623)

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

TYPICAL Borders, from 7/6, approval: Hislop, 114, Baker-st., Stirling. (602)

SEVERAL pairs from 10/-; no rubbish; winning strain: Rule, Richmond-terr., Truro. (617)

TYPICAL young buff cocks 5/6, yellow 6/6, moulted; approval: Love, Cummersdale, Carlisle. (620)

EXHIBITION Borders, tip top yellow hens; state wants: Walker, 12, Tower-rd., Tweedmouth. (620)

SPLENDID Border cocks, singing lovely, 7/6; hens, 3/- each; approval: Heron, Burnside, Castle Douglas.

CALLED up; the last of my winning stock; pair greens, 15/-; clear buff cock, 10/-; approval: Simmonds, 31, Wilcox-rd., S.W. (622)

PRIZE-BRED Borders, two pairs clears, £1 the pair; one pair 12/6; four odd cocks, 7/6 to 10/- each: R. Melville, South-st., Falkland. (616)

BORDER Canaries 1916, 10 cocks, 8 hens, good colour and healthy, cocks 3/6, hens 1/6: Alex. Hurry, Baker, Letham, Forfarshire. (620)

NOTICE! Grand lot Borders for show or song; prices low, easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

GRAND lot of green Border fancies for show or stock; prices reasonable taken; approval stamp, reply: D. Sturrock, Lawrency, Dundee. (594)

STILL the leading winners, see report of Clapham Show; can supply the same strain; state wants, price: George Bennet, Bowmont Villa, Kelso. (620)

A CHOICE selection of 1916 Borders for sale; cocks from 6/- to 8/-; hens from 5/-; also a few unflighted Norwich, reasonable; stamp for particulars; approval with pleasure: John Wilson, 24, Halliburton-place, Galashiels, N.B. (620)

HENRY BENNET, Border Fancy Aviaries, Kelso, offers select show and stock birds, all colours; birds supplied by me last season won at leading shows in England and Scotland; cocks, 7/6 to 40/-; hens, 5/- to 35/-; pairs, 10/6 to 50/-; 145 young to select from; approval, stamp. (618)

Cinnamons.

TWO large yellow cinnamon cocks, 1916, 16/- each; two yellow cinnamon hens, 10/-; one buff cinnamon hen, 8/-; two buff variegated cinnamon hens, 8/- each: D. Murray, Watchmaker, Dingwall. (617)

Crests and Crestbreds.

GREEN Crested, Joyce-Barnett prize hen, 15/-; cheap cages: Ellis, 42, Eastover, Bridgwater. (622)

SINGLE Crested cocks and hens, also good stock pairs; Mr. Satman (Wellingborough) strain: Small, 67, Western-rd., Brighton. (618)

NOTICE! Grand lot Crests and Crestbreds; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED two Crest, two Crestbred hens, and one Crestbred cock; must be good: W. Marshall, Rose Villa, Waterloo, Blyth, Northumberland. (614)

CRESTS, two cocks, one Crestbred hen, good feather, aviary, double breeder, and two show cages, £4 lot: Baker, 20, Quinton-avenue, Merton Park.

HIGH-CLASS Crests, 35 years breeder of the best, many winners sold; some grand birds for sale; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

Greens

MRS. MONTAGU SCOTT has a few Crests and Crestbreds for sale: 6, Staple-inn, London, W.C.

NORWICH greens, yellows and buffs, from 10/- each; approval: Jenkins, 82, Church-st., Widnes.

TWO green hen Canaries, 2 cages, sizes 20 x 12, good condition, 4/-: W., 2, Watery-lane, Merton, Surrey. (621)

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

F. J. LACCOHEE, Breeder and Exhibitor of high-class Norwich; reliable birds from 10/6; approval: 92, St. George's-st., Norwich. (593)

N. LESSE, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, winners at Palace, Manchester, Burton, and all the leading shows, winner of cage bird diploma, L.C.B.A. diploma, also silver cups, gold medals, etc.; few cocks from 10/6 upwards; on approval: 30, Alexandra-rd., Normacot, Staffs.

SEVERAL good Norwich for sale; seen any time Sunday: Turnbull, Castle-st., Montrose. (621)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (602)

WANTED Norwich and Yorkshires; honest price given; state what you have: 97, Madeley-st., Derby.

WANTED a pair of first-class Norwich: W. Marshall, Rose Villa, Waterloo, Blyth, Northumberland.

BARGAIN, my best pair Norwich breeders for sale; price 15/-: Lee, 30 Windsor Park, Fairfield, Buxton. (620)

TEN Norwich cocks, exhibition and stock birds, can be seen any time: E. Cheshire, 64, Crawford-st., Bradford. (610)

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, has still remaining the best of last year's stock, also those bred this season. All large and healthy. All for sale. (596)

NOTICE! Grand lot Norwich; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

TO exhibitors; I have some grand Norwich for disposal; stock birds and show specimens: Taylor, The Causeway, Bideford. (619)

GIVING up; for sale, the whole of my Norwich yellow and buff cocks, ditto hens; cheap to clear: Kelly, Dean-rd., Kilbirnie. (616)

GRAND typical variegated buff cock, 1914, winner in a class of 24 at Preston 1915, besides other prizes, £3: Tose, Fire Brigade, Leeds. (619)

SEVERAL pairs high-class Norwich and Borders seen on Sunday morning, 10/- pair: Huckle, 31 Gordon-rd., Kingston-on-Thames. (617)

FEW splendid Norwich for disposal, large typical birds; cocks, 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-; hens, 5/6, 7/6, 10/-; approval: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres (622)

APPROVAL. Grand Norwich, 1915 and 1916; cocks 10/-, hens 5/- upwards; colour fed, all healthy bird; stamp: E. Blaney, 19, Oliver-st., Mexbro., Yorks.

GRAND Norwich, off winners, from 12/-; two sib. hens, 10/-; Linnet Mule, 15/-; Goldie Mule, 10/-; four Border hens, 9/-: Dawson, 689, Duke-st., Glasgow.

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, large, with good heads, good type, breeder 35 years, best blood in England; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham

SELLING out; 25 Norwich cocks, 12 hens, 4 Crests, 1916, cold-room, splendid condition, also 4 1915 cocks, stamp reply: Atkinson, Mansfield-rd., Alfreton.

TEN pairs Norwich, good size, type, and quality, bred direct from winning stock; cheap to clear; stamp, approval: James Ward, 425, Main-st., Shettleston. (609)

D. DEVOY, breeder and exhibitor of high-class Norwich, stock birds from 10/- each; pairs from 20/-; inquiries solicited: 23, George-st., Stranraer, Scotland. (603)

HIGH-CLASS 1915-16 Norwich (yellow, buff, and marked) cocks from 10/6; hens from 5/6; good buff 3-point Crested hen, 7/6; cash, deposit: Harpham, Printer, Spilsby, Lincs. (617)

YELLOW var. Norwich cock, 20/- (great colour) buff var. hen, good type, 10/-; clear buff cock, 20/-; 1915 bred; good sorts: approval: Wm. Bain, 41, Deverill-st., Hunslet, N.B. (621)

HIGH-CLASS Norwich, fine lot of unflighted and 1915 birds for disposal, yellows and buffs, good size, quality, colour, 10/- upwards: Sykes, 107, Petersbury-rd., Edgeley, Stockport. (611)

UNFLIGHTED buff cock, 12/6; ditto yellow, 12/6; yellow and buff hens, 10/6, 12/6, 15/- each; all from my well-known champion stud; approval, stamp: Hodder, 25, Ashurst-rd., North Finchley, London.

LARGE typical yellow hen, lovely quality, 25/-, ditto yellow cock, massive bird, 30/-; ditto buff cock, 30/-; all unflighted; several others; seen appointment only; or approval: Kerr, Richmond-rd., New Barnet. (617)

BARGAIN; grand var. buff, 14/-; big even marked cinn. buff, 14/-; tick yell., 12/6; clear buff, 10/6; even marked cinn. yell. hen, 12/6; green marked yell. hen, 8/6; all unflighted; approval: Powell, 228, Allen-st., Sheffield. (612)

FIVE real good birds, through moult, 1916 wing marked, buff, believed cock, 5/-; 1916 clear buff hens 4/-; cap and wing marked yellow hen 5/-; ticked yellow hen 5/-; ticked buff hen 3/6; last three reliable 1915 birds: Drake, 2, Belle Vue Parade, Scarborough. (620)

COMPULSORY sale, through removal, Norwich cocks, clear yellow (Vardy's) 15/-, one clear, one var., buffs, (Silk's) 20/- each; cobby var. buff, can win, 15/-; hens, clear yellow, winner grown rough tail last moult, bit cobby, invaluable stock hen, 20/-; clear yellow (Granger's) good quality, 12/6; one clear buff, one capped yellow, Silk's, 15/- each; var. yellow (Thomas's) large var. buff, 1915, 15/- each, £7 7s. the lot; cash or deposit; selected for own breeding at good prices; one three-compartment, and five double breeders, new last year, 25/-: Hale, Station House, Aintree, Liverpool. (621) has had a splendid season and bred some grand youngsters, both for show and stock; only a few birds will be sold; and those who require something to win or breed with should write at once to save disappointment: 63, Wellington-rd., Bridlington.

MR. E. E. BROWN

Bargains in Champion Norwich

For sale, all my Norwich, including a few show birds and some splendid stock birds, also about thirty breeding and flight cages and some show cages and cases cheap, for quick sale; approval: F. J. Noyce, 6, Lemon-place, Newton Abbot. (620)

All been Household Pets

This I guarantee, and it is most important to intending purchasers, for it, amongst other things, ensures their being acclimatiaed.

ALL CONTEMPLATING THE PURCHASE OF A PARROT

should send for my pamphlet, "The Parrot Trick Exposed." It is sent free. I have talking Greys and Amazons; can be seen.

RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; sold out at present: Heathfield, Sussex. (160)

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

TWELVE pure Roller hens, 3/- each, cocks 8/-: Cutforth, Hairdresser, Oakham, Rutland. (621)

BRITISH Rollers, Randall's; details, stamp reply; approval: Culshaw, 188, Anlaby-rd., Hull. (601)

ROLLER Schoolmaster, £1; exchange Yorkshires; two hens, 6/-: Wild, Raby-st., Buslingthorpe, Leeds.

ROLLER cocks, 1916, singing 8/6 10/6; exchange poultry: Cripps, 65, Shere-rd., Deptford, London.

THREE 1916 British bred Roller cocks singing nicely 10/6 each: Standen, 8, Mill-hill, Preston.

GRAND songsters, 7/6, 10/6 each; ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury.

DEEP Glucke and Water Glucke Rollers, B.R.C.C., approval; pairs selected: Earnshaw, 51, Rook-st., Nelson. (607)

FEW good home-bred Rollers for sale, cocks, 4/6, 5/6, 7/6; hens, 2/6, 3/6, bargain.—Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (621)

NOTICE! Grand lot Rollers, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 85, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

THREE 1916 Roller cocks, rung, singing, 7/- each; 1915 hen, 3/-, or 21/- lot: Oliver, 8, New-rd., Wrockwardine-rd., Oakengates, Salop. (621)

WINNER 3rd and vhc, in champion classes, deep Glucke and Water Glucke, Rollers B.R.C.C., rung, 30/- and 35/-: J. Waterhouse, 46, Back Caul-terr., Cloughfold. (620)

BRITISH Rollers, all club rung 1916, Randall's, Ive's, Kremner's, etc., strains; cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; no callers: Hughes, Surrey Villa, Long-lane, Church End, Finchley. (617)

ROLLERS! ROLLERS! ROLLERS!

Roller cocks, full song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, and 15/-; hens, same strain, 5/-: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (623)

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

MESSRS. AMBLERS, the old Bradford firm, breeders of biggest champions and winners highest honours possible over 30 years, many championships Crystal Palace, including championship for best Yorkshire last Palace show; few of the best Yorkshires living for sale; exhibition or stock; finest quality and type in existence; pairs 15/- to 60/-; approval; satisfaction guaranteed: 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

RELIABLE 1915 buff stock hen, 2/6: Drake, 2, Belle Vue Parade, Scarborough. (620)

COLOUR fed Yorkshires from 5/-; stamp: Percy Lane, 1, Arboretum-rd., Worcester. (620)

YORKSHIRE cocks from 7/-; hens, 5/-; own breeding; approval: Baife, Pateley Bridge. (617)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

SMART Yorkshires, variegated and clear, 6/- to 8/6 each; healthy birds: Miss Wynne, Upton, Southwell, Notts. (618)

SEVERAL pairs of Yorkshires, real good stock birds, 18/- a pair; approval: Swinden, 1Bk.423, Bolton Road, Small Heath, Birmingham. (618)

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, through moult, cocks from 8/6, hens from 3/6; approval: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (580)

YORKSHIRE cocks, all youngsters, on song, from 7/6; hens from 3/6; seen by appointment: Goldie, 19, Manse-rd., Stoke Newington, London, N. (621)

NOTICE! Grand lot Yorkshires; many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

PRIESTLEY'S Yorkshires from very best strain; cocks from 7/6, hens from 4/-; satisfaction guaranteed: 121, Gaythorne-rd., West Bowling, Bradford.

HIGH-CLASS Yorkshires for sale, all strong, healthy birds, in song; cocks 8/6, hens 4/-; no cards: Draper, 47, Palmerston-st., Battersea Park-rd. (620)

YORKSHIRES; must reduce stock; breeding pairs, 20/- upwards; yellow cocks from 10/-; all bred from prize-winners: Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea, London. (618)

SELL one cock, two hens, Yorkshires, good birds, 12/6, or exchange for good British cocks, Goldfinch, Siskin, Linnet; yours first: H. Lock, Rayne, Braintree, Essex.

WILL give two silver-grey does, adult, five months, for winning Yorkshire yellow cock, 1916 bred; mutual approval: C. Brown, 36, Park-st., Kirkby-in-Ashfield, Notts. (617)

BARGAINS; 1916 buff cock, 20/-; yellow ditto, 25/-; matched hen, 10/6; variegated buff, 20/-; others, 10/6; approval, deposit: Adams, "Maydene," Westend, nr. Southampton. (620)

MASSIVE 1915 ticked buff Yorkshire cock (Ambler's), 7in. long, splendid stock bird, £2; approval; stamp reply: J. Ball, 84, Shellfield-rd., Marshside, Southport. (616)

YELLOW York. cock, 1915 bred, over standard length, £2; exchange for buff cock, clear or ticked; no rubbish offered or wanted; yours first: Bond, 5, Milton-terr., Pem. Dock. (618)

THIRTY long typical 1916 birds, yellows and buffs, bred from winners; cocks from 15/-, hens from 10/-; many can win; can be seen Sunday or appointment: Bonniwell, 63, St. Quintin-av., North Kensington.

HAVE several fine exhibition pairs for disposal, and also several extra quality buff hens, bred from my winners (see this week's report of Clapham Show): Colin Brown, Inglenook, King's-rd., Richmond, Surrey.

YELLOW hens. Have bred several fit to show and win; rare length and quality; 15/- to 30/- each; also few grand buff cocks; inspection invited: Hannaford, 65, St. Quintin-avenue, North Kensington.

1916 YORKSHIRES, winning strain; cocks, 10/-, 12/6, 15/- upwards; hens, 7/6 upwards; 1915 buff cock, 20/-; yellow hen, 10/-; large stock cocks, 20/- to 30/-; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, Huddersfield. (618)

EXHIBITORS, did you see my advert. in "Cage Birds" the other week? I said fit for champion competition; now see Clapham report, and then for show birds put yourself in communication with W. R. King, 200, Kingston-rd., Portsmouth.

HAVING finished moult, have some good birds for disposal, including clear buff cock, large one, £2; yellow marked cock, 30/-; var. yellow cock, £1; yellow var. cock, 15/-; all L. Dyke's and Ogden Bros.' strain; approval, deposit: D. Wishart, Wallyford-by-Musselburgh. (621)

A FEW pairs only for disposal; marked buff cock and yellow hen, £2; marked yellow cock, buff hen, £2; marked buff cock, yellow hen, 35/-; two buff and two yellow hens, 15/- to 30/- each; all unflighted birds; see result of Clapham show: A. J. Clarke, 65, Copleston-rd., East Dulwich, S.E. (617)

TWO lovely unflighted buff Yorks. hens, grand length and position, feathered like silk, price 7/6 each; with grand yellow cock to match, over 7in. long and fit to win, price 16/6, or the three for 30/-; sure to breed winners; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (622)

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 2/2, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Contains complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

TWO grand unflighted yellow Yorks. hens, grand length and position, A1, feathered like Javas, price 8/6 each; with grand buff stock cock to match, over 7in. long, and in song, will give satisfaction anywhere, price 15/-, or the three for 30/-; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester rd., Bradford. (622)

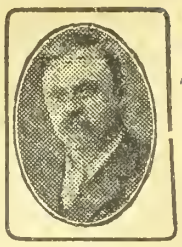
Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).

PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.



1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKierman, 62, Raiks Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Tarbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standisb Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—*W. Marriott, 25, Gluman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckwork St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collinghourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 37, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Raymer, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Sclater-st., Shoreditch; 352, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Sclater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.: *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv., W.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 106, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Rochl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Sclater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremner, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Duttons, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Millom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merriat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garhutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 39, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

WINNING YORKSHIRES

I have a few splendid Yorkshires now ready for sale, including some grand lengthy birds, clean moulted and ready for benching, at 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/- each upwards, cocks or hens. These birds are capable of winning their cost in prize money, and I am prepared to send on 7 days' approval anywhere. I have also some grand thick-set Norwich at same prices. If requiring birds of any kind please write stating wants.

JOE THOMAS,

AMBLER THORN, HALIFAX.

Established over 35 years at same address.

YORKSHIRES from winning strain, cocks from 8/6, hens 6/- upwards; pairs reasonable: A. Sutcliffe, 46, Hammond-st., Halifax.

YORKSHIRE cocks, feathered like wax, winning strain, full song, 8/6, 10/6, and 12/6 each; hens, same strain, 4/6 and 5/6 each: Cooper, Breeder and Exhibitor, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

H. J. CHITTENDEN invites you to inspect his stock of Yorkshires; see York Union shows reports for recent winnings; yellow or buff cocks, clear or variegated, fit to win, 15/-, 20/-, 35/-; hens, 10/-, 15/-, to 30/-; they are really good and must be sold: 53, Carlisle-st., Manningham. (622)

SOME STUFF

Grand lengthy Yorkshire cocks, clears and variegated, no dwarfs, but big stuff, on full song, at 8/-, 9/-, 10/- each; hens, 4/6; approval: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (623)

GREAT COMPULSORY SALE

Yorkshires, some of the best in the Fancy, for show or stock purposes, from 10/- upwards; approval, deposit: T. McLoughlin, Valley-rd., Liversedge, Yorkshire. (610)

HERE'S A CHANCE.

show specimens at lowest prices. Grand clear buff 1915 cock, lovely colour, price only 35/-; also clear yellow 1914 yellow cock for natural colour class, grand bird, only 30/-; both ready for exhibition; worth double: Auton Bros., 10, St. Thomas'-rd., Spalding. (616)

CHAMPION YORKSHIRES

All colour-fed to perfection, and bred from winning stock. Some grand birds for sale in clears, ticks, green and cinamon marks, all guaranteed healthy and cocks in full song; cocks, standard length and over, at 10/-, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each; hens to match at 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/-, 12/6 each; matched pairs at 14/6, 15/6, 17/6, 20/- upwards; exhibition birds; please state requirements and I will quote you by return, and remember I give satisfaction to all; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor; write direct to the breeder: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

Various Canaries.

WANTED cock birds, on song: Jones' Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (584)

BARGAIN. Grand lot cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton-pl., Castle Douglas.

SALE, Lizard cock, 7/6, hens 3/6; Rollers, cocks 7/6, hens 3/-: Davies, Pawnbroker, Great Bridge, Staffs. (621)

CANARIES, 6 Norwich cocks, 8 Yorks. cocks, 7/6 each, approval; hens, 2/6 each: A. Smith, 7, New Bond, Bordesley, Birmingham. (621)

1915 SINGING cock, in box cage, 6/-; pair 1916 Yorkshires, 10/-; exchange exhibition Goldfinch: Potts, Frithside-st., Fraserburgh. (621)

SPLENDID lot of high-class Canaries; cocks, singing, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, and 10/6 each; hens, 3/6 and 4/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

BRITISH CANARIES.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

I wish to thank the Canary Breeders of Great Britain for their magnificent response to my advertisement "Wanted to Purchase." It will interest the Canary World to know that a record arrival has been made during the last week—7th October to 14th October. Over 1,100—one thousand one hundred—Canaries were received during seven days, and paid for same day as arrival.

Ask any Canary dealer if any deductions were made, or if any delay in payments. To have paid out £460 in one week, and given satisfaction to every sender is a fact to be recorded, and congratulated on.

The Canary branch of this business is conducted solely by my wife. I assure every sender they will receive fair and prompt attention at Mrs. Hamlyn's hands.

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

TEN Yorkshire and Yorks.-Norwich cocks, good healthy birds, on song, from 7/6; hens from 3/-: Goldie, 19, Manse-rd., Stoke Newington, London, N.

TWO buff cocks, 1915, 20/- each; large variegated yellow cock, 30/-; clear yellow cock, 3rd Manchester last year, unflighted class, 35/-; bargains: Lingard, 66, Berry-st., Burnley. (621)

YORKSHIRE yellow cock, splendid songster, 8/6; Norwich hen, large bird, 5/6; 2 variegated Norwich cocks, 8/- each, handsome birds; no approval: Plum, 7, Victoria Parade, Church End, Finchley. (618)

SALE, typical yellow 1916 Yorkshire hen, one cinnamon marked, 1915, second prize club show, 5/- each; four Yorkshire show cages, cased old, four new, 8/-; approval: Wright, 89, Shellfield-rd., Southport. (620)

MASSIVE Crest-bred cock, 12/6, large buff Cinnamon hen, 7/-; two grand pairs of yellow Yorkshire, 15/- pair, can win also good Yorkshires, singing, 7/6 each; also few box cages, new, never used, 1/6 each; iron framed plate-glass fish tank, 15/-, worth 35/-: J. W. Steele, 201, City-rd., Manchester. (621)

MULES—HYBRIDS.

HOUSE-MOULTED cock Goldfinch, hen Canary, over moult, 8/6; offers: Price, Dane-st., Merthyr.

GENUINE offers; two light muling hens, four-pointed blood, 30/- the two, particulars, worth 50/-: Clifford, 24, Jenner-rd., Stoke Newington, N. (618)

MUST clear; four grand dark (cocks) Goldfinch Mules, Finch notes, 7/6 each, or 24/- the four; see Appliances: Hames, 30, South-rd., Bournemouth.

WANTED 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities: state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)

NORWICH Canaries, with breeding stock, show cages, with carriers, cheap to clear; call after 6 p.m., all day Sunday: Taylor, 37, Starling-buildings, York-st., Aldwych, W.C. (622)

LIGHTLY variegated yellow Goldfinch-Canary, unflighted, bargain, 50/-; several darks from 12/6: all colour-fed; approval, deposit: Snow, 31, North Worple Way, Mortlake, S.W. (619)

TO exhibitors; grand cock Goldie, beautifully tanned, lovely face, 15/-; also cock Linnet, nicely pencilled, good size, 15/-; suitable for members' show: Sadler, 33, Preston-avenue, Hale End, Essex. (621)

SPECIAL; two 1916 exhibition Goldfinch Mules, one marked head, wings, and tail, the other eyes, back and tail, colour fed, in tip-top show condition, 25/- each; will soon earn cost; genuine offer; approval, deposit: G. C. King, 14, Ashby-st., Norwich. (619)

TWO cock Goldfinch Mules, 5/- each; two hens, 2/6; four Linnet Mules, as bred, 8/-; five good muling hens, 12/6; seven Border hens, 14/-; two muling Linnets, 3/- each; two muling Greenfinches, 1/6 each; cock Greenfinch Mule, 4/-; all healthy and very cheap: D. Coombes, Stockton-st., West Hartlepool. (614)

FOREIGN BIRDS.

ROSE Cockatoo, 30/-; Rock Parrot, £2; tame and healthy: Forpy, Naturalist, Bradford. (618)

BUDGERIGARS, aviary bred, 5/6 pair; breeding pairs, 6/6; exchange: F. Hill, Southwold. (621)

BUDGERIGARS; outdoor aviary bred; young Greens, 6/6 pair: Hay, 5, Woodlands-rd., Barnes.

HEN Cockatiel, breeder, 12/6; exchange hen Rosella and cash: Lancaster, 7, Victoria-terrace, Walsall.

BUDGERIGARS; outdoor breeding pairs; Green 6/6; Yellow, 7/6: Church, Grocer, Sudbury, Suffolk.

INDIAN Parrakeet, acclimatised, with good cage, 12/6; bargain: D. Coombes, Stockton-st., West Hartlepool. (614)

GRAND handsome talking Macaw, 1st at Plymouth, price £5, very tame: G. H. Bowden, 10, Market-st., Tavistock, Devon. (622)

BUDGERIGARS, finest possible, outdoors, 6/6 pair; yellows, 7/6; husk nests, 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (519)

TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carry, 266, Dudley Port. (620)

MADAGASCAR Lovebirds, breeders, 21/-; Yellow Budgerigars, nesting, 7/6; cock Rosella, 30/-: Miss M. Staniland, Boston, Lincs. (622)

BEAUTIFUL Amazon Parrot, excellently tame, acclimatised, grand plumage, comes out of cage, make fine pet: 514, Stapleton-rd., Bristol. (617)

BLUE-FRONTED Amazon Parrot for sale, quite tame, good talker, splendid condition; particulars: Moxon, 21, Lime-st., Dukinfield, Cheshire. (619)

ZEBRA Finches, this year's, aviary bred, 12/- pair: Mrs. Gibbons, Boddington Manor, Cheltenham. Hen Diamond Finch, hen Cordon Bleu wanted. (619)

NOTICE! Grand lot Green and Yellow Budgerigars; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

NOTICE! Grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger; price reasonable; easy payment arranged: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

GRAND Blue-fronted Amazon Parrot, finger-tame, and says a few words, imitates the dog and cat, with large new round cage, 35/-: Steele, 201, City-rd., Manchester. (621)

TOVI Parrakeet, exceptionally tame, owner wants to find good home, just moulted, perfect plumage, delightful pet, with cage, £2: D. Bourke, Hitchamvale, Taplow. (619)

FROM outdoor aviary; handsome pair Yellow Masked Weavers, £1; pair aviary-bred Bullfinches, 10/-: Mrs. Midwood, 1, Woodbury Park-gardens, Tunbridge Wells. (619)

TO clear; hens, Peach-faced and Black-faced Lovebirds, both guaranteed breeders, 1915-1916, 25/- and 20/-; cocks, handsome Jendaya Parrakeet, show form, 25/-; Cockatiel, 7/6; Ringneck, 7/6; Plumhead, moulting, but healthy, 20/-; exchange small birds: Steed, Tobacconist, Sudbury, Suffolk. (620)

FROM outdoor aviary; three hen Zebra Finches, also one pair ditto with two young on seed, seven birds in all; the lot 50/-: H. N. Dean, 2, Clipstone-avenue, Mansfield, Notts. (618)

WINTERED outdoors; six unknown Aurora, Bicheno, 15/- each; Zebra cocks, 4/-; pair breeding Redhead Finches, 15/-; Goldfinch Mules, 10/-: Stanley Gardiner, Selwyn-gardens, Cambridge. (619)

SPLENDID young Green Parrot, commenced talking, with strong cage, 20/-; Californian Quails, aviary bred, 12/6 pair; odd hens, 10/- each; approval willingly; cash or deposit: Mrs. Day, 77, Porter-st., Hull. (618)

COCKS; exhibition Fruitsucker, 50/-; Blue-breasted Waxbill, 15/-; double-banded Sandgrouse, 15/-; all outdoors and healthy; pair Malachite Sunbirds, have nested twice, £5; wanted hen Plum-headed Parakeet, true pair Black-cheeked Lovebirds: Dr. Amsley, Eton. (622)

EXCEPTIONALLY clever African Grey talking Parrot, one of the finest living, health and plumage perfect, in England two years, thoroughly acclimatised, price reasonable for one of the best, shown willingly, being genuine; address: "Parrot," Walsgrave Lodge, near Coventry. (642)

OUTDOOR bred pairs; Diamond Doves, 25/-; Zebras, 12/6; breeding pairs: Diamond Finches, 42/-; Olive Finches, 30/-; two young, sex unknown, 10/- each; cock Crimson Finch, 30/-; very fine dark Linnet Mule, 15/-; all in perfect health; exchange for pairs, Cordons, Ruficandas, etc.: Capt. Sprawson, 68, Southwood-lane, Highgate, N. (618)

LEADBEATER'S Cockatoo, magnificent specimen, £4 4s.; Timneh Parrot, very rare, £5 10s.; Swainson's Lorikeets, nesting, £6 pair; Rosellas, cage moulted, £4 pair; Pennant's Parrakeet, 50/-; Yucatan Jay, great winner, £5 5s.; White Blackbird, show form, £5; Lavender Finch, 15/-: John Frostick, 303, High-rd., Streatham Common, S.W.

I HAVE only the following birds left out of nearly 200, viz.:—Brit. Finches, 21/- a pair; Redhilled Weavers, cock and 3 hens, 15/- the lot; Fire Finches, species uncertain, 30/- pair; Wheatear hen, 7/6; Cactus Conures, 30/- pair; Euops Conures, 50/- pair; hen headed Siskin, 30/-; cock Nightingale, 27/6; half-moon and all-green Parrakeets, 12/6 each; Ring-necked Parrakeets, 17/6 pair; and Zebra Finches, 15/- a pair; delivery in fortnight's time, as still feeding young; all subject to being still unsold: Dr. Keays, East Hoathly.

WAXBILLS (Golden-breasted, Orange-cheeked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 2/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (Ilst frequently published).

ONE Port Lincoln cock Parrot, whistles tune, £3; one cock Melba Finch, £1 10s.; two Nuns, 15/- each; one Yellow-rump Finch, 15/-; one Chestnut-breasted, 15/-; one cock Painted Quail, £1 10s.; one hen Blue-winged Sugar Bird, £1 10s.; one pair Masked Doves, £1; two pair Diamond Doves, £1 10s. pair; three Madagascar Weavers, 15/- each, full colour; two Napoleons, full colour, 15/- each; two Grenadiers, full colour, 15/- each; two Paradise Whydahs, full colour, 15/- each; one pair Tahu Weavers, £1; one pair Indigo Finches, £2; one young hen Cockatiel, 10/-; one Crimson-wing Parrot, £6; one cock Black-cheeked Lovebird, £1 10s.; one Hybrid Port Lincoln and Pennant, £1 10s.; all from outdoor aviary; thoroughly acclimatised and in perfect health and condition; wanted, hen Parrot Finch and pair of Violet-eared Waxbills, in good condition: Mrs. Turner-Turner, Abbey Spring, Beaulieu. (618)

A PAIR of Quaker Parrots, a pair of Golden-crowned Parrakeets, a pair of Rosy Cockatoos; lovely birds:

A. KEEGAN,
35, Upper Ormond Quay. (614)

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)

Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

VARIOUS BIRDS.

MOOR cock Brown Linnets, 6/- dozen; exhibition cocks 3 for 2/-: P. Cawood, 25, Britannia-st., Scarborough. (621)

PAIR good Norwich and cage, 20/-; cock Chaffinch and cage, 2/6; exchange for camera or accessories: W. Watson, Whatley, Langport. (617)

YOUNG Norwich cock, 6/6; two hens, bred young this year, 3/-; also cock Linnets, 1/6 each: A. Finch, 21, Milton-rd., Old Fletton, Peterboro'. (618)

FEW field-moulted cock brown Linnets, extra large, good markings, 3/6 each; large cock Greenfinch, 2/-; hen Greenfinch, 1/-: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

1915 and 1916 Sib. bred Canaries, cocks 7/6, hens 5/-; Linnet and Goldfinch Canaries, Mules, cocks, 8/- each; approval, cash or deposit: J. Mallatratt, 11, Birkland-st., Mansfield. (616)

PAIR Norwich Canaries, 10/-; one house moulted Grey Linnet, Mule breeder, 4/-; two cock Linnet and Canary Mules, pure Linnet song, 7/- each: W. Batey, Beckbrow, Longcroft, Kirkbride, Cumb. (620)

THREE grand large-headed Sib bred Norwich-Lancashire cross cocks, in song, 10/- each; two 1916 cock Goldfinch Mules, 8/6 each; 6 days' approval; cash, or deposit Editor.—Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (622)

H.C. 23 points champion class, Wigan H.C., Bacup H.C., Provincial, B5 rung, £2; 20 points champion class, Wigan and Bolton, B5, £1 10/-; 20 points Provincial, B4 rung, £1 7/6; schoolmaster, £1. All these have won first or second at Walkden Club Show: R. Bumby, Bridgewater Arms, Pendlebury, Manchester. Inspection Invited. (621)

Use Our Notepaper.

HAVE YOU INVESTED

— IN —

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"

FOR 1916?

We have just a few more copies left of this useful and instructive Book. This Annual should be in the hands of every CAGE BIRD FANCIER.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS:—

How to Breed English Song Canaries.
How to Construct a Perfect Drying Cage.
How to Make a Bird-room Mouse-proof.
The First Principles of Mating Canaries.

There are many other things of everyday value in this Book of Reference.

Send To-day—To-morrow You may be Too Late.

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL; PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

WANTED.

WANTED anything alive: Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester. (623)

WANTED, hen Mealy or Red Rosella: Lancaster, Victoria-terrace, Walsall. (621)

WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow. (586)

WANTED, Rollers, or good British, exchange Yorkshire bitch: Folland, Old Swan, Liverpool. (671)

WANTED Canaries, best prices given; send full particulars: Bairstows, Ormskirk-rd., Preston.

WANTED crockery, glasses, china, or offers; exchange Canaries: Holland, Old Swan, Liverpool.

WANTED birds, mice, rats, rabbits, anything alive: B. Onions, 66, Rushall-st., Walsall. (608)

WANTED, offers in birds, for penny in slot electricity machine: Butler, Quarter, Staplehurst, Kent.

WANTED, hen Diamond Finch, hen Cordon Bleu: Mrs. Gibbons, Boddington Manor, Cheltenham. (616)

PARROT wanted, Amazon or Alexandrine, hen Cockatiel, exchange Budgerigars: E. Hill, Southwold. (621)

MAN with name. Wanted, Canaries or Mules, any variety; state price: Curley, 7, Woodchester-st., Paddington. (614)

WANTED for prompt cash, Canaries or Mules, either sex; state lowest prices: Robinson, 33, Bisson-st., New Cross. (621)

WANTED, big, healthy, typical Norwich; I give 10/-, 12/-, 14/- pair for good birds: Scott, 110, Roehank-st., Glasgow. (622)

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WANTED for cash, all kinds British birds and Canaries, also Yorkshire show cages: Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (612)

WANTED all kinds of Canaries, Mules, British, any quantity, best price paid: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (610)

WANTED for export, all classes of Canaries and Mules; best price paid: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Mill-rd., Dewsbury. (610)

WANTED, from reliable catchers, prices for weekly supplies, good quality only: Jones, 1, Garden Village, Forest Fach, Swansea. (619)

WANTED, Rollers or other singing cock Canaries, cold-room kept; reasonable prices given; cash: Davies, 48, Frederick-st., Cardiff. (617)

NOTICE; wanted cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; hens, 9/-; cock Linnets, 5/-; Canaries, Bullfinches: Brain, Poultry Farm, Aston, Birmingham. (623)

WANTED 500 Canaries, all varieties, large or small lots taken; cash sent first; no risk: McKeand, Scahright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED, tame Goldfinch, in song and feather; must be guaranteed very tame and hand reared: Scott, c/o Wyman's Bookstall, Cirencester. (617)

WILL give the highest prices for any quantity of Norwich and Yorkshires; cash sent at once: Reynolds, Newham, Sithney, Helston, Cornwall. (621)

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.

WANTED Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, hen Canaries, and Mules, etc.; please state price: Thomas Hughes, Bird Merchant, 63, Saltley-rd., Birmingham.

WANTED, good large colour-fed Norwich, for cash, good prices paid, will deposit cash; please offer to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (604)

WANTED, good songster, standard pruning knife, garden fork, for cash, or exchange Bantams, racing homers, Leghorn cockerel: Badcock, Dugdale, Minchead. (610)

WANTED from reliable catcher weekly supply of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets; good price given: Apply, George Falcus, 24, High Friar-st., Newcastle-on-Tyne. (416)

WANTED off catchers, any quantity of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, etc., weekly; send your prices to: Geo. Osborne, Naturalist, Dudley-rd., Wolverhampton. (621)

WILL buy for cash any quantity hen Canaries, hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/3 each; cock Canaries, cock Goldfinch Mules; write, stating prices: Helyar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (621)

WANTED, Canaries, cock Goldfinches, exchange gooseberry, black and red currant bushes, raspberry canes, all 2 years old, sell 6d. each.—Seabrook, 31, St. Leonard's Road, Lowestoft. (618)

WANTED, Norwich or Yorkshire hen Canaries, give 2/- each; common hens, 1/6; hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/3 each; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cocks, 18/-: W. Perkins, 207, East-st., Walworth, London. (619)

WANTED for cash, Canaries, Mules, or Goldfinches, either sex; also have two nice dog puppies for sale; or exchange birds; and show collie; exchange birds: Merrington, 40, Besson-st., New Cross, London.

WANTED, all kinds Britishers, weekly, house-moulted Goldfinches, Mules, Canaries, cocks or hens, best prices in London paid, honest dealings, cash or deposit; stamp reply.—Hobbs, 141, King's Road, Camden Town, London. (610)

WANTED Canaries, British and Foreign birds, Parrots, monkeys, rabbits, cavies, tame mice, puppies, Toy dogs, Persian kittens, fancy pigeons, etc., and every variety of live stock; good prices given; prompt cash: Princess Livestock Emporium, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

WANTED, 50 Goldfinches, 50 Bullfinches, 50 Larks, 50 Siskins, 50 Canaries, 50 Rabbits, 50 Linnets; money by return of post; established over 20 years. Now, you catchers, hurry up: T. Green, 22, St. Michael-st., West Bromwich. (621)

GOLDFINCHES BULLFINCHES

Am open to buy any amount and pay top price; no fooling: Broxup, Stock-st., Burnley. (619)

WAN EO! WANTED! WANTED!

Reliable catchers to supply weekly all kinds of British birds, also cock Mules wanted for prompt cash:

SHAWS, 97, ESSEX ROAD, LONDON.

WANTED.

WANTED, CANARIES ALL BREEDS, British and Foreign Birds, Mules and Hybrids. Good prices paid. Send particulars of what you have, and price, to—WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.

CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

Wanted Wanted Wanted

Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins, Linnets, Chaffinches, Mules, and hen Canaries; will give the following prices: Goldfinches, 2/- a pair; Bullfinches, 2/- a pair; Siskins, 2/6 a pair; cock Linnets, 4/- dozen; hen ditto, 1/- a dozen; Chaffinches, cocks, 4/- a dozen; ditto hens, 1/- a dozen; cock Goldfinch or Linnet Mules, 5/- each; hen ditto, 1/6 each; Norwich and Yorkshire hens, 2/- each; any quantity of the above birds required; cash sent on receipt of birds; prompt payment; please note address: Albert Brown, 69, Sclater-st., Bethnal Green, London, E. (613)

WANTED

ALL VARIETIES OF

CANARIES

AND

BRITISH BIRDS.

Highest prices paid, and will deposit cash with Editor. Remember, 40 years same address. The largest breeder, exhibitor, exporter, and dealer in England.

JOE THOMAS,
AMBLER THORN, HALIFAX.

BEST BUYERS IN ENGLAND

of all varieties of Canaries and Mules for prompt cash; large or small quantities taken.

THIS IS GENUINE.

WRIGHT & SON,
84, HEATH ROAD, NORWICH.

CANARIES WANTED.

Will give HIGHEST PRICES for YORKSHIRES, NORWICH, BORDERS, CRESTS MULES, Etc., Etc, and WILL DEPOSIT CASH WITH EDITOR.

For many years I have bought large quantities of Canaries for export, and wishing to maintain my connection, I am now open to purchase large or small lots of any variety. Send price and full particulars. Remember, top prices paid and cash deposited.

H. GLEDHILL,
Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!
Wanted to Purchase!!
Wanted to Purchase!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London, E.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,
26, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

FOUR Norwich hen Canaries, sell or exchange good Yorkshire cock, or anything useful.—Wing, Empingham, Stamford. (620)

WANTED offers in Canaries for six purebred 1915 pullets, everlasting layers: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.

EXCHANGE buff Norwich hen for Roller cock, or pair Borders, or sell 8/6; yours first: Motion: 3, Dunlop-terr., Inverkeithing. (616)

TWO pairs of high-class Yorkshires for sale, cheap, or exchange for pure-bred rabbits and little cash: Edmunds, Berry Hill, Coleford, Glos. (619)

EXCHANGE extra Yorkshire hen, has reared 15 birds this season, also Mule, for good singing Yorkshire cock: Pritchard, Baker, Amlwch. (621)

EXCHANGE four pairs class Borders (cinnamons and cinnamon marks) for 1916 yellow Scotch Fancy cock; yours first: Linwood, Sandbank, Argyll. (621)

PAIR Borders, buff green cock, yellow cinnamon hen; exchange pair cinnamon Norwich, or exhibition British; approval: John Esplin, Bonnybridge, Scotland. (621)

EXCHANGE, Yorkshire cock, 1916, 7/6; Green Norwich hen, 3/6; exchange cock Goldfinch or Linnet to value; yours first: Withers, 12, Exmouth-st., London, W.C. (618)

LARGE Crestbred cock and large Norwich cock, 1915 bred, exchange for two good 1916 Yorkshire cocks, or sell 25/-; yours first: Robinson, 18, Garbutt-st., Shildon, Co. Durham. (621)

SALE, or exchange, 5 Yorkshire Canaries, 3 cocks 5/6 each, 2 hens 5/- each; good healthy birds, or exchange good healthy poultry: S. Eaton, No. 1, Red Row, Raunds, Wellingboro'. (622)

TWO Yorks. hens, yellow and buff, Ambler's, sell £1, exchange double breeders; hens, 1915 and 1916; cages must be new condition: Tucker, 16, North-st., Bufferland, Pembroke Dock. (618)

Mainly British.

OX-EYE Tits, show plumage, 2/- each, exchange yellow cock Budgerigar: Hood, East Harling, Norfolk. (617)

SPLENDID young cock Goldfinch Mule, singing nicely, 7/6: H. E. Farnell, 4, Great Hales-st., Market Drayton, Salop. (620)

EXCHANGE two pure 1916 Roller cocks, moulted, for exhibition British or Hybrids, sell 12/6 each: Hands, Etnam-st., Leominster. (618)

FOUR grand H.M. cock brown Linnets, grand time and quality singers, two have recently won at contest, 5/- each; Jopson, Newton Heath, Manchester.

HOUSE-moulted cock Bullfinch, perfect condition, sell 7/6, exchange cage-moulted cock Goldfinch: Robinson, 294, Station-rd., Winsford, Cheshire. (618)

Mainly Foreign.

EXCHANGE, splendid cock Red-Crested Cardinal, for cock Blackcap or Redstart: Humphries, 65, Crampton-rd., Penge, London. (618)

SPLENDID Amazon Parrot, most wonderful talker, good whistler and mimic, accept 50/-, with cage: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

YOUNG Green talking Parrot, with cage, in good health and feather, only 20/- the lot, or exchange four cock Mules or Canaries: G. Ingram, 54, Goulton-st., Hull. (618)

Miscellaneous.

EXCHANGE 12 records for three Yorkshire cocks: 76, Woodbine-st. East, Rochdale. (616)

GRAMOPHONE, cost £2 10/-, sell 25/-, or exchange Canaries to value.—Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres.

SPLENDID toned melodeon, 12/6; exchange anything: Banagan, 4, Off John-st., Chadderton, Oldham.

WORKMAN'S overcoat, 7/6; exchange Canaries or Goldfinches, birds first: Wild, 7, Ruby-st., Buslingthorpe, Leeds.

EXCHANGE, smooth Fox Terrier bitch, reg. pedigree, value 25/-, for Canaries; yours first: 48, Curzon-rd., Luton, Beds. (619)

EXCHANGE for Canaries, Scotch blankets, 28/-, lady's boots, misfits, 15/-: Wright, 11, Manneringrd., Shawlands, Glasgow. (620)

GENTLEMAN'S medium-size 8 day silver watch, perfect timekeeper, £1, or exchange: Hares, 14, Yorksquare, Richmond, Yorks. (620)

WILL exchange good stove and 6ft. chimney for Norwich or Crest, or sell £1: C. H. Booth, No. 5, Bishop-st., Sutton-in-Ashfield, Notts. (619)

EXCHANGE nine Norwich show cages, six Yorkshire show cages, one carrying box to carry four: J. Wilson, 27, West-av., Barnoldswick. (616)

PAIR felt-lined clogs, fours, new, 4s.; counter hook and eyelet machine dies, complete, new, 4/-; exchange: Howland, South Ockendon, Essex. (618)

WHAT offers in Roliers or class British, a lady's handsomely engraved 14-ct. solid gold watch, new; approval.—Steele, 80, Ordsall-lane, Salford. (621)

NORWICH and Yorkshire Canaries, both sexes; exchange gent's fawn rainproof coat, chest 42in., or offers: Brooks, 157, De Beauvoir-rd., London. (621)

EXCHANGE flight, 35 x 18 x 9, also pair Yorkshires, 12/6, for small black Pony, 10 months, clean: J. West, 59, East-av., Hetton-le-Hole, Co. Durham.

WAVERLEY book Canaries, British and Hybrids, new, value 25/-; what offers, Norwich or Yorkshires: Graham, 240, Gourlay-st., Springburn, Glasgow. (621)

GOOD gent's silver lever watch, double albert (hall marked), for good pair Norwich for breeding; no rubbish given or required: Leath, 166, High-st., Uxbridge. (617)

GAS fire, equal to new, complete with all fittings and flexible brass tubing, accept 25/-; set of pony harness, suit 12 hands, good condition, 30/-, exchange Canaries, anything: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (622)

BUFF Yorkshire hen, 3/-; cinnamon Norwich hen, 3/-; Silver Campine cockerels, Allan's strain, 5/- each; exchange British birds: Miss Brown, Manor House, Heacham, Lynn.

EXCHANGE No. 2 "Structator," good condition, for Norwich Canaries, either sex, to the value of 10/-, or would sell: N. Mayes, 93, Warwick-rd., Thornton Heath, Surrey. (614)

TWO singing Larks and cages, tin of breeding mealworms, 3 contest Linnets and cages, one hand-reared, exchange good Roller cock, on song; yours first: Hoyle, Wood-st., Barnsley. (618)

BOOK, Canaries, Hybrids, and British Birds, spotless, cost 22/6, accept 14/6; folding camera, military wrist watch, or something useful: Cadet Roder, 39, Tavistock Drive, Nottingham. (617)

EXCHANGE, piece Royal George cable, 50 years under water at Spithead, 14in. long, 26in. wide, for good Roller cock, singing, and mule Goldfinch: Clue, 140, Hyde Park-rd., Southsea. (619)

EXCHANGE, 18 double-sided new Regal records for good Schoolmaster Roller cock, and I would give a little cash as well; no rubbish wanted: J. White, 7, Tyndale-place, Islington, N. (618)

PURE-BRED Whippet pups, 3 dogs, 1 bitch, champion Shoby Whirlwind blood, £1 each, or exchange Canaries, or offers; best blood obtainable; approval: Barrett, 25, Beck-rd., Cambridge. (620)

WHAT offers in birds and cages, mostly British, or exchange anything useful for my greyhound dog, new rug and collar, or sell 50/-: Wm. Davies, 28, Ridge Balk-lane, Woodlands, nr. Doncaster. (614)

NOTICE.—We want Canaries, Linnets, Larks, Parrots, Poultry, Rabbits, anything for cash, or exchange, cutlery, plate, watches, boots, clothing, tools, etc.—Write, Smith Bros., 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (622)

PAIR of opera glasses, 5/-; pair field glasses, cost 70/- as new, 40/-; golf clubs and bag complete, good, 20/-; pair strong boots, size 8, 5/-; exchange entertained: Suelling, Decorator, Elm-rd., Kingston, Surrey. (618)

CLEARING out, 5 hen Canaries, 10/-; pair Green Budgerigars, 6/6; cock Goldfinch, house-moulted, 4/-; cock Linnet Mule, 10/-; 3 breeding cages, nearly new, 10/-; 6 small cages, 2/-: Howard, 4, Station-rd., Burnham Market, King's Lynn. (618)

EDISON latest standard phonograph and 62 latest records, as new, 32/6; and two new Roller singing cabinets, 7/- each, worth 12/- each; 3-compartment breeder and 3 singles, 7/- lot, or exchange for fresh or house-moulted good British: offers, stamp reply: Steele, 80, Ordsall-lane, Salford. (621)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Aquarium.

BITTERLING, Dogfish, Rockbass, Temperature Fish, Plants, Snails, Weeds, Aquariums, etc., etc.; list free; catalogue of aquariums and vivaria, 1d.: L. Cura and Sons, Bath Court, Warner-st., Clerkenwell-rd., London, E.C.

SHOWS.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

SCALE of CHARGES, which must be fully PREPAID

¼-inch 2/-, ½-inch 3/-, 1 inch 6/-

Except to "Guaranteed" Shows appearing in our "Dates Fixed" Column, which are charged at 5s. per inch and pro rata.

A reduction will be made for a Series of not less than Nine Weeks.

Secretaries desirous of "guaranteeing" a Show should apply for guarantee form to our Manager.

CAGE BIRDS, 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

DON'T FORGET

BARROW-IN-FURNESS RED CROSS SHOW

NOV. 3 and 4. Specialist judges, Mr. H. W. Battye (Canaries), Mr. C. Houlton (British and Mules). Patronage of B.F.C.C. and G.C.A. Classification: 13 Yorks, 13 Norwich, 3 Cinnamons, 22 Borders, 2 Scotch Fancy, 13 British and Mules, 1 Selling, 1 Gift. Specials galore, including £1 1s. for best exhibit. Don't forget to send your exhibits. The champions will not be here. 27 classes; guaranteed full prize money. Entries close October 28. Any entry bearing postmark of Oct. 29 will be accepted by—D. McFarlane, Hon. Sec., 26, Lord Robert Street, Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.

LEICESTER Hand-in-Hand C.B.S.

17th Annual Open Show, NOV. 4 and 6. Judges: H. W. Battye (Canaries), Chas. Houlton (British). Entries close Oct. 28. Schedules.—Day and Roberts, 28, Francis Street, Leicester.

BLAYDON-ON-TYNE C.B.S.

12th Annual Show of Canaries, Mules, Hybrids, and British Birds, in the United Methodist Free Church Schoolroom, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1916. 41 Classes under the patronage of the N.Y.C.C., N.N.P.C. Popular judges: T. Dixon, Bedlington; T. Robson, Newcastle; R. Tindale, Newcastle; and W. Espie, Gosforth. Send for schedule.—Geo. Havver, 1, Therese Street, Blaydon-on-Tyne.

Mice.

PAIR tame Japanese Mice and cage, 1/6: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne.

TAME white rats, young, 1/6 per pair; adults, 2/6 pair: Palmers, 352, Upper-st., Islington. (622)

DORMICE, 2/6 pair; wanted any quantity tame mice and Canaries: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (617)

WONDERFUL novelty, pair of tame performing mice and combination cage, with revolving wheel, complete lot, 3/-; tame fancy rats, harmless pets, 2/- per pair: Cooper, Naturalist, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c. they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Birte Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from LESLIE MARTYN, LTD, CHEMISTS, 34, OALSTON LANE, LONDON. Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free 1d Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

GRAND selection of healthy dogs and pups, no fancy prices, state wants to: Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (623)

TWO game Bull-Airedale dog puppies, seven weeks, 7/6 each; bitch, 6/-; parents tackle anything.—Roder, 35, Woolwich-rd., Charlton. (622)

BLACK white Terrier bitch, 10/-; slightly crossed black bitch puppy, 5/-; what offers?: Williamson, Mount Pleasant, Riddings, Alfreton. (618)

Pigeons.

PRIZE bred yellow and black Magpies, 7/- per pair, 5/- each: McLaren, Delves, Lanark.

PRIZE bred white Fantails, 10/- per pair; 7/- single; small bodied, circular tails, splendid action; also red, black, blue, lavender saddles: McLaren, Delves, Lanark.

Rabbits.

THOROUGHBRED white Angora buck, six months, 6s. 6d., groomed: 16, Heath-rd., Hounslow. (619)

LARGE selection of tame pet rabbits, 2/6, 3/6, and 5/- per pair; surplus stocks purchased: Princess Rabbitry, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (610)

Various.

EXPLOSIVE cigarette bombs, Itchykoo sneezing, 30 samples 2/4: Brition, Linwood-st., Manchester. (619)

RHEUMATISM positively cured; particulars forwarded free; address: Birks (D.E.), "Specialist," 35, Glenbank-place, Belfast. (593)

LADY'S 14-carat gold watch, gold dial, in perfect condition, £2, worth £3; gent's nickel-plated tobacco cartridge case, with patent filler attached, 5/-: 82, Nichols-sq., Hackney-rd., London, N.E.

PEACH'S Loom offers autumn decorations. Curtains, patent Imperial Hem and Contrenet Curtains from 6/3 per pair, casement fabrics, nets, muslins, cretonnes, linens, blankets, down quilts, green roller blinds; direct maker's prices means wonderful savings; full particulars in catalogue; write to-day: S. Peach and Sons, 150, The Looms, Nottingham.

LIVERPOOL

OCTOBER 20 and 21,

AT ST. MARTIN'S HALL, SCOTLAND ROAD.

Judges:—Battye, Barnes, Houlton, and Large.

IDEAL CLASSIFICATION FOR NOVICES

Post your entries to-day; we will classify. Every exhibit is judged by a specialist in its variety. Liberal prize-money; paid out day of show. Birds home on Saturday night. Come and see Lancashire's great show of Norwich.

GREEN AND METCALFE, 5, ROCKY LANE.

Landore & Plasmarl C.B.S.

ANNUAL SHOW will be held on SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1916.

Classes: Nor. 12, Yorks 12, Borders 9, Mules 4, British 10. Specials galore.

Judges: Canaries, Mr. J. Hockings. Hybrids and British, Mr. J. E. Jeffrees.

If not yet received a schedule, please apply to Hy. Fry and Alf. Hitchings, 22, Plasmarl Terrace, Plasmarl, nr. Swansea. Entries definitely close on Monday, October 23, 1916.

CHELTENHAM OPEN SHOW

NOVEMBER 1st and 2nd, 1916.

Judges:—Messrs. J. ROBSON, H. BATTYE, and J. H. PAYNE.

Open Classes—Crests 15, Norwich 13, Yorks 8, Borders 9, A.O.V. I. British 7, Hybrids 4, Foreign 6, Selling 4.

Schedules will be sent to last year's exhibitors; others please apply to the—

SHOW MANAGER—J. MADAGAN, 4, QUEEN'S PARADE, CHELTENHAM.

All Profits will be given to the Cheltenham Hospital.

SHEFFIELD O.S.

ANNUAL OPEN SHOW, NOVEMBER 3rd and 4th.

ALL PROFIT FOR THE BENEFIT OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

Magnificent classification in all varieties, and specials galore. 17-Guinea Rose Bowl, for best unflighted Yorkshire; 10-Guinea Trophy for most points gained by any Yorks. exhibitors outside the county of York.

Silver Cup for best unflighted Crest or Crestbred, etc.

Emu's Egg mounted in silver (gift from Sydney), for most points Foreign.

Artistic model from Oporto, for 2nd most points Foreign.

Valuable Specials in all other varieties.

For particulars see Schedule. Have you got one?

If not, write at once to—E. C. JOB, WINCOBANK, SHEFFIELD.

DON'T FORGET

NEWCASTLE

to-day, Oct. 21st, Town Hall, 9 a.m. to 8.30 p.m., in aid of Red Cross Funds.

HERE WE ARE.

Manchester & Northern Counties O.S.

34th ANNUAL SHOW

ON OCT. 27th & 28th.

HURRY UP.

Entries close October 21st post mark, to

J. Owen, 4, Johnson Street, Bradford, Manchester.

[illegible] AND EAST OF SCOTLAND N.M.B. & F.B.I.D CLUBS.

26th Annual Club Show, 28th Oct., 1916, in Temperance Halls, 122, Ingram Street. Crystal Palace and Scottish National winners entered.—M. Craig, Sec.

NORTH YORKS & SOUTH DURHAM

Federation of C.B. Societies. 1st Open Show, NOV. 4, 1916, at West Hartlepool. 55 classes. Judges: T. Wright, J. Simeson, C. Waters. Entries close October 30. Schedules from Show Secs., Watson & Wright, 32, Ashgrove Avenue, West Hartlepool. (606)

Fanciers, don't forget our Heroes, and enter at

BLAENAVON

SHOW, NOV. 9th.

Every exhibit will get our care and attention.

Judge, J. H. Roe. 41 Classes.

Drop postcard for Schedules from—Geo. Broome, 82, King Street, Blaenavon.

MUIRKIRK

Open Show November 11th. Cage Bird entries close November 7th. Judge, D. Whitelaw, Esq., Govan. 10 Border Fancy classes; 2 British Birds. Proceeds for War Relief Fund. Schedules from—J. G. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.

EDINBURGH & EDINBURGH WESTERN JOINT SHOW will be held in Buccleuch Parish Hall, Buccleuch Street, on Sat., October 28th.—Joint Secretaries, R. Lile and A. Weston.

BRECHIN

OPEN SHOW.

First in Scotland. NOV. 4. Grand classification. Judges: Norwich, Calderwood; Borders, Clark (Irvine); British, McLean (Larkhall). Schedules from—John Dalgety, Sec., 10, River Street, Brechin.

NOW FOR

HANLEY

OPEN SHOW, NOVEMBER 9th, 1916.

GOOD CLASSIFICATION.

Judge, W. A. Cowgill.

Apply—C. Beckett, Sec., High Street, Far Green, Hanley. (520)

ARDWICK

AND MANCHESTER DISTRICT C.B.A. OPEN SHOW, NOVEMBER 11, 1916.

Under the Patronage of the N.P.C., Y.C.C., N.B.B. and Mule C., and L. and L.F.A.

Several classifications; no cancelling or amalgamation.

Prize-money, 10/-, 5/-, 3/-, and 2/-.

ALL PROFITS TO BE GIVEN TO THE BLIND SOLDIERS' FUND.

Entry Fee, 1/6.

Judges: C. A. House, Esq., and J. Beswick, Esq.

Schedules from—A. E. Thorpe, Park Villas, Park Grove, Levenshulme. (619)

ABERDARE & DISTRICT CAGE BIRDS' SOCIETY

Look out for the Great Welsh Open Bird Show of Cage Birds, to be held at the Market Hall, Aberdare, on Thursday, Dec. 7, 1916. 86 Classes. Judges: J. H. Payne, Gloucester; E. J. Davies, Cardiff. Schedules out shortly.—J. M. Shelby-James, Trevor Street, Aberdare, Sec.

EAST LOTHIAN C.B.S.

Great Red Cross Show (open), Nov. 11th, 1916, in Corn Exchange, Haddington. Judges: J. Patterson, W. Thomson, J. Holmes, J. Livingston. Classes: Scotch Fancies 9, Borders 12, Norwich 12, British and Foreign 14. Prizes, 10/-, 5/-, 2/6. Entry money, 1/6. Entries close on Tuesday, Nov. 7th. Schedules to be had from—J. Fairgrieve, Sec., 10, Hope Park, Haddington. (616)

Clapham Opens the Show Season.

A FINE ARRAY OF OVER SIX HUNDRED BIRDS.

The Ninth Annual Show of the Clapham C.B.A. was held at St. Anne's Hall, Clapham Common, Oct. 11 and 12. The exhibition was a decided success, the entry being in excess of what the committee anticipated, consequently it was somewhat late in the day before the judging was completed, but catalogues with awards were on sale soon afterwards. A gathering of birds numbering well over six hundred is a practical proof of the interest still being taken in the hobby; this number is nearly double that of last year, and quite good for any society in these times. Norwich, Yorkshires and Borders were the mainstay of the Canary section, and some of the examples of these varieties were certainly tip-top. Among the winners were such well-known names as Messrs. Houghton, Rippon, Huttou, Burt, Lovegrove, etc. The adult cock class contained 23 birds, and the unflighted 27. In the latter, Mr. Rippon, of Chelmsford, staged the three leaders, all good birds, but we think the winner was the least fancied of the three, for although a good bird, it scarcely had the high-class appearance of the others. The Novice Classes filled well, the unflighted numbering 35.

In the Yorkshire section the average entry per class did not equal that of the Norwich which is contrary to the usual way round London, but the quality was all right. The classification provided three unflighted classes, and the response was only moderate, many exhibitors thinking that it was quite early enough for a class for unflighted hens, though we did not hear any doubts expressed about the winners.

There was quite a nice collection of Borders, type and quality being particularly well represented in the winners. Among the exhibitors were:—Messrs. G. Bennet, of Kelso, and McLaughlin, of Whitehaven, whose birds arrived in good condition, Mr. Bennet won well in the two cock classes, and Mrs. Last in both Yellow and Buff Hens, with two charming specimens.

Mr. T. J. Rose once more managed the clerical work which was rendered particularly arduous in consequence of the lateness of some of the entries; the duties of honorary secretaries might be materially lessened if exhibitors would be a little more considerate. In his effort to keep up to the mark he was really assisted by the Show Committee consisting of the following well-known fanciers:—Messrs. Allen, Clarke, Cooper, Greenland, Maxwell, Phillips, Silverthorne, Taylor and Yeoman. The judges were Mr. J. Robson, Canaries and Hybrids, Mr. John Frostick British and Foreign. The show was opened by the Mayor and Mayoress of Wandsworth.

MR. ROBSON'S CLASSES.

THE NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.

NOR. CK (23): 1, c, Hutton, a buff of wonderful subs. and qual. of feather, good bold head and capital wings, a shade too fat which spoilt the outline, otherwise in grand cond.; 2, Cole, hot coloured yellow, nice size and style, well proportioned, nice head and wings, sound qual.; 3, Burt, charming buff, greatly admired, not a "whopper," but beautifully proportioned, well built on real Norwich lines, lovely condn, teeming with quality, hard to find fault with; r, Houghton, another beauty, shade wider in skull, but scarcely so nicely proportioned nor so well fined down, still a grand one; vhc, Rippon; hc, Wade. HEN (13): 1, Lovegrove, grand rich trio yell., fine subs., good bold head, full neck, capital wings, full of quality; 2, hc, Burt, typical buff, lovely qual., shade on the small side, but still good, neat head and wings; 3, Houghton, very fine bird, bold full head and neck, nice cone-shape body, good wings, might have gone up; 4, Collier, big buff, good style, well built, capital qual. of feather; vhc, Hutton; c, Rippon. VARIEG (13): 1, Houghton, beautiful wing-marked yell., grand size, bold head on good short neck, capital back and wings, neat tail full of qual; 2, Chappell, wing and head mkd. buff, looks like a nice beauty for size and type, capital head and wing, sound cond.; 3, Frost and Rogers, nice yell., somewhat smaller, but well put together and nicely proportioned, good col. and qual.; 4, Teasdale, big buff, capital type, good head and wings, scarcely the quality of winner, and wants time; vhc, Rippon; hc, Collier; c, Noyce. UNFLIG (27): 1, 2, 3, Rippon, bear a bold buff, grand full body and good qual., but scarcely so nicely proportioned as 2nd, a lovely yell. that looks like making a champion, quite the type, good in col. and qual.; 3, charming variegated buff, beautifully lilled in all round, teeming with qual.; 4, Houghton, typical nice size, neat head and wings, sound condn.; vhc, Smithers; hc, Lovegrove; c, Collier. YORKS, YELL. COCK (12): 1 King, grand length and pos., beautifully balanced, capital wings, sound col. and qual.; 2, Frost and Rogers, very smart, good length, neat head and wing, nicely drawn, hot col., fine cond.; 3, Clarke, fine length and style, nicely proportioned, scarcely so cleanly cut as winners, nice cond.; 4, Hutton, grand length, nicely balanced and moulded, smart bird; vhc, Holliday; hc, Fairman; c, Yates. BUFF CK. (12): 1, Beaumont, lovely cl., grand length and style, well up on legs, good wings and tail, neat head and neck, lovely qual.; 2, Heath, good clear, fine size, nicely proportioned, good head, well braced wings, sound cond.; 3, Mrs. Holliday, fine length and style, well balanced, good length of legs, smart wings, sound qual.; 4, Fairman, smart bird, nicely balanced, capital length of body, fails a bit in head, otherwise good; vhc, Gibbons; hc, Clarke; c, Miss Wright. YELL. HEN (5): 1, 2, Yates, beauties, the winner fine length, with grand shoulders, stiff straight bird, capital qual.; 2, similar, hardly so clearly cut, but quite a Yorkie; 3, Heath, lovely cl., nicely moulded throughout, neat head, shoulders and wings, capital pos.; 4, Beaumont, shade smaller and scarcely so nicely fined down, still a good one. BUFF (10): 1, Mrs Holliday, charming, beautifully moulded, fine length and style, tips wings occasionally, otherwise quite good; 2, Cundy, neat, fine length and style, stands well, good wings and tail, shade down in col.; 3, King, we thought somewhat lucky, a nice bird, but better behind it; 4, Clarke, big clean cut bird, although shade full in build, neat head and wings, nice qual.; vhc, Heath; hc, Lloyd; c, Hutton, good enough to be up with the leaders. VARIEG (9): 1, Clarke, fine big bird, capital length and style, neat head, good shoulders and wings, A1 qual.; 2, Frost and Rogers, lovely wing mkd. yell., nice length, good pos. and style, capital shoulders; 3, Gibbons, fine yell. upstanding, good length of wings, neat head, nice qual.; 4, vhc, King, good buff, smart bird, capital wings, good qual.; hc, W. R. King; c, Lloyd. UNFLIG. YELL. (11): 1, Clarke, splendid specimen, grand length and style, beautifully moulded and balanced, tip-top cond.; 2, hc, Fairman, very racy thigh-tkd, typical, neat wings and tail, capital qual.; 3, Yates, lengthy, well up on legs, neat head, good wings, beaten in cond.; 4, Beaumont, good length, just a suspicion of frill and scarcely so stiff as winners, still a real Yorkie; vhc, Heath; c, Miss Wright. BUFF (14): 1, Fulford, wonderful length and style, beautifully moulded and finished, quite the correct thing; 2, hc, Mrs. Holliday, lovely type, stylish and smart, good length, neat wings, A1 qual.; 3, Hutton, close up, grand length, beautifully moulded, wonderful length of wings for a youngster, grand qual.; vhc, c, Miss Wright. HEAVILY MKD. (3): 1, Fairman, good var. yell., nice type and qual., clean cut; 2, Yates, foul-wing green, grand length, capital wing carr., lovely qual.; 3, Jeffrey, variegbuff, nice type, good length of side. UNFLIG. HEN (16): 1, Clarke, real good yell., nicely proportioned, well up on leg, smooth front, fine condn; 2, Mrs. Holliday, lovely buff, beautifully drawn, good shoulders and back, A1 cond.; 3, Last, fine big buff, grand length of side, neat head and wings, good qual. feather; vhc, Montague; hc, Fairman; c, Lloyd.

THE "WEE GEMS."

YELL. CK. (6): 1, Bennet, charming, beautifully moulded and filled in, lovely head, well braced wings, condn; 2, Elston, good cl., scarcely so nicely moulded, but good head and wings and capital qual.; 3, Philpot, nicely balanced, neat head and wings, fine cond.; 4, Bacon, close up, typical, good qual.; vhc, Montague; hc, Page. BUFF (10): Bennet, grand bird, modelled to perfection, beautifully balanced, lovely qual.; 2, vhc, Hewitt, grand cl., jaunty, nice type, neat head and wings, lovely cond.; 3, Last, grand unflig., headtkd., beautifully moulded and balanced, good head, back and wings, sound col.; 4, Bacon, good cl., stylish and typical, nice qual.; hc, Philpot; c, Elston. HEN (11): 1, Last, charming, hard to find fault with, typical, smart, full of qual., lovely condn.; 2, hc, Philpot, very fine buff, nice size, well moulded, good head, back and wings, A1 qual.; 3, Bacon, very smart yell., correctly built, clean cut, well braced wings, deserves her position; vhc, Page; c, Potton. VARIEG (4): 1, Last, charming tail-mkd., cleanly built, neat head, good front, grand wings, tip-top qual.; 2, 3, Elston, good ones, feather mkd. head and wings, nice type and style; 4, Bennet, nicely balanced bird, neat head and wings, A1 qual. UNFLIG. (8): 1, Elston, very fine cl. buff, typical, neatly put together, capital wings, good qual.; 2, Last, beautifully moulded, well braced wings, grand qual., lovely type, jaunty style, good wings, capital condn.; 4, Bacon, smart bird, good style, nicely moulded, should improve; vhc, Page; hc, Potton; c, Montague.

THE NOVICE CLASSES.

NOV. CK. (24): 1, vhc, Bailey, a real good one, capital size, nicely proportioned, good wings, sound in col., but a shade too fat, still a winner; 2, 3, Cannon, nice ones, 1st, hot col. buff, fine size and type well filled in; 3, yell., quite long enough, good head and wings, fine qual.; 4, Paterson, buff, nice type, good subs., neat head; hc, Knight; c, Huggins. HEN (17): 1, 2, Gedge beauties grand type and style, well filled, nicely proportioned, A1 qual.; 3, Patterson, nice cobby yell., neat head and wings, well filled back, capital cond.; 4, Wilson, nice yell., shade on the long side, good head and wings, sound qual. VARIEG. (10): 1, Clemence, very fine Buff, good type, full of qual., bold head and neck, sound col., and cond.; 2, 3, Cannon, real bold front, good wings, scarcely so well finished as winner; 4, c, Greenland, lovely non-fed yell., short, thick set, good subs., capital wings; vhc, Smith; hc, Taylor. UNFLIG. (35): 1, vhc, Hepwood, capital yell., good type and subs., nicely proportioned, smart wings, rare qual.; 2, Cannon, wing-mkd. buff, scarcely so short, but good subs. full head and capital wings; 3, Kerr, very nice buff, typical, well proportioned, fine qual.; 4, Bloomfield, thick set buff, good size, neat head and wings, sound cond.; hc, Wilson; c, Thurley. YORKS. YELL. CK. (11): 1, Smart, cheek-tkd., fine length, good style, well up on leg, neat wings and tail, A1 qual.; 2, Hannaford, big cl., bold and upstanding, good length of leg, neat wings, sound cond.; 3, c, Nason, very fine cl., nicely drawn and moulded, good pos., hot col.; 4, Huggins, cl., fine length and style neat wings, nice qual.; vhc, Raine; hc, Yeoman. BUFF (15): 1, Andrews, smart and upstanding, fine length, shade weak in head, but quite a Yorkie, sound cond.; 2, Bevan, big cl., fine length, capital head and wings, good legs, sound cond.; 3, Huggins, excellent cl., good pos. and style, smart wings, A1 qual.; 4, Davitt, fine length, good head and wings, scarcely so clean at waist as winners, still useful; vhc, Bonniwell; hc, Trustrell; c, Beavington. YELL. HEN (8): 1, Brown, nicely drawn and moulded, fine qual.; 2, Kerwood, capital length of wings, neat head; 3, Huggins, nice style and type, good shoulders and back, neat wings; 4 Bevan, smart, neatly moulded, fine cond.; vhc, Sheldon; hc, Allen; c, Huggins. BUFF (13): 1, Brown, good length, stylish, good pos., neat head, and wings, lovely qual.; 2, Raine, another good one, capital length, good shoulders and back, nicely cut away; 3, Nason, smart and upstanding, nice length of side, good qual.; 4, Howick, typical, good size, well built, neat head and wings; vhc, Parker; hc, Bonniwell; c, Knight. VARIEG. (13): 1, Howick, splendid wing-mkd. yell., capital type, neatly built, good length of wings, sound qual.; 2, Raine, good buff, fine length, well up on leg, neat head and wings, fine cond.; 3, Hannaford, grand wing-mkd. buff, stylish, capital length, good shoulders, neat wings and tail; 4, Beavington, wing and head mkd., buff, good proportions, closely fitting wings, sound cond; vhc, Huggins; hc, Knight; c, Huggins, H. L. UNFLIG. (19): 1, Gilbert, very fine cl. yellow, stylish, good length of wings, neat head, sound cond.; 2, Pritchard, lovely cl., fine pos., nicely cut away, good legs, well braced wings; 3, Sheldon, cl. smart, clean cut, good length of side, fine cond.; 4, hc, Westrip, real good one, nicely balanced and moulded, grand wings, fine qual.; vhc, Brown; c, Rosser. BUFF (19): 1, Knight, (we could not find); 2, Howick, big cl., good length and nicely proportioned, neat head and neck, well braced wings, A1 cond.; 3, Sheldon, very smart and stylish, beautifully drawn, capital wings and tail, boxy feather; 4, Miss Garland, capital length and style, good legs, neat wings and tail; vhc, Gilbert; hc, Westrip; c, Andrews. HEAVILY-MKD. (3): 1, Pritchard, very smart, upstanding, good length, capital shoulders, A1 qual.; 2, Bevan, fine length, nicely drawn, sound cond.; 3, Howick, rare size, good bold bird, capital qual. HEN (7): 1, Bonniwell, big yell, fine length, inclined to tip wings, but quite a Yorkie; 2, Hannaford, yell., lovely qual., stylish, good length of side; 3, Dr. Huggins, very clean cut yell., neat build, capital wings, A1 quality; 4, Westrip, stylish, good length of side; vhc, Sheldon; hc, Miss Garland; c, Phillips. BORD., CK. (10): 1, Thomas, beautifully moulded, particularly good in head, neat, well fitting wings; 2 Williams, smart, nicely balanced, good head and wings, full front, lovely qual.; 3, Pegg, stylish, nice type, good pos., A1 cond.; 4, Denyard, typical, nicely proportioned, well filled in, neat wings, sound cond.; vhc, Madagan; hc, Hutchinson; c, Daniels. HEN (8): 1, Denyard, neat, nicely moulded, beautifully drawn to a good tail, capital wings, full of qual.; 2, Daniels, smart, nice pos., neat head and wings, fine qual.; 3, Williams, very typical, jaunty and free neat head, capital wings and tail; 4, Pegg, smart, nice qual. feather; vhc, Hutchinson; hc, Kybert; c, Thomas. VARIEG. (6): 1, Westrip (we could not find); 2, Pegg, neat, good size, nicely proportioned, fine qual.; 3, Kybert, lovely Chun-mkd., capital type and style, full of qual.; 4, Williams, good cl., fine type and qual., smart wings; vhc, Thomas. UNFLIG. (7): 1, Kybert, neatly put together, good head and wings, fine cond.; 2, Hutchinson, smart wings and tail, well filled in, nice qual.; 3, Pegg, neat yell., fine type, beautifully proportioned, smart wings; 4, Madagan, a champion exhibitor, evidently entered here in error; vhc, Williams; hc, Bolam; c, Richardson CREST or C.B. (3): 1, 2, Fellows; 3, Taylor. LIMIT NOR. (13): 1, 2, Clemence; 3, c, Montague; 4, Frost and Rogers; vhc, Smithers; hc, Wilmot. YORKS. (2): 1, Andrews. BORD. (4): 1, Elston; 2, Bennet; 3, Richardson; 4, Montague. BRIT. (4): 1, 2, Bancroft; 3, Reed FOR. (4): 1, Goodall; 2, 3, Reed; 4, Wade.

THE HYBRID SECTION.

CL. etc. (2): 1, Bastock, a lovely two pointed, capital size and qual., should hold its own in keen competition. VARIEG. (7): 1, Lamb, grand lightly-mkd. bird, shapely, capital size, full of qual., fine cond.; 2, 4, Snow, two capital birds; 4 pointed, leading, grand shape and style, rare qual.; 3, Jeffreys, good lightly-mkd., shade small, but nicely proportioned, fine qual.; vhc, Howard and Son; hc, Vale. DARK (13): 1, Jeffreys, fine, bold Gold. Can., plenty of subs., good touch of blaze, well coloured throughout, capital qual.; 2, vhc, Cooper, hold Linnet, typical, nicely proportioned, sound rich col., full of qual.; 3, Vale, big non-fed Linnet, rare type and size, not fit yet; 4, Ramsey, smart Goldie, nice qual. feather; hc, Saunders; c, Snow. A.O.V., DK. (8): 1, 3, Emerson and Winstone, lovely Green. Can., plenty of subs., rare type, nicely proportioned, fine qual. and col.; 3, Smart Siskin, sound col. and markings; 2, Goodall, well-known Redpoll, as fit as ever; 4, hc, Cooper, nice Greenie, sound col. and qual. BUFF. GREENF. and CHAFF. (5): 1, 2, 4, Lamb, well-known team, all in fine cond.; 3, Howick, Canary-Bullie, not looking his best yet. A.O. 2 BRIT. (3): 1, Pearce.

THE BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS.

Judge: Mr. John Frostick.

The executive may be congratulated for their pluck in offering such an extensive classification for British and Foreign birds in these troublesome times, and the resulting entry was entirely satisfactory to all concerned. It is true that Clapham has held bigger shows of British and Foreign when the prize money offered was on a more liberal scale, and all the classes guaranteed, and although some of the classes might have been better filled, others, like the Redpolls with 22, the Bramblefinches 13, and the Hen class with 16 entries, left nothing to be desired, and the genial Hon. See with his efficient committee were well pleased that their efforts had brought together a really excellent collection. Grumbling was conspicuous by its absence, and everybody seemed happy and contented.

All the arrangements were well forward, and judging commenced promptly at 9 o'clock, but, owing to late arrivals, was not finished until the time of opening. Even then all the exhibits had not arrived, it being nearly 5 o'clock before Mr. Hailstone's Clough landed from Sheffield; this was a pity, for it would have run the winning Waxwing a close race for premier honours.

Some magnificent teams of British birds were staged by Messrs. H. J. Chick, W. H. Raven and W. Francis. In the Foreign section the Hon. Mrs. McLaren Morrison and Mr. C. T. Maxwell were responsible for the major part of the entries.

Amongst those from a distance who visited the show we noticed the Hon. Mrs. McLaren Morrison, Berkhampstead; the Rev. and Mrs. Raynor, Maldon. Mr. John Andrews, Woodbridge; Mr. J. Bastock, Birmingham; F. Knight, Bristol; J. Howard, Norwich; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grossmith, Bickley; Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Rattigan, Montgomeryshire; and Mr. R. J. Watts, Huntingdon.

GOLDF. (10): 1, sp, Clark, bonny Finch, large square-cut blaze, wonderful col., rich chestnut breast, nicely marked wings, clear win; 2, hc, Cooper, good col., beautiful qual., not so forward; 3, Raven, paler in col.; 4, Reynolds, nicely cut face, wants time; vhc, Wilmot; c, Richards. LINNET (11): 1, Bancroft, large, wonderfully deep col. bird, grand wing bars, looks like an old favourite; 2, vhc, Francis, equally large, beautifully pencilled, grand shape, beaten only in col.; 3, Pitt, excellent specimen, but not quite so good in throat and breast marking; 4, Nicholas, not quite ready, will improve; hc, Major; c, Raven. SISKIN, ETC. (22): 1, 2, 3, sp, Raven, an achievement to be proud of; 1st, a real topping Siskin, grand col. and markings, fine dense black cap and bib; 2nd, lovely Twite, rare size and col.; 3rd, sp, Redpoll, one of the best, beautifully filled in breast col., nice bib, full of work; 4, Francis, Mealy Redpoll, only one in the class, a monster for size, good col.; vhc, Nicholas (Twite); hc, Saunders (Siskin); c, Cooper (Redpoll). CHAFFINCH (7): 1, sp, Chick, rare size, rich col., a champion all over; 2, 3, Francis, beauties, but lacking the col. of winner; 4, c, Cooper, not quite the finish of leaders; vhc, Vale; hc, Nicholas, a good hen. BRAMBLEF. (13): 1, 2, Chick, two magnificent birds, rightly at the top of one of the best classes seen for years; leader, great size and rich col.; 2nd, hardly the size, but equal in col., marvellous spangling; 3, Raven, a "good-'un," but not quite the density of markings; 4, Thompson, could win in many classes; vhc, Osborne; hc, Vale; c, Bastock. GREENF. (6): 1, 2, 3, Francis, leader rich yell., cond. like wax; 2nd, a buff, bigger, and naturally not the col.; 3rd, also a buff, nice, but not equal condition, all well staged; 4, Pitt; vhc, Cooper; hc, Birch. BULLF. (6): 1, sp, Wilmot, grand Bullie, looks like an old stager, steady as a rock, very rich col. breast, fine cap, wins well; 2, Checksfield, another good one, but lacks the richness of col.; 3rd, Reynolds, good hen in nice condition; 4, Francis; vhc, Cooper; hc, Beavington. HAWFINCH (4): 1, sp, 4, Francis, monster for size, fine col., well shown and steady; 2, Raven, bonny bird, rich in col., trifle smaller; 3, Parker, really fine specimen, but had lost the flights in left wing, which spoilt its chances. YELLOW BUNTING (2) where have all the Buntings gone to? That special classes made for such popular favourites as these and A.O.S. Hardbill only yielded two entries each is a mystery; 1, Chick, nice col.-fed bird markings not so distinct as might be; 2, Knight, natural col. A.O.S. HARDBILL (2): 1, Chick, Corn Bunting, fine size, col. and marking, fit to win in any class; 2, Cheadle, another Corn Bunting, but considerably behind winner. HENS (16): 1, Chick, delightful Hawfinch, in a word—perfection; 2, Macpherson, very brilliant Corn Bunting, leaving nothing to be desired; 3, vhc, Raven, one of the best col. Brambles we have seen, and a good Hawfinch; 4, Checksfield, sweet little Siskin, beautifully marked; hc, Knight (Bramble); c, Jeffreys (Corn Bunting). INSECTIV., SMALL (9): 1, sp, Maxwell, really tip-top Nightingale, rare size and col., steady, beautifully staged; 2, vhc, Chick, magnificent large Wheatear in exquisite order, rich col. and well staged; vhc, Redstart, excellent bird, nicely frosted; 3, Vale, probably the best Blackcap ever staged, a real beauty, in full song; 4, Staines, most excellent Yellow Wagtail, natural col., steady and well put down; hc, Goodall, most interesting Nuthatch, suitably caged with the bark of trees to show off his acrobatic movements; c, Mrs. Huggins, a good pair of Bearded Tits. A Spotted Flycatcher (No. 3) was shown in this class, presumably a hand-reared bird, as it was ringed on one leg, but the plumage was not quite perfect enough to get recognition in such a fine class. LARGE (6): 1, Richards, Waxwing, well-known winner, beautiful wing markings, nice col. and fair size; 2, 4, Vale, fascinating Jackdaw and Jay, latter not quite ready; 3, Parker, good Blackbird. PARROTS (5): 1, sp, 2, 3, Maxwell, grand team, well shown, comprising rare Masked and Hooded Parrakeets, and ornamental Lorikeet, in order named; 4, Hon. Mrs. McLaren Morrison, good Pennant's Parrakeet; vhc, Mrs. Dudley-Hill Green-cheeked Amazon, well-known winner, but out classed here. LOVEBIRDS (4): 1, 2, 3, 4, Maxwell, magnificent quartette, Peachfaced—quickly claimed at catalogue price, £5—Black-cheeked, Madagascar, and Red-faced, all beautifully staged to perfection. BUDGERIGARS (5): 1, Wade, clinking good Green cock, fine size, rich greens and dense markings, steady, and well shown; 2, Maxwell, Yellows, pair, rather slack in condition; 3, Mrs. Hay, nice pair Greens, not so good in col. or markings as winner. COMMON WAXBILLS, ETC. (3): 1, Maxwell, glorious pair of Fire-finches, quickly claimed at £2 15s.; 2, Hon. Mrs. McLaren Morrison, excellent pair of Lavender Finches; 3, Mrs. Huggins, nice cock Fire-finch. A.O.S. WAXBILLS, ETC. (4): 1, 2, Maxwell, lovely pairs of Red Gouldians and Bar-breasted Fire-finches, beautifully shown; 3, Mrs. McLaren Morrison, nice Red-headed Finch. BUNTINGS, WEAVERS, ETC. (6): 1, 2, Maxwell, rare Crimson-ringed and Jackson's Whydahs, both in full colour and plumage; 3, Wade, Crimson-crowned Weaver, in beautiful condition; 4, ho, Mrs. McLaren Morrison, pair Paradise Whydahs, not shown to advantage, and a Rainbow Bunting in rough feather. INSECT OR HONEY-EATING, ETC. (2): 1, 2, Mrs McLaren Morrison, rare Black-breasted Sunbird and Yellow-winged Sugarbird, both in fair condition.

ACCRINGTON.

Accrington C.B.S. annual open show of Norwich Canaries, Crown Hotel, Oct. 14-16, met with the usual success. About 120 birds faced the judge, Mr Trengove, of Rishton, whose awards were well received. The catalogues were complete with awards a few minutes after last bird was judged, and all birds were sent away in good time. Prize-money was paid to all exhibitors present, of whom there was a good muster.

YELL. CK. (12): 1, Grainger, cl., good head, nice shape, red-hot; 2, sp., Crawshaw, wing and eye mkd., nice qual., good shape; 3, sp., Peters, big one, good feather and shape; 4, sp., Davis, extra good var., nice shape, not very well staged or would have been higher; vhc, Spencer; hc, Lingard; c, Beswick. BUFF (13): 1, 3, Hartup, former good size, well up in chest and feather, 3rd nice head and good shape, beaten in size; 2, Seed, hot col., good head and feather, close up; 4, T. Lingard; vhc, sp., Crawshaw; hc, Huggins; c, Lingard. HEN (9): 1, Peters, big buff, grand qual. and shape, easy win; 2, Fildes, yell., nice head, extra good qual. and bloom; 3, Fielding, yell., more subs., beaten in feather; 4, Crawshaw; vhc, Fildes; hc, Hirst; c, Beswick. UNFLIG. YELL. (9): 1, Grainger, red-hot, good shape and feather, rather small; 2, vhc, T. Lingard, nice head, good feather, more size, beaten in col.; 3, Peters, cl., nice shape, close up; 4, Fielding; hc, Hirst; c, Mitchell. BUFF (15): 1, 3, vhc, Hirst, 1st cl., nice feather, type and qual., 3rd nice head, full neck, good type; 2, Crawshaw, wing and eye mkd., grand feather and qual.; 4, Fielding; c, Dornan. UNFLIG. HEN (14): 1, vhc, Crawshaw, 1st tkd. buff, grand shape, nicely mealed, full of bloom; 2, Peters, cl., nice shape, good qual.; 3, Huggins, cinn. mkd. yell., full of col., nice shape; 4, Lingard; hc, Cook and Son; c, Beswick. AMAT., YELL. CK. (8): 1, Chippendale, teeming with qual. and col.; 2, Rushton, nice head, full neck and chest; 3, sp., Dickinson, good size and shape, beaten in feather; 4, Thornton; vhc, Lambert; hc, Parkinson; c, Dean. BUFF (9): 1, Dickinson, good col., nice shape and feather; 2, Broxup, plenty size, good bird; 3, Catlow, grand type, feather and qual., beaten in size; 4, Dean, rare good bird, beaten in feather; vhc, sp., Sharrock; hc, Aspden; c, Haigh. HEN (12): 1, Watts, cl. buff, nice feather, good qual. and type, found a purchaser; 2, Dickinson, cl. yell., nice feather; 3, Catlow, buff, nice shape, good feather; 4, sp., c, Dean; vhc, Thornton; hc, Cook and Son. UNFLIG. (18): 1, Rushton, nice cobby shape; 2, Dean, yell. var., good head and neck, close up; 3, Culverley, full chest, good feather; 4, c, Parkinson; vhc, Watts; hc, Noble.

(Shows continued on page 626.)

"PIGEONS"

The only paper dealing solely with Show and Fancy Pigeons.

Coloured Plates a Special Feature.
The Rabbit, Cat and Cavy Paper,

"FUR & FEATHER"

The only Paper devoted to these subjects
Every Friday 2d. Send Postcard for Specimen.

Offices: Idle, Bradford, Yorks

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

Oct. 20-21.—Liverpool O.S.—(Green and Metcalfe, 5, Rocky Lane). H.W.B., J.C.B., G.L., C.H.

Oct. 27-28.—Manchester and N.C.O.S.—(J. Green, 4, Johnson St., Bradford, Manchester.) H.W.B., B.C., J.G., C.H.

Nov. 1-2.—Cheltenham C.B.S. (A. L. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terrace.) J.R., H.W.B., J.H.P.

Nov. 3-4.—Sheffield O.S.—(E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.) J.R., W.A.C., J.C.B., J.F.

Nov. 3-4.—Barrow Red Cross Show (D. McFarlane, 26, Lord Robert St., Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 4-6.—Leicester Hand in Hand (Day and Roberts, 28, Francis St.) H.W.B., C.H.

Nov. 9.—Blaenavon C.B.S.—(G. Broome, 82, King St.) J.H.R.

Nov. 11.—Ardwick and Manchester C.B.A.—(A. E. Thorpe, 28, Park Grove, Levenshulme.)

Nov. 15.—Coventry O.S.—(J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.)

Nov. 17-18.—Halifax O.S.—(J. J. Dunn, 67, Hartley St., Battinson Rd.) C.A.H., H.W.B.

Nov. 18.—West Bromwich C.B.S.—(Collier and Cowley, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham.)

Nov. 22.—Reading C.B.S.—(O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St.) J. R.

Dec. 2-4.—Bristol F.A.—(G. H. T. Maggs, 9, Trinity St., Newtown, Bristol.) C.A.H.

Dec. 6-7.—City of Birmingham C.B.S.—(A. C. Shirley, 155, Hobmoor Road, Small Heath, Birmingham.) H.N., J.H.R.

Dec. 9.—Gateshead C.B.S.—(W. Curry, 6, Roxburgh Place, Newcastle.) F.L., T.A., D.H., C.W.

1917.

Jan. 4.—Pontypool C.B.S.—(W. D. Lewis, Holyoake Terrace, Abersychan, Pontypool.)

Scotland.

Nov. 10-11.—Glasgow C.B.A.—(W. Hutchison, 167, Hospital St.)

Nov. 11.—Muirkirk O.S.—(J. S. Torbett, Smalliburn, Muirkirk.)

Nov. 25.—Falkirk, Grangemouth, and Bannockburn combined.—(D. Aitken, 16, King St., Redding. Muirhead, nr. Falkirk.)

1917.

Jan. 3-4.—City of Glasgow O.A.—(J. Young, 76, Burn Rd., Rutherglen.).

Wales.

Oct. 28.—Landore, Plasmarl C.B.S.—(H. Fry, 22, Plasmarl Terr., Plasmarl, nr. Swansea.) J.H., J.E.J.

Nov. 16.—Swansea C.B.A.—(G. H. Ford, 83, Norfolk St.) C.H., J.H.R.

Nov. 29-30.—Cardiff C.B.S.—(E. Thomas, 48, Craddock St.)

Dec. 7.—Aberdare C.B.S.—(J. M. Shelby-James, 4, Stuart St.) G.F.P., E.H.D.

Dec. 14.—Porth & Rhondda Valley C.B.S.—(J. Challenger, 37, High St., Cymmer, Porth, Glam.)

Cage Birds

and Bird World.

A Guaranteed Circulation amongst 50,000 readers weekly

Offices: 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Telegrams—"Aviculture, Fleet, London."
Tel. No. 3229 Holborn.

The Editor is always glad to receive and consider suitable contributions, whether articles, sketches, or photographs. Provided an addressed envelope, sufficiently stamped, accompanies same, every effort will be made to return unaccepted contributions promptly, but he does not in any case hold himself responsible for their safety.

All matter intended for publication must be written or typed on one side of paper only, and must reach us not later than the first post on Tuesday if insertion in the next issue is desired.

"CAGE BIRDS" will be sent post free weekly, on the day of publication, at the prepaid rate of 10s. per annum for the United Kingdom, and 13s. annually for foreign countries.

Twitterings.

We hear that at the show of the Leicester Hand-in-Hand C.B.S., Nov. 4-6, 43 classes will be given as against 39 last year, and that many of the classes are guaranteed.

Mr. J. Green, hon. sec. of Manchester and Northern Counties O.S., writes that he will be at Liverpool Show this afternoon, Saturday, and will be pleased to take entries for Manchester Show.

Providing we get the Drill Hall again, writes Mr. Thos. J. McGregor, Sec., Larkhall C.B.A., we have decided to hold our second annual open show on Dec. 15 and 16, for the benefit of the Red Cross funds and local funds for disabled soldiers.

I think your correspondence pages a splendid idea, writes Mr. G. W. E. Brown, for by their means readers are able to pick up much valuable information, not to mention the additional interest which the exchange of ideas and experiences of other lovers of birds always give.

The East Anglian Norwich Plainhead Club, writes Mr. R. Tomlinson, hon. sec., 17, Ampthill Street, Norwich, will be pleased to consider applications for patronage from Societies in East Anglia holding open shows. We have a large membership, and a respectable balance of funds in hand.

With a good classification, writes Mr. E. H. Woodman, hon. sec. Northampton Good Intent P.S., 7, Lady's Lane, Northampton, we have not received six entries up to the time of writing. With the show being run for such a good cause, I wonder what exhibitors are doing. I will accept Saturday post.

Aberavon and Port Talbot fanciers are holding their show in aid of the local Red Cross Fund on November 23, and have secured the services of Mr. C. A. House as judge.

Brechin C.B.S., writes Mr. J. Dalgety, hon. sec., has received the patronage of the Norwich P.H.C. and the Border Fancy C.C. for the annual show, Nov. 4. We are giving four classes for unflighted Norwich, and also extra classes for Border Fancies.

Owing to a mistake of mine in calling a meeting for Oct. 13, which should have been called for Oct. 3, writes Mr. G. Padfield, Assist. Sec., Peny-Graig C.B.S., friends came and found nobody there. I trust they will accept my apology. We have decided to hold a meeting Oct. 24, and a washing exhibition the same night. Friends will be welcome.

I was very pleasantly surprised, writes Mr. W. Nolan, to see my yellow Yorkshire portrayed in your valuable paper Cage Birds, and I must congratulate Mr. Kershaw on the really excellent likeness he has secured. The bird has won 1st and special every time out, he is a son of my noted winning buff cock, so he has plenty of winning blood in him. I may mention that this is the tenth cup I have won. Very best wishes for the success of Cage Birds.

In the schedule for the Red Cross show at Barrow, Nov. 3, 4, writes Mr. D. McFarlane, hon. sec., specials stated to be for most points in classes 39 and 40, should read classes 39 to 42. There are 67 classes, 27 of which are guaranteed, and a host of specials. Schedules will be sent on application to the hon. sec., at the address given in "Show Dates Fixed." Mr. McFarlane states that every provision has been made with the railway company for quick delivery, and that the birds will be attended to by a staff of experienced fanciers. Entries should be made early to facilitate the printing of the catalogues, and exhibitors generally should do what they can to assist all hon. secs. in this direction, as printers are nearly all working short handed.

Sunderland Sec. Called Up.

Owing to Mr. Peacock, sec., now being on active service, all correspondence referring to the Sunderland C.B.A. should be addressed to me at 12, Aubrey Terrace, Sunderland, writes Mr. F. Riseborough, Assist. Sec.

Presentation to a Fighting Secretary

In appreciation of services rendered as hon. sec. to the Irvine C.B.S., by Mr. J. Alexander, who is now serving as a sapper "somewhere in France," an inscribed silver cigarette case has been forwarded to him at the front.

General Meeting of the Norwich P.C

Mr. J. Hopkins, hon. sec., writes that a general meeting of the Norwich Plainhead Club will be held at Manchester Show, on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28, at 3. Business of importance will be discussed, and members should attend if at all possible.

A Difference in Price.

In my advert. last week under Foreign, writes Mr. Reynolds, Stourbridge, the price of the 12 Budgerigars should read 35s. the lot, not 5s. I have had so many letters and P.O.'s that I have been unable to reply to all. The birds are all sold at correct figure.

A Correction.

In our review last week of the schedule of the show of the North Yorks and South Durham Federation the place of the show was given as Liverpool. This should read West Hartlepool, not Liverpool. The address of the secretaries is 32, Ashgrove Avenue, not Ashgrove Road, as printed in the review.

A Fine Entry at Liverpool.

We hear from Mr. J. W. Metcalfe, joint hon. sec. with Mr. Green for the show of the Liverpool O.S., that 883 entries have been received, and that all sections are good. The show opened yesterday, Friday, Oct. 20, and remains open to-day. Liverpool bird lovers should not miss seeing this show.

A Lesson in Judging Norwich Canaries.

At the meeting of the City and Suburban A.C.B., on Oct. 23, at 8, at the Church Institute, Paddington St., W., there will be a competition in judging Norwich Canaries. Mr. A. Howard, of Howard and Son, will be the final judge, and fanciers are invited to be present to see the judging. An instructive and enjoyable evening should be spent.

Fine Specials for Foreign Bird Exhibitors.

Foreign bird exhibitors should note that at the show of the Sheffield O.S., November 3 and 4, there will be an Emu's egg mounted in silver (a gift from Sydney for most points in the Foreign section, and an artistic model from Oporto for second most points. The winners for the year of the 17 guinea rosebowl and the 10 guinea trophy mentioned in the advt. in another column will receive a gold and a silver medal respectively. The show is in aid of wounded soldiers.

New Date for Pontypool Show.

We have decided to run our show on Jan. 4 instead of Dec. 7, having been successful in arranging for the hall and the judge, writes Mr. W. D. Lewis, Sec. It only remains for fanciers to support us to make a successful debut. We are devoting our proceeds to the benefit of old age pensioners, who have been hard hit by increased prices.

A Young Fancier's Start in Life.

The many friends and acquaintances of Mr. John Nicholson, son of W. Nicholson, Stockton-on-Tees (who used to exhibit as Nicholson and Son) will be pleased to learn that he has passed the examination of the Pharmaceutical Society, and has been registered as a duly qualified chemist and druggist. Seeing that he has just attained the age of 21 he may be regarded as one of the youngest chemists on the register, if not the youngest.

A Promising Opening to the Show Season.

Clapham show, reported in this issue, opened the season well with over 600 entries. Liverpool, yesterday and to-day, has gone considerably better with nearly 900, so there would seem to be still some good fanciers left in the old country, although the ranks of bird lovers have been sadly thinned by the country's demands, and although many who have been left at home have had their attention directed to labour which has interfered with their hobby.

A very large proportion of the season's shows are giving the whole of their profits to charity, and it is to be hoped that the gates will be larger than ever. It will be interesting to know, after the war, what is the total amount which has been handed over by bird keepers to charitable purposes.

OBITUARY.

It is with deep regret that I have to inform you of the great loss our chairman, Mr. R. Peart, has sustained in the loss of his mother after a short illness, writes Mr. R. Hutchinson, Secretary, Stanley Empire F.F. and C.B. Society. His wife has also gone through a severe illness, but she is slowly recovering. I am sure all fanciers in Stanley and district will join in extending their greatest sympathy to Mr. R. Peart in his great bereavement, and will hope that his wife will soon be well again to be her usual help to him.

"CAGE BIRDS" ROLL OF HONOUR,

Two Well-known Glasgow Fanciers Each Lose a Son.

MR. JAMES PETTIGREW.

That well-known fancier, Mr. Peter Pettigrew, had four sons "doing their bit," one in the Navy and three in the Army. The youngest, James, was killed in the big push during July. So far the others have come through the ordeal unscathed.

MR. ALFRED MCFARLANE.

News has come to hand of the death from wounds of Mr. Alfred McFarlane, third son of Mr. Alexander McFarlane, well-known in Plainhead circles. He was a Territorial, and attached to the 5th Scottish Rifles. He had just turned twenty years of age, and had only been two months in France. I feel certain, writes Mr. J. H. Adam, Glasgow, in conveying the information, that the sympathy of the Fancy goes out to Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. McFarlane in this their hour of trouble.

HOW ADVERTISING PAYS.

"I received a quantity of replies to my last Norwich advt., and have parted with all that are ready to sell as yet."—W. R. KING (Portsmouth).

"I have been cleared out of small birds and I fear very many have been disappointed. I could have sold 1,000 birds equally well such an advertising medium is CAGE BIRDS. The birds are being despatched as quickly as possible and I hope by the time my advertisement of surplus birds appears all in order will have been despatched, but it has been no light task. The correspondence alone has occupied me a couple of hours a day."—L. LOVELL-KEAYS (East Hoathly).

"It is impossible for me to answer all letters in answer to my recent advts. I was delighted with the number of enquiries and offers."—F. C. KNIGHT (Dartmouth Park).

REVIEW OF SCHEDULES.

Cheltenham C.B.S.—Fine Art Rooms, High Street, Nov. 1, 2. Judges, J. Robson, H. Battye, J. H. Payne. 67 open classes: Crests and C.B. 15 (2 Nov.), Nor. 13 (4 Nov.), Yorks. 8 (2 Nov.), Bord. 9 (3 Nov.), A.O.V. 1, Brit. 7, Hyb. 4, For. 6, Sell. 4. Prizes, 10s., 5s., 2s. 6d. Fee 1s. 6d. Ent. cl. Oct. 25, to A. S. Treasure, 14, Rotunda Terr., Cheltenham.

JUDGES OF CAGE BIRDS

The attention of Show Secretaries is directed to the following list of gentlemen willing to act as Judges. Terms for insertion on application.

FRED ARCHER, 92, Wellington-st., Oakes, Huddersfield, judge of cage birds, specialist in Hybrids and British birds.

J. C. BARNES, 113, Northfield Road, Walkley, Sheffield. Judge of all varieties of cage birds. Long, practical experience. Terms moderate.

THOS. BENNETT, Judge of Cage Birds; life experience; terms moderate: 14, Cumberland-rd., Lidget Green, Bradford.

J. W. BRUCE, Coldstream. Judge of all varieties of cage birds; Border and British Bird specialist. Terms moderate.

W. A. COWGILL, 115, Washington Street, Girlington Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

GEO. GARDNER, 11, Haverstock Road, London, N.W. Judge of all kinds of Cage Birds.

G. HOBBS, 35, Queen's Road, Northampton, having retired from business, can judge Canaries and cage birds. 40 years breeder and exhibitor. Terms moderate.

J. HOLROYD, 27, Kingswood St., Gt. Horton, Bradford. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Practical experience. Terms moderate.

J. R. HOUGHTON, 21, Hatfield Road, Gloucester; judge of Canaries and Cage Birds; specialist in Norwich; terms moderate.

C. A. HOUSE, Briardene, Idle, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and other Cage Birds.

J. W. METCALFE, Yorkshire Aviaries, 68, Brunswick Road, Liverpool. Judge of Cage Birds, Specialist Yorks. and Norwich; terms moderate.

W. MUNDELL, 6, Carlisle Place, Manningham, Bradford. Judge of Canaries and Cage Birds.

H. NORMAN, The Eyrie, Salisbury Road, Carshalton, Surrey. All varieties of Cage Birds. Specialist Hybrids and British Birds.

J. PATTERSON, Chirnside. Judge of Cage Birds; all varieties. Wide, practical experience. Specialist Border Fancy Judge.

J. H. PAYNE, 17, Northgate Street, Gloucester. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Cage Birds.

C. E. SILK, The Aviaries, Emsworth, Hants. Judge of all varieties of Cage Birds. Life experience.

JAMES STANGER, 59, Grange Terrace, Pelton Fell, Co. Durham. A.V., Spl., Nor. and Cr.

HENRY TAMS, Orchard Place, Longton, Staffs. Judge of Canaries, British and Foreign Birds. Twenty-five years' Breeder and Exhibitor.

S. TICKELL, 22, Honey Street, Bodmin. Judge of all varieties; specialist Norwich, Cinn. and Liz. Long practical experience. Terms moderate.

W. VARDY, The Aviaries, Hucknall Huthwaite, Notts. Judge of all varieties; specialist in Norwich Plainheads. Life experience. Terms moderate.

J. WILCOCK, The Fountain Inn, Eccleshill, nr. Bradford. Judge of Cage Birds, all varieties

J. WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Judge of Cage Birds all varieties. Specialist British, Foreign, Mules and Hybrids.

G. WILSON, 14, Frizington Rd., Frizington, Cumberland. Judge of Mules, Brit., For. Specialist, Brit., Mules. Life experience; terms moderate.

W. YOUNG, 25, Grosvenor Road, New Brighton. Judge of Cage Birds. Life experience. Terms moderate.

Singing Contests.

Announcements of forthcoming contests in the nature of advertisements must be paid for at advertisement rates, two words a penny.

LEEDS.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York Road. Open contest for quality Linnet singing. Oct. 8; 21 birds sang: 1, Sellers; 2, Ineson; 3, Sissons; 4, Stead; 5, Stanney. Judges, Hardcastle, Naylor, Grant.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Linnet singing contest for quality, Clarence Hotel, Skinner Lane, Oct. 15; 19 birds sang. 1, 2, Binns; 3, Marshall. Judge, T. C. Summers; timekeeper, J. B. Watson.—T. C. Summers, Hon. Sec.

Leeds Linnet and Canary F.A., Albion Hotel, Saville Green, York-road. Weekly contest for quality Linnet singing Oct. 15; 25 birds sang. 1, Goodwin; 2, Stead; 3, T. Ward; 4, Chippindale; 5, Stanney. Judges, Hardcastle, Naylor, and Grant.—W. Naylor, Hon. Sec.

Linnet contest, Glassmakers' Arms, Saville Green, Oct. 15; 27 birds sang. 1, Butler; 2, Watson; 3, Newsum; 4, Marshall. Judges, S. Butt, W. Lay, A. Butler. Grand Canary contest, Oct. 15; 10 birds sang. 1, Thompson; 2, Smith; 3, dead heat, Johnson, Shaw. Judges, A. Richardson, W. Lay. Open Canary contest Oct. 22.—W. Lacy, Sec.

A Delay Through Death.

Through the sad loss of my mother on Saturday last I cannot possibly attend to orders at present, and you might ask customers to have a little patience, writes Mr. Broxup, Burnley. I never had such a fortnight, absolutely swamped out with orders. I shall send all in due course.

Norwich Specials at Cheltenham.

Through an oversight, writes Mr. A. S. Treasure, hon. sec., Cheltenham C.B.S., the prizes offered by the Southern Norwich P.H.C. have been omitted from our schedule. These are a diploma for the best Norwich Plainhead, and five shillings for most points in Norwich. The cash special is open only to members of the S.N.P.C., and there must be seven members competing. All profits from the show will be given to the Cheltenham hospitals.

In the Matter of Club Notices.

We shall be obliged if secretaries will kindly take notice that our Club and Society Notice column is not intended as a means of gratuitously advertising shows or societies. All references in the nature of an advertisement, such as appeals for new members, advantages of membership, time for joining, subscription rate, etc., must be confined to our advertisement pages. No charge is made for genuine club notices and reports, but we cannot insert advertisement matter therein. Unnecessary words, such as "Members please attend," should not be included. The notice itself is an invitation to attend, and the additional words are meaningless.

AN IMPORTANT GOVERNMENT ORDER.

In an Order in Council published in the "London Gazette" dated 3rd Oct., live birds, other than poultry and game, are added to the list of prohibited imports (except under license).

This Order should insure that there shall be no ground in the future for the suspicion that Canaries coming from Holland are not necessarily of Dutch origin. An idea has prevailed that since the commencement of the war German Canaries have been sent into Holland and have thence been sold as Dutch Rollers. At the first hint of this we made enquiries at headquarters, and discovered that birds exported from Holland to England bore the certificate of the British Consul that he was satisfied that they were truly of Dutch parentage. Doubts have been expressed as to whether the satisfaction of the British Consul quite met the case, but it is to be presumed that if a proper license has to be obtained before birds of any sort, except poultry and game, be imported we shall be no longer under any apprehension that German Canaries may be sent to this country almost as though the war did not exist.

THE NECESSITY OF EARLY POSTING.

The Postmaster-General wishes to call attention to the fact that in view of the restricted number of postal collections and deliveries now afforded throughout the kingdom, it is particularly desirable that letters should be posted as early in the day as possible. In many large towns there are only two deliveries, and in many rural districts only one, so that letters, unless posted in time for early evening mails, are likely not to be delivered until late on the following afternoon or until the second day after posting.

It is of the utmost importance that secretaries of societies and others who are sending urgent matter for publication should note the request as above. Practically every week we have to hold over communications because of their being received too late for the current issue. Notwithstanding our repeated statement that matter for publication in any week must reach us not later than Tuesday morning, our post on Wednesday always contains communications sent for insertion the same week, and Wednesday morning never passes without the receipt of a number of Club Notices, which are received too late for publication. Society members who do not see their notices of meeting in our Club Notices column will know either that they have been received too late for insertion, or that the secretaries have not sent them at all. No notices are ever held over if received in proper time.

Looking for Ringed Birds in "No Man's Land."

As I was walking along the trench this morning, writes Sergt. Falkinder, from France, I saw several kinds of birds, amongst which were Fieldfare, Wheatear, Whinchat, Stonechat, Sparrowhawk, and Skylark. These birds were in "No Man's Land," and seemed not to trouble about the shots which were being fired. I have spent many hours watching them, and I have learned many things new to me. I have caught several to see if they were ringed, but I have not found one yet. If you could spare me an old copy of CAGE BIRDS would you kindly send it, as I have not seen one since I came out here. Wishing you the best of luck.

Some copies of CAGE BIRDS have been sent out to Sergt. Falkinder, with best wishes for his safe and speedy return.—Editor.

A Starling's Wonderful Nest.

"Country Life" of Sept. 16 publishes a remarkable picture of a Starling's nest built in a loft. The picture is accompanied with the following description:—"The nest is 46in. high and 11ft. 4in. round the base. The Starlings had carried every bit of straw, as there was none in the loft; they also made a great mess outside with straw which they had dropped on the way. They entered through the hole in the eaves. Mrs. Starling laid four eggs; but evidently she or Mr. S. stood on the side of the nest, and were rather heavy, for the top fell forward and all the eggs rolled out except one, which fell to the edge and was put back. My friends discovered the nest on going to the loft for beansticks; the birds had evidently deserted it after the accident to the eggs."

Cage Birds Annual

They are nearly all gone.
SEVENPENCE EACH, POST FREE.
Address, The Manager, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Great Famine in Canaries.

STARTLING DANGER TO THE CANARY INDUSTRY OF GREAT BRITAIN.

More Canaries Must be Bred in Thousands.

MAGNIFICENT OPENING FOR ENTERPRISING BREEDERS.

THERE is a famine—an appalling shortage in the Canary market. Less Canaries are being bred. The demand for Canaries was never greater. Is the Canary industry of Great Britain to hold its own, or must it be replaced by the efforts of other countries? For the last two years the drain on our resources in Canaries has been tremendous. Dealers have advertised right and left for stock. Millions of birds have left our shores, and the damage to the trade has been tremendous. Are you breeding Canaries? If not start at once. There is money in it. Big money. The demand for birds will be this year bigger than ever. Prices will be higher. We shall soon see the time when even ordinary songsters will fetch a guinea a head. Thousands of birds will change hands this next season for fifteen shillings a piece. The Canary breeders of Great Britain must grasp their opportunity. The time is now. They must conserve the breeding stock, not imperil their future supply by parting with their own birds. The British bred Canary must replace all those hitherto supplied by Germany. It is a patriotic duty to grow Canaries, not merely by the score, but by the thousand. We want Canary farms, not Canary attics. It is the duty of breeders also to insist that birds they sell are not sent out of the country. It is true such birds bring in American dollars to the dealer, and that sometimes these dollars come from German-Americans of the hyphenated order. But by selling their birds abroad in such large quantities they are putting in the hands of foreign competitors the means of supplying the enormous demand that has arisen abroad as well as at home. British bred Canaries for British people, that must be the cry for after the war. The British Canary is the best and healthiest and brightest in the world. When next spring comes along, with so many convalescent wounded soldiers about, the demand for songsters, gay and musical little creatures, will very far exceed the supply. So breeders, be wise in time. CAGE BIRDS will help you. It will give you free advice. It will put you in touch with other breeders. The future of Canary breeding in Britain will be a wonderful one. See that you take your part in making it so, and you will reap a rich reward, in profit to your pocket, and pleasure to your mind.

THE EDITOR.

The above article is of national importance. Hand it on to someone who can breed Canaries and isn't doing so at the present time. It is your duty to do so, and to see that others in their turn pass the word on again. Let the good work go on. Breed more and more Canaries, and keep the home fires burning.

Chirps from Clapham Show.

A charming White Linnet was shown in the ordinary Linnet class, but had of course no chance of recognition by the judge. Although there was no class provided in the schedule for Albino birds, this beautiful bird could not win in the normally coloured class, for there is a standard of perfection of plumage and markings always in the eye of a judge, and a white Linnet, beautiful as it may be, does not conform to this standard.

The entry of a hen Chaffinch, Nicholas, in the Chaffinch class, although there was a class for British hens, caused considerable comment. The general opinion was that as it was not stipulated in the schedule that the class was especially for cock birds, the bird was entitled to compete, it being just a matter for the owner whether he chose to accept the handicap of showing the hen against the more brightly plumaged cocks, or whether he entered her in the mixed hen class when she would have had to compete only against her own sex.

It was bad luck for Mr. Hailstone, after his enterprise in sending his fine Chough all the way from Sheffield, to have it delayed until five o'clock, long after judging was over. The awards would have suffered considerable displacement if the bird had been in time for competition.

At least one of the Norwich "nuts" in the person of the genial "Jimmy," paid a visit to the show, and judging from the pleased expression on the face of his worthy son, Arthur, as he left the show loaded with "claims" the visit had not been unfruitful. Many bargains in Norwich were about, and some of these found a resting place in Club Row after the show.

The veteran Chelsea naturalist, George Dawson, was among the interested visitors on the second day. Mr. Dawson is now in his seventy-first year, but he certainly does not look it. He has five sons "doing their bit" at the front, and he "touched wood" as he told us that up till now neither has been wounded, although one of them had a bit of a jar when he came down after being blown into the air by an exploding shell. This necessitated a fortnight's stay in the hospital, but Lieut. Dawson is now at it again, as well as ever. Besides the five sons in the Army Mr. Dawson has a daughter doing Red Cross work, and he says that if the age limit is extended far enough he shall have a turn himself.

Many were disappointed in not seeing the beautiful Albino Blackcap belonging to Mr. Carr, which was mentioned in our issue of last week. We understand that Mr. Carr's duties just now are so strenuous that he was quite unable to find time to take the bird to the show. A thousand pities.

A considerable amount of discussion was waged throughout the show around an entry in one of the hybrid classes, and we heard bets of 5 to 1 talked about. The bird is the subject of a letter from the owner, which is published this week in our correspondence columns.

Of the six entries in the foreign class for Buntings, etc., one half were Whydahs, and it was quite interesting to see three different species of these long-tailed birds side by side. The Crimson-ringed Whydah shown by Mr. Maxwell, was indeed a beautiful specimen of a very rare species, and Mrs. McLaren Morrison's Paradise Whydah possessed the longest tail feathers that we have ever seen on the species; they were somewhat badly frayed, however. The other specimen was Mr. Maxwell's beautiful Jackson's Whydah, now getting familiar, but still rare. If the consignment of African birds which were on their way had arrived in time for the show, there would have been no less than seven different species of Whydahs on exhibition at once.

Sales were good, totalling about £30. Mr. Maxwell "lost" his Peach-faced Lovebirds at £5, but he got £2 15s. for a pair of African Fire Finches, which squared things up a bit.

The gate also was very satisfactory; 200 amusement tax stamps were used on the first day, and 140 on the second.

Perhaps the people who paid sixpence with none too good a grace for a catalogue had no idea that the actual printer's bills for these works out, according to Mr. Hose, the hon. sec., at sevenpence farthing each. "However," says Mr. Hose, "we had a grand show."

BIRDS AND SHELL FIRE.

IN the course of an intensely interesting article in "Country Life," entitled "Swallows at the Front," Mr. H. Thoburn-Clarke says: "Once the Germans shelled our position for an hour and a half. We retreated to some cellars which had been sandbagged and waited there until the bombardment stopped. The place was struck several times, and one shell dropped into the cellars, but failed to explode, and did no damage to anyone. When the "strafing" was all over we found that one shot had taken off the greater part of the stable roof, the second had hit the end of the outhouse and demolished part of the wall. The Swallows apparently did not care, for they were not in the least perturbed by the noise of the shelling, and continued feeding their young ones as if nothing had happened. Before the day was over they were using the shell hole as a convenient entrance through which to pass backwards and forwards with food for their young.

"Living close to the heart of nature—although a torn and battle-scarred heart—one finds that a lot of preconceived ideas about the wild creatures have to go. Very few birds go to bed until they are forced to by the waning light. The Swallows and Martins feed until it is too dark to see.

"The idea that gun-fire would chase away the birds has been quite exploded, and the pathetic story of the Swallows and Martins wheeling around the ruins of their last year's home, tweeting miserably and then departing from the battle area of ruined towns and villages is quite untrue. Personally, I think the Swallows and Martins prefer the ruins. The vast quantity of insects which the life on the battlefield encourages provides them with plenty of food and accounts for the fact that Swallows and Martins are far more plentiful than they were during pre-war days.

"Many districts in England are said to have fewer Swallows and Martins this year than ever before, so probably the home-coming birds, finding a good supply of food on the front, lingered somewhere in France and Belgium instead of continuing their journey across the Channel."

In an article in the London "Daily Graphic" Mr. J. H. Leonard says:—Over fifty species of birds have been recorded from the zone of active hostilities. A very large number of these were seen within a hundred yards of the firing line, many of them being species which would have been thought to be decidedly "gun-shy." The outstanding feature of bird-life in the fighting-area has been that neither the danger nor the noise interferes with the smaller birds in their singing or feeding, and only to a trifling extent with their nesting. No doubt there have been many fatalities, and a near explosion sends the survivors promptly to the lowest cover. But the Larks soared from No Man's Land and continued their song in spite of shot and shell; a Thrush carolled loudly within 100 yards of an active 60-pounder gun; while in many a wood the Nightingales which have outlived the day's explosions and timber-crashing have replaced the hideous din by their sweet tunefulness after sundown.

Instances of nesting exhibit similar features, but in more striking guise. Larks have nested between the opposing firing-lines, and Sparrows have shared with Swallows the possession of nesting-sites on ruined cottages or farms within half a mile of the front trenches. The House-Martins, indeed, appear to be the most independent of all the small birds; they fed when literally under fire, and not only built in many a ruined house, e.g., on the Rue du Bois and at Neuve Chappelle while both these places were being shelled, but one pair also established themselves between the sandbags of a dug-out. A Hedge Sparrow's nest, with a Cuckoo's egg in it, was discovered in one of the "horse-jumps" behind the lines, though horse-training was in constant progress. Magpies have nested in fire-swept spots; and a Partridge is recorded sitting on fourteen eggs within fifty yards of guns firing a couple of thousand rounds a day.

Then we have a Blackbird hatching her eggs within a yard of the muzzle of a gun of an active howitzer battery; and ten yards behind her was a Blackcap similarly occupied. In one case a Wren nested on an ammunition waggon, the bird following the waggon when it was moved with the guns. A Song Thrush had her nest and three eggs close to an 18-pounder gun, and though she ignored desultory firing, she deserted the nest later when the firing became constant. The western front is situated directly across one of the well-known tracks of bird-migration, and the birds have been heard flying overhead by night. It is conceivable that a flock has been compelled to deviate from its normal course, but there is no reason to suppose that so deeply rooted an inheritance as bird-migration will undergo any permanent disturbance as the result of the war.

Correspondence.

Every week a Prize of Ten Shillings is given for what, in the opinion of the Editor of "CAGE BIRDS," is the best letter published under this heading. The letter may be on any subject; it may be a comment, for or against, on anything which is published in our pages, an opinion on the policy of our paper, or may have no reference whatever to anything which has already appeared. So long as it is on a "birdy" subject, and is original, it will be eligible to compete for the prize.

The Prize this week is awarded to Mr. Wallace C. Jones, Toronto, whose full address will be given next week.

Booming the Yellowhammer.

A Chance for Bunting Lovers at Swansea.

Sir,—I would esteem it a favour if you would kindly make it known through Cage Birds that Mrs. Lilian Dalton, of the Swansea and District C.B.A., has kindly guaranteed the Yellowhammer Class at the forthcoming Show, and has also given a 10s. cash special for most points in the class, in the hope that the British exhibitors of the country will turn up and make the class and show a huge success. All profits at this show are for the Red Cross Funds.

J. H. Ford, Secretary.

New Society for Stanley (Co. Durham).

Sir,—The new Society was formed at a meeting held Oct. 14, when there was a good attendance of intending members, 20 being at the meeting. It was decided to call the society Stanley and District F.F. and C.B.S., Mr. J. Armitage was elected chairman, pro tem, and R. Hutchinson, sec., pro tem. We have fixed a five miles radius, and the subscription will be 3s. 6d. per year, rules included. Intending members should turn up at the next meeting, Oct. 28, at 7, at the Club Hall. Victoria Club Hall has a private entrance, so we can have our meeting without any connection with the club. The hall is capable of holding 300 members, and has plenty of seating accommodation.

R. Hutchinson, Sec., pro tem.

Thanks from a Prize Winner.

Come Along, Working Men Fanciers.

Sir,—I beg to acknowledge receipt of cheque value 10s., being the prize won in Cage Birds letter competition of Sept. 30. It came as a great surprise to me, as I had failed to look at the heading of the correspondence columns to see who had won the prize that week. I am so interested in the "Pros. and Cons. of Inbreeding" that I begin to read this whenever I get my Cage Birds. Then I go through the paper, advertisements and all, but somehow missed my own success. I am very proud to have won a prize in Cage Birds, and I hope others of the poorer fanciers will take courage to write their experiences, and that Mr. Patterson and the Rev. Mr. Jolliffe will give us their ideas on the vital problem of how to make more fanciers exhibit. I consider that this will be even more vital in the future, seeing that there are so many disabled soldiers taking up the hobby. Kindly note that my address is 30, Dalderse Avenue, not Daldene Avenue as stated.

J. R. Wallace.

Second Nesting of Rooks and Jackdaws.

Due to Inexperience Says a R.N. Stoker.

Sir,—I have been a constant reader of your invaluable journal Cage Birds from its first issue, and still read it regularly now I have joined the colours. In the October 7 issue I noticed in the correspondence column a letter re Rooks and Jackdaws having two nests in one season, and I should like to point out that it is only the last year's birds that do this, the reason being their lack of knowledge in housekeeping. Young Rooks and "Jacks," if we may term them such, seldom bring up more than a couple of youngsters in their first nest, and through inexperience they build their nest in places which are easily robbed, or places which the old stager would never build in. This I have proved many times, my home being in the largest rookery in England I think; and I have come to the conclusion that it is only these last year's birds that bring up two nests in one season.

Ninety-nine out of a hundred of last season birds build their nest in flimsy boughs where it is quite plain to see. With any rough wind that may come the nest either gets blown out or the eggs get cracked.

The old stager places her nest on a firm foundation, and such nests remain in place all the following winter till spring, waiting to be patched up. I hope you will find me a space, and I should like to hear other opinions on this matter. I thank you for all your kindness to me in bygone days when I was a flourishing bird fancier.

Stoker F. W. Stowe, R.N.

Ringed Chaffinch Identified.

How the Movements of Birds Are Being Learnt.

Sir,—I am much obliged for your letter with regard to the bird bearing one of my rings reported to you by Mr. R. T. Lonsdale as having been caught at Speke, near Liverpool. This Chaffinch was ringed as an adult at Great Crosby, near Liverpool, on June 14, 1916.

I must explain that many of the readers of my magazine, "British Birds," are ringing all kinds of birds in this country. Every ring has a different number, and all details of date, place of ringing, and so on are carefully kept, so that whenever one of these birds turns up and the occurrence is reported we hope to learn a fact regarding the history of the bird. In time we hope, by this means, to obtain more exact knowledge of the movements and migration of birds, whether they return to nest at the place of their birth, and so on.

Should you hear of any more birds with rings, I should be extremely obliged if you would let me have full particulars, as you have kindly done in this and other cases.

H. F. Witherby.

A Mating Riddle.

Can a Cock Canary be Spoilt in its First Season?

Sir,—I should be obliged if any experienced reader of Cage Birds will give his opinion on the following case:—I have a yellow marked Yorkshire cock which has provided a riddle for me. As an unflighted bird it proved an excellent "fertiliser," but last season, although he appeared in the "pink of health and condition," he did not fertilise a single egg.

To all appearance his pairing with several different hens was quite satisfactory, but it was the same result with each clutch, unfertile. I gave him a rest for a while, and fed him up a bit, but it was difficult to observe any better condition than he was in before. He was in full, vigorous song, and mad to nest, and although, as before, he appeared to pair in good form, it again resulted in clear eggs. Is it possible that this bird was overdone as an unflighted bird, and made useless for further stock purposes, or is it worth another trial next season? It is just through the moult and again coming on song, so it will do for a songster if nothing else.

W. R. King.

Earwigs as Red Mite Destroyers

Is the Remedy Worse than the Disease?

Sir,—I was much interested in Mr. Bastock's letter a few weeks ago, advising earwigs as red mite destroyers, as it seemed to explain something which has puzzled me greatly. I have a bird's house in the garden, and last year a lot of earwigs got in, but I did not trouble about them much, though I wondered what they could want there, and what they could find to eat. Well, one morning I found one of my birds literally dripping with blood, and it seemed quite ill, though it was quite well the night before. I could not understand it at all, for I knew a mouse could not get in.

The next day it died, and after that every morning it was the same thing, sometimes as many as three birds at a time all bleeding. It was always the back part of them, and the blood used to drip off their tails. I could not help suspecting the earwigs, especially as they always looked so fat as if they were full of blood. I told my husband what I thought about the earwigs, but he only seemed to think it silly.

After losing about 20 birds in one season, I made up my mind not to breed any more, and I then smothered the place with Keating's, and got rid of the earwigs. I felt very miserable about giving up my birds, however, so this year I thought I would try again, and I have not lost a bird except through two hens not feeding. Since reading Mr. Bastock's letter I felt sure those earwigs were to blame, for if they will hunt for red mite in cages why not in birds? I know they will catch and kill a big spider. At any rate, I shall not allow them in my bird house again. I think Cage Birds a splendid paper, and my ambition is to see one of my birds in it. I shall be perfectly happy then. Wishing it every success.

Mrs. M. Lingwood.

Prize Money at Shows.

The Sliding Scale a Growing Evil.

Sir,—It appears to me that this sliding scale evil is growing upon us daily, as I have received a few schedules, and find that some of them are quite tricky. They pay full prize money in classes of nine entries and over, and in those under 9 entries offer 50 per cent. as first prize, 25 per cent. second, etc. I think it is a matter entirely in the hands of exhibitors to say whether we are going to allow this evil to grow upon us and come to stay, or give it the knock out and finish it entirely. I give a case of my own as an illustration. Last year I entered 6 birds in six classes at 1s. 6d. per entry. Carriage to and from show cost 2s. 6d.; total 11s. 6d., without mentioning labour and trouble. I was fortunate in having six firsts awarded to me, but when I received the prize money I was disgusted, it amounted to the magnificent sum of 7s. 6d.

It is not my wish for any Society to run any risks, and nothing gives me greater pleasure than to hear that they came through on the right side, but I would much prefer to see the old custom maintained: full prize money in classes of 8 and over, and under 8 half prize money, with cancellation if insufficient entries. Then we would know exactly where we stood, and what to expect. I hope to have the views of other prominent exhibitors on this subject.

D. Jenkins.

"Loose Boxes" for Cage Birds.

How to Adapt the Idea to an outside Aviary.

Sir,—I read with much interest Mr. G. W. E. Brown's letter describing his "loose boxes" for cage birds. There is no doubt his idea is an excellent one. Most bird keepers are faced at one time or another with the problem of overcrowding in flight or aviary, leading too often to quarrelling and fighting amongst the stock, with a consequent loss of condition—sometimes even of life. Even where there is plenty of space for all, how often do we find one individual of Hunnish disposition, making things very unpleasant for his more peaceably inclined neighbours!

While it will not be claimed for Mr. Brown's idea that it will altogether prevent bullying, it will checkmate it very considerably. I may say I adopted a very similar device a few years ago. In this case the scene of the experiment was a small garden aviary. In the angle formed by the back wall and the sloping roof of the shelter shed a number of boards were fixed, shaped to meet the wall and roof closely without leaving any space behind or above. These boards are a foot deep, and about ten inches from back to front, the exact measurements being immaterial. The effect is to form a number of separate bins or recesses, closed in at the top and sides, but open at the front and bottom. All are fitted with nest pans or boxes of some description, an attempt being made to cater to all tastes. Strawberry baskets—the square shallow sort—are found very acceptable. A short length of perch fitted to one of the boards completes the fitting of each private compartment or cubicle.

While, as has been indicated, exact measurements do not matter, the boards must be of sufficient dimensions to allow the perches to be fixed well back from the front, and well up from the bottom. They should also be in close contact with the roof and wall, leaving no back doors from one recess to another.

I have found an arrangement of this kind greatly conducive to the comfort of the inmates of an aviary where space is limited. While this is so at all times, it is particularly the case in the breeding season, as it affords a large measure of that privacy so necessary to nesting birds.

M. R. T.

"The Other End of the String."

Many Experiments and All Successful.

Sir,—Having read with interest the various letters which have recently appeared in Cage Birds with reference to the sexing of birds by means of a needle suspended over a silver coin, I think a few of my experiments with the apparatus will be of interest to you. First, I sexed my stock birds without a mistake. Second (this was a more severe test, and was made under rigorous conditions to preclude the possibility of any knowledge of the sex of the birds being experimented upon) I looked up a fancier friend and having explained the reason of my visit he readily granted me the use of his birds. The test was then proceeded with as follows: I left the room whilst the subject bird was reached out of the cage; then entering the room with both my eyes closed I had the bird given to me. I then placed the bird behind my back, and without having seen the bird at all, I opened my eyes, picked up the needle and thread from off the table, and I sexed the bird. I was successful in sexing all the birds tried without seeing one of them.

I now began to take a very great interest in these experiments, and my third test was to test the apparatus on every person whom I could persuade to hold my left hand, carrying the needle and thread about with me in my pocket. It is needless to say that I was correct every time (or rather the needle was).

A very peculiar thing which I noticed in connection with the sexing of human beings was that if a person took hold of the wrist holding the needle and thread, the needle did not move, but if a person of the opposite sex took hold of the other wrist (the first person still retaining his or her hold) the needle always sexed the person holding to the wrist of the hand which was holding the needle and thread. I may say that I have tried the experiment on all my young birds, and I will tell you at some future date how successful I have been with it, that is if you think the matter of sufficient importance to insert it in your valuable paper.

R. Bumby.

How the Apparatus Betrayed a Singing Hen.

Sir,—May I again trouble you for space in your interesting paper, re. my method of sexing birds? In reply to Mr. Claude St. John, I would point out that what I meant by my method was my way, and I did not mean to imply that I was the first to discover it, as a matter of fact it was given to me by an old bird fancier, who had been a very successful breeder and exhibitor. Although he had the faculty of distinguishing the sexes from observation, whenever in doubt this method was resorted to, and always with success.

As for any fancier adopting this method being in for a glorious muddle, that is a matter of opinion, personally, I have made too many tests to believe that. As to the suggestion by another correspondent that the needle is controlled by the mind, I may say that as I thought the suggestion feasible I experimented by asking several friends to test it with my birds, not telling them what movements to expect of the needle, and not even letting them know what sex they held in their hands; in every instance the needle moved correctly.

Some two years ago, I sent to an advertiser for a cock Roller, and on arrival I tested same, with the result that the needle moved for a hen, so I decided to return the bird per night mail. As there were several hours to wait, I took it out of the travelling cage and put it in a larger one, and gave it seed and water, and before it had been in the house half an hour it burst into beautiful song. Well, for once I had my doubts about the infallibility of the method. I tried it again several times with the same result. The bird being such a performer, however, I thought it must be wrong, and decided to keep it. About three weeks after, the bird laid an egg, there was now no doubt whatever as to its sex. Now my contention is this, if a concentrated mind had anything to do with it, the needle would have given the movements for a cock, because I was under the impression it was such, and only made the test out of curiosity. Therefore, in my opinion, we must look for some other cause for the needle's movements. Will this gentlemen, Mr. Head, I believe, accept my thanks for his experiments; I should be pleased if he will write further on the subject.

As to Mr. Lane's letter in this week's issue, I am not surprised he is not convinced. In the first instance he does not seem to have understood my meaning; perhaps he will be good enough to read the letter again, and find his mistake, there is no need to put the bird's beak anywhere near the needle, hold the bird at arm's length if you like, or try taking hold of a lady or gentleman's hand. As for fixing the thread and needle on to some other object, rather than holding one end in hand, one could expect nothing but failure, as whatever influence runs through your body would then be broken. I should be grateful if more of your readers will take the matter up, and let me know the result.

J. R. Williams.

(Correspondence continued on next page.)

HEALTH & STRENGTH

Deals with all kinds of athletics, including Football Wrestling, Boxing, Weight-Lifting, Fencing Running, Ju-Jitsu, Gymnastics of all kinds, Swimming, &c., &c. Gives free advice on all questions of Health, Diet, &c. to all readers EVERY THURSDAY, 1d. Sold Everywhere. Get a copy to-day, or send for Free Specimen to "Health and Strength," Windsor House, Kingsway, London.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(Continued from page 622.)

Prize Cards of the British Roller C.C.

The Secretary Promises Early Delivery.

Sir,—I must apologise to the exhibitors for not sending the prize cards; it has really been forgetfulness and carelessness on my part. The cards are now in hand, and will be sent out as soon as I get them from the printer. Again regretting the delay, and hoping no serious harm has been done.

J. W. Norris.

Border Fancies at Sheffield.

Negotiations Fall Through.

Sir,—I think it is necessary that I should explain the ending of my controversy with J. Patterson, for the benefit of those fanciers who were interested, and who might be misled by his letter in your issue of this week. Although the numerous conditions laid down by him made it almost impossible to put classes on, our schedule committee decided to do so, if Mr. J. Robson, who was accepted last year by the Border Fancy C.C., was a suitable and satisfactory judge in Mr. Patterson's opinion, and accordingly I sent a pre-paid wire to that effect. At this late hour I expected a definite answer—Yes or no, but you will see by the enclosed wire that his reply is evasive, hence we have decided to go on without him. I regret having used so much of your valuable space in my endeavour to help fanciers, and although I have failed, the onus of responsibility does not rest on me.

W. Craig.

A Hybrid Winner in a British Bird Class.

Sir,—I would like to point out to Mr. Cook that he is sadly in error when he says a Hybrid is a British bird. A Hybrid is a cross betwen two birds of distinct species, and therefore nothing more or less than a mongrel. It is thoroughly understood by every fancier with the exception of Mr. Cook that British birds are to be judged for purity of breed and beauty of plumage, and as a Hybrid has neither the one or the other it has no earthly right to win the prize in a class for British birds. The herring basket touch is too funny. The subject is the parentage of the bird in question, not the basket or cage in which they are bred. Ninety per cent. of our breeding Goldfinches are 'foreigners, so you see Mr. Cook, you are wrong again.

C. S. Montague.

Sir,—Mr. Cook, the judge at Ystradgynlais show, did Mr. Jeffreys, or any other exhibitor in the above class, an injustice by placing a Hybrid first, for the simple and sufficient reason that a cross between two different British birds is not recognised by any authority worthy of the name as eligible to compete in a class confined to British birds. Will Mr. Cook tell us how he could discern that the Hybrid was bred from two British birds, and that it had no continental origin?

Mr. Cook may depise the Redpoll, but I don't suppose I am the only British bird exhibitor who would prefer the addition of a high-class Redpoll to my team rather than a Goldie-Greenie Hybrid.

Wm. Fairhurst.

Proposed Society for Durham.

Sir,—I, along with Mesrs. Robson, Stanger, Gillespie, Briggs, Ward, and many other true fanciers, would like to see a Society formed in Durham, and I feel sure if a few genuine fanciers could arrange a meeting at a suitable time and place, with an invitation to all interested, that a very strong Society could soon be formed. There must be a great number of fanciers in the surrounding district, and I suggest you, as Editor, give a free notice of any arranged meeting in Cage Birds, which all true fanciers look forward to on Friday. The paper is bang full of interesting reading, and information worth pounds, and only costs a humble twopence. That it may live long to enlighten all bird lovers is the wish of

A. E. Priest.

A Meeting Called.

Sir,—I have read with great interest the letters which have appeared upon my proposal to form a society for Durham City and district. The feeling seems unanimous in favour of the idea, for, in addition to the letters which have appeared I have personally seen several fanciers in the immediate district, and everyone is of the same opinion. I have arranged for a meeting to take place at Mr. Tom Lancaster's, Grapes Inn, Claypeth, Durham, at 7 on Saturday, Oct. 28. Now come, fanciers, and let's have a good meeting for the first.

A. Robson.

Hybrid "Wrong Classed" at Clapham Show.

Sir,—On receiving my case of birds from Clapham Show I was astonished to find that my Hybrid entered in the class headed "All Bullfinch Hybrids, and Greenfinch and Chaffinch Hybrids" had been marked "W.C.", and would like to ask Mr. J. Robson through your columns for an explanation. For the moment I do not intend to go into the breeding of the bird, or to inform Mr. Robson and others as to what species the parents belong, except to say that the Hybrid is an absolutely genuine Hybrid, and was correctly entered.

After I have had Mr. Robson's statement giving his reasons for wrong-classing the bird, then I will, with your permission, Mr. Editor, contribute an article on the breeding of this Hybrid, and will also provide corroboration from local fanciers who saw it in the nest, and have watched its development up to the present day.

S. A. Reynolds.

Shall Hamilton Show be Held?

An Important Meeting to Decide the Question.

Sir,—Can another show be successfully run at Hamilton in aid of our brave lads? This is the question to be considered by Hamilton and District Fanciers at a meeting to be held in the Town Hall Rooms on Saturday, Oct. 21, at 7.

There will be differences of opinion no doubt, and perhaps a few new difficulties to overcome, but the fact that from this show in two years the War Funds Charity has profited by upwards of one hundred pounds cannot be brushed aside without some little thought, and it is up against the local fanciers in Hamilton, Larkhall, Motherwell, Blantyre, Cambuslang, etc., to turn out to this meeting to a man, and decide "Yes or No." "Do your bit" fanciers, and don't shirk in assisting the men lying in the trenches.

Secretary Pro Tem.

The Lot of the Ordinary Singing Canary.

A Supporter of the Idea of Printed Hints.

Sir,—As a lover of birds, may I say how delighted I was to see Mr. T. J. McMillan's suggestion for the happiness of the singing canary, and I trust your valuable paper may bring about a much-needed reformation in the treatment of this and other pet birds. Some people appear to be ignorant that there is such a thing as grit, and the economy in seed and sand is painful. Also to be deplored is the fixed determination to hang cages in the window in a draught. I think we are only justified in keeping birds as pets when we consider their happiness, and I wish there was a law that no cage should be smaller than the one described by Mr. T. J. McMillan. I trust you will not let the subject drop.

Lover of Birds.

A Bad Case of Egg Binding.

How a Novice Succeeded in Treating it.

Sir,—You can imagine how much a novice of only three months' experience with feathered pets would know about egg-binding, and of how to go about treatment for it, especially a novice like myself who previous to taking up the hobby hardly knew a Canary from a gold fish. But I can tell you I had a rude awakening.

I was spending a few days in bed trying to wrestle off an attack of La-Grippe, and was feeling pretty ill. You know how one feels when he doesn't care if school keeps or not. Well, that was my condition when my clear yellow Norwich hen took a notion to become egg bound.

My wife, who was looking after the birds, came to my room, and informed me that "Bubbles," the hen, was all fluffed up in a ball on the cage floor, and panting like a Ford car, so I staggered into my bird room to see what could be done.

We boiled some water and got a jug and a piece of linen, for putting over the top of the jug; then the olive oil, and a flight feather. This information I gained from "Our Canaries," which I think a wonderful book.

I held the hen over the steam for what seemed to me an hour, but was really only ten minutes, but the egg did not come, although I used the oil freely, in fact the poor hen was oil from stem to stem, and after this ten minutes of nerve racking work my hen was, as I thought, dead. I was sure she was par-boiled, she hadn't a kick left in her, so I laid her down on the table as a dead hen, but my wife said she saw her move an eye lash and urged me to proceed, while she read more from "Our Canaries," where it says "gently press the egg down towards the vent," and I proceeded to press.

I was very nervous, and it didn't help matters any, for my fingers slipped, and I felt something inside of "Bubbles" burst, and I nearly had a fit as I guessed I had broken the egg.

Again I thought my hen was dead, but I couldn't convince the wife that there was to be a funeral, and she took over the job; I had had enough.

Well, she pressed out the broken egg, and we gave the hen a few drops of tonic, wrapped her up in flannel, placed her in a sewing basket, and put basket and hen on top of the steam pipes, and after an hour she had her head under her wing, so we put the basket into the cage, and left her for the night. Next morning she was on the perch, and almost as well as ever, thanks to "Our Canaries," and my wife.

I colour fed this hen, and made a good job of it, and I showed her at the Canadian National Exhibition, and she took third prize. I subscribe to Cage Birds, and think it a great paper, as it contains so many helpful hints for any one taking up the Canary hobby. I hope Cage Birds' readers will always co-operate with its Editor in helping along such a valuable weekly paper.

Wallace C. Jones.

Toronto, Canada.

How to Warm a Bird Room.

Help Desired in a Difficulty.

Sir,—In Cage Birds of September 23, Mr. Gordon-Stewart gave a simple method of warming an out-door bird room, and I would like to ask him for a little more information on the principle of construction, and the successful heating, or rather the continual even burning of the lamp. I beg to thank him for sending this simple and useful idea for the benefit of readers of our paper, the only Cage Birds.

My trouble is that I have carried out Mr. Gordon-Stewart's idea in all details of construction with the one exception that I have fitted the lamp 14 inches from the floor. My cylinder is 18 inches long, 6 inches in diameter, and is perfect in itself for the radiation of the heat, but the trouble I get with the lamp is in this way. As stated, I have fitted my lamp at one end of my bird room 14 inches from the floor, and I have 7 feet of hot water piping straight from the cylinder to the roof; then an elbow, and another 7 feet of hot water piping carried to the other end outside, and fitted with an elbow and cowl. The piping is 1 inch in diameter.

With the cylinder only, the lamp burns beautifully, and gives a splendid heat, but immediately I place the piping in position on the cylinder to carry off the fumes, then, in a few minutes the lamp flares up, smokes, and goes out. If I only use the 7 feet from the cylinder straight up to the roof it is all right, but the 7 feet extra through the room seems to make it smoke and go out as stated.

I would like to ask Mr. Stewart if he can give me any further information to remedy this; is there too much air-draught passing through, or too little, or are my pipes too long? The total is 14ft. 6in. to end of cowl outside from the cylinder. I may say that I have bought everything new for the purpose of carrying out Mr. Gordon-Stewart's idea, as I think it a grand and economic idea. I have a No. 6 Hearson incubator lamp and chimney; the cylinder was made to order, also the 1in. pipes cut and screwed for same. Any further information that Mr. Gordon-Stewart can give me to solve my little difficulty will be very much appreciated.

Wm. Wooldridge.

How I Bred Goldfinch- and Linnet-Greenfinch Hybrids.

The Value of the Greenfinch Hen.

Sir,—I am now sending an account of my experience in breeding Goldfinch and Linnet-Greenfinch Hybrids as promised in Cage Birds.

In the breeding season of 1915, I had a hen Canary with only one young, the other eggs proving unfertile. I procured three young Greenfinches from a wild Greenie's nest of about the same age as the young Canary, four days old, and I placed them in the nest with it. The hen Canary took to the young Greenies immediately, and she fed them well until they could look after themselves. After the Greenfinches had moulted I was very pleased to see that all threo were hens, for it was exactly what I wanted. All through the winter the birds were flying with my Goldfinch and Linnet.

In the spring of 1916, I thoroughly cleaned and painted my cage, and paired up my birds as follows:—Cock Goldfinch with hen Canary and hen Greenfinch in a three-compartment cage; Linnet and Greenfinch in another; pair of Canaries in another; and a spare hen Canary and hen Greenie in another. I kept them paired until nearly the end of May, but there was nothing doing, so I opened all the cage doors and let them fly about the aviary and do as they pleased. In less than a week after I had eggs from two of my hen Greenies; one of the hens laid in an ordinary nest pan, and the other made a nest in a pan I had placed in a bush. The two hens sat for a fortnight, and on looking at the eggs I was disappointed to find they were all clear, so I threw them away. About a week after all three hens went to nest, and I was pleased to see my cock Goldfinch and Linnet paying great attention to them; occasionally the two cocks would have a fight, but it was only for a minute or two. The second round from the Greenies was a little better, although it produced only one young one out of twelve eggs. This young one was reared successfully by the hen Greenie, and both the hens went to nest again for the third time some time in July. This time I had hatch out two Goldie-Greenfinches and two Linnet-Greenfinches, the other hen Greenfinch was still unfertile. I was sufficiently pleased with the results, and I do not wish for any better feeders than my hen Greenfinches. Readers would be wise if they would only use the hen Greenie more freely.

I see from time to time that readers of Cage Birds find fault with the breeders, and say that do not give away their secrets. There is no secret attached to it. I live in the country, and give plenty of wild seed such as the birds love, and I seldom come home to dinner or tea without something fresh for my birds. Bird-keepers must not stuff their birds one day and neglect them the next, but must be always looking to their comfort, and their birds will repay them. Keep everything clean, and the birds will love you. I shall be pleased to answer any further questions if readers think it necessary.

E. Cockram.

An Aviary at Hoxton.

Thirty-three Species of British Birds Doing Well.

Sir,—The conditions in the crowded parts of London are not favourable for the keeping of birds in an out-door aviary. On the other hand there is more temptation to do so than in those favoured places where wild birds come round the house and sing all day. The best way for a Londoner to acquire a knowledge of British birds is to keep them under observation in surroundings as natural as possible, and it was chiefly with this intention that I started my aviary.

It consists of a glass house, with wood and zinc roof, 6ft. by 5ft., and an open flight 6ft. by 11ft., with a covered flight 6ft. by 8ft., giving a ground surface of 144 square feet, all 7ft. in height. In this I have kept on an average 40 birds. The covered portion is sanded; there is ivy against the back-wall, and a pond 4ft. square, with frequently running water, and a marshy bit adjoining. Some shrubs are growing in boxes.

Beginning with Greenfinches, I gradually added other birds in the following order:—Redpoll, Chaffinch, Goldfinch, Linnet, Bullfinch, Lark, Yellow Hammer, Hedge Sparrow, Brambling, Hawfinch, Snow Bunting, Tree Sparrow, Song Thrush, Blackbird, Reed Bunting, Siskin, Robin, Blue Tit, Great Tit (in a separate compartment, 2ft. by 1ft. by 7ft.), Bearded Reedling (a failure), Corn Bunting, Twite, Pied Wagtail (a failure), Coal Tit (a failure), Tree Pipit, Quail, Wheatear, Mealy Redpoll, Lesser Whitethroat (a failure), Willow Warbler, Yellow Wagtail (a failure), Blackcap, Redstart (a failure), Whitethroat, Meadow Pipit, Marsh Tit, Whinchat and Grey Wagtail (the last three failures), Woodlark, Redwing, Cirl Bunting, and Dunlin; 42 different species, of which 33 have done well.

The Goldfinches built a nest and hatched three eggs, but the young died within a week. Neither of the other pairs has tried to breed. At first I had several losses from cats, but double-wire everywhere has surmounted this difficulty, and the aviary is now cat-proof. I should like to acknowledge my great indebtedness to Mr. Norman's excellent book on "Aviaries, bird-rooms, and cages." Here in small compass is everything a beginner needs to know, and every line betrays the most intimate acquaintance with the practical difficulties of aviary construction and management. It is far more useful than many pretentious and expensive works.

H. W. G. Kenrick.

THE POULTRY WORLD.

The up-to-date, efficient poultry journal. Every number grandly illustrated and full of practical articles by experts. Invaluable for the beginner and the amateur.

Every Friday, 1d.

Advertisement Forms & specimen copy from "POULTRY WORLD," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

THE PROS AND CONS OF INBREEDING.

(Continued from page 608.)

A Comparison with Natural Selection.

Sir,—As a constant reader of Cage Birds I have taken a keen interest in the discussion "Pros and Cons of In-breeding," and in my opinion in-breeding for any period is detrimental to the production of birds of any variety where size is a desirability. With such as the Norwich, you must start with size and must pair the offspring to gain quality. By judicious selection you may improve your stock at first, but deteriorate they must, for in no form of life does heredity climinate atavism. There is always a tendency to breed back to some ancestor. Therefore, what you gain in quality is at the expense of size and stamina, and ultimately you would breed a class of unfits. As to retaining all the good qualities I think with one of your former writers you must also retain all the bad.

Natural selection is a sphere where man has no say; in nature animals are free to make their choice, and they mate with their partners because of their fitness to survive. No one ever heard tell of a female Eagle or Hawk mating with a vanquished male; it is always the victorious one, and thus does nature retain the best. It matters little whether they have ever mated before; the males must give a display of their powers before the female, whether it be in fighting, beauty of plumage, or song, and not till then does she make her choice. Of course man has made vast improvements on nature in some directions, and it is only with a desire to learn I enter the discussion. I am only a novice as far as aviculture is concerned; inquiry is always my policy. I have gained much useful information from your valuable paper, Cage Birds. Long may it prosper.

D. Dalrymple.

A Question of Logic.

Sir,—I am glad Mr. Bastock has expressed regret for his personal attack upon Mr. House; I felt sure he would do so on reflection. It would be a pity to have the discussion of such an important and interesting subject as in-breeding marred by the introduction of personalities, and it would also be a sorry day for the Fancy. No capable man would expose himself to such risks.

There have been two or three views enunciated during this discussion which, for the life of me I cannot understand. One has been the assumption that the principles of in-breeding may be successfully applied to poultry, pigeons, and every kind of four-footed animal, but not to Canaries. These latter are alleged to come under a different code and category. Why?

Another somewhat intricate point has been put very bluntly and clearly by Mr. Bastock, who says he believes in pedigree breeding, but not in in-breeding. How he is going to do the one without doing the other it would be interesting to have explained.

I notice that Mr. Bastock is very emphatic in his requests to advocates of in-breeding to give him data as to the winners they have bred, etc., etc. I think it ought, in a bona-fide discussion by honest fanciers, to be taken for granted that the statements they make as to personal experience are accurate. That by the way. But Mr. Bastock, by his pointed demands upon others, has fortified one to make the request that he should himself give data. Perhaps, therefore, he will tell us how he would be able to pedigree-breed unless he resorted to in-breeding. If he will do so, it will be interesting. I am sure.

I first mentioned Mr. House's articles upon in-breeding because they embodied so much that I was in agreement with, and so little that I disagreed with, and because I had through a long course of years proved so many of Mr. House's contentions to be true in practice. I felt that the many points and proofs in favour of in-breeding could not possibly be adequately embodied in a letter to the Press, so I recommended Cage Birds' readers to get Mr. House's articles and read for themselves. I hold no brief for Mr. House. He and I have often crossed swords upon points of argument, but I trust I have always recognised in his contentions elements of sincerity and proofs of the possession of experience.

I may say that this season I have had practical demonstration of the success of in-breeding, in my own experience. But I do want clearly to understand why Canaries are to be placed upon a different plane to any other animal in this matter. Mr. Vardy has been mentioned. I have heard breeders of Norwich Plainheads say, "You can tell Vardy's stuff anywhere—there is such a similarity." And Mr. Vardy has bred some winners. If he believed, as Mr. Bastock infers, in pedigree breeding, he must have in-bred. He did not get his birds by running for an unrelated cock here, and a hen there. He must have persistently and consistently kept in one line, and that was in-breeding. Call it pedigree breeding, if Mr. Bastock pleases.

"Invicta."

"Live and Learn" Wants to Learn More.

Sir,—My experience of breeding Canaries only covers four seasons, therefore, as a four year old child in the fancy I am at an age to bother my elders with questions. I have, I think on more than one occasion, seen the statement made in Cage Birds that most deformities, monstrosities, etc., call them what you will, are the result of inbreeding, and that by out crossing you avoid all this, and get strong, healthy birds.

I notice a correspondent has bred a four-legged Hybrid (according to recent issues), another a one-winged youngster from a Yorkshire-Border pair. Two years ago I bred a nest of mules with deformed beaks from a Siberian Goldie and a Yorkshire hen. Can any of your correspondents blame inbreeding for this?

Someone has stated that the difficulty in breeding light mules arises from the fact that when two birds of different species are paired together, their powers of reproduction are, so to speak, thrown out of balance, and instead of their individual characteristics being reproduced, something more resembling the types and colours of the original species is blended in the offspring.

If such is the case, would such not also be the case in a lesser degree when very distantly related birds of the same species are brought together?

If the original wild Canary is a green bird, would not its descendant have a natural tendency to revert to that colour, and if it was a small bird to revert to its original size?

Is it not by seizing upon some peculiarity that has manifested itself as a sport, and propagating it by selection, that most of our varieties of Canaries, Pigeons, in fact all our pets have been produced?

These are the questions I have been asking myself for some time, and I have been somewhat puzzled to know why it should be necessary to use green blood to produce yellow. I asked the question in your columns if it was necessary to use green or variegated birds to breed rich coloured clears, and Mr. Bastock replies: "It is the only way." Then he proceeds to tell the fancy how he bred a houseful of variegated birds; this is a far far better thing than I have ever done, but it is not exactly breeding clears, is it, Mr. Bastock?

Mr. Bixter, pairing a marked bird to a clear, gets a predominance of marked birds, although one of the old birds was from three generations of clears. His case is parallel with mine. I want to establish a strain without keeping a large number of birds. I like a well-marked bird (who doesn't), but if I breed four marked birds to two clears, in pairing them together at least one pair will consist of two marked birds. Add to this the necessity of pairing buff to yellow, and yellow to buff, and the various other points that have to be considered, and it follows that I would often have to pair marked birds, and I can foresee in this—if I am to keep my strain pure—as "Simple Simon" puts it, ultimately "a roomful of self and foul greens."

Mr. Bastock says that by double yellowing occasionally you can produce a large percentage of yellows, and adds that this is only common sense. Yes, and being common sense I can understand it. I have "dabbled" a little in painting; if I have a little yellow paint on my palette and add a little more to it I have more yellow paint on my palette, this is certain and only common sense; but if I add to it an equal quantity of green, a compound of blue and yellow, I find I have no yellow, but a paler green instead.

Yet this is what Mr. Bastock says should be done with the living colours. He says you can make yellow more yellow, or perhaps orange colour, by adding to it, not red, but blue along with a little more yellow.

This is uncommon sense, and I cannot understand it.

It seems to be the theory of the advocates of this system of breeding that if you pair two clear birds together you lose colour. Such being the case, ought it not to be a simple matter to breed all the colour out of them? Is it not strange that we have scarcely any white Canaries? What do they think of Mrs. Sargeant's experience of breeding from pale coloured clears as related under the heading "Eight years of Inbreeding." Cinnamon blood I suppose, which Mr. Bastock says does not produce colour and cannot be bred out. Is it possible that the bronze green can reappear when it has been bred out?

Mr. J. North, in his able article in Cage Birds of Oct. 7, speaking of wild Canaries, says, "Their plumage is not that of simple colour, but compounded of inky blue and yellow, forming golden green," "the non-production of the blue pigment would leave the yellow pure."

I believe that such is the case. I have, during the last sixteen years, had the privilege of seeing all the rare feathered birds that have passed through the hands of a well-known taxidermist, and it has led me to the conclusion that the blue rather often fails, but that the yellow is very persistent. I have seen varieties of the Green Woodpecker, Greenfinch, Chaffinches, etc., all showing vivid yellow colour when all other has failed.

I have never kept Budgerigars, but the abundance of the yellow variety, the extreme rarity of the blue, and the non-existence of the white, also, to some extent, helps to make me dubious of "the only way."

In conclusion may I thank the correspondents who answered my queries, Mr. Crawhall in particular, for his kind offer to write me personally. I shall probably avail myself of it when pairing time comes round again if it still holds good.

Mr. Wallace says we live and learn by reading Cage Birds. I quite agree with him; the Fancy would be a poor thing without it these times. But the abundance of the fare provided is sometimes embarrassing, and I fear that, like the crowd at a fair, we are sometimes attracted, and taken in by the "Cheap Jacks", who make the most noise.

Live and Learn.

IN-BREEDING:

WHAT IT IS, AND WHAT IT DOES.

A Treatise of the Greatest Interest to all Breeders of Live Stock.

BY

C. A. HOUSE.

Price tenpence, post free, from The Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Club Reports.

CODNOR PARK AND EASTWOOD.

Meeting, Three Tuns, Eastwood, Aug. 14, with a good attendance. Most of the arrangements were made for the Annual Open Show, Nov. 25, at Three Tuns, Eastwood. Members please send subs. as soon as possible to enable them to compete for specials. Specials will be on view at next meeting, Oct. 28, at Three Tuns, Eastwood, at 7 o'clock.—Smith and Lees.

SOUTH MOOR (Social Club).

Meeting held Oct. 15, 1916, Mr. Taylor, chair. Messrs. Saxon, Ostle, Platten, Thos. Shield, N. Foster, and J. Foster were elected stewards for annual show on Nov. 4 and 5. Mr. Shefley and J. Foster to look after timber. It was carried that the deputation be satisfactory. Fanciers please note, entries will close Nov. 1. Members please get as many specials as possible.—Geo. Lane, Sec.

OXFORD C.B.S.

Committee meeting, Headquarters, 58, George Street. Mr. Gough, chair, and a very good attendance. New members were admitted, Mr. Simmons, Cowley; Mr. H. Reverell, Oxford. After a long discussion it was decided that on account of so many members being called to the colours, and the great difficulty of obtaining a suitable room, and as several of the committee could not give any time in running a show, not to run a show this season.—A. Lewin, Hon. Sec.

PLUMSTEAD AND WOOLWICH.

General meeting Oct. 12, Trinity Schools, Beresford Street, Woolwich, Mr. Newnham chair. Owing to members working various shifts it was decided to hold a two days' members' show, Nov. 9, 10. Sec. having arranged with Mr. Robson to judge, and having all show business in hand, all present agreed to support same; a good many specials were handed in and classes arranged.—G. H. Macllellan, Hon. Sec.

SOUTH SHIELDS C.B.S.

Meeting "The Cyprus," Oct. 7, Mr. Howden chair, and about the usual numbers present, although we expected more, considering that there was such an important item on the agenda as the drawing up of schedule for the annual show, Dec. 2. The heated discussion that took place on the number of classes provided, namely, 41 classes, including one gift class for Red Cross, reminded one of old times, a casting vote of the Chairman going in favour of schedule being same as last year, and Mr. T. Dixon, Bedlington, to judge.—W. L. Smith.

LONDON C.B.A.

Meeting Oct. 12, "Red Lion," 2, York Street, St. James. Mr. Robson chair, and a good attendance. Chairman heartily welcomed Mr. F. Knight, of Bristol, an old member of the Society. After general business the meeting was given over to questions and answers, which resulted in a wealth of information to the members present. Decided to hold a table show of Canaries at the November meeting. Vote of thanks to chair ended the meeting.—A. Wallington.

ALFRETON C.B.S.

Meeting Red Lion Hotel, Oct. 14, Mr. G. Adnitt chair, with a very good attendance. Stewards for show, G. Adnitt, W. Evans, and E. Henshaw, with other members to take their share as door-keepers. Decided that Mr. Stanhope has all printing in connection with show. Books of tickets are ready, and will be sent to all members guaranteeing eight birds for gift class. Decided to give 5s. cash for most points in show by a non-member. On account of some specials being yet to come in it was decided to leave them to sec. After business Mr. Adnitt and other members gave some of their experiences on birdy matters, which brought a pleasant evening to a close.—Geo. Sawer.

NORTHERN BORDER F.C.C.

Meeting, Pillar's Cafe, Oct. 4, Mr. Smith presiding over a moderate attendance. Decided to grant the club patronage to the following shows:—Newcastle-on-Tyne, Gateshead, Blaydon, and Manchester. Owing to the number of members in H.M. Forces, a lengthy discussion took place as to whether the club's bronzes should be put up for competition over the patronage shows this year, and it was eventually decided to let them stand over. Decided to have a Table Show at next meeting, with the usual classification, and owing to the very moderate attendances of the members within recent months, it was decided that champions and novices exhibit together. Mr. Espie will judge, and members are asked to beat up in good numbers.—J. Farrer, Sec. pro tem.

WALLSEND C.B.A.

General meeting held Station Hotel, Oct. 11, Mr. L. Simpson presided over a grand attendance. Important show business was gone through, and officials elected. It was left to sec. to get another judge for British, so that we may get the show opened sooner. Since we elected our judges we have got 50 new members. I have engaged Mr. J. Maddison, Newcastle, to judge British. New members elected, Mr. Bewick, Windy Nook; Mr. Johnstone, Walker, and Mr. Heron, Wallsend. Mr. Johnstone, Wallsend, has given 2s. 6d. each for best green Border, best Cinn., best clear or mkd., and most points in the Borders, all for novices, so novice members don't forget to send your entries. This ended a most enjoyable evening.—G. Greenwell, Sec.

AYR C.B.C.

Meeting, Oct. 14. Sec. reported progress made to date with arrangements for annual open show in aid of Cornick House Red Cross Hospital. Y.M.C.A. Hall engaged on terms similar to last year; permission to run show under Red Cross auspices granted; Mr. J. F. Dewar, appointed judge of Scotch Fancy, British and Foreign sections, and Mr. R. Martin, Kirkintilloch, for Norwich. Mr. J. Hamilton, Eskbank, has been asked to judge Borders and Yorkshires. The show to be held on Dec. 9, and to be fully advertised in Cage Birds. Mr. W. B. Smart intimates the patronage of the B.F.C.C., and Mr. E. Barron, patronage of the Scottish Plainhead Club. Two more membership fees have been paid in, and a new member has just joined.—Hugh M. Ferguson, Sec.

IRVINE C.B.S.

Meeting Sept. 30, Templars Hall, Bank Street, Irvine, Mr. W. S. Clark presiding. Secretary's financial report was adopted, which showed a balance of £9 2s. 4d., being £2 8s. 6d. better than last year. Election of officers: President, Mr. Clark, was re-elected; vice-president, Mr. Young; committee, Messrs. H. McCall, D. Sperott, H. Aitken, G. Raeside, G. Duff, W. Murray, J. McMinn, and J. Nairn. Arrangements were made for open show Dec. 9. (Secretaries please note to avoid clashing). It has been arranged to hand over all surplus to charity of the district. The classification is very good (23 classes), and we hope to have the very best support from the fanciers in the district.

We have the full patronage of the Border Fancy C.C. Thirteen special prizes are promised, and more to follow.

Mr. W. S. Clark reported sending off a silver cigarette case and match box to Sapper James Alexander, who is now "doing his bit" in the Big Push in France. The case was fully inscribed with the name of the Society, and presented to Mr. Alexander for services rendered as secretary before enlisting. We have secured three well-known judges for our show, namely, Messrs. Hyslop, Stirling; Lambie, Whitburn, Kirkintilloch.—James Paterson, Sec.

CANARY KEEPING FOR BEGINNERS.

By J. NORTH.

(Continued from page 589.)

Helpful Hints on Management, Pairing, Breeding and Rearing, which should make the Hobby of Canary Keeping easy of pursuit by the amateur, and containing information of interest to older hands.

THE points of perfection have been arrived at by discovering the tendency towards any given excellence, such as enhanced colour or shape, or size, or position, or added features, such as crest or even-marking.

It is not as if we had found the wild Canary an over-large bird, and had in a retrogressive manner, reduced its size by selection of its puny offspring, or that it had originally been a beautiful yellow bird with dark-rimmed spectacle eyes and V-shaped markings on the wings, or that its normal head-feathering was as full and as round as a double marigold, and by very careful selection we had reduced it to the size of a field daisy.

Are the cultivated flowers of the garden generally considered to be "monstrosities" when compared to their wild prototypes? Or do the cultivated animals, such as dogs, cats, horses, and rabbits compare in any way unfavourably with the indigenous tribes from which they must have been evolved?

During the autumn and winter it is assumed that all those birds that do not go to the shows have been comfortably housed either in roomy cages, large flight cages, or have been flying loose in a room or aviary indoors or outdoors, although it is not often that those that are kept in the latter way have any pretensions to exhibition form.

In View of the Breeding Season.

At the approach of spring all such birds should be caught and put into cages, say, a group of four into an ordinary-sized breeding cage, or six into a larger breeder. Experienced fanciers can tell at a glance which are cocks and which are hens, not only when the birds are fully grown, but often as they lay in the nest partly fledged.

It is impossible to give a description, in words, that would enable anyone to do this; it is only by long custom and the handling of many birds that it can be done, and not then perfectly, unless one has the opportunity of frequently watching the birds for an hour or two, or, at intervals for a day or two.

As the breeding season approaches, the stock should be gradually caged singly, when the cocks will very soon be singing and the healthy hens flapping their wings and jumping incessantly from perch to perch.

Here let it be remarked that to attempt to breed with Canaries that are not in perfect condition of health is simply to bring trouble and court disaster. It has been stated that Canaries are susceptible to all the diseases that affect mankind, but without discussing this we will content ourselves with saying that breeding pairs must be in high condition of health before setting up house-keeping.

Keeping on the negative side of the subject, we will indicate the difference between the healthy state and the unhealthy by saying that birds intended for breeding purposes should not be short-breathed, especially at night, which is a good time to ascertain their rate of breathing, which is plainly denoted by the beating of the tail.

In a robust specimen this is scarcely perceptible, but in any that are affected in the breathing apparatus the caudal appendge beats rapidly, and swings a greater distance than it should do, and the extent of the diseased lungs may be accurately gauged by this increased action of the tail.

Birds that Should Not be Used.

A bird that is constantly eating and then moping is probably affected with liver-trouble and should not be advanced to the breeding-cage, but put back into the big flight cage. Some Canaries also drink a great deal too much, and nothing is thought of the habit, but it is indicative of a serious disease of the kidneys, and birds affected by it are no use for breeding, and will probably soon die.

It is no use trying to breed with cock birds that are not in full song, or which in the other ways already indicated prove their unfitness to enter the holy state of matrimony.

It is much better for the birds, and their owners, and makes towards success in subsequent breeding time if the birds when brought forward from their winter quarters are in high condition, and do not require any special preparation by feeding to stimulate them.

It has often been found that birds have got too fat during the winter, even on plain Canary seed and water, with a pinch of green meat at rare intervals. A certain amount of fat about the body of a Canary is only the healthy state for cold weather, but rolls of yellow fat over the loins, stomach, breast and vent do not help a hen anything during the spring and summer.

When Canaries during winter show a tendency to put on too much fat, it is a good plan to let their seed consist of two parts of Turkish canary seed and one pint of white millet; if this does not keep them in good hard flesh they should have some aperient saline in their drinking water, and the best of all for this purpose is sulphate of soda in the proportion of one dram of the salts to a pint of water. It is very effective and free from any disagreeable flavour.

It is very much better to discard any bird from the breeding-stock that fails in condition, than to attempt to pamper it into a healthy state. It is very seldom that any real success attends such efforts, and if any young ones do get hatched they are very likely to die in the nest or in the moult.

To Improve an Ailing Favourite.

Yet it sometimes happens that some celebrated prize-winner or its sister, or its cousin, or its aunt, does not exhibit any of those signs of health which are so noticeable in ordinary birds, and this being the very bird the fancier wishes to perpetuate he tries all he knows to improve the condition of his favourite. If such birds have been kept in cold-rooms, a move to warmer quarters and more sunshine will often improve matters.

A little egg and biscuit food every day, to which has been added five drops of Parrish's chemical food, and a leaf or two of watercress, or lettuce, or dandelion, sometimes works wonders. Such birds should be isolated into roomy, draught-proof cages, regularly provided with a bath, and cleaned out every day. Also give hemp seed.

Having made a final selection of breeding stock, get rid of the surplus, either by advertising them in Cage Birds or selling them to a dealer, and having ascertained which are cocks and which are hens of those you are keeping, the next thing is to see if the breeding cages are ready, or to procure one or more new ones.

By new ones it is not necessarily implied that the cages are to be bought ready made. If one has been well bitten by the Canary cult, the spare time of many evenings may have been profitably employed in cage-making, and when one has learnt that the enjoyment of any hobby is measured by the time and trouble taken in cultivating it, one takes pleasure in trying to surround ones proteges with well-made, comfortable, and commodious cages.

All About Cages.

The breeding-cages that are sold in the shops have their objections and they also have their advantages. Those that are called London breeders, and are fitted with two retiring rooms upstairs, or on the second floor, and a sliding partition underneath it to form a "nursery," are generally made too small for any breed except Germans, though the larger sizes, say those that measure 24 ins. wide, 10 ins. from back to front, and 14 ins. high, can be made into very comfortable and useful domiciles.

The nesting compartment should have a wired-door, opening in front, so that if the cage has its place on a rack or shelf by the side of other cages, the eggs or young ones may be taken out and looked at without troubling to move down the cage.

Such cages are to be found in stock in some large shops, or they might be made at home, during spare time as previously stated; they might be made to order, as it is not everybody that has got spare time.

It is as well to take bought cages to pieces and get the inside nicely painted with bright-coloured paint that dries "flat," so as to render them easy of being washed out with warm water and soap.

The nesting boxes may be square and made of wood, or the earthenware pans of circular shape may be substituted. Tin-nests are preferred by some, but either these or the china pans must be lined with felt, well sewn in, and all the parts of the cage and nest-boxes must be occasionally sprinkled with pyrethrum insect destroying powder.

The ends of the perches and any cracks or crevices which might possibly afford cover for "red-mite" may be brushed with turpentine or benzoline or "fir-tree oil" or "terebene" or "Sanitas" or "Creoline," all of which are non-poisonous to birds but inimical to parasites.

(To be continued.)

A very perfect specimen of the Tree-Creeper, whose habits in nature and keeping in captivity are described in the article below. The beautiful bird illustrated was shown with great success by Mr. S. H. Mays, Wansford.

THE TREE CREEPER

(Certhia familiaris).

How to House and Keep It.

By BEENI (Sonning).

Describing a novel cage as an ideal home for a charming insectivorous species which offers no particular difficulty in its keeping.

A FAIRLY common bird, the Tree Creeper is most often seen in woodland districts where there are oaks, elms, or well-grown pines. Its habits lead it to seek trees whose bark is rugged, and in the beech woods of the Chilterns the bird, though not rare, is not by any means abundant. The smooth skin of the beech affords neither suitable nesting sites nor hiding places for the insects which form the staple of the bird's diet.

The Tree-Creeper in Nature.

When the trees are stripping after the early frosts, when the days open with mists which gradually diffuse in the rays of the sun, when the woods are pungent with the odour of decaying leaves, when there is a feeling of approaching winter, "sweet though in sadness," then is the time to watch for the Tree Creeper.

Search for a tree with a rough bark, and if you have chosen your locality wisely you will most likely see the bird running mouse-like up the bole. As you watch she will disappear round the farther side, to re-appear a little higher up. Reaching the top, she will drop to the foot of the next tree and repeat the performance. Thus, flitting from crown to foot, the bird maintains a ceaseless activity, scarcely ever alighting on the ground, and as seldom perching, scrutinising every crack and cranny for insects which may have hidden away.

Had we seen our little friend six months earlier, when the woods were putting on their freshest livery, we should have seen her seemingly engaged in the same way, and as busily employed. But at this season she would have a double purpose in her actions. Besides satisfying her appetite she is earnestly "house hunting."

Not every tree is suited to her purpose. From tree to tree she must flit until, perhaps, in the rugged, gnarled coat of an oak, she comes upon the ideal place. A strip of bark has fetched away from the bole, and between this and the bole a long, narrow cell is formed. Into this our little friend flattens herself, and, taking stock, decides to enter into possession.

Her mate, not far off, comes at her call, and, apparently approving of her choice, the two forthwith commence nesting operations. A hole is made at the side of the cell just large enough to admit the body of the bird, and a few pine twigs laid at the bottom. The sides are lined with hay, moss, feathers and down, and within these snug quarters the hen lays from four to six eggs.

From the accessibility of the site of the nest the eggs suffer frequently from the depredations of mice. Of seven nests found with eggs this season five were subsequently found to have been rifled by these marauders. So the rate of mortality of these birds is necessarily very high.

How to Keep It in Captivity.

The Tree Creeper will do well in captivity, especially in aviaries. It is hardy and easily tamed, and, given plenty of room, is not at all a shy breeder. Whether it will breed in a cage or not I have never had an opportunity of testing. But it can be kept with success in a cage if the cage is construcled on a plan which takes into consideration the activities of the bird. The ordinary type of box cage is entirely unsuitable, as the bird rarely or never perches. What is required is an upright box cage, that is, one which is higher than it is broad.

The following particulars of a cage which I have devised and constructed for this type of bird, and which has proved quite suitable, may be of interest. In dimensions it is 24 inches in height, 18 in width, and 12 inches from front to back. A bottom rail is 3 inches deep, and below this comes the sand tray. A wooden food drawer slides into the bottom rail, and a drinker hangs inside. The back, for a depth of 9 inches from the top, is hinged to let down. The purpose of this will appear later.

On the back and right hand side are nailed strips of tough oak bark reaching from top to bottom, of course with the necessary clearance for the sand tray to be slid in and out. Oak bark is used because it will not crack away under the bird's claws. Strips of bark are also nailed along the supports of the food drawer and inside of the bottom rail. This is for the bird to cling to while feeding, as it will not perch.

In the strips of bark on the right side of the cage are two pockets contrived to hold small phials, and by letting down the hinged portion of the back I can insert the ends of leafy twigs into these phials and thus provide a canopy of leaves for the top of the cage. By putting water into the phials the twigs can be kept fresh for some time and renewed easily when faded.

For diet a good insectile mixture supplemented with live insects of the type the bird would be likely to obtain in a state of freedom will keep the Tree Creeper in good condition. Mealworms and gentles can be used when such insects as wood-lice, earwigs, moths, ladybirds, and small beetles become scarce. If a few of these insects are allowed to wriggle into the cracks of the bark nailed on the cage, the bird will derive considerable amusement and exercise in hunting them out. In the keeping of insectivorous birds as much variety as possible should be introduced into the live portion of the diet.

Although the Tree Creeper has no song to speak of it has many attractive ways which will make it worth keeping as a cage bird.

THE SHOWS.

(Continued from page 619.)

SACRISTON P.P.F AND C.B.S.

First open show of cage birds, Oct. 7, with 22 classes and a good entry. In the Norwich some first class specimens were out for competition, especially amongst the young birds; Yorkshires were scarce, but British were a nice entry; some of them were not quite through moult, but will make a name for themselves at later shows. The National School is an ideal place for a show; there is plenty of light, and the birds were very comfortable, with every care and attention given to their welfare. There was a large number of visitors. The judge, Mr. T. Dixon, Bedlington, gave full satisfaction, and the Sec., Mr. W. Dodd, and his hard-working committee, had everything well in hand. They are all fanciers and know the needs of the specimens they had in hand.

NOR. YELL. (9): 1, Thompson; 2, hc, Pierson; 3, Williams and Gailes; vhc, Stanger; c, Priest. BUFF (9): 1, Rutherford; 2, Bates; 3, Hogg; vhc, Williams and Gailes; hc, Briggs; c, Whyatt. 1916 BRED (17): 1, Lawson; 2, Arnison; 3, hc, Foster; vhc, Williams and Gailes; c, Holden. HEN (17): 1, Holden; 2, Lawson; 3, vhc, Bates; hc, Williams and Gailes; c, Briggs. YORKS. YELL. (6): 1, Grearly; 2, Taylor; 3, Wearmouth and Hodgson; vhc, Coomber; hc, c, Thompson. BUFF (4): 1, Bates; 2, Wearmouth and Hodgson; 3, Stanger; vhc, Grearly. 1916 BRED (6): 1, Wearmouth and Hodgson; 2, Bates; 3, Coomber; vhc, hc, c, Robson. HEN (4): 1, Bates; 2, Coomber; 3, Grearly; vhc, Stanger. BORD. YELL. (7): 1, Hay; 2, Watson; 3, Johnston; vhc, Tower; hc, Bates; c, Nicholson. BUFF (11): 1, Johnston; 2, Towers; 3, Watson; vhc, Nicholson; hc, Hay; c, Blakey. GREEN or CINN. (6): 1, 2, Johnston; 3, vhc, Greenwell; hc, Nicholson; c, Blakey. HEN (15): 1, Nicholson; 2, vhc, Johnston; 3, Bates; hc, Watson; c, Tower. CREST (7): 1, 2, Hugill; 3, Bewick; vhc, hc, Jeffries; c, Stanger. C.B. (3): 1, Bewick; 2, Stanger; 3, Gillespie. LINNET (15): 1, Waters; 2, vhc, Wright; 3, Forster; hc, Stewart; c, Robson. COLDF. or BULLF. (4): 1, Stangef; 2, Wilson; 3, Simpson; vhc, Wright. REDPOLL, ETC. (12): 1, Greenwell; 2, vhc, Forster; 3, Wilford; hc, Hooper; c, Hogg. GREENF. (7): 1, Gentleman; 2, Wright; 3, Boyd; vhc, Simpson; hc, c, Goodfellow. HEN (8): 1, Montague; 2, 3, Wright; vhc, Simpson; hc, Boyd; c, Hooper. AO.V. HARDBILL (15): 1, Boyd; 2, Rutherford; 3, Simpson; vhc, Wilson; hc, Wright; c, Knaggs. SELL. (6): 1, Lawson; 2, Hogg; 3, Stanger.

SCOTS FANCY NATIONAL DERBY

The annual show of the Scots Fancy National Derby O.A. was held Oct. 14 in the National Halls, Gorbals, Glasgow. The competition marked the gathering together of the best of the season's breeding, and the show was well patronised by breeders of the front rank from all quarters. Entries were about 30 up from last year, and quality was quite up to that of previous years. Mr. W. McClure, Glasgow, was out again on top, providing the Derby winner in his foul buff cock, which had done the same for its owner the previous week in Edinburgh. Mr. J. Muir, Glasgow, furnished the best for opposite sex with a foul buff hen of much promise. The secretary's duties are still very creditably carried out by the well-known and much respected enthusiast, A. M Baird, Paisley, who knows his work and does it, and to whom much credit is due for the success of the venture. Judging was got through in good time, and must have met with general approval, as we heard no grumbling.

YELL. CK., CLEAN OR FOUL (10): 1, Morrison, fine size cl., good type, col., and top end, thick through, nice pos.; 2, Allan, good stamp, not just so massive, will improve; 3, Thornton, good style and qual., fine action, better cond., runs hard up on 2nd; 4, Dalgleish, nice style and pos., fails in shoulder and size; 5, Phillips; 6, McClure; 7, Hannay. YELL. CK., PIED or GREEN (12): 1, Muir, real nice pied, well built, nice style and action, could do with shade more side and subs.; 2, Morrison, very nice green, in lovely order, fine type and qual., ready worker, must have pressed; 3, Main, green, bit unsteady, but good cond., fails in top end; 4, David, pied, nice reach and length of side, typical, but scarcely so thick through; 5, Muir; 6, McAdam; 7, Harrower. BUFF CK., CL or FOUL (17): 1, McClure, meritorious foul, carries off the much-coveted honour for second Saturday in succession, all there for build, thick through, fine length of side, nice drive, prominent shoulder and fine reach, good droop, handles well; 2, David, good cl., fine size and cond., nice type and qual., free worker, not so thick as leader, 3, Baird, in fine bloom, larger, thicker made, fine side, good top end, must have made a tight run for 2nd place; 4, Thornton, small, but neat, typical, proper stamp, only wants size; 5, Gray; 6, Kennedy; 7, Main. PIED or GREEN (24): 1, sp, David, fine exhibit, grand size, stylish and ready action, in lovely bloom, wins nicely; 2, Muir, nice pied, free action, good reach and shoulder, nice drive, fails in side and depth through; 3, Allan, trifle smaller, very stylish, rare top end, grand droop, staged in good order; 4, 6, Dalgleish, better for size, nice cond., good length of side, beaten at top end; 5, Livingstone; 7, Muir. YELL. HEN, CL. or FOUL (21): 1, Dalgleish, grand cl., fine depth of col., very stylish, fine action, rare shoulder and reach, good droop, nice drive, we liked much; 2, Morrison, typical, good top end, fine length of side, not so thick through, loses in cond.; 3, McAdam, good type and style, free worker, similar to 2 and well up for 2nd place; 4, Wilson, similar size and type, good cond., not quite the reach; 5, David; 6, Vernall; 7, Stewart. PIED or GREEN (17): 1, sp, Kennedy, pied, nice size and stylish, fine reach and shoulder, thick got up, not quite in full bloom yet; 2, Dalgleish, pied, fine size, col., and qual., A1 cond., well balanced throughout, close up; 3, Livingstone, green, fine style and action, fine shoulder, grand reach, could do with pinch more size, otherwise good; 4, Strathearn, Jun., green, similar type, good top end, nice drive, beaten size and length of side. BUFF HEN, CL. or FOUL (24): 1, sp best opposite sex to cup winner, Muir, really good foul, free worker, head, neck and shoulder all there, fine droop, nice side, thick through, fine model to work on; 2, Thornton, nice qual., similar type, loses in side and depth, well put down; 3, Dalgleish, good one, runs tight up on 2nd, nice shoulder and head, fine side and deep through, not just the droop; 4, Wilson, smaller built, nice type and qual., but beaten here; 5, Hendry; 6 and 7, Vernall. PIED or GREEN (23): 1, Allan, green, not one of the largest, but neat and typical throughout, and in fine order; 2, sp, Hunter, pied, good top end, nice side, good drive, not so free in action; 3, Muir, good green, fine style, action, nice shoulders, good side and drive, just beaten in reach, in fine bloom; 4, Beattie, nice pied, in good cond., fair style and type; 5, Dalgleish; 6, Cook; 7, McLauchlan.

CITY OF BRADFORD O.S.

Annual open show of Canaries, Feversham Street Council Schools, Oct. 14, the first Yorkshire Union show of the season. The room is very comfortable for exhibits and visitors alike, being well lighted, warm, and free from draughts, and within easy distance of the stations and cars. Entries totalled 393 for 30 classes, an average of 13 per class, and this must be considered excellent for the first show of the season. The society had made a good classification and the show started the competition for the Yorkshire Union challenge ten-guinea trophy, so visitors got to see many of the very best specimens of the Yorkshire Canary in the county from which it has taken its name. Unflighted classes were the strongest, as usual, having 101 entries in five classes. The sec., Mr. W. Helliwell, had full charge of the show, and was ably assisted by Mr. J. Horsfield. These two fanciers have had years of experience, and therefore everything was conducted in a very businesslike manner. The show stewards were Messrs. Brown, Carncross, McEwen, Bolton, and Bower. The gate was very well looked after by Mrs. Helliwell and Mr. Brown, and visitors turned up well, the room being packed all the afternoon. Several of the exhibits were claimed, the winner in the unflighted Norwich class at £10 10s.; the 2nd prize winner in unflighted Yorks hen at £12 12s., about a record price for a hen; the winning novice buff cock at £5 5s., and three hens in the selling class. These sales will help to make the show a success. The judges were: Mr. Peel (Yorks), and Mr. Cowgill (Norwich), and both seemed to give general satisfaction. The prize money was paid out during the afternoon to all the winners who attended the show.

CL. YELL. YORKS CK. (11): 1, Dykes, beautiful type, nice length, lovely qual. of feather, grand head and neck, rare wing carr., pipe tail, level col., stands correct, well shown; 2, Lunn, splendid length, feather like silk, nice head, wings well carried, hardly as straight as 1st, short of bloom, will improve; 3, c, Bennett, rare type and qual., very slim and stylish, well up on leg; 4, Hartley, well built, nice qual., not as fit; vhc, Ogden Bros.; hc, Arthur Radley. BUFF (10): 1, Fawcett and Long, very long, feather smooth as glass, good sound head, well-filled neck, wings and tail well braced, A1 position, in fine cond.; 2, Dr. Craig, beautiful qual., correct type of Yorks, head, neck and wings perfect, best of legs, only beaten in length; 3, Lunn, very stylish, grand shape, fine silky feather, shows well; 4, Bennett, full of type and qual., rather unsteady, will do better; vhc, Dykes; hc, Chittenden; c, Mason. TKD. YELL. (8): 1, Hodgson, sen., wing tkd., plenty of length, stands correct, lovely qual., sound level col., well-fitting wings and tail, staged in fine style; 2, Dykes, tkd. head and wing, lovely shape and style, fine silky feather, grand shaped head, wings and tail well placed, full of nerve, stands well; 3, Smith Bros., nice length, very slim and stylish, rare wing carr.; 4, hc, A. Brown, grand shape, good stock bird; vhc, Sutcliffe and Son; c, Arthur Radley. BUFF (7): 1, A. Radley, beautiful wing tkd., standard length, fine boxy feather, wings and tail well carried, well up on leg, shows well; 2, Dykes, wing tkd., plenty of length, feather like glass, grand head, full neck, wings perfect, close up; 3, Dr. Craig, lovely type and qual., correct pos.; 4, P. Hirst, grand shape and style, rather short of bloom, will improve; vhc, Brown; hc, Chittenden; c, Myers and Thornton. UNFLIG. YELL. (15): 1, P. Hirst, cl., splendid type, rich level col., grand head and shoulders, nicely cut away behind, feather like silk, A1 pos., a gem; 2, Myers and Thornton, sweet wing tkd., rare qual. of feather, very typical, good head, well placed wings, pipe tail, loses in length; 3, W. Helliwell, cl., very slim and stylish, lovely feather, well up on leg; 4, Bennett, grand length, full of type and qual., rich col.; vhc, Dykes; hc, J. Helliwell; c, A. Radley. BUFF (18): 1, 3, A. Radley, slightly tkd., plenty of length, grand head, well-filled neck, lovely qual., sound col., correct type, 3rd big strong bird, more like a stock bird, not quite fit yet; 2, Hartley, cl., beautiful shape, nice length, feather like wax, rare shaped head, wings well placed, best of legs; 4, P. Hirst, very stylish, full of nerve, nice qual.; vhc, Dykes; hc, Myers and Thornton; c, G. Midgley. CL. OR TKD. YELL. HEN (7): 1, Dykes, wing tkd., correct length, shape and style, perfect rich col., feathered as tight as wax, A1 pos., best of cond.; 2, J. Helliwell, grand type, fine silky feather, stands correct, level col., just a shade stout in build, neat wing carriage; 3, A. Radley, nice shape and style, rather rakey in feather, not ready; 4, Dr. Craig, cl., lovely type, bit loose, will improve; vhc, Bedforth; hc, Lunn. BUFF (13): 1, vhc, Myers and Thornton, cl., plenty of length, grand head and neck, wings and tail well carried, stands well up on leg, very fine drawn; 2, W. Helliwell, cl., rare shape, feather very boxy, lovely wing carriage, on good legs, only beaten in length; 3, Hartley, cl., wonderful length, teeming with qual, built on slimmer lines; 4, J. Helliwell, cl., lovely qual., rather stouter, rare wing carriage; hc, Dibb; c, Fawcett and Long. UNFLIG. HEN (22): 1, 4, P. Hirst, cl. buff, grand length, fine boxy feather, nice head, on good shoulders, wings well braced, stands well up, 4th sweet wing tkd., lovely qual. and type; 2, Hodgson, sen., wing tkd. yell., very long and well built, rich col., beautiful qual., well-fitting wings, shows well; 3, Hartley, cl. buff, rare type, plenty of length, excels in qual.; vhc, Middleton; hc, Towers; c, J. Helliwell. GREEN MKD. YELL. CK. (19): 1, Dykes, even mkd., wonderful length, rich in col., grand head, back and wings, beautiful feather, well up, on best of legs; 2, A. Radley, var., very long and well built, fine silky feather, nice round head, well placed wings and tail, richly col., well benched; 3, R. Ellis, sen., uneven mkd., rare type and shape, rather loose in feather, will improve; 4, Hodgson, sen., heavily var., hot in col., nice style and qual.; vhc, Lunn; hc, Fawcett and Long; c, Bennett. BUFF (11): 1, Hartley, strongly mkd., plenty of length, fine boxy feather, stands well up on leg, well fitting wings, sound level col.; 2, Dykes, uneven mkd., wonderful length, feather like silk, correct pos., very long and well carried flights, best of legs and feet; 3, Rothery, wing tkd., nice lengthy bird, rare shape, not quite fit yet; 4, Towers, even mkd., grand type and qual., rich in col., deserved a better place; vhc, Dibb; hc, Bedforth; c, Lunn. YELL. HEN (8): 1, Chittenden, even mkd., lovely type, plenty of length, shape and style perfect, A1 pos., wings and tail nicely carried, well benched; 2, Middleton, var., standard length, nice shaped head, on good shoulders, hardly as tight in feather, should improve; 3, Rothery, even mkd., full of type, excels in qual., shade less; 4, Hartley, var., very typical, rich qual.; vhc, Brown; hc, P. Hirst; c, Mason. BUFF (13): 1, Sharpe, var., grand length, feather as smooth as glass, good head, full neck, wings and tail perfect, best of cond.; 2, Chittenden, even mkd., lovely type, head well placed, on good shoulders, wings well carried, slim lines, stands well up; 3, Dykes, even mkd., very stylish, teeming with qual., close up; 4, Mason, even mkd., splendid size, well up in pos., feathered like wax; vhc, Ratcliffe; hc, Towers; c, S. Midgley. CINN. TKD. OR VAR. YELL. (7): 1, 2, Dr. Craig, wonderful length, rich level col., grand head, level neck, rare wing carr., stands correct on good legs, wins, 2nd uneven mkd., plenty of length, rare shaped head, wings and tail, well braced, rather rakey in feather, will improve; 3, Morrison, mkd. head and wings, good qual., very breedy, shows well; 4, Sutcliffe, var., very typical, rich qual., rather unsteady; vhc, Harrison. YELL. HEN (10): 1, Dr. Craig, even mkd., wondertul length, rich in qual., level col., on slim lines, lovely pos., best of legs, fine cond.; 2, Firth, even mkd., not quite as long, but full of type and qual., sound in col., shows breed, nicely benched; 3, S. Midgley, var., excels in qual., splendid shape, only beaten in length; 4, Brown, wing tkd., lovely shape and style; vhc, Hadwen; hc, Morrison; c, Harrison. BUFF (7): 1, Towers, var., splendid shape, feathered to perfection, grand head, neck and shoulders, rare wing carr., body well rounded, gem; 2, Dr. Craig, even mkd., very long and stylish, fine boxy feather, wing and tail, well braced, hardly as round as the leader; 3, Morrison, var., grand length and type, excels in qual., fine cond.; 4, S. Midgley, uneven mkd., nice size, lovely shape, well on leg, hardly fit; vhc, Hadwen; hc, Firth. SELL., HEN (8): 1, Hodgson, sen.; 2, Lunn; 3, 4, Collins Bros.; vhc, G. Midgley; hc, Raistrick; c, Harsfield.

THE OPEN NORWICH CLASSES.

YELL. CK. (11): 1, Moss, uneven mkd., grand size, large head, full breast, teeming with qual., rich and very hot in col., well across perch, fine cond.; 2, Kaberry, cl. yell., plenty of subs., exquisite tone of col., well on perch, splendid head, bold chest, well benched; 3, Crawshaw, even mkd., grand shape, nice subs., not fit, will improve; 4, Stubb Bros., tkd., hot in col., nice head and breast, shows well; vhc, Wilson; hc, Waters; c, Heap. BUFF (18): 1, Stubb Bros., grizz. on back, very massive, full of subs., sound col., nice wings, good head and breast, faultless style; 2, Waters, cl., plenty of subs., good head and very chesty, not so good in shape and col., should improve; 3, Thomas, mkd. head and wings, grand head and breast, hot col., nice shape, good 3rd; 4, Kaberry, grizz. on head, rare size, bold breast, rather fails in head; vhc, Baldwinson; hc, Hartley; c, Crawshaw. UNFLIG. CK. (25): 1, 4, Livingstone, cl. yell., beautiful shape, head and breast, perfect, rich in col., stands correct on perch, a real gem, 4th cl. yell., hot col., good head and nice round breast, fails in subs.; 2, vhc, Crawshaw, mkd. yell., plenty of subs., very hot col., splendid head, gets well on perch, hardly as bold in breast; 3, Haigh, cl. yell., grand shape, plenty of subs., stands well; hc, Kaberry; c, Thomas. YELL. HEN (11): 1, Waters, cl. yell., grand size, beautiful head and very bold breast, lovely tone of col., gets well on perch, fine cond.; 2, Crawshaw, yell. mkd., lovely type, rich col., full of qual., body round and cobby, only beaten subs.; 3, Thomas, wing tkd., grand shape and style, short of subs.; 4 vhc, Wilcock cl. yell., good head and breast, sound in col.; hc, Hirst; c, Rushton. BUFF (13): 1 Hean, cl., beautiful type, best of heads, good breast, sound level col., body shape correct, stands well; 2, Kaberry, cl., another beauty, plenty of subs., grand head, and breast, steady as a rock, just a little short of bloom, close up; 3, Clayton, cl., correct shape and type, hot in col., good 3rd; 4, Crawshaw, wing tkd., grand head; vhc, Bennett; hc, Baldwinson; c, Tose. UNFLIG HEN (21): 1, Waters, grizz. on head, buff, good size, large head, very broad chest, stands well, level in col. a beauty; 2, 3 Crawshaw, buff, mkd. on head, nice shape and qual., lovely head and breast, beaten in size, 3rd buff var., plenty of subs., well across perch, nice shape and type; 4, Hirst, cl. yell., lovely type, on smaller lines; vhc, Stubb Bros.; hc, Thomas; c, Moss.

NOVICE Y.U. CLASSES (Limit £5 5s.).

CL OR TKD. YELL. CK. (16): 1, Crowther, cl., grand length, rich col., feathered like glass, good head, wings and tail, well placed, gem; 2, Lloyd, cl., plenty of length, rich in qual., sound col., good head and neck, wings well carried, hardly as straight; 3, P. Taylor, cl., very stylish and breedy, grand qual., stands well; 4, A. Taylor, mkd. on head, nice length, good type, bit short of bloom, will improve; vhc, Medley; hc, Pacey; c, Haggis. BUFF (21): 1, Cowell, cl., typical, plenty of length, excels in qual., head, shoulders and wings perfect, A1 pos.; 2, Wheatley and Son, cl., larger, but not as good in qual., make grand stock bird, not quite in best cond.; 3, A. Taylor, tkd., full of type and qual., well up on leg; 4, Baker Bros., tkd., slim and stylish, rich qual., shade less; vhc, Chapman; hc, McEwen; c, Wilman. A.O.V. CK. (14): 1, Pownall Bros., var. buff, grand length, good head and neck, wings and tail, well braced, stands correct, fine boxey feather; 2, Cowell, var. yell., beautiful type, rich level col., lovely qual., close up, only beaten in length; 3, Hamlyn, even mkd. yell., very slim, full of nerve, shows breed; 4, Robinson, uneven mkd. yell., full of type, feather like silk; vhc, Wheatley and Son; hc, P. Taylor; c, Ramsbottom. CL. OR TKD. YELL. HEN (11): 1, P. Taylor, cl., beautiful shape and style, tight as wax, level col., fine cond., wings and tail perfectly placed, well staged; 2, Lloyd, cl., slimmer in build, grand length, rich in qual., best of legs, rare wing carr., fine cond.; 3, Northrop, cl., very long and stylish, nice qual., neat wing carr.; 4, Senior, cl., slim and typical; vhc, McLoughlin; hc, Jowett; c, Heeley. BUFF (22): 1, Terry, cl., splendid shape, nice length, tight as wax, grand head, well, filled neck, wings and tail well placed, A1 pos.; 2, Wood, cl., wonderful length, excels in qual., good shape, built on strong lines, fails a bit in wing carr., requires more training; 3, Crowther, cl., lovely shape and style, well up on leg, will do better; 4, Lloyd, mkd. shade less, beautiful qual., slim and stylish; vhc, Wilman; hc, Bolton and Lunn; c, Craven. A.O.V. HEN (15): 1, Chapman, var. buff, grand size, full of type, fine boxey feather, level col., good head, neck and wings, stands correct, staged well; 2, Crowther, tkd. yell., very slim and stylish, teeming with qual., rich sound col., wing carr. perfect, close up; 3, Haggis, buff mkd., grand shape, fine silky feather, well up on leg; 4, N. Hirst, ycll. mkd., nice size, lovely qual., fails in head; vhc, c, Senior; hc, Raistrick. CINN. TKD. OR VAR. CK. (5): 1, Woad, even mkd. yell., wonderful length, rich hot col., very long flights, well up on good legs, put down in fine style; 2, Chapman, even mkd. yell., another good big bird, plenty of length, good col., wings and tail well carr., A1 pos.; 3, Robinson, buff mkd., lovely shape and style, finely feathered; 4, Ramsbottom; vhc, Andrews. HEN (7): 1, Hodgson, junr., var. yell., correct type, lovely qual., rich and level col., wings and tail perfectly placed, benched in fine style; 2, 3, Pownall Bros., buff mkd., grand length, well up on leg fine silky feather, wings well carr., shows well; 3, buff mkd., built on slim lines, excels in qual., very stylish; 4, Andrews, buff mkd., grand shape and type; vhc, Woad; hc, Bleazard; c, Raistrick.

Members' Shows.

NOTE.—Secretaries will greatly facilitate the work of ourselves and our printers if they will kindly endeavour to send their reports as nearly as possible as they see these accounts printed, and if they will also write the names of exhibitors as distinctly as possible.

BRIGHTON AND HOVE C.B.A.

Oct. monthly table show, 22 birds staged. Mr. H. James, judge. Some good Canaries were on view. A.V. Can. (Champ.): 1, 2, 3, vhc, c, H. T. Gibb, a fine team, 1st and 3rd Yorks., 2nd Nor.; hc, Pearson. Novice: 1, 2, 3, Firth, all Yorks., a good lot; vhc, Gorman; hc, Brown; c, Fellows. Mule or Hyb.: 1, Firth, yell. Goldie-Can.; 2, H. T. Gibb, buff Goldie-Can.; 3, Parsons, yell. Goldie-Can. Brit.: 1, Travers, Goldfinch.—W. H. Gibb, Sec.

BOOTLE C.B.S.

Monthly meeting, Oct. 3, Mr. T. Evans presiding over a good attendance. A competition was held for the hottest colour fed birds, and some highly coloured specimens were exhibited. Mr. T. Evans judged, and gave complete satisfaction. Clear Yell.: 1, Huyton; 2, Worrall; 3, Wilson; vhc, hc, Knight; c, Tullock. Buff: 1, 2, Huston; 3, Wilson, vhc, Worrall; hc, Tullock; c, Howard. Mkd. or Variegated Yell.: 1, Huston; 2, Worrall; 3, Tullock; vhc, Knight. Buff: 1, Huyton; 2, Satterthwaite; 3, Cothiff; vhc, Tullock. Novice half-day show, Nov. 11; judges, Messrs. T. Rowlands and T. Evans.—A. E. Huyton, Hon. Sec.

HORNSEY, WOOD GREEN C.B.A.

Successful table show of Canaries, British and Foreign, Oct. 3. The birds sent in were quite up to the high standard usually seen at the shows of this Society. Special, best bird, was won by Mr. Bailey with a typical Norwich of lovely quality. The Sec., Mr. P. Brooks, managed everything in his usual able manner. Mr. H. Norman judged. Ch. Nor.: 1, 2, Griffin. Amat.: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Bailey. Unflig.: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Bailey. Yorks.: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Dr. Huggins; hc, Miss Smith. Nov. Nor.: 1, Dr. Huggins; 2, 3, Martin; vhc, Smith. Brit.: 1, R. L. Huggins; 2, Mrs. Willis. For.: 1, Mrs. Huggins; 2, 3, Willis. Amat. Yorks.: 1, Mrs. Willis; 2, R. L. Huggins.

EAST HAM F.S.

Eighth Members' Young Stock Show, Central Liberal Club, Oct. 7. The quality was splendid. W. Blows won silver spoon and diploma with a Yorks. yell. ck.

Yorks, Yell.: 1, sp, 2, 3, vhc, Blows. Buff: 1, 2, Blows. Mkd. or Var.: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Blows. Nor. Yell.: 1, Blows. Buff: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Blows. M. or Var.: 1, Bosher; 2, 3, Blows. A.O.V. Can.: 1, 2, 3, vhc, Blows. Mules: 1, sp, 2, Bosher. British Hardbill: 1, sp, 3, Bosher; 2, Thompson; vhc, Moses. Softbill: 1, sp, Wadsworth. Sell. Can.: 1, 2, hc, Blows; 3, vhc, c, Thompson. Brit.: 1, 2, 3, Thompson. Cup most points, Blows. Best Brit., Wadsworth. Best Brit. 1916, Bosher. Best Mule 1916, Bosher. Judge, A. Fleet.—W. A. Harwood, Hon. Sec.

LEEDS C.B.S.

Table show Oct. 7. Judge, Mr. W. Hall, whose awards gave entire satisfaction. Yorks. Yell. (8): 1, Baldwinson; 2, 4, vhc, hc, Sanderson; 3, c, Yelland. Buff (7): 1, 2, 3, vhc, Sanderson; 4, Yelland; hc, c, Kendrew. Nor. Yell. (9): 1, 2, 4, Livingstone; 3, Chambers and Smith; vhc, Johnson; hc, Baldwinson; c, Kendrew. Nor. Buff (7): 1, vhc, Chambers and Smith; 2, Livingstone; 3, Kendrew; 4, hc, c, Baldwinson. A.O.V.: 1, 2, Stephenson. Brit. Lin., Red, Sis., etc.: 1, 3, T. Dobson; 2, 4, hc, Hunt; vhc, c, Cummings. Gold. or Bullf.: 1, Cummings; 2, T. Dobson. A.O.V. Brit.: 1, 2, 3, 4, Cummings; vhc, c, Dobson.

It was decided that we remove our headquarters to the Griffin Hotel, Boar Lane, and that members' show, Nov. 4, date be altered to Nov. 11 on account of so many members wishing to visit and exhibit at Sheffield on Nov. 3-4. This show on Nov. 11 will be held in the stock room at the Griffin Hotel (entrance down Mill Hill), and members are asked to make a note of this, and also that entries will definitely close Nov. 8.—J. Chambers, Hon. Sec.

HUDDERSFIELD O.S.

Monthly table show held Headquarters, Oct. 9. There was a very good entry of 73 birds, all Yorkshires. Mr. Bray, Holmfirth, judged. Yell. Ck. (5): 1, vhc, A.Radley; 2, Bray; 3, Gledhill; hc, Wood. Buff (10): 1, Whitehead; 2, M. Radley; 3, Sykes; vhc, Buttle and Coupland; hc, Looney; c, Gledhill. Yell. Hen (6): 1, 3, Gledhill; 2, Sykes; vhc, Ellis; hc, A. Radley; c, Cox. Buff (9): 1, Smithies; 2, 3, A. Radley; vhc, Wood; hc, Bray; c, M. Radley. Unflig. Yell. Ck. (10): 1, vhc, Bray; 2, c, Sykes; 3, M. Radley; hc, Smithies. Buff (12): 1, Bray; 2, e, Townend; 3, Smithies; vhc, Buttle and Coupland; hc, A. Radley. Unflig. Yell. Hen (6): 1, Sykes; 2, A. Radley; 3, Buttle and Coupland; vhc, M. Radley; hc, Hargreaves; c, Whitehead. Buff (6): 1, Sykes; 2, Bray; 3, Townend; vhc, Smith; hc, c, Smithies. Cin. Mkd. Ck. (5): 1, Wood; 2, vhc, Buttle and Coupland; 3, Holmes and Schofield; hc, Shanks. Hen (6): 1, Sykes; 2, hc, Smithies; 3, A. Radley; vhc, Cox; c, Buttle and Coupland. Principal point winners: F. Sykes, 98; M. Radley, 68; Buttle and Coupland, 67: A. Smithies, 65; W. Gledhill, 49; G. Wood, 46; B. Townend, 44; C. Bray, 43; A. Radley, 36.—A. Lawford, Sec.

BRADFORD EAST O.S.

First old bird show of the season, headquarters, Park Chapel Schoolroom, Oct. 7. Mr. R. Garnett, Windhill, judge. 96 birds staged.

Champ.—Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Yorks.: 1, Walker; 2, 3, Bushfield. Buff: 1, Walker; 2, 3, Farrar; 4, Northrop. Unflig. Yell.: 1, Walker; 2, Wroe; 3, Farrar; 4, hc, Northrop; vhc, Riley. Buff: 1, Walker; 2, 3, Midgeley; 4, Riley; vhc, Rushworth. Mkd.: 1, 2, Walker; 3, vhc, Farrar; 4, Rushworth; hc, Busfield. Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Hen: 1, Northrop; 2, 4, Farrar; 3, Walker; vhc, Midgley; hc, Busfield; c, Laycock. Buff: 1, Farrar; 2, Walker; 3, 4, Wroe; vhc, hc, Busfield; c, Midgley. Mkd.: 1, 4, Farrar; 2, Laycock; 3, Riley. Nov.—Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Yorks.: 1, Verity; 2, Wilman; 3, Hargreaves; 4, Spencer. Buff: 1, Wilman; 2, Hargreaves; 3, Spencer. Unflig. Yell.: 1, Verity; 2, Hargreaves; 3, C. S. Taylor; 4, Walton. Buff: 1, 2, Naylor; 3, Wilman; 4, vhc, Spencer. Mkd.: 1, 3, Hargreaves; 2, Wilman; 4, vhc, Denton; hc, Spencer. Cl. or Tkd. Yell. Hen: 1, Taylor; 2, Denton; 3, Spencer; 4, Walton; vhc, Anderson. Buff: 1, 4, Wilman; 2, 3, Naylor, vhc, Taylor; hc, c, Verity. Mkd.: 1, 4, Spencer; 2, Hargreaves; 3, Verity. Sell.: 1, Walker; 2, Rushworth; 3, Wilman; 4, Anderson. Hen: 1, 2, Walker; 3, Anderson; 4, Wilman.—J. Spencer, Sec.

CLUB AND SOCIETY NOTICES.

ONE NOTICE of any forthcoming Society meeting inserted free. It must reach us not later than Tuesday morning's post. Specially printed Club Notice Postcards may be had free on application to our Manager. Secretaries should always use them.

ASHTON-UNDER-LYNE C.B.S.—Oct. 21, P.S.A. Rooms, Albion Street, 2. Final table show. Nor. York and Brit. Judge, Mr. F. Hargreaves. —J. Whitehead.

BLAYDON C.B.S.—Oct. 28, at Coop. Library, 7.30. Final arrangements for annual show, etc.—Geo. Havver.

BIRMINGHAM (SOUTH) C.B.S.—Oct. 21, Marlboro' Hotel, 7.30. Members' annual show business; several new members to be proposed.—G. H. Swindon.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.—Oct. 23, Church Institute, Paddington Street, W., 8. Norwich judging competition; receive annual show specials. Fanciers invited to see Mr. A. Howard, of Norwich, judge.—F. J. Martin.

CODNOR PARK AND EASTWOOD C.B.S.—Oct. 28, at Three Tuns Inn, 7. Fix specials for open show and other important business.—Smith and Lees.

COALTOWN OF WEMYSS C.B.S.—Members please pay subs. on or before Oct. 28, to have names entered in Fife C.B.L.—A. Storrar.

DARLINGTON C.B.S.—Oct. 25, George Hotel, 7.30. Most important. Re table and Federation shows, old and new members well catered for.—Wm. Hearfield.

FIFE C.B.S.—Oct. 28, Lochgelly, 6. Delegates meet at Cross at 6.—J. Sneddon.

FALKIRK, GRANGEMOUTH AND BANNOCKBURN.—Oct. 28, Union Hall, 7.30. Business very important and interesting to all.—D. Aitken.

HUDDERSFIELD O.S.—Oct. 23, White Hart Hotel. 7.30. Open show business.—A. Lawford.

IDLE C.B.S.—Oct. 21, Springfield Hotel, 2.30. Members' show; entries day of show. Judge, Mr. J. A. Taylor, Bradford.—J. Chippendale.

LOCHGELLY C.B.S.—Oct. 21, Ante-room Drill Hall, 6.30. Show business; final meeting before show.—W. Grewar.

LARKHALL C.B.A.—Oct. 28, Y.M.C.A. Hall, 7. Classification for open show; reports from judges and other show business; come early. —J. McGregor.

LONDON AND COUNTIES A.C.B.—Oct. 21, Victoria Hotel, Charterhouse Street, E.C., 7. Autumn show business.—W. Gilbert.

MIDLAND ROLLER C.C.—Oct. 26, "Seven Stars," St. John Street, Wolverhampton, 7.30. Very important.—J. W. Thomson.

NEWCASTLE E. END C.B.S.—Oct. 25, Shop, 161 Shield Road, Newcastle, 7.30. General business and arrangements for show.—E. Coltman.

NORWICH PLAINHEAD CLUB.—Oct. 28, Manchester Show, 3.—General meeting; important. —J. Hopkins.

OPENSHAW GORTON C.B.S.—Oct. 25, 8.30. Room, back of stage, Alhambra, Higher Openshaw. Selection of judge "Annual Show." Subs. due; annual show correspondence.—A. W. Newton.

OXHILL CENTRAL WORKMEN'S.—Oct. 22, Headquarters, 10.30 a.m.—Select stewards and other important business.—W. J. Platten.

PUDSEY AND STANNINGLEY C.B.S.—Oct. 20, Fleece Hotel, Stanningley, 7.30. Entries for show and other business.—Roy Kell.

PARTICK C.B. C.—Oct. 20, Foresters' Hall, Dumbarton Road, 8. Special meeting; annual show business.—T. Fraser.

PENY GRAIG C.B.S.—Oct. 24, Butchers' Arms, 6. Washing exhibition, also show business. Subs. are due; new members invited. —G. Padfield.

QUEEN'S PARK (GLASGOW) C.B.S.—Oct. 25, Y.M.C.A. Rooms, 7.45. Final show arrangements and washing exhibition by Mr. W. Connelly. Novices specially invited.—A. K. Hunter.

SWANSEA C.B.A.—Oct. 21, Elysium, High Street, 8. Show business; final arrangements; subs. must be in; last night.—J. H. Ford.

SACRISTON P.P.R. and C.B.S.—Oct. 21, Mrs. H. Abbot's Tea Rooms, 5.30. Business, re open show; full meeting after Committee meeting at 7.—Wm. Dodd.

STRATFORD AND E. LONDON F.S.—Oct. 25, Eagle, Stage at 7. Young stock show of British, any age. Judge, Mr. Skinner. Certificates and specials. Entries Monday, to A. Wasey.

SUNDERLAND C.B.A.—Oct. 21, North of England Café, Station Street, 7.30. Business of members' show.—F. Riscborough.

VALE OF LEVEN C.B.C.—Oct. 24, Village School, Alexandria, 8. Show business; election of judges, etc.—A. H. McLean.

WARRINGTON C.B.S.—Oct. 26, Blue Bell Sale Rooms, 8. Show business; election of judge, schedule, etc.—H. Warburton.

WAKEFIELD O.S.—Oct. 21, Crown and Anchor Hotel, 7.30.—Business in connection Oct. show and inter-club show.—J Isherwood.

WEST STANLEY EMPIRE F.F.C.B.S.—Oct. 22, Club Hall, 7. Important show business—R Hutchinson.

Nests of Birds, Poultry, etc., should be regularly sprinkled with KEATING'S POWDER, especially when hens are sitting Don't forget to do this just previous to the eggs hatching, to destroy the Red Mite. Kills all insects. Harmless to everything else.

Queries Answered

(For Rules see last week's issue.)

CANARY QUERIES

Answered by CLAUDE ST. JOHN.

POINTED TAIL FEATHERS.

M. H. A.—The feathers you sent are certainly just a trifle narrow and thin, and such as might occur from having too much yellow blood in the birds, as when double-yellow-bred, or from mating birds too closely related. But considering that they are nest feathers there is not really very much the matter with them, and you will doubtless find when the new feathers come in the place of the two sent that what you consider a grave defect has to some extent disappeared, as the new feathers will almost certainly show a broader tip than the nest feathers, and also be slightly longer. Still, if the parents are not related, to be quite on the safe side I would advise you to select the best and chubbiest buff hen with the broadest and bluntest—that is with the width continuing nearest the tips—tail and flight feathers from the young hens, and mate it back to one of the buff cocks, preferably not its own father, though there would be no objection to doing this once if necessary, and work these double-buff bred youngsters back into your stock the following season; of course, keeping an eye on the desired breadth of flights and tail each season. This will correct any defect that may exist in these young birds, which you may find is not very palpable after all.

RATS IN ATTIC.

Nourishing Pat.—If it is only a stray visitor from adjoining premises that now and again finds its way up to your boarded attic, I think you would find it quite a sufficient deterrent if you got a little chloride of lime, hunted out all the entrance holes in the attic, and worked as far as possible some of the lime into each hole, pushing it in with a small thin cane with a tuft of linen tied on the end, so as to get it to drop down the holes behind the boards well beyond the entrance into the attic. Then fill the hole with a mixture of broken glass or china and cement. The odour of the lime is an excellent deterrent to these rodents, and when it has filled the space behind the boards should suffice to keep an occasional visitor at bay for a very long time. In addition to this you must take the precaution of keeping all seeds and foods in tins or boxes, the former for preference, well out of the way, and never allow any waste seed or husks to accumulate in the cages or about the floor of the attic. The latter is the great attraction, and it is one of the mysteries of bird-keeping how soon waste allowed to lie about will attract these pests from afar. It would be best to continue your efforts at trapping, which have succeeded so far, on the ground floor, as long as there are any signs of the pest, and if you are afraid of a cat on this floor, why not try a small terrier?

TO SETTLE A DISPUTE.

J. Nichols.—This argument is rather one of the chameleon type—you know the story, of course. You are quite right in saying that Canaries bred in 1916 will not lose the large quill feathers of the wings and tail this year unless they were forcibly plucked out, and your friend is also quite right in holding that pigeons do lose these feathers at the first moult in the same year they are bred, and is, of course, equally correct in saying that pigeons are birds. What else could you imagine they were? A pigeon is just as much a bird as a Canary, and so is a turkey or an ostrich for the matter of that, in just the same sense as a mouse and an elephant are both animals. To come back to your dispute, you appear to differ only through ignorance of the fact that it is only certain families of birds which retain the flight and tail feathers until the second, or what is termed the adult moult, and the Canary being so largely bred in a domestic state is the best known of these species. Most of the Finch family are subject to the same moulting phenomenon. Therefore you see that, as in that other famous argument, you may both justly claim to be right, but it would be quite wrong to say that birds, speaking collectively, do not lose their flights and tail until the second moult, because the great majority of them certainly do so, though many species do not.

HUSKINESS AFTER MOULT.

Songster.—It is not at all uncommon for the voice to be somewhat husky, or hoarse, when a bird is first starting to resume song after the moult. As a rule it is of no material importance, as the symptoms pass off as the voice regains its normal strength, and the bird gets into full song. It is only really necessary to see that the bird is kept in a pure atmosphere, free from irritating fumes, and also direct cold draughts and rapid fluctuations of temperature. If the hoarseness appears serious, twelve drops each of glycerine and lemon juice and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a three-penny-piece in the water for two or three days should be all that is really necessary to remove it.

EFFECTS OF MOULTING.

G. G.—It is possible that the change to the fresh room for moulting was too much for the bird, especially if it had previously been accustomed to a very warm place. Remove it now to a fairly warm place, though it need not be overheated, and see that it is quite free from cold direct draughts, and sudden extremes of heat and cold, and treat as follows for a month. In addition to the staple seed diet give every third day half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake with four drops of sherry and two of cod liver oil emulsion mixed in it, and on the intervening days give first a similar quantity of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, and broken groats, and a small spray of some green salad, and next a morsel of banana. Also keep a morsel of the following paste stuck in the wires for it to peck at for a week or two. Mix together a teaspoonful of pure honey, ditto of cod liver oil emulsion, as much chlorate of potash as will cover a shilling, ditto of powdered grain of paradise, and a sufficiency of finely powdered biscuit to make it the consistency of soft cheese. When set, cut it into cubes to stick in the wires. Add to the water for three consecutive days ten dops of lemon juice, and as much Epsom salts as will cover a sixpence, and after this give four drops each of oxymel of squills, ipecacuanha wine and sweet spirit of nitro every second day for a fortnight.

AILING NORWICH.

F. McK.—The scaly appearance of the beak is very suggestive of old age, which would account for most of the other symptoms accompanying the moult. In this case you would also probably find that the feet are coarse and scaly, and, perhaps, the claws overgrown and curved, which would account for the difficulty in perching. To remedy this soak the feet once daily for a few days in a warm solution of boracic acid—a small teaspoonful of the acid in a saucerful of warm water—then dry carefully, and on the first day if the claws are much overgrown cut them back with a sharp pair of nail scissors to about the normal length, but be careful not to go quite so far back as the end of the thin pink streak which, if you hold the claws up to the light, you will notice extends a little beyond the end of toe. Keep the bird quite on the warm side until the effects of the moult have quite disappeared, and see that the temperature is fairly equable, and avoid cold direct draughts. Every second day for a fortnight, in addition to the staple seed diet, give a piece of bread the size of a hazel nut, soaked in cold milk, drained, two drops of cod liver oil emulsion on it, and sprinkled with soft sugar, and on the alternate days half a teaspoonful of a mixture of equal parts hemp, niger, white millet, teazle, and broken groats, and a morsel of green salad or banana. In the water for three consecutive days give as much Epsom salts as will cover a sixpence and ten drops of lemon juice, and after this give instead 20 drops of chemical food in the water every second day for two or three weeks.

NORWICH COCK AILING.

M. A.—(1) I am afraid, as I said in my last reply, that the bird will never be of much use again. Go on now with the following treatment for a month, and note effect on the tightening of the plumage. As you cannot get good summer rape, give a staple diet of plain canary seed only, and in addition give separately every second day half a teaspoonful of the following mixture, viz.: Equal parts each, by measure, of hemp, black rape, white millet, teazle, niger, and broken groats, with just a slight sprinkling of yellow mustard in the bulk, and on the alternate days give twice only in each week a similar quantity of crushed sponge cake with two drops of cod liver oil emulsion well mixed in it and sprinkled with maw seed. Give a morsel of green salad daily, and keep a little of the paste advised to "G. G." in this issue stuck in the wires for it to peck at when it likes. Offer the bath only in bright, mild weather. In the drinking water add 20 drops of a solution made by dissolving half a drachm of ammoniated citrate of iron and quinine in an ounce of sherry, and then adding a teaspoonful of glycerine. Give the latter every second day for three weeks. (2) I cannot advise you to retain this hen for breeding next season. It would be much the wiser plan to discard her altogether. However, if you wish to treat her, first examine her to see if she is troubled with grey lice, and also the cage for signs of red mites; and if either pest is found take the necessary steps to eradicate them. Then keep in a fairly warm place and add to the water every second day for a fortnight 20 drops of whisky, five of syrup of saffron, and as much chlorate of potash as will cover a sixpence. On the alternate days give half a teaspoonful of crushed sponge cake slightly dusted with flowers of sulphur and sprinkled with maw seed. At the end of a fortnight of this treatment throw a light cover over the cage and remove it to a colder room where no fires are kept, but see that the place is fairly equable and free from damp, and leave it there for a week or so, and if the moult has made a good start by that time you may take it back to a more comfortable place, and let it follow its own course. Stop the medicines when you first remove it to the cold room.

BRITISH BIRDS, MULES AND HYBRIDS

Answered by H. NORMAN.

HAWFINCH WITH BROKEN LEG.

Inquirer.—Although simple fractures in animals and birds unite well and quickly, I would advise you not to interfere with the bandage under a month, unless you find in a week or so that the bird pulls it about himself; in that case, you must carefully release it and re-bind a little less tightly, but do not interfere with it unless you are absolutely obliged.

FRESHLY-CAUGHT FINCHES.

M. Mitchell.—There is a little knack and a good deal of judgment required to successfully feed freshly-caught Finches. I think the great error is in giving them too much hard seed directly they are caged. From the month of August onward the seed they eat in the open is either new seed just ripened, or seed that has laid in the open and become soft and sprouting. If fanciers would bear this in mind they would have fewer losses. Many freshly-caught birds will eat hard seeds readily, and their owners think they are doing well, but they are simply gorging themselves with hemp, etc. As regards Goldfinches I have found the following method successful. Keep them in separate cages; feed on teazle, maw, Canary, and a little linseed, also cracked hemp in a separate vessel; soak some rape and teazle (three parts rape to one of teazle). Give them this daily and see that they eat a fair quantity. Collect wild seed, and get on to the dry seed diet gradually. When they have been caged a week give an aperient (as much Glauber salts as will cover a shilling in an ordinary drinker). If they require a tit-bit to pick them up, offer soaked teazle alone. You can treat freshly-caught Linnets in much the same manner, relying mainly upon soaked rape. Give also chickweed, groundsel, and shepherd's-purse until they are well on seed. In the case of "going light," prevention is better than cure. Cleanliness combined with suitable food are the principal preventives; the aperient occasionally also assists. If you have any doubts about your water supply, boil it before giving it to the birds. When you constantly mix drugs with it, they lose their effect, and the birds do not drink freely.

MULE BREEDING IN SPARE ROOM.

D. W. (Mountain Ash).—I would advise you to turn into your room the following birds: Two Goldfinch cocks, one Linnet cock, and about six hen Canaries. It is no use leaving in all the Linnets you mention; they would only chase each other round the aviary and neglect the hens. I suggest Goldfinches and Linnets for Mule breeding, because Mules from these are always in demand, so that you can easily get rid of your spare birds; but if you fancy any other of the Finches, say, Siskin, Greenfinch, or Redpoll, you could put one in place of one of the Goldies. You can let them fly together all the winter, and when the spring comes place nest-boxes, pans, etc., in different positions, having many more than are actually required, so as to give the hens a choice of position and prevent quarrelling. Read answer to "G. H. R." in last week's issue.

DEATH OF WILD BIRD.

Hilda.—By the description you send of the bird you caught with the broken wing, I rather fancy it was a hen Yellow Bunting. I am sorry you did not send the bird up for identification, which is quite in order. You evidently misread our rule. It refers to dead bodies for post-mortems; these should be sent direct to Mr. Yates, not to the office. In matters of identification the bird itself is, of course, much better than the most minute description. As regards the death of your bird, although you did your best for it, the conditions were not ideal. Had it been put into a proper cage in a light, quiet place, with plenty of seed (mostly Canary) and water, it would probably have done well. The broken wing would have soon united; it is an accident of rather frequent occurence among birds.

ACCIDENT TO MULE.

Collier.—I am sorry to hear of the accident to your light Mule; your first aid should have been to cover the injured parts with salad oil, and then roll him in a cloth for about an hour, just noticing that his beak was clear, so that he was not suffocated. After that he could have been returned to the cage, with some paper as a floor covering. This would have been better than sand, which would have stuck to the plumage, and made the bird "messy." I would advise you now to anoint any injured parts with Zamhuk. If, as you say, he has not moulted, he will, of course, get a complete new suit of feathers later.

SEX OF WOOD PIGEON.

H. B. G.—If you have only the one bird, I am afraid you will have some difficulty in sexing it. The only difference that I know of is one of size, the cock being larger throughout and bolder looking. You might find out by watching its behaviour when near other pigeons.

FOREIGN BIRDS.

Answered by WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.

BIRDS PUFFY AND SHIVERING.

S. W. B.—It is the effects of the journey plus the warm, stuffy quarters they have come from. Transfer them to a cage containing food and water, and place the cage near a fire, or in really warm quarters, and leave them there for a time. If they appear much exhausted, put three to five drops of brandy into their water, and it is always best to give chilled water to new arrivals showing exhaustion. Heat—that is, really hot quarters for them—will restore birds apparently dead, but, of course, when restored they must not be suddenly transferred to cool quarters—this must be done gradually. Two useful remedies to have by one are: Dinneford's Magnesia and chemical food—the first as a mild laxative, and the latter as a tonic. Of the former, half a teaspoonful to the ounce of water should suffice for small birds; it need not be administered by hand, it can form the drinking water. Lightly colouring the drinking water with the chemical food is the best way to give this. Indian millet and millet sprays are better than the larger seeds for newly-arrived small ornamental Finches.

WHAT WEAVER?

Challis.—The Hyphantornine Weavers are, with many of the species, so similar as to colour and colour arrangement, that a very minute description is necessary to definitely pick them, and this is always very difficult from a written description. I think your bird is a Rufous-necked Weaver, but as there are other species very similar, I think, especially as you are not far away, it would be best if you put it into a small cage and took it to the bird-room, Natural History Museum, South Kensington, where they would compare it with the skins for you and correctly name it, though they will only give you the Latin name, most of the popular names being unknown to them. If you do not care to do this you must accept my dicta that it is a Rufous-neck, and secure a mate for it as opportunity offers, when I hope you may have the gratification of seeing a perfect nest woven. Many of the nests of this species have quite long spouts (entrance) dropping from beneath the domed structure of nest chamber.

THE MANAGEMENT OF BUDGERIGARS.

Espenance.—If you can get a good pair of young birds, and you know they come from outdoor aviary (that is why, in my former reply, I advised you to get them from one of those you mentioned as having Budgies out of doors near you), then you can put them in your aviary at once, but if they come from some bird-room, then you had better keep them indoors till spring; but do not try to breed from brother and sister if you want to breed good stock. I am aware I mentioned low prices, and in this sense—I will put it in a personal aspect. I should, myself, pass an advert. unnoticed offering them at 2s. 6d. per pair; true, they might be all right, but, then, if I did not see them beforehand, they might prove undersized and develop into rickety, useless birds. You must read my remarks as a whole. I attempted to put before you some of the difficulties all have to contend with; I did not infer that any advertisers were out to deceive (the terms is yours), but folk generally sell off stock as it gets old, usually they sell it cheaper and very often tell purchasers that they have had them for such and such a period. You must use your judgment as to whether there is sufficient vim left for them to be worth purchasing as breeding stock. It certainly is best to start with young stock, but they must be unrelated. Budgerigars, as a rule, breed under almost any conditions, yet yours is not the only exception where the reverse has happened. A Surrey aviculturist has a flock (12 to 20) of Greens and Yellows flying together in a beautiful, roomy aviary; they are large and perfect birds and agree well together, yet they have never bred, though they have occupied that aviary several years, and I can give no reason for it. And I can't give any definite reason for your failure. I note your remarks re your friends; well, take your course, and let the world and his wife wag as they choose. What you now suggest should turn out well, if you get good birds. Buy locally, if you can.

POST MORTEMS.

Mr. G. Yates, M.R.C.V.S., 1, College Road, Harrow, Middlesex, will examine and report upon dead cage birds for a fee of 1s. 6d. each bird; for reply direct, 2s. 6d.; analysis, 21s. The Post Office regulation is that bodies of birds must be sent at the letter rate of postage, and must be packed in hermetically sealed receptacles which must themselves be enclosed in strong wooden, leather, or metal cases. If this regulation be infringed the packets may be destroyed by the authorities. Any bodies sent to the office of this paper will be thrown away, and if a fee is enclosed the loss will be the sender's.

BOOKS ARE STAR SHELLS
THAT LIGHT THE WAY TO SUCCESS.

Our Handbooks Help Novice and Expert Alike.

CANARY BREEDING FOR BEGINNERS. By CLAUDE ST. JOHN.—An exceptionally helpful, intensely practical and instructive handbook for beginners and tyros at Canary Breeding. It contains 116 pages 7in. by 5in., and is profusely illustrated and contains innumerable hints helpful to all young bird-keepers. In this book the reader is instructed how to pair up the stock birds, how to cage and feed them, how to test the eggs, what to do when the young birds are hatched, and so on until the birds are old enough to be put on the show bench. It is interesting from cover to cover, and is by far the best 6d. handbook on the subject ever published. Price 6d., post free 7d. Cloth bound, 1/2.

AVIARIES, BIRD-ROOMS AND CAGES: THEIR CONSTRUCTION AND FURNISHING.—A practical, up-to-date guide on this most interesting subject; written and illustrated by "Cage Birds" artist-in-chief, Mr. H. NORMAN. It is fully illustrated with ten full-page photographic plates and numerous helpful sketches. Bound in cloth Gilt, price 2/-, post free 2/3; paper board covers 1/6, post free 1/8.

BRITISH BIRD MANUAL. By H. NORMAN.—Published complete, 190 pages, 7in. by 5in., bound in cloth, and also in two parts—"Hardbills" and "Softbills." This latest and most up-to-date manual on British birds has been written and illustrated in colours, and black and white, by "Cage Birds" artist-in-chief, Mr. H. NORMAN. The author, who has made a life-study of the subject, gives in these volumes information and hints of the utmost value to all keepers of British birds. Part I., "Hardbills," deals with the Finches, their keeping, feeding, showing, etc.; and Part II., "Softbills," Blackbirds, Thrushes, Larks, Buntings, etc. Price 1/- per part, post free 1/1.

COLOUR FEEDING OF CANARIES AND OTHER BIRDS. By J. W. RAMSDEN.—Tells you how to mix the colour-food, and how to moult the birds to get the richest possible colour. Price 3d., post free 3½d.

FOREIGN BIRDS FOR BEGINNERS. By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S., etc.—A most useful manual for all keepers of Foreign birds. It will be found indispensable information of an entirely practical nature—by a life-long specialist—on the keeping and feeding of the more common and popular varieties of foreigners. It contains illustrations in colour, and black and white, of some of the well-known species, and should be purchased without delay by all fanciers who go in for this most interesting branch of bird-keeping. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½d.

HOUSE'S CANARY MANUAL. By C. A. HOUSE.—5th Edition. A thoroughly practical guide to the general management and breeding of Canaries, dealing fully with the breeding, etc., of every member of the Canary family, including the Roller (or Singing Canary). An illustration of each bird, by the master Canary artist, Mr. H. Norman; exhaustive chapters on aviaries and cages, breeding procedure, moulting, exhibiting, diseases, and seeds—a compendium of knowledge. Price 1/, post free 1/2. Cloth bound, 2/2.

THE SECRETS OF HYBRID BREEDING REVEALED AND EXPLAINED. By many notable Mule and Hybrid Breeders. Among the contributors are such well-known breeders as Messrs. R. Colton, W. H. Vale, C. Houlton, C. J. Ward, J. Beswick, G. Lander, T. H. Kinch, T. Smith, etc. This Handbook, which contains 212 pages, 7in. by 5in., is brimful of the most practical information on the highly interesting subject of Hybrid breeding. Being written by successful breeders, it is quite invaluable to everyone who would also be successful in his hobby. Price 1/-, post free 1/2.

YORKSHIRE CANARIES. HOW TO BREED, MANAGE, AND EXHIBIT. By H. W. BATTYE, past President of the Yorkshire Union. It deals fully with the Yorkshire Canary and its sub-varieties, and should be in the hands of every breeder. It gives the fullest instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, exhibiting, and how to treat birds in health and disease. Illustrated by Messrs. H. Norman and A. J. Simpson. Price 2/-, post free 2/2.

BUDGERIGARS AND COCKATIELS. By C. P. ARTHUR.—How to keep, feed, breed, and teach to talk. This handbook is written by a specialist, from a life's experience in the keeping of these two popular varieties of foreign birds. The information given in it is of a most practical and concise nature, and no keeper of these birds can afford to be without a copy. Price 6d., post free 6½d.

THE STOCK BOOK, OUR INVALUABLE BREEDING ROOM REGISTER. Compiled by G. E. WESTON. The stock book which makes bird breeding easy. The book no breeder of birds can really afford to be without. Everything that a cage bird breeder needs to assist him in keeping his accounts is found in its pages. A large number of emergency hints are also given for the assistance of the fancier during the breeding season. Price 6d., post free 7d.

NORWICH CANARIES. By C. A. HOUSE.—The latest and most practical manual on this popular variety of Canaries. It tells the fancier all that he needs to know to enable him to become successful as a breeder and exhibitor of the Norwich Plainhead. The chapters on "Forming a Stud," and "How to Produce the Ideal," are worth the cost of the whole book many times over. Price 1/-, post free 1/1.

PARROTS FOR PLEASURE AND PROFIT. By C. P. ARTHUR.—A comprehensive and practical handbook, 36 pages, 7½in. by 5in., dealing with the keeping and feeding of the more widely-kept varieties—the Grey, the Amazon, etc. It explains fully how to sex these birds, the treatment of newly-imported specimens, and cures for their various ills. Price 6d., post free 7d.

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE. By GEORGE GARDNER.—A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies, and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits, etc. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½d.

SEEDS, FOODS, AND WILD PLANTS FOR CAGE BIRDS. By various Leading Authorities. A comprehensive and complete manual on this most interesting subject. In it will be found information on the various seeds suitable for all varieties of cage birds, their food values, uses, etc. Descriptions and illustrations of the various wild plants that are indispensable to the successful keeping of all cage birds are fully given. Price 1/-, post free 1/2.

SEPTIC FEVER OR CANARY PLAGUE. By R. H. CLARKE, M.D., M.A.—A very useful booklet on this subject, which should be found in every bird lover's library. Dr. Clarke has given the subject of his book very special study. Price 6d., post free 7d.

Other Books obtainable from us—

BIRDS OF THE COUNTRYSIDE. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—A handbook to the wild life of all our familiar British birds; their appearance and habits accurately described. With 12 beautiful coloured plates, and 118 photographic illustrations. A charming gift book. 5/4 post free.

PETS, AND HOW TO KEEP THEM. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—Gives the correct method of housing, feeding, and managing every kind of pet; all sorts of animals are dealt with—monkeys, dogs, cats, lizards, tortoises; also gold and other fancy fish, while there is a large section devoted to birds. Contains many coloured plates and illustrations from photographs. Another charming gift book. 5/4 post free.

EGGS AND NESTS OF BRITISH BIRDS. By FRANK FINN, B.A., F.Z.S.—A most interesting Handbook for all lovers of British birds, containing coloured reproductions of 154 eggs from nature in 20 plates, and 74 eggs in half-tone and other illustrations. Price, 5/4 post free.

AVIARIES AND AVIARY LIFE. By WESLEY T. PAGE, F.Z.S.—An interesting manual devoted to the housing, feeding, and general treatment of Foreign and British birds, and details the various groups that can be kept safely together in outdoor and indoor aviaries; the best food mixtures, and an enormous amount of equally important matter in connection with the subject. Lavishly illustrated with photographs and sketches. Price, 12/6 post free.

"Cage Birds"
COLOURED PICTURE POSTCARDS
OF
CANARIES, BRITISH BIRDS AND HYBRIDS.

THE MOST DELIGHTFUL AND APPROPRIATE POSTCARDS FOR BIRD LOVERS ON THE MARKET.

The Cinnamon Canary.
The Lizard Canary.
The Lancashire Coppy.
Green Canaries.
Border Fancies.
Scotch Fancy.
Crest and Crestbred.
Jonque Four-pointed Goldfinch-Canary.
Jonque Dark Goldfinch-Canary.
Goldfinch-Bullfinch.
Goldfinch-Redpoll.
Greenfinch-Bullfinch.
Linnet-Bullfinch.

BEAUTIFUL COLOURED PLATES.

PRICE 6d. EACH, Post Free.

Goldfinch and Bullfinch.
Blackbird and Robin.
Popular Parrakeets.
Belgian and Scotch Fancy.
50 Varieties of British Birds.

PRICE 2d. EACH, Post Free, 1s. 6d. per doz.

Greenfinch Hybrids.
Nightingale and Spotted Flycatcher.
Cinnamon-marked Yorkshires.
Three Champion Yorkshires.
Lancashire and Lizard.
Cinnamon Norwich.
Norwich Plainhead, Yellow and Buff.
Popular Mules (Canary Crosses).
Popular Hybrids (British Bird Crosses).
"Stars of the Season" (Norwich and Yorkshire).
Bullfinch.
Bullfinch Hybrids.
Larks and Pipits.
Popular Parrots.
Magpie and Starling.
Wood Warbler.
Indian Jewels (Foreign Birds).
Goldfinch Hybrids.
Greater Bird of Paradise.
Magpie, Chough and Jay.
A Group of Gems from Foreign Climes.
A Study in Cinnamon Blood.
Varieties of Norwich Plainheads.
Roller, The (Coracias garrulus).
Popular Buntings.
Ring Ousels.
Foreign Birds for Beginners (Finches).
Clear and Dark Yellow Siskin-Canary Hybrids.
Greenfinch-Bullfinch Hybrid.
Parents and Progeny (Canaries).
Study in Canaries (various breeds).
Chaffinch, Greenfinch, and Bramblefinch.
Gems from Foreign Climes (Foreign Birds).
Linnet, Twite, and Siskin.
Three Graces (Crests).
Wild Seeds and Plants for Bird-keepers.
Masked Shrike, Bee Eater, and White-winged Lark.
Grey Parrots.
Dainty Softbills, Lesser Whitethroat, Willow Warbler, Gold-Crested Wren, Blackcap Warbler.
Canary Variations (Lancashire, Scotch Fancy, and Lizard).
Blackbird (Cock and Hen).
Border Fancy and Roller Canaries.
A Study of Crested Canaries.
Good and Bad Points in Exhibition Goldfinches.

PRICE 2d. EACH, Post Free, 1/6 DOZ.

The Nutshell Series
OF POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON
CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, Etc.

Everything you require to know about one particular bird "in a nutshell."

Price, 2d. each; by Post, 2½d. 6 for 1s. 2d. 12 for 2s. 3d.

NOW READY.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and how to cure them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, and Aviaries.
10.—The Roller (or Song) Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—The Gouldian Finch.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—Grey Parrots.
18.—The Budgerigar.
19.—The Pekin Nightingale.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Green Canaries.
23.—The Border Fancy Canary.
24.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
25.—Insectivorous Birds (Part I.)
26.— " " (Part II.)
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
29.—Cavies or Guinea Pigs.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird-room Appliances.

OTHERS IN COURSE OF PREPARATION.

"THE SMALL GARDEN." The Book of the Moment. How best to utilise small spaces, simple but complete instructions for the novice gardener, especially for the amateur who wishes to turn a little plot of land to good advantage. List of vegetables and flowers. A most valuable little book for all who wish to grow their own food. Price, 7d., post free.

"IN-BREEDING"—What it is and what it does. Deals comprehensively with one of the most fascinating problems of the live stock hobby, by the celebrated Fancy authority, C. A. HOUSE. Of equal value to the breeders of any kind of stock. Explains what prepotency does. The first steps to take; how to make the weak strong; breeders' experiences, etc. Price, 10d., post paid.

"EVERY WOMAN'S BOOK OF POULTRY." By the Hon. Mrs. Lionel Guest. Most favourably-reviewed book of poultry for the season. The problem of the food supply is a great and growing one. The author writes delightfully and instructively on a subject of which she has made herself a perfect mistress, and the result is a book that can be cordially recommended to every woman who can and ought to take up the industry. Price, 8d., post free.

Published by F. CARL, 154, Fleet Street, London.

"OUR CANARIES" is being Reprinted—the demand having exhausted the complete edition.

636.605
CAG

MORE ABOUT THE CANARY FAMINE.

16 PAGES. 2D

SEE PAGE 637.

CAGE BIRDS

and BIRD WORLD. The LEADING JOURNAL

Devoted to CANARIES, HYBRIDS, BRITISH & FOREIGN CAGE & WILD BIRDS

Telegrams—AVICULTURE, Fleet. London.
Telephone—Holborn 5229.
Registered at the G.P.O.

VOL. XXX. No. 727 For week ending October 28th, 1916. Price 2d.

Subscription Rate: 10/- per annum, post free. Foreign— 13/- per annum.

WINNING HYBRIDS AT CLAPHAM SHOW.

The bird at the top of our picture is the Goldfinch-Canary Hybrid which won 1st prize for Mr. J. E. Jeffreys of Swansea, and the other is the Linnet-Canary which took 2nd prize The latter bird is owned by Mr. C. Cooper, Brixton,

F. CARL, Publisher, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

Advertisement Charges.

One Halfpenny for each word up to 48, 1d. per word afterwards. Name and address to be reckoned Minimum, 12 words 6d.

IMPORTANT NOTE.—Two or more Advertisements coming from the same advertiser, even if sent in different names, are reckoned together, and are charged at two words a penny up to 48 words; after that 1d. per word. No single advertisement, even if accompanied by others, will be charged at less than the minimum price, viz., Sixpence.

Headlines or Footlines, 9d. 1/-, 1/6, 2/-, 2/6, according to size.

The rate for displayed advertisements is 7/6 per inch. Rates for a series on application.

ADVERTISEMENTS UNACCOMPANIED BY CORRECT REMITTANCE WILL NOT BE INSERTED.

Postal Orders must be sent as far as possible. All moneys should be made payable to F. CARL.

The Proprietor reserves the right to refuse any advertisement, or to cancel any advertisement ordered for a series, at any time, without assigning any reason for so doing.

Advertisements must in all cases bear the bonafide name and address of the advertiser, and no advertisement will be inserted if addressed to a receiving office, or similar place of call.

Advertisements close Tuesdays first post in each week, and should be sent to the Advertisement Manager, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London. Terms for Display Advertisements on application.

ALWAYS USE "CAGE BIRDS" DEPOSIT SYSTEM.

We are not responsible for the statements made in advertisements, nor of the bona-ides of either buyers or sellers In all transactions the adoption of our Deposit system should be insisted upon

RULES.

1.—PROCEDURE.—The intending purchaser should send to this office the amount of the purchase (our deposit fee included), and at the same time he should communicate with the seller stating what it is he requires sent on approval. We acknowledge receipt of the deposit to both parties. In all cases the depositor should give his name and address, and also that of the vendor, and must write same clearly and distinctly.

2.—END OF TRANSACTION.—The deposit is retained by us until we hear from both parties that the transaction has been completed. If a sale has been effected, we hand the amount deposited to the seller. If a sale has not been effected, we return the amount to the depositor. The transaction must be conducted by the parties themselves. We merely hold the deposit.

3.—AMOUNT OF COMMISSION.—The fee is 6d. for each £1, or fraction of £1, and it must be sent at same time as the deposit.

4.—IMPORTANT POINTS.—The depositor must decide within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the goods whether he will keep or return the same, unless, that is, some other period of approval (of which we must be advised) is agreed upon by both parties. The depositor must at the same time notify us of the fact that he has returned the goods. If the goods are not returned within the said forty-eight hours, we reserve the right to send the deposit to the seller after the expiration of that period. And should the seller fail within three days to notify us of the receipt of his goods back again, the transaction will be treated as ended, and the deposit will be returned to the depositor.

5.—A SATISFACTORY PURCHASE.—When a transaction has been completed to the satisfaction of both depositor and seller, both parties must at once return the deposit receipts as a guarantee of its completion. The depositor must at the same time instruct us to pay over the deposit to the seller.

6.—GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—If the goods are sold before our deposit note reaches the seller, or if for any other reason he declines to do business, he must at once return the deposit note to us. Failing its receipt, we reserve the right to return the deposit to the sender after the expiration of three days.

7.—FRESH TRANSACTION.—In case no sale be effected, a deposit is available for purposes of a fresh transaction, provided another deposit fee be paid

8.—GOODS IN TRANSIT.—Goods in transit are at the seller's risk, and any damage or loss sustained on the journey must be borne by the seller. But goods not approved of must be properly packed and returned by the same means as were used in sending the same.

9.—PAYMENT OF CARRIAGE.—The payment of carriage must be a matter for arrangement between the vendor and depositor We do not undertake to settle disputes affecting questions of carriage. But in the absence of other arrangements the purchaser is liable for the carriage of the goods, and if the goods are sent on approval and returned, each party pays the carriage one way.

10.—DISPUTES.—In case of a dispute, the decision of the Editor is final

IMPORTANT.

SEND THE FULL COMMISSION.—If the full commission does not accompany the deposit, the vendor will not be notified of its receipt until the amount deficient plus the extra postage incurred has been paid to us.

HOW TO REMIT.—Under no circumstances will Cheques or Post-dated Money Orders be accepted as deposits. Uncrossed Postal Orders must be sent and the numbers taken for safety.

Canary Seed Cheaper DURING THE WAR

our customers may rely on our continuing to supply them at LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES. Free delivery by own van London district. Carriage paid to any country station in England and Wales 1/- cwt. extra.

TROWER'S WONDERFUL SOFTBILO.

The wonder of the age for Larks, Blackbirds, Thrushes, Jays, Magpies, Starlings, etc. Sold by 4,000 Corn and Bird Dealers, ½-lb. packet 2d., 1lb. packet 4d., 7lbs. 2/6 post free.

TROWER'S IMPROVED CECTO

stands unbeaten in price and quality; with or without egg flake. An eye-opener for those who have never used a good food. Unequalled for Nightingales, Blackbirds, Robins, Wagtails, Waxbills, and all small insectivorous birds. British and Foreign, 1/6 lb., post paid 1/10 lb.; 7lbs. 11/-, post paid.

TRY THESE AND COMPARE WITH OTHER FOODS.

A REVOLUTION IN FEEDING.

TROWER'S EGGISCO.

ACKNOWLEDGED THE CHAMPION EGG AND BISCUIT FOOD

for rearing and maturing Canaries, Hybrids, and all birds that partake of egg and biscuit in any form. Contains 50 per cent. egg and is the only food worthy of the name.

Resembles nothing else on the market. All users delighted with it.

Do not confuse it with any other preparation. It is prepared only by us, and can be obtained of all corn dealers and seed shops. In tins, 4d., 8d., 1/3, 2/6, postage extra; 4lbs. 8/-; 7lb. bags, 13/6, post paid. Special quotations for quantities. Post free.

OUR GIANT SPANISH

is better value than sold by any other firm at the price. Compare price, weight and quality.

	Peck	Bshl.	Approx. wght. per bshl	cwt.
Giant Spanish Canary	4/3	16/6	56lbs.	32/-
Large ditto	4/-	15/6	56lbs.	30/-
Fine ditto	3/9	14/6	56lbs.	28/-
Good ditto	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	26/-
Best Morocco ditto	3/3	12/6	56lbs.	24/-
Best Bold Hemp	4/-	15/6	42lbs.	35/-
Best White Millet	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	27/-
Best Indian Millet	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	26/-
Summer Rape	4/6	17/6	52lbs.	36/-
Extra Bold Linseed	3/6	13/6	52lbs.	29/-
Teazle	4/-	15/6	28lbs.	60/-
Niger Seed	3/6	13/6	48lbs.	45/-
Sunflower, Black, Striped	4/6	17/6	28lbs.	60/-
Mixed Seed for Aviaries..	3/6	13/6	53lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Foreign Finches	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	28/-
Ditto, Parrots	3/-	11/6	40lbs.	33/-
Ditto, Canaries	3/6	13/6	57lbs.	27/-
Ditto, British Finch	3/6	13/6	56lbs.	28/-

TRY OUR WILD SEEDS FOR FINCHES.

No value in the world like it. 2/6 peck, 11lbs., or 3/- 14lbs. 1 peck post free 3/6. Quotations given for, and special mixtures can be mixed according to fanciers' own requirements.

OUR FINCH TIT BITS, 1/- lb., our speciality. OUR GOLDEN BIRD GRIT IS PERFECTION. 1/- ½-cwt., 2/- ¼-cwt., 3/6 cwt.

Maw, 1/3, Sesame 8d., Dandelion 7d. oz., 4/6 lb.; Cornflower, 4d. oz., 5/- lb.; Cuttlefish, 6d. and 9d., large 1/6 lb. Millet Sprays, 2/6 bundle of 50.

Dried Flies, 2/ and 2/3 lb.; Silkworm Pupæ, ground or whole, 1/3 lb.; post free. Meat Meal, 3d.; Biscuit Meal, 3d. lb.; postage extra.

Medicated Nest Bags, 7d. dozen, 6/6 gross. Nest Pans, 1/6; Wires 9d. dozen. Felts, Brown 9d., White 1/3 dozen.

MOULTING CONDITION TONIC AND SINGING MIXTURE.

Our Asthma Cure is the talk of the Fancy. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Bird Tonic will work wonders when your stock is run down. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Our Parrot Medicines are an eye-opener. 3d., 6d., 1/-. Post free.

Price List and Samples Free

TROWER & CO.,

Seed Merchants and Bird Food Specialists,

442, Caledonian Road, 82, Roman Road, } King's Cross, LONDON.

'Phone: 1820 North. Opposite Caledonian Rd. Tube Station.

NOTICE TO BIRD PURCHASERS.

It is advisable that all newly-purchased birds, especially foreign birds, be kept isolated from established stock for a week or ten days, until by their condition they establish the fact that they are thoroughly healthy.

APPLIANCES.

CRYSTAL Palace aviary, 10/6; breeding cage 1/6, cheap: G. Balcombe. (See Borders.) (630)

OUTDOOR aviaries, bird houses, designs forwarded: L. Latham, Kingston-by-Sea, Sussex. (550)

WINNOWING machines, for blowing husks, dust from seed: Whiting, Electric Station, Southwold.

THIRTY high-class breeding cages, all complete, up-to-date, 3/- each: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (600)

HOT-WATER heating apparatus for birdhouse; perfect condition, 15/-: Waldock, 18, Lakefield-rd., Wood Green. (628)

FINE mahogany-fronted six-compartment palace aviary, inlaid, 15/-; Thrush cage 4/-; pair Buff Yorkshires, 8/6: Humphrey, Thirsk. (628)

FOR sale, six-compartment birdcage, complete, with feeders, as good as new; sound bargain, 10/6: Fred Ellerby, 25, Eastgate, Pickering, Yorks.

BIRD netting, ¾in. mesh, 80 meshes deep, 6d. yd., 50 yds. 5d. yd., 100 yds. 4d. yd: Gibbs and Bard, netmakers, 77, Glovers-rd., Small Heath. (629)

BIRDNETTING, splendid quality, strong, fine ¾-mesh; 9ft. wide, 7d. yd; 7ft., 5½d. yd.; dyed invisible colour, 1d. yd. extra; any length cut; post paid: Butler, Station-rd., Bardney. (630)

TWO nice Palace aviaries, nearly new 10/6, 21/- respectively; particulars: H., 10, Waterloo-st., Hove.

SPLENDID box cages 1/6 each, single breeders 1/6, Lark or Linnet cages 1/6 each, hanging cages 1/6, 3/6, 4/6: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester.

SALE, 6 Roller wire training cages and cabinet photo seat, 15/-: 3 British show cages and case, new, 8/-: large flight cage, 3ft. by 2ft. 6in. by 2ft., 8/-; 3 compartment breeder, fitted, 8/-; single breeder 2/6; birdroom radiator, 7/-: Roller shutter cage 3/-: Smith, 32, Weelsby-st., Grimsby. (628)

WORTH notice; extra grand large Palace-shaped three-compartment new drawing-room aviary, 4ft. long, 3½ft. high, 18 inches broad, fitted complete, with two movable wire partitions, sand bottoms, seed drawers, and revolving perches, close wired, to hold smallest of Foreign birds, price 70/-; worth £10; approval; drawing sent: McKeand, Cage Manufacturer, Castle Douglas.

BIRDCATCHERS' clap nets, 3yds. long 8/-, 4yds. 9/-, 5yds. 10/-, 6yds. 11/-, 7yds. 12/-, 8yds. 13/-, 9yds. 14/-, 10yds. 15/- per pair; all above clapnets consist of two nets to the pair, are 5½ft. deep and fly 4ft., full measurement guaranteed in each net, and price includes all pegs, poles and lines, ready for immediate use; single nets, half above prices and 6d. extra; loose netting, made from superfine thread, as used in above clap-nets, ¾in. mesh, 7ft. deep, 5½d. yard; ditto, 9ft. deep, 7d. yard; ditto, 12ft. deep, 9d. yard, all post free; bat-folding Sparrow nets, on 15ft. bamboo poles, 8/6; ditto, 17ft. poles, 9/6; ditto, 19ft. poles, 10/6, complete; self-acting spring net traps, for catching all kinds of hard and softbills, 24ins. long, 18ins. wide, 1/9 each; ditto, 18 by 14 ins., 1/6 each, post free; genuine Japanese birdlime, absolutely strongest lime made and stands all weathers, sample 4d., ½lb. 9d., ¾lb. 1/4, 1lb. 2/-, all post free and guaranteed full weight; brace bird pegs and lines, 8d. each, post free; brace swivels, three 3d., twelve 7d., post free; all sized nets in stock, and special pairs made to order; send stamp for full price list. Please note, all goods are guaranteed of same good quality as in past years, and all sent on approval as usual: Gore, Net Maker, 218, Sherlock-st., Birmingham.

WALSH'S

ORIGINAL HOLDFAST BIRDLIME

is always alike good and reliable, does not run in the sun, packed in lever lid tins; ½-lb. 10d., ¼-lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-. Special terms to dealers.—WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.

BIRD-CATCHERS' LIME.

Not rubbish like treacle. Will hold anything—Rats, Mice, etc. Prices: ½lb. 9d., ¾lb. 1/3, 1lb. 2/-. Guaranteed not to run in the sun. Two tons sold every year. Double trap cages, 2/- each; single trap cages, 1/6 each; spring net traps, 1/3 each; send for our new catalogue; post free.

SANDIFORD'S, Bird Specialists, PRESTON. Established 1870. Tel., 440. (628)

CAGE FRONTS, 12 by 12, 4/- DOZEN.

14 x 12, 4/6 dozen; 16 by 12, 5/3 dozen; 18 x 12, 6/- dozen; 24 x 12, 7/9 dozen; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6; punched bars, 12/- gross; for cheap window cages, box cages, bird baths, seed boxes, see illustrated catalogue; dealers send postcard: Volunteer Wire Works, Cornhill Passage, Longton, Staffs. (604)

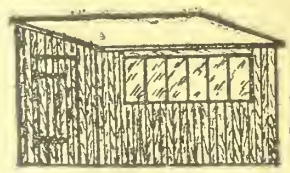
SHOW CAGES, CASES

Strictly club pattern show cages, best quality and finish, as supplied to leading exhibitors. Norwich, Yorkshire, Border Fancy, 3/- each, three for 8/6, six for 16/-; sliding front Finch show cages, beautifully finished, 3/6 and 4/- each; cases for two cages, 4/6, three cages 6/-, four cages 8/6 each; cages of every description; state requirements: Martin, Cage Manufacturer, Castle Douglas. (632)

Triple Strength Birdlime XXX

Hold from Linnet to Hawk, 7d., 1/1. Latest improved and invisible Net Traps for Seedeaters, ready baited, 2/2 and 2/9; for Softhills, 2/1, 2/9. All post free. NO CONNECTION with any others advertising in the same name; but any of my goods can be supplied by Gamage, of Holborn, or direct from

W. RUDD, Specialist, Norwich.



CAGE FRONTS

12 by 12 5/- doz., 15 by 12 6/- doz., 18 by 12 7/6 doz., 24 by 12 10/ doz., odd sizes made to order; cage wire, 7lbs. 3/6, 48/- cwt.; punched bars, 1/3 doz., 12/- gross; seed mills, 1/6; egg mills, 2/-, 3/6; Tam's latest non-splash bath, 4in. 10d., 4½in. 1/-, 5in. 1/3, 6in. 1/6; Norwich, Yorkshire, British show cages 2/3 each; see price list for Roller cages, box cages, breeding cages, all cage fittings; send postcard.

ENOCH TAMS,

CHURCH STREET, LONGTON, STAFFS.

LEAN-TO BIRD HOUSES.

Absolutely the best value obtainable; 6ft. long, 3ft. wide, 6ft. high; complete with floor: £3 3/- carriage forward; 6ft. x 4ft. x 6ft. 6ins., £3/13/6; with floor, £4/4/6, carriage forward. Stamp for list of other sizes and designs.

ORFORD,

10, Chester St., Poulton, Birkenhead.

FOODS.

MEALWORMS, large, 200 1/3: Perrin, Alfred-rd., Ford, Devonport. (630)

WILD seeds for British birds, 1/6 per gallon: Conron, Grange, Douglas, Cork. (627)

RIPE privet berries, 170 large bunches, 1/-, post paid: Wm. Young, Misterton, Somerset. (600)

MEALWORMS, mealworms, grand lot, 1/3, 1/6 box, post paid: Stapletons, 123, East-st., Walworth. (632)

GRITERINE

the bird sand that contains grit and shell, 4/6 cwt., carriage paid. Sold by seed dealers in 1d. and 3d. bags: Liverine, Ltd., Grimsby.

LIVE GENTLES FOR CAGE BIRDS

The real live maggot, freshly bred, absolutely the masterpiece of all bird foods; highly recommended; try sample quart and you will be delighted, 1/3, on rail (no stamps): The Maggotorium, Longlee Keighley.

W. A. RUDD & Co.

Write for SAMPLES of our

EXTRA GIANT

Spanish Canary Seed

5/- Peck, 19/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 20/6.

The Finest and Largest Seed in the Kingdom.

Also our

No. 1 GIANT SPANISH.

Exceptionally Good and Clean.

4/6 Peck, 17/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 18/6.

No. 2 SPANISH BOLD SEED.

4/- Peck, 15/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 16/6.

GOOD MAZAGAN CANARY.

Suitable for British Wild Birds and Foreign Finches.

3/6 Peck, 13/6 Bushel, Carriage Paid 14/6.

EXTRA FINE HEMP.

5/- Peck (sound).

SWEET SUMMER RAPE.

5/- Peck (genuine).

FINE BOLD LINSEED.

4/6 Peck.

Teazle, Niger, Maw, Thistle, Dandelion, etc.

New Price List and Samples Post Free.

Carriage Paid on Orders 10/- and over to all parts of London and Suburbs.

Remember.—The Best is the Cheapest, and therefore the most economical.

We cater especially for the Fancy, and supply only the Finest Quality Seeds procurable. The price is consistent with the quality.

Note our Only and Full Address—

180, Bishopsgate, London, E.C.

A FOOD THAT HAS NO EQUAL.

Far Cheaper than Eggs

Yet made from New-laid English Eggs, and sold with guaranteed Analytical and Microscopical Reports, by Arthur Hill Hassall, M.D., and Francis Sutton, Esq., F.I.C., F.C.S.

EGGERTINE

Best and purest Egg Food ever known. Tins, 1/6; large size, 3/3, post free. Sample box, 4d.

W. RUDD, Specialist, NORWICH.

IF YOU WANT GUARANTEED

Spanish Canary Seed, Sun-dried

ask for

MACQUEEN'S

BOLD CHAMPION

Also Genuine Bold Sweet Tasteless Pepper or Papsika.

Also Dry White Cuttle Fish Bones and Bird Seeds of all kinds.

Note Address:

JOHN MACQUEEN,

Brown Street, Glasgow, Scotland. (614)

BOOKS.

BOOKS on birds, poultry, also on every conceivable subject second-hand, at half prices; new books at discount prices. Catalogue No. 876 post free. State wants. Books sent on approval. Books purchased: W. and G. Foyle, 121, Charing Cross-rd., London.

REPEATING ADVERTISEMENTS.

Owing to the number of announcements received we cannot guarantee to repeat advertisements unless the previous issue, Page and Column are stated by the advertiser.

GENUINE

Spanish Canary.

Fanciers, please note we are direct importers and cleaners, and are therefore in a position to offer the best quality seeds at the most reasonable prices.

	14lb.	56lb.	112lb.
No. 1 Special Giant Spanish Canary	5/-	18/-	34/-
No. 2 Giant Spanish Canary	4/6	16/-	31/-
No. 3 Bold Spanish Canary	4/-	15/-	29/-
No. 4 Good Spanish Canary	3/6	13/-	24/-
Red Summer Rape	4/6	17/-	32/-
Special Sweet Roller Rape	5/6	19/-	35/-
Hemp Seed	6d. lb.	7lbs.	3/3
Condition Seed	6d. lb.	7lbs.	3/-
Mixed Wild Seed	6d. qt.	1/9	gall.

Ants' Eggs, 3/6 lb.; Dried Flies, 2/6 lb.; Yolk of Egg, 3/- lb.; Egg Bread, 1/6 lb.; Insectivorous Food, 1/6 lb.; Lark and Thrush Food, 6d. lb.; Special Graded Granulated Meat for Softbills, 6d. lb., 7lbs. 3/-; Mealworms, 500 2/-, 1,000 3/6; Live White Gentles, 1,000 1/-; Cuttlefish Bone, 1/- lb., 3lbs. 2/6.

Samples and Full List of Seeds on application. Special Quotations to Secretaries and Dealers for Quantities.

WALSH, Birdfood Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.

MEDICINES.

"AILING Cage Birds and How to Cure Them," "Nutshell No. 6," an account of the troubles which beset captive birds, with the treatment and list of medicines to restore our pets to health. This will save you much discouragement and money, and costs only 2½d. post free. From "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Or 2d. from agents (list frequently published).

WHEEZING

DITCHFIELD'S SPECIAL LUNG TONIC is the finest medicine ever introduced for birds with Bronchitis, Colds, Wheezing, Hoarseness, and all Chest and Lung Affections. All fanciers should have a bottle in the bird-room for the coming winter. DITCHFIELD'S TONIC DROPS for Soft Moult, Slow Moult, Not Singing, Going Light, Feather Plucking, and Inflammation of the Bowels. The Ideal Tonic for all birds during the moulting season. DITCHFIELD'S FAMOUS REVIVO, for Constitutional Weakness and Debility. A wonderful pick-me-up for weak and delicate birds. R. Whittaker, Rishton, writes:—"The recovery after using Ditchfield's Tonic Drops is nothing short of marvellous. It is the finest remedy with which I have come in contact." W. Kiesel, London: "Your special lung tonic is excellent." B. Hutton, Holbeach: "Your Revivo is invaluable."

All the above remedies are sold in 8d., 1/2, and 2/2 bottles, two 8d. bottles for 1/2, three for 1/8, four for 2/2, one treble size bottle 1/2, two for 1/11, three for 2/8, two 2/2 bottles for 3/9, three for 5/6, and are sent away Post Free per return from:—

FRANK DITCHFIELD, BIRD SPECIALIST, OLDHAM

(628)

BRITISH BIRDS.

Hardbills.

Important Notice to Catchers.

WANTED.

Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; Bullfinches, 2/6 pair; Siskins, 3/- pair; cock Linnets, 4/6 dozen; hens, 1/- dozen; cock Chaffinches, 4/6 dozen; hens, 1/- dozen; Redpolls, 3/- dozen; cock Goldfinch Mules, 6/- each; hens, 1/6 each; cock Linnet Mules, 5/6 each; hens, 1/- each; large or small quantities for prompt cash. Best buyers in the country; we have had over 20 catchers supply us with the whole of their catchings for this last 12 years; this alone is a surety that we treat them well.

J. HOWARD & SONS,
23, BETHNAL GREEN ROAD, LONDON, E.

BULLFINCHES, two grand cocks, 3/- each; 4 hens 1/-: Noke, 25, Old Grimsbury-rd., Banbury. (629)

LINNETS, cocks, 6/- doz.; Goldfinches 4/6 and 6/- each: J. Gibbs, 77, Glovers-rd., Small Heath. (629)

WANTED, 100 cock and hen Goldfinches; state number and price: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorsedion, Glam.

SPLENDID cock Bullfinch and hen Greenie, large birds, sell 5/6: Bugby, Thorpe-st., Raunds, Northants. (633)

GOLDFINCHES, 2 cocks, 2 hens, nice birds; 6/6 the lot; deposit, approval: W. Evans, 19, Bethel-st., Llandiloes. (628)

LARGE selected cock Linnets, caged three weeks 1/6 each, three 3/6, six 6/-: Porrill, 8, Doncaster-rd., Barnsley. (631)

MOOR cock brown Linnets, 6/- dozen; exhibition cocks, three for 2/-; gems: P. Cawood, 25, Britannia-st., Scarborough. (629)

EXHIBITION cock Bullfinches, fit to win at the best of show, 5/6; Siskins, cocks 5/6, hens 2/6: Anderson, Oswald-ct., Forres. (632)

HANDSOME cock Goldfinch, splendid songster, sure winner, 4/-; also hen 1/6; approval: Pearce, 63, Church-st., Dunstable. (632)

LARGE hen Bullfinch, 2/-; beautiful cock Canary and cage, 10/6; ideal pet; letters: Police Station, Steens Bridge, Leominster. (633)

GOLDFINCHES, guaranteed young cocks, singing, caged when Greypates, 2/- each: Skinner, Deancrescent, Southvill, Bristol. (628)

GOLDFINCHES, lovely cocks, field-moulted, 4/6, 5/-; selected young cocks, coming into colour, 3/6: Alfred Rutter, Kirbymoorside. (633)

F.M. cock Linnets, on approval, from 2/-; several fit for exhibition from 3/6: Charles Degg, 77, Hamilton-rd., Normacot, Staffs. (629)

HOUSE-Moulted Linnet, suit catcher, muler, or singer, bargain, 4/-; full week's approval: Enoch Tams, Church-st., Longton, Staffs. (633)

LINNETS, strong, healthy cocks, well on seed, guaranteed as advertised, 4/6 dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Marshall, 5, Camden-st., Sneinton, Nottingham. (538)

LINNETS, warranted young cock brown Linnets, healthy and well on hard seed, 5/- dozen, 2/6 half-dozen: Clements, 353, Carlton Hill, Nottingham. (538)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Goldfinch, or cock Linnet, on approval, cheap; send me your address, I will send to you by return: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable.

GOLDFINCHES.—I have a few extra large cock Goldies, can win, 2/6, 3/6 and 5/- each, according to class; deposit system: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (629)

EXHIBITION moulted specimens with show cages, complete ready for immediate exhibition, Linnet 25/-, Redpoll 10/-; approval: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (632)

WEEKLY supply of cocks, Linnets and cocks, Chaffinches, at 5/- dozen throughout season, cash or deposit; approval: Rathbone, 29, Horsemarket, Northampton. (629)

GOLDFINCHES, exhibitors, I have any quantity to pick from, 2/6 each; a few to win anywhere, 5/- each; no tale telling. (Deposit system, please): G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (631)

PICKED cock Goldfinches, 3/6; Bullfinches, cocks, 2/6; hens, 1/6; house-moulted cock Greenfinch, 2/-; two fine cock Lizards (Silvers), 10/- each: Lloyd, Sun Insurance, Kington, Herefordshire. (627)

EXHIBITION birds, ready for keenest competition, Bramblefinch 20/-, Bullfinch hen 30/- Twite 30/-, Mealy Redpoll 20/-, Lesser do., 10/-; approval.—J. E. Jeffreys, 17, Norfolk-st., Swansea. (631)

CATCH thousands birds alive oh; my celebrated double-compartment trap cages, including two large Finches, trained call birds, only 3/3 complete; send postal orders: Mr. Copp, Stores, Dartford. (630)

PAIR of performing Redpolls, draws own seed and water, cage complete, 7/6; hand-reared tame hawk, 3/6; young Norwich cock, 8/6, Yellow: Browne, Sutton Hall-rd., Carrvale, near Chesterfield. (629)

HAVE YOU INVESTED

— IN —

"CAGE BIRDS ANNUAL"

FOR 1916?

We have just a few more copies left of this useful and instructive Book. This Annual should be in the hands of every CAGE BIRD FANCIER.

SOME OF THE CONTENTS:—

How to Breed English Song Canaries:
How to Construct a Perfect Drying Cage.
How to Make a Bird-room Mouse-proof.
The First Principles of Mating Canaries.

There are many other things of everyday value in this Book of Reference.

Send To-day—To-morrow You may be Too Late.

FROM ANY NEWSAGENT, OR AT ANY BOOKSTALL; PRICE 6d.; OR WE WILL SEND YOU A COPY POST FREE FOR 7d. (Postal Order).

The Publisher "Cage Birds Annual," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

COCK Goldfinches, splendid birds, with good blaze, 2/- each: Lintott, Fishbourne, Chichester. (620)

WANTED weekly, small catcher's lot: Jones, Aviaries, 126, Plaistow-rd., West Ham. (632)

SINGING cock Linnet 1/6, Chaffinch 1/6 (hens 6d.), cock Greenfinch 1/-, hen 6d.; cock Goldfinch 3/-, hen 1/-; Redpolls 1/6 pair; Hawfinch 3/-; cock Lark 1/-: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Easthourne.

BULLFINCHES, all netted and well on seed, cocks, 2/6, hens 1/6; cock Linnets 1/-; Yellowbuntings 1/6 pair; Greenfinches 6d. each; grand F.M., Redpoll, 4/-; approval, deposit: Garrod, 37, Spencer-rd., Rushden, Northants. (630)

GRAND Scotch Linnets, ideal birds for exhibition, mulling and singing, 2/6 each, 3 for 7/-; Scotch Redpolls 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; cock Goldfinches 2/6, hens 1/3, Ringbones 2/6 pair: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (632)

COCK Bullfinches, 3/-, 3/6; good cock Bramblefinch 2/-, Cornbunting 1/6, Chaffinches 6d. each, 4/- dozen; Redpolls 9d. each, ½-dozen 3/6; Yellowhammer 2/6, Greenfinches 6d. each, 4/- dozen: W. Reid, Inveresue, Forres, N.B. (625)

LADY offers six very large cock Linnets, not fresh-caught birds, suitable for Mule breeding or contest singers; just bursting into full song; sacrifice 6/- the six; three for 3/6, or 1/6 for one: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (633)

BARGAIN. Linnet fanciers. Two extra very large red-breasted cock Linnets, grand songsters, fine show specimens, make contest singers, sacrifice 1/6 each, 2/6 the two; approval; if not satisfied money returned: Dixon, Old New Inn, Dunstable. (633)

LOOK! 50 cock Linnets, full song, 1/- each, 3 2/6, 6 4/6; some picked for muling or showing 1/6 each; Larks, Chaffinches, Greenfinches, 1/- pair; wanted, Redpolls and cock and hen Goldfinches for cash: W. Darby, 41a, Spon-lane Aviaries, West Bromwich.

GIVING up the Fancy; winning Song Thrush, with show cage and case, 20/-; dark Twite Mule, with show cage, can win, 10/-; big Scotch Finches, Mules, two cock Linnets, 4/- each; five cock Redpolls 1/6 each; two cock Greenies 3/6 each: Walsh, 38, Lydia-st., Accrington. (629)

COCKS, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, 1/6, 2/6; H.M. Siskin, 5/-; Chaffinches, Yellowhammers, Linnets, 1/-, 1/6; Skylarks, 9d., 1/-, dozen 4/6; Greenfinches, Redpolls, 6d., dozen 3/-; Canaries, 7/6, 10/-; youngsters, 3/6, 5/-; birdlime, 9d., 1/4, boxes 3/6: Irwin's Aviaries, Lurgan. (622)

EXHIBITORS, H.M. Goldfinch, grand blaze, 12/6, winner; Cornbunting, hand-reared, large, steady, 15/-; Bramblefinch, good spangling, 7/6; Chaffinch, 6/-; Redpoll, good bib, lacing, 5/-; all cocks, coloured; F.M. Bullfinch, cock, 5/-; approval, deposit: Checksfield, Spencer-rd., Rushden. (617)

SPLENDID large yellow cock Wagtails, 7/6; larger cage-moulted cock Jay, 5/6; cock Bullfinch 2/6; Roller hens, 2/-; cage-moulted cock Chaffinch, 3/-; large good-coloured cock Greenfinches, 1/-; cock Yellow Bunting 1/-; hen Bullfinches 2/-: Chas. Burrows, Payton-st., Stratford-on-Avon. (630)

THE pick of my season's catch, 5 tip-top cock Goldfinches, 7/- each, 9 good specimens, 3/6 each: picked hens 9d. each; exhibition cock Bullfinches 4/- each; ditto hens 3/-; big cobby Redpolls 1/6 each; big Welsh cock Linnets 2/- each; ordinary 6d.: W. Brown, Ightfield, Whitchurch, Salop. (629)

GREENFINCHES are very charming birds, but they need great care. "The Greenfinch" Nutshell booklet gives full directions as to the treatment of these birds, and we shall be pleased to send you a copy post free upon receipt of 2½d. Write Publisher, CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

FROM outdoor aviaries, pairs Bullfinches 3/-, Linnets 1/-, Chaffinches 1/-, Greenfinches 1/-, Yellowbuntings, 1/6; cock Great Tit, 2/-, cock Blue Tit 1/-; cock Meadow Pipit, 2/-; cock Californian Quail, can win, 10/-; cock Cockatiel 10/-: A. J. Underwood, The Aviaries, 24, Wellington-st., Kettering. (627)

SELECTED cock Linnets, marvellous songsters, 1/- each, 3 for 2/6; Linnet cages, 1/- each; approval; cash or deposit: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (563)

EXHIBITORS, specially selected specimens, outstanding size, colour, and markings, cock Siskin 7/6, Bullfinch 6/6, Linnet 3/6, Twite 3/6, Redpoll 3/-, Chaffinch 2/6, Greenfinch 2/-, hen Siskin 3/6, Bullfinch 3/6, Linnet 2/-: Ross, Poultry Farm, Forres, N.B. (631)

TO Linnet singers and fanciers, two handsome, very large, clean moulted red-breasted cock Linnets, fine songsters, grand show specimens, make contest singers, bargain, 1/6 each, 2/6 two; approval; money returned not satisfied: Dickson, Upper Union-st., Dunstable. (633)

LINNETS, Linnets, Linnets, red-breasted Lincolnshire cock Linnets, well on seed, best in England 6/- doz., six 3/6, three 2/-; hen Linnets 1/6 doz., six 10d.; cock Greenfinches 1/9 doz., six 1/-; tame Redpolls 1/6 pair; thousands testimonials (unsolicited): Charlie Cubley, Gedney, Holbeach, Lincolnshire. (621)

COCK Hawfinch, 7/6; selected cock Goldfinches, crossing, well up in colour and song, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; Greypate cocks, 2/-, 2/6; cock Bullfinches, 2/-, 2/6, 3/6; from aviary, not fresh caught; cash offers wanted for band-reared Greater Spotted Woodpecker and a fine Nuthatch: W. G. Poole, Stratford-on-Avon. (627)

EXHIBITORS. Siskin, 12/-; Twite, 12/6; Chaffinch, 6/6; Bramblefinch, 11/-; Greenfinch, 8/6; Goldfinch, 12/6; Goldfinch Mule, 10/-; also field-moulted Greenfinch, 10/6; Redpoll, 7/6; Linnet, 4/6; all with show cages, or exchange, wanted screw-cutting lathe or small engine: Gentleman, Avonbridge, Stirlingshire. (633)

EXHIBITORS, Westmorland cock Bullfinches 5/6; one, a clinker, 15/6; prize-winning cock Goldfinches 6/-; extra special bird, square blaze, winner, 20/-; monster cock Linnets, perfect wings and moonings, 5/6; cock Yellowhammer, Greenfinch, Redpoll, Skylark, sure winners, 5/6 each: Robinson, Bird Specialist, Windermere. (631)

GOLDFINCHES, cocks, 24/- dozen; for show, 4/-, 5/- each; Bullfinches, 20/- dozen; picked birds, 4/6 each; Greenfinches, 5/- dozen; large yellows, 1/- each; Chaffinches, 6/-; Linnets, 6/-; extra specials, 1/- each; Redpolls, 5/- dozen; for Siskins send p.c.; all birds on approval: Smith, 17, Cattell-rd., Bordesley Green Aviaries, Birmingham. (618)

NORTH-country Linnets, tip-top specimens, picked out for show; these birds stand alone for contest singing, 2/6 each; few good call birds; birds worth going out with, 2/6 each; cock Yellowhammers, Chaffinches, Larks, Blue Tits, Great Tits, Reedbuntings, Greenfinches, picked birds, 1/- each, three for 2/6. Trap cages, best on market to-day, not toys; all wire and punch bar tops, single 1/-, double 2/-, treble 2/6, call cages 9d., Linnet braces 1/- doz.; flirt pegs 1/- each; clap nets, single, 9 by 3, all complete for setting, 2/6 each; esparto grass, lime twigs, will not break, limed ready to set, 1/- 100; the best thing known for scared birds; nets for Wren or Hare; no fooling; honest dealing only: G. Ashton, 5, Mafeking-st., Gateshead. (629)

WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE.
WANTED TO PURCHASE,

GOLDFINCHES
BULLFINCHES.
LINNETS.
And all other British Birds.

Cash on receipt. Please submit offers immediately

JOHN D. HAMLYN,
221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

GOLDFINCHES! Goldfinches! Invaluable information concerning this most popular of our British birds is found in "Nutshell No. 1." Feeding, hand-rearing, and sexing, moulting and exhibiting, are all fully dealt with, 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; list published frequently.)

LINNETS! Linnets!! Linnets!!!—Own caught, trained contest singers, real stormers. A great secret is laid bare to lovers of these popular Britishers, which will enable them to rear real stormers. Linnet fanciers, there is a matter that requires dealing with caution; there is a very bad habit, which your pets may have, which must be overcome. Get that "Linnet Nutshell" at once. No. 2, price 2½d post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet Street, London, E.C.

FRED ALLEN, BRITISH BIRD CHAMPION

All on approval, cash or deposit with Editor:—Real giant cock Goldfinches, very tame and on song, 2/6, 3/- each; also some as large as Russians, the best I have seen for years, 3/6, 4/6, 5/6; monster cock Bullfinches, 2/6, 3/6; hens, giants, 1/6, 2/- each; cock Linnets, full song, 1/-, 1/6; catching Linnet and call cage, 3/- lot; quality songsters, 2/6, 3/- each; exhibition specimens, can win, real giants, 2/6, 3/-; house moulted contest winners, 10/6, 12/6, 15/6, 20/-; Redpolls, real gems, 1/-, 1/6, 2/6; monster cock Greenfinches, 2/-; Yellow Budgerigars, 4/- each; Golden Pheasants, 25/- pair; Linnet and Roller whistles, 6d.; bag of singing mixture, 1/3, post free; giant Spanish canary, 25/- per cwt., any quantity supplied; cock Canaries, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6; hens, 2/-, 2/6. Write at once; no waiting.

FRED ALLEN, Bird Expert,
166, PORTER STREET AVIARIES, HULL.

GOLDFINCHES, Linnets; 120 orders despatched; that is the record of the old firm this week; all birds are Worcestershire caught, being noted for their size and song; cock Goldfinches, all on hard seed, 2/- each; few picked for size and song, 2/6, 3/-, and 3/6; few extra specials, 5/- and 7/6 each; one, sure to be in the money, 10/-; glorious red-breasted cock Linnets, 1/- each, three for 2/6; few extra large birds, 1/6, 2/- and 2/6 each; nothing better; cock Greenfinches, Chaffinches, and Redpolls, 1/- each; specials, 1/6; two-compartment trap cage and call bird to catch your own, 1/9; call cages, 9d. each; sample birdlime and Linnet whistles 4d. each, post free; wanted hen Canaries and Finch Mules, any quantity, 1/6 each paid; birds bought, sold or exchanged; travelling cages 3d. and 6d. extra; all birds warranted sound and healthy, and sex guaranteed: Bedford (Late Gore's), 131, Gooch-st., Birmingham. (633)

W. Johnson, British Bird Expert

Linnets, specially trained for show or contest, 1/6 and 2/- each; I have a nice lot suitable for time singing, 1/- each; singing cages 1/3; Linnet whistles 6d. each: 25, George-st., Leeds. (630)

GOLDFINCH BULLFINCH LINNET

Redpoll, etc., real cock Goldfinch 2/-, 2/6 each, large, special selection, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each, hens 1/-, three 2/6; cock Bullfinch, 2/1, 2/6, hens 1/3, 1/6 each; cock Linnet 9d., three 1/9; large selected cock Linnet for muling or showing, 2/-, 2/6; Redpoll 6d., 1s.; best birdlime, ½lb. 9d., ¼lb. 1/2, 1lb 2/-, postage free: Matt Hopkins, Bird Specialist, 88, Fylde-st., Preston, Lancashire. (631)

GOLDFINCHES, BULLFINCHES, LINNETS & REDPOLLS.

Real English cock Goldfinches, 2/-, 2/6 each, 3 for 4/-; selected, 3 for 6/-; warranted cock Linnets, 1/-, 1/6 each; Redpolls, 9d., 1/- each, six for 2/6, dozen 3/-; extra special selected cock Goldfinches and Bullfinches, 3/-, 4/-, 5/- each; also few grand cock Linnets, 2/- and 2/6 each. Send for illustrated price list, post free.

SANDIFORD,
Bird Specialist, PRESTON.

(628)

Softbills.

KING of songsters, Devonshire Woodlarks, cocks 2/6, three 7/-; hens 1/6: Squire, 2, Diamond-rd., Exeter (632)

HAND-REARED Magpie, amusing pet, plain talker, goes about loose, accept 6/-: Cooper, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (631)

THRUSHES, Blackbirds, cocks, warranted thoroughly tamed, healthy, singing, 3/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishop's Stortford. (622)

HANDSOME tame tawny Owl, splendid plumage price 5/-; or exchange: W. Bryant, 23, St. Cuthbert's-st., Bedford. (630)

SKYLARKS, guaranteed hand-reared cocks, perfectly tame, sing indoors or out, 5/6: Crisp, Southmill, Bishop's Stortford. (622)

EXHIBITION Willow Wren, singing, 7/6; pint large mealworms, 7/-; exchange, offers: Gooderham, 472, Woodbridge-rd., Ipswich. (628)

CAGES for Thrushes, Blackbirds, Skylarks, strong, roomy, elegant, own make; send stamp for prices, sketches: Crisp, Southmill, Bishop's Stortford. (622)

SKYLARKS, large genuine selected cocks, 5/- doz.; six, 3/-; exhibition specimens 1/-, three 2/6; healthy hens 2/- dozen: Butler, "late Jackson," Station-rd., Bardney, Lincoln. (630)

BEAUTIFUL tame Starling, commenced chattering; most amusing; more interesting than a Parrot; excellent plumage; fit for exhibition, 2/-; approval: Proprietress, Lamb Hotel, Dunstable. (629)

COCK Skylarks, 4/6 per dozen; extra special large cock Skylarks, make contest and exhibition birds, been caged weeks, 6/- per dozen; same address 30 years: Woods, 117, West-st., Dunstable (599)

LADY offers two beautiful singing cock Skylarks, like Thrushes; one on full song, 2/6; the other just commenced singing, 2/-, or 3/6 the two; approval willingly: Mrs. Harrington, Dalmeney Cottage, Dunstable. (512)

SPECIAL, select singing cock Skylark, can be heard 200 yards, good shop attraction or contest bird, will match him to sing any Lark in this country, 1/6; approval; secret of feeding free: George Holt, Dunstable. (632)

ON receipt of 1s. 6d. will send securely packed the loudest singing cock Skylark ever heard, measuring 14ins. from tip to tip; also my method of feeding, which keeps them in full song nine months out of twelve; free: Gale, 118, West-st., Dunstable. (568)

SOFTBILLS: the smaller species; full information upon their proper feeding and management in captivity, is given by H. J. Fulljames in "Nutshell No. 25," which also deals with hand-rearing, and describes the collection of ants' eggs, 2½d. post free, from: CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. (2d. from agents; see list on another page.)

THOSE requiring a genuine singing cock Skylark, cock Linnet, or cock Goldfinch, on approval, cheap, send me your address: I will send to you by return, in fact, I have the finest private collection of all kinds of British birds in England, including a beautiful singing cock Thrush and cock Blackbird; state requirements: Mrs. Dutton, Dunstable. (629)

SOFTBILLS, exhibition, extra large wellmarked Treecreeper, 20/-; handsome Gold-crested Wren, 20/-, crest like fire; nice hand-reared Wryneck, 25/-; Lesser Whitethroat, very pure in colour, 10/-; Reed Warbler, adult cock, 10/6; Wheatear, in spring coloured plumage, beauty, 15/-; for aviary, large Wryneck, hand reared, Redstart hen, fine Nightingale hen, large as cock, pair Wheatears, Yellow Wagtail cock, Garden Warbler; prices reasonable.—P. F. M. Galloway, Durban, Caversham, Reading. (623)

SOFTBILL keepers, take expert advice before proceeding to buy and keep the larger species of Insectivorous birds. You will then have no trouble in keeping your pets in the best of health. This advice is offered in "Nutshell No. 26," by H. J. Fulljames. It is a wonderful little work, dealing with most varieties in a highly interesting and instructive manner. Foods and their preparation, and the various styles of cages also receive full attention. Can you breed Mealworms? This booklet tells you how. Post free, 2½d. from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Look at our list of agents; call on the nearest and get it for 2d.

Miscellaneous.

DOVES 3/- pair, Jay 6/-, Chaffinches 2/- pair, Greenfinches 1/-, Bluetits 1/6 each, Oxeyes 1/-, Wagtails 2/6, Grey Wagtails 5/- each: DeVon and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (629)

A GOOD singing Linnet, with new contest cage, 2/6; also a good Lark with new cage, 2/-; cages alone are worth money; if not satisfied money returned in full; exchange to value: Maloney, 58, Scholes, Wigan. (627)

MISS KING, 63, Kingsbury-terr., Dunstable, would like to send on approval, two beautiful singing cock Linnets, also Skylark, 1/6 each; would suit bird dealer for shop front attraction, or bird-catcher for call bird. (632)

COCKS, brown Linnets, 5/- dozen; Redpolls 3/- dozen; Skylarks, 2/6 dozen; Blackbirds, Song Thrushes, selected songsters, 1/6 each; Goldfinches, 2/6 pair; large selected cocks, 2/6 each; Chaffinches, Greenfinches, Redpolls, Linnets, Yellowhammers, Skylarks, 1/- pair; Robins, Bluetits 1/6 pair, 12 mixed aviary seed birds 1/6; cock Greenfinches 1/6 dozen; Geo. Fenn, East End, Isleham, Cambs. (630)

CANARIES.

Border Fancy.

TYPICAL Borders, from 7/6, approval; Bishop, 114, Baker-st., Stirling. (602)

TWELVE good Border hens, 2/6 each, 20/- lot: 21, Beaufoy-rd., Tottenham. (639)

SOME grand 1916 buff hens for show or stock; prices low: McLaughlin, 37a, George-st., Whitehaven.

WANTED, 100 cock and hen Borders, state number and price: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (632)

BORDERS, grand stock, ready; state wants; particulars, stamp: Craig, 15, Damacre-rd., Brechin (late High-st.). (629)

CHAMPION Borders, stock and show birds, now ready; prices reasonable; stamp reply: D. Jenkins, 71, Argyle-st., Swansea. (627)

BORDERS, see results Clapham Show, some good birds for sale, same strain; stamp reply: H. Elston, 26, Selkirk-st., Cheltenham. (628)

PAIR wenning Borders both 1st and spl., only time shown; what offers; would exchange for songsters: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (633)

NOTICE! Grand lot Borders for show or song; prices low, easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BORDERS, best blood obtainable, Nicholson and Craig's strain, clear yellow cock 10/-, clear buff 15/-, clear buff hen 5/-, another 10/-, uneven yellow 7/6: Tallantyre, South View, Haltwhistle. (631)

COMPULSORY sale of prize-bred Borders, last few; green cock, 8/6; clear buff cock, 1916, 6/6; green hen, 4/6; clear buff hen, excellent mother, 5/6; ditto, 4/-: G. Balcombe, 6, Silvermere-rd., Catford, Kent. (See Appliances.) (630)

JUST now is the time to get the pick of my surplus stock of typical Borders, about 80 birds; all carefully bred; pedigrees systematically kept; state your requirements; prices reasonable; satisfaction assured: Pegg, 4, Peterboro' Villas, Fulham, S.W. (622)

Cinnamons.

UNFLIGHTED pure cinnamon Norwich hens, buffs, 10/6 each, worth more: Taylor, Northam-rd., Bideford. (630)

E. GODLEY has a few choice cinnamons and plainhead Norwich for disposal single or in pairs; stamp for reply; approval: 29, Knowles-st., Rishton, nr. Blackburn. (628)

YELLOW cock, buff hen, 30/-; pair good birds; yellow cock, buff hen, £2; show bird; buff cock, yellow hen, £2; good birds, fit to show: S. Naylor, 112, Buller-rd., Thornton Heath. (632)

Crests and Crestbreds.

GOOD stock Crests, Mr. Tatman's strain: P. A. Small, 67, Western-rd., Brighton. (634)

MRS. MONTAGU SCOTT has a few Crests and Crestbreds for sale: 6, Staple-inn, London, W.C.

LARGE Crestbred variegated 1916 hen, Joyce-Barnett strain, 15/-: Rev. G. Mullens, Chedzoy, Bridgwater. (650)

NOTICE! Grand lot Crests and Crestbreds; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

IF you want Crested or Crested-bred send to the man that possesses them; list free, or stamp for requirements: Rudd, Specialist, Norwich.

SMART, "Ivybank," Carnwyle, near Glasgow: 50 typical young Crests, Norwich, and cinnamon Borders; cold-room bred: inspection invited. (629)

HIGH-CLASS Crests, prize-bred, make winners, 25/-, 30/-, 40/- each: Crestbred hens 15 C. 25/-: birds: 69, Palace-road, Streatham Hill. (623)

Selling Agents for Cage Birds Books and "Nutshell" Series

And Guide to Local Bird-Dealers, Seed and Food Stores, etc.

OUR "NUTSHELL" SERIES COMPRISES THE MOST POPULAR HANDBOOKS ON CANARIES, BRITISH AND FOREIGN BIRDS, &c., EVER PUBLISHED.

Each one tells you "In a Nutshell" everything you want to know about a particular bird (or birds).

PRICE 2d. EACH; BY POST 2½d.

1.—The Goldfinch.
2.—The Linnet.
3.—The Skylark.
4.—The Song Thrush and Blackbird.
5.—The Canary.
6.—Ailing Cage Birds and How to Cure Them.
7.—The Homing Pigeon.
8.—Fancy Pigeons.
9.—The Disinfection of Cages, Birdrooms, &c.
10.—The Roller Canary.
11.—The Bullfinch.
12.—How to Moult British Birds.
13.—The Chaffinch.
14.—Gouldian Finches.
15.—The Greenfinch.
16.—Avadavats.
17.—The Grey Parrot.
18.—Budgerigars.
19.—The Pekin Robin.
20.—Waxbills.
21.—The Aquarium.
22.—Siskin, Redpoll and Twite.
23.—The Border Fancy.
24.—The Green Canaries.
25.—The Smaller Insectivorous British Birds.
26.—The Larger Insectivorous British Birds.
27.—Care of the Cat.
28.—Profitable Pet Cavies.
29.—Fancy and Pet Mice.
30.—Profitable Pet Rabbits.
31.—Fishing in River, Lake and Pond.
32.—Care of the Dog.
33.—Cages and Bird Room Appliances.

LIST OF THE AGENTS WHO SELL "NUTSHELL" HANDBOOKS, AND, USUALLY, OTHER BIRD-BOOKS OF OURS:—

*By consulting these symbols the nature of the business carried on by these agents can be ascertained: Birds, Foods, Cages, and Bird-room Requisites; †Bird-room requisites, seeds, etc., but not birds; ‡Birds, and seeds and foods only; § Seeds and Foods only. ¶ Newsagents.

Abertillery.—H. H. Mortimer, 4, Granville Street.
Alexandria.—*J. W. Bell, 164, Main Street.
Barnsley.—*Mrs. A. Porrill, 8, Doncaster Road.
Batley.—*S. Mortimer, 39, Commercial Street.
Bedwas, Mon.—W. Y. Jefferies, Church St.
Belfast.—W. Skelly, 21, Gresham Street.
Birkenhead.—*J. T. Harding, 8, Henson Street.
Birmingham.—†H. Morris, 112, Cape Hill.
Bishop Auckland.—G. M. Smith, Fore Bondgate; John Shaw, 74, Newgate Street.
Blackburn.—*A. Bawdon, 85, King Street; *J. Walsh, Pheasant Aviaries.
Blackpool.—J. McKlerman, 62, Raikes Road.
Blaydon-on-Tyne.—§Walter Wilson, Ltd., Church St.
Blyth.—Allison, Market Place.
Bolton.—*John Gostling, 158, Bradshawgate.
Bradford.—J. W. Turbotton, 556, Leeds Rd.; *S. Torpy, James Street; §J. Errington, Four Lane Ends.
Brighton.—*H. T. Gibb, Bond Street; B. T. Burdon, 20, Gardner Street.
Bristol.—†Finch and Godwin, Redcliff Wire Works.
Bromley.—*W. Dell, 15, Market Square.
Burnley.—*D. Greenwood, 16, Standish Street.
Cardiff.—*E. J. Davies, 48, Frederick Street.
Charlton.—Pedler, 262, Woolwich Rd.
Chesterfield.—‡W. Marriott, 25, Glumman Gate.
Chester-le-Street.—A. Clark, High Front Street.
Clay Cross.—J. Smith, High Street.
Colchester.—R. J. Witton, 204, Magdalen St.
Colne.—A. Wilkinson, 193, Cotton Tree.
Cowes, I.W.—W. White, Park Street, East Cowes.
Crewkerne.—†Sam Young, Misterton, S.O.
Crewe.—Mayor, Chemist, Hightown, P.O.; *G. E. Morgan, 83, Victoria Street.
Croydon.—Stirlings, Surrey-st., Croydon.
Darlington.—†J. Reynolds, 105, Victoria Road.
Denton.—T. Holden, 54, Manchester Road.
Derby.—*G. Bousfield, 70, Pear Tree Rd. and Market Hall.
Darwen.—E. Jepson, Chemist, Duckworth St.
Dewsbury.—Aspey's, Market Street.
Doncaster.—J. Green, 27, Milbank Street.
Dublin.—¶M. Honan, 25, Parliament Street.
Eastwood.—L. Mayes, 2, Mansfield Road.
East Sheen, Surrey.—F. Collingbourne and Co., 21, Avenue Gardens.
Edinburgh.—*J. Kean, No. 1, Fountainbridge.
Felling-on-Tyne.—J. Crosby and Son, High St.
Gateshead-on-Tyne.—§John Crosby and Sons, 48, High Street.
Glasgow.—*W. Wilson, 247, Argyle Street; William Holmes and Co., Mitchell Street; J. Ward, 178, Main Street, Shettleston; W. Crawford, 192, Saltmarket.
Gt. Harwood.—¶A. Bentley, 13 and 15, Blackburn-rd.
Greenwich.—Pedler, 87, London St.
Grimsby.—F. Yearing, 104, Burgess St.
Halifax.—*J. Thomas, Ambler Thorn.
Hanley.—E. S. Insull, 21, Parliament Row.
Hull.—‡Tom Perkins, 55, Wincomlee; *F. Allen, Porter Street; John Day, City Aviaries, Porter Street; *G. Gilson and Son, 17, Craven Street.
Ipswich.—James Rayner, Dog's Head Street.
Jarrow-on-Tyne.—¶M. Henderson, 66, Walter Street; T. Lindsay, 27, Ormonde Street.
Keighley.—W. H. Smith, 41, Market Place.
Kingston-on-Thames.—§J. and B. Marsh, Market Pl.
Kettering.—*A. J. Underwood, 24 & 65, Wellington Street.
Kilmarnock.—T. Rodger, 132, King St.
Kirkcaldy.—‡W. R. Gibson, 58, St. Clair St.
Landport, Portsmouth.—J. August, 67, Charlotte St.
Leamington Spa.—¶E. T. Bryant, 17, Regent Grove.
Leigh.—*J. Cavanagh, 89, Firs Lane.
Leicester.—A. Shaw, 236, Belgrave Gate.
Leeds.—‡B. Smith and Son, 87, Woodhouse Lane.
Leek.—§T. Measham, 23, Market Street.
Liverpool.—*G. Frankham, 45, Walton Lane; *J. W. Metcalfe, 68, Brunswick Rd.; ‡E. Roberts, Bird Market.
Liversedge.—Norman Haley, Lower Hall, Hightown.
Longton.—*E. Tams, Church Street.
London.—*C. Palmer, Schlater-st., Shoreditch; 552, Upper-st., Islington; G. H. Hooper, 216, Forest-rd., Walthamstow; ‡C. A. Luer, 87, Schlater St., Walworth-rd., S.E.; *D. De Von & Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd.; J. Manning, 111, Waterloo-rd.; A. E. Worth, 4, Bishops-rd., Camb. Heath; *S. V. Mower, 1, Wardon-rd., Fulham, S.W.; A. Dossett, Ladbroke-gv., W.; *Wm. Whiteley's, Ltd., Westbourne-gv.; *A. W. Gamage, Ltd., Holborn; J. Jeffrey, 209, York-rd., Battersea; §Edwards, Ltd., 366, Vaughan-rd., S.E.; §Lewis and Sons, 211, Garratt-lane, and 280, York-rd., Wandsworth; Johnson, 20, Cleveland-st., W.; T. W. Parkyn, 52, East-st., Walworth; Simpson and Co., 137, High-st., Camden-Town, N.W.; E. E. Wilson, 407B, West Green Rd., N.; W. and E. Rolfe, 101, Bridport-place, Hoxton; C. Roehl, 400, Edgware-rd.; C. A. Bond and Co., 217, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. H. Morris and Co., 570 and 642, Harrow-rd.; Miss Tomkins, 11, High-rd., Willesden Green; J. Larkings, 394, Lillie Rd., Fulham, S.W.; *J. Howard and Sons, 1, Schlater Street and 28, Bethnal Green Road, E.
Manchester.—*A. G. Davies, 110 & 112, Tib-st.; *R. Kremmer, 104, Tib-st.; W. Jackson, 12, Liver-st., Hulme; ¶John Heywood, Ltd., Deansgate; *Dutton, 51 & 53, Tib-st.; *W. Smith, 98, Tib-st.
Mansfield.—J. W. Matthews, 30, St. Andrew's Terrace, Littleworth, and 7, Queen Street.
Middlesbrough.—P. Corr, 5, Suffield Street.
Middleton Junction.—F. Buckley, 21, Grimshaw-lane.
Milom.—§W. T. H. Cartwright, 7, St. George's Ter.
Macclesfield.—C. Cross, 17, Derby St.
Nelson.—†John England, 102, Scotland Road.
Newcastle-on-Tyne.—T. Parkinson, 67, High Friar Street, and 31, Nelson Street.
Newcastle, Staffs.—*A. Griffiths, 23, Merrlat Street.
Newport, Mon.—T. W. Mitchell, 12, Upton Road.
Nottingham.—*W. Cottingham, Peveril Street; §Armitage Bros., Castlegate.
Oldham.—Geo. T. Robinson, 12, Henshaw Street.
Ossett.—P. Imeson, Bird Stores, Bank Street.
Openshaw.—F. Washbourne, 401, Ashton Old Road.
Oxford.—C. F. Holliday, 58, George Street.
Plymouth.—†R. Nixon, 4, Friary Gate, Exeter Street; §W. H. Elson, The Market.
Portsmouth.—H. Mansfield, 112, Fawcett Road.
Preston.—*J. Sandiford, North Road; *Matt. Hopkins, 11, Fylde Street.
Rawtenstall.—W. Bacon, Bird and Seed Stores.
Ripley.—Turner and Roberts, Oxford Street.
Rochester.—§T. Burgess, Corn Merchant.
Sheffield.—*J. Mace, Exchange Street; J. Lewis, 56, Owler Lane, Pitsmoor.
Shettleston, Scotland.—§J. Ward, 178, Main-st.
Shildon.—C. Sinclair, 26, Garbutt Street.
Stamford.—A. W. Ludlow, 89, Broad Street.
St. Helens.—Sherlock and Co., 136, Liverpool Road.
St. Ives.—¶Frank Lake, Tregenna Place.
Stoke-on-Trent.—*J. Pitchford, 218, London Road.
Swansea.—†Maggs Bros.
Tunbridge Wells.—Live Stock Co., 34, Monson Road.
Tunstall.—W. Watson, 5, Paradise Street.
Wigan.—T. Summers and Son, 63, Darlington Street.
Wallsend-on-Tyne.—*Wm. Cockburn, 106, High-st., E.
Watford.—J. Corley, 320, High-st.; J. Goodall, Market-st.
West Hartlepool.—D. Coombes, 63, Stockton-street.
Wrexham.—§E. A. Hamlet, 7, Charles Street.
Yorks.—J. H. Cawson, Alexandra Aviaries, 4, Alexandra Street, Goole, Yorks.

Agents wanted everywhere; for terms write to the Publisher, "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet St., London, E.C.

CRESTS, two cocks, one Crestbred hen, good feather, aviary, double breeder, and two show cages, £4 lot: Baker, 20, Quinton-avenue, Merton Park.

CHAMPION Crests, grand pair, green Crested cock 1916, Crestbred hen 1915, marked on head only, £8 10/-; both can win; other good pairs; approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham.

EVINS BROTHERS' champions for sale.—We have decided to reduce our stock by half, owing to W. Evins being in the Army, so can offer some winners at reasonable prices; state what you require: 259, High-st., Exeter. (634)

OVERSTOCKED; several good Crests and Crestbreds, from 15/- per pair; two extra good Crest cocks, winners, 30/-, 40/- each, worth much more; any on approval, deposit; enquiries stamp: Fellows, 44, Hill-lane, Southampton. (629)

Greens

NORWICH Greens, Yellows and Buffs, from 10/- each; approval: Jenkins, 82, Church-st., Widnes.

Lizards.

PAIR Gold Lizards, 17/6; pair 1915 15/-: Grimshaw, Westgate, Hale, Cheshire. (626)

Norwich.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

J. C. BARNES, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, well-known strain, winner of numerous challenge cups, trophies, etc., including Sheffield Challenge Cup outright: 113, Northfield-rd., Walkley, Sheffield.

F. J. LACCOHEE, Breeder and Exhibitor of high-class Norwich; reliable birds from 10/6; approval: 92, St. George's-st., Norwich. (593)

N. LESSE, breeder, exhibitor, and exporter of high-class Norwich, winners at Palace, Manchester, Burton, and all the leading shows, winner of cage bird diploma, L.C.B.A. diploma, also silver cups, gold medals, etc.; few cocks from 10/6 upwards; on approval: 30, Alexandra-rd., Normacot, Staffs.

W. C. FELLOWS, breeder and exhibitor of high-class Norwich, winner of over three hundred prizes, challenge cups, etc.; reliable birds from £1 to £5 per pair; enquiries, stamp reply; all birds on approval: 44, Hill-lane, Southampton. (629)

TWO buff Norwich cocks, 1915, 14/6 two: Conroy, 124, Accrington-rd., Burnley. (632)

SEVERAL good Norwich for sale; seen any time Sunday: Turnbull, Castle-st., Montrose. (621)

YOUNG show Norwich for sale, call or write: Davidson, Clydesdale House, Mossend. (631)

LARGE Norwich cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, and 7/6 each: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (602)

WANTED Norwich and Yorkshires; honest price given; state what you have: 97, Madeley-st., Derby.

D. DEVOY has a choice selection of 1915 Norwich for sale from 10/-; approval: 23, George-st., Stranraer. (632)

THREE Norwich hens, nearly finished moult, 9/- the three, to clear: J. P. Stamp, Church-st., Whitby, Yorks. (627)

BARGAINS; unflighted variegated cocks, 10/-; hens, 4/6; colour-fed; cold-room: Reade, 10, Leonard-rd., Gloucester. (630)

CLEAR Yellow cock 35/-, clear Yellow hen 20/-, Buff Marked hen 15/-; approval: Webster, 25, Brown-st., Rotherham. (627)

NOTICE! Grand lot Norwich; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

GIVING up; for sale, the whole of my Norwich yellow and buff cocks, ditto hens; cheap to clear: Kelly, Dean-rd., Kilbirnie. (616)

ONLY four pairs left, high-class Norwich, 10/- per pair to clear; approval; deposit: Taylor, St. Michaels, Bridport, Dorset. (629)

NORWICH, big Buff cock, 32/-; massive Buff hen, 10/-; unflighted, fed; from prize stock: Eddy, Bellevue-terrace, Penzance. (627)

PRIZE bred Norwich cocks from 7s. 6d., hens 4s. upwards; seen any time: J. F. Mitchell, 724, Oldham-rd., Failsworth, Manchester.

GRAND lot, typical Norwich, clear and variegated cocks and hens; any evening after six: Bebb, 34, McLellan-st., Plantation, Glasgow. (631)

POINTS:—

3 QUALITY VALUE QUANTITY

Respecting quality, that requires no comment from me. Value is the quintessence of cheapness. Quantity gives you the best selection to choose from. A few prices are given below for either

PLAINHEADED NORWICH or YORKSHIRES.

These high-class birds are offered as follows:—Cocks, 15/-, 20/-, 30/-, 40/-, 60/- each. Hens, 7/6, 10/6, 15/-. Pairs, judiciously mated, 20/-, 30/-, 40/- upwards. I have plenty of others at far lower prices. I will not say they are cheaper; but, still, good reliable birds. Hens, for instance, 3/6, 4/6, 5/-. Muling Hens, good, 4/6, 5/6, 6/6. You will do well to secure these now. Cages, 4d. and 6d.

Also, I have a good collection of CRESTS and CRESTED BREDS, BORDER FANCIES, etc., etc. Full particulars can be given of any bird, or I shall be pleased to send my Illustrated List of all varieties free upon receipt of address. Specially selected Singing Canaries and Mules.

W. RUDD,
The Bird Specialist, NORWICH.

LARGE Yellow cock and Buff Green hen, 15/-; nice Yellow hen 6/6; cash or deposit: R. H. Twigg, 80, Four-lane-ends, Hetton-le-Hole, Durham. (627)

OVERSTOCKED; Norwich cocks and hens for sale, greens, yellows, and buffs; good strain; stamp reply: F. Bendall, 62, Bruford-rd., Wolverhampton. (630)

WORTH attention; now ready: genuine Norwich cocks, 6/6, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6; also hens and breeding pairs; list, particulars free: R. Hanford, Derby. (634)

EXCELLENT quality medium-sized Norwich, bred from exhibition birds; single or pairs; enquiries solicited: F. Jenkins, 9, Pontcanna-st., Cardiff. (627)

TWO real good buff hens, unflighted, related to my winners (see Clapham Show report), 7/6 and 10/-: H. Clemence, 151, Lordship-lane, E. Dulwich. (629)

TWO large typical yellow hens, 1915, 15/- hens; or exchange for class buff cock, must have size and quality: Vassie, 79, Dundas-st., S. S. Glasgow. (630)

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, has still remaining the best of last year's stock, also those bred this season. All large and healthy. All for sale. (596)

TEN pairs Norwich, good size, type, and quality, bred direct from winning stock; cheap to clear; stamp, approval: James Ward, 425, Main-st., Shettleston. (609)

CHAMPION Norwich, one of the best pairs in England, £5 10/-; several other good pairs; all sent on approval: T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottingham. (631)

VARIEGATED yellow hen, eyes marked, buff hen, both fit to win, 15/- each; cinnamon yellow cock, 15/-; approval; deposit: Parkinson, 13, Cedar-st., Accrington. (631)

SPLENDID lot Norwich for disposal, large typical birds, cocks 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, 15/-, hens 5/6, 7/6, 10/-; approval; state wants: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (633)

REMOVAL, two clear deep Yellow cocks, 1 clear Yellow hen, 3 Buff, 1 Green, 1 Ticked Buff, all containing best blood in England, £3 10: Cannon, Hemel Hempstead. (628)

FOR sale, few good colour-fed, even, eye and wing marked, yellow Norwich hens, 10/- and 12/6 each; also other good Norwich, reasonable: Taylor, Northam-rd., Bideford. (630)

MASSIVE clear buff cock, very typical, related Clapham winner, 35/-; clear yellow cock, 20/-; unflighted; several typical hens; approval: Kerr, Richmond-rd., New Barnet. (629)

CAN spare few really good birds, 10/- each; bred same as my winners, Abertillery; Hodder and Stubbs' strain; approval, deposit: Mathews, Waterloo-terrace, Carmarthen. (627)

NORWICH exhibitors; unflighted clear yellow, 50/-; 1915 clear buff, 35/-; unflighted ditto, 25/-; large typical cocks; approval, cash: Reed, 84, Islington-rd., Edgbaston, Birmingham. (624)

GOOD Norwich variegated buff cock, yellow hen, 25/-; variegated buff hen, 10/-; the above have good heads, substance, and wing carriage; approval: Roberts, 43, Young-st., Derby. (630)

1915, 1916, Healthy strong birds, of good strain, size, type, quality, colour; priced low. Inspection, or approval, deposit Editor: Dracup, 163, Half-moon-lane, Herne Hill, London. (623)

TYPICAL Norwich cocks, 1916 bred, clean moulted, full song 8/6, 10/6, 12/6, and 15/- each; hens 4/6 and 6/- each; sent any distance: Cooper, Breeder and Exhibitor, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (631)

CLEAR buff cock, topper, 25/-, unflighted do. £1, yellow marked cock 35/-, clear buff hen 30/-, unflighted buff hen £1, other hens 10/- each: Smedley, North-avenue, Rainworth, Mansfield, Notts.

CHAMPION Norwich, clinking yellow and buffs, 1915, and unflighted show or stock, reasonable; we have sold Palace and other big winners for many years; approval: Ambler, 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate. (632)

T. GEARS, winner of Sheffield, also Walkley Society's Cups, having joined the Army, has for disposal his stock and show birds, both sexes; approval; stamp particulars: E. Sisson, 262, Springvale-rd., Sheffield. (626)

CHAMPION Norwich, one clear Yellow hen, 30/-; clear Buff hen, 25/-; Ticked Buff hen 15/-; Variegated Buff cocks, one 50/-, one 25/-; all 1915 birds; monsters for size; approval: Barnes, 30, Factory-row, Whalley, near Blackburn. (628)

60 UNFLIGHTED and several over year Norwich, from my prize winning strain, large-headed Yellow and Buff cocks, 12/6 and 15/- each; hens 7/6 and 10/6; one extra large clear yellow hen, 21/-; approval: Burgess, 24, York-st., Ramsgate. (625)

1916 NORWICH clear yellow cocks, 10/-; clear buff cocks, 8/6; two variegated buff cocks, 7/6 each; one variegated yellow cock, 8/6; clear yellow hens, 4/6; clear buff hens, 4/-; two variegated buff hens, 3/6 each: Mark Bennett, Broughton, Astley, Leicester.

EXCHANGE pair of oil paintings, handsomely framed, quite new, for good Norwich; approval: Greaves, Athenæum, Barnstaple. (628)

INIMITABLE bargains in Norwich Plainheads, all birds cold-room bred and in good health, from champion winners, 1916 bred, large, stout, natural colour yellow cock, rare head, grand type, only £1; colour-fed, 1916 bred, clear yellow cock, large, grand quality, only £1; massive 1916 bred clear buff cock, fed, big head, and stout, only £1: marked buff cock, 1916 bred, fed; gem, £1; two big colour-fed yellow hens, 1916 bred, 11/6 each, 21/- the two; three big stout buff hens, colour-fed, clear and marked, 1916 bred, 25/- the three, or 10/- each; all worth treble: George Cubley, Claxton's Grove, Long Sutton, Lincs. (634)

H. W. VALENTINE

Is clearing the whole of his valuable stock of Norwich, about sixty birds, including all his winners, prices from 10/- to £4 10/-, or offer for the lot; a rare chance to establish a stud of the real type and quality at a break up price: 19, St. Mary's, Bedford. 631)

CHAMPION NORWICH

Grand colour-fed Norwich, good size and large heads, the sort that produce champions, unflighted yellow hen, grand one, with buff cock to match, 25/- the pair; unflighted buff hen, with yellow cock to match, 25/- the pair; 6 days' approval, cash or deposit Editor: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (634)

JACK DAVIES

Has a few Norwich for disposal, cocks and hens, Yellows and Buffs, from 6/- upwards; I am also selling out all my Yorkshires, which include two Yellow hens, one of which won 1st as an Unflighted at Ardwick Open Show; a clear Buff cock and two young, bred from same; will accept £4 for the five; the two Yellow hens are well worth the money; inspection invited; approval; address: 11, Cromer-avenue, Tong Moor, Bolton. (628)

Rollers & Singing Canaries

BREEDER'S CARD

ARTHUR CHILLCOTT, Breeder and Trainer, celebrated Water Glucke Rollers (pure Randall's), 151, South Avenue, Southend-on-Sea. Member B.R.C.C. Birds for sale, THE finest strain in England. Winner 1st and silver cup Inter. Show, 1913. (1810)

HENRY NEVE, Roller Specialist. All birds bred from prize winning specimens of high rank; full particulars on application: Heathfield, Sussex.

TEN high-class Roller hens, 2/6 each; offers: 20, Co-operative-st., Stafford. (628)

ROLLER cocks, warranted singing, 4/-, 5/-; Seiferts, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (529)

BRITISH Rollers, Randall's; details, stamp reply; approval: Gulshaw, 188, Aniaby-rd., Hull. (601)

GIFT sale. Two good Roller cocks, 5/6 each, or 10/- for the two: Miss Ross, Hazel Cottages, Forres, N.B. (631)

ROLLER cocks, trained with Schoolmaster; exceptionally good birds, 25/-; Birds, 69, Palace-rd., Streatham Hill. (602)

RELIABLE, healthy, British-bred Rollers, cocks 4/6, 5/6, 7/6, hens 2/-, 3/-; bargain: Sutherland, Rambodde, Forres. (633)

NOTICE! Grand lot Rollers, prices reasonable; easy payments taken; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BEST quality Roller rape, 32/6 per cwt. (while present stock lasts); samples sent anywhere: Ives, 86, Legsby-ave., Grimsby. (566)

GENT'S bicycle, sell 30/-; exchange Roller Schoolmaster, or four 1916 Roller cocks: Beedleston, Primrose-terrace, Shrewsbury. (628)

ROLLERS, pure Randall's B.R.C.C.; good birds, cocks, 12/6, 15/-; hens 4/-; approval: W. Waters, 18, Church-st., Brighton. (628)

MR. INNES, Estate Factor, Largs, offers a number of his first-class Rollers, Randall's, Willow's, etc.; cocks, 15/-, 20/-, 30/-; hens, 5/- each. (632)

HIGH-CLASS Roller cock, 1915, bred noted strains, 15/-; also two hens, 1916, 3/6 each: William Leary, 47, Harrop-st., Abbey Hey, Gorton, Manchester. (630)

FOUR cocks left, Bird's strain, all good birds, B.R.C.C. rung, 10/6, 12/6; one not rung, but good bird, 10/-: Worrell, Church-st., Annfield Plain. (631)

BRITISH Rollers, pure Randall's cocks, 10/6; hens, 4/-; or will exchange for blankets, sheets, curtains, boots; B.R.C.C. rung: Morrison, 60, Woolman-rd., Blackpool. (625)

GLUCKE Rollers, bred from Cup winner, Dimmock's strain, 8/6, 10/6 each; 1 Schoolmaster, Green, 1915, 20/-: F. Hatton, Gladstone-rd., Wollaston, Stourbridge. (628)

BRITISH Rollers, Randall's and Reed's Glucke strain, 1916 rung; cocks full song, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each; better blood impossible to get; approval: Leigh, 57, Bold-st., Altrincham, Cheshire. (630)

FOUR new Roller show cages and 1st class travelling basket, to hold same; equal to new; originally cost £1; will accept 27/6 lot, or exchange Rollers to value: Krenmer, Tib-st., Manchester.

HC, 23 points, Champion class, Wigan, hc Bacup and Provincial B5 rung, £2 20 points, Wigan, 20 Bolton, £1 10s.; Schoolmaster £1; hens, B5, 7/6; Randall's strain: R. Bumby, Bridgewater Arms, Pendlebury. (628)

ROLLERS, two good Schoolmasters, clean through moult, B.R.C.C. rung, Tompson and Willer's direct, £1 each; also eight hens same strain, 5/- each; clean and healthy, none better; prompt delivery on receipt of cash: J. Bostock, No. 6, Puckley-avenue, Sydenham rd., Spark Brook, Birmingham. (629)

FREE cages, carriage paid; most beautiful and valuable songsters for sale, have never been bred from, and are in perfect condition; (1) variegated cock, 2nd prize Horticultural Hall, B.R.C.C., silver medal, etc., an exquisite singer, £2 10s.; (2) green cock, cup team winner Horticultural Hall, a glorious singer, £2; (3) beautiful green hen, from Randall's strain, 10/-; the above are offered at less than half value: Miss Jackson, Cowhill, Harrogate. (630)

ROLLERS! ROLLERS!! ROLLERS!!!

GRAND singing Roller cocks, over moult, pure notes, at 7/6, 8/6, 10/-, 15/-, and a few perfect Schoolmasters at 20/-; hens, same strain, 4/-, 5/- each: Jopson, Roller Canary Purveyor, Newton Heath, Manchester. (629)

"LIVE BIRD" LABELS

Always use them when sending birds away by rail.

24 3d, 50 6d, 100 1s.

POST FREE FROM "CAGE BIRDS," 154, FLEET STREET, LONDON.

Yorkshires.

BREEDERS' CARDS.

OGDEN BROS., Breeders, Exhibitors, and Exporters of the best the world has produced: Thornton, Bradford.

MESSRS. AMBLERS, the old Bradford firm, breeders of biggest champions and winners highest honours possible over 30 years, many championships Crystal Palace, including championship for best Yorkshire last Palace show; few of the best Yorkshires living for sale; exhibition or stock; finest quality and type in existence; pairs 15/- to 60/-; approval; satisfaction guaranteed: 8, Rawson-st., Harrogate.

LARGE Yorkshire cocks, singing, 4/-, 5/-, 7/6: Lloyd, Aviaries, Gorseinon, Glam. (579)

COLOUR fed Yorkshires from 5/-; stamp: Percy Lane, 1, Arboretum-rd., Worcester. (620)

YORKSHIRE cocks from 7/-; hens, 5/-; own breeding; approval: Barfe, Pateley Bridge. (617)

£5, BARGAIN; 10 grand Yorkshire cocks, singing: Sam Hughes, 71, Grosvenor-rd., Pimlico. (629)

BUFF cock, yellow hen, 1916, good type, 9/6, worth double: Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage-rd., Harborne. (632)

FEW pairs of good Yorkshires, best blood in England; approval; T. Billington, 30, Union-rd., Nottinghan.. (631)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, stock and show birds, all ten days' approval: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Dewsbury. (585)

CHAMPION young Yorkshires or Norwich, 15/- to 60/- a pair; approval with pleasure: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (629)

YORKSHIRES from winning strain, cocks from 8/6, hens 6/- upwards; pairs reasonable: A. Sutcliffe, 46, Hammond-st., Halifax.

1916 COCKS, buff and yellow marked, fit to win Novice classes, 15/-; few hens, on small side, 3/-: Andrews, 133, Gordon-rd., Peckham, S.E. (627)

FOR Sale.—I have about 40 Yorkshire Canaries, including show and stock birds; on approval: Apply H. Smith, 57, Netherfield-rd., Nelson, Lanc. (626)

NOTICE! Grand lot Yorkshires; many winners; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

A FEW smart Yorkshires, also Norwich, both sexes, for disposal, all colour-fed, from 10/6 pair; cocks from 7/6: Vaux, 35, Ladysmith-st., Stockport. (620)

PRIESTLEY'S Yorkshires from very best strain; cocks from 7/6, hens from 4/-; satisfaction guaranteed: 121, Gaythorne-rd., West Bowling, Bradford.

HIGH-CLASS Yorkshires for sale, all strong, healthy birds, in song; cocks 8/6, hens 4/-; no cards: Draper, 47, Palmerston-st., Battersea Park-rd. (620)

I HAVE few good Yorks. to spare, clears, marks, also greens, from winners; cocks, 8/6; hens, 5/-: Dunning, 50, Richardson-st., Seaton Hirst, Northumberland. (630)

CLEAR yellow, clear buff, 1915 bred, both winners, ready for show, 40/- each; unflighted, 15/- up; approval, deposit: Mr. Brotherton, 118, Doncaster-rd., Rotherham. (631)

UNFLIGHTED 7in. marked yellow Yorks. cock, 21/-; ditto clear buff, 20/-; extra type and quality, straight as rushes; approval, deposit: Drew, 27, Oxford-st., Manchester. (630)

COMPULSORY sale through removal, 50 Yorkshires including three buff winners, some grand pairs, also unflighted, fit for exhibition: Davis, 4, Churchrd., Bedminster, Bristol. (628)

EXHIBITION specimens, good shoulders, length with quality feather, reasonable, inspection appointment; stamp: Johnston (Sec. S.Y.C.C.), 123, Ferme Park-rd., Stroud Green, N. (627)

YORKSHIRES, same strain as winners; cocks, 10/-, 12/6, 15/- upwards; hens, 7/6 upwards; large stock cocks, 20/- to 30/-; approval, deposit: John Radley, 259, King-st., Skelmanthorpe, Huddersfield. (630)

SPLENDID clean, healthy Yorkshires cocks, lengthy birds, in full song, 7/6, 8/6, 10/6, and 12/6 each; hens 3/6 and 4/6 each; sent any distance: Cooper, Breeder and Exhibitor, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (631)

CHAMPION Yorkshires, show or stock birds for sale; bred from my winners; I have a few ready for benching that can win; state wants; approval, deposit: A. Radley, 48, Kinler Bank, Moldgreen, Huddersfield. (627)

YORKSHIRES: Giving up; Buff cock, winner, 25/-; 1916 Buff cock, 22/-; 1916 Buff Marked, 20/-; 1916 Yellow Marked, winner, 2nd only time out, 15/-; Buff hen, 6/-; 3 yellow hens, 4/- each; grand birds; approval: Williams, Church Island, Menai Bridge, Anglesea. (625)

GRAND yellow back, show condition, 20/-, with unrelated Buff hen, 30/- the pair; Ticked Yellowback, 15/-, with Buff hen, 20/-; grand fawn painted Yellow hen, 10/-; Cinnamon-marked hen, 7/6; very good Buff hen, 7/6; any above approval, deposit: Young, Mechanics' Institute, Alford, Lincolnshire.

CLAPHAM winners: 5 firsts, 2 firsts; 2 firsts, 1 c; classes averaged 17: few bred from or related to these at sensible prices; Yellow cocks 12/6, Buff hens 6/6; bred solely from H. Knight and R. L. Crisp strains; wasters not tolerated; approval, cash: F. C. Knight, 46, Spencer-rd., Dartmouth Park, London.

YORKSHIRE Canaries, 2/2, by H. W. Battye (Past President of the Yorkshire Union); absolutely the best handbook dealing with the Yorkshire and its sub-varieties. Contains complete instruction upon pairing, breeding, moulting, and successful exhibiting; also how to treat in both health and disease: CAGE BIRDS 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

TWO lovely unflighted buff Yorks. hens, grand length and position, feathered like silk, price 7/6 each; with grand yellow cock to match, over 7in. long and fit to win, price 16/6, or the three for 30/-; sure to breed winners; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford. (622)

J. HAYTER, Warren Avenue, Shirley, Southampton, can spare three high class buff Yorkshire cocks, bred from well known winners, make rare big stock birds, £1 each; two unflighted yellow cocks, 25/- and £2; extra large yellow cock, 1915, perfect stock bird, 50/-. These are genuine bargains, healthy, and will give satisfaction. (632)

TWO grand unflighted yellow Yorks. hens, grand length and position, A1, feathered like Javas, price 8/6 each; with grand buff stock cock to match, over 7in. long, and in song, will give satisfaction anywhere, price 15/-, or the three for 30/-; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor: Edwin North, Breeder, 443, Manchester-rd.; Bradford. (622)

CHAMPION YORKSHIRES

All colour-fed to perfection, and bred from winning stock. Some grand birds for sale in clears, ticks, green and cinamon marks, all guaranteed healthy and cocks in full song; cocks, standard length and over, at 10/-, 12/6, 15/-, 20/- each; hens to match at 5/-, 6/-, 7/6, 10/-, 12/6 each; matched pairs at 14/6, 15/6, 17/6, 20/- upwards; exhibition birds; please state requirements and I will quote you by return, and remember I give satisfaction to all; six days' approval, cash or deposit Editor; write direct to the breeder: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford.

WINNING YORKSHIRES

I have a few splendid Yorkshires now ready for sale, including some grand lengthy birds, clean moulted and ready for benching, at 20/-, 25/-, 30/-, 40/-, 50/- each upwards, cocks or hens. These birds are capable of winning their cost in prize money, and I am prepared to send on 7 days' approval anywhere. I have also some grand thick-set Norwich at same prices. If requiring birds of any kind please write stating wants.

JOE THOMAS,

AMBLER THORN, HALIFAX.

Established over 35 years at same address.

JOHN FRITH

I have some splendid Yorkshires now ready, either for stock or exhibition; no fancy prices; state wants and I will guarantee satisfaction; approval, deposit: 9, Munster-st., Wakefield-rd., Bradford. (620)

HUNDREDS IN STOCK

Grand singing lengthy Yorkshire cocks, over moult, mad on song, 8/-, 9/-, 10/-, 15/-; hens at 3/6, 4/6; clears, variegated, colour-fed or natural; give us a trial: Standard Aviaries, Newton Heath, Manchester. (632)

SPECIAL TO IRISH FANCIERS

Now that the show season is drawing near, those requiring high-class or exhibition Yorkshires, A. E. Winkup, Belfast, offers the following from his noted strain:—Yellow ticked cock, winner of gold medal, Belfast, and many other honours, 70/-; clear yellow cock, never shown, grand bird, 55/-; cinnamon-marked buff cock, 1st Dublin, 1st Newtownards, 2nd Kingstown, only times out, 50/-; ditto, son of above, 30/-; evenly cinnamon-marked buff hen, big winner, grand stock bird, 50/-; ditto, green markings, 40/-; three-pointed ditto, grand size and quality, ideal stock hen, 40/-; seventy others in clears and marked, condition ready for benching, state requirements; approval: 63, Rosemount Gardens.

Various Canaries.

YELLOW cock Canary 10/-, Cinnamon cock 10/6, hens 3/6: Close, 48, Rutland-gardens, Hove. (626)

MUST sell six cock Canaries, 6/- each, four hens 5/- each: Rendall, 11, South-st., Crewkerne. (632)

YORKS. cocks on song from 7/6; seen any time: Goldie, 19, Manse-rd., Stoke Newington, London, N.

BARGAIN. Grand lot cock Canaries, 5/- each; approval: McKeand, Hamilton-pl., Castle Douglas.

TWENTY large Norwich and Yorkshires, colour-fed, 10/6 to £1 per pair; must clear; stamp: Mitchell, Hosler, Tuxford, Notts. (629)

CANARIES, 6 Norwich cocks, 8 Yorks. cocks, 7/6 each, approval; hens, 2/6 each: A. Smith, 7, New Bond, Bordesley, Birmingham. (621)

PURE bred Yorkshire and Norwich Canaries, cocks, in full song, 10/6 and 12/6 each, hens 3/6 and 4/6 each: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (633)

THREE cock Canaries, 1916, grand colour, crossed Yorkshire, 7/6 each; mako grand songsters: Mrs. Nock, Longdon Rectory, Wellington, Salop. (626)

ROLLER cock, 7/6; Yorkshire Roller, 6s. 6d.; two Yorkshire hens, 4/- each; Norwich hen, 3/-; all young birds: 2, Delamere-cres., Paddington. (631)

FEW splendid Rollers, first-rate songsters, 7/6, 10/6, and 15/-; also a few extra good Norwich cocks, 10/6, 15/-, £1, and 25/-; hens from 5/-: Franks, Regent-st., Leamington. (631)

MULES—HYBRIDS.

THREE Goldfinch Mules, as bred, 10/- the three: J. Goodchild, Clare, Suffolk. (633)

LOVELY 1916 Linnet Mule cock, pure Linnet note, 7/6: E. Humble, Kirbymoorside. (633)

1916 COCK and hen Goldfinch-Greenfinch hybrids, 25/-: F. Mascall, Stansted, Essex. (629)

HANDSOME 1916 Goldfinch Mule, cock, guaranteed, sweet singer, 7/6: Beedleston, Primrose-terrace, Shrewsbury. (628)

EXHIBITION cock Goldfinch Mule, ready for show, win anywhere, forced sale, £3: B. W. James, 7, Redcliffe-rd., Nottingham. (630)

GRAND muling cock Goldfinch and yellow Norwich Sib. hen, parents of many good Mules, 15/- the pair: Taylor, Causeway, Bideford. (630)

TWO hen Canaries, bred Linnet Mules, two Mules from above, 10/6 lot; selected cock Linnet, 2/6; bargain: Gibbons, 95, Peel-terrace, Stafford. (629)

LARGE typical hens, specially selected for light or dark mule breeding, 5/-, 7/6, 10/- each; approval: Walsh, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. (633)

GRAND 1915 cock Linnet-Bullfinch Hybrid, first P.O. £2 gets him; too cheap for approval: James Wilson, Sutton-st., Norton Malton, Yorkshire. (629)

GENUINE Sibs., bred light mules, three, four, and six pointed, cheap; hens, bred good variegated 10/- each, cocks 10/- each: Rowley Elston, Crediton.

WANTED 5,000 hens, Goldfinch Mules, Goldfinches, and hen Canaries, small or large quantities; state lowest price: Blackett, 4a, Rushton-st., New North-rd., London. (570)

FOREIGN BIRDS.

ROSE Cockatoo, 30/-; Rock Parrot, £2; tame and healthy: Torpy, Naturalist, Bradford. (618)

FOUR healthy Budgerigars, 10/6; in outdoor aviary: Halls, Claremont, Cornard, Sudbury, Suffolk. (625)

YELLOW Budgerigars, adult, strong birds; outdoors, 7/- pair: Mrs. Castle Gant, Hellingly. (626)

WANTED, quails, hens, 5/-, landrails, hen Golden Pheasants, 1916: Miller, Southwick Rectory, Sussex.

FOR sale, two 1916 aviary-bred Cockatiels, in splendid condition, 7/- each, or offers: E. Murdoch, Burnside, Portsoy. (629)

TALKING Parrot, with sound metal cage, 20/-; bird and cage, make ideal pet companion: Mrs. F. Carny, 286, Dudley Port. (632)

THREE pairs choice green adult Budgerigars, also two odd hens, 24/- lot, or best offer: Boulton, 52, Derby-road, Portsmouth. (627)

TWO hen Budgerigars, pair Java Sparrows, cock Cutthroat, 11/6, or nearest offer; all outdoor aviary: Pratt, Coleshill, Warwickshire. (629)

AFRICAN Grey Parrot, genuine talker, adult, acclimatised, £10; seen: Mrs. Moore, 11, Lupus-st., Pimlico. Telephone, Victoria 7810. (632)

GRENADIER Bishop, full colour, acclimatised, 15/- offers: Timpany, Thingwall-rd., Wavertree, Liverpool.

BEAUTIFUL Parrot, very rare, talk, whistle, and dance, grey and pink, bargain, £4, or exchange: Grove Farm, High-rd., Chadwell Heath. (637)

ZEBRA Finches, this year's, aviary bred, 12/- pair: Mrs. Gibbons, Boddington Manor, Cheltenham. Hen Diamond Finch, hen Cordon Bleu wanted. (619)

NOTICE! Grand lot Green and Yellow Budgerigars; prices reasonable; easy payments arranged; approval: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

NOTICE! Grand Amazon Parrot, talker, perch on finger; price reasonable; easy payment arranged: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

BUDGERIGARS, outdoors, finest possible, 6/6 pair; Yellows, 7/6; husk nests 6d.: Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. Zebra Finches 12/6 pair. (628)

CHARMING pair yellow Budgerigars, very tame, perch on hand, loveliest plumage, ideal present, fit to show, 15/-: Hampton, 10, High-st., West Bromwich. (629)

FINE pair Senegal Parrots, have nested, £5; perfect B.-H. hen Gouldian, 42/-; cock Madagascar Weaver, 10/-: Rev. Raynor, Hazeleigh Rectory, Maldon. (632)

REDRUMPS, Parrakeets, two first-class pairs at 70/- pair; believe pair peach-faced Lovebirds, 50/-; one hen, Black-Checked, 25/-: Goodwin, 185, Old Kent-rd. (632)

CALIFORNIAN Quails, this year's aviary bred, two cocks, one hen, healthy birds, 35/- the lot: C. G. Petterson, 8, Springfield Place, Sheriff Hill, Gateshead-on-Tyne. (633)

FROM outdoor aviary; three hen Zebra Finches, also one pair ditto with two young on seed, seven birds in all; the lot 50/-, or nearest offer: H. N. Dean, 2, Chipstone-avenue, Mansfield, Notts. (618)

ZEBRA Finches, three cocks, in splendid condition, 6/- each, 15/- lot; Green Budgerigars, large birds, 6/- a pair; all bred outdoors: Strickland, Daisy Cottage, Hough Green, Widnes. (629)

FOR sale, seven adult and four young green aviary-bred Budgerigars, 28/-; or exchange; wanted, hen Red-naped Lorikeet, cock Plumhead, and hen Quaker Parrakeet: Bowerman, 12, Wellington-st., Swindon, Wilts. (629)

YOUNG plain Parrot, good talker, with cage, only 20/-; other young ones in good health and feather, 12/6 each; Quills cocks, 3s. each; Golden Pheasants, lovely birds, 40/- pair, only three pairs; will exchange any for other livestock: Day, 77, Porter-st., Hull. (631)

AFRICAN Grey talking Parrot, exceptionally handsome clever pet, thoroughly acclimatised, two years in England, every feather perfect, and wonderfully tame, will answer when spoken to; price reasonable for "one of the best"; shown willingly: Address, "Parrot," Walsgrave Lodge, near Coventry. (634)

ROSELLA Parrakeets, magnificent importation; adult, full colour and plumage, 30/- each, 4 for £5, 10 for £10; cage-moulted birds for immediate show, 40/- each; Pennant's Parrakeet, 50/-; Swainson's Lorikeets, nesting, £6 pair; Leadbeater's Cockatoo, £4 4s.; Timneh Parrot, £5 10/-: John Frostick, 203, High-rd., Streatham Common, S.W.

WAXBILLS (Golden-breasted, Orange-cheeked, Grey, and St. Helena). Than this interesting quartette, which can be purchased at from 5/6 to 7/6 a pair, there are few more charming foreigners. They can be successfully kept, too, with little difficulty if you will follow the hints given by Wesley T. Page, F.Z.S., in "Nutshell No. 20," 2½d. post free from CAGE BIRDS, 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C. Call at any of our agents and get it for 2d. (list frequently published).

AUSTRALIAN Cherry Finches, 25/- pair; Grass Finches, 25/- pair; Zebra Finches, 14/- pair; hens, 8/-; Baya Weavers, 7/6; Masked Weavers, 8/6 pair; Green Budgerigars, 8/6 pair; hens, 4/8; Yellows, 10/6 pair; hens, 5/6; Silkey Cowbirds, 7/6, Bay Cowbirds, 6/6; Ruddy Cowbirds, 10/6; Brazilian White-throated Sparrows, 6/6; Cardinals, 7/6; Saffron Finches, young, 4/- each; Golden-breasted Conures, 12/6; Golden-crowned, 15/-; Jendai Conures, 18/6; all green, 13/6; Ringnecks, 15/- each; Rocks, cocks 20/-, hens 25/-; Rose Cockatoos, 30/- each; Lemon Crests, 25/-; Illiger's Macaws, 30/- each; Golden-naped Amazons, 50/- each; Primrose-cheeked, 35/- each; Bluefronts, from 32/6 to 65/-; Nandy Conure, 30/-; Moustache Parrakeets, 15/-; Quakers, 12/6; Silver Pheasant, 17/6; Blue-winged Lovebirds, 20/- pair; Marmozet Monkeys, 45/- each; etc., etc.: G. B. Chapman, High-st., Birmingham.

DE VON & CO.

114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. Zebra Finches, 12/6 pair; Californian Quail, 18/-; Parrakeets, various, 20/- each; Avadavats, 10/- pair; Silverbills, 10/-; Nuns, 8/-; Weavers, 8/-; price list. (629)

All been Household Pets

This I guarantee, and it is most important to intending purchasers, for it, amongst other things ensures their being acclimatised.

ALL CONTEMPLATING THE PURCHASE OF A PARROT

should send for my pamphlet, "The Parrot Trick Exposed." It is sent free. I have talking Greys and Amazons; can be seen.

RUDD, SPECIALIST, NORWICH.

TALKING PARROTS

all descriptions, cheapest and best in kingdom, on month's trial system at my risk, which I originated, and means if it should die during trial I replace it free of charge. Talking warranty given that if Parrots do not talk to your satisfaction within 12 months I exchange them. No other dealer will do this, although some advertise similar terms and don't carry them out; so be careful. Write at once for my price list and free large book, "Parrot Prattle." Contains hundreds of testimonials (more than any other dealer), full names and addresses, proving all best Parrots come from these aviaries. Press opinions and many interesting facts; sent post free. Telegraphic address: "Aviaries, Morecambe." Telephone No. 40 Morecambe. (340)

Parrot Aviaries, Morecambe

VARIOUS BIRDS.

WHAT offers, two clean moulted Goldfinch Mules (1916), singing; also hen Canary; also two clean moulted Chaffinches; no livestock wanted: Hutson, 4, Townend, Whittle, Essex. (627)

SIX pairs 1916 Norwich Canaries, buffs, yellows, or variegated, as required, cocks commenced singing, 8/- pair; also four-compartment cage with four cock Linnets, used to catching, 6/- lot: Finch, 21, Milton-rd., Old Fletton, Peterboro'. (629)

ROLLER-NORWICH cross cocks, grand songsters, 7/6: Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage-rd., Harborne. (632)

SELECTED giant cock Brown Linnets, 1/6 each, three 4/; cock Skylarks, 1/6 each, three 4/-; Greenfinches 1/6 per pair; cock Blackbirds, 2/6; mixed Britishers for aviaries, 6/- per dozen: Princess Aviaries, Princess-st., Manchester (631)

AVIARY pets, a pair of charming Bluetits, 3/6; a pair of Coaltits, 5/- pair; 1 magnificent, one 5/-; 1 pair of Greatertits, 4/6 pair; Marshtit, 4/-; cock Bullfinch, 4/6; hen Bullfinch, 2/6; wanted, hen Siskin: Mrs. Kemp, 34, Tovey-place, Kentish Town, N.W.

WANTED.

WANTED, Lizard Canaries: Hallett, 53, Church-st., Lyme Regis. (626)

WANTED, Canaries, Mules or Goldfinches for cash: Lea, 55, Waterloo Square, Camberwell. (632)

WANTED Canaries all kinds: Leitch, East End Bird Mart, 520, Gallowgate, Glasgow (586)

WANTED Birds, mice, rats, rabbits, anything alive: B. Onions, 66, Rushall-st., Walsall. (606)

WANTED Canaries, best prices given; send full particulars: Bairstows, Ormskirk-rd., Preston.

WANTED, Canaries; exchange Scotch blankets, sell 30/-: Drummond, 15, Hutcheson-st., Glasgow.

ROLLER cocks and hens; state quantity and price to: Standard Aviaries, Newton Heath, Manchester.

WANTED, big, healthy Norwich, give 10/-, 12/-, 14/- the pair for good birds; Scott, 110, Roebank-st., Glasgow. (633)

MAN with name. Wanted, Canaries or Mules, any variety; state price: Curley, 7, Woodchester-st., Paddington. (614)

WANTED, a hen White Java Sparrow and a hen Ribbonfinch: Mrs. Burgess, Belsize House, West Worthing.

WANTED one or two British show cages and cases cheap, good condition: Thorpe, High-st., Measham, Atherstone. (629)

WANTED all kinds Canaries and British for cash; state prices to: W. S. Dinwoodie, jun., 13, Tureen-st. East, Glasgow. (574)

WANTED for cash, all kinds British birds and Canaries, also Yorkshire show cages: Jinks, 2, Bramall-lane, Sheffield. (612)

WANTED all kinds of Canaries, Mules, British, any quantity, best price paid: E. Cheshire, 34, Crawford-st., Bradford. (610)

WANTED for export, all classes of Canaries and Mules; best price paid: W. Powick, Eastfield Cottage, Mill-rd., Dewsbury. (610)

WANTED, any quantity of Canaries and British birds; best prices paid; spot cash: Barnes, Aviaries, Merthyr Tydfil. (627)

WANTED, a reliable catcher to supply Finches and other British, weekly; top prices, no cheating: Broxup, 27, Stock-st., Burnley. (632)

WANTED, Rollers or other singing cock Canaries, cold-room kept; reasonable prices given; cash: Davies, 48, Frederick-st., Cardiff. (617)

WANTED Glucke or Seifert, in full song; price reasonable; on approval, deposit: Fred. Smith, 6, Dwrt Coch, Aberbargoed, via Cardiff. (629)

WANTED 500 Canaries, all varieties, large or small lots taken; cash sent first; no risk: McKeand, Seabright, Castle Douglas.

WANTED, Yorkshire or Norwich Canaries; exchange gent's pure wool black trousers, new, cost 27/6; 40in. waist: 36, West-st., Yeovil. (628)

100 of Norwich, also Yorkshires wanted weekly, remember, top prices paid and cash deposited: Reynolds, Newham, Sithney, Helston, Cornwall. (631)

WANTED, all kinds of Canaries and British birds, and Mules, for cash; state lowest prices to: W. Jack, Cagemaker, 6, Stirling-st. (City), Glasgow.

WANTED, good large colour-fed Norwich, for cash, good prices paid, will deposit cash; please offer to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd., Bradford (604)

WANTED, few Roller, Norwich or Yorkshires, exchange most up-to-date, new, double breeding cages: Dey, 5, Carleton Terrace, Halton-rd., Islington, London, N. (631)

WANTED, from catcher, no dealer, cock Goldies for shows; good price given for good birds; approval; deposit: P. Malton, 4, McNeil-place, Dumbarton, Scotland. (629)

CANARIES, British birds and cages wanted, for cash; top-hole prices paid; send right along, or write: Broadwood, 355, London-rd., Sheffield. Established 1900. (626)

WANTED Norwich or Yorkshire hen Canarics, give 2/6 each, common 2/-; hen Goldfinch Mules, 1/6; buy any kind of birds, cocks or hens: W. Perkins, 207, East-st., Walworth, London. (629)

WILL buy for cash any quantity Goldfinch Mules, Linnet Mules; cocks, 5/-; hens, 1/3; wanted, Norwich or Yorkshire hen Canaries, 2/- each; common hens, 1/3: Helvar, 55, Patmos-rd., North Brixton. (628)

WANTED reliable catchers for Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, etc.; also hen Canaries, Mules; best prices paid; write for price list; bankers, Lloyds, Ltd.: C. Ames, 163, Bromsgrove-st., Birmingham.

WANTED, any quantity hen Canaries and hen Mules, 1/6 each; cock Canaries and cock Mules; write, stating prices, honest dealings only; stamp reply: Mr. Hobbs, 141, King's-rd., Camden Town.

WANTED, any quantity of British Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, Redpolls, Siskins, Larks, or any saleable birds, from catchers weekly, state prices to: Edwin North, 443, Manchester-rd, Bradford.

WANTED, the following: cock Pheasants, etc., must be tame and feed from hand; Golden, Amhurst, Reeves, Hybrid Amhurst, Golden, or any other variety; Californian Quail, French Partridge, also very tame American Blue Jays, Piping Crow, Cornish Chough, and Hooded Crow: Guy Falkner, The Cottage, Belton, Uppingham. (630)

WANTED, CANARIES

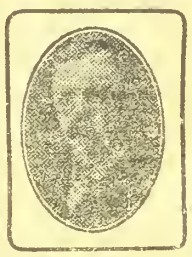
Colour-fed Norwich and Yorkshire Canaries, Goldfinch and Linnet Mules, Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Linnets, etc; best prices given; cash by return: Sandiford, Bird Specialist, Preston. (628)

WANTED

500 large Norwich and Yorkshire colour-fed Canaries; will give 12/- pair for good type birds; cash or deposit: Enoch Power, 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London, E. (632)

WANTED

WANTED, CANARIES ALL BREEDS, British and Foreign Birds, Mules and Hybrids. Good prices paid. Send particulars of what you have, and price, to—WALSH, Bird Specialist, Blackburn. Tel. 5297.



CANARIES WANTED

Young or old Norwich or Yorkshire hens, 24/- doz.; hen Goldfinches, Mules, 15/- dozen; hen Goldfinches, 6/- dozen; cock Goldfinches, 18/- dozen; cash or deposit with Editor: W. Rutherford, Bird Importer, Leytonstone, London, E. (575)

WANTED WANTED WANTED

Any quantity of Goldfinch or Linnet Mules; will give the following prices: Cock Goldfinch or Linnet Mules, 5/-; hen ditto, 1/6; cash sent on in receipt of birds; prompt payment: Albert Brown, 69, Sclater-st., Bethnal Green. (620)

WANTED

ALL VARIETIES OF

CANARIES

AND

BRITISH BIRDS.

Highest prices paid, and will deposit cash with Editor. Remember, 40 years same address. The largest breeder, exhibitor, exporter, and dealer in England.

JOE THOMAS,

AMBLER THORN, HALIFAX.

WANTED WANTED WANTED

Norwich and Yorkshire hen Canaries; will give the following price, 30/- a dozen, large or small quantity. Please note the address: Albert Brown, 69, Sclater-st., Bethnal Green. P.S.—Cash sent on receipt of birds; prompt payment. (620)

WANTED WANTED WANTED

Any quantity of Goldfinches, Bullfinches, Siskins. Will give the following prices for above birds: Goldfinches, 2/- a pair; Bullfinches, 2/- a pair: Siskins, 2/6 a pair. Please note the address: Albert Brown, 69, Sclater-st., Bethnal Green. P.S.—Cash sent on receipt of birds: prompt payment. (620)

CANARIES WANTED.

Will give HIGHEST PRICES for

YORKSHIRES, NORWICH, BORDERS, CRESTS, MULES, Etc., Etc, and

WILL DEPOSIT CASH WITH EDITOR.

For many years I have bought large quantities of Canaries for export, and wishing to maintain my connection, I am now open to purchase large or small lots of any variety. Send price and full particulars. Remember, top prices paid and cash deposited.

H. GLEDHILL,

Fleet Lane, Queensbury, Bradford

CANARIES.

Wanted to Purchase!

Wanted to Purchase!!

Wanted to Purchase!!

NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
NORWICH AND YORKSHIRE CANARIES.
5, 10, 50, 100, or 1,000 pairs.

More than 20,000 (twenty thousand) Canaries passed through my hands last season. I purchased more Canaries from Norwich and Yorkshire breeders than the rest of the trade together. Everyone was paid cash. Enquire of any recognised Norwich or Yorkshire dealers or breeders.

JOHN HAMLYN, 221, St. George's Street, London E.

BRITISH CANARIES.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

I wish to thank the Canary Breeders of Great Britain for their magnificent response to my advertisement "Wanted to Purchase." It will interest the Canary World to know that a record arrival has been made during the last week—7th October to 14th October. Over 1,100—one thousand one hundred—Canaries were received during seven days, and paid for same day as arrival.

Ask any Canary dealer if any deductions were made, or if any delay in payments. To have paid out £400 in one week, and given satisfaction to every sender is a fact to be recorded, and congratulated on.

The Canary branch of this business is conducted solely by my wife. I assure every sender they will receive fair and prompt attention at Mrs. Hamlyn's hands.

JOHN D. HAMLYN,

221, ST. GEORGE'S STREET, LONDON, EAST.

IMPORTANT.

To Breeders Wishing to Dispose of their Stock of CANARIES for SPOT CASH

we are prepared to offer the very Highest Prices for any quantity of 1916 Canaries, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, BORDERS, ROLLERS, and CRESTS. We are also open to purchase 1915 MALE CANARIES. Do not dispose of your Canaries until you have offered us your stock, as we are buyers of Large or Small Quantities and SPOT CASH. Further, we are buyers all the year round.

G. B. CHAPMAN,

96, High Street, Birmingham.

'Phone, Central 689. Telegrams, Parrakeet.

WANTED

all Breeders, Exhibitors, Secretaries, and Dealers to know that we have commenced purchasing all kinds of

CANARIES

for our extensive export orders, including NORWICH, YORKSHIRES, CRESTS, BORDERS, SCOTCH FANCY, MULES, etc., of all kinds.

Thanking all Secretaries, Breeders, Exhibitors, and Dealers for their assistance in helping us to maintain a good OLD ENGLISH INDUSTRY in past years, as BIRD JUDGES we are still prepared to give the highest value obtainable for birds, knowing their full value. Large or small quantities bought.

J. HOWARD & SONS,

Breeders, Exhibitors and Judges.

1, Sclater Street, and 28, Bethnal Green Road, London, and at 77, Pitt Street, Norwich

Estab. 54 Years.

For past 40 years the largest and most successful Exhibitors and Buyers in the United Kingdom. WINNERS OF over 5,000 PRIZES, CUPS and MEDALS in OPEN CHAMPION CLASSES. HONEST DEALINGS ONLY.

Bankers: London County and Westminster (Shoreditch Branch, London), and Barclay & Co., Norwich.

WANTED

All kinds of British birds; will give best prices obtainable: Enoch Power, 89, Sclater-st., Shoreditch, London, E. (632)

SALE or EXCHANGE.

Mainly Canaries.

FIRST-CLASS Norwich; exchange for Rollers: Heathcock, 6, Ramsey-rd., Saltley, Birmingham. (628)

TWO pairs Norwich Canaries, 30/-; exchange 1916 pullets, or pigeons: Jas. Simpson, 34, Park-avenue, Cowdenbeath. (632)

EXCHANGE Gluck Rollers for gramophone and records, or Budgerigars: E. Tranter, 21, New-st., Longton, Staffs. (632)

WANTED offers in Canaries for six purebred 1915 pullets, everlasting layers: McKeand, 15, Queen-st., Castle Douglas.

EXCHANGE buff Norwich cock, crossbred hen, for good Roller cock, or sell 12/6; yours first: Bridge, 5, Hughes-st., Burnley. (630)

HENS, 1916, Yorkshires, two Cinnamon, 6/- three, 6/-, cocks 6/- each; offers Norwich; yours first: Speed, Cupar, Fife. (631)

FOR sale or exchange, nine cocks and six hen Canaries: Apply E. Ely, 76, Edward Burdis-st., Southwick, Sunderland. (632)

EXCHANGE two buff Yorkshire hens for good cock; yours first; offers: Russell, 4, Malvern-buildings, Fairfield Park, Bath. (627)

CINNAMON marked buff hen, ticked yellow hen, tip-top specimens, 6/6 each; exchange: Jas. Robinson, Broad-st., Windermere. (631)

SMART young Yorksbires, Mr. Crisp's strain, cocks, from 10/-; wanted, cock Goldfinches: Pace, 111, Haggerstone, Dalston, London. (627)

EXCHANGE two buff Yorkshire hens, 1915, Goldie Mule, sex unknown, for good Yorkshire cock: Hughes, 5, New-rd., East Hamlet, Ludlow. (631)

CLEAR buff Norwich hen, big head and shoulders, 4/-; three Roller hens, 3/6 each; Cockatiel, 3/6, or exchange breeding cages to value: H. Allen, 3, Lightfoot-ave., Glasshoughton, Castleford. (631)

PAIR Norwich, pair Yorkshires, large green Norwich hens, yellow Norwich hen, young mule of same, large yellow Yorkshire cock, exchange duleimer, or separate, for Goldfinches or Linnets: Taylor, 8, George-st., Burnbank, Hamilton. (631)

THREE Crestbred cocks, 1915, three Crestbred cocks, 1916, all closed ring-rung, two Crested hens, two Crestbred hens, two Norwich hens, one clear buff, one ticked yellow, two feeding hens; offers for lot cash: Walker, Lambert-terrace, Aberdare. (631)

SEVERAL Joyce Barnett Crest and Crestbred Canaries, also Yorkshire; division cages, flight cages, also single cages, bargains, to clear; nest pair, drinkers, husks, etc., sell cheap, or exchange; letters only: Ellis, 42, Eastover, Bridgwater. (627)

EXCHANGE monster clear body dark crested hen, 1915 bred, real Palace winner, also winner two 1sts and special only time shown; feathers over end of beak, for good lady's cycle, or sell £3 10s.: Apply Abel, The Grove, Lecton, near Swaffham. (627)

EXCHANGE fine 1916 variegated Norwich bred hens, two 1915, for large typical 1916 Yellow Norwich Plainhead hen, or for 1916 yellow Yorkshire cock; sell 14/-: cross greyhound sheepdog, brindle, 4 months; no fault; fast; exchange anything useful, sell 10/- yours first: Curtis, Frogmore, Blackwater, Hants. (626)

Mainly British.

GOOD buff Greenfinch-Redpoll, Yellow Bunting, 4/-; offers: Conie, Newtown, Raunds, Wellingboro.

GRAND storming singing cock brown Linnet, 1/6; with cage, 2/6: 346, Oldham-rd., Newton Heath, Manchester. (632)

THREE January caught hen Greenfinches, cock Chaffinches, cock Linnet, Canary wanted, or offers: Rhodes 273, Stretford-rd., Manchester. (631)

TWICE cage-moulted cock Linnet, 6/-; large cage-moulted Chaffinch, 6/-; exchange hen Cockatiel: Harris, 5, Stanley-rd., South Woodford. (630)

TWO hand-reared cock Bullfinches 5/- each, three ditto hens 3/- each, two house-moulted cock Chaffinches, 3/- each, all in perfect plumage, exchange hares: 14 York-sq., Richmond, Yorks. (630)

Mainly Foreign.

GREY Parrot, good talker and whistler, finger tame, bargain, 30/- with cage: Seedsman, 163, Princess-st, Manchester. (631)

SELL genuine South African grey Parrot, in large square cage, first-class talker, whistler, and mimic; seen, heard, any time; best offer, or exchange anything useful; no rubbish: James Young, Glenmavis, near Airdrie, Lanarkshire. (625)

Miscellaneous.

TWELVE good D.S. records, sell 9/-: Rushton, 28, Oldyard, Snedshill, Wellington, Salop. (629)

GUNS, nets, traps, lowest prices, 100 page catalogue 3d.: Clyde, 187, Hill-st., Glasgow. (633)

HAND-REARED cock Bullfinch; exchange bicycle saddle: Moss, 141, Thorpe-rd., Melton Mowbray.

ROLLER cock, three hens, Edison Gem phonograph, 60 records; offers: 143, Bath-rd., Bristol.

CLAP nets complete, 5 call birds, 5 cages, carrying bag, lot 12/6; exchange tipplers: Worsley, 11, Hope-st., Bradford. (628)

EXCHANGE brass cornet with case, for good Roller cock and two hens: Bishop, 13, Minshall-st., Fenton, Stoke-on-Trent. (634)

WHAT offers in Roller Canaries for Great Dane dog, grand pedigree, 2 years, Brindle, value £5: Thomson, Croft-pl., Larkhall. (632)

BLUE spaniel bitch, 18 months old, retrieves; exchange Norwich Canaries, or sell £2: McCulloch, 20, Irish-st., Dumfries. (629)

WANTED, Norwich or Crests, exchange pure White eat, Belgian doe: Sowerby, 70, Leighton-rd., Kentish Town, London, N.W. (633)

EXCHANGE 8½ lbs. thistle seed for double-barrel, breech-loader gun (sample sent); gun first: Russell, 81, Backbrae, Kilsyth, N.B. (633)

TWO pairs Norwich, £1 pair; Greenfinch Mule, 10/6; 3 house moulted cock Bullies, 10/6 each: Hart, Tan Yard, Measham, Atherstone. (632)

EXCHANGE chocolate Pom. bitch for Parrot cage or Canaries, with pedigree, to value 30/-: A. Skeet, 37, West-st., Osney, Oxford. (627)

SELL or exchange two Norwich hens, variegated buff, also four pure bred White Leghorn cockerels; offers: 21, Sebert-rd., Forest Gate. (631)

ALARUM clock, 10/6; repeat, also long alarum, short alarum; made by The Allisonia Clock Co.: Thos. Walker, 271, Bilsland-drive, Glasgow. (632)

MANDOLIN (with case), first-class instrument, cost 50/-; exchange, offers: Write: Write 493, Harewood-st., Bradford Moor, Yorkshire. (623)

THREE pairs of prize-bred Archangel pigeons, 10/6; exchange cage birds, cavies, or gramophone records: Pitt, Market-place, Uxbridge. (627)

COCKATOO cage 30/- marine glasses with compass 30/-, field glasses 17/6; approval; offers Canaries, anything: Cawthorne, Box-lane, Pontefract. (629)

EXCHANGE a very good wire-haired Fox-terrier, extra good ratter and rabbiter, for British birds; approval willingly: Painter, Newbald, Brough. (629)

EXCHANGE four hen Goldfinches, live hen Rollers, 1915, for a good cock Roller, 1916; yours first: J. Lloyd, Hillthorpe Villas, Highley, nr. Bridgnorth.

LINNET mule cock, Goldie mule, late bred, believed to be cock 8/6 the two; offers Roller cock or anything: F. Chadwick, Tool Dealer, Wrexham.

SALE, pair Brown Owls, also pair Norwich Canaries, show birds; or exchange for junior girl's cycle, or pay part cash: Bownes, Richard's Castle, Ludlow.

WHAT offers in Norwich for dolls' art cane mail-cart, cost 27/6; sell 20/-; exchange to value, doll, well dressed, included: Epps, 64, Gordon-rd., Herne Bay. (627)

EXCHANGE gent's bicycle frame for pair of Yorkshire or Norwich; also gent's bicycle in good order, 35/-: C. Oakly, c/o G. Savage, Lion's Walk, Worcester.

SALE or exchange, four hen Canaries, two British, two cock Chaffinches and Greenie, aviary moulted, two show cages: 66, Nelson-rd., St. John's, Worcester. (630)

NEW Lark nets for sale, 14ft. deep, 22yds. long, hand made, £1, worth 30/-, exchange anything worth the value: Pierce, 81, Albert-rd., Luton, Beds. (630)

CHAMPION whippet dog, Cannon, 28 months, 17½ high, extra fast, champion rabbiter, courser, 50/-, or exchange good Norwich hens; particulars: Watkins, 98, Ynysuin-rd., Treherbert. (630)

HEAVY silver English lever, handsome variegated dial, good timekeeper, sell 50/-, exchange massive Norwich or African Grey Parrot and cash: Porter, 8, Devonshire-st., Worksop, Notts. (633)

WOULD exchange over 100 "Hobbies" designs, value 32/-, for folding plate hand camera and a little cash given: Hepburn, Viewfield Lodge, Lumphinnans, Cowdenbeath, Fifeshire. (626)

EXCHANGE, piece Royal George cable, 50 years under water at Spithead, 11in. long, 26in. wide, for good Roller cock, singing, and muling Goldfinch: Clue, 140, Hyde Park-rd., Southsea. (619)

VALUABLE collection magnificent mounted heads, horns, also stuffed cases, from 5/6; everything at ½ cost prices; approval before payment; list sent: W., 104, George-st., Portman-square, W. (628)

GENT'S bike, practically new, good condition, Bowden brake, free wheel, good running order, £3 15/-, exchange Talking Parrot, Roller cocks, or offers: F. Chadwick, Tool Dealers, Wrexham. (630)

NOTICE: We want British birds, catchers' supplies; also Canaries, poultry, rabbits, anything for cash; or exchange cutlery, plate, illuminated watches, boots, etc.: Write Smith Bros., 49, Pear-st., Sheffield. (626)

OFFERS; grand pen O.E.G. Bantams; 4 1915 Wheaten hens and Black-red cock, grand condition, £1; Edison Gem Phonograph, perfect order, 18/6; 2 Norwich hens 6/-; exchange anything: Tylke, Nantymoel, Glam. (631)

NEW Edison Gem machine and 36 records; also Edison Home machine, and 26 records in good order, £1 each; or will take British birds to the value (cocks), any kind; approval both ways: F. Trott, 124, Summer-lane, Birmingham. (628)

THREE flight cages, 5ft. long each, nine compartments; also Norwich hen and four young, as bred; Goldie cock and hen, proved mulers; best offer lot, or exchange anything useful: J. Robertson, 61, Marischal-st., Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, Scotland. (623)

WANTED, offers in Canaries, Rollers, Border Fancy, Norwich, or any other breed or foreign birds in exchange for one orange Pomeranian brood bitch, also 1 orange sable bitch, and 1 sable dog, the best of pedigree: Wm. Illingworth, South House, Gomersal, Nr. Leeds. (631)

WHAT offers in prize bred Norwich, mules, buff or yellow Yorkshire hens, cages, for Edison's Standard Phonograph and 100 records, large coronation horn, cost £3 3/-, brass telescope support for same, and slate slab, prevent vibration, whole cost £14; no rubbish: Breeder, Brunswick House, Holyhead-rd., Upper Bangor, N.W. (631)

BARGAIN, excellent Biunial lantern with dissolvers, four different lenses, incandescent gas fittings, in carrying case, cost £15; also 159 coloured slides of London, Ireland, Norway, Holyland, etc., and 80 slipping comic slides, accept £7 lot or part exchange muling Goldfinch and light muling hens: Martin, 25, Russell-rd., Ansdell, Lytham.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN

WE exchange household goods, clothing, or anything required for birds, dogs, poultry, Parrots, monkeys, etc.: Jopson's Exchange Stores, Newton Heath, Manchester (632)

SITUATIONS.

COUNTRY agents wanted for Trower's bird seeds and foods, good commission: Trower, 442, Caledonian-rd., London.

Aquarium.

MINNOWS 8d dozen, Gudgeon 1/6 each, roach 3d., plants 6d. bundle, lilies 3d. root, snails 3d. dozen: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London.

Mice.

DORMICE 2/6 pair, coloured mice wanted: De Von and Co., 114, Bethnal Green-rd., London. (629)

PAIR tame Japanese mice and cage, 1/-; pair dormice and cage 3/-; Miss Rosey, Rosemary House, Eastbourne. (628)

Household Furniture, Utensils, etc.

LADIES
BLANCHARD'S PILLS

Are unrivalled for all Irregularities, &c., they speedily afford relief and never fail to alleviate all suffering. They supersede Pennyroyal, Pil Cochia, Bitter Apple, &c. "BLANCHARD'S are the Best of all Pills for Women." Sold in boxes, 1/1½, by BOOTS' Branches, and all Chemists, or post free, same price, from

LESLIE MARTYN, LTD. CHEMISTS, 34, DALSTON LANE, LONDON

Free Sample and valuable Booklet, post free, 1d. Stamp.

Kennel—Dogs for Sale. Dogs for Exchange.

POMERANIAN dog puppy, 10 weeks, chocolate colour, 17/6: Roberts, Queen's Hotel, Cerrigydrindion, Corwen. (628)

GAME Bull Airedale puppies, seven weeks, dogs 7/6, bitches 6/6, parents tackle anything: Barlow, Tobacconist, Greenwich. (634)

GREAT Dane dog, 2 years, grand pedigree, stands 35in., Brindle, faithful, quiet, 90/-; approval if carr. paid both ways: Thomson, Croft-pl., Larkhall.

FOUR puppies, 2 dogs, 2 bitches, seven weeks Pomeranian terrier, crossed, £1, or separate; very pretty: Bartlett, Lawn Cottage, Milford-on-Sea.

SALE, Brindle Terrier and Whippet bitch, 9 months, hunt and kill, very sharp, will make a gamester, 10/6: Fred Ellerby, 25, Eastgate, Pickering, Yorks. (629)

LARGE selection of healthy young dogs and puppies of every description always on hand; no fancy prices; dogs and puppies purchased for cash; exchanges made: Princess Kennels, 163, Princess-st., Manchester. (637)

LARGEST and best selection of healthy dogs and puppies always on hand; we can supply any kind of dog from a Toy to a Great Dane: no fancy prices asked; we also purchase or exchange dogs; state wants to: Standard Kennels, Newton Heath, Manchester. (632)

"CARE of the Dog." Nutshell No 32, is now ready. Every one who keeps a dog will find this little booklet of great use. It treats on feeding housing, exercising, diseases, varieties, medicines, rearing, washing, grooming, etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, a list of whom are published frequently, or 2½d. post free, from: "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Ferrets.

SPLENDID Ferrets, good workers, guaranteed 5/-, younger 4/-, specially selected, excellent workers 6/-; fourteen days' approval; cash with order, or deposit with Editor: Thos. Wannop, Short-st., Carlisle. (629)

Rabbits.

THREE large Flemish giant does, heavy in kindle, to prize buck, 5/- each; real good stock buck 6/-; approval: Mrs. Wells, Hazel House, Tottwood, Dereham, Norfolk. (628)

PET RABBITS, CAVIES AND MICE

By George Gardner. A complete and practical guide to the proper management of Rabbits, Cavies and Mice. The information given in this handbook is thoroughly up-to-date, and deals with the housing, feeding, exhibiting, etc., of these popular pets. Many illustrations of champion rabbits. Price 1/-, post free 1/1½, from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Sport.

NOW READY. Nutshell No. 31, "Fishing in River, Lake and Pond." All who take an interest in fishing should not miss this highly-instructive brochure. It treats fully on the various kinds of coarse fish, their habits and haunts, and how to catch them; the angler's outfit, ground baits, hook baits, sizes of fish, specimen fish, etc., etc. Price 2d. from any of our Nutshell agents, or 2½d. post free from "Cage Birds," 154, Fleet-st., London, E.C.

Various.

EXPLOSIVE cigarette bombs, Itchykoo sneezing, 30 samples 2/4: Brition, Linwood-st., Manchester. (619)

CUB vixen fox, tame pet; exchange Canaries or sell 12/6: Jeffrey, 1, Vicarage-rd., Hailborne. (632)

COCK Goldfinch Mule, fine songster, 15/-; large suit case, 15/-; call cage, 1/-; double breeder, fully fitted, 5/-; 30/- lot: B. W. James, 7, Redcliffe-rd., Nottingham. (630)

BABY'S shortening clothes, everything necessary, never used, home made, 26 articles, 10s. 6d.; approval willingly, post free; coat and cape, 5/6: Mrs. Horne, 23, Harehills-terrace, Leeds. (627)

LUMINOUS paint for watches, clocks, numbers, bottles, 1/6; cinematograph films for home machines, 1/- 100ft.; War Gazettes, 300ft. 3/6; list: Bernard, 93, St. Albans-buildings, Grays Inn Road.

GRAMOPHONE, 25-guinea model, beautiful horniless drawing-room cabinet, inlaid Sheraton, height 4ft., record cupboard, enclosed, powerful motor, quantity celebrated records; approval willingly; accept 5½ guineas.—5, Aubert Park, Highbury Park, London, N.

FISHING rods at wholesale prices; superior pike rods, 3/11; roach rods, 3/11: greenheart trout rods, 5/11 lines, hooks, reels, nets, flies, casts, jagut; illustrated bargain catalogue one stamp, saves pounds: Midland Rod Company, (C), Erdington, Birmingham (631)

SHOWS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

BLAENAVON

SHOW, NOV. 9th.

Every exhibit will get our care and attention. Judge, J. H. Roe. 41 Classes. Drop postcard for Schedules from—Geo. Broome, 82, King Street, Blaenavon.

LOOK OUT!

COVENTRY O.S.

ANNUAL OPEN SHOW, NOV. 15.

Entries close Nov. 8. Good classification; no cancelling of classes. Judge, J. Robson, Esq. Schedules ready.—Hon. Sec., J. Kent, 91, Villiers St., Stoke, Coventry.

EASTLEIGH

Third Annual Open Show, November 15 and 16, at Council Chambers. Prizes, 6/-, 3/-, 1/6. Entry, 1/-. Judge, H. Norman, Esq.—J. Aldersiade, 64, Desborough Rd., Eastleigh. (632)

CHELTENHAM OPEN SHOW

NOVEMBER 1st and 2nd, 1916.

Judges:—Messrs. J. ROBSON, H. BATTYE, and J. H. PAYNE.

Open Classes—Crests 15, Norwich 13, Yorks 8, Borders 9, A.O.V. I, British 7, Hybrids 4, Foreign 6, Selling 4.

ENTRIES ACCEPTED 1st POST MONDAY.

Schedules will be sent to last year's exhibitors; others please apply to the—

SHOW MANAGER—J. MADAGAN, 4, QUEEN'S PARADE, CHELTENHAM.

All Profits will be given to the Cheltenham Hospital.

OUR WOUNDED HEROES

Will benefit if you send your Exhibits to

SHEFFIELD O.S.

NOV. 3 & 4.

At The Cutlers' Hall, Church Street. NOVICES SPECIALLY CATERED FOR. Ideal classification for Norwich and British. Railway facilities are second to none. Send exhibits early. Special arrangements have been made for dealing with them on arrival. Entries close Saturday, Oct. 28, 1916 POST TO-DAY. owing to restricted postal service. Schedules have been sent out; if overlooked, kindly apply at once to —E. C. Job, Wincobank, Sheffield.

HERE WE ARE AGAIN.—THE OLD FIRM.

LEICESTER HAND-IN-HAND C.B.S.

Seventeenth Annual Open Show, SATURDAY and MONDAY, NOV. 4 and 6.

Judges: H. W. Battye (Canaries), Chas. Houlton (Crests and British). Grand Cash Specials. Entry Fee, 1/6. No Classes Amalgamated. No Classes Cancelled. Prize-money guaranteed. Classification as follows:—Norwich.—Class 1: Natural Colour Cock or Hen; Class 2, Clear or Ticked Yellow; Class 3, Clear or Ticked Buff; Class 4, Marked or Variegated Yellow; Class 5, Marked or Variegated Buff; Class 6, Clear or Ticked Yellow (unflighted); Class 7, Clear or Ticked Buff (unflighted); Class 8, Variegated Yellow or Buff (unflighted); Class 9, Green or Broken Green (Green to predominate); Class 10, Clear, Ticked, or Variegated Yellow Hen; Class 11 Clear, Ticked, or Variegated Buff Hen; Class 12, Unflighted Hen, Yellow; Class 13, Unflighted Hen, Buff. Yorkshire.—Class 14, Clear, Ticked, or Unevenly Marked Yellow; Class 15, ditto, ditto, Buff; Class 16, ditto, ditto, Yellow, bred 1916; Class 17, ditto, ditto, Buff, bred 1916; Class 18, Any Other Variety of Canary not previously mentioned. Novice.—Class 19, Norwich, Any Variety, Yellow; Class 20, ditto, Buff; Class 21, ditto, Unflighted Yellow or Buff; Class 22, Any Variety Hen (novice). Hybrids.—Class 23, Any Variety of Light Canary Hybrid; Class 24, ditto, Dark, ditto; Class 25, ditto, Hyb., between two Brit. bird. British Birds.—Class 26, Goldf. (Cock) (guaranteed); Class 27, Bullfinch (Cock); Class 28, Linnet (Cock). Class 29, Greenfinch (Cock); Class 30, Siskin, Redpoll, or Twite (Cock); Class 31, Bramblefinch Cock (guaranteed); Class 32, Chaffinch Cock (guaranteed); Class 33, Yellow Bunting (Cock) (Guaranteed); Class 34, A.O.S., British Seed-eater (Cock) (guaranteed); Class 35, A.S. British Seed eater (Hen) (guaranteed); Class 36, Insectivorous British Bird, not larger than and including the Wheatear (guaranteed). Selling Classes.—Class 37, Any Variety Cage Birds, single or pairs, price not to exceed 25/-; Class 38, Any Variety Cage Birds, single, price not to exceed 15/-. Entries extended to 1st post, Tuesday, Oct. 31st. Now Fanciers, show your patriotism and support the shows with entries. Trains will be met on Friday night. Exhibits carefully looked after by a committee of experienced fanciers. Fanciers not having received a schedule please enter from here and send to—Day and Roberts, Joint Secs., 28, Francis St., Stoneygate, Leicester.

DON'T FORGET

BARROW-IN-FURNESS RED CROSS SHOW

NOV. 3 and 4. Specialist judges, Mr. H. W. Battye (Canaries), Mr. C. Houlton (British and Mules). Patronage of B.F.C.C. and G.C.A. Classification: 13 Yorks, 13 Norwich, 3 Cinnamons, 22 Borders, 2 Scotch Fancy 13 British and Mules, 1 Selling, 1 Gift. Specials galore, including £1 1s. for best exhibit. Don't forget to send your exhibits. The champions will not be here. 27 classes; guaranteed full prize money. Entries close October 28. Any entry bearing postmark of Oct. 29 will be accepted. All Scottish exhibitors send by Carlisle and Whitehaven, as there are special arrangements made with Railway Co.—D. McFarlane, Hon. Sec., 26, Lord Robert Street, Vickerstown, Barrow-in-Furness.

GLASGOW AND DISTRICT

Open Show, Nov. 10 and 11, 1916.

In aid of Blinded Soldiers and Sailors. Classification; Norwich 22 Classes, Crest 5, Borders 10, Yorkshires 8, Mules, British and Foreign, 26. Special Galore. Schedules now ready, from—Wm. Hutchison, 167, Hospital Street, Glasgow. ENTRIES CLOSE SAT., NOV. 4, 1916.

ARDWICK

And Manchester Dist. C.B.A. 3rd Annual Open Show,

NOVEMBER 11. Under the patronage of the N.P.C., Y.C.C., N.B.B. and Mule C., and L. and C.F.A. At St. Thomas's Schools, Ardwick Green. Special Classification. No cancelling or amalgamation. Prize-money, 10/-, 5/-, 3/-, and 2/-. Entry fee, 1/6. All profits to be given to the Blinded Soldiers' Fund. Judges: C. A. House, Esq., and J. Beswick, Esq. Schedules from—A. E. Thorpe, Park Villas, Park Grove, Levenshulme. (629)

OLD SHILDON WORKMEN'S CLUB CAGE BIRD SOCIETY.

Members of the North Yorkshire and South Durham Federation will hold their 6th Annual Open Show, to be held on NOV. 10 and 11, with 23 classes for Canaries and 11 classes for British and Mules. Judges: R. S. Bewick and W. Rutherford. Schedules have been sent out. Exhibitors, rally round and give us a good entry.—John Ainsworth, 15, Vaughan St., Shildon, co. Durham.

READING C.B.S.

Fifteenth Annual Open and Members' Show, will be held WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22.

Open Classes: Nor. 5, Yorks. 5, Borders 4, A.O.V. Canary 1, Goldfinch 1, British Hardbill 1, British Softbill 1, Light Hybrid 1, Dark Hybrid 1, Light Mule 1, Dark Mule 1, Foreign 2, Selling £1 and 12/6. Prize-money, 10/-, 5/-, 2/6; Specials, 2/6 cash, 5/- Special most points Hen classes. Entrance Fee, 1/6. Judge, J. Robson. The most central show in the South; 3 Railways. Schedules will be sent to all last year's exhibitors; others please apply to—Hon. Sec., O. C. Smith, 73, Audley St., Reading.

GLASGOW AND WEST OF SCOTLAND N.M.B. & F. BIRD CLUBS.

26th Annual Club Show, 28th Oct., 1916, in Temperance Halls, 122, Ingram Street. Crystal Palace and Scottish National winners entered.—M. Craig, Sec.

CAMBUSLANG C.B.A.

Annual Club Show, Nov. 4, Free Gardeners' Hall.—A. Crawford, Sec., 248, Hamilton Road, Halfway, Cambuslang, Scotland.

BRECHIN

OPEN SHOW.

First in Scotland. NOV. 4. Grand classification. Judges: Norwich, Calderwood; Borders, Clark (Irvine); British, McLean (Larkhall). Schedules from—John Daigety, Sec., 10, River Street, Brechin.

CITY AND SUBURBAN A.C.B.

Annual Open Show, Nov. 8 and 9, at the Church Institute, Paddington St., Baker St., W. 73 classes. Six cups and nearly 100 Specials for competition. Fanciers, book the dates. (632)

ABERAVON PORT TALBOT

Red Cross Detachment Show; Poultry, Pigeons, and Cage Birds. Judges, C. A. House, H. Rosenburgh, D. J. Morley. Also Welsh Leghorn Club Show; judge, W. T. Sherlock. Poultry Classes, 32; Pigeons, 17; Cage Birds, 28. 10/-, 5/-, 3/-, and 2/-, 4th is 13 entries and over. Entrance, 2/-; Homers, 1/-; Cage Birds entrance, 1/6; 10/-, 5/-, 2/6. Schedules ready.—P. Herbert Morris, 20, Arthur St., Aberavon. Fanciers please help. Detachment in need of further equipment. Federation Challenge Cups; Welsh Leghorn Challenge Cups; and numerous specials. Pigeons entries close Nov. 9; Poultry and Cage Birds close Nov. 16 certain. (629)

FANCIERS, SEND YOUR ENTRIES.

HANLEY

Open Show, NOVEMBER 9, 1916. 46 Classes. Judge, W. A. Cowgill. Schedules now ready, apply—C. Beckett, Sec., 186, High St., Far Green, Hanley. (631)

EAST LOTHIAN C.B.S.

Great Red Cross Show (open), Nov. 11th, 1916, in Corn Exchange, Haddington. Judges: J. Patterson, W. Thomson, J. Holmes, J. Livingston. Classes: Scotch Fancies 9, Borders 12, Norwich 12, British and Foreign 14. Prizes, 10/-, 5/-, 2/6. Entry money, 1/6. Entries close on Tuesday, Nov. 7th. Schedules to be had from—J. Fairgrieve, Sec., 10, Hope Park, Haddington. (616)

BLAYDON-ON-TYNE C.B.S.

12th Annual Show of Canaries, Mules, Hybrids, and British Birds, in the United Methodist Free Church Schoolroom, Saturday, Nov. 11, 1916. 41 Classes under the patronage of the N.Y.C.C., N.N.P.C. Popular judges: T. Dixon, Bedlington; T. Rohson, Newcastle; R. Tindale, Newcastle; and W. Espie, Gosforth. Send for schedule.—Geo. Havver, 1, Therese Street, Blaydon-on-Tyne.

MUIRKIRK

Open Show November 11th. Cage Bird entries close November 7th. Judge, D. Whitelaw, Esq., Govan. 10 Border Fancy classes; 2 British Birds. Proceeds for War Relief Fund. Schedules from—J. G. Torbett, Smallburn, Muirkirk.

LONDON OPEN SHOW

43 CLASSES.

DULWICH AND PECKHAM C.B.S.

Under patronage S.N.P.C., Tuesday, November 14 1916. Judge, John Robson, Esq. Schedules on application to—Frank Cole, 51, Melbourne Grove, East Dulwich, S.E. (629)

DON'T FORGET.

SWANSEA RED CROSS SHOW

Nov. 16th.

Judges: Canaries, J. H. Roe; British, Mules, and Foreign, C. Houlton. 57 Classes. Schedules sent out; if not received, please apply at once to—J. H. [illegible] 82, Norfolk St., Swansea. (628)

Mountain Ash,

NOVEMBER 16. C. A. House, Esq., judging. Schedules from—Thos. Holman, 7, Rock Street, Mountain Ash, Glam. Entries close Nov. 6. (626)

WEST BROMWICH & HANDSWORTH C.B.S.

11th Annual Open Show, NOVEMBER 18 and 20.

Judge, J. H. Payne. Entries close Nov. 13. Schedules—H. J. Collier, 5, The Cedars, Highfield Rd., Hall Green, Birmingham. (630)

AYR RED CROSS OPEN SHOW.

Y.M.C.A. Hall, High St., Ayr, DECEMBER 9. B.F.C.C. Medal; S.F.C. Medal; handsome Medal for British Section; Numerous Specials for all Sections. 44 Classes. Judges: J. F. Dewar (Edinburgh), R. Martin (Kirkintilloch), J. Hamilton (Eskbank).—H. M. Ferguson, 37, Whitletts Rd., Ayr. (628)

SHOW DATES FIXED.

To secure insertion in this column, a guarantee that the show will be advertised in "C.B." to the extent of at least 25/- must be sent to our manager.

England.

